Though Mr. Bryan's speech and his appearance on the floor of the convention was cheered far beyond any previous demonstration it made few votes. The alignment of delegates proved the correctness of previous estimates of the division between those who favor the radicals and those who are supporting the conservative element which is now in control.

When the result of the contest was announced the report of the committee on permanent organization was made. Representative Champ Clark, who was chosen permanent chairman, addressed the convention. He had prepared and furnished to the press a speech of great length. The hour was so late when he gained the platform, however, that he spoke about 300 words and left his audience to read the remainder.

The committee on resolutions was in session all day and did not adjourn until 5 o'clock Friday morning. The subcommittee agreed on a gold plank, but the full committee struck it out by a two-thirds vote.

THIRD DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Convention Waits Until Evening for Platform Committee.

St. Louis, July 8.—The Democratic national convention held a brief morning session, but the committee on resolutions not being ready to report a recess was taken until 8 in the evening. At that hour the committee submitted its report and it was adopted by unanimous vote.

The nomination of a candidate for president followed, Judge Parker being named by Martin W. Littleton of New York. At the conclusion of his address came a demonstration lasting twenty-five minutes. William R. Hearst, Francis M. Cockrell, John Sharp Williams, Richard Olney and E. C. Wall were also named for the honor of leading the Democratic ticket and at 5 a. m., after eight hours' speechmaking, the balloting began. On the completion of the first ballot Judge Parker received a total of 658 votes. Before the vote was announced several states changed to the Parker column and, his nomination being certain, it was made unanimous.

The platform, as adopted, contains no financial plank, the gold clause inserted by the subcommittee of the committee on resolutions being killed by the full committee. It favors economy in public expenditures; condemns trusts and "executive usurpation" by the president of legislative and judicial functions; favors freedom for the Philippines; denounces protection and declares for reciprocity; favors liberal pensions; condemns polygamy and favors election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK

SEVENTEEN PERSONS KILLED AND FIFTY OTHERS HURT AT MIDVALE, N. J.

New York, July 11.—Seventeen persons were killed and about fifty injured in a collision which occurred at Midvale, N. J., when a regular passenger train on the Greenwood Lake branch of the Erie railroad ran into an excursion train that had stopped to take water. All the dead and injured live in Hoboken, Jersey City and New York.

The accident is believed to have resulted from a tower operator having lowered his signal too soon and this was admitted by D. W. Cook, general passenger agent of the Erie railroad.

The train which was run into was a special carrying members of the First Plattdeutscher association of Hoboken on their annual outing and had about 800 passengers aboard. It consisted of twelve cars and two engines.

It is said that the engineer of the regular train had slowed down to about ten miles an hour before he crashed into the special, but his engine tore through the rear car the greater part of its length and drove the forward end of the car into the car ahead. The killed and injured were in these two cars.

The wreckage did not catch fire and the work of taking out the dead and maimed was accomplished quickly. The passengers from the uninjured coaches ran back and joined in the work and the residents of Midvale, many of whom had heard the crash, assisted them.

STRIKE IS ORDERED

EMPLOYES OF THE BIG PACKING PLANTS ARE ORDERED TO QUIT WORK.

Chicago, July 12.—A general strike of the employes of all the big packing plants throughout the country was ordered last night by Michael J. Donnelly, president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen of America. Unless the packing companies offer some sort of compromise to the demands of the union, the 49,600 men affected by Donnelly's order will go out today.

The following companies affected by the order have branches at St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul and Fort Worth:

Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Nelson, Morris & Co., Schwarzchild & Sulzberger, Cudahy Packing company and the National Packing company. In Chicago alone these companies employ more than 14,000 men, all of whom will quit work at the same time as the employes of the packing companies outside of the city.

Tax Imposed by Iowa Legislature Does Not Prohibit.

Des Moines, Ia., July 11.—The tax of $300 imposed upon venders of tobacco for the privilege of selling cigarettes has not stopped the dispensation of "coffin nails," as it is believed it was intended by the legislature. During the past week seven dealers in Des Moines paid the tax. Some merchants have refused to pay the tax and have given up the trade as unprofitable. The tax is payable quarterly in sums of $75 each quarter.

BATTLE OF KAICHOU

JAPANESE UNDER GENERAL OKU DEFEAT RUSSIANS IN THREE DAYS' ENGAGEMENT.

LATTER HAD THIRTY THOUSAND MEN AND OFFERED DESPERATE RESISTANCE.

CZAR'S SOLDIERS FINALLY COMPELLED TO RETREAT FROM THEIR POSITIONS.

Tokio, July 11.—After three days severe fighting, characterized by the desperate attacks of the Japanese and the stubborn resistence of the Russians, General Oku's army occupied Kaiping (Kaichou) last Friday, driving the Russians northward in the direction of Haicheng. The Russians had strongly fortified the hills situated in a semi-circle south of Kaiping. Their forces consisted of over 30,000 men. In his report of the engagement General Oku does not give any details, but shows the difficulties of the struggle.

The operations began last Wednesday by the Japanese driving 1,600 Russians from the heights south of Kaiping, constituting the first line of defense. The Japanese occupied the positions and the Russians retreated northward.

On the same day the right wing of the Japanese army southeast of Kaiping defeated a small force of Russians and the left wing occupied the heights to the southeast.

On Thursday the entire Japanese army forced its way close to Kaiping, overcoming the stubborn resistence of the Russian infantry, cavalry and artillery located in the narrow defiles. The Russians held many strong positions in the mountainous country, but despite their desperate resistance they were forced to abandon them one by one. During the night the Russians were greatly reinforced by the troops brought from the north by train, in preparation for a big battle Friday.

Opened the Battle With Artillery Fire.

The Japanese began the last day's fighting at daylight with an artillery fire from guns placed on the heights previously captured from the Russians.

At 8 o'clock in the morning they drove the Russians from their positions and forced them into their last line of defenses around the town. The Russians evidently saw the town was doomed, as General Oku reports that many troops were withdrawn during the morning. The Russians finally took position on the tops of the high precipices and again offered a stubborn resistance. About noon they were forced to again withdraw, the Japanese occupying the last line of defenses and the Japanese pursued the enemy despite a severe artillery fire from the Russian batteries on the high hills to the north.

The Japanese artillery finally occupied new positions and silenced these batteries.

In the afternoon the Japanese occupied the town without further resistance.

While the particulars of the fighting are not known it is evident that the Russians made a determined fight. The losses and the number of those engaged have not been reported. Further details are awaited.

REPULSED THE RUSSIANS.

Japs Retain Possession of Entrance to Fenshui Pass.

Tokio, July 11.—General Kuroki reports that on Wednesday, July 6, a detachment of Japanese troops drove off 300 Russian cavalry and occupied Kancheng, the enemy retiring northward. The Japanese had no casualties. The Russian losses are unknown. On the afternoon of July 5, 1,300 Russian cavalry attacked a Japanese detachment near the north entrance to Fenshui pass. The Russians were repulsed and the Japanese retained possession of the entrance to the pass. The Japanese had four men killed and three wounded.

JAPS MAY LAND AT YINKOW.

Warships Waiting for the Attack Upon Tatchekiao.

Yinkow, July 12.—Japanese vessels have been seen off Kaichou. It is believed that they are keeping in touch with the advance of the land forces and that if the Japanese take Tatchekiao, which is understood to be their objective, it is thought that a landing will be made simultaneously at Yinkow.

The fighting at Kaichou consisted of a series of skirmishes on July 7 and July 8, ending with the occupation of the town by General Oku's troops.

EIGHT HUNDRED RUSSIAN DEAD.

Taken Into Port Arthur By Chinese Carriers.

Chefoo, July 11.—Chinese junkmen who arrived here Sunday from Port Arthur say that on Tuesday, July 5, Chinese carriers brought into the town over 800 Russian dead, two of whom were high officials. They state that a part of the Japanese force advanced to within six miles of the besieged town, taking another eastern fort.

THIRTY-EIGHT ARE INJURED.

Four Cars of an Excursion Train Derailed in Missouri.

St. Louis, July 11.—While running at full speed the tender of the engine drawing an eastbound excursion train on the Missouri Pacific road jumped a switch near Larable, forty miles west of here, at night, derailed four cars which were thrown down the embankment and injured thirty-eight persons. It is considered probable that none will die and only three were seriously injured.

Political Announcements

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

TO ALL VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY. I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the Republican Nomination for the office of County Superintendent of Schools of this county and I solicit your votes at the coming primaries. Very truly yours.

E. L. QUIST. A. B.

REGISTER OF DEEDS.

TO MY FRIENDS AND VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY. I hereby announce myself a candidate for the nomination of Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket, and respectfully ask your support at the primary election.

K. J. WEEKS.

County Surveyor Smiley will probably be a candidate for re-election this fall. Smiley is the ideal man for the place, and there is no just reason why he shouldn't be the choice of every party in the county.

Court Commissioner Lee is on easy street this year. His term doesn't expire until two years hence, and for that length of time at least the county should rest easy. Mr. Lee is a popular commissioner, and if he wants that responsible office again, he can have it by acclamation.

It looks like the recent Republican convention in St. Paul made at least one convert to Democracy among the newspapers of Minnesota. The last week's issue of John Eastman's Thief River News strongly indicates that John wouldn't be averse to Democratic success in Minnesota this fall. John shouldn't take his defeat so to heart, but remember the old adage that says "he who fights and runs away, may live to fight another day."

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. W. Olson, in a circular recently issued, declares that the rural schools have not kept pace with other educational institutions. The only solution of the problem Mr. Olson thinks is the consolidation of the rural schools, and the transportation of pupils to the schools at state expense. The isolated condition of the average rural school, he says, is so great that in respone to inquiries, he finds twenty-six county superintendents who favor transportation of pupils at state expense. They agree that it is the only way to compete with the city school.

Chas. Ecklund, a prominent resident of the town of Bray, has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Register of Deeds at the coming primaries. Mr. Ecklund was a candidate for this nomination two years ago, but did not make an active canvass in an attempt to secure it, although the vote he received at time would indicate that he could put up a strong run if he got out and worked. Mr. Ecklund has been a resident of the county a good many years, and assures the voters that if nominated and elected he would conduct the office in an entirely satisfactory manner.

The Freeborn County Times hit the nail on the head when it said: "In working on the road, it should never be forgotted that the one all important thing is to get perfect drainage. It is water, not travel or wind or anything else that plays havoc with the highways. A road built at such a slope and of such material and kept so level and smooth that it will shed at once all water that falls on it will always be in good condition. That is the ideal road, and while it is not possible to make all our highways perfect at once, yet it is possible to keep the ideal road in mind and to build in such a way that each year will find our roads more perfect.

County Commissioner Louis Hanson will cease to be an official of Red Lake county on January 1, having declined to become a candidate for re-election. Mr. Hanson's business interests are such that he cannot attend to the work, and he feels that he can best serve his constituents by giving way to some one who wants the place. He has made a first-class commissioner, and one who has been on the constant lookout for the district he has represented, and while there are several persons mentioned as candidates to succeed him, the people of the Fourth district should exercise care in selecting his successor, and be sure that they get one who will equal Mr. Hanson's record for efficiency.

ROBERT C. DUNN.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press contains the following editorial opinion in regard to Robert C. Dunn, of Princeton, the Republican candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people of Minnesota. That Mr. Dunn will be elected by the largest mojority ever given a candidate in Minnesota, and will fill the office with credit, the Pioneer Press has no hesitancy in claiming and goes on to say:

"His private character as a man and a citizen is above intelligent reproach. He is not, as we have said before, "a greatest statesman or a learned jurist or an accomplished orator." Some of the best of our governors have been neither of these. He has not all the courtly graces of a Chesterfield in his manner and address but what little he lacks in style he makes up in solid merit. Few men have sat in the gubernatorial chair of this state better equipped with the essential attributes of the position. He has the sound common sense, the intelligent grasp of such public questions as will confront him, the practical business gifts of administrative ability, tact and judgment and the thorough devotion to public duty which are of vastly more importance in a chief executive of this state than the polish of the social exquisite. There is no namby-pamby nonsense about him.

"Whether he talks or acts he hits straight from the shoulder. He has a resolute force of character which takes it own idiomatic forms of expression. His style and the cut of his jib may not suit the fastidious tastes of the editor of the Journal; but where he will lose one vote for his blunt plainness of manner and speech among the elegant dilletani of the Republican upper crust the will gain ten among the plain people of the farm and the workshop, who are the bone and sinew of the Republican party."

For Register of Deeds.

K. J. Weeks authorizes us to announce that he is a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds of Red Lake county. Mr. Weeks has been urged to enter the field by his many friends here and in other parts of the county and has been promised and will receive a hearty support. Mr. Weeks was born in Mower county in 1866 and was brought up on a farm, attending the country schools until fifteen years of age when he entered the High school at Grand Meadow which he attended four years. He then clerked in a store for eight years when he went into the mercantile business for himself. In 1901 he moved to Thief River Falls and opened a real estate and insurance office, and enjoys a fine business. In the summer of 1903 he was chosen as alderman in the Third ward in place of C. L. Dobner, resigned, and was duly elected as alderman-at-large at the November election, which office he is now holding.

Mr. Weeks was president of the successful county fair of last year and was again elected to the same position last winter and is carrying the preparatisns forward in his usual hustling manner. During the winters of 1901-02 he was appointed to a responsible position in the state legislature as a reward for his active participation in support of the republican ticket in his home town. Mr. Weeks can count upon the active support of the people of his home town and the northern end of the county and he will also be strongly supported by his many friends in other portions of Red Lake county.

It is stated on authority considered reliable that Frank Jeffers, the present County Superintendant of Schools, will seek the nomination for the office of Register of Deeds at the hands of the Populist's at the primaries. Whether this is so or not The Gazette is not prepared to state, but we do know that if there is any one man in Red Lake county that the Populists should be pleased to give their support, that man is Frank Jeffers. He has put in a whole lot of time and money to help the cause along, and while his party will probably not be in a majority in the coming election, nevertheless they could show that they appreciated his efforts by naming him as their candidate for Register. The fight for this office will be a hot one, as at present no less than five residents of the county have signified their intention of going after it.

INTERESTING ABSTRACT

Red Lake County, From Standpoint of Values, Summed Up In Comprehensive Table By Auditor.

A Gazette reporter had the pleasure of looking at the abstract of the assessment for Red Lake county at the auditor's office Tuesday, and while it is but a conglomeration of apparently meaningless figures, nevertheless there is much information of interest to the public contained therein, and in order that Gazette readers may have a better realization as to what is found in it, we have taken the following figures from the comprehensive table, each set of which will throw some light on what Red Lake county represents from a financial standpoint.

The abstract is divided into sections under heads like the following sub-divisions and while our table only shows totals, the big table has each and every one of the subdivisions in minute detail for each assement district in the entire county.

The following are the sub-divisions with the total number of each in the county, and the average valuation as left by the town boards:

Horses, Mules and Asses—1 year old, 261; average value $7.92. 2 years old, 343; average value, $14.86. 3 years old and over, 4197; average value, $24.21. There are 10 stallions listed, at an average value of $78.00

The commissioners meet as a board of equalization next Monday, and will go over the entire abstract and make what corrections they see fit, after which the table is sent to the state auditor, where it is reviewed by the state board of equalization at its session in September.

Red Lake county shows up first rate in the returns of her assessors, and will make a favorable comparison with most counties in the commonwealth.

EQUALIZERS WILL MEET

County Commissioners And Auditor Will Take a Turn at Assessment Books Recently Completed.

The Red Lake county board of equalization will meet at Auditor Ford's office next Monday morning, for the examination of the abstract prepared by Mr. Ford, showing the returns of the assessors who have been busy throughout the county during the summer.

The books were returned several days back and the table completed by the force at the auditor's office the first of the week.

The board of equalization, which is composed of the county auditor and the five members of the board of county commissioners, will review all of the assessments and has the power to raise all classes of property which they may think deserve to pay more revenue into the county strong box. Individual changes in valuation cannot be made, however, without the notification of the party or parties interested.

Individuals who think they have been overestimated or have been assessed for property which they do not possess, have the privilege of remonstrating while the board is in session. The matter is then taken up and if justice has not been done by the assessor changes are made. As a rule, however, the assessor works in a thoroughly satisfactory manner and individual disputes in regard to valuation are rarely met with.

George H. Tibbetts returned to his work at Flandreau Monday, after spending ten days with his family here. Mr. Tibbetts has a good job in the Indian school there, and takes a great interest in his work.

County Superintendent Frank Jeffers spent Sunday at Thief River Falls. "Jeff" had some business matters to attend to there, but it is more than likely that he also braced up his political fences a little during his stay.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Gaass are expected to arrive home tomorrow morning from their extended visit throughout the southern part of the United States. They have done a lot of sightseeing in the past six weeks, and reports are that they have enjoyed their trip immensely.

St. Peter's church at Gentilly was the scene of two weddings last Friday when Josesh Sauve was married to Mrs. Stanlias Vandrin and Louie Mercil was married to Delmina Amiot. Mr. and Mrs. Mercil will reside in Crookston, where Mr. Mercil has lived for several years, and Mr. and Mrs. Sauve will reside on Mr. Sauve's farm in the town of Crookston.

H. C. Clement, the Terrebonne cheese factory manager, was a caller here yesterday, and hauled out a load of merchandise for the factory. Several weeks ago Mr. Clement lost a horse, and stopped to tell us that he had another demonstration that Gazette advertising pays, as the horse was located soon after the lost notice appeared in the paper.

During the Ringling Bros.' circus parade at Crookston, sneak theives who make a practice to follow up the tented aggregation and rob people entered the general stores of Collins Brothers and Peterson & Booth as the parade was passing and the clerks were busily engaged at the front in watching the procession. The trick was cleverly turned and according to Chief Creamer was the work of professionals, who have been at the till rifling business for some time.

The big log jam which has held the Clearwater drive here for the past several days was broken yesterday, and the logs driven into the Red Lake river, where they will have smooth sailing to their destination. The water was held at the lake until a sufficient head was secured to move them, and when the raise in the river came the drivers soon had the channel cleared. Four large wannagans were at the rear of the drive, and during their stay in the city limits, several of our people were guests of the drivers at dinner.

An Ohio supreme court judge has decided that the husband is the boss of the house under the law. This is not the law in Minnesota. Here, if the man of the house is allowed to eat at the second table he never enters a protest. He is like the wind, he comes and goes as directed, and with it all, he carries a broad smile. His rights are many but his privileges are few. Still he pretends to be happy and to get even he encourages the young man to wed and then wait for development. "He who laughs last, laughs best."

Postal clerks are inconvenienced a great deal of late and a great deal of mail matter meant for Mentor travels over the entire southern portion of the state before being delivered, because of the habit letter writers have of addressing epistles meant for Mentor to Maple Lake. Maple lake is in Wright county as far as the postal people know and Mentor is the only post office at the Maple Lake summer resort. The statements in regard to the matter have been printed annually but evidently no heed is taken by the writing public as the number of letters addressed incorrectly is constantly on the increase.

Dr. V. Pleth, of Chicago, who already has license to practice in Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Pennsylvania and California, was this week admitted to the state of Minnesota also, which he found necessaay to do due to the numerous calls he has had in this state during the last three years, and it is barely possible that he may locate in Minneapolis, where he would be nearer to the northern part of this state where he has a great deal of surgical work to do through local doctors. As Dr. Pleth for years has, and still does, devote his entire time to surgery, he has acquired quite a reputation in that line and is considered an expert, and, of course, can perform operations that the majority of country doctors are unable to do, as they have not the practice nor the opportunities to perform or witness such operations in the hospitals in the big cities.

W. A. Schreiter was a visitor at Thief River Falls over Thursday night.

Miss Rose Harren returned Saturday from a visit of a week with friends at Crookston.

The special vote taken at Erskine Friday for bonding the village for $3,000 for improvements, carried.

Garceau and Zaiser have continued to sell their Men's Straw Hats for another week, at one half price. These are real bargains.

Mesdames Fred Holzkneeht, Phillip Zeh and John Holzknecht, of Thief River Falls, were here Saturday to attend the funeral of B. Schusser. They returned to their homes the same afternoon.

The Pan-American circus, which shows here Saturday, is getting favorable mention in the towns below here where they have been, and it is more than likely that their show will be greeted by a big crowd here Saturday.

John Yorkson and wife, of Waupaca, Wisconsin, and Wm. Lindow and wife, of Manawa, Wisconsin, have been guests of Charles E. Boughton and family this week. The ladies are sisters of Mr. Boughton, and their visit has been greatly enjoyed.

M. O. Sortedahl went to Crookston Tuesday where he met John Hoglund, the contractor who will complete the bank building for the Sortedahl Land, Loan and Abstract company. Mr. Hoglund will push the work forward from this on, and it is likely that the new edifice will be completed early in the fall.

The Red Lake County Agricultural association has issued invitations to Senator Clapp and Congressman Steenerson to be present at the fair and it is expected that they will be there. The fair this year is going to be a good one and the managers are now doing a great deal of work in endeavoring to secure attractions. Considerable advertising matter has been ordered.

The Surprise Store tells you of a startling robbery at their store one night this week, in their ad in today's paper, to which your attention is called. The friends of this popular institution have known for a long time that there was a great demand for their lines of standard goods, but didn't think that the people had to break into their place of business in order to get what they wanted.

Several loads of new hay have been on the local market this week, the first of the season. The hay crop is a good one in Red Lake county this year, and there will not be any of it go to waste, either. Valley farmers learned a lesson by last year's hay shortage, and it isn't likely that another winter will catch them as the last one did. There is hardly a spring that good hay does not bring a reasonable figure, and the farmers are wise in gathering all they can of the necessary article.

A party of jolly young maidens, chaperoned by Mesdames A. O. Davison and H. W Knox, left yesterday for an outing of several days at Maple Lake, the pretty Polk county summer resort. The party were fully prepared to have all the fun possible, and it is safe to presume that their outing will be highly enjoyable. The following are the names of those comprising the party: Guynoir McConnell, Mabel Zaiser, Mabel Rue, Lucy Hunt, Emma Allard, Jessie Carver, Ina Linnihan, Stella Hennemuth and Clara Marchand.

Thief River Press: A stranger coming to Thief River will not long be in doubt as to when and where the Red Lake county fair is to be held this year. During the week Ed. Jaranson has been busy putting up the big colored posters in the store windows and displaying the banners and flags to the breeze from every telephone pole in the city. The fair is going to be a big success and the association is bound to keep the people informed of the fact so that the attendance of last year will be small in comparison with the crowds that will turn out to see the attractions this year.

Col. I R. Busby, one of the oldest printers in the business, called here Monday and visited a few hours with the writer. Among the earliest recollections of this scribe are the regular visits of Col. Ike to the house of our father, and then as now he was the same happy old tourist, who has seen more of the world and can tell of it more intelligently than ninety nine per cent of the people. Col. Busby was connected with some of the earliest journalistic enterprises in Iowa and Minnesota, and there isn't a newspaper man between the Canada line and the gulf, who has been in the business any length of time, that hasn't met the Colonel and had occasion to see evidences of his ability as a writer. Although upwards of 70 years of age Mr. Busby still makes the rounds every so often, and is as well preserved as a man of 50. Surely his career has been a remarkable one, and were it possible to fill a book with his varied experiences, it would certainly be entertaining reading.

The Rev. Father Fournier, of Duluth, was a guest of L. P. Berthon and family Tuesday. Rev. Fournier formerly had charge of the Terrebonne parish, and has many friends here who were pleased to greet him.

A large crowd of railroad graders, with their teams, scrapers and outfits, passed through here early Sunday morning on their way to some point on the new Soo line in Kittson county. They had finished their part of the grade above Detroit, and as fast as they get through there they are hurried on to the other end of the line, so to keep the work moving all along. The work is being hurried along rapidly, and trains will be running over the whole line before the freeze up comes. The Soo people are opening up some excellent new territory, and will without doubt have a revenue producer from the start.

Thief River Falls Review: Red Lake Falls can, at least, take the banner for having the most conscientious officer in the county. It is reported that one of her citizens was appointed jailor while Sheriff Linnihan was away on business the Fourth. The jailor refused firmly to tip the bowl all day, but in an ungarded moment in the evening, the bowl was tipped and later on he found himself far beyond the sober line, officially. What does he do? He declares himself under arrest, gets two friends to take him to jail locks himself in, and the next morning lets himself out, goes to Justice Toupin and pleads guilty. As a reward for his conscientous principles and honesty the Justice suspended sentence, advising him to depart in peace and do so no more.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by W. A. Schreiter. Price 50 cents.

ENORMOUS CASUALTY LIST.

Railroads Kill or Injure Over Eighty Thousand Persons a Year.

Washington, July 12.—The interstate commerce commission has announced its statistics of railways in the United States for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904. They show that the par value of the railway capital then outstanding was $12,599,990,258; number of passengers carried, 694,891,535; freight carried, 1,304,394,321 tons; gross earnings, $1,900,846,907; operating expenses, $1,257,538,852; net earnings, $643,308,055; income from other sources than operation, $205,687,480.

The total casualties were 86,393, of which 9,840 represented the number of persons killed, and 76,553 those injured.

RAGING WATERS RECEDING.

People of Armourdale and Argentine Going Back to Their Homes.

Kansas City, Mo., July 11.—With hot weather and cessation of rain the raging waters around Kansas City are receding to their normal stage. The people of Armourdale and Argentine have returned to their homes. The damage by floods have not been large in the cities, but the farmers are placing their losses in the thousands of dollars.

CROWDS STILL AFTER LAND.

Thousands of Persons Register at Bonesteel, S. D.

POPULISTS NOMINATE

WATSON NAMED FOR PRESIDENT AND TIBBLES FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Springfield, Ill. July 6.—Thomas E. Watson of Georgia for president, and Thomas H. Tibbles of Nebraska for vice president, was the ticket nominated by acclamation Tuesday by the Populist national convention. The names of William V. Allen of Nebraska and of Samuel W. Williams of Indiana were placed before the convention for president, but before the list of states had been completed in the rollcall their names were withdrawn and Watson was nominated by acclamation.

Former Senator Allen twice instructed the chairman of the Nebraska delegation to say that his name must not go before the convention. But still Allen received more than 400 votes, and many believe he would have been nominated had he consented to be a candidate. Whether Watson will accept the nomination no one seems to know. Watson was quoted as saying that if the Democrats at St. Louis nominated William R. Hearst he would support Hearst for president.

The platform adopted is a reaffirmation of the Omaha platform of 1892. It was adopted as reported by the committee.

Former Congressman E. R. Ridgely of Kansas attempted to secure a postponement of nominating a ticket until after the St. Louis convention, but the convention promptly tabled his resolution.

Catholic Priest Stabbed.

Youngstown, O., July 9.—Rev. John P. Barry, pastor of St. Ann's Roman Catholic church in Brier Hill, a suburb of this city, was attacked and probably fatally stabbed by the sexton of the church, John Barry, an uncle of the priest. The sexton is thought to be insane.

NEWS IN MINNESOTA

EVENTS OF THE WEEK THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

Cash wheat has again reached $1 on the Minneapolis market.

Samuel Jacobs, a pioneer jeweler of Minneapolis, is dead, aged seventy eight.

Niels Rasmussen, an aged and retired farmer residing near Alden, committed suicide by hanging.

Smith Dewees, a prominent farmer near Park Rapids, was found dead in his bed. He was seventy-six years old.

Simon Stevens, who built the first house in Minneapolis and was one of the explorers of the shores of Lake Minnetonka, died at his home in Clearwater last week.

Mrs. Isabel C. Marston, aged sixty six, of Minneapolis, committed suicide at Breezy Point, Lake Minnetonka, by jumping into the lake. No cause for her act is known.

Charles Franson, aged twenty-three was killed and Herman Gulbranson aged twenty-one, probably fatally injured by the collapse of an elevator wall at Minneapolis.

Frank Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs Dan Holmes of South Stillwater, was drowned near Utects' soap factory in the St. Croix river while fishing. He was thirteen years old.

The Tozar-Nolan sawmill at South Stillwater is closed down because of the unsatisfactory condition of the market for rafted lumber and may not resume work again this season.

New postoffices have been established at Decoy, Marshall county, and Wabana, Itasca county. John Izarson was appointed postmaster at Decoy and David C. Cochran at Wabana.

B. L. Freedy, for the past ten years St. Paul manager of the Northwestern Telephone company, has been named as superintendent of the company, with headquarters at Minneapolis.

The westbound passenger train on the Milwaukee road ran over and killed Con Clude and his son and Gus Clude, his brother, near Wells. Both the elder Cludes were well-to-do farmers, living near Delavan.

Christopher C. Norbeck, who was committed to Stillwater penitentiary as being implicated in the acts of corruption in the Minneapolis city government charged against the Ames administration, has been granted a parole.

Mrs. W. H. Adamson paid $10 fine in the Minneapolis police court for beating her husband. The latter, a well known money lender, has thirty wounds on his head alleged to have been inflicted by his wife with a lamp chimney.

The Leech Lake and Northern railway, a branch line connecting with the Northern Pacific and Great Northern at Walker, is projecting a new line around the west arm of Leech lake into the new country south of Blackduck.

John O'Donnell, state commissioner of labor, whose department has about completed its inspection of factories for the current year, says that the statistics, when compiled into a report, will show a marked decrease in child labor in Minnesota.

Despondent because he was unable to find work John Strom, a bartender, formerly of Minneapolis and Omaha, jumped into the Mississippi river at St. Paul. After sinking twice he decided that he would rather live and struggled back to the bank.

W. B. Douglas, who was defeated in the Republican state convention for a nomination to the supreme bench, denies the report that he intends to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for the district bench in his home district, the Seventh.

During the visit of a circus to Crookston last week the safe in A. Brntrud's jewelry store was robbed of over $2,000 in cash and certificates of deposit. There is no clue to the robbers. Collins Bros.' and Peterson & Booth's stores also were robbed of about $100 each.

An oversight on the part of Mr. Falconer, proprietor of a laundry at Minneapolis, saved him $500. Thieves broke into the store and blew open the safe only to find $1.05, the proprietor having left $500 he intended to put under lock and key on a table in the laundry room.

A work train on the Great Northern railway was wrecked three miles east of Morris caused by the spreading of the rails. Gilbert Pepper, an engine wiper, was found dead under the engine. John J. O'Connor, an engineer who was on the locomotive, was seriously injured and died several hours later.

The sum of $91,197.51 will be distributed this year to the fire departments of Minnesota cities, towns and villages. This amount is realized from the 2 per cent tax on the fire insurance premiums paid to insurance companies in the state. The money is distributed according to the premiums paid from each city, town and village.

Eight of the largest vessels which ply the Great Lakes have arrived in the Duluth harbor within the past week, laden with coal, and a number of other heavy cargoes are expected within the next few days. Record breaking shipments of coal have been coming in during the past thirty days and it is expected that within another month a full supply for the winter will be on band.

Two men held up the barkeeper in Miller's saloon at New Prague and secured between $700 and $800 from the cash drawer. The men entered the saloon during the evening when the bartender was alone. They demanded the money in the cash drawer and, upon being refused, proceeded to club the barkeeper into insensibility. After disposing of the man they rifled the money till and made their escape.

Three daughters of John Young, aged fifteen, twelve and ten years, were drowned in the St. Croix two miles south of the village of Afton. The girls and a younger brother were bathing and running hand in hand in the shallow water. The two older girls sank first, going down a sheer drop in the water of thirty feet and pulling the third sister over after them. The boy unclasped his hand and was not pulled over.

Suffering

Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than soothe it—are wrong.

Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better, because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves.

A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.

This will soothe your quivering nerves.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain by restoring the natural secretions, in which they differ from opium and similar narcotic drugs, which relieve pain by checking the action of the glands.

They are sure and harmless, and are the latest medical treatment for the cure of Headache, Neuralgia, Backache, Rheumatism, Dizziness, Toothache, Stomachache, Menstrual (Monthly) Pains. Also nerve irritations like Sea-Sickness, Car-Sickness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, etc.

Pleasant to take, quick in results.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick, nervous headache, and have received the best results. I heartily recommend their curative properties, for they are successful."—REV. RAY A. WATROS, D. D., Iowa City, Ia.

Sold by druggists, at 25c. Money back if first box does not help. Never sold in bulk.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

New Regulations.

1. Parties wishing to run logs on Red Lake river must provide storage booms near the head of the river to take care of said logs.

2. No one will be permitted to turn into the river at any time more logs than he can then receive at his storage boom.

3. Tows arriving at the head of the river shall turn their logs into the river successively in the order of their arrival. Such logs shall be at once driven to the owner's storage boom.

4. The parties authorized to run logs on the river shall have the use of the river on successive days in rotation to run their logs from their storage boom down, but no more than 1,000,000 feet b. m. of logs shall be released from the storage booms on any one day.

5. When a drive is made, it shall be so conducted that not more than 1,500,000 feet b. m. shall pass any point on the river in twenty-four hours. The decision of the agent appointed by the United States shall be final as to the quantity of logs running at any time.

THE SICKROOM MIRROR.

You Must Be Discreet In Allowing the Patient to Use It.

The looking glass, whether a plus or minus quantity, plays a more important part in the sickroom than most nurses and physicians give it credit for. The patient who is allowed to look into one is likely to be frightened into a relapse at sight of his cadaverous appearance, while the one who is not allowed to look is similarly affected by the refusal, which he attributes to the fact that his face is too much for his nerves.

"All things considered, I think it a good plan to give a sick person a chance to look at himself occasionally," said a doctor. "Of course the indulgence must be granted with discretion. If a patient is really looking seedy a turn at the looking glass is equivalent to signing his death warrant, but if taken at a time when braced up by some stimulant or a natural ebullition of vital force a few minutes of communion with his own visage beats any tonic I can prescribe. It thrills the patient with new hope. It makes him feel that he isn't quite so far gone as he had thought and that possibly a fight for life is, after all, worth while.

"Being thus sensitive, a persistent withholding of a mirror convinces the patient that he must be too horrible for contemplation, and he promptly decides that the best thing for him to do is to give up the ghost and get out of the way. That is one mistake hospitals were apt to make up to a few years ago. When I was a young fellow, getting my first practice after graduation, I served on the staff of several hospitals, and in all, especially in the free wards, those aids to vanity were strictly forbidden. The deprivation went hard with many of the patients, particularly the women, and when I came to have a little authority among doctors and nurses I advised a judicious application of looking glass treatment. I still advise it both in hospital and private practice, for I find that a little reassurance as to the state of the complexion and the appearance in general goes a long way toward effecting a cure."—New York Press.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Mrs. Fox as Peacemaker.

Mr. Lion lived next door to Miss Kangaroo. He was very fond of roaring, and she was a very nervous lady. One day when Billy Fox went to take the milk to her house, she told him that Mr. Lion had roared so suddenly and so loud that he made her jump and lose her false tooth out of her mouth.

Billy Fox went home and told his wife. He said he was going to tell Mr. Lion and have him stop roaring so. "No, indeed, don't do that!" said Mrs. Billy Fox. "They'll both be angry. I'll go and talk to them and fix it all up."

So Mrs. Billy Fox put on her little foxy bonnet and went to call on Mr. Lion. She told him that Miss Kangaroo admired his voice so much that when she heard him roar she forgot everything else. "Why, the other day," said Mrs. Billy Fox, "you roared suddenly and she let her false tooth slip out of her mouth and it got lost. She told me so."

Mr. Lion was very much flattered and said that he was very sorry Miss Kangaroo had lost her false tooth. Then the little fox lady went over to call on Miss Kangaroo. "Oh, Mr. Lion is so sorry to hear that you've lost your false tooth!" she told that lady. "He says he's coming over to apologize for roaring so much. I'm sure I think he's a very delightful old gentleman."

Then, as she saw Mr. Lion coming, she hurried home. Mr. Lion was dressed in his best. He made a fine bow and apologized to Miss Kangaroo for startling her so. Miss Kangaroo could not fail to be delighted, and she smiled and bowed, too, and invited old man Lion to stay for tea. After that the lion and the kangaroo were always fast friends, and I am sure that the little fox lady is a very good sort of person to have in a neighborhood.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Blind Mag's Singing School.

In this game one player must be blindfolded to take the part of teacher. The rest of the party compose the class and sit in a line facing her.

She then informs her class that they will begin the lesson by singing the scales. The head girl or the one at the end of the line immediately sings "Ah!" and the next "Ah!" a little higher or lower, just as she chooses, and so it goes all the way down the line, each singing a note in any way that she may wish. The teacher must listen attentively, and any time she thinks she recognizes a voice she stops the class and calls the singer by name. If she guesses correctly she changes places with the pupil, who in turn becomes teacher, but if not she must keep on guessing.

Every time a new teacher is selected the whole class must change seats, so that the voices may not be recognized by the direction from which they come.

A little variety may be introduced into the game by singing a well known song instead of scales, each pupil singing the word which comes to her to supply. It is the privilege of each teacher to direct her class to sing whatever she may choose, either song or exercise.

The Elephant's Revenge.

A painter wanted to draw an elephant which was kept in the menagerie at Versailles in an uncommon attitude—namely, that of holding his trunk up in the air with his mouth open. In order to keep the animal in this position the painter's boy threw fruit into his mouth, but as the boy often deceived him and only pretended to throw the fruit the elephant grew angry, and, as if he knew that the painter's wish to draw him was the cause of the insult, he took up a quantity of water in his trunk and threw it on the paper upon which the painter was drawing and spoiled it.

Remembered He Was a King.

A pretty story of the young king of Spain is told by the Girls' Realm. This boy, who was from the moment of his birth a king, used to give way when a child to some very unkingly outbursts of temper, and as he had a keen sense of his royal dignity the queen mother talked to him very seriously one day on the importance of self control in a monarch. The next time he was about to indulge in some childish outburst he checked himself suddenly and was silent. "You see, I remembered I was a king," he said afterward to his mother.

When Father Is "It."

When it rains all day or the weather is rough
And dull in the house we sit,
There is fun to be had playing blind man's buff
When father is "it."
We tie the big handkerchief over his eyes.
He moves very quick for a man of his size
And knows where we are by our laughter and cries,
When father is "it."

The little girls creep up and tickle his ear
When father is "it."
He doesn't quite catch them, but comes pretty near,
When father is "it."
They pull at his coat tails—he gives a great start,
Then spins around twice and is off like a dart.
We dive 'neath his fingers, with loud beating heart,
When father is "it."

He whoops and he prances, he capers and bounds,
When father is "it."
We're a set of wild heathen, to judge by the sounds,
When father is "it."
Tom laughs till he has to lie down on the floor,
And Archie and Joe—you should just hear them roar,
For we feel that we simply can't stand any more
When father is "it."

CALUMET Baking Powder

Food prepared with Calumet Baking Powder is pure and healthful, and is free from Rochelle salts, alum, lime and ammonia. A wonderful powder of unequalled strength.

Trust Baking Powders sell for 45 or 50 cents per pound and may be identified by this exorbitant price. They are a menace to public health, as food prepared from them contains large quantities of Rochelle salts, a dangerous cathartic drug.

Crookston Times: There was a large delegation in Crookston from Red Lake Falls Friday who came down to attend the funeral services over the remains of Louis Barrette. Among those here are J. H. Paradis and son, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Crompe, Z. Bray, and T. G. Brunelle.

P. O. Floan left Monday evening for a week's trip to points in Iowa, in the interest of the Sortedahl Land, Loan and Abstract company. He will probably return Saturday, and will likely be accompanied by some seekers after Red Lake county farm bargains.

I am now ready to receive wool for carding. Have moved my outfit to my home on 3rd street, added a new engine for power and am better prepared then ever to do good work. Charges for carding will be 10c per pound.—Joseph Benoit, Red Lake Falls.

Attorney F. L. Farley has a card in today's paper, calling your attention to the fact that he has established an office in Red Lake Falls. Mr. Farley has his rooms in the Healy Land company's building neatly fixed up, and will be pleased to have the public call on him.

Odin Jacobson, a former Emardville farmer, arrived yesterday from the Saskatchewan county, Canada, for a visit with his family in Emardville. Mr. Jacobson took a claim in that great Canadian wilderness over a year ago and says that he likes that country real well.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. N. Bourdon left Monday for a visit of a month at the World's Fair at St. Louis. They will stop at Kansas City on their way down for a week's stay with friends there, after which they will proceed to St. Louis. Red Lake Falls people trust that they may enjoy their trip to the fullest measure.

The Crookston carnival is being extensively advertised in this neighborhood this week, and from the list of attractions advertised it is evident that a large number of people will attend from this vicinity. The carnival opens next Monday, the 18th, and will continue a whole week. Look up the ad elsewhere.

Louis C. Sattre, one of the prominent residents of Garnes, was a caller here Tuesday and paid his respects to The Gazette. Mr. Sattre returned last Thursday from a trip to Rochester, this state, where he had been to help celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of his aged parents. He reported a first-class time.

H. K. Lutz, of St. Paul, spent several days here last week, a guest at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. B. Zalser, Mrs. Lutz and daughter having been guests there for some little time before. Mr. Lutz holds a responsible position with the Milwaukee railroad, in their St. Paul office, and says that he has been kept busy this year on account of the large amount of travel.

Mentor Herald: Arrangements are being made for a big day at the popular summer resort on Sunday, July 17th. The McIntosh band will be here and a large crowd is expected. Besides the doings at the park a picnic is to be held at Maplebay and with the steamboat making regular trips between the two places a good time is assured. Come early and enjoy the whole day.

The new Soo town in Emardville has been named Scotland, and already signs of activity are everywhere apparent at the site of the soon-to-be hustling city. The grading is fast approaching that place, and trains will be running in there by September 1st, or before Red Lake county will gain a good town when Scotland gets under way, and the people there look for it to be an important place.

Messrs. Ralph Wyer and Sam Hunt went to Thief River Falls Friday and were guests at the home of C. C Jackson over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Sivertson, Mrs. Marshall, Dr. N. M. Watson, the Misses Sanderson and Mr. Olson drove up Saturday and attended a party at the Jackson home that afternoon. The Misses Etta Gareeau and Mabel Wyer were also there and the entire party were treated royally by their hosts.

A crowd of young men from this city went out to Maple Lake Tuesday, and will camp on the. banks of that pretty resort for a couple of weeks. Plenty of grub and all the necessaries to insure a good time were taken along, and it is a foregone conclusion that the young men will thoroughly enjoy themselves. The following are the names of those comprising the party: Harry Garceau, Walter Buse, Norman Schreiter, Will Hunt, Lee, Ralph and Verne Healy and Orson Doe.

Mock-Sad-Alli and his company gave two performances at the Metropolitan opera house last Thursday and Friday evenings, and while the attendance was small, the people were more than pleased with the entertainment he put up. There are no smoother magicians in the business than Muck-Sad-Alli, and it is to be regretted that more of our people did not take advantage of his appearance here to see his work. He promised to return next season and if he does will no doubt do a good business.

Julius Pleth, of St. Hilaire, is expecting his brother Dr. V. Pleth, of Chicago, here next week on his annual vacation to spend a month or so with him, which he has done for the last three years. It will be remembered that Dr. Pleth on each vacation performed a great many difficult and successful operations here and also at Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire and this year found it necessary to come earlier as there are a number of operations awaiting him in all three places. The doctor is always welcome here and has a number of friends who will be pleased to see him.

Crookston Journal: Paul Berthon, the Red Lake Falls clothing man visited the city last week for the purpose of having his little five-year old son treated for dearness by a specialist. The little fellow has been growing deaf for some time and the cause was unexplainable until yesterday when Dr. Bertleson discovered a gathering in the throat which had affected certain glands in a manner detrimental to the interior ear. An operation exceedingly difficult and unusual was performed and the little boy had the pleasure of being able to hear distinctly immediately.

Sheriff Dan Linn han returned the last of the week from Red Wing, where he had been to leave William Frenzke at the state reform school, the young man having been sentenced the week before. The latest scrape of this young man was the stealing of a horse and buggy from Cleu Mercier, but before he got very far the officers overtook him and on being brought before the justice he was given a reform school sentence Young Frenzke has been in several scrapes since he came here, and it is thought that he will be wiser after serving a few years where he has to be good.

Sam C. Nauman leaves today for Freeport, Illinois, and on Tuesday of next week will be united in marriage to Miss Jessie A. Korff, a highly respected young lady of Freeport. Mr. and Mrs. Nauman will take a trip to Chicago and to the World's Fair at St Louis, after which they will return to Red Lake Falls to make their home. Mr. Nauman is one of the best young men that ever resided in Red Lake Falls, and has a large circle of friends here who will be pleased to learn that he is to take the all-important step of his existence. The bride is not known here, of course, but being the choice of so exemplary a young man she is without doubt a young lady that will be a worthy helpmeet to Mr. Nauman. The Gazette extends advance congratulations, and hopes that happiness may always be the crowning virtue of their lives.

A number of Great Northern surveyors were here last Thursday, looking over and estimating the damage to C. N. Bourdon's Main street property on account of the "slide" of the hill, caused by their railroad cut. Every spring for the past several years great sections of this hill have slid away, and each time a large-sized piece of Mr. Bourdon's lots went with it, until at present the rear end of his livery barn has to be kept up with supports. The company's attention has been called to this several times in the past, and they promised to attend to it, but nothing had ever been done until last Thursday, when these engineers were sent here to estimate Mr. Bourdon's damage and settle with him. No definate conclusion was reached while they were here, however, but it is expected that a satisfactory settlement to all parties concerned will be made before many days.

Board of County Commissioners and Auditor Busy With The Tax Books. —Personal List Completed.

The board of county commissioners and county auditor met at the court house Monday as a board of equalization, and are still working on the tax books returned by the assessors. Commissioner Falardean was made chairman, Auditor Ford acting as clerk.

The personal tax list was the first work taken up, and until this morning, the whole time of the board has been put in on that list. Numerous changes have been made although none of very great importance, and the entire official proceedings will be printed in next week's Gazette.

The real estate assessment is receiving their attention at present, and they will likely not finish before tomorrow.

The county's interests have been carefully looked after by the equalization board, and the treasury will benefit as a result.

LAND SALE COMPLETED.

Red Lake Reservation Opening a Thing of the Past.

Thief River Review: The long looked for sale of the reservation is now a matter of history. At 2:30 o'clock, Thursday afternoon the last peice had been offered and sold and the sale was continued until October 3rd, 1904 in the city of Crookston at which time and place the remaining tracts will be again offered and sold to the highest bidder.

The last day's sale, embracing those peices containing Indian improvements, was interesting and good prices were bid, the highest priced piece, commonly known as "Squaw Point," selling for $46.50 per acre or a total for the 53½ acres of $2,487.75.

Col. O'Brien, who has made a number of warm friends here, departed yesterday for Denver, Colo.

The government clerks, Messrs. F. A. Allen, C. F. Mayer, G. A. Goliff and F. B. Walker, all left for Washington, D. C., on Thursafternoon. Receiver George and Register Peterson, with their books and other paraphernalia, departed yesterday for Crookston, and our best wishes go with them all for they were certainly a gentlemanly set of good fellows.

The following is a sum up of the sale in totals:

Death of Mrs. Corno.

At her home in Thief River Falls last Thursday morning occurred the death of Mrs. Rose Corno, wife Thomas Corno, and a lady well known and respected here. Her death was due to a complication of brain trouble and was very sudden and unexpected, her final illness being of but a few days duration.

Mr. and Mrs. Corno had made their home in Red Lake Falls from the time of their marriage up to a few months ago, when he secured work at Thief River Falls and moved there to live. Mrs. Corno was always strong and healthy, and her sudden taking off in the prime of life was indeed a sad blow to her family and friends.

Deceased was twenty-eight years of age, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joachim Rose, of Red Lake Falls township, and had resided here since childhood, always having the esteem of a large circle of friends. She leaves besides the aged father and mother, a husband and four children, the oldest six years and the youngest but two weeks of age—six sisters and two brothers, and to all the sympathy of the public goes out in the fullest measure.

The funeral was held here Friday the remains being brought on the noon train and interred in the Catholic cemetary east of town, and a large crowd of people turned out to pay their last respects to the one who had been called away from the loved ones to answer a summons from the other shore. Death is sad at any time, but the removing of a young mother from her family while yet in the morn of her existence seems hard to bear, and the family who are called upon to give up the loved one can surely see where "He moveth in a mysterous way, His wonders to perform."

ANNUAL SCHOOL ELECTION.

Messrs. Toupin and Allard Re-elected for Ensuing Term.

The annual school election for independent school district No. 15, was held at the school house last Saturday evening, but no contest of interest was on and not much of a fight resulted.

The terms of Messrs. A. P. Toupin and Sam Allard as members of the board of education expired, and both were candidates for re-election. The total vote was 83, A. P. Toupin receiving 82, Sam Allard 68 and S. L. Lewis 15.

The annual report of Treasurer Crompe was submitted and approved, and the same ordered published in The Gazette, which was made the official paper for the year.

No other business came up before the board.

The report shows the district in good shape, and makes it plain where the present board of education has been very prudent in their administration of the business for the district, and the re-election of the two retiring members was an endorsement by the public, showing that the confidence of the people is theirs to the fullest measure.

H Gonigam Meets With Accident.

H. Gonigam, the popular real estate man, met with a very painful and serious accident Sunday morning, which will lay him up for several weeks. He was leading his horse down the hill toward the river, when in some manner the horse slipped and fell, and before Mr. Gonigam could get out of the way he was caught by the falling animal, and the weight was so great that a large bone in one of his legs was fractured. Medical aid was summoned and the fracture set and at present writing he is resting as easy as could be expected. The accident was a very unfortunate one, and the many friends of Mr. Gonigam will hope that the injury will mend rapidly, so that he will soon be able to be about again.

Tennis Tourney Next Week.

Local tennis enthusiasts are arranging for a tennis tournament to be held on the local grounds here next Monday, and it is expected that some interesting contests will result. Players from this city, Thief River Falls, Crookston and possibly Hallock, will compete with each other for honors, and as each town boasts some fast ones the game should attract a good crowd of spectators. It is probable that a valley association will be formed at this time, and arrangements made for the holding of several matches each season.

WILL LECTURE SATURDAY.

Summer School Attendants and People to Hear Good Talk.

F. A. Challman, of Montevideo, inspector of state training schools for this territory, will deliver an address at the school house Saturday evening of this week, at 8 o'clock, taking as a subject, "The American Socrates." Mr. Challman is said to be a very entertaining talker, and will be greeted by a large crowd.

Everyone is invited to turn out and hear him.

No admission is charged.

DROWNS AT THIEF RIVER.

Body of Saw Mill Employee Found in Red Lake River.

Tuesday morning at Thief River Falls, the body of John Stanek was found in the river. Stanck is a Bohemian who has lived in Thief River Falls for five years and is well known in that vicinity.

He has been employed in the lath department of the saw mill recently and Sunday night he disappeared. Since then nothing was heard of him until his body was found that morning and there has been a great deal of excitement over the case.

He was a man 32 years old and single. He was a good natured fellow and had few enemies, so that the theory of murder is not entertained.

LAYING THE TRACK.

Great Northern Was to Have Started this Week.

The Great Northern was to have commenced laying track on the Roseau extension the first of this week. For the present the road will only be built up to the Sandridge, 12 miles north of Thief River, which will be the first station on the new extension, It has been very hard to secure rails and as the supply on hand is only enough to lay the first 12 miles it is hard to say when the remaining part of the track will be laid.

The grading is quite well advanced except across the swamps, which are being drained and the grades there will be built with wheelbarrows and men, a large number arriving daily to do this work.

A part of Capt. Riley's outfit which had been located up at Middle River, was shipped Tuesday to Wadena where he will build a double track from Wadena to Staples for the Northern Pacific.

COUNTY DADS MEET

Official Proceedings of the July Session of the County Board.—Lots of Business Transacted.

Red Lake Falls, Minn.,
July 11, 1904.

The Board of County Commissioners of Red Lake county, Minn., met in regular session at the court house at one o'clock p. m. with all members present.

The minutes of meeting of May 20 and 21 were read and approved.

The applications of H. L. Veigel, W. G. Brown and Erick Iverson for license to sell intoxicating liquors on Section 9 in the Township of Emardville, Red Lake county, were read and after hearing all arguments for and against the granting of same, on motion carried unanimously said licenses were granted, and ordered to be issued when the proper bonds are filed.

The application of Remie Lefaivre for license to sell intoxicating liquors on the north-west quarter of Section 14 in the town of Poplar River in said county was read and no one appearing to be heard in regard to same, on motion carried unanimously said license was granted and ordered to be issued on the filing of the proper bond.

On motion duly carried a recess was taken to July 12.

July 12, 1904, Board reconvened at nine o'clock a. m. with all members present.

The board proceeded to select a supplemental list of twenty-four Petit Jurors, which was duly certified and filed with the clerk of court.

The petition of Wm. Demann and others for a new School district in the Towns of Lake Pleasant and Terrebonne was read and after hearing the arguments of all persons interested for and against the granting of same, on motion duly carried the following order was made:

ORDER FORMING SCHOOL DISTRICT

State of Minnesota, } ss
County of Red Lake. }

The petition of Wm. Demann and others who constitute a majority of the freeholders who are legal voters residing in the district hereinafter described, asking that the same be formed into a School District, having been presented to the board of County commissioners of said Red Lake county and the County Superintendent of Schools having endorsed on such petition his written approval thereof, and it appearing that there are within such district to be so formed the required number of residents between five and twenty-one years of age. Now, said petition having been publicly read at a meeting of said board of County Commissioners held on the 12th day of July, 1904, and it having been duly considered by said board.

It is by said board ordered, that a School District be, and the same is hereby formed within the Towns of Terrebonne and Lake Pleasant in the County of Red Lake, State of Minnesota, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

The south one half of section thirteen (13), the south-east quarter of section fourteen (14), the east one half of section twenty-three (23), all of section twenty-four (24), the north one half of section twenty-five (25) and the north-east quarter of section twenty six (26) in Township One Hundred Fifty (150), Range forty-four (44): also the south-west quarter of section seventeen (17), the south one half of section eighteen (18), the south one half of the north one half of section eighteen (18), all of section nineteen (19), and the north one half of section thirty (30) in township one hundred fifty (150), range forty-three (43), the same to be known as School District No. "23" in said county.

By order of the board of county commissioners of Red Lake county, Minnesota, at a meeting held July 12, A. D. 1904

Wm. C. L. Demann,
Seal Chairman Board County Commissioners

Attest:
James E. Ford,
County Auditor.

Commissioner Hanson offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Be it resolved that the sum of $250 be and the same is hereby appropriated from the County Revenue Fund to be paid to the Red Lake County Agricultural association to aid in holding an Agricultural Fair at Thief River Falls, Minn., and the county auditor is hereby authorized to draw his warrant for that amount in favor of the Treasurer of said association.

Which resolution was duly adopted

Hearing on the petition of Peter Matthies to be set off from School District No. 112 to School District No 88 in Red Lake county, was on motion adjourned to July 22, 1904.

The petition of Ernest Hilse to be set off with his lands from School District No. 153 in Red Lake county to School District No 173 in Polk county, Minn., was read and no one appearing before the board to be heard in the matter, on motion duly carried the said petition was granted and the following order was made:

ORDER SETTING OFF LEGAL VOTER FROM ONE SCHOOL DISTRICT TO ANOTHER.

Whereas, The petition of Ernest Hilse a legal voter, freeholder and resident of School District No 153, in this county, with the approval of the County Superintendent endorsed thereon, representing that he is the owner of the lands hereinafter described, which are situate in said School District, and adjoin School District No. 173 in Polk Co., Minn., and asking that he with his said lands may be set off from said District No. 153 to said adjoining School District No. 173 for the following reasons:

That it is too far to the school house in School District No. 153; that the roads are better and the school house is nearer in School District No. 173; that his children have attended school in District No. 173 for the past ten years, was presented to the board of County Commissioners of this county, at a session of said board held on the 20th day of May, A. D. 1904, for the action of said board thereon; and whereas, it was thereupon ordered by said board that a hearing should be had on said petition at a session of said board, commencing on the 12th day of July, A. D. 1904, at the County Auditor's office in Red Lake Falls, in said county; and whereas, it was further ordered in and by said order that notice of the time and place of such hearing be given by posting a notice of said order in one public place in each of the School Districts to be affected by said petition, and by handing to and leaving with the clerk of each of said School Districts, personally, a copy of said notice, at least ten days before the time appointed for such hearing: and whereas, at the said session of the said board of County Commissioners, commencing on said 12th day of July, A. D. 1904, due proof of the posting and service of said order of hearing as therein directed and required, more than ten days prior to said last named date, having been made and filed, said petition was publicly read and considered by the board, with everything which was said by said interested parties for or against granting the prayer of the petitioner and no one appearing to be heard in the matter, and said Board being of opinion that said petition should be granted, it is hereby ordered and determined, that the said petitioner, and the following described lands owned by him, to wit:

The west one half of the north-west quarter and the west one half of the south-west quarter of section nineteen (19) in township one hundred fifty-one (151), range forty-five (45), be and the same are hereby set off from said School District No. 153 in Red Lake county to said adjoining School District No. 173 in Polk county, and said lands are hereby made a part of said last named School District for all purposes whatever.

By order of the Board of County Commissioners.

Dated the 12th day of July, A. D. 1904

(Seal) Wm. C. L. Demann,
Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Red Lake county, Minn.
Attest: James E. Ford.
County Auditor and ex officio Clerk of Board.

The application of the Township of River Falls for an appropriation from the county road and bridge fund was on motion laid over till a future date.

The application of M. C. Harlow for deed of absolute property to certain blocks in Knox's addition to Red Lake Rapids at 30 per cent. of all taxes, penalties and costs was on motion recomended to the State Auditor for approval.

Commissioner Johnson offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Whereas, after due consideration, this board has estimated that the necessary expenses of the county for the ensuing year will be $24,000 Be it resolved that the following sums be levied as a basis of taxation in said county for the ensuing year 1904:

County Revenue Fund	$15,000
County Poor Fund	1,500
County Road and Bridge Fund	3,500

The application of G. Longtin for abatement of taxes on account of being assessed for greater acerage than his farm contains, and the application of Paul Osthy for abatement of personal property taxes on account of excessive assessment were recomended for approval by the State Auditor.

The application of Mary Boe for abatement of taxes and the application of Lars Lien for reduction of ditch lien, were rejected.

The following resolution was offered by Commissionere Johnson:

Whereas, in the matter of the petition of Johan F. Magnuson and others praying for the construction of a drainage ditch in and through Townships 153 North of Ranges 42 and 43, the District Court of Red Lake county entered an order directing the establishment of said ditch, and

Whereas, it has come to the notice of this Board, that certain persons who are opposing said ditch have taken an appeal from the order of the Court in the name of the Board of County Commissioners of Red Lake county, to the Supreme Court, and

Whereas, said appeal has been taken wholly without the order or consent of this Board,

It is hereby resolved that this Board disclaim any interest in or responsibility for said appeal, and further hereby express their concurrence in the establishment of said ditch, and the County Attorney of this county is hereby instructed and requested to dismiss the appeal above mentioned.

Commissioner Johnson moved the adoption of the foregoing resolution and same was adopted by unanimous vote.

Commissioner Sutor offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved that the contract for repairing the bridge across the Clearwater river at Terrebonne, and also for repairing the piers under the same be awarded to Kankel & Zeigler for the sum of $305, and the chairman and the County Auditor be and are hereby instructed to enter into a contract with said Kankel & Zeigler for same, which motion was duly carried and the resolution declared adopted.

Commissioner Sutor offered the following resolution:

Be it resolved that the sum of $75. be and the same is hereby appropriated from the County Road & bridge Fund to aid the Town of Lake Pleasant in constructing a bridge across Badger Creek on the town line Between Sec. 1-150-44 and Sec. 36-151-44 and that a like amount be and is hereby appropriated out of the County Road & Bridge Fund to aid the Township of Red Lake Falls in the construction of the bridge above mentioned.

On motion duly carried the resolution was declared adopted.

Commissioner Johnson offered the following resolution:

Be it resolved that the sum of $150. be and is hereby appropriated from the County Revenue Fund to the Incidental Expense fund of this county and the County Auditor and County Treasurer are hereby instructed to make such transfer on the books of their respective offices.

On motion duly carried the foregoing resolution was declared adopted.

On motion duly carried the board adjourned to July 22, 1904 at eight o'clock a. m.

Dairy Notes.

(From the Ada Index.)

Butter should be packed solid.

No other food will absorb bad odors so quickly as will dairy products,

There is lots of work in dairying, but it is a winning business in the long run.

It pays to keep screens on the windows and doors so you don't get the flies mixed with the butter as now is the time they begin to come.

Every bit of the uncleanliness or carelessness on the part of the dairy-man tells in the market price of butter, and there is no help for it.

If our dairymen would only think as much of their cows as the average horsemen does of his horses, greater results would be accomplished in the dairy.

Sentiment in favor of better methods used in the dairy business is slowly but surely gaining ground. It is but further demonstrated of the fact that all evils will eventually succumb to agitation.

This is the time of the year when the buttermakers have to keep his creamery cleaned up, if you don't it will soon begin to smell bad and will hurt the flavor of your butter. Look out for this boys.

To the creamery patron who is in doubt whether to build a silo we would offer the suggestion that the silo be given the benefit of the doubt. They are a great success and every dairyman should have one.

With the local creamery well established the cash income of the farmers in this vicinity will be increased several thousand dollars monthly and the benefit will be left for the merchants also. A creamery is one of the best assets an agricultural community can have.

Never mix the warm cream in with cold, always cool it off before you turn the two together and you will never have as much trouble with your cream as it is impossible for any buttermaker to take your sour cream and make good butter. He must certainly have it delivered sweet at the creamery.

The success achieved by our co-operative creameries have given the lie to the statement that our farmers could pull together, and they have proven to the world that they have sense enough, are liberal enough and broad minded enough to work together, hang together and last but not least make money together.

One of the first and most important things is to remove the milk from the stable as soon as milked. It should be strained and cooled at once out-side of the stable and before being closed in a closed vessel. If closed up before being cooled, we get smothered milk, one of the worst conditions to which milk is subject. The milk must not only be cooled, but should be kept cooled until delivered to the factory.

Many patrons of creameries wonder why their test varies from month to month, and really think that the test has been tampered with, especially if the test goes down very much. Unusually very little complaint is made if a man's test should change to go up from one-tenth of one per cent to one per cent, but as a matter of fact, it is just as apt to turn one way or the other and should from natural causes change. It may remain the same for two or three months, but it is more likely to change.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cholic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

RUSSIAN ATTACK FAILS

MAKE DESPERATE ASSAULT ON THE JAPANESE POSITIONS IN MOTIEN PASS.

REPULSED AFTER HARD FIGHTING WITH OVER A THOUSAND CASUALTIES.

RUSSIAN FORCE CONSISTED OF TWO DIVISIONS UNDER GENERAL KELLER.

Tokio, July 18.—General Kuroki reports two divisions of the Russian army made a desperate assault on Motien pass at dawn on July 17, but were repulsed.

At 3 o'clock Sunday morning, a heavy fog veiling their movements, two divisions of Russians, commanded by Lieutenant General Keller, made an assault on the Japanese positions at Motien pass.

General Kuroki adds that the Russians assailed all the Japanese positions at Motien pass and in its vicinity desperately. The Japanese resisted stubbornly, repulsed the Russians and pursued them for a considerable distance westward. Kuroki in his report praises the valor of his men.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—General Kuropatkin reports that Lieutenant General Count Keller lost over 1,000 in killed and wounded in the attack on Motien pass July 17.

RUSSIANS IN A TRAP.

Japs Retired Far Enough to Ambush Them.

Liaoyang, July 19.—Wounded Russians by the hundreds were brought into this city Monday after the severe engagement with the enemy at Motien pass, in which General Keller was repulsed with great loss in an attempt to drive the Japanese out of the mountains southeast of here. From their stories the Russians were routed after the Japanese had retired far enough to draw them into a trap.

JAPANESE LOSS TRIFLING.

Defeated Russians Without Suffering Many Casualties.

London, July 19.—The correspondent of the Times at General Kuroki's headquarters says that the Japanese losses during the fighting at Motien pass on July 17 were trifling. Thirty thousand Russians were engaged.

ACTION BY GERMANY

DEMANDS THE RETURN OF MAIL SACKS SEIZED BY RUSSIAN VOLUNTEER STEAMER.

Berlin, July 18.—The German government has taken a prompt and firm stand in regard to the seizure of the mails of the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk July 19, having entered a protest against the carrying off of the mails and asking for a disavowal of the Smolensk's action and the return of the captured mail sacks.

The German government, the foreign office says, recognizes the right to search mails when on board the vessel itself, but claims the Smolensk had no right to take off mails in bulk from the vessel. The further argument is advanced that the right of search can only be exercised by a warship, whereas the Smolensk traversed the Dardanelles only recently flying the Russian commercial flag, not assuming the character of a warship. The German government has not taken a positive stand on this last point, but leaves the question for future discussion and settlement.

BRITISH FLEET SAILS

RUSSIANS MAY SOON HAVE ALL THE TROUBLE THEY WANT IN THE RED SEA.

London, July 19.—The Daily Express this morning prints the following dispatch, dated July 18, from its correspondent at Malta:

"The British Mediterranean fleet left here today for Alexandria. It is believed that the destination of the fleet may be connected with the presence of the Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red sea. The British cruiser Terrible is said to have sailed from Suez today for the purpose of looking after the interests of British merchantmen."

IS OFFICIALLY DENIED

REPORTED JAPANESE REPULSE AT PORT ARTHUR WHOLLY UNFOUNDED.

Tokio, July 16.—The Imperial headquarters' staff officially denies the reports from St. Petersburg that the Japanese lost 30,000 men in a battle near Port Arthur on July 10 or 11. Not a shot was fired on either date.

PAUL KRUGER DEAD.

Noted Boer Leader Passes Away In Switzerland.

Clarens, Switzerland, July 15.—Paul Kruger, former president of the Transvaal republic, died here at 3 a. m. from pneumonia and supervening heart weakness. Mr. Kruger lost consciousness Monday. His daughter and son-in-law were with him at the time of his death. He had been out only once since his arrival here at the beginning of last month.

The ex-president's body was embalmed and the remains will be placed in a vault pending funeral arrangements. Application will be made to the British government for authority to transport the remains to the Transvaal In the meantime they will be temporarily interred here.

Mr. Kruger, who was staying at the Villa du Boichet, had been gradually failing for a long time, but he was able to attend to affairs, read the newspapers and receive visits until Saturday. A change for the worse set in on Sunday. He became unconscious Monday and remained so until his death.

TRAINS IN COLLISION

EIGHTEEN PERSONS KILLED AND FOUR SCORE INJURED AT GLENWOOD, ILL.

Chicago, July 14.—Eighteen persons were killed and about four score, seriously injured in a collision between a picnic train and a freight on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway at Glenwood, twenty-three miles south of this city.

The excursion train carried the annual outing of the Doremus church of Chicago and was returning from Momence, Ill., where the day had been spent.

As the train rounded a curve at a speed of forty miles per hour the freight was backing from the southward to the northward track.

The engineer set his brakes at once, but it was too late, and the passenger crashed through the freight, completely wrecking the passenger engine, baggage car and first coach. It was in the latter that the dead were.

The first coach of the picnic train was smashed into a mass of kindling and buried itself under the demolished baggage car.

Blames Conductor of Freight.

Frederick De Witt, conductor of the picnic train, in a statement made at the hospital, where he lies with a fractured leg, places the blame on Conductor Cooper of the freight train.

"I had orders to run on a clear track," he said, "and was obeying them. The freight backed in on my track ahead of me."

There was not a passenger on the train who was not badly shaken and bruised.

Most of the dead and injured were children and the heart-rending scenes beggar description.

Huge bonfires, lighted to aid the rescuers in their work, added to the awful weirdness of the place and the cries and groans of the injured caused strong men to break down.

As in the case of the Slocum disaster the victims were nearly all from one section of the city and in some cases whole families are wiped out.

The dead and dying were taken to Chicago as soon as they could be removed from the debris.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE

FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS' WORTH OF PROPERTY DESTROYED.

Duluth, July 16.—Four hundred thousand dollars worth of property was destroyed Friday afternoon at the Omaha dock and warehouse owned by the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railway, and one man, a cook, named George Smith, on the tug Abbott, was drowned in an attempt to make his escape from the craft as the flames swept over it with cyclonic rapidity from the docks.

The fire started in the northeast corner of the building and swept through the long sheds like a tornado, taking everything that stood in its path. In three minutes after the flames were discovered almost the entire line of sheds was a fiery furnace, belching forth volumes of dense, black smoke that rolled away over the city, crumbling the freight cars that stood beside it like tinder.

It was the most disastrous fire witnessed in Duluth in years, and the most spectacular. Thousands of people lined the docks, the viaducts, the tops of box cars and the sides of the hill to witness the fiery monster devouring thousands and thousands of dollars' worth of property.

ARMENIANS PLAN REVOLT.

Rebels Possess Large Stores of Arms and Ammunition.

Berlin, July 18.—News has been received here that a well organized revolt has been planned by Armenians in the Caucasus and that conditions there are causing the Russian government much concern.

Secret meetings are being held and the revolutionists possess large stores of rifles and ammunition.

OFFICIAL NOTICE POSTED.

Wages of Twenty-five Thousand Cotton Operatives Reduced.

Fall River, Mass., July 14.—A committee representing the Fall River Manufacturers' association has issued official notice that the wages of the cotton mill operatives in this city will be reduced 12½ per cent on Monday, July 25. The cut affects eighty mills, employing about 25,000 hands.

TO SETTLE TROUBLE

ANOTHER EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO END THE STRIKE IN THE PACKING INDUSTRY.

EMPLOYERS ASKED TO CONCEDE TO THE MEN THE ONE POINT IN CONTENTION.

STRIKERS IN CONTROL AT SOUTH ST. PAUL AND STATE TROOPS ARE REQUESTED.

Chicago, July 19.—One more effort will be made to settle the stock yards strike by arbitration. President Donnelly of the striking unions will today send to the packers another letter asking for a conference. In this letter Mr. Donnelly will go over the history of the strike, and will ask the packers if in their judgment it will not be better to concede the one point in contention than to continue the strike. The one point to which allusion is to be made, is the refusal of the packers to discharge the men they have employed since the commencement of the strike, and give their places to the men who walked out.

The communication to the packers will also suggest that it is the belief of the strikers that they are, as old employes, deserving of this consideration. If this offer of the union is rejected by the packers, Mr. Donnelly declared last night, the allied trades at the stock yards, numbering in all about 13,000 men, will be called out today in an effort to bring the packers to terms.

Joseph Morton of the stationary firemen's union called on the packers Monday afternoon and notified them that unless there is a speedy settlement of the strike his men will be compelled to quit work. While no definite answer was given Mr. Morton by the packers he was received by them in such a friendly manner that he left the conference with the belief that there is still a strong probability of peace, and the determination of Mr. Donnelly to once more open negotiations with the packers was the result of the manner in which Mr. Morton was received by them.

Operating Forces Increased.

According to representatives of the packers, the operating forces at the plants Monday were about one-half the normal strength, being fully 50 per cent larger than last Saturday. All the plants, it was claimed, did a great deal of killing and there was also a decided increase in the amount of dressed meats shipped out of the city. From the strikers' side came the statement that independent plants are doing all the work and that the big plants are not doing 2 per cent of their normal business.

Slugged into insensibility by a dozen men early Monday and left for dead on the tracks of the Ashland trolley line at West Forty-seventh street, Anton Bartuslakovis, an employe at the Swift packing plant, is dying at the county hospital. His injuries, in the opinion of Inspector Hunt, were inflicted by strike sympathizers and the wheels of a trolley car. The men set upon Bartusiakovis, who was going home from work, broke his skull, fractured his jaw, kicked him about the face, head and body and then threw him on the car tracks. The motorman of the car saw the body in time to stop the car, but not before the wheels had crushed the man's shoulder.

Monday was almost free from rioting or disturbances of any kind.

NONUNION MEN BARRED.

Fail to Get Through Picket Line at South St. Paul.

St. Paul, July 19.—The South St. Paul strike situation opened Monday with every indication of trouble, and closed quiet and serene, except for the fact that many of the union men were highly displeased with the action of their president in abolishing the blockade features of the pickets after conferring with Governor Van Sant.

When the nonunionists arrived on the motors, they faced by far the strongest picket line seen during the strike. About 500 men, reinforced by fifteen women, blocked the roadway leading to the entrance of Swift & Co.'s plant, and, despite efforts to break through the line, not a nonunion man passed into the plant until the blockade was raised.

Sheriff Grisim confessed that he was not able to handle the situation, and Mayor Lytle failed to accomplish anything more than the delivering of an address on the duties of citizens.

There is every reason to believe that the blockade will be continued again today, and if the men act on their own initiative and are not subject to their officers, there is additional danger of a clash, as Superintendent Burns says that it is the purpose to take in nonunion men as fast as possible.

Governor Van Sant has decided that the local authorities have not exhausted their resources and declines to call out the militia.

FORCE OF PICKETS INCREASED.

Result of Injunction Issued Against St. Louis Strikers.

St. Louis, July 18.—The situation has been intensified by the effect of the injunction issued by the St. Clair county circuit court at Belleville, Ill., restraining the striking union butchers and meat cutters from interfering with the operation of the East St. Louis packinghouses or the nonunion men employed there.

The strikers have taken it to mean that the packers have determined to open their plants at once with large forces of nonunion men and the pickets have been increased in the vicinity of the packinghouses.

Political Announcements

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

TO ALL VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY. I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the Republican Nomination for the office of County Superintendent of Schools of this County, and I solicit your votes at the coming primaries. Very truly yours,

REGISTER OF DEEDS.

TO MY FRIENDS AND VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY. I hereby announce myself a candidate for the nomination of Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket, and respectfully ask your support at the primary election.
K. J. WEEKS.

No, dear Kinglet, the Gazette doesn't over-estimate your "infloo-ence." We will concede that the Courier might possibly win out in a fight as long as it had no opposition, although it does sometimes act as a "millstone."

One little somersault doesn't require any great effort, though, but it will take one of those impossible "triple-flips" to convince the unsuspecting public that the chairman of the Red Lake county Democratic committee is a Democrat.

The Crookston Times is busy booming Billy Rowe for congress on the Democratic ticket these days, but Billy is wise and has come out in an announcement denying that he will be a candidate. The Times don't like Steenerson a little bit, hence this booming of Rowe, remarks Editor George, of the Fertile Journal.

Senator Davis, Democratic nominee for vice president, is 81 years old. It has been demonstrated to the American people that no man whose physical strength is impaired can for long stand the terrific strain of the presidency. If the Democrats should be successful in November and disease or accident should make Davis president he would be a dead man within three months.

The Chicago Chronicle, the leading Democratic organ in the West, has refused to swallow Parker and Davis, and bolts the ticket, coming out squarely for Roosevelt and Fairbanks. Now if Teddy can only induce the chairman of the Red Lake county Democratic committee to quit trying to steal a ride on the trucks and climb squarely into the G. O. P. band wagon, his success is an assured fact.

The Ada Herald fails to see where the country delegates to the recent state convention used good judgement, and says: The country delegates went down to the republican state convention with a controlling vote and gave all the plums to the cities. R. C. Dunn claims Princeton as his home but has a permanent residence in St. Paul; Jones, lieutenant-governor, lives in Minneapolis; Mills lives in St. Paul; Young in Mankato; all the supreme judges in the large cities. The country gets the core.

It begins to look as if the people of Red Lake county would nominate Judge N. W. Tarrant by acclimation this year, as both Republicans and Democrats are supporting him. This is as it should be. Nick has made a careful, conscientious official and when these qualifications are among the foremost virtues, politics are necessary relegated to the back seat. One good term deserves another, and The Gazette really believes that it would be better all around if Nick was given the office without opposition.

There is only one way to advertise, and that is to hammer your name, your location and your business so thoroughly into the people's heads that if they walked in their sleep they would continually turn their heads to your store. The newspaper is your best friend in spite of your criticism. It helps to build up the country which supports you. When the day comes that the newspapers are dead, the people are near the edge of their grave, with no one to write their epitaph.—John Wanamaker.

With the waning of the lumber industry in Minnesota one very noticeable thing is the decrease in the size of the logs. In early logging days it required but few logs to scale a thousand feet. In 1876 the boomage scale at Minneapolis showed four and one-half logs per thousand. In the next ten years the average was six logs to the thousand and the average in the next decade was nine logs to the thousand. In the next seven years the average was twelve logs to a thousand, and for the past three years the average has been thirteen logs per thousand.

As will be seen by an article elsewhere, Prof. E. E. McIntire, who is conducting the summer school here, stands an excellent chance of being appointed State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the advent of Dunn's election. Mr. McIntire is at the top notch in educational circles in Minnesota, and a selection that would be more merited or bring better satisfaction to the people could not be made. Mr. McIntre has made a great many friends everywhere in the Valley by the excellence of his work, and he will get the united support of the people in this vicinity in his candidacy for the important office he is being groomed for.

If there has been any doubt as to whom the people of Minnesota want to succeed Senator Clapp the recent state convention has removed it, says the Bemidji Pioneer. As presiding officer of the convention Senator Clapp made a big hit, and the man who could so successfully handle fifteen hundred partisans, keyed up to the highest pitch of excitement, and ready at the slightest word to fly at each other's throats, is certainly an eminently fit man to represent the state in the United States senate. It is only plain truth to say that Senator Clapp saved the republican party from disruption. But for his clear judgment, his prompt decision and his vigorous enforcement of the order there would probably be two Republican tickets in Minnesota today. if Tom Reed was a better presiding officer than Senator Clapp, we congratulate the memory of the man from Maine.

The Thief River Falls Review devoted a column of its space last week to criticism of people at Thief River Falls, because they have questioned the Republicanism of one D. P. O'Neil, of that place. The Gazette agrees with the Review in the statement that the Republicans should be pleased to welcome back to the fold the prodigals who had followed off false gods, but yet we are taught from olden times that "he who wears the spurs must win them," and Mr. O'Neil should at least be given time to finish his story as to how ably he represented a Populist district in the Minnesota legislature, as a Populist, before he be made the dictator-in-chief of the Republican party in Red Lake county. By all means hold out open arms to the recruits, but make them fill their place in the ranks of the privates before decorating them with shoulder straps.

In this issue we present the name of Daniel Shaw as a candidate for the republican nomination at the primaries for County Commissioner from the 4th district, Red Lake county, comprising the towns of North, Norden and Sanders and the city of Thief River Falls, says the Thief River Press. The only other avowed candidate is W. W. Prichard, also of this city. Both the candidates are able, progressive types of business men and it is largely a matter of personal opinion to say which one would be the most valuable man on the board to his constituency. Expecting no favors from either, we are yet firm in the belief that for this particular position Mr. Shaw would be the right man in the right place. Knowing thoroughly, as he does, the needs of the northern end of the county and the city of Thief River he has the ability, the willingness and the courage to present his convictions to his fellow members in a concise, convincing way. In plain words Mr. Shaw is a man "who does things;" he knows what he wants for those whom he represents and he gets what he goes after. If represented by such a man the northern end of Red Lake county is bound to get its share of any public improvements made and public moneys expended, not at the expense of the rest of the county but in just proportion with the other districts represented.

WHICH WILL YOU HAVE?

August Belmont, the banker, made good at St. Louis. He nominated a representive trust lawyer and Wall Street bounty receiver for president. There is no question but what Wall Street will spend millions of dollars to defeat Theodore Roosevelt for president, says the Hawarden Chronicle. Roosevelt represents the masses. He has been beyond the narrow confines of the original thirteen states and is not hidebound or narrow in his views. He has met the American people in every walk of life. He has associated with them; he knows their wants and is in hearty sympathy with them. On the other hand, Wall Street spent the last year looking for a man to use to defeat Roosevelt. They had to have a man they could use; one they could dictate to; one who would, like Cleveland, look to Wall Street for all his advisors. It was a difficult hunt, but they finally had to fall back on a corporation attorney, a made judge, and they told him to keep still and they would do the rest. Will they? Parker is a creation of wealth. Not knowledge or ability placed him on the judicial bench. As a tool of Wall street he was created and he cannot rise above his creator. It is Roosevelt and the people against Parker and the trusts. Which do you want, my intelligent reader? It's up to you.

STEENERSON'S "OPPOSITION."

The Bemidji Sentinel has the following relative to the Rowe "candidacy" and the Steenerson "opposition":

"Within the past week we have seen two statements both credited to the Hon. W. E. Rowe, of Crookston, the one placing him squarely in the race for congress against the Hon. Halvor Steenerson and the other statement as emphatically denying that he would be a candidate. This sort of allegation and denial leaves the matter just about where it started and Mr. Rowe may have something further to say on the subject. As far as we have made inquiry here Steenerson seems to be so strong in Beltrami that any other candidacy would be futile. In the district we are led to believe that there is some criticism of the big man from Crookston but whether there is enough dissatisfaction to be encouraging to some other ambitious republican remains to be seen. The newspapers are silent on the subject."

And the Crookston Journal adds the following:

"The fact of the matter is that Mr. Rowe is too farsighted a politician to fall in with the plans of an element which simply wants to use him as a blind. He is popular, an able lawyer and a good campaigner, but he appreciates the fact that this congressional district is strongly republican and he also appreciates the fact that Halvor Steenerson holds a well fortified place in the respect and esteem of his constituents. From all over the district the complimentary press notices and the expressed opinions of leading republicans are conclusive evidence of his popularity as a representative at Washington. The Sentinel wonders at the silence of the press upon the subject. The Sentinel possibly does not understand the situation as it is, but it is sufficiently wise politically to put two and two together and here is the way it looks to us: The "opposition" to Mr. Steenerson eminates from the same source as the noise about the candidacy of Mr. Rowe. There is an element working for personal ends which deems this good politics. It is rather too plain to the looker on and will undoubtedly strengthen Steenerson's cause if it has any effect whatever. The press has to a great extent "tumbled." Hence the failure to attach any significance to either the boom for Rowe or the "opposition" to Mr. Steenerson. The one is fully as wise as those who would use him and the other too well and favorably known by his constituents to have much cause for worry."

Good sardines; large can, while they last, 5c. Garceau & Zaiser.

G. Adolphs, a Thief River Falls business man visited the county seat last Friday.

Master Walter Robecke was a caller here last Saturday, to take in the Pan-American circus.

Mrs. Joseph Rose returned to her home at Grand Forks Tuesday, after having spent a week with relatives here.

James Meehan, jr., and son, who have been spending the past few weeks in Thief River Falls, visited Red Lake Falls on business matters yesterday.

Dan Johnson and William Erickson "hiked" out to Maple Lake Saturday evening and spent Sunday with the colony of Red Lake Falls boys encamped there. They report a delightful time.

A social dance will be given at the Metropolitan opera house tomorrow evening, and it is expected that there will be a large turnout. The band orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music. An invitation is extended to all.

Crookston Journal: Prof. E. E. McIntyre, superintendent of the Crookston schools, who is conductor of the Red Lake county teachers institute and who spent Sunday in the city with his family, reports a very satisfactory attendance at the institute and the prospects good for the entry of a large number more. At the opening of the term 35 were enrolled and at present time the number has doubled. Mr. McIntyre is of the opinion that before the close over a hundred will be in attendance.

The Mankato Free Press says that one of the smoothest games yet worked has come to light in various parts of the state, and the fakir is apt to strike town any day. He calls upon merchants to get an ad. for his rural directory, claiming the rural patrons will boycott those who refuse to advertise in their directory. Of course he gets the ads and sells the list of rural routes to the department houses to use in working up mail order business. It is a slick trick and comes in just right for that class of merchants who do not advertise in legitimate ways and are the ones who are usually caught by the scheme, but the business men should be on the lookout for the grafter.

See the swell new line of pipes at the J. B. Cigar store.

Lars Baeke, of Thief River Falls, visited the county seat on business last Friday.

Wiley Tindolph, half ours and half Thief River's, was looking at the elephant here last Saturday.

When you contemplate buying that new pipe call and see the swell new line we have just added.—J. B. Cigar company.

Sheriff Dan Linnihan went down to Crookston Tuesday, on some business matters, and looked at the Carnival shows a few hours.

Ladies' and Children's Oxford slippers, sold at 15 per cent. off last week; lines broken now, have to close them out at 25 per cent. discount.—Garceau & Zaiser.

Messrs. Brown & Buskirk have been busy hauling material out to Scotland this week, and expect to get their saloon building completed within a short time, and opened up for business.

Miss Lizzie Cyr visited from Thursday until Saturday of last week with her sister, Mrs. Arthur LaPlante. Miss Cyr is a telephone operator at Cass Lake, and was on her way home from a visit with Grand Forks friends.

James D. Taylor came in from Warroad Tuesday and has been spending the week with his many friends here. Jim has been "roughing it" on his claim in Beltrami county for the past month and looks robust and hearty.

The closing out sale at Delorme & St. Marie's has been attracting a large number of people this week, and the bargains offered by them have been eagerly sought after. The stock at this store was all new and very complete, and the public has taken advantage of the sale to get the desirable goods at such low prices as have been offered.

Tuesday at Freeport, Illinois, Sam C. Nauman, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Jessie Korff, a prominent young lady of that place. The happy couple will take a trip to the World's Fair and other points, and will return here sometime in August to make their home. They will be royally welcomed by a host of admiring friends.

Thief River Press: Three stories of the new O. K. mill building are now up and the roof will soon be put on the structure within a short time. Work on the big elevator which is to be put along side the mill will be started and will be completed as soon or before the mill itself, it being the intention to have both ready for use during the latter part of September.

Mentor Herald: Rev. Father Tapin, of Chicago, has been assigned to the pastorate of the Terrebonne church, and arrived last week to assume his duties. The reverend gentleman is recommended very highly as a speaker and as a talented gentleman. No doubt the Terrebonne people are glad to have the church in such competent and what promises to be permanent hands.

Crookston Journal: Roadmaster Regan, of the Great Northern, spent yesterday at Thief River Falls planning the work for the removal of the depot. Mr. Regan is one of the most skilled track layers in the country and bears an enviable reputation among railroad men of the north west. He laid out the Carman yards and since the driving of the last spike the rails have not been changed a particle, an evidence of the thoroughness of Mr. Regan's work. The Thief River Falls depot will be moved for a certainty and a spur track built in to the up town district.

Crookston Times: This morning Geo. Silk left Crookston for Ft. Francis, Canada, where he is to take charge of a newspaper for W. B. Cameron. It is a spanking new plant and as George has a great deal of experience in that line he is certain to make a success of his work across the border. He has been connected with the Times for a long time, and has made many friends in Crookston and vicinity who will regret his departure and join in wishing him every success. Mr. Silk will also be missed in musical circles. He organized the stringed orchestra which has made an excellent reputation in Crookston and every place where it has appeared.

A number of the state papers are calling attention to the state dairy law which applies to licenses in all cities of 1000 or more population and this provides that all persons selling milk or cream at wholesale or retail shall on the 1st day of May or thirty days thereafter pay a license of $1 to the state dairy and food commissioner. All persons keeping not more than one cow are exempt but the law specifies that every person or firm offering milk or cream for sale in a store, booth or stand creamery or factory or who sells to customers in any manner or from any place in said city shall procure license. Failing to procure license or selling dirty, unwholesome or adultrated milk or cream are punishable by fine or imprisonment.

Carl Korstad spent Monday night with Thief River Falls friends.

Mason jars for canning fruit; the best rubbers, also.—Garceau & Zaiser.

Erick Iverson, one of the saloon men of the new town of Scotland, was a caller here Tuesday.

Vests! A few dozen left of ladies' 20c vests with fancy yoke; till sold 13c each.—Garceau & Zaiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Jule Lasha, in Red Lake Falls township, rejoice in the arrival of a girl baby at their home Monday.

Mankato Commercial College, Mankato, Minn., has the finest catalogue printed by any school. If you are interested send for one.

Ladies, remember how we closed out our summer Dress Goods stock last year. We are doing the same this year, but buy them quick.—Garceau & Zaiser.

Harry B. Healy returned Tuesday from a several days' outing at Maple Lake. He was in Crookston Monday evening and took in the shows given by the Mundy Carnival company, and reports that they are immense.

Linas Holberg came down from his claim near Warroad Monday and has been spending the week with friends. Mr. Holberg owns a timber claim along side of that owned by James Taylor, across the lake from Warroad, and both are very valuable.

I am now ready to receive wool for carding. Have moved my outfit to my home on 3rd street, added a new engine for power and am better prepared then ever to do good work. Charges for carding will be 10c per pound.—Joseph Benoit, Red Lake Falls.

Wm. Erb is this week engaged in hauling out lumber to build him a house on his new claim north of Equality township, which he recently purchased at the reservation sale, and as soon as he gets things shaped will take up his residence there. Mr. Erb's claim is said to be a good one, and will be a prize farm within a few years.

Mrs. Burt Wilkinson drove in from Poplar River township yesterday for a day's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilkinson. She was accompanied by Mrs. D. J. Tinnes, wife of the editor of the Adrian, Minn., Guardian, who is visiting her mother and brother in Poplar River. They returned to their homes this afternoon.

Reports from Newfolden, Marshall county, give the information that the Soo railroad operations in that vicinity have been suspended owing to wet weather and that the grading outfits have moved farther north where the soil is higher and more sandy. The strip through Marshall county will be completed later in the fall when it is hoped that conditions will be more favorable.

Crookston Journal: Mrs. Joseph Smith and daughter, Mildred, departed last evening for Tacoma, Washington, their future home and the crowd of friends and acquaintances at the Northern Pacific depot to see them off and bid them "bon voyage" was very large. Mrs. Smith has made a host of friends during her residence here who were sorry to see her leave the city.

The Surprise Store has a new ad in today's paper, and tells you that that popular institution is never satisfied—that is with "well enough," but that they are always striving to give you something better and more attractive. The persistency of this concern in endeavoring to please the people is being appreciated, and their business is increasing with their popularity.

The band organization has accepted an engagement for the county fair at Thief River Falls on August 11, and will furnish music enough on that day to gladden the hearts of the multitude. A special train will be run from here in the morning and return the same evening, and it is expected that the southern part of the county will turn out a good crowd to the fair. The promoters are making great efforts to give the people a first-class entertainment this year, and in securing the Red Lake Falls concert band they have certainly taken one step toward that end.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Gaass returned last Saturday from their sojourn of six weeks at points in the central and southern parts of the United States, and while they enjoyed their trip immensely they were nevertheless very glad to get back to God's country again. After seeing the big show at St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Gaass took a tour throughout Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and other southern states, and had occasion to thoroughly investigate conditions existing there. Mr. Gaass talks entertainingly of that part of the globe, but says that he is more thoroughly convinced than ever that Red Lake county is the best on earth, and returns prepared to inject new vigor into his business, and get out and hustle hard for the famous Red River Valley. Their many friends were glad to welcome them home.

Bob McGinn was down from Thief River Falls on business last Friday.

Joseph Morinville visited Crookston over Monday night, returning Tuesday.

The Misses Mabel Wyer and Etta Garceau spent a couple of days this week at Maple Lake.

H. H. Zaiser went down to Crookston Tuesday to spend a day taking in the big Carnival and otherwise enjoying himself.

Mrs. E. F. Marshall and son, Donald, went down to Crookston Tuesday to take in the Carnival shows and visit with friends.

Mrs. W. P. O'Brien and Mrs. Napoleon Pouliet left Saturday afternoon for Cass Lake, where they will spend a week or more with their sister and other friends.

Isn't it? What? A strong trio.—Julia Marlowe shoes for women; Red School House shoes for children; W. L. Douglas shoes for men. The Busy Store has all three.

"Oh!" exclaimed the fair summer boarder as a couple of calves scampered across the meadow, "what pretty little cowlets!" "Yew are mistaken ma'am" said the old farmer, "them's bullets."

Thomas Malone, formerly a school teacher here, has spent a week at the summer school in the interests of a publication for teachers. Mr. Malone has prospered since he left Red Lake Falls, and has many friends here who wese pleased to greet him again.

Editor John E. King and Attorney McIntyre went down to Crookston Monday and remained until yesterday taking in the attractions at the Carnival. They intended to return Tuesday but the "pike" presented so many attractive features that they forgot all about coming back.

"Work or starve," is nature's motto—and it is written on the stars and the sod alike—starve mentally, starve morally, starve physically. It is an inexorable law of nature that whatever is not used, dies. "Nothing for nothing," is her maxim. If we are idle and shiftless by choice, we shall be nerveless and powerless by necessity.

John Thomte, of Grafton, came over here Monday and spent several days working on the Robertson Lumber company's sheds. Mr. Thomte does all the contract work for that company and has visited here before, having built their shed here two years ago. He is a good workman and a first-class fellow and has many friends in this city.

The ladies of St. Mary's church were delightfully entertained at the E. A. Columbus' home in Lake Pleasant township last Thursday afternoon, and an exceptionally pleasant time is reported by those who attended. About 40 ladies were there, and two large hay racks and several single rigs were required to transport them back and forth.

A new order has been issued by Northern Pacific officials to the effect that in the future no special trains of any kind would be run on Sunday. The company gives as reasons a day of rest for employes, and protests received against such trains. The innumerable accidents resulting from Sunday excursions are also given as a reason for the discontinuance of the practice.

Several Red Lake Falls people will take advantage of the Great Northern excursion to Duluth tomorrow, and left this afternoon for Crookston to join the crowd. Among those whom we noticed were Messrs. and Mesdames A. P. Toupin, Sam Allard, A. M. Robillard and Joseph Paradis. Mr. and Mrs. Allard will also take occasion to visit their daughter, who is attending a convent at that place. The trip will be a fine one for all.

Crookston Journal: Miss Nellie Hannay, of St. Hilaire, the daughter of J. K. Hannay, the St. Hilaire financier, arrived in the city yesterday morning from Montreal and other points in eastern Canada where she has spent two years very pleasantly as the guest of friends and relatives. Mr. Hannay came down from St. Hilaire to meet his daughter and after her long absence from home the meeting was a very pleasant one. Mr. Hannay and Miss Nellie proceeded home on the morning train yesterday.

Crookston Journal: George McConnell, the genial miller for the Crookston and Red Lake Falls Milling company, who recently resigned his position in ordar to engage in business himself at Thief River Falls, passed through the city yesterday en route to Thief River Falls from a trip below during which he purchased an outfit of milling machinery and a heating plant for the new mill at Thief River Falls in which he has interested both Messrs. Hanson and Barzen. Mr. McConnell stated that the new mill would be of 200 barrels capacity, fully up to date in every respect and would be running in time to handle the fall crop of grain. He is one of the best millers in the state, thoroughly understands the various departments of the business, and will prove a valuable addition to the firm of Hanson & Barzen.

This is an era of hustling. The doctor, lawyer, insurance man, real estate agent and mechanic find competition and must hustle to meet it. As with men so with towns. They have to offer new comers good water, sewerage, clean streets and pleasant surroundings to catch and hold them. They must do it even to retain those who have lived for years in the place.

CAUSE OF DEATH UNKNOWN.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury Over Body of F. Kent Loomis.

London, July 19.—At the inquest at Thurlstone, Devonshire, on the body of F. Kent Loomis, which was found Saturday morning at Warren Point, about fifteen miles from Plymouth, a doctor testified that he believed the wound behind the ear was received before death.

The jury found that the deceased was Frederick Kent Loomis and that he was found dead in Bighury bay, there being no evidence to show how he met his death.

The evidence at the inquest was very inconclusive and wholly conjectural, as pointed out by the coroner when he advised an open verdict, adding that, although death was caused by a blow, there was nothing to justify the suspicion that it was foully administered.

Consul Stephens of Plymouth has charge of the body, which is in a fair state of preservation. It will be embalmed and sent home for burial as early as practicable.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

THE PRO RATA DISTRIBUTION OF NORTHERN SECURITIES STOCK ENJOINED.

Trenton, N. J., July 16.—Judge Bradford has granted a preliminary injunction in the suit brought by Edward H. Harriman, Winslow S. Pierce and others to restrain the proposed pro rata distribution of the assets of the Northern Securities company. This is a defeat for the Hill interests.

The decision of Judge Bradford does not dispose of the main points at issue in the case, which were whether or not Harriman and Pierce should have returned to them the stock of the Northern Pacific company which they put into the Northern Securities company or whether they should have distributed to them the stock of both the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies on the pro rata basis provided for by the directors of the Northern Securities company.

The litigation turned largely on the question as to the title of the Northern Pacific stock which E. H. Harriman and Winslow S. Pierce put into the combination and which amounted to about $79,000,000. The contention of the Northern Securities company was that the stock had become the absolute property of that company and that it was perfectly legal for the Northern Securities company to carry out the pro rata plan of distribution upon which the company had agreed. Harriman contended that by reason of the corporation being declared illegal by the United States supreme court the title had not passed from Harriman and Pierce and in consequence they were entitled to have returned to them the particular stock they had put into the combination and which involved control of the Northern Pacific company.

IOWA FARMER KILLS HIS WIFE.

Then Commits Suicide by Shooting Himself Through the Head.

Des Moines Ia., July 19.—Tolliff Anderson, a wealthy retired farmer, living at Linn Grove, Buena Vista county, Monday shot his wife through the head, killing her instantly and then sent a bullet through his own head. The shooting was done in the presence of a daughter. Anderson had been insanely jealous of his wife, who left him some days ago. Her refusal to live with him precipitated the tragedy.

The condition of all crops in Minnesota, with the exception of corn and rye, is better than it was a year ago, according to the July reports to the agricultural department. The acreage in some cases, however, is considerably smaller than last year's and, unless the yield this season is phenomenally large, these crops will be smaller than those of 1903. The wheat situation is wholly favorably.

Friday morning of last week Mrs. Sebastian of St. Paul asked her husband, Charles, not to go to work as she dreamed he had fallen from a scaffold and been killed. Laughing at her fears he departed and at 3 p. m. tried to step from an outer window to a swinging scaffold at the fourth floor of the Ryan annex. He fell between the scaffold and the building to the sidewalk, being instantly killed.

BEHIND THE SCENES

THE MARVELS AND THE MYSTERIES OF STAGE REALISM.

How Mimic Storms, Rain, Lightning, Thunder and Snow Are Produced. The Raging Sea and the Flying Spray—The Pomp of War.

If you want to realize how easily the senses can be deceived by simple artifices, said a well known actor to the writer, you should just take a peep behind the scenes of a theater. I'm not sure whether it is kind to allow you to take the peep, though, for it is not always a desirable thing to lose one's illusions, but if you don't mind I'm sure I don't, and I will guarantee that you will find the little secrets of my trade vastly interesting.

Of course you've often seen the stage storm, and a most realistic thing it is, as you know. You see the cozy room, with its glowing fire and its general atmosphere of cheerfulness and warmth, made all the more so by the howling of the blast outside. Suddenly the door is flung open, you catch a glimpse of the arctic world, and the wind rises to a positive shriek as the hero or the villain of the piece rushes in, pursued by a hurricane of snow, and bangs the door in the face of the baffled storm fiend whose clutches he has just escaped.

It is all so terribly real that you insensibly shiver in your warm seat and draw your coat closer round you, and yet if you only knew how it is all produced you would—well, you would smile. Where, for instance, does that wind come from with its wonderful crescendo, from the faint sigh to the shrieks and howls of a lost spirit? Let me introduce you to the genius of the storm, a gentleman who is busy turning a small wheel with projecting paddles, which, as they revolve, scrape against a tightly stretched piece of strong silk. As he turns very slowly the wind just sighs gently, like a child in its sleep; faster, and the gale grows, the wind sobs and moans and whistles, until it rises, as the wheel goes swifter and swifter, into a tumult of shrieks and howls, as if all the demons of the air were roused to a frenzy of fury.

The snow? Oh, that's just as simple! The landscape you catch a shivering glimpse of is made arctic by plenty of cotton wool and a paste brush, and the flakes which cover the hero from head to foot and melt and trickle under the genial warmth of the fire are so many splashes of soapsuds. Ah, I see now you are getting disillusioned! Pity, isn't it? But still it's always fascinating to find out how things are done.

As for the fire which glows so warm, it is merely so many electric lights shining through a medium of ruddy gelatin paper, while the smoke by no means comes from the fire as it ought to do, but from a concealed receptacle containing a little quicklime and hot water. There you have it all—shrieking wind, drifting snow and glowing fire realistically produced in the most absurdly simply way.

You can make the lightning zigzag in blinding flashes and the thunder roll and rattle equally easily. You can get capital thunder by rolling a cannon ball or two along the floors overhead or by shaking a piece of sheet iron pretty much as you would shake a duster. But hark! There's the rain pattering on the roof. I knew it would come, and so did a certain man behind the scenes who has poured a pound or two of split peas into a barrel. Inside the barrel, you must know, are several crosspieces of wood, against which the peas rattle in their descent—that's the rain—and when they get to the bottom he turns the barrel and the patter patter continues while wanted.

The hero who plunges with reckless courage into the sea runs little risk even of a wetting. The waves which open to receive him are painted india rubber, which are made to roll and heave by very human agency below. The foam that he sends flying up in a cascade as he vanishes into the watery depths is a handful of common or table salt thrown up from beneath, and instead of disturbing any mermaids in their grottoes he is content to tumble on to a mattress.

Then could anything be more real than the scene in which the heroine looks down from the upper window as the soldiers—her lover, of course, among them—march off to the war? Tramp, tramp, tramp—why, there must be hundreds of them. And just listen to the cheers of the crowds lining the streets and the short, sharp words of command. How it fires your blood and makes you long to join them!

Well, come below decks, and I will show you a handful of men, half a dozen or so, "marking time" on a loose board, clinking pieces of metal together, cheering and shouting words of command to one another, and there you have it all, the passing of a mighty host, the jingling of accouterments, the many voiced, cheering crowd—all the "pomp and panoply of war."—London Tit-Bits.

Whistler and Boldini.

Here is a Boldini story which goes to prove that Whistler's method was open to constant criticism even from his brother artists. Whistler had finished his portrait of Mr. George Vanderbilt. It is a full length standing figure in black clothes against a black ground. The original feature of the canvas is a walking stick held at a rather acute angle against the right knee, and the whole effect is very somber. Whistler asked Boldini what he thought of it. Boldini leaned forward and said:

"He'll surely miss it. He'll never get him."

"Miss what? Get whom?" asked Whistler in amazement.

"Why, the rat in that cellar. No matter how the man strikes at him the rat will be sure to get away in the dark."

Druggists Who Sell Dr. Miles' Nervine Agree, If It Fails, To Refund Cost.

Of course we reimburse the druggist. You know him, and trust him.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is medicine for your nerves.

It cures diseases of the internal organs, by giving tone to the nerves which make these organs work.

It is a novel theory—not of anatomy, but of treatment; first discovered by Dr. Miles, and since made use of by many wide-awake physicians, who appreciate its value in treating the sick.

If you are sick, we offer you a way to be made well—Dr. Miles' Nervine.

This medicine is a scientific cure for nerve disorders, such as Neuralgia, Headache, Loss of Memory, Sleeplessness, Spasms, Backache, St. Vitus' Dance, Epilepsy or Fits, Nervous Prostration, etc.

By toning up the nerves, Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine will also cure those diseases of the internal organs due to a disordered nervous system.

Some of these are: Indigestion, Bilious Headache, Kidney Trouble, Chronic Constipation, Dropsy, Catarrh, Rheumatism, etc.

"My brother had nervous prostration, and was not expected to live. I prevailed upon him to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and now he has fully recovered. You remember I wrote you how it saved my life a few years ago, when I had nervous trouble. I preach its merits to everyone."—REV. M. D. MYERS, Correctionville, Iowa.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maude Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tubo. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Many people think of gold as the most valuable metal, wherees there are now seventeen known which are more valuable. Gold, silver and sometimes platinum are classed as "precious" metals not because of their intrinsic value so much as because of their resistance to corrosion, which makes them suitable for jewelry, etc. But many metals are more rare and costly, the new element radium being the most striking example.

From a balloon shallow places in the ocean and rocks rising near to the surface can be seen much more clearly than from the shore or from shipboard. For this reason the French naval engineer, Renaud, suggests that a captive balloon would be a most useful accessory to a marine surveying ship.

Last year there were taken from the streets of Manchester 78,660 tons of mud in various stages of moisture and deposited on moss and peat land, with the result that really valuable agricultural land is reclaimed. Now the London corporation has bought about 100 acres of ground near Barking and will soon make similar experiments.

The most curious spire in England is at Chesterfield, the leaning tower of Pisa not being more interesting to sightseers than the queer kink in a respectable church, which, tradition says, was caused by the devil kicking out as he passed the spire. The devil hed just had his hoofs shod by a local blacksmith, and his pain was so intense the edifice was shaken out of shape.

WASHINGTON LETTER

[Special Correspondence.]

As a result of the improvements being made at the Washington barracks to fit it for use as a training school for army engineers it has been found necessary to tear down many of the old buildings situated in the grounds of the barracks. A few days ago the work of demolition was begun on the large, handsome building on the west side of the circle near the center of the grounds. This building has a history which is familiar to all the older residents of the city.

Before the civil war it was used, along with several adjacent buildings, by the District as a penitentiary. In the second year of the war its use as a District prison was discontinued, the military authorities deciding to utilize it in connection with the operations of the government arsenal. Many military prisoners were confined in this building, and within its walls Mrs. Surratt and her male companions were incarcerated, tried and sentenced, and Mrs. Surratt, Payne, Atzerott and Herold were executed. Under the middle window on the first floor the body of John Wilkes Booth was buried, where it remained for two years.

At the close of the war the building was transformed into a station for the use of military forces. In 1867 it was converted into a residence.

Will Adjourn May 1, Says Edwards.

Colonel Jim Edwards, who has been a doorkeeper at the Democratic door of the senate for a quarter of a century, says he has an infallible rule for determining when congress will adjourn.

"I have watched it for twenty-five years," said Colonel Edwards, "and it has never failed. The long session of congress always adjourns in six weeks from the day on which the president signs the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill."

The president signed that bill March 18, and Colonel Edwards figures, therefore, that congress will adjourn about May 1.

The Widows Will Stay.

Some time ago Secretary Shaw appointed two widows to temporary clerkships in his department. The time allowed for temporary clerkships has expired, but the secretary insists on keeping the two widows on the payroll.

The civil service commission has raged impotently at this decision. It has quoted precedents to the secretary showing how it is against all kinds of statutes for him to keep the two women on the payroll and has offered to certify other clerks for the places, but the secretary calmly refuses to remove the women.

"They have four or five children each," he said to the commissioners, "and you can protest until you are black in the face—they will still hold on. These are the only cases in which I have violated these sacred rules of yours, but with these little clerkships those women can manage to support their children, and they will stay there as long as I am in office."

"But," said the civil service commissioners, "what are we to do about it? It is clearly a violation of the statute."

"Oh," replied the secretary, "make your protest to me in writing, and make it as strong as you can; then you will have done your duty and eased your consciences, and after that these poor women will continue to hold their jobs."

Would Furnish Subjects.

An agent for a high explosive had a hearing before the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which is presided over by Representative Hepburn. He insisted that he had an explosive that was superior to all others and offered to give the committee a demonstration.

"We can do that," said Hepburn, "and furnish you the subjects upon which to test your explosives."

"I would suggest Admiral Walker, who has been testifying before us," remarked one member. "I don't believe any explosive would feaze him."

"I would offer Bristow," said another member. "I think the entire house will be with me."

The chorus of assent left no doubt as to the feelings of the committee toward the fourth assistant postmaster general.

One Senator For the Architects.

In all the abuse that has been heaped upon the architects who had charge of the so called improvements at the White House one voice has been raised in defense. Senator Newlands has declared that the architects are all right and that they did the best they could under the circumstances. The Nevada senator seems to be quite alone, however, as nearly every other senator and, for that matter, all who speak of the building are decidedly vigorous in their condemnation. Senator Newlands presents a very good case for the architects, but it does not convince the senate.

Senate Working.

Not in the memory of the oldest habitue has the senate worked so hard and so persistently as it has during this session of congress, when every effort is made toward getting through the appropriation bills and adjourning. There seems to be no desire on the part of the Democratic senators to prevent business being rushed and it has been taken for granted that they are as anxious to leave Washington as the Republicans.

Statesman or Fighter?

One of Representative Goldfogle's constituents has written to him asking for his autograph. In concluding his letter the writer says: "I am the possessor of an autograph album containing the signatures of our most prominent men, both statesmen and fighters, and without yours among them it would not be complete."

Mr and Mrs. Frank E Hunt drove out to the lake Saturday evening, and remained until Monday evening, returning with the crowd of young ladies who had camped there several days.

E. L Quist was down from Thief River Falls last Friday, looking up things political and visiting the summer school. Mr. Quist reports favorable progress in his candidacy for the superintendency.

M. Verboncom came over from Grand Forks Tuesday and has spent the rest of the week here. Mr. Verboncom is figuring some on moving his family back from Grand Forks to Red Lake Falls.

The young son of M. R. Hall, living north of town, cut his hand severly Monday night. He was brought to town and had the wounds dressed, and the injured member is doing nicely at this writing.

Joseph McCaffrey has rented the Pinon house and with his father and sister has gone to housekeeping, and will make Red Lake Falls his future home. The McCaffrey's are good people and The Gazette is pleased to welcome them here.

A crowd of Red Lake Falls ladies went out to the J. H. Glass farm in Lake Pleasant township yesterday and spent the afternoon sewing and visiting. An appetizing lunch was set before them by the hostess before their departure for town.

Rev. Father Fayolle addressed the summer school Tuesday, and his effort is said to have been one of the best the teachers have had the opportunity of listening to. The Rev. Fayolle is an interesting talker and always pleases his hearers.

Mrs. Wm. Geravis, who has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Perrault, returned to her home at Two Harbors, Monday. Mrs. Geravis has many friends here who are sorry to hear of her departure but as her husband wired that he woud meet her in Duluth she could not prolong her stay.

The Red Lake river drive reached here Saturday, and is going by at a rapid rate The drive on the Red Lake river is quite large this season, and owing to the excellent head of water that has been obtainable is being rushed through at a rapid pace.

Messrs. Herman Harren, Joe Harren. Ernest Toupin and Arthur Guilmette drove to Maple Lake Sunday and spent the day. They were caught in the storm on their way home, and in a runaway that ensued their rig was badly damaged, although no one was hurt.

P. G. Paradis and wife, of St. Hilaire, have spent the past week at the home of Mrs. Paradis' folks in Lambert, and expect to leave the latter part of the week for North Yakima, Washington, where they own a fine farm and will make their future home. Mr. Paradis has rented his business and residence property at St. Hilaire.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat. Campbell and family, who are well known throughout the Valley, will leave Crookston as soon as his business affairs can be straightened out and will make their home in southern California There is to be the opening of some government lands there in a short time and Mr. Campbell thinks the location a good one. He has been a prominent man in that city and will be greatly missed.

Crookston Times: Conductor Lockman of the Great Northern, who pilots trains to St. Vincent, Fargo and Thief River Falls is enjoying a two weeks' vacation. He will take in the carnival here the fore part of the week and will leave for Duluth and enjoy a trip down the lakes through the straits and return by rail. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Lockman, and as this is the first vacation he has had for two years he is anticipating a big time.

Messrs. and Mesdames D. Bray and Leon Laurent left Tuesday for Duluth where they joined the South Shore excursion to the shrine of St. Anne, in Eastern Canada. Every year hundreds of people journey to that famous shrine and the crowds that flock there are said to be tremendous. The Red Lake Falls people will renew old acquaintances in that part of the world on their return trip, and look forward to a pleasant time.

Merchant Theo. LaBissoniere left last evening for a trip throughout the western part of the country, and expects to visit at all the principal points in that section. Mr. LaBissoniere's parents live at North Yakima, Washington, and some little time will be spent with them, after which he will journey further west Mr. LaBissoniere has confined himself very closely to his business during the past couple of years, and looks forward to his outing with great pleasure. He expects to be gone a month or more.

Messrs. Arthur Mercier and Ernest Gerlach, accompanied by the Misses Rose Harren and Laura Lizee, drove to Maple Lake last Sunday and spent the day at that popular resort. When within about eight miles of town on the return trip that night they were caught in the terrific rain and wind storm, and were all placed in a dangerous position for a little while. The darkness was so intense that the driver could not see the horses, and after several narrow escapes from being thrown off the high grade, they all got out of the rig and the horses being unmanagable through fright soon broke away and left them. The young people located a farm house by the aid of the lightning, and finally reached it, although they were drenched to the skin. They remained there until daylight. when they secured a team and were brought home, not at all worse for their exciting experience. Their team was located a few miles from where they left them, and nothing was damaged about the rig, so that considering everything they were indeed fortunate. It isn't likely that they would care to repeat the experience.

INDIANS WANT THEIR C*IN.

Frank H. Kratka Talks About Reservation Sale and Its Results.

According to Frank H. Kratka of Thief River Falls, who during the past ten days has toured the Red Lake Indian reservation on private business, the "Red Men" are not pleased with the prospect for a delay of the payments due them, as a result of the opening of the land near Thief River Falls. The provisions of the act opening up the lands makes the payments to the Indians imperative ninety days after the closing of the sale and the adjournment which was recently decided upon will defer the close for very nearly three months, consequently delaying the payment of the Indian allotments that length of time.

The Indians anticipate the division of over $300,000 among the members of the various bands, but a conservative estimate places the total at $200,000. There are 1,300 Indians on the reservation who will share in the division of the money received and some $11,000 which has been paid for improvements and for the removal of the dead will have to come out of the gross receipts. The amount to be received by each Indian according to the figures given above will be approximately $ 25 and the Indians are eager to get their money.

Mr. Kratka stated that a meeting had been held by the braves as soon as the postponement of the sale was heard of and that in all probability a committee of Indians will be appointed to await upon Congressman Steenerson to petition the payment of the money without reference to the delay occasioned by the postponment of the sale.

The government regulations controlling the opening, however, will not permit of such action and unless a special ruling is made by the department, the Indians will undoubtedly have to wait for their money until the time specified, ninety days after the completion of the sale which would be about January 1st.

GOOD JOB FOR McINTIRE.

Crookston Professor Stands Show of Receiving Nice Appointment.

Prof. E. E. McIntire, of the Crookston schools, who has wrought such a change in the school methods in vogue in Crookston during the past year of his work in the city, is being spoken of very favorably by the press of the state for the position of state superintendent of instruction, a position which pays a salary of $3,500 per year and is much sought after by the instructors from all portions, says the Crookston Journal.

The St. Paul Dispatch last week contained a very interesting laudatory article concerning Mr. McIntire's candidacy and the chances which he holds of securing the position. According to the article in the Dispatch Mr. McIntire is in line for the position and nothing short of a political miracle can result in the position going to some other candidate.

Mr. McIntire, when seen yesterday by a Journal man, did not deny that he possessed some chance of being appointed. He would not talk upon the subject for publication and stated that he would let matters take their course without any personal effort toward securing the prize. The matter as yet is in an embryo state and depends of course upon the coming election. Mr. McIntire, according to his many friends throughout the state, is popular with Robert Dunn and if Mr. Dunn is elected, which he will be beyond a doubt, Prof. McIntire will undoubtedly be appointed to the position.

An advantage which Mr. McIntire possesses over the other candidates for the state superintency lies in the fact that he is a city superintendent. All of the state superintendents so far save one, Superintendent Lewis, have been from the ranks of county superintendents and according to well known educators the city school man is the best fitted for the duties of the position. Superintendent Thomas Casey, of Polk county, to a Journal man stated yesterdey that Prof. McIntire, in his mind, was an ideal educator for the position. According to Mr. Casey Mr. McIntire has a very strong showing among the candidates lined up so far and will undoubtedly be appointed if Robert Dunn is elected governor which is a foregone conclusion. Mr. Casey said:

"Superintendent McIntire is one of the noblest educators in the state and his many friends, including myself, are pleased to see him line up for the state superintendency in such a favorable manner. He is a man of strong principle, a thorough educator and of a temperment that he easily makes friends. He would be and ideal man for the state superintendent's position and although Crookston would experience a great loss in his removal to Minneapolis, the honor of having our superintendent in the state chair would be considerable. The position carries with it a salary of $3,500 and is much sought after. I sincerely hope that Prof. McIntire succeeds in landing the prize."

DON'T WANT THE DITCH

People of Rocksbury Not Satisfied With Judge Watts' Findings, and Threaten to Make Trouble.

That the life of a ditch contractor in the Red River valley isn't one continual round of pleasure is demonstrated by the action of the people of Rocksbury township in opposing the construction of Ditch No. 21, and from present indications more trouble is in store for those who are engaged in the work, unless a settlement is reached soon.

The present fight is the outcome of a long-standing difference over the construction of the proposed ditch to drain the fraction east of Rocksbury. and nearly every resident is familiar with the details in the matter. It will be remembered that the residents of the fraction presented a petition to the commissioners asking for a ditch to drain their land, and surveys were ordered made and other preliminary steps taken for the construction of the ditch asked for. The survey of the proposed ditch, after draining the fraction, was made across to town of Rocksbury and right there is where the trouble started. Citizens of that town appeared before the Board at the time of the hearing, and so strong was the opposition that the commissioners refused to order the construction of the ditch. The petitioners of the fraction immediately engaged legal help and appealed to the District Court from the decision of the Board. Judge Watts held a special term of court to take the evidence pro and con, and after due deliberation reversed the order of the Board and recommended that the ditch be constructed, but in his decision he also recommended that the assessments of the Rocksbury people be equalized to secure harmony.

The Rocksbury opponents immediately expressed their intention of appealing, and such appeal was started in the name of the county but at the recent session of the Board a resolution was passed directing the County Attorney to dismiss the appeal and drop the matter.

Prior to this the contract had been let to Theo. Halvorson, of Wyandotte, and the work started, and it is said that since the commissioners have ordered the appeal dismissed there is "music in the air," and those in Rocksbury, who had opposed the matter are said to declare that the ditch will never be built, and are putting stumbling blocks in the way of the contractor. The county authorities have been notified and steps will be taken to settle the matter if such a thing is possible. It seems that there should be some way in which to adjust the differences and it will be better for all concerned if the affair can be stopped where it is, and all hands satisfied.

In the meantime the public will watch the outcome with interest.

Thief River Loses, Too.

The fast Thief River Falls ball team went down to defeat in a couple of exciting base ball games with the Fosston team last Saturday and Sunday. The first day the score was 7 to 8 in Fosston's favor, Schusser and Murphy doing the battery work for Thief River Falls. The second day Fosston won by a score of 10 to 6, Raasch and Murphy being at the points for Thief River. Porter and Holstein, the fast Indian battery, for Fosston, did the work both days, and the Thief Riverites were unable to get but few hits off the husky Porter. The games were exciting ones, but Fosston proved too many for the heretofore undefeated Thief Riverites.

Something Wrong.

There must be a reason for those dull headaches. Perhaps your eyes re the seat of trouble. Come and have them examined.

PLAY GOOD BALL.

Red Lake Falls and Fosston Give Exciting Exhibition.

Red Lake Falls fans had the pleasure of witnessing one of the most exciting base ball games Monday that they have ever seen, and while Red Lake Falls lost the game by one run, nevertheless they outplayed the husky Fosstonites, and one or two bad plays by our boys towards the end of the game gave Fosston her scores and saved her from a shut-out.

There were several beautiful plays made, but the playing of Harry Healy easily eclipsed anything ever seen before on the home diamond. Although never having pitched before this year, Harry faced the nine husky batters on the Fosston team and made a record that no other pitcher in the Valley has equalled. He struck out thirteen men, and only three hits were secured off him, and were it not for the unfortunate errors at critical times he would have easily won the game. He made several sensational plays during the game, besides his excellent box work, and on every occasion elicted the enthusiastic applause of the crowd.

The playing of several of the other team members was good, and there was no excuse for Red Lake Falls losing.

Messrs. Murphy, Sawyer and Schusser, of the Thief River Falls team, assisted our boys, and each did good work in his respective place.

The following summary tells the complete story of the game.

LAST WEEK OF SCHOOL.

Successful Training School Drawing to a Close.

This is the last week of the Red Lake and Polk county teachers' training school, and Saturday will see the completion of the term. The first three days of next week will be devoted to examinations, and it is expected that a large per cent of the teachers will remain here to take the exams.

The summer school has been a successful affair from every standpoint. Prof. McIntire, as conductor, and Prof. Yeager and Miss Fletcher as assistants have given excellent satisfaction in their respective places, and to their efforts along with those of Superintendent Jeffers, can be attributed the successful carrying out of the work.

The attendance has increased materially during the last ten days, and the session of the 1904 training school will be remembered as having done a lot of good to those who attended.

There's Truth In the Following.

Fosston Thirteen Towns: When the Crookston baseball players came to Fosston their expenses were cheerfully raised by the home team, the understanding being that the same courtesy would be extended to the Fosston team when a return game was played at Crookston, but when the time came to play a return-match the city boys refused to guarantee anything. This is in no way surprising. Rather would it be startling should the compact have resulted otherwise, considering whom our lads had to deal with.

SCHOOL OFFICERS CHOSEN.

School Board Mets and Elects Its Officers.

The school board held a meeting at the clerk's office Tuesday evening, and elected officers for the ensuing year. The old officers were again chosen as follows:

Frank E. Hunt, President;
A. P. Tonpin, Clerk;
T. A. Crompe, Treasurer.

Luc Dubuc was elected janitor of the Lafayette school for the ensuing year at the same salary paid the former janitor. Joseph Beaulieu was elected janitor of the Washington school.

The board discussed plans for the fixing up of the school on the North side, but no definate action was taken. It has been found that a foundation will have to be built under this building, and while they were at it the board were consider the advisibility of buying several lots on the flat over there and moving the building from its present site. It is likely that this course will be pursued, and they will probably determine the matter at their next meeting.

PRIZE PICTURE PARTY.

Mrs. L. A. Lanfer Entertains In Pleasing Style.

The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Kaufer, on Washington avenue, was the scene of a delightfully pleasing party last Thursday afternoon, at which time sixteen ladies were entertained.

The affair was a "picture party," and the invitations had requested that each lady bring a picture of herself taken while a child, and these pictures were placed in envelopes and prizes given to the ones who would guess correctly which was which. There were five ties for first place and in the drawing to decide the tie Mrs. J. A. Duffy won and was awarded the the prize.

The guests were invited to the lawn after the drawing, and a large group picture was taken of them,

After this came the refreshments and this feature was one of the excellent ones of the afternoon.

After the refreshments were served the guests departed for their homes feeling that they had been royally entertained by Mrs. Kaufer.

THE COUNTY BOARD.

Red Lake Falls, Minn.,
July 22, 1904.

The Board of County Commissioners of Red Lake county, Minn., met pursuant to adjournment, at the court house at 8:00 o'clock a. m.

All members present.

The application of W. A. McIntyre for a deed of absolute property to lots 11 and 12 in Block 24 of Kretzschmar's Add. to Red Lake Falls, was reccomended to the state auditor for approval.

Engineer's estimates on ditching contracts were allowed and ordered paid as follows:

John Freeman, (final estimate,) Wyandotte & River Falls Ditch No. 1 $473., A. F. Anderson, Geravis Ditch No. 1. $200., Gjernes & Hakenson, Garnes & Emardville Ditch No. 1, $650., Wm. Eikholl, Rocksbury & North Ditch No. 1., $1500.

On motion carried unanimously, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, that the following sums be and the same are hereby appropriated from the county road and bridge fund: The sum of $50 to aid the town of Geravis in repairing the highway between Sections 13 in Twp. 151 Rge. 44, and 18 in Twp. 151 Rge. 43 in said county, said Twp. of Geravis to expend a like amount on said road.

The sum of $50 to aid the Twp. of Polk Center in constructing a bridge on the section line between sections 35 and 36 in said town.

The sum of $150 to aid the city of Thief River Falls in repairing the roads leading into the city.

The sum of $75 to aid the township of Red Lake Falls in repairing the highway between Sections 3 and 4, 9 and 10 in said town.

The application of Chas. Strom to have taxes cancelled on certain lands not subject to taxation was reccomended for approval.

The petition of Peter Matthies to be set off from School District No. 112 to School District No. 88 was taken up and read, and no one appearing to be heard in regard to the matter, on motion carried unanimously the following order was made:

ORDER SETTING OFF LEGAL VOTER FROM ONE SCHOOL DISTRICT TO ANOTHER.

Whereas, The petition of Peter Matthies a legal voter, freeholder and resident of School District No. 112, in this County, with the approval of the County Superintendent endorsed thereon, representing that he is the owner of the lands hereinafter described, which are situate in said school district and adjoin school district No. 88, and asking that he with his said lands may be set off from said district No 112 to adjoining school district No. 88 for the following reasons:

That the Red Lake river lies between his said lands and the school house in school district No. 112, and that there is no bridge or other means of crossing said river nearer than the city of Red Lake Falls, which is more than four miles from his residence. That his children have attended school, since his residence on said lands in school district No 88, was presented to the Board of County Commissioners of this county, at a session of said Board held on the 20th day of May, A. D. 1904, for the action of said board thereon: and whereas, it was thereupon ordered by said Board that a hearing should be had on said petition at a session of said Board, commencing on the 12th day of July, A. D. 1904, at the County Auditor's office in the city of Red Lake Falls, in said county: and whereas, it was further ordered in and by said order that notice of the time and place of such hearing be given by posting a notice of said order in one public place in each of the school districts to be affected by such petition, and by handing to and leaving with the clerk of each of said school districts, a copy of said notice, at least ten days before the time appointed for such hearing: and whereas, at the said session of the said Board of County Commissioners, commencing on said 12th day of July, A. D. 1904, due proof of the posting and service of said order of hearing as therein directed and required, more than ten days prior to said last named date, having been made and filed, said petition was publicly read and considered by the Board, with everything which was said by said interested parties for or against granting the prayer of the petitioner and said hearing having been adjourned to the 22nd day of July, A. D. 1904, and said Board being of opinion that said petition should be granted, it is hereby ordered and determined, that the said petitioner, and the following described lands owned by him, to-wit:

The north one half of the north east quarter, the south west quarter of the north-east quarter and lot 3 of Section 18 in township 151, range 43 be and the same are hereby set off from said school district No. 112 to said adjoining school district No. 88, and said lands are hereby made a part of said last named school district for all purposes whatever.

By order of the Board of County Commissioners.

Dated the 22nd day of July, A. D 1904.

Wm. C. L. Demann.

TELEGRAPHY AS A BUSINESS SCHOOL

By Colonel ROBERT C. CLOWRY, President of the Western Union Telegraph Company

I BELIEVE THERE IS NO BETTER BUSINESS SCHOOL for the young man than telegraphy, and the careers of many leading business men of this city confirm this belief. Fully 85 per cent of the railway managers of the United States were telegraph operators in their younger days, and I constantly meet men of prominence in every branch of business who served an apprenticeship at the key. Every one of them is proud of his former occupation.

TO BE A SUCCESS ONE MUST BE A GOOD LISTENER and good listening requires preparation. There could be no better preparation than to sit, as it was my good fortune to do, and listen to the speeches of the Morse sounder for eight years.

CANADA AS A COMPETITOR OF THE UNITED STATES

By GEORGE E. FOSTER, Ex-Finance Minister of Canada

WITHIN five years Canada will be able to supply to Great Britain the wheat which the United States is now sending to her. We raised last year 60,000,000 bushels of wheat and more than 100,000,000 bushels of grain.

We have now under cultivation 3,000,000 acres of wheat land and still have 100,000,000 acres, just as good, which will be grain producing land in the future. NO COUNTRY IN THE WORLD WILL TAKE THE PLACE OF CANADA AS A FOOD PRODUCER. This is due to the richness of her soil and the climate.

WE CANADIANS THINK THAT THE UNITED STATES IN ALL ITS RELATIONS WITH US HAS BEEN A VERY INSISTENT NATION. ITS PEOPLE ARE THE BEST IN THE WORLD, BUT WE DO NOT LOOK UPON THEIR GOVERNMENT AS THE BROADEST MINDED IN THE WORLD.

We import from the United States a large number of agricultural products, but FROM US the United States imports very little. In manufactured goods our tariff runs about 28 per cent, while that of the United States is about 49 per cent. The disparity seems too great. IT ISN'T FAIR. If the United States won't let us in on a fair tariff we'll have to RAISE THE TARIFF against it.

We think our country is just as good as the United States. There was a feeling of disappointment among us concerning the Alaskan award, but that is passing away. You see, the United States stretches its carcass across our front door. We've got to step over its people when we want to get out to sea—that is, if they will let us.

MEN AND WOMEN ARE GROWING BETTER

By Rev. ROBERT COLLYER of New York

DO I think people are less interested than formerly in religion? No; a thousand times no. They are thinking out the MEANING of religion as they never have before. I have seen great changes. Yes, it is an evolution. People do go to church today, and they go BECAUSE THEY WANT TO, not because they are driven, as they were formerly.

Woman's activity is one of the great indications of advance. She is helping herself and man at the same time. The church is to be greatly helped through her endeavors. Women will preach too. They do now sometimes, but they don't get outside of themselves enough for the most part. Mrs. Livermore did, and she was a successful preacher. I HAVE ALWAYS BELIEVED IN WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

I have no patience with the talk that the world is growing worse. I won't discuss it. IT IS GETTING BETTER ALL THE TIME. "God's in his heaven; all's right with the world." If it wasn't so it would mean that God had given over the world to evil, and it would hardly have been worth while for him to have made it. No, in every department of life God's plan is being worked out and MEN AND WOMEN ARE GROWING BETTER.

FORCED TO RETREAT

RUSSIANS DEFEATED BY JAPANESE AFTER DESPERATE ALL-DAY ENGAGEMENT.

KUROPATKIN'S POSITION AT TATCHEKIAO MADE UNTENABLE AS A RESULT.

RUSSIAN OFFICIALS REPORTED TO HAVE EVACUATED NEWCHWANG SUNDAY.

London, July 26.—Cabling under date of July 24, the Daily Mail's Newchwang correspondent describes a fourteen hours' desperate battle with heavy losses on both sides and which resulted in the Russian position at Tatchekiao being rendered untenable, by reason of which they will be compelled to retreat towards Haicheng.

"The battle began at 6 o'clock in the morning," the correspondent says, "the Russians resuming the attack on the Japanese position on the heights east of Tatchekiao. After a few hours the Japanese left flank from Taping mountain captured the village of Taoghudltueo, compelling the Russians to retreat to Tienghuaitueu, six miles from their base.

"The Russians, now reinforced, maintained the position until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when the Japanese right flank made a sudden appearance on the hills south of Tatchekiao and by a tremendous fight forced the Russians to retreat.

"The Japanese firing line extended fifteen miles.

"After two more hours of an incessant storm of shot and shell they swept the last hill and the plain clear of Russians."

JAPS IN THE VICINITY

RUSSIAN OFFICIALS REPORTED TO HAVE EVACUATED NEWCHWANG.

Washington, July 25.—Minister Conger, at Peking, has cabled the state department that he has been informed that the Russians have evacuated Newchwang. He also confirms the published reports of the sinking by the Vladivostok squadron of a British steamer with a cargo consigned to "the American Trading company."

Tientsin, July 25.—Information has been received here to the effect that the Japanese have not entered Newchwang. The Russian civil administration departed Sunday night and the destruction of Russian government property began Monday morning at the instance of the administration.

The fighting reported Sunday took place between Newchwang and Tatchekiao and Japanese troops from Kaichou were engaged. No engagement has taken place at Tatchekiao.

BATTLE AT SYBEL PASS.

Engagement Results in Engagement of Russians.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—General Kuropatkin reports in a dispatch to the emperor that a detachment of Russian troops commanded by Colonel Tsybulsky gave battle in the Sybel pass July 17 to a superior force of Japanese. The engagement resulted in the retirement of the Russians with the loss of 1 officer and 46 men killed and 4 officers and 182 men wounded.

In another fight on the Mukden road July 19 several companies of dismounted Cossacks offered a stubborn resistance to the Japanese advance guard. The Russians fell back on Siaosyr. One man was killed and thirteen wounded. The Japanese suffered considerable losses.

DID NOT OBEY CHALLENGE.

Merchant Vessel Sunk by Russians Off Port Arthur.

Chefoo, July 22.—Russian refugees who arrived here during the afternoon from Port Arthur report that the foreign vessel, supposedly a merchantman, which was sunk by the Russians off Port Arthur on July 16, was challenged from the forts and then fired on. She did not stop and, therefore, a torpedo boat dashed out and sank her.

The refugees are unable to give the name of the ship, but they think she was the Hipsang, belonging to the Indo-China Navigation company.

Steamers arriving here from Shanghal report that they are being searched by Japanese auxiliary cruisers.

WARSHIPS NEAR TOKIO BAY.

Vladivostok Vessels Close to the Capitol City of Japan.

Yokohama, July 26.—An officer from the Russian fleet who boarded the steamer Tsinan, said that the officers of the fleet had received instructions from St. Petersburg to treat the British flag with the greatest respect, but if the Tsinan had railway material aboard the Russians would either capture or sink her. The officer said the Knight Commander would not heave to until four shots had been fired.

The Vladivostok fleet was last reported at the mouth of Tokio bay and developments are momentarily expected.

IN THE GULF OF FINLAND.

German Steamer Stopped, Searched and Then Released.

Berlin, July 25.—The German steamer Lisboa of the Oldenburgh-Portugal line has been stopped and searched by a Russian warship in the gulf of Finland. She was then released.

KNIGHT COMMANDER SUNK.

How the Russians Destroyed British Merchantman.

Yokohama, July 26.—Captain Brown of the steamship Tsinan, which brought the crew of the steamer Knight Commander into port Monday, says that the Knight Commander met three Russian warships at 7:30 on Saturday morning off the Province Izu. The Russian officers who boarded the Knight Commander took her captain back with them and ordered the crew of the Knight Commander to come on board one of the Russian warships within ten minutes. The Russians then sunk the Knight Commander.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the Russian vessel met the Tsinan and transferred the crew of the Knight Commander to this vessel. An Indian boatswain of the Knight Commander says the Russians boasted that besides sinking the Knight Commander and halting the Tsinan they also sank two small Japanese vessels and captured a German steamer, believed to be the Arabia, Portland, Ore., for Hongkong, belonging to the Hamburg-American line, and the Cheltenham, a British vessel. The Russians claimed to have plenty of coal.

The sinking of the Knight Commander without a trial is considered here to be an act of savagery, and as affording grounds for apprehension as to the treatment by the Russians of other neutral vessels.

CRUISERS CALLED OFF.

Russia Will Not Arrest Any More Merchantmen.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—The Associated Press is able to announce that Russia has informally notified Great Britain that orders have been issued to the Russian cruisers in the Red sea not to arrest any more merchantmen and it has been agreed between the two powers that if, pending the receipt of these orders by the captains of the St. Petersburg and the Smolensk, any other ships should be stopped and held as prizes these acts shall be regarded as not having taken place and the ships concerned at once released.

While not admitting the illegality of the Russian action in converting vessels of the volunteer fleet into warships after they had reached the Red sea, it is probable, in view of the fact that neutral ships did not receive previous notice, that Russia, in order to remove the shadow of a cloud upon their right to fly the war flag, will formally notify the powers of their conversion into warships, thus putting all neutrals upon their guard.

In the meantime all the ships seized will be released unless the captains refuse to show their manifests, in which event the procedure in the case of the Malacca probably will be followed.

COTTON MILLS CLOSED

MORE THAN THIRTY THOUSAND OPERATIVES ON STRIKE AT FALL RIVER, MASS.

Fall River, Mass., July 25.—The strike order issued by the Fall River textile council calling for upwards of 30,000 operatives to remain away from the mills in protest against a reduction of 12½ per cent in wages became effective during the day. In the eighty-one mills involved in the agreement to reduce wages it is estimated that not more than 300 entered the gates and before 8 o'clock practically every mill involved in the trouble had shut down. The strikers, who in some instances had assembled near the mills, dispersed quietly. The only mill having more than a score of employes ready for work was the Bourne, where over 100 weavers had gone in.

Both sides admit that this is the beginning of one of the most determined contests which Fall River has ever seen. The manufacturers maintain that they have tried every plan which they could think of to avoid a reduction in wages and took that final step only when driven to do so to save their business. On the other hand the operatives say that the conditions affecting cotton manufacture here did not warrant such a reduction.

The companies involved in the strike operate eighty-one mills, with about 3,250,000 spindles, and a weekly product, when running in full, of more than 900,000,000 yards of cloth.

MRS. MAYBRICK FREE

NOTED AMERICAN WOMAN IS AT LAST RELEASED FROM HER BRITISH PRISON.

Truro, Cornwall, Eng., July 21.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick is free. She left here at 11:43 a. m. on her way to France.

Mrs. Maybrick, who was Miss Florence E. Chandler, was convicted of poisoning her husband, James Maybrick of Liverpool, with arsenic in 1889, and sentenced to death, the sentence later being commuted to life imprisonment. There has always been doubt as to Mrs. Maybrick's guilt, as her elderly husband was a confirmed user of arsenic.

BRYAN GIVES OUT PLATFORM.

Plans Reformation of the Democratic Party Along Radical Lines.

Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—W. J. Bryan's plan for the reformation of the Democratic party has been made public.

In it Mr. Bryan favors radical changes, but he advocates the election of Judge Parker for president as a good beginning. He declares for state ownership of railroads, government control of telegraphs, abolishment of the private monopoly, favors an income tax and election of federal judges by the people.

ALL NEGOTIATIONS OFF

PACKERS AND STRIKERS SETTLE DOWN FOR LONG AND BITTER STRUGGLE.

SYMPATHETIC WALKOUT OF ALLIED TRADES ADDS TO THE COMPLICATIONS.

THIRTY THOUSAND WORKMEN NOW IDLE IN THE CHICAGO YARDS ALONE.

Chicago, July 26.—With all peace negotiations broken off and with all the allied trades unions employed at the different plants, with the exception of the teamsters and the stationary engineers, out on strike in sympathy with the butcher workmen who quit work two weeks ago, the stock yards strike last night had settled down to what promises to be one of the bitterest fights between capital and labor in the history of America.

As has been threatened for some time, the allied trades employed in the packing industry quit work when they were called on Monday to assist the striking butchers in their efforts to bring the packers to terms. In several instances the men did not wait for the official notification from their leaders to go on strike, but threw down their tools and quit work of their own volition. At 6 o'clock at night the statement was made by Michael J. Donnelly, president of the butchers' union, that every union man employed at the stockyards, with the exception of the teamsters and engineers, had responded to orders for a general sympathetic strike. The engineers, he declared, would join the strikers Tuesday and unless there was a speedy settlement of the difficulty, he said, the teamsters would undoubtedly join their brother workmen in their struggle for supremacy.

Nearly Thirty Thousand Out.

According to Mr. Donnelly Monday's strike swelled the number of men who have quit work at the stockyards in Chicago alone to nearly 30,000 persons.

Both sides to the controversy declared last night that they were perfectly satisfied with the present state of affairs and that they were willing to make it a fight to a finish to determine who shall dictate the terms of a settlement.

According to the packers the general strike Monday was a failure, it being claimed by them that not over one-half the members of the allied trades quit work when officially called out by their leaders in the morning. The further statement was made by the packers that should all the union men decide to join the strike it would make little difference to the employers, as they had sufficient resources to contest the ground for an indefinite period.

On the other hand, the labor leaders assert that all the union employes at the different packing plants, together with several hundred employes of the Union Stockyards company, quit work Monday in response to the general order for a sympathetic strike.

Everything is reported quiet at Kansas City, Omaha, Sioux City, Fort Worth, Tex., and East St. Louis, although the allied trades have not joined the strikers in some of those places.

MEAT STRIKE RENEWED.

Employes Claim Packers Violated the Agreement.

Chicago, July 22.—The packinghouse strike has been ordered renewed in Chicago and all other cities. Violation of agreement by the packinghouse proprietors is assigned as the reason.

During the morning 3,000 cattle butchers reported at the stock yards here for work. Only half of them were given places. Thereupon all refused to work. They reported in a body at their union headquarters. The general order for a renewal of the strike was soon forthcoming.

While the immediate provocation for the renewal of the strike was apparently the failure of the packers to take back a larger portion of the strikers who reported for work, the real cause of the rupture was inferred to be a circular issued by the packers. The circular purported to explain to the public the agreement entered into with the labor leaders. Seemingly the circular could be taken as implying the agreement did not bind the packers to re-employ all of the men who walked out. The construction the labor leaders had placed upon the agreement was that all should be re-employed within forty-five days.

UNCLE SAM'S BIG LOTTERY.

Drawing for Land Prizes to Occur at Chamberlain, S. D.

Chamberlain, S. D., July 26.—The eyes of 106,326 land seekers who registered in the Rosebud reservation will be turned toward Chamberlain on next Thursday, when the drawing for the prizes in Uncle Sam's big lottery will begin. One thousand names will be drawn the first and second days, the balance of the names will be drawn on the third day.

The drawing in effect merely takes all the names enrolled and places them in numerical order, and the names so placed will be called at the rate of 100 per day to make filings on the lands at Bonesteel until all the lands are disposed of, filing beginning on Aug. 8.

Crew Stricken With Beri-Beri.

Lewes, Del., July 26.—The bark Foohng Suey arrived at the Delaware breakwater Monday from Honululu. The crew was stricken on the passage with beri-beri and one man died and buried at sea. Three others suffering from the disease will be landed at the quarantine hospital here.

PELVIC CATARRH CURED.

General Health Greatly Improved by Pe-ru-na.

MRS. E. VON STIENAU.

Mrs. E. Von Stienau, 332 Fifth street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

"I have been a sufferer for years with female trouble, causing backache and at times terrible headaches. I had also complications from indigestion and heart trouble, so that I often had to lie down. I took six bottles of Peruna. I was then in perfect health, was regular, had no more headaches, in fact, my health is now all that I could wish."—Mrs. E. Von Stienau.

PERFECT HEALTH REGAINED.

Kidney Trouble Cured.

Mrs. M. J. Danley, Treasurer of the Rebecca Lodge, I. O. O. F., writes from 124 First street, N., Minneapolis, Minn.:

"I was afflicted for several years with kidney trouble which became quite serious and caused me considerable anxiety. I spent hundreds of dollars trying to be cured, but nothing gave me any permanent relief until I tried Peruna. It took less than three months and only ten bottles to effect a permanent cure."---Mrs. M. J. Danley.

Political Announcements

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To all Voters of Red Lake County, I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the Republican Nomination for the office of County Superintendent of Schools of this County, and I solicit your votes at the coming primaries. Very truly yours,
E. L. Quist, A. B.

REGISTER OF DEEDS.

To my friends and voters of Red Lake County. I hereby announce myself a candidate for the nomination of Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket, and respectfully ask your support at the primary election.
K. J. Weeks.

Here is a pleasant thought from Hon. Frank M. Eddy as printed in his paper, the Sauk Center Herald: "Judge Parker's daughter "hoped he would be nominated.". Our daughter hoped we would be nominated, too. but it didn't do any good, but we can console ourselves with the fact that we came as near being governor as Judge Parker will come of being president. That helps our feelings a little."

Every Republican in Minnesota should join in shouting "bravo" over the following able editorial from last weeks Roseau Region: "The St. Paul Globe last week had an editorial reflecting upon Governor Van Sant and holding him up as the catspaw of certain politicians who, it is asserted, used him for their own self advancement. The article is in bad taste. Even were it true that the governor had been "used" by the politicians surrounding him, which the Region does not believe, the Globe lacks a proper sense of respect for the high office of governor of Minnesota when it permits reflections upon the gentleman occupying it. Governor Van Sant is an honorable man and has the respect and admiration of thousands of people within and outside the state for his manly and courageous conduct while governor in seeking a strict and impartial enforcement of the laws. His doing so may not have pleased the Globe, but the Globe isn't Minnesota."

JOHN'S PIPE DREAM.

Nothing better illustrated the growth of this city than the increase in its real and personal property assessment. A few years ago, the assessed valuation of Red Lake Falls was much larger than that of Thief River Falls, but today this city's valuation is nearly twice as large as Red Lake Falls. The valuations of Thief River Falls today are: Real estate, $336,381; personal, $155,021; total $491,402. Red Lake Falls: Real estate, $167,706; personal, $98,427; total, $266,135. And in connection it may be stated that Thief River Falls pays about one-fifth of the taxes of the entire county, while Red Lake Falls pays about one-tenth—and spends all of the money.—Thief River News.

Coming from the source it does it would perhaps be wise to pay no attention to the foregoing squib, but where statements so misleading and intentionally wrong are made, even by friend Eastman, it seems that a brief correction is but fair to the people of Red Lake Falls. The Gazette isn't inclined to go into a long-winded argument on the respective merits of the two towns in question, but will just quote a few figures to show wherein friend John has over-reached himself in his attempt to injure Red Lake Falls.

"Thief River Falls pays about one-fifth of the taxes of the entire county, while Red Lake Falls pays about one-tenth—and spends all the money," says the News in concluding. From the figures on the books at the court house we find that the total county taxes paid by the city of Thief River Falls during the years 1897 to 1903, inclusive, was $15,442.81, while those paid by Red Lake Falls amounted to $16,609.59 during the same period, or $1156.78 more than paid by Thief River Falls.

During the same period, out of the road and bridge fund, the only fund that is drawn on by cities and towns, Thief River Falls has received in appropriations, $1890, while Red Lake Falls has been given but $1086 Aside from that, $500 has been appropriated from the county revenue fund to aid the Thief River Falls fair, which figures show without going further that Mr. Eastman's statements are very far from the truth.

In regard to the assessments for the present year it can be truthfully stated that Thief River Falls values are away up, and from the fact of a year's boom property values have soared skyward, but in many instances today property is being offered at prices that are lower than the assessor listed it. Red Lake Falls on the other hand, was away below what it should have been, and when the raises made by the county board are figured, will come very nearly equalling Thief River's inflated assessment.

Red Lake Falls bore the brunt of the county division fight, and put up all the money necessary to win what we have got, and the fact that the county officers move here with their famalies and become residents seems to be a thorn in the side of some of the up-river fellows who wouldn't be satisfied if they had the earth—with a barbed-wire fence thrown in.

Hon. Marcus Johnson, of this city, is a committeeman-at-large on the new Republican state central committee which was selected last week. The honor is not a new one to Mr. Johnson, however, as several times before he has been a valued member of state committees. He is an influential politician, and placing him on the committee will add strength to the ticket in this part of the state. A. D. Stephens, of Crookston, and C. E. Ward, of Ada, are other two Ninth district members of the new committee.

There are prospects for a four-cornered fight for the Republican nomination of Superintendent of Schools. Two candidates, Messrs. Quist and O'Brien, have already announced themselves, and two other bonnets are said to contain industrious political bees, with their optics cast on the superintendency. With a field of four to pick from, Red Lake county Republicans should have no fear but what a competent man will be secured.

Superintendent of Schools

EARNEST L QUIST,

Republican candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Red Lake county, is a young man of marked ability, and those who are best acquainted with him testify as to the manner in which he has secured for himself his present high standing. Mr. Quist is a native of the Gopher state, having been born in Chisago county in 1876. In 1878 his parents moved to Kandiyohi county, and there the young man worked on his father's farm and attended the public schools until he was sixteen years of age, several years of his school life being obtained only by a walk of six miles to schools. He then attended the graded school at Atwater for two years, after which he took up the work of teaching, and spent three and a half years in that work in his home county. Desiring to broaden his field of knowledge and better equip himself for his chosen work, Mr. Quist entered Gustavus Adolphus college at St. Peter, where he spent five years at hard study, and received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the summer of 1902. The year before he had taken up a homestead in Marshall county, near Thief River Falls, and after completing his college course came to the Valley to settle permanently. He moved to Thief River Falls about a year and a half ago, and at the recent reservation sale bought a choice quarter of government land, which he will improve and make into a home, thereby becoming a permanent resident of the county. Mr. Quist has always been a staunch Republican, and in several campaigns in the last few years has devoted considerable time to the good of the cause. His long experience in school work enables him to ask the position he does at the hands of the voters, with the knowledge that he is eminently qualified to fill the office in a manner creditable to himself and the people at large. Mr. Quist is making an active canvass of the county and is receiving many words of encouragment and support from the people.

The Thief River News hands this "hot one" to Red Lake Falls' "man behind the gun," which is bound to be appreciated by the general public: "The Red Lake Falls Courier, which always tries to get on all sides of all questions, is very solicitous about others for fear that they will not get on a band wagon. From now until November it will support all candidates for governor and after election claim that the Courier's influence elected the successful candidate. The Courier believes in getting on a band wagon, and never has the courage to express its convictions—if it has any."

This from the Irish Standard must be sarcasm: "It is said that the governor of each state in the union will appoint a committee of six ladies to select two of the most handsome men in their respective states to take part in the men's competitive beauty show to be held at the World's Fair. While waiting for the committee to be selected we desire to suggest to the ladies the appointment of Robert C. Dunn and Loren W. Collins from this state; as alternates, say Frank Eddy and the present governor. When it comes to the matter of a beauty show these gentlemen will stand at head of the class."

John Sharp Williams, minority leader in the present congress and temporary chairman of the St. Louis convention, is so immensely popular in his district in Mississippi that just 1,433 persons went to the polls and voted for him at the last election, says the Warren Register. We don't know how many voted against him, but the returns said nobody did. Williams, therefore, represents only 1,433 persons who care enough for their American citizenship to exercise the right of suffer-age. In many districts in the north 40,000 or more votes are cast at a congressional election. Great constitutionality, that of Mr. Williams!

If the Thief River Falls Review would devote more time to getting up a newspaper instead of filling up its space with the idiotic gushings of a two-for-a-penny "legislatur," and hustle out and find the news, there isn't any doubt but what its handful of readers would be better pleased. Until such time as the Review people give the public the news that the same John Eastman, whom they are so industriously abusing, does, they had better cease their evealasting crow. Red Lake county people have known The Gazette so long that any foolish communication by a central Minnesota Populist statesman (?) wont alter their opinion one iota, and from indications friend Eastman isn't paying any attention to the barking of these small curs, either.

Says the Crookston Times, in regard to the selection of the Ninth district members of the new Republican state central committee: "The selection of Senator A. D. Stephens of this city and C. E. Ward of Ada, as members of the Republican state central committee, demonstrate the wisdom of the managers of the campaign. Senator Stephens of this city stands high with the managers of the Dunn campaign and his ability and cleverness were important factors in the amicable settlement of the pre-convention fight. While Mr. Ward is not as tried and experienced a man, he is a good politician and is well known in the valley. While it is not likely that any aggressive campaign will be made in this section of the state, as it is overwhelmingly for Dunn and the Republican ticket, the party can rest assured that they have intrusted the campaign to competent men."

Fearless And Independent.

The Chicago Record-Herald is a conspicuous example of the success with which the public rewards fearless nonpartisanship in the columns of a great metropolitan daily paper. It is an independent newspaper, in which men and measures are invariably viewed wholly from the standpoint of the public good and not from that of the interests of any particular political party. It is the very reverse of neutral—fearless and outspoken on all the great questions of the day, but presenting its editorial opinion upon independent judgment and entirely regardless of political affliations. Partisanship is barred as strictly from the news columns as from the editorial page. All political news is given without partisan coloring, thus enabling the reader to form correct conclusions for himself. In the ordinary partisan newspaper political news is usually colored to such an extent as to make it difficult if not impossible for the reader to secure a sound basis for intelligent judgment.

Forest and Prairie Fire Warning.

OFFICE OF STATE FOREST COMMISSIONER.

ST. PAUL, MINN., APRIL 9, 1904.

Chapter 196 of the General Laws of the State of Minnesota for 1895 (Act of April 18th) constitutes Supervisors of towns, Mayors of cities and Presidents of Village councils Fire Wardens, and it is made their duty to take precautions to prevent forest and prairie fires, and, if they occur, to go and extinguish or control them; and in emergencies to call upon any able-bodied male person, over eighteen years of age, to assist. Fire Wardens must promptly report such fires to the Chief Fire Warden. The Forest Commissioner is required to provide and sign an abstract (as herewith) of the penalties under said law, and it is made the duty of the County Commissioners of each county to cause said abstract to be published in at least three issues of the official paper in their respective counties each year, between the 15th of April and 1st of November, and they are hereby instructed to publish this notice entire. Under said law

The following are liable to a penality not exceeding $500 or imprisonment in the state prison not over ten years, or both:

Any person who maliciously sets or causes to be set on fire any woods, prairie or other combustible material whereby the property of another is destroyed and life is sacrificed.

The following are liable to a penalty not exceeding $100 or imprisonment not exceeding three months:

Any person refusing, without cause, to assist fire wardens in extinguishing forest or prairie fires.

Any fire warden who neglects to perform his duties.

Any person who wilfully, negligently or carelessly sets on fire, or causes to be set on fire, any woods, prairies or other combustible material, thereby causing injury to another.

Any person who shall kindle a fire, on or dangerously near to forest or prairie land and leave it unquenched, or who shall be a party thereto.

Any person who shall use other than incombustible fire wads for firearms or carry a naked torch, firebrand or other exposed light in or dangerously near to forest land.

Any person who shall wilfully or heedlessly deface, destroy or remove this or any other warning placard posted under the requirements of the above mentioned Act.

Any railroad company neglecting to provide efficient spark arresters on its engines; or to keep its right of way to the width of 100 feet cleared of combustible material; or which shall fail to comply with other provisions of Section 12 of the above mentioned Act.

The following are liable to a penalty of not less than $5 nor more than $50:

Any railroad employe who violates the provisions of Section 12 of the above mentioned Act.

Any owner of threshing or other portable steam engine who neglects to have efficient spark arresters, or who shall deposit live coals or hot ashes without extenguishing the same.

Frank E. Hunt expects to leave this evening or tomorrow for an extensive trip throughout the eastern states, and his plans are to spend the next two or three months amid the scenes of his boyhood days. He will visit all the principal cities of the east and spend some little time with different relatives in the New England states. Mr. Hunt is a hard worker, and his many friends look to see him greatly benefitted in health when he returns from his outing.

Crookston Journal: Supt. E. E McIntire, of the Crookston schools, who is conducting the Red Lake Falls term of summer school left Friday for Warren where that evening he addressed a very large gathering of teachers who have attended the Warren summer school during the past few weeks. Mr. McIntire's remarks were devoted principally to educational matters and his thorough knowledge of the intricacies of school teaching and the proper handling of pupils was apparent in his lecture, which was much enjoyed by a large audience of teachers and instructors.

Cards have been received here announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Ella Stall to Fred A. Chandoin at Missoula, Montana, which, will occur August 3. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stall, former residents of Red Lake Falls, and has many friends here who will join The Gazette in wishing her much happiness.

The attendants at the session of the Red Lake and Polk county summer school gave a picnic last Saturday, and about one hundred invited guests from town helped them spend the afternoon in a pleasant manner at the pretty Healy mill dam site. An elegant picnic dinner was furnished by the teachers, and the affair proved to be a very enjoyable one to all present.

Thief River News: The Red Lake river came near getting another victim Tuesday. Mrs. Parnell, of the East Side, fell into the river below the dam, and Francis Bourque, the thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bourque, went to her rescue. He succeeded in keeping her above water for a short time until his strength gave out and if it had not been for the arrival of John Crowford with a boat both would probably have been drowned. As it was, when Mrs. Parnell was rescued she was unconscious for some time and had she remained in the water much longer would have been dead.

During the time that the Red Lake Falls boys camped at Maple Lake, Leland Healy became so favorably impressed with the bright prospect for the future Summer Resort, and knowing that the price of the lots would be advanced, and feeling that it would be a good investment, purchased two desirable lots located at Washington heights, of Mr. H. W. Smith, who owned and platted the land along the lake. Mr. Smith has appointed Leland Healy his agent to dispose of the lots, and will soon furnish him with plats and price-lists. It would be nice if a colony of Red Lake Falls people would purchase lots there. Why shouldn't Red Lake Falls be represented as well as Grand Forks, Crookston, Euclid and Warren? The price of these lots will be advanced this fall another $25.00. Now is the time to buy.

See the swell new line of pipes at the J. B. Cigar store.

Mrs. M. Hennings returned home Tuesday from her extended visit at different parts of the state. She has been gone over two months and visited at the cities, Fergus Falls and Crookston during her absence. Her many friends were pleased to welcome her home.

Mentor Herald: Lee Healy and his fellow campers, from Red Lake Falls, entertained thirty-seven young ladies at dinner on Monday. No one on earth but a Healy would have undertaken the job, but it is said they all enjoyed themselves, but the next morning the boys had to telephone for more grub.

H. A. Langlois, of Chicago, arrived Friday for a visit of a month or more at the home of his sister, Mrs. August Kreuger. The young man has visited this city every summer for the past several years, and has many friends among the young people here who are glad to welcome him again.

Mrs. J. P. Utley left last Saturday for Turtle River, this state, where she will join her husband and make their future home. Mr. Utley has an excellent situation at Turtle River and expects to remain there permanently. The Red Lake Falls friends of the family will wish them success in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Mizen returned last Friday from their pleasure trip to the World's Fair and other parts of the country. They spent some little time at St. Louis, after which they went to Mr. Mizen's home in Ohio where they visited a few weeks, making the return trip by way of the Great Lakes. They returned greatly benefitted by their outing.

Adrian Democrat: Dr. J C. May and son, Darwin, returned the latter part of last week from Red Lake county, where he spent a week or more looking after his farms. Some of his land is within a short distance of a new town on a branch the Soo is building through that part of the country, and as a result the price of the land has advanced considerably. C. M. Thompson's farm is not far from the same station, and the new road will increase the value of his land also. The Doctor says the crops are very fair in Red Lake county.

The blueberry crop of northern Minnesota is a complete failure this season, despite the fact that reports ten days ago were very much to the contrary. The late frosts did a damage that was greatly underestimated and the crop will be the poorest in many years Reports come from the fields where many pickers went the first of the week that the crop is small and a great disappointment as it had been anticipated that it would be fair, if not up to the standard of previous years. Very few have been marketed. Many parties of pickers who come from the south will be disappointed and the failure of the crop is a matter of general regret.

John B. Herbert was in from Poplar River township on business today.

Good butter and fresh eggs are our specialties; always fresh. Phone 16.—Garceau & Zaiser.

Mrs. Napoleon Pouliiot returned from her ten day visit with relatives at Grand Forks Monday.

Twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zimple, on the North Side. Sunday morning.

Joseph Patnode and Joseph Paradis drove to Crookston last Saturday, and spent the day looking at the Carnival sights.

County Attorney Frank A. Grady was a professional visitor at Thief River Falls Tuesday, returning the following day.

Ernest Buse went over to Grand Forks Saturday and spent a day taking in the sights at the fair held in that city last week.

The band gave an open air concert on Main street Tuesday evening that was listened to and enjoyed by a large crowd of people.

Miss Josephine Cartier returned from St. Hilaire this week after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Bruno Toutant.

Word has been received here that P. E. Foldoe, formerly in business at this place, has recently recovered from a severe illness, having been confined to his bed over a month.

The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. C. E. Boughton next Wednesday August 3. This will be a business meeting and all members are requested to attend.

St. Hilaire Spectator: Thomas Germo, of Red Lake Falls, was a visitor here last Friday. Mr. Germo is a candidate for the Republican nomination for county attorney and so far has the field all to himself.

Thief River News: S. M. Sivertson, of the Red Lake Falls Milling company, was in the city last Saturday. His company is contemplating making improvements here and also will build a line of elevators on the extension of the Great Northern.

G. Gus. Greene, representing the Oliver Typewriter company, was a caller here Tuesday showing the merits of that machine to the general public. The Oliver people have a first-class article to offer, and Mr. Greene can explain its merits in a forcible manner.

Prof. A. Onstad was among the Red Lake Falls people who visited Duluth last Friday and Saturday. Rumor has it that he also visited another city in Minnesota containing greater attractions for him than the lake town, but The Gazette of course cannot substantiate the rumor.

Mrs Georgiana Marchand will leave Thursday of next week for Minneapolis, where she will represent Joan of Arc Court, W. C. O. F., at the assemblage of the different Courts of the Northwest, which takes place at Minneapolis at that time. Mrs. Marchand expects to be absent about ten days.

Dan Champoux, proprietor of the City Feed Store, this week purchased the Lachapelle house on Champagne avenue, now occupied by Joseph Fortier, and expects to take possesson in the early fall. The residence is one of the most desirable in the city and Mr. Champoux is to be congratulated on securing it.

Prof. A. Onstad left yesterday and today joined the Hillsboro, North Dakota, band at Grand Forks and proceeded with them to Winnipeg, where he will do stunts on the clarinet for the balance of the week. The fame of Prof. Onstad as a musician is wide-spread and whenever a Valley band has an important engagement they get his help in order to fulfill it as it should be. He will return Monday.

The supreme court has decided that when a farmer leaves grain in an elevator he must take a regular warehouse or storage ticket for it. In the case in which this decision was rendered, it appears that after considerable lapse of time a farmer showed up with a number of slips of paper which purported to be memoranda of loads of grain left at the elevator says the Fergus Falls Journal. The books of the company did not show that the grain had ever been left. The court held that the slips were not storage tickets and the elevator was not responsible for the amount of wheat which they purported to represent. In view of this decision farmers should always take a regular elevator ticket before leaving the elevator as is required they should do by the rules of the company.

It is understood that there is a strong probability that Rev. Father Thielion, of Gentilly, will be named by Bishop McGolrick of Duluth as the successor of the late Father Grandchamp for St. Anne's parish, at Crookston. While nothing will be known definitely regarding the appointment till it is officially announced by the bishop, no surprise would be caused if Father Thielion was named, and in fact it is confidently expected in some quarters.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cholic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs, Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Saved From Terrible Death

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles, Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at W. A. Schreiter's Drug Store.

NOTIFICATION OF JUDGE PARKER.

Ceremony Will Occur at Candidate's Home on Aug. 10.

Esopus, N. Y., July 23.—Judge Parker has fixed Aug. 10 as the date for the ceremonies notifying him of his nomination by the Democratic national convention as a candidate for the presidency.

The programme for the ceremonies at Rosemount on Aug. 10 will follow precedents laid down for similar events. It is known that Judge Parker is particularly impressed with the simplicity of the ceremonies which took place on the occasion of President Lincoln's second nomination and also when Judge Thurman was informed of his nomination for vice president. The speeches both times were marked because of their brevity. It is not expected that Judge Parker will talk at length nor that he will discuss intimately any of the campaign issues, but will leave this to the letter of acceptance which will be issued a week or so later.

OVER A HUNDRED POISONED.

Porto Rican Teachers Victims of Tainted Meat.

Ithaca, N. Y., July 23.—More than 100 Porto Rican teachers who are attending the summer session of Cornell university were taken ill during the evening as a result, it is believed, of eating tainted meat. Among those most seriously affected were several American inspectors.

All the men of the delegation have been boarding at the campus tavern, where at Thursday's dinner meat hash was served. Physicians diagnosed the trouble as ptomaine poisoning. None of the patients are in a serious condition.

WON BY AMERICANS

HARVARD AND YALE DEFEAT OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE IN ATHLETIC CONTESTS.

London, July 23.—Yale and Harvard were the victors in the international games held during the day at the Queen's club, West Kensington. They defeated Oxford and Cambridge in six out of nine events before an immense crowd which never lost interest even in such a tedious contest as the hammer throwing. A mast was placed on one side of the field from which flew American and British flags as the victory went from one side to the other. It finally floated the Stars and Stripes as an official notification of the success of the blue and crimson.

Weather suited the Americans splendidly, being intensely warm, and the clouds covering the heavens occasionally letting fall a light sprinkle of rain. C. N. Jackson, steward for Oxford and Cambridge, congratulated the Americans. He said:

"While I anticipated the Americans would win I did not believe it would be by six to three. Our men in the high jump and quarter were not up to practice form."

Among the distinguished spectators were Ambassador Choate and his family, Secretary White and Mrs. White and others of the American embassy.

PORTLAND MINE RUNNING.

New Force of Engineers and Firemen Is Hired.

Victor, Colo., July 23.—The Portland mine is operating with a new force of engineers and firemen in place of those arrested by the military authorities, who asserted they had discovered a conspiracy among the men in the mechanical department at the mine to walk out in a body. Ten of the forty men arrested have been ordered by the military board to leave the district and the remainder have been released.

Two Killed and One Injured.

New Martinsville, W. Va., July 25.—Two men were killed and one seriously injured by the Pittsburg excursion train at Hadden's Crossing, four miles south of this city, at night. They were asleep on the railroad tracks.

My Breath.

Shortness of Breath Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physicians say, heart disease can be cured.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases.

Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves.

"I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells, and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly smother. A friend advised using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good results. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now entirely well. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past."—F. P. DRAKE, Middletown, O.

LIVER TROUBLES

"I find Thedford's Black-Draught a good medicine for liver disease. It cured my son after he had spent $100 with doctors. It is all the medicine I take."—MRS. CAROLINE MARTIN, Parkersburg, W. Va.

If your liver does not act regularly go to your druggist and secure a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine frees the constipated bowels, stirs up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.

Thedford's Black-Draught will cleanse the bowels of impurities and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys result in Bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A 25-cent package of Thedford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.

"I used Thedford's Black-Draught for liver and kidney complaints and found nothing to excel it."—WILLIAM COFFMAN, Marblehead, Ill.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

IT IS THE FACE

It was in Rome and at the season of the year when the old world city is full of strangers from every part of the globe.

The rush of visitors made little difference to Paul Rizeni, the wood carver, except that it brought him now and again a private order.

One day a stranger passed the little workshop and was attracted by a large, unfinished panel that leaned against the side of the window, and glancing at the workmanship, he noticed the worker within.

Paul lifted his head and met the gazer's eyes, and the stranger smiled and hurried on. But after that he passed the corner constantly, and Paul got to look for his honest, cheery face and kind blue eyes. He was an old man and English, every bit of him.

At last one day he knocked at the low door, and Paul admitted him.

"Could you execute a little order for me?" he asked. "I want to surprise my little granddaughter with one of your beautiful crucifixes."

"Certainly," Paul answered. "It will give me great pleasure, but I am very busy, and you must allow me some time."

"I want it for an Easter gift."

Paul calculated. "Yes, I think I can let you have it."

"I am hindering you, I fear," the old man said, "but I have peeped at your work so often through the window, and that was so unsatisfactory. You are a great artist!"

"Do you find me so?" he said in his foreign way. "That panel will sell for 4 francs, and I shall get 1. Great artists are paid better than that, signor!"

"Why don't you demand a just value?"

"Oh, why should I care? If they gave me 1,000 francs it would be the same—I should only work on and on. Aye, signor, I love my art! Do you know, the petal of that rose took me one whole week to bring to perfection?"

"I can imagine it. It is superb! But I like your faces best. Those angels on that shield"—

"Ah, but they do not satisfy me. My angel's face I have not attempted yet, but I have seen it. I go to benediction at St. Mark's every night to watch it and carve it on my soul, and one day I shall produce it."

The old man took his departure, but he came again and again, making each time some excuse to speak about the crucifix, and gradually he won Paul's confidence, and the carver told him his story.

He belonged by birth to the old Italian aristocracy, but his boyhood had been passed in troublous times, and his family had had to fly from the country. Gradually he had worked his way back to his native Italy, the seat of all art and beauty, and there he had settled down to his life's dreams.

That night in St. Mark's at benediction, when he knelt gazing at his angel's face, a sudden warm glow stole through his frame. His angel had turned her face and met his eyes, and she had flushed with emotion, and he realized it was the loveliness of a living woman; no ethereal spirit, as he had almost grown to believe.

His old friend wondered at his change, and at last Paul told him.

"I am in love," he cried restlessly, "and I must—I will possess her."

"But, my friend, I thought"—

"Yes, that is true. I only see her in church. We have never spoken."

"Most wonderful!" the old man muttered to himself as he walked home. "But I wish it hadn't happened. I—I have been so slow. I ought to have brought him to see Eileen before. Now it is too late. Ah, and they were so suited—both so pure, so beautiful, so idealic!"

"Grandpa," Eileen said to him one evening—it was Easter eve—sitting at his feet in her white gown and resting her beautiful arm across his knees, "grandpa, I want to confess to you. I am in love."

"Eh? Eh? What's this?"

"Nothing, dear, for it is nothing! It is only a face—a face that haunts me night and day—that—that—oh, you cannot understand, but my soul goes out to that face!"

"A gentleman to see you, sir. I have asked him into the salon. A foreigner, I think, sir—Signor Ritz—Ritz"—

"I know. That will do. Excuse me a minute, my dear."

Paul was standing at his full height gazing into the fire, and the red glow lit up his distinguished features, and the old man, looking upon him, realized what a splendid man he was, and he wished Eileen could have seen him thus.

"How kind of you to bring the crucifix yourself, my dear friend. I see you have it."

With a cry of wonder, delight and amazement he seized it in his hands and touched the angel's face that stood out at the top of the cross.

"It is Eileen!" Then, recovering himself, he grasped the artist's hand. "I cannot thank you—it is all so marvelous—but come with me. Let her thank you—your angel, you know."

Paul followed the old man to Eileen's room in a dream and stood at the threshold gazing at the girl, who came toward them as if, after all, she could not be flesh and blood.

"Eileen, my child! What is it?"

She was tottering toward her grandfather. "That—that!" she cried. "It is the face—the face I have loved so long!"—London News.

Then She Smiled.

"I'll bet my boots it isn't so."

It was not an elegant expression for a young lady, but it was very emphatic.

"But that would be such a very small wager," he urged.

Then she smiled sweetly upon him.—Detroit Free Press.

DO YOU CARE TO KNOW OF THE MARVELOUS DEVELOPMENT NOW GOING ON IN

The Great Central South?

OF INNUMERABLE OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG MEN OR OLD ONES—TO GROW RICH?

Do you want to know about rich farming lands, fertile, well located on a Trunk Line Railroad, which will produce two, three or four crops from the same field each year? Land now to be had at from $3.00 to $5.00 an acre which will be worth from $30.00 to $150.00 within 10 years? About stock raising where the extreme of winter feeding is but six short weeks? Of places where truck growing and fruit raising yield enormous returns each year? Of a land where you can live out of doors every day in the year? Of opportunities for establishing profitable manufacturing industries; of rich mineral locations, and splendid business openings?

If you want to know the details of any or all of these write me. I will gladly advise you fully and truthfully.

Competent girl wanted for general housework—Apply to Mrs. E. F. Marshall.

Firewarden John Drier requests The Gazette to call the attention of the public to the ordinance prohibiting the piling or stacking of hay or straw within the city limits, inside of a certain distance from buildings. He says that he will watch this carefully this fall and prosecute all violators of the ordinance. Better take care.

The management of the Soo railroad is making preparations to plat two new towns on its new line south of Erskine in Polk county. Winger, the first town south of Erskine, will be located three miles south of the reservation and Sultan, six miles south of Winger, will be located on the reservation.

Mentor Herald: While drilling the flowing well at the corner of the fire hall a vein of coal was struck about thirty feet down and the specimens of the product as brought up by the drill proves it to be a fine soft coal. The well digger had no way of estimating the thickness of the layer but it is probably that an effort will be made in the near future to ascertain in what quantity it exists.

The fellow who puts his paper back in the postoffice marked "refused," when he is owing the publisher for what he has already received, will some day be carried by the wonderful postal service of the universe to pearly portals through which he would like to pass. But he will be marked "refused" and dumped into the general conflagration of the trash pile, says the Fertile Journal.

In the future when wholsale firms send more than 2,000 catalogues by the same mail, it will not be necessary to affix a stamp to every copy, as required at present. This will save many firms much expense and time, for many of them send as many as 10,000 every month. When less than 2,000 copies are sent it will be necessary to affix a stamp to every one, as at present. When more than one is sent one of the copies will be weighed and the sender will be charged at the rate of 1 cent for two ounces.

The woman that sneers at a decent kitchen girl ought to be made do her own work, says an exchange. To cook is highly respectable business, and to do good cooking requires brain, experience and good sense. Many girls need the wages to be earned in the kitchen, but they hesitate to go out to work because some foolish stuckup people point their finger at them—the finger of scorn. The girl is often a much better woman than those who rail at her. If she does her work well, continues faithful, and keeps in a good humor, she is as good as a queen. She should be treated well and helped along life's pathway in a manner to increase her happiness.

Marcus Johnson Talks of Crop Conditions.

Crookston Journal: Marcus Johnson, the veteran Minnesota mill owner and financier, who is interested in plants in this city, Red Lake Falls and Atwater, his home town, while in the city Monday stated that from what he could see of the valley crops he had already seen, all talk of a pessimistic nature in regard to the harvest and yield is nonsense.

Mr. Johnson, who was en route to Red Lake Falls on business matters connected with the plant at that place, is a well known judge of crop conditions and an estimator of yields who seldom misses his mark. Continuing, Mr. Johnson said: "Red River valley grain, according to my view of the matter, is in fine condition at this very time, the fields are in much the same condition as were those of 1895, the year in which the greatest crop ever harvested in the valley was taken off, and if no hail appears and warm weather continues the crop will be a good one. Yields in many places will go above twenty-five bushels of wheat per acre and oats and barley will be correspondingly heavy.

"The grain already headed out is showing very good color and is maturing slowly, a characteristic which was in evidence in 1895. The slower the grain matures after heading the better the quality of the wheat and the heavier the crop. Pessimism, which is scattered about the Red River valley in very liberal quantities, should have no grounds for appearance this fall, but at the present time of course, the usual amount of knocking and complaining is being done.

"Will the price be good this fall?"

"Undoubtedly so—Wheat throughout the winter wheat sections of the country has been a practical failure. The demand for wheat and wheat products is heavy and the supply in sight very short. As a result the farmers will see good, if not high prices this fall and the harvest should be a very profitable as well as a bountiful one."

WAS WET BUT WARM.

Weather Bureau Reports On June Weather in the Valley.

According to the monthly report of the weather bureau observer, the June just passed was the warmest in Minnesota in three years, and this after a backward spring. It is also the wettest June in three years.

There was only one entirely clear day during the month. Twelve were partly cloudy, and seventeen were cloudy. On exactly half the days in the month rain fell.

The average temperature for the month was 68 degrees. The hottest day during the month was the 23d, when the mercury rose to the 83d point, and the coldest day during the month was the 6th, when the temperature was 48 degrees above zero.

The prevailing winds of the month were from the south, and total movement was 7,560 miles. The highest velocity was reached June 23d, when the average was 48 miles an hour.

While June was a very wet month, it was within two degrees of the average June Temperature for the past fourteen years. The one entirely clear day was June 15. The total precipation for the month was 3.81 inches, as compared with 1.02 inches last year.

Smiley Not a Candidate.

St. Hilaire Spectator: County Surveyor Wm. C. Smiley gives it out cold that he will not be a candidate for re-election to his present nor any other position within the gift of Red Lake county Republicans. Mr. Smiley is seriously contemplating removing to other fields of action, and if he does so Thief River Falls will lose one of her most valued and popular citizens, for who in town has done so much for the good of Thief River so willingly and with so little remuneration as has W. C. Smiley. It can also be stated that the present surveyor of Marshall county, Mr. Wood, who has bought land on the reservation and has become a citizen of Red Lake county, will shortly announce himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination at the coming primaries.

Boarder for Sheriff Linnihan.

R. E. Lydon, a character that has been hanging around Thief River Falls for some time past, was caught trying to affect an entrance to a business place there Monday evening, and was arrested. His preliminary hearing was held Tuesday, and he was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, Deputy Sheriff Jarman bringing him here Wednesday. Mr. Lydon claimed innocence, and it is likely that he will be given a chance to substantiate his claim when court sets.

Chance For a Warden.

St. Hilaire Spectator: If we have any game wardens in this part of the country who are not working, they might investigate the rumor that the Soo graders east of here being fed on prairie chicken. It is stated that one camp has had several messes and that it takes about two dozen of the small birds for a meal. Here is a chance for an enterprising warden to get busy.

State Fair Will Have a "Pike."

Thief River Press: Northwestern people need not go to St. Louis to see the "pike." A pike is to be established at the state fair this fall by the Gaskell Carnival company under the direction of the board of managers. It will replace the old midway, with which the board has been dissatisfied for some years.

About a mile of pike will be established with 10 cents admission. Inside the admissions will range from free entrance to 25 cents. The enclosure will be west of the center of the grounds, and the old midway will be rented to concessionaries.

Three star attractions for the afternoon and evening were decided upon. The new loop the loop, or death trap, was one. Another was a novel high live act, and the third a flying bicycle performance somewhat different from that given two seasons by Schreiver.

An American Author Appreciated.

That English reviewers are unjust to books by American authors, simply because they are American, is the view of many participants in a recent discussion held by the London Chronicle. Counter-evidence is now furnished by the conservative London Athenæum, which on June 11th reviewed Rose E. Young's "Sally of Missouri." "Enthusiasm and energy," the Athenæum finds in the cleverest of recent American novels. "There is a zest of living in them. Blase London may call them crude, but on the path of zest and enthusiasm lies the true essence of story. "Sally of Missouri" is virile, picturesque and full of hot feeling."

CRACKSMEN AT WORK

Several Stores In This Neighborhood Visited By Experts and Safes Blown Open.—No Clnes Yet Found.

Red Lake county has had her share of excitement this week, and so far three robberies are reported within a radius of twenty miles of Red Lake Falls since last Saturday night.

The first was Saturday night, when the general store of P. E. Smidesang, at Wylie, was broken into and the safe blown open. The robbers effected an entrance by cutting a hole in the front door and letting down the bar which Mr. Smidesang fastened the door with, and the whole proceeding points to work of experts who understood their business. The combination of the safe was drilled out, and an entrance to the cash drawer forced. The robbers secured $250 in cash and carried off besides a lot of notes and checks, which were found the next day near the elevator there, but were torn up so small that they were useless. A gold watch was also taken from the safe.

Upon the discovery of the theft the authorities here were at once notified, and the officers in the surrounding towns telegraphed to keep an eye out for the culprits. Several Wylieites secured a hand-car and started for St. Hilaire, and on the road passed a couple of suspicious looking characters, who had spent the day in Wliye, and whom the Wylie people had placed under arrest as soon as they arrived at St. Hilaire. Sheriff Linnihan went up there Sunday and returned with the prisoners the next day. A careful search of their persons was made, but nothing was found that would indicate that they were the guilty parties, and they will likely be held pending further developments.

The next chapter of the story was enacted at Dorothy Sunday night, when the store of J. F. Matthews was entered and the safe broken into. The robbers only secured about $10 in silver here, however, but carried off a lot of store goods. Every effort was made to catch the perpetrators, but up to the hour of going to press today nothing has been heard of them.

Monday evening the store of O. H. Camp & Brothers, at Dugdale, was the mark for the burglars, and here they did their work more like cracksmen. Entrance was affected to the store by the use of skeleton keys, and the safe was blown open with dynamite. About $500 in money, and numerous valuable papers were secured, the slick fellows making good their escape.

Whether or not these burglaries were all committed by the same parties is merely a matter of conjecture, but there remains no doubt but that Northern Minnesota is at present over-run with tough characters, and it behooves everyone to see that their valuables are well guarded. Every officer in the surrounding towns is on the look-out for the fellows who are carrying on this wholesale robbery, and it is likely that developments will result before many days.

Rural Delivery Route From Wylie.

Postmaster O. Romsos, of Wylie, has received notice from the department that on September 1st a rural free delivery route will be established from that postoffice to serve the people of the town of Bray. The petition praying for the establishment of the route was filed with Congressman Steenerson about the first of April, and the promptness with which the department made its order speaks well of the working powers of our member of congress. There is some talk of abolishing the postoffice at Bray, now that the rural delivery system has been extended there, but this has not yet been decided upon. Postmaster Romsos tells The Gazette that application blanks for the examination as rural carrier can be had at his office.

PROMINENT MAN DIES

H. Gonigam, one of Red Lake Falls' Most Highly Respected Business Men, Answers Sudden Summons.

The people of the city were shocked beyond expression Monday forenoon by the announcement that H. Gonigam had passed away at his home here, and so sudden was the call that it was indeed hard to believe that such could be the case.

Two weeks ago last Sunday Mr. Gonigam was leading his horse up the hill back of his residence, when it slipped and fell, and before Mr. Gonigam could get out of the way he was pinioned down by the falling animal and the bones of his leg broken just above the ankle. Medical aid was summoned and the injury attended, and while Mr. Gonigam suffered terribe pains the first week there appeared to be no danger and the last few days he mended so rapidly that his friends expected to see him able to be about within a very short time. Monday morning he felt unusually well, and looked over his mail about 9 o'clock and gave directions for business matters that he wanted attended to. Shortly before eleven o'clock he complained of a queer feeling coming over him and so fast did he sink that he was beyond saving when the doctor arrived there, although all means known to the medical profession were used to stimulate the heart action and keep him alive.

The remains were immediately prepared for shipment and on the Northern Pacific that evening the family left for their old home at Walnut, Illinois, where the interment was maee in the family cemetary. Mrs. Conrad Naiman, a sister of the deceased, and Rev. H. W. Knox went with the family.

Henry Conigam moved his family here from Illinois about a year and a half ago, he having resided here some months previous, opening up a real estate office, and since their residence among us they have made a large circle of friends. A year ago in April, their son Oliver, a promising young man just of age, was called away, and the sudden death at this time of the husband and father surely fills their cup of sorrow to overflowing.

Since engaging in business here Mr. Gonigam has taken an active part in the affairs of the city and county, and by his straightforward and energetic business methods had earned and kept the unanimous friendship and esteem of the Red Lake Falls people.

Deceased leaves a wife and three daughters, Misses Almeda, Grace and Gladys, besides several sisters and botherrs to mourn the loss of one who always filled with credit the mission of a loving husband, father and brother. Words fail to express a part of the sorrow felt at the sudden demise of one who was so highly thought of and to the bereaved family the sympathy of the community goes out in the fullest measure.

May his soul rest in peace.

FILE NOTICE OF APPEAL.

Residents of Townships Start to Fight New District.

Chas. Perrault, Eli Perrault, Paul Schroeder and Peter Kanm, residents of the affected school districts, have engaged Atty. Chas. E. Boughton, of this city, and filed a notice of appeal from the action of the commissioners in creating a new school district out of five districts in Lake Pleasant and Terrebonne townships.

The claims set forth in the appeal are: First—That the commissioners had no jurisdiction in the matter. Second—That the Board exceeded its authority. Third—That the action of the Board is not in accord with the best interests of the territory affected.

The case will come up at the October term of the District Court, County Attorney Grady representing the commissioners.

UNDER FALLING DERRICK

Six-Year-Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bray, of this City, Instantly Killed Last Saturday.

While playing around the yard at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Verboncer, at Grand Forks, Pauline, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bray of this city, was instantly killed by being caught under the falling derrick of a well-digging machine last Saturday morning.

Mrs. Bray and children went to Grand Forks last week to visit with Mrs. Bray's people, the Verboncers, for some little time. A well-drilling out-fit was being used in the back yard of the Verboncer house, and Saturday morning during the high wind blew over. Little Pauline, with several other companions, was playing innocently in the yard, and happened at that moment to be directly under the falling death-trap. Her companions yelled at her, but before she could make a move to get out of the way she was caught by the ponderous machine and her life instantly crushed out. The frantic mother, with the help of the grandmother, succeeded in raising the weight high enough to release the child, and although medicial aid was at once summoned little Pauline was beyond the need of earthly help.

The father was immediately notified by 'phone, and went there on the N. P. train, returning the same evening with the remains of the little girl, and the funeral was conducted from St. Joseph's church Sunday afternoon, the interment being in the Catholic cemetery southwest of town.

Little Pauline was an exceptionally bright little child, and her terrible death caused universal sorrow here. The heartbroken parents have the tender sympathy of the community.

FAIR NEXT WEEK.

Thief River Falls Making Arrangements For A Big Time.

The third annual fair of the Red Lake County Agricultural society will be held at Thief River Falls Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, and from the arrangements so far made, a first-class time is promised.

The promoters have arranged for some excellent attractions, among which are several interesting races, a balloon ascension, ball game and several other amusements. The exhibits also promise to be plentiful and first-class, and visitors there can be assured of seeing something worth going to see.

On Thursday, the 11th, there will be a special train over the Great Northern and while the official time is not given out, it is expected that it will leave here in the forenoon and remain there until evening. If this train can be arranged for, a good crowd will turn out from here. The Red Lake Falls band of 26 pieces has been engaged as one of the attractions, and altogether the fair will be a hummer.

Make your plans to attend, and then stick by them. Thief River invites you to come, and will treat you royally.

Organize Foot Ball Team.

A meeting of the male members of the Red Lake Falls high school was held last evening and arrangements made for the organization of a high school foot ball team for the coming season. Drew Marshall was elected captain and steps will be taken at once to get into training and prepare for games. The high school will have a large attendance this year and it is expected that a first class team can be got out. Several of last year's crack players will attend school again this fall which will give the team the advantage of having experienced hands at the start. As nearly all the neighboring towns will have football elevens this season we can look forward to some fast contests.

CHICAGO PACKERS GET ENOUGH WORKMEN TO KEEP ALL DEPARTMENTS BUSY.

RECEIPTS OF LIVE STOCK UNUSUALLY LARGE AND BEEF SHIPMENTS HEAVY.

HUNDREDS OF STRIKERS DESERT UNION AND RESUME WORK AT KANSAS CITY.

Chicago. Aug. 2.—Monday was a busy day with the packers. With increased forces of skilled workingmen and the operating departments more thoroughly equipped than at any time since the beginning of the strike, the employers took a firm grip on the machinery of their affairs and as a result the stock yards took on a run of activity. Over 78,000 head of livestock were received here Monday. This is an increase of 59,000 head over last Monday. Such an enormous amount of livestock under ordinary circumstances would have had a depressing effect upon the market, and when the trainloads of animals poured into the yards, stockbrokers and owners feared a panic. Prices were lowered sharply, but the market held so well that the packers are preparing to increase their output. The packers bought 8,000 cattle; 13,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep during he day. Before nightfall 80 per cent of these purchases had been slaughtered.

Further proofs of claims of the packers that the difficulties of the strike are being overcome were furnished by the shipment of 500 car loads of fresh meats from the stockyards. Of this number 400 cars were loaded and shipped by the firms affected by the strike. These shipments were consigned to all parts of the world.

It was estimated last night that 350 members of the various trades on strike returned to work Mondny. Of the number who abandoned the fight many were skilled workers. The packers claim Monday's desertions make the total number of strikers who have returned to work at least 2,000.

STRIKERS GO BACK TO WORK.

Serious Break in Ranks of Workmen at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Aug. 2.—Monday's developments in the packinghouse strike were serious from the standpoint of the strikers, as hundreds of their number returned to work, many of them being skilled workmen. The serious break in the ranks of the strikers was caused by their growing tired of waiting for strike benefit money promised from Chicago and because they could not afford to remain idle longer without pay.

Wesley Reynolds, a police sergeant, war shot and fatally wounded last night by Norman Rupe, a watchman at Swift's plant. Rupe had been assaulted by a striker and had shot at his assailant and Reynolds tried to quell tha disturbance. The striker escaped, and Rupe was explaining to Reynolds how the trouble occurred when his revolver was discharged by accident, the ball taking effect in Reynold's stomach.

SEVERAL ARRESTS MADE.

Police Having Trouble With Strikers at St. Joe.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 1.—The police have had a number of skirmishes during the day with the strikers who have stopped packinghouse delivery wagons and there have been several arrests. Chief of Police Frans has ordered the strikers to move their headquarters to a greater distance from the packinghouses, but they have refused and legal proceedings are threatened in case the police attempt to enforce the ordar.

FEDERATION WILL ASSIST.

Moral and Financial Support for Lynn Cotton Operatives.

Fall River, Mass., Aug. 1.—President Golden and Secretary Hibbert of the United Textile Workers returned during the day from their trip to Washington for the purpose of securing for the striking cotton mill operatives here the support of the American Federation of Labor. They were given every assurance of moral and financial support and feel highly satisfied with the result of their trip.

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA.

Former Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania Is Dead.

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.—Robert E. Pattison, who was twice Democratic governor of Pennsylvania and twice controller of Philadelphia, died early in the day at his home in Overbrook, a suburb of this city. Pneumonia, complicated with a weakness of the heart, was the cause of death. He was fifty-three years old.

NORTHWEST WHEAT CROP.

Estimated at a Higher Average Than That of Last Year.

St. Paul, Aug. 2.—Estimates from sixty-nine counties of Minnesota, and North and South Dakota indicate an average wheat crop this year in the three states of 17.62 bushels per acre. Estimates from the same number of counties one year ago indicated a yield of 14.05 bushels per acre.

BUILDING TRADESMEN OUT.

Seventeen Unions Involved in Strike in New York.

New York, Aug. 2.—The building trades alliance, made up of seventeen unions, declared a strike Monday against the George A. Fuller Construction Co., and work was tied up upon five large buildings.

FIGHTING AT PORT ARTHUR.

Japanese Make Desperate Attack by Land and Sea.

Chefoo, July 30.—A junk which left Port Arthur on Thursday at midnight reports terrific fighting on land and sea which had been going on for thres days. The highest Japanese authority here says that the army and naval commanders of the besieging forces had planned to begin their final assault on Tuesday last and expected to effect the capture by July 29, but that no official reports were expected from the army or from Admiral Togo until the present attack results in success or failure. Japanese correspondents here are now sending junks to the Miaotao islands ready to enter the harbor at Port Arthur immediately after the fall of the fortress.

The Associated Press correspondent learns from the same reliable authority that the movements of the Russian Vladivostok squadron hastened the present attack upon Port Arthur, the Japanese authorities realizing that if these vessels were allowed to proceed unhampered any longer it meant the division of Admiral Togo's fleet, with the outcoming of the Russian ships now cooped up by him at Port Arthur. The most intense interest in the Port Arthur situation is taken not only here but in Shanghai and Tientsin. Many commercial concerns in these places are continually wiring here for news.

VON PLEHVE IS SLAIN

RUSSIAN MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR MURDERED ON STREETS OF ST. PETERSBURG.

St. Petersburg, July 29.—M. von Plehve, minister of the interior, was assassinated at 9:50 o'clock Thursday morning by a bomb thrown at his carriage while he was driving to the Baltic station to take a train for the palace at Peterhof, where he was to make his weekly report to the emperor.

The assassination is believed to be the outcome of widespread plot, the existence of which has been suspected for several days. Numerous arrests have already been made, including that of the assassin, a young man who is believed to be a Finn, named Leglo, and who is now in a hospital severely and perhaps fatally injured by the explosion of his own bomb. An accomplice of Leglo, also apparently a Finn, but whose name is unknown, has been arrested. He had in his possession a bomb which he tried to throw, but he was overpowered by the police just in time to prevent great loss of life.

The assassin wore a brown overcoat and a railroad official's cap. He stood on the sidewalk just as Minister von Plehve's carriage was about to cross the canal bridge near the station. The minister was escorted by a number of detectives on bicycles, and one of them jostled tha assassin, who then rushed into the road and threw the bomb after the carriage. The missile struck the hind wheel and exploded with fearful force, killing or wounding over a score of persons. Minister von Plehve and his coachman were killed outright and an officer of the guard was fatally injured.

One of the cyclist detectives arrested the assassin, who endeavored to escape, though wounded by splinters in the face, arm and abdomen. He made no attempt at resistance, however, when seized by the detective and confessed his crime, but refused to give his name.

TO REPLACE VOLUNTEER FLEET.

Warships Will Be Used in Stopping Contraband.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—Preparations have been completed for the departure, under the command of Rear Admiral Enquist, of the cruiser division of the Second Russian Pacific squadron, now lying off Cronstadt. The warships will weigh anchor and put to sea under sealed orders within three days. It is also believed that the auxiliary cruisers Don and Ural, which probably are the ships reported as passing Copenhagen with two torpedo boats, will be followed at once by other converted merchantmen. This time the admiralty has resolved that there shall be no question of the character of the warships engaged in stopping contraband. The Don and Ural will replace the St. Petersburg and Smolensk, which will come home and be recommissioned.

GENERAL KELLER IS KILLED.

Russian Officer Slain by a Japanese Shell.

Mukden, Aug. 2.—It is reported that Lieutenant General Count Keller has been killed east of Liaoyang.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—The report of Lieutenant General Count Keller's death is confirmed. He was killed July 29 while resisting the preliminary attack of General Kuroki's army on the Yangse pass, thirty miles east of Liaoyang. The general was standing near a battery, which was subjected to a terrific fire, when a shell burst close to him and he fell, mortally wounded, dying twenty minutes later.

COLLISION INJURES FIFTY.

Terrific Crash Destroys Two Cars and Hurts Many Persons.

New York, Aug. 1.—Fifty passengers were injured, eleven of them seriously and one possibly fatally, in a head-on collision between a runaway Mount Vernon trolley car and a Yonkers trolley car at Woodlawn, near Two Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, just before midnight.

Both cars were crowded. The Mount Vernon car ran away on a down grade and in its burst of speed crossed a switch at the bottom of the hill and crashed into the Yonkers car, which at that moment rounded a curve on the upward ascent.

The wreck of both cars was complete and it seems miraculous that some persons were not killed outright.

GREAT BATTLE RAGING

FIRST GENERAL ENGAGEMENT OF THE WAR IN PROGRESS IN VICINITY OF HAICHENG.

JAPANESE OCCUPY SIMOUCHENG, THUS ISOLATING A LARGE FORCE OF RUSSIANS.

ST. PETERSBURG OFFICIALS ANXIOUSLY AWAITING OUTCOME OF THE BATTLE.

London, Aug. 2.—A dispatch to a news agency from Tokio says there is reason to believe that after two days' fighting the Japanese occupied Simoucheng, thus cutting off General Stakelberg from General Kuropatkin.

London, Aug. 2.—The correspondent of the London Times with General Kuroki in the field, in a dispatch dated July 31, says:

"This army began a general attack at daylight today, which lasted until sunset. The Japanese center took Taowan, capturing the enemy's northeastern positions.

"The left advanced and occupied a position jeopardizing the Russian right.

"The Japanese right carried the position against superior numbers.

"There was tremendous artillery firing throughout the day and the infantry finished with a brilliant march under the enemy's shrapnel.

"I believe that the Russian position will be untenable tomorrow."

ANXIETY IN RUSSIA

PUBLIC BELIEVES DECISIVE BATTLE OF THE CAMPAIGN IS BEING FOUGHT.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—The greatest anxiety prevails here for news of the general advance against the southern and eastern portions of General Kuropatkin's army. The public believes that the decisive battle of the campaign is being fought, but this has not been established. In fact the military attaches in St. Petersburg claim that for several days the main body of the Russian army has been moving northward toward Mukden and that when the present line to the southeast is forced the Japanese will find that they have crushed only the shell. Should this prove to be so, General Kuropatkin will doubtless be obliged to destroy the immense quantity of stores now at Liaoyang.

Other military authorities, however, do not believe General Kuropatkin can escape a general engagement. His army forms a wedge which General Oku is hammering away at the edge and Generals Nodzu and Kuroki are driving with great force against the side. If one of the latter should break through, tha southern force would be doomed.

The general staff seems amazed at the immense strength of the co-operating Japanese armies. The Japanese evidently have succeeded in concealing the real number of their men and guns, which the general staff now believes must be in excess of 300,000 men, with between 300 and 400 guns.

While General Oku is holding the Russian army at Haicheng in check, General Nodzu is evidently trying to work around the vital position at Simoucheng. At the same time General Kuroki is trying to flank the First Siberian army corps, which was commanded by the late General Count Keller, at Yanzalin, on the main Fengwangcheng road and is also marching a strong column through direct to Liaoyang on the Saimetz road.

Would Entrap a Siberian Army Corps.

There is a road leading north from Simoucheng which strikes the main Fengwangcheng road west of Yanzalin. If Simoucheng should be forced a rapid advance along this road would pocket the First Siberian army corps.

The report received from Tokio late Monday night that Simoucheng had actually been forced did not become generally known.

Lacking definite information, and if the Russian formation has not been broken by the capture of Simoucheng, the authorities here say that if Kuropatkin accepts a general engagement they believe it will occur near Anschantschan, half way between Haicheng and Liaoyang, in which case Haicheng force will fall back thither, and the Simoucheng force under Mistchenko on the northward road to Yanzalin, which is already fortified with a view to such a contingency. It is possible that if Simoucheng is evacuated it may be in pursuance of the above plan, and it is also possible in this case that General Stakelberg may get away north, but in any case his retreat with Oku hanging to his rear must be a difficult operation, even with the railway to help him.

General Kuropatkin's latest reports only carry the fighting up to Sunday night, when the Russians had been driven in from the left flank of the Simoucheng position. The Russians had repelled several attacks and one bayonet charge in which there was desperate hand to hand fighting at Kangwa heights. Elsewhere the Russians are reported to be holding their own. No figures of the two days' fighting are given.

FALL OF FORTRESS IMMINENT.

Believed That Port Arthur Cannot Hold Out Long.

London, Aug. 2.—There is still no reliable news from Port Arthur, but the Daily Mail's Tokio correspondent says that the fall of this fortress is imminent. Similar reports emanate from Shanghai and elsewhere.

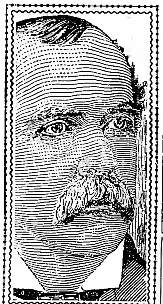
A UNITED STATES SENATOR

Used Pe-ru-na For Dyspepsia With Great Benefit.



HON. M. C. BUTLER,
Ex-United States Senator From South Carolina.

EX-U. S. Senator M. C. Butler from South Carolina, was Senator from that state for two terms. In a recent letter from Washington, D. C., he says:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine besides a good tonic."--M. C. Butler.

Peruna is not simply a remedy for dyspepsia. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Peruna cures dyspepsia because it is generally dependent upon catarrh of the stomach.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Political Announcements

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

TO ALL VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY, I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the Republican Nomination for the office of County Superintendent of Schools of this County, and I solicit your votes at the coming primaries. Very truly yours.

E. L. QUIST, A. B.

REGISTER OF DEEDS.

TO MY FRIENDS AND VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY. I hereby announce myself a candidate for the nomination of Register of Deeds on the Republican ticket, and respectfully ask your support at the primary election.

K. J. WEEKS.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

TO THE VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination to the office of Superintendent of Schools of Red Lake county, subject to the will of the Republican voters at the primaries. I respectfully solicit the support of the public.

MRS. J. J. DOE.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

TO THE PEOPLE OF RED LAKE COUNTY—I am a candidate for nomination to the office of County Superintendent of Schools of Red Lake county, and respectfully ask the support of the Republicans of Red Lake county at the coming primaries.

J. B. O'BRIEN.

The Roseau Region arises to remark that Judges Watts and Grindeland are both candidates for renomination to the district bench, having filed their affidavits with the secretary of state. It is not likely there will be any opposition to either of the gentlemen and their re-election is practically assured. So far as Roseau county is concerned, we predict an almost unanimous vote for Judges Watts and Grindeland.

The Minnesota Democrats will meet in state convention at the International auditorium at Minneapolis August 30. St. Paul and Duluth were both bidders for the honor but on account of the former city having no hall of adequate dimensions and apppointments and out-of the-way location of the latter city the claims of Minneapolis were recognized. That city donates the use of the hall and contributes $100 to the fund to be used for convention expenses. The basis of representation will be the same as for the Duluth convention, one delegate for each 150 votes or major fraction thereof cast for Wm. J. Bryan in 1900, with three delegates at large for each county except Hennepin and Ramsey which have five.

As will be noticed by an announcement elsewhere, Mrs. J. J. Doe, of this city, is a candidate for the Republican nomination to the office of Superintendent of Schools of Red Lake county. Mrs. Doe is well known all over the southern part of the county, at least, as having been closely identified with school work for a number of years past, and has always taken a prominent part in educational affairs. For several years she has taught in the city schools of Red Lake Falls, and her work has been so satisfactory that she has been re-engaged each year. Prior to her work here she conducted several other schools in this part of the county, and those with whom she dealt are today her warmest supporters, a pleasing testimonial as to her ability. Mrs. Doe will make an active canvass for the office, and will surely be a formidable candidate.

THE "DEADLY PARALLEL."

Red Lake Courier, Thursday, April 28, 1904:	Red Lake Courier, Thursday, July 31 1904:
"W. W. Prichard, cashier of the First National Bank of Thief River Falls, announces his candidacy for County Commissioner from that district, to succeed Louis Urnson. Mr. Prichard has every qualification for this position. He is a thorough business man, an estimable gentleman, honorable and conscientious. The people of Thief River Falls would make no mistake in selecting him as a member of the Board."	"The Gazette takes up the cudgel in behalf of Daniel Shaw as a candidate for county commissioner from the Thief River district. As the Gazette is not published at Thief River its advice on a question of purely local interest is gratuitous to say the least."

It has been contended for some little time that our dear friend at the other end of Main street came to Red Lake county with the express object in view of setting himself up as dictator, and until the public tumbled to his graft, running things with a high hand, and the above parallel cannot fail to convince the public that the contention is not unfounded. The Courier editor has posed as the immaculate article of Democracy since his coming here, yet has attempted to dictate to the Republicans on every occasion what they should do. The Gazette considers as a Republican paper it has all the reason in the world to "take up the cudgel of Daniel Shaw" if it sees fit, inasmuch as his election would have bearing on the party at large. On the other hand the esteemed Democratic King, as a Democrat, is out of place entirely in his laudation of Mr. Prichard, and when the fact becomes known that the Democrats are the prime movers in the said Prichard's campaign, it certainly should be the place of the Republican organs of the county to put the Republicans of the Fourth district onto the game. The fact of the matter is, simply, that Mr. King aspires to be the whole thing, and after the election claim, as he claimed two years ago, that he is the man who did the business. In the present campaign, though, the Democrats are getting the dirty end of the stick from their mugwump chairman.

There is no better antidote for despondency than to take a measure of your own community as it was ten years ago and as it is today—unless you live in an unrepresentative and stagnant community, says the Fertile Journal. You will be likely to find the roads or the streets better than they were; the railroad service better, the postal service, possibly even the telegraph and the telephone service; you will observe better houses more attractive grounds; the people are better clad, or more are well clad. Inside their houses you will find more books or better, more bath-rooms, better lights and better furniture. A larger proportion of children and youth are receiving good training at better schools. All this means more than prosperous years. The wellbeing of the people of the United States is rising higher and especially is it diffusing itself wider. Life is constantly becoming more comfortable and more cheerful as well as longer and safer—leading to better conditions for intellectual growth and social development.

Prof. J. B. O'Brien, of St. Hilaire was in town Monday and filed for the Republican nomination of Superintendent of Schools. Prof. O'Brien is not a stranger to the people in Red Lake county, and whatever The Gazette could say favorably of him would be only what has been known for a great many years by those who have been acquainted with him. Mr. O'Brien has been a resident of Red Lake county eleven years, the past eight of which he has had charge of the city schools of St. Hilaire, and that he has given satisfaction is evidenced by the fact that each year he has been re-engaged at an advanced salary. Mr. O'Brien is an exemplary gentleman, and asks for the office of Superintendent of Schools on his merits. He is fully competent to handle the schools in an up-to-date manner, and should be be chosen by the people, he will do the work in a manner creditible to himself and all concerned.

The office of Register of Deeds in this county is not hunting the man. This much can be stated with certainty. With six avowed candidates after the position held by Mr. Gibeau, the office is put to its best licks to keep from being trampled under foot, to say nothing of having time to seek any man, says the Thief River Press. The southern end of the county is split into three factions that are going to fight to the knife and knife to the hilt. Led by such political war horses as S. A. Swanson, Sam Gibeau and Frank Jeffers, all of whom have a considerable following of staunch supporters, the vote is bound to be split wide open. Up at this end there are three candidates for the Republican nomination, with K. J. Weeks of this city in the lead. The two other barkises are Chas. Ecklund, of Bray, who made the run for the nomination two years ago, and Helmar Albue, of the town of Numedahl. It has been stated in this vicinity that Mr. Albue was out for the auditor's office, but this he flatly denies, and it can be stated that he will go after the register's office tooth and nail. Personally we have our money up on K. J. Weeks, but the fight is an open one and as they are all entirely capable of holding the position we pass it up to the voter and say, let the best man win.

WHY IT'S IN THE NINTH.

Crookston Times Dishes Up Interesting Political Story.

Crookston Times: Anton Erickson, of Rosby, was a Crookston visitor this morning and incidentally related a bit of interesting political history to the Times. Mr. Erickson read with some interest a recent article in this paper in which it was stated there was some disposition to have Beltrami county put in the Sixth instead of the Ninth congressional district.

"I see you say," said Mr. Erickson, "that no one seems to know just why Beltrami county was put in the Ninth congressional district. Well, I think I can tell you all about it. Senator Myron, of Ada, represented us in the state legislature, when Beltrami county was put in the Ninth congressional district. That was in the palmy days of Populism in Polk county, and the county out that way and in the heat of the congressional campaigns Republicans' votes were reckoned as carefully as ten dollar bills in a clearing house. In those days it didn't make much difference to us what district we were in; that was comparatively speaking a long time ago.

"One day Senators Grindeland and and Myron came down to visit us in Bemidji and the question arose as to what congressional district Beltrami county would be put in. At that time no one seemed to have preference and the matter went by default. Senator Grindeland is now Judge Grindeland, of Warren, and judge of the Fourteenth judicial district. The Messrs. Grindeland and Myron were talking over the situation in a half joking way while here and someone asked the question as to whether Beltrami county was going to be Democratic or Republican in the campaign. He was told that the county would give a big Republican majority.

"That settled the congressional district matter right away. They needed Republican votes in the Ninth in those days and Senator Myron, when the legislature took up the matter, suggested Beltrami county as a Ninth district county, and it was put in the Ninth. I don't know just what merit there is in the proposed change to the Sixth district but I have explained to you how we happen to be in the Ninth."

Prof. Chamberlain has rented the Seiff residence on Champagne avenue, and will move his family here during the next few weeks. He is an active and progressive school worker, and will be welcomed by the people of Red Lake Falls.

William Ittner, of this place, expects to leave the latter part of this month to join the football squad of the University of Minnesota and go into training for the fall season. Mr. Ittner is one of the cleverest football players in the Valley and his work here the last couple of years elicted favorable comment from all who knew what the game really was, and last year his name was turned in to the athletic committee of the "U," who have had their eyes on him since. To become a member of the "varsity" eleven requires especial ability, but Will's friends here are confident that he will make and earn a place with the best of them. He will certainly have the best wishes of a host of admirers for success in his college life.

Mr. St. Mars is a first-class mechanic, and understands engines from a to z.

The Gazette has had to consign a couple of unsigned communications to the yawning waste basket this week, not because of their unworthiness but because there is an unwritten law that forbids the publication of unsigned communications. The Gazette is desirous of printing anything the public wants printed, but we must insist on knowing who does the writing before we can give an article space.

Engineer George A. Ralph is of the opinion that within the next few years state and national legislation will be started for the prevention of stream and lake polution. Garbage and sewerage disposal plants capable of handling all of the refuse and waste material from the cities and towns of the country will be converted into gasses by the aid of an intense heat and huge caldrons. The gasses will be led upward far above the nostrils of inhabitants by heavy stacks and what has long been a source of contamination and disease will pass to the etherial region beyond never to bother mankind again.

County Attorney Grady and Attorney McIntyre were called to Thief River Falls last Friday to take part in a case before the municipal judge there that day. It seems that Lewis Seiff, of this place, and Wm. McGinty, of Thief River, got mixed up in a row last Thursday evening, and in a short time Mr. Seiff was down and out Those who witnessed the fight say that the attack on Seiff was entirely unwarranted, and that McGinty merely attempted to take revenge on a long-standing personal grudge. McGinty was pulled up before Judge Bishop the following day and given a stiff fine, and afterwards re-arrested on several different counts, so that before he gets through with the deal he will wish that he had acted differently. Seiff returned home Monday, none the worse for his pugilistic experience.

Division Freight Agent M. J. Costello, of the Great Northern, was a caller here Monday. Mr. Costello has several acquaintances in Red Lake Falls, and always enjoys a day's visit with them when he comes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bray desire The Gazette to extend their heartfelt thanks to the people of Red Lake Falls who so kindly assisted them last Saturday and especially to those who prepared the home for the funeral party.

Messrs. Frank St. Martin and Oliver Caron, of this city, have purchased the threshing outfit belonging to Samuel Gibeau, and will operate it in this neighborhood the coming season. Both gentlemen are experienced in this line of work, and will undoubtmake a success of their venture.

The Surprise Store advertises a special discount sale on trousers in their ad in this issue, and the reader is respectfully invited to look up what they say. They have many attractive lines that they have placed in the discount sale at remarkably low prices, and the public will find bargains galore in this sale.

Mrs. R. H. Duntley packed up her stock of confectionery, fruits etc., here Tuesday and shipped them to St. Hilaire, where she and her husband have a store. The room Mrs. Duntley occupied here was rented and as other quarters were not available she decided to remove her stock. Mrs. Duntley left on the afternoon train Tuesday for St. Hilaire.

Dr. F. D. Patterson was in from Lambert Tuesday and left for Thief River Falls on the afternoon train, where he expects to locate for the practice of his profession. The Doctor has met with excellent success in his work in the eastern part of Red Lake county and will no doubt do well at Thief River Falls. He will move his effects there next week and take up his work in the new field.

County Attorney F. A. Grady, of Red Lake county, arrived in the city last evening and will spend today here on business of a legal nature. Mr. Grady, who is an entheusiastic Red Lake county man, says that county was never more prosperous or the outlook brighter for a heavy crop. Political matters are being stirred considerably of late and the outlook for a warm scrimmage at the primaries is good. Office seekers are many and have claims as to old citizenship, honesty and good fellowship which are usual among the average office seeking politician, says the Crookston Journal.

J. J. Carter, of Grand Ridge, Illinois, arrived here this morning to spend a few days lookiog after business interests. Some ten years ago Mr. Carter purchased a quarter section of land in Lake Pleasant township and this being his first visit here since he was greatly surprised at the manner in which this county has got to the front. Mr. Carter's home is in the best section of the state of Illinois, and he has seen the land there advance steadily until today some of it sells as high as $200 an acre, and when he states that he predicts for Northern Minnesota a future to equal that of his home state, he knows whereof he speaks. Mr Carter says he has never had reason to feel sorry for his investment here and is now contemplating improvements to the farm that will make it among the modern ones. The Gazette greatly enjoyed an hour's pleasant call from the gentleman.

Mrs. W. P. O'Brien and children returned Monday from a visit with relatives and friends at Cass Lake and other points over east.

Jacob Weiler came up from St. Cloud Saturday and remained the guest of the J. P. Harren family until Tuesday. His wife and children, who had been guests of the Harren's for a week or so, returned home with him.

William Kreuger, Will Holberg, Fred Kreuger and W. P. O'Brien drove to Dugdale early Sunday morning and joined the Great Northern excursion to Bemidji, where they spent the day enjoying the sights to be seen in the pine country.

The Red Lake and Polk county teachers organized a joint teachers' association the first of the week and will hold regular meetings and conduct the association for the mutual benefit of all concerned. The first meeting will be held here in November.

Sheriff Dan Linnihan took a prisoner to Thief River Falls Tuesday afternoon to plase in the jail there until his hearing is held. The fellow is one of the suspects arrested for being implicated in the Wylie robbery, and he will be kept apart from his companion until each tells his story.

Wm. Robinson, of St. Paul, was in from Scotland Monday to meet his son, who arrived here that day. Mr. Robinson is erecting a large store building at the new town and as soon as he gets it completed will put in an up-to-date stock of general merchandise. He has had a number of years experience and will undoubtedly make a success of his venture.

George McConnell came down from Thief River Falls the the early part of the week, and packed up his household goods for shipment, to Thief River Falls. Mrs. McConnell and daughter, Guynoir, accompanied him there yesterday and will make their future home in that city. The McConnell's have been residents of Red Lake Falls a great many years, and have scores of friends who will wish them success in their new home.

Crookston Journal: S. M. Sivertson of the Crookston and Red Lake Falls Milling companies, arrived in the city last evening enroute to Neillsville where he has business interests which will be looked after during the next few days. Mr. Sivertson will examine crop conditions while down the line and will also visit a number of friends whom he has not seen for some time. Regarding the general tone of crops throughout the valley Mr. Sivertson stated that conditions were very much improved to what they were several weeks ago and that he looked for a very profitable harvest in the fall.

C. P. Swanson, Bray township's active rustler, was a business caller at the county seat Tuesday. He came down to get his son, John, who had spent the past month attending summer school here.

V. M. Higinbotham returned yesterday morning from a trip of several weeks throughout Iowa and southern Minnesota, where he went to look up landseekers for the Lewis Higinbotham Land company.

Miss Clare Kunde left Monday for Bottineau, North Dakota, where she will visit friends several weeks. She had been the guest of Mrs. Wm Schwalen here for a couple of weeks prior to her departure.

Work on the new bank building for the Bank of Red Lake Falls is being hurried along by the contractors this week, and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy early in September.

Harry B. Healy went over to Fosston yesterday and played ball with the team representing that town against the fast Bemidji aggregation. Harry is a ball player anywhore he is put, and the Fosstonites strenghened their team when they secured him.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Regis Gagnon, of Terrebonne township, was killed by being thrown from a buggy in a runaway last Thursday evening. Mrs. Gagnon, accompanied by another lady, was driving home when the horse became frightened and ran away, and in jumping from the buggy Mrs. Gagnon fell on the child in such a manner that it was hurt internally and died the same evening. None of the other occupants of the buggy were injured.

A crowd of people from town drove out to the farm home of Charles Gerlach west of town last Sunday and spent the day picnicing and having a first-class time. A ball game between the Wylie club and a picked nine was one of the features of the afternoon. The following went out from town: Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Harren, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weiler, Mrs. Theo LaBissoniere, Albia and Ida Lemieux, Rose Harren, Carl Kortad, Ernest Gerlach, Sullivan Hall, Herman and Joe Harren and Omer Hall.

A Small-Sized Merry-Go-Round.

Harry Healy and Ernest Buse drove to St. Hilaire Sunday to play with the ball team of that town in a game with the Thief River club, and a number of fans from here went up to see the contest. The St. Hilaire club was composed largely of boys and back-number players, and the exhibition they put up wasn't the best article of the national game. Twenty Thief Riverites succeeded in circling the bases during the nine innings, and they probably could have doubled the dose had they been so inclined. The St. Hilaire team scored six runs. Schusser, one of Thief River's twirlers, got his bumps in the first inning, a single by Enderle, a double by Ittner, a triple by Buse and a home run run by Healy being the record made. In justice to Tony, though, it can be said that his arm was very sore, and he could not do his usual work. The game was a good one for fun, even if it didn't resemble a base ball contest.

The Judges.

The following list of Judges for the county fair were appointed Tuesday evening:

NEWS IN MINNESOTA

EVENTS OF THE WEEK THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

George H. Cross, aged sixty-nine, a Civil war veteran, is dead at Cannon Falls.

The state drainage board has awarded two contracts for ditches in Clay and Beltrami counties, the total estimated cost of which is $5,500.

Fire totally destroyed the car shops and contents of the Duluth and Iron Range Railroad company at Two Harbors, entailing a loss of about $50,000.

Many of the Minneapolis mills are closed and some of them are working at only about half capacity. This is caused by the light foreign demand for flour.

David P. Jones, president of the Minneapolis common council, has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor of that city.

T. E. Howe, a farmer living near Brooklyn Center, Hennepin county, was stabbed, probably fatally, at his home by Peter Torlien, a farmhand. The stabbing was the result of a quarrel over wages.

G. S. Gilbertson, cashier in the Minneapolis office of A. Booth & Co., who is reported to be short $11,000 in his accounts with the firm, was arrested in Chicago last week and has been returned to Minneapolis.

Adam Kive, a farmer of New York Mills, near Wadena, killed his ten-year-old son and then shot himself. The murderer died instantly, but the boy lived nearly an hour. No cause for the double tragedy is known.

A headon collision between a logging train and a freight train on the Great Northern at Eagle Bend resulted in the loss of twelve cars. Both engines were badly damaged and all traffic was delayed fourteen hours.

Two tramps entered the home of a married woman on the outskirts of Elk River, bound and gagged her, committed a criminal assault, took some rings from her fingers and some eatables from the house and escaped.

Peter E. Nelson, a farmer living three and a half miles east of Rock Creek, was killed while attempting to cross the track before a southbound limited train. The horse also was killed and the carriage entirely demolished.

The state supreme court has confirmed the action of the district court of Meeker county in suspending Attorney John T. Byrnes for two years. The findings of the lower court were declared to have been justified by the testimony.

The Democratic state nominating convention will meet at Exposition hall, Minneapolis, Aug. 30. The basis of representation will be the same as at the Duluth convention, one delegate for every 150 votes or major fraction cast for Bryan in 1900.

Judge C. B. Elliott of Minneapolis has been proffered and has refused the position of chief justice of the supreme court of the Philippine Islands. The position necessitates residence in Manila the year round and this was the principal reason for Judge Elliott's refusal.

Fire at Mora last week resulted in a loss of from $60,000 to $75,000 and the destruction of a full business street, composing twelve places of business. The fire broke out in the S. M. Halvorson bakery in the center of the block and spread to adjoining buildings on either side.

Three masked robbers entered the saloon of Martin P. Handiay at Minneapolis and at the point of a revolver compelled the three customers to remain quiet while they went through the till and took $35 in change. Following this they rifled the pockets of the three men and secured $4.

Watson W. Williams, known all over the state as "Colonel" Williams, is dead at Minneapolis, aged sixty-three years. Mr. Williams was one of the best known newspaper men of the state, having been connected with different country and city papers during his forty years' service in that field.

The state game law has been upheld by the supreme court. The cases decided are those of William Kerr and Robert Poole. Both men were convicted in November, 1903, in the district court of Jackson county of having in their possession 2,000 ducks and Judge James N. Quinn of Fairmont imposed fines of $20,000 on each.

Edward E. Barry of West Superior, Wis., a Great Northern engineer who distinguished himself during the Hinckley fire in 1894, is dead in St. Paul from heart disease. Barry received a gold medal for his bravery in saving the lives of hundreds of people by running a train into the doomed town in the face of a devouring holocaust.

By the terms of a decision received by the state auditor the secretary of the interior holds that the state of Minnesota has title to the "Virginia sliver," supposed to be one of the most valuable beds of iron on the Mesaba Iron range. The "Virginia sliver" case is the most celebrated swamp land case in the history of the state and has been in litigation since 1894.

Judge Lochren of the United States district court has delivered a decision whereby Russell Sage, as assignee in trust of the Hastings and Dakota Railway company, is required to restore to the government certain tracts. This decision is in favor of the settlers who claim homestead titles to portions of the land which the railroad company assumed to hold under its general grant.

The Como park murder mystery at St. Paul has been solved. James Bowe, who was thought to have been stabbed to death by James Phillips, is under arrest at Minneapolis as a vagrant and has confessed that in a drunken quarrel he stabbed Phillips to death. The confusion in identification came about through the transfer of employment agency cards the men carried. Both were farm laborers.

The sales of binder twine at the state prison up to date amount to 10,200,220 pounds, or more than 3,000,000 pounds above the output of last year, an increase of about 43 per cent. The spindles are being worked overtime in order to help out the farmers of the state as much as possible. The value of the product this year is about $900,000, as compared with $702,000 last year, when prices were higher.

FORMALLY OPENS CAMPAIGN.

President's Speech in Reply to Notification of Nomination.

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 28.—Theodore Roosevelt formally opened the political campaign of 1904 Wednesday at his beautiful country home, Sagamore Hill. Standing on a spot made dear to him by the associations of a lifetime, surrounded by his family and relatives and friends, and in the presence of an assemblage of men distinguished in all walks of life, he formally received and accepted the nomination of the Republican party for president of the United States.

President Roosevelt's speech of acceptance was characteristically forceful and direct in argument and replete with epigrammatic passages. It was received with immense enthusiasm by his auditors. Prosperity may be said to have been the keynote of the address, while the achievements of the Republican party in statesmanship at home and abroad were depicted with the touch of a skilled hand. His satirical references to the Democratic party aroused laughter and applause.

As the president concluded his speech Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, chairman of the notification committee, grasped his hand and congratulated him cordially. The speech of the president will be circulated extensively in the campaign, as, aside from the letter of acceptance which he will issue in a few weeks, it will be his only public utterance during the campaign.

RELEASED ON BAIL.

Parties Indicted in Connection With Slocum Disaster.

New York, Aug. 1.—All the officers and employes of the Knickerbocker Steamboat company, as well as the United States inspector indicted by the federal grand jury in connection with the Slocum disaster of June 15 last, were admitted to bail in the United States circuit court.

Except in the case of President Barnaby, who was required to give bonds in $20,000, bail was fixed at $5,000. Each of the defendants entered a plea of not guilty and obtained leave to withdraw the plea and enter a demurrer on Aug. 17. The indictments charge neglect of duty and manslaughter.

BUSINESS DEMORALIZED.

Ten Thousand Teamsters on Strike at Vienna.

Vienna, Aug. 1.—Ten thousand teamsters began a strike during the day, causing general demoralization in many branches of industry. The public is suffering great inconvenience, as the drivers of water carts and garbage wagons are among the strikers. The chief demands are an increase in wages and eleven hours work per day. In the forenoon the strikers gathered in many parts of the city and attempted to prevent wagons being taken out by non-strikers. Disturbances ensued and many arrests were made.

COCAINE VICTIM SHOOTS.

Kills One Man and Wounds the Chief of Police.

Kansas City, Aug. 2.—A special to the Times from Nebraska City, Neb., says:

While under the influence of cocaine last night, Jack Carr, a carpenter, shot and killed Chris Hartman, aged fifty-five years, shot Chief of Police Schoonover in the hand and was himself shot and mortally wounded by officers before he was captured.

Wakeful?

Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness.

First, hardly to sleep a wink all night, second, to lie awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours and then find it hard to sleep again.

They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibres, somewhere in the brain cells, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted, or the end may be worse than death.

To right it, take Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Some other symptoms of nerve trouble are: Dizziness, Headache, Backache, Worry, Fretfulness, Irritability, Melancholy, Lack of Ambition.

They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity.

Nothing will give such quick and lasting relief as Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"My husband had been sick for weeks, could not sit up to have his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow worse. He could neither sleep or eat. Our baby girl was sent away, and all callers barred, because he could not stand a bit of talking. I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Nervine saved his life."—MRS. A. G. HASKIN, Freeville, N. Y.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound air-tight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If yours does not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rochelle, Ga., Jan. 30, 1902.
Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is the best I ever tried. Our stock was looking bad when you sent me the medicine and now they are getting so fine. They are looking 20 per cent. better.

EMARDVILLE

Your correspondent returned home from a trip last week.

Adolf Carpenter had the misfortune to loose three head of horses this week.

The crops are in as fine condition as could be wished for and the occasional rains do lots of good.

Pede Bedeson, of Erskine, was looking over his 10-acre farm here last week and making arrangements to cut hay.

The grading for the Soo line through Emardville is nearly done and it wont be long now until we will have the varnished cars scooting by our doors.

Andrew Ellingson sells steamship tickets on the best lines, and at the cheapest rates. See him if you contemplate a trip.

Andrew Ellingson is still selling monuments for the Georgia Marble company, and asks you to let him know when you want anything in this line.

You need clean healthy bowels just as much as pure, wholesome food; without either, you cannot keep well. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea eliminates all impurities. Tea or tablets. 35 cents. W. A. Schreiter.

Messrs. Harold Bugge and Odin Jacobson returned home from Canada a few weeks ago. They will move their families to that country this fall and make their home there for good. They claim that Canada is a good place for a poor man to live.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

GARNES

Adnrew Ellingson returned home from a trip last week.

Julie Jacobson, of Red Lake Falls, is visiting at Ed. Jacobson's place.

Evind Jacobson made a business trip to Red Lake Falls last Thursday.

Peter and Ole Traaby, of Red Lake Falls, visited friends out this way last Sunday.

Anton Ellingson, one of Erskine's up-to-date business men, was out this way last Friday.

We will have a good hay crop in these parts this year and will not let any of it go to waste.

Mrs. Anton Ellingson and daughter of Erskine, are guests at the home of Ed Jacobson for a few weeks,

The little child of Bene Thoreson, who has been sick for some time past, is reported as greatly improved.

Edviard Jacobson, Mrs. Ed. Jacobson and Mrs. Anton Ellingson visited at Odin Jacobson's place in Emardville, last Sunday.

Alice Tranby, of the town of Knute, 6 miles south of Erskine, is here spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Ed. Jacobson.

Mrs. G. H. Jennings, Boston—"Our babies (twins) were sickly. Had several doctors, but no results. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea made them strong and robust." 35 cents. Tea or tablet form. W. A. Schreiter.

The crops are in first-class condition, and prospects are bright for the Garnes farmers this year. If we get no hail or other damage it is confidently expected that wheat will yield as high as 25 bushels and oats from 45 to 60 bushels to the acre.

Escaped an Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Haggins of Melbourne, Fla., writes, "My doctor told me I had Consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and I owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by W. A. Dchreiter, Druggist. Price 50c & $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Cirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines. Elknder, Iowa, Argue.

Counterpanes Displace Blankets.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company owns and operates the sleeping cars in service on its various lines, and has just inaugurated an innovation which will appeal to all sleeping car travellers.

On its "Southwest Limited" trains between Chicago and Kansas City white counterpanes or bed-spreads have replaced the heavy woolen blankets which have heretofore been in evidence twelve months in each year, much to the discomfort in hot weather of sleeping car patrons.

Blankets will be held in reserve and within reach for cool nights.

This innovation is calculated to not only add to the comfort of passengers, but it will appeal to all who like a bed that is inviting in appearance.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character, She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work, About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright, of New London, New York. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

NUT VALUES.

Chestnuts are starchy and take the place of potatoes.

Brazil or cream nuts are very rich in fat and should be blended with pecans, English walnuts or hazelnuts.

Black and white walnuts as well as hickory nuts contain nitrogen and oil, but no starch. Blend with rice or potatoes.

Cocoanuts contain very little nitrogen, but are rich in oil. The fiber is difficult of digestion. The cream and milk are excellent for salads and sauces.

Peanuts are very rich in nitrogen and contain considerable starch and oil. When boiled and mashed they are much better than when roasted and ground.

Almonds are really digesters or appetizers. They are too expensive to be used alone in large quantities. Four or five thoroughly masticated at the end of a meal will frequently aid in the digestion of other foods.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Man and the Match.

"Show me two men with unlighted cigarettes, and if I watched them for a minute I can tell you correctly whether the one who has the match is from Philadelphia, Boston or New York."

The speaker was a person of some observation, and his friend naturally asked:

"How can you tell?"

"In this way," said the observant man. "If the man is a Philadelphian he will strike the match, hold it for his friend to get a light, then take a light himself and throw the match away. If he is a Bostonian he will light his own cigarette first, then hold the match for his friend and after that throw it away. If he is a New Yorker, however, he will strike the match, light his own cigarette and throw the match away."—Philadelphia Press.

Spencer and Music.

Mr. Herbert Spencer cultivated what he called the "receptive sense" in respect to music and was wont to speak with more than a little bitterness of the general desire to be a performer. One performer who had been chosen to play Beethoven for him was thunderstruck on arrival at Mr. Spencer's residence at being asked to render an extract from one of Sullivan's operas. Light music had a charm for the philosopher which light literature never had.

WAS HELDING OLSON.

Doubt as to Identity of Murdered Man Cleared Away.

Thief River News: That the body of the dead man found near the Langseth farm two miles from this city a week ago yesterday was that of Helding Olson there can no longer be any doubt. Olson had been working for Guthrie & Co., the Great Northern contractors, and came to town on June 25th with Seigert Bakken, son of Mikkel Bakken, the well known Rocksbury farmer. He had checks amounting to between $29 and $30 cashed at Langseth's store, and made a few purchases about town. He was a young man of good habits ond it is believed that when he started back for the railroad camps he had most of the money he had earned upon his person and as only five cents in money and no watch was found with the body the theory that he was murdered is undoubtedly correct. Olson visited young Bakken at the Bakken farm on June 26th and this is the last that was seen of him so far as is known, it being his intention to go to Guthrie & Co's. camp and again go to work where he had left a grip containing some personal effects and letters.

He had spent the last winter working for a lumber company near Cloquet and did not receive pay for his labor, having left the claim with Attorney Mabey for collection while in the city, but as the lumber company for which he had worked was not a responsible firm the money could not be collected.

Coroner Grundy has taken a great deal of interest in the matter and is endeavoring to find out how Olson met his death. From letters found in the dead man's grip it is found that he has a brother at Superior, Wis., and another at Atkinson, Minn., and Grundy has written to both of these gentlemen.

An effort is also being made to locate Hiram Parker, who was one of the friends of the dead man and who quit work on the railroad on June 27. Deputy Sheriff Jarman and Dr. Grundy were up to the railroad camps Tuesday, and the men up there believe that Parker intended to go to Atkinson.

As soon as more evidence is secured an inquest will be held.

ATTRACTIONS ARE SECURED.

Many Good Ones at Thief River Fair Next Week.

Thief River Review: While in St. Paul this week Dan Shaw, secretary of the Fair association, arranged for a number of attractions for the fair. Among these are three of the most thrilling events ever brought before the American public. Capt. Chas. Ledeger, "the Flying Dutchman," who performs all sorts of comic and skillful antics on the bounding rope. The Captain would not have made this engagement only for the fact that he is enroute to Regina, British Columbia. Another attraction is Guy Forley, the trick bicycle rider who rides both on high wire and on a platform. Mr. Forley rides in many difficult positions, the most so of which is his riding on the wire with his head on the seat, his feet straight up in the air and pedaling with his hands. The Cash Baloon company will have a balloon ascension each day by the same man who was here last year.

A number of tent shows have been granted permission to show on the grounds and in the city, and will do all in their power to entertain the people.

Senator Clapp, Congressman Steenerson, Senator Johnson, the probable candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, have been invited and will likely all attend, as will also all the candidates for county offices.

GREELEY IN THE ROCKIES.

The Way He Sobered Up a Boisterous Hotel Crowd.

In the "Memoirs of Henry Villard" there is a chapter in which the author describes a meeting with Greeley in the Rockies. The "Tribune philosopher," having met with an accident which crippled him for several weeks, was an unwilling guest at the Denver House, the only "hotel" in the city, a rude shack of a building, with canvas partitions, the greater part given up to the bar and gaming tables, and therefore not a place conducive to the quiet and repose of invalids. Mr. Villard noticed a change gradually taking place in the usually benign features of the philosopher, his Christian virtues gradually losing control over him, until finally one day he lost his temper completely and swore at his disturbers "so violently that I dared not believe my ears." His wrath, however, did not culminate until the third night of his tortures. About 10 o'clock he got up and limped into the barroom, where he thus addressed the astonished tipplers:

"Friends, I have been in pain and without sleep for almost a week, and I am well nigh worn out. Now I am a guest at this hotel, I pay a high price for my board and lodging and am entitled to rest during the night. But how can I get it with all this noise going on in this place?"

"Then," adds Mr. Villard, "he addressed one of the most pathetic appeals I ever heard to those around him to abandon their vicious ways and become sober and industrious. He spoke for nearly an hour and was listened to with rapt interest and the most perfect respect. He succeeded, too, in his object. The gambling stopped, and the bar was closed every night at 11 o'clock as long as he remained."

THE CASPIAN SEA.

One of the Remarkable Physical Features of the Globe.

One of the most remarkable physical features of the globe is the deep and wide depression in the hollow of which stands the Caspian sea and near to it the sea of Aral. The Caspian is nearly as large as France, and its surface is eighty-four feet below the level of the Black sea. The sea of Aral is nearly as large as Ireland and is very little over the sea level. Within recent geological times the vast expanse in which these lakes are found was sea. Its floor has been gradually raised, and the waters filling the depressions are all that is left of an ancient Mediterranean. A strange feature of both bodies of water is that although they receive large rivers, especially the Caspian, into which the Volga, the Ural river and scores of streams from the Caucasus flow, both have for many years been getting shallower. Evaporation, for they have no outlet, exceeds the inflow. But, for some climatic reason probably, the sea of Aral and its neighbor, Lake Balkhash, have since 1891 been increasing in depth. Whereas the Caspian, like the Dead sea, is very salt, owing to the rate of evaporation, Aral and Balkhash are brackish only. These remnants of what was once a great sea opening into the ocean, as the Mediterranean does now, still contain marine fish and seals. Some of the latter survive in the Aral and Baikal lakes, having gradually become fitted for their habitat, though it is no longer salt, but merely brackish, and, in the case of Baikal, actually fresh water.—London Telegraph.

A Back Action Joke.

The traveling men of Maine are noted for the jokes that they are always springing on the public, but recently one of them got into trouble in an unexpected way. His parents celebrated their golden wedding, and the drummer had long planned to spend the day with them. But when the day arrived he found that he was too far from his old home to get back to it, so he sent a telegram to his father. He thought that it was a good time to get off a joke on the old man, so he merely sent the message, "Is marriage a failure?" He was somewhat taken aback when he got the reply, "Marriage is not, but the results sometimes are."

Where She Had Felt.

"See here!" exclaimed Mr. Clubb upon discovering next morning that all his "change" was gone. "During your talk to me when I came in late last night I believe you remarked among other things that 'woman feels where man thinks.'"

"I did," replied his wife. "You have no feeling, and"—

"Well, I merely want to say you're mistaken if you suppose I do my thinking in my pockets."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Prodigal Father's Intention.

The prodigal son had just come home.

"I really meant this reception to impress your mother," confided the old gentleman. "My welcome when I came home from the club last night was very different."

Satisfied with having set a fine example for the future, he turned his attention to the veal.—New York Tribune.

In Comparison.

"I don't believe there is anything in the world hotter than a cup of chocolate!"

"Oh, yes there is," replied the wise guy. "The man who burns his tongue trying to drink it in a hurry."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

IT IS THE FACE

It was in Rome and at the season of the year when the old world city is full of strangers from every part of the globe.

The rush of visitors made little difference to Paul Rizeni, the wood carver, except that it brought him now and again a private order.

One day a stranger passed the little workshop and was attracted by a large, unfinished panel that leaned against the side of the window, and, glancing at the workmanship, he noticed the worker within.

Paul lifted his head and met the gazer's eyes, and the stranger smiled and hurried on. But after that he passed the corner constantly, and Paul got to look for his honest, cheery face and kind blue eyes. He was an old man and English, every bit of him.

At last one day he knocked at the low door, and Paul admitted him.

"Could you execute a little order for me?" he asked. "I want to surprise my little granddaughter with one of your beautiful crucifixes."

"Certainly," Paul answered. "It will give me great pleasure, but I am very busy, and you must allow me some time."

"I want it for an Easter gift."

Paul calculated. "Yes, I think I can let you have it."

"I am hindering you, I fear," the old man said, "but I have peeped at your work so often through the window, and that was so unsatisfactory. You are a great artist!"

"Do you find me so?" he said in his foreign way. "That panel will sell for 4 francs, and I shall get 1. Great artists are paid better than that, signor."

"Why don't you demand a just value?"

"Oh, why should I care? If they gave me 1,000 francs it would be the same—I should only work on and on. Aye, signor, I love my art! Do you know, the petal of that rose took me one whole week to bring to perfection?"

"I can imagine it. It is superb! But I like your faces best. Those angels on that shield"—

"Ah, but they do not satisfy me. My angel's face I have not attempted yet, but I have seen it. I go to benediction at St. Mark's every night to watch it and carve it on my soul, and one day I shall produce it."

The old man took his departure, but he came again and again, making each time some excuse to speak about the crucifix, and gradually he won Paul's confidence, and the carver told him his story.

He belonged by birth to the old Italian aristocracy, but his boyhood had been passed in troublous times, and his family had had to fly from the country. Gradually he had worked his way back to his native Italy, the seat of all art and beauty, and there he had settled down to his life's dreams.

That night in St. Mark's at benediction, when he knelt gazing at his angel's face, a sudden warm glow stole through his frame. His angel had turned her face and met his eyes, and she had flushed with emotion, and he realized it was the loveliness of a living woman; no ethereal spirit, as he had almost grown to believe.

His old friend wondered at his change, and at last Paul told him.

"I am in love," he cried restlessly, "and I must—I will possess her."

"But, my friend, I thought"—

"Yes, that is true. I only see her in church. We have never spoken."

"Most wonderful!" the old man muttered to himself as he walked home. "But I wish it hadn't happened. I—I have been so slow. I ought to have brought him to see Eilean before. Now it is too late. Ah, and they were so suited—both so pure, so beautiful, so idealic!"

"Grandpa," Eilean said to him one evening—it was Easter eve—sitting at his feet in her white gown and resting her beautiful arm across his knees, "grandpa, I want to confess to you. I am in love."

"Eh? Eh? What's this?"

"Nothing, dear, for it is nothing! It is only a face—a face that haunts me night and day—that—that—oh, you cannot understand, but my soul goes out to that face!"

"A gentleman to see you, sir. I have asked him into the salon. A foreigner, I think, sir—Signor Ritz—Ritz"—

"I know. That will do. Excuse me a minute, my dear."

Paul was standing at his full height gazing into the fire, and the red glow lit up his distinguished features, and the old man, looking upon him, realized what a splendid man he was, and he wished Eilean could have seen him thus.

"How kind of you to bring the crucifix yourself, my dear friend. I see you have it."

With a cry of wonder, delight and amazement he seized it in his hands and touched the angel's face that stood out at the top of the cross.

"It is Eilean!" Then, recovering himself, he grasped the artist's hand. "I cannot thank you—it is all so marvelous—but come with me. Let her thank you—your angel, you know."

Paul followed the old man to Eilean's room in a dream and stood at the threshold gazing at the girl, who came toward them as if, after all, she could not be flesh and blood.

"Eilean, my child! What is it?"

She was tottering toward her grandfather. "That—that!" she cried. "It is the face—the face I have loved so long!"—London News.

Then She Smiled.

"I'll bet my boots it isn't so."

It was not an elegant expression for a young lady, but it was very emphatic.

"But that would be such a very small wager," he urged.

Then she smiled sweetly upon him.—Detroit Free Press.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Wife of Gervais Farmer Has Narrow Escape.

Mrs. Knute Flage, the wife of a Gervais farmer, was struck by lightning during a storm last week, and while she escaped death nevertheless she had a close call and certainly a miraculous escape.

It seems that she and her husband had heen haying, aud were driving home on a load when the bolt struck Mrs. Flage, and for several hours after no sign of life existed and it was thought she was dead.

She was resusticated, however, and medical aid summoned, and at present she is on the road to recovery. Ahout the face, arms and breast she was badly bnrued by the lightning, and the wonder is that she wasn't killed ontright.

The wagon or horses were not injured by the bolt, which is another of the remarkable freaks of nature, as Mrs. Flage was on the load of hay when struck by the lightning.

FAVOR A LOCK AND DAM.

Government Engineers Report on Improvements at Red Lake.

Thief River Press: The commission of four government engineers appointed to investigate the advisability of establishing a lock and dam at the outlet of Red Lake, have reported favorably ou the proposed improvement. They likewise gave au adverse report on the improvements asked for at Lake Traverse and Otter Tail lake.

The lock and dam at Red Lake will cost, according to government estimate, $470,000. It would result in maintaining the waters of the Red Lake river at approximately the same height the year around hy controlling the flow at the lake, and wonld thus aid navigation, the floating of the drives, and wonld prevent serious overflow at times of high water.

This favorable spot will meet the consideration of congress at the next session, and while the necessary appropriation may not he forthcoming yet it is quite likely that the project may receive favorable consideratiou, and the work undertaken at no distant day.

Popular Cartoons.

The art of newspaper illustration in its present form is a development of recent years. Newspaper cartoons have became a most popular feature of up-to-date metropolitan daily papers. The unique and catchy drawing now appearing daily on the front page of the Chicago Record-Herald is one of the many special features of the great paper. The Record-Herald has been fortunate in securing one of the best young artists in the country to carry out its popular policy of presenting each day a humorous and good-natured cartoon. Mr. Ralph Wilder is one of the coming men in newspaper work. His success has been as pronounced as it has been rapid. He shows all of the good-natured humor and the brighter side of every day common life which has carried the work to a very popular success. His drawings are on all of the various subjects of popular interest, political and otherwise. Current events are vividly portrayed in a way that pleases, yet often giving just criticism in a way that does not offend. Through his excellent work on eastern magazines Mr. Wilder first attracted universal attention. The Record-Herald recognized in him at once a cartoonist of unusual promise, and congratulates its readers on having been fortunate enough to secure him.

REGISTRATION HAS COMMENCED

Grand Forks Crowded With Anxious Homeseekers.

On Saturday of last week John Davis, a chief clerk from the government offices at Washington, arrived in Grand Forks aud took charge of the Central school building for the purpose of making the registrations for the opening of the Fort Totten reservation lands.

He will he assisted by a goodly number of clerks, and ou Monday morning the first registration was taken.

Already hundreds of people are in that city for the registration, and hy the end of the week they will be coming in hordes.

The registration will last until the 20th of this month aud it is estimated that the registrations in Grand Forks will be about 50,000 or more, while at Devils Lake, where John McKinnie will have charge, and where the registration will also take place in the school, it is estimated that the registration will be about ten to twenty thousand.

All this registration will take a great amount of work, and many clerks will be very busy on the work.

The rules for filing are:

The registration fee is 25 cents.

Any person eligible to enter for a homestead can register.

If, after registering you are fortunate enough to draw a winning ticket at the drawing, you are notified to appear and file. You must respond within twelve days, file on the land you have inspected, pay a filing fee of $11 and $1.50 per acre down.

Then you must fulfill the homestead requirements iu regard to residing on the land.

Each year until the purchase price of the land is paid, you must pay 50 cents an acre on the purchase price which is originally $4.50.

At the end of fourteen months you can commute by paying all money due, besides $200 for commutation, provided you have fulfilled the homestead requirements and the land is yours.

County Committee Meets.

The Republican county central committee held a meeting here Tuesday, all the membeas being present except Messrs. Fuller and Herbert. The general situation was gone over and it was decided to call the attention of the Republicans throughout the county that the last day for filing intention to hecome candidates for office is August 31. The committee is anxious that a good strong ticket be in the field, and to this end urges the prospective candidates to get into the game early. The prospects are hright for Republican success this fall and the committee felt satisfied with the reports received from different parts of the county as to the situation. Dr. Watson, of this city is chairman, and it is a known fact that the years in which he managed the campaign Republican gains have been exceedingly noticable. The Republicans plan an aggressive campaign this fall and their campaign work is in competent hands.

EXPECTED SEPTEMBER 10.

People at Thief River Falls Look For Soo On That Date.

The Soo railroad has their line laid as far as Wild Rice, some 60 miles south of Thief River, and is expected to enter Erskine during the coming ten days. The track crew left Wild Rice Tuesday, after a delay of ten days, laying the rails at the rate of 2 1-4 miles per day. From Erskine to Thief River their way is clear and the prospects for a rapid bit of track laying is good. It is estimated that if everything goes along even ordinarily well that the first train should reach that place about Septemher 10th.

The past two weeks of favorable weather conditions has aided the construction crews wonderfully and in many places along the line the road bed is entirely completed, which is well, as harvest coming on has raised wages to such an extent as to preclude the idea of getting men short of two or three dollars per day.

The construction work is also being pushed from Emerson southward and there is no reason to believe that trains will not be operating over the entire route before winter sets in for keeps.

RE-SURVEYING THE DITCH

Celebrated Ditch No. 21 Still a Live Issue.

Crookston Times: Engineer Geo. A. Ralph left this morning for St. Hilaire, where he will resurvey the Rocksbury ditch over which there has been so much scrapping, legal and physical, for the past year or more.

This is the ditch which a crew was sent to resurvey last week, and an irate farmer who is opposed to the ditch threatened to annihilate the whole outfit if they did not get off his land and stay off. The men thought discretion the better part of valor and made their get-away.

Surveyor Ralph, however, left this morning with the firm determinrtion of completing the re-survey of the ditch, and replace the stakes that have been pulled up by the farmers who have opposed its construction from the start. He does not believe he will encounter any serious trouble after he has explained that the survey must be made, and that the sheriff's aid will be enlisted if necessary to complete the work.

The First Threshing.

Ed. L. Healy tells The Gazette that the first threshing of the season was done Tuesday of this week on the Cyr farm west of town, when the barley was threshed from the shock. The grain was turning out well, although Mr. Healy left hefore the exact yield was known. This is early for threshing in this section and proves that the grain is not so far hehind as has heen reported. It is expected that within the next ten days threshing will be general all over the county.

LIKED THE VALLEY.

G. F. Laswell, of Glasford, Illinois Writes of His Visit.

The following self explanatory letter is taken from the Glasford, Illinois, Gazette, and will prove a good ad for this neighborhood:

Mr. Geo. F. Laswell, the photographer whose ad has so long appeared in this paper is in Glasfurd for three days of this week. Mr. Laswell has just returned from a five weeks trip in the north western part of Minnesota. He comes freighted with much valuable information concerning this northern country. He says,

"In a country where land is high, made so by over-population, competition is fierce in every line, wages are low and expenses are high. Every condition is hard to meet. In a new country these conditions are all reversed. A young man filled with energy and ambition to have a home will find openings in every line. The harvest fields of the north are not as far advanced as here, but soon they will be ready for the reapers and the demand for harvest hands will be greater than the supply. Then comes threshing time. The very, lowest wages is $2 per day and from that on up. One man from Washburn, Ill., who knew how to run an engine went to the superintendent at Red Lake Falls, Minn., and just on the recommendation of a friend, without taking an examination, secured a first grade certificate. This will enable him to get $6 per day. They all extend you a helping hand. Their cry is for men. The saw mills are running night and day. A constant stream of logs are floating down the great rivers of the north. Armies of men are invading and depopulating the forests. Rail roads are extending their lines and branches in every direction. They are offering reduced rates to travelers. The government of the U. S, and Canada are opening up reservations to actual settlers and it is possible for men with small or moderate means to obtain fertile productive lands. The west and the great north west wait with open arms to receive you. Every inducement to get you to go is offered. Wages are high and land is cheap. It may be had by paying a part down and the banks will advance you ½ the value of the land to make your payment. Owing to rapid imigration it is increasing in value. It is only a question of a few years more until all the good land will be out of reach of the poor. Now is the time to go. All kinds of building is going on creating a demand for carpenters, blacksmiths and labor of all kind. Lumber and wood are plentiful for building and for fuel. The country is full of resources. The seasons are short but the days are 2 hours longer than here, giving sufficient light and heat to mature the crops. The wood substance in the stock of the grain enables it to stand against the hardest winds while here it is blown to the ground and rots. From two to three crops will pay for the land outright. Instances can be given where a single crop has paid for the land, White Russian oats, near Red Lake Falls, Terrebonne or Perrault station, Minn., will average 60 bu. to the acre. The average price 35c per bu. The land is from $22 to $28 per acre. Wages for farm hands here are about $26 per month and board. There is but little to do between seedtime and harvest. Wages go on just the same. Average yield of flax is 13 bu. to the acre and the average price is $1.25 per bu. In 1895 the elevator at Perrault station bought one hundred and twenty thousand bu. of grain. Wheat averaged thirty bu. to the acre. A man by the name of Circla Blandin near Terrebonne made $20 per acre clear. For the year 1904 wheat averaged 87c per bu.

I saw the sun set on June 18th at 8:23. It sets now just a little before 9 o'clock, I measured the depth of the soil and found sixteen inches of black loam. We bored down four feet and did not get through the clay subsoil. Some places, the black soil will reach a depth of nearly two feet, I brought home samples of the soil and all the grains raised in this latitude besides photos of many well inproved farms, beautiful lakes, rivers, saw mills, grist mills, elevators, etc. Here the climate is mild and delightful in summer but cold in winter. On June 22 the temperature was 63 in the shade. Before I left it went as high as 96 but generally stood at 70 or 80. In winter it is a clear dry cold and is not noticed much more than here. You just burn a little more wood. Fish abounds in the Red Lake rivers. Deer and moose near Red Lake upon the Indian reservation about 60 miles north of Red Lake Falls and Thief River Falls. There will be a new railroad built through this section of the country this summer. The Northern Pacific is also extending its line on up into Canada. I have stated nothing but facts and don't wish to mislead any one. I want to the north to seek a home for my family and found opportunities awaiting me that I never dreamed of. I have written this that men who feel the yoke of bondage or the hand of oppression as I have felt it for 21 years who have given the fruits of their toil to others who want to be free men may strike for Liberty. I shall take advantage of the cheap rates and go up there again this fall.

Dairy Notes.

(From the Ada Index.)

Corn will produce more cow food per acre than any other plant. Corn therefore, should constitute a large portion of the crops raised in the Middle West.

A patient, sympathetic milker will make gentle cows and get good returns. A harsh, rough milker very soon discovers that the dairy business does not pay.

Whatever other industries a town may have, there is always room for a good creamery, and farmers who patronize it the year around are the most prosperous in the neighborhood.

Buttermaking is the same thing every day in the week and may be made a drudgery if the buttermaker so desires, and it may be made pleasant if he will but take an interest in his work and let higher aims than mere scrubbing and washing guide his actions.

If the farmers of the county know when they are well off they will stand by the home creamery through thick and thin, whether it is a co-operative institution or otherwise. The nearer the market the more voice they will have in fixing the price of their product.

It is admitted by nearly all buttermen that if the butter made from a farm separator was sold on its own merits it would sell for at least one cent less than that seperated at the creamery and therefore it is not just that those bringing whole milk should help pay this and not get any returns for it.

In spite of the large number of cold storage plants which have been established over the country, the farmer's creameries are still flourishing, and new ones are being erected all the time. None of the cold storage plants are able to successfully compete with the good farmer's creamery in the matter of prices for raw material.

With the approach of warm weather the importance of a proper place to keep milk is imperative. It must be free from objectionable odors. There is no article of food that should be handled with more care. There are but few that would be willing to keep their bread and other food in such places as they provide for their milk, yet we know of no article of food that is so easily contaminated.

A Scientific Diagnosis.

"What is your diagnosis?" asks the older physician of his young confrere, who is earnest, but inexperienced, and who has been called in consultation.

"Well," says the younger medico, "there doesn't seem to be much the matter. The patient has a slight fever and some little tightness of the chest. I should say there was nothing more than a cold bothering him."

"My boy," said the older man kindly, "you have gone about it wrong. Note these symptoms: A white marble stairway in the entrance hall, gold furniture in the parlor, cut glass and silver galore in the dining room, two automobiles in the side yard, a solid mahogany"—

"But what has that to do with the sickness of Mr. Gumpnrse?"

"It has lots to do with it. The man has congestion of the bank account, and the proper move for us to make is to relieve that as much as possible."—Judge.

Causes of Nightmare.

The most potent cause of bad dreams is worry, one of the most fatal disorders which attack mankind. For one who is injured or killed by hard work a hundred are struck down by worry. Girls who are preparing for examinations often worry themselves into a fever which prevents sleep or else causes it to be broken by horrid visions of unsolvable problems or impending failure. Remember also that we go to bed to sleep and not to review the events of the day.

Don't think in bed. This may seem to be impossible advice in many cases, but it is certain that we can dismiss thought if we make a sufficient effort to do so. Reading in bed is a very bad habit, which ought never to be contracted, or if it has been contracted it ought to be given up resolutely. It is a habit sanctioned to some extent by the example of many eminent people, but it is radically wrong for all that.

JAPANESE LOSS HEAVY

SAID TO HAVE SUSTAINED TEN THOUSAND CASUALTIES IN PORT ARTHUR FIGHT.

RUSSIAN COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF ESTIMATES HIS LOSSES AT FIFTEEN HUNDRED.

JAPS PREPARING FOR SIMULTANEOUS ATTACK ON MUKDEN AND LIAOYANG.

St. Petershurg, Aug. 8.—Lieutenant General Stoessel, commanding the Russian military forces at Port Arthur, in an undated dispatch to the emperor, says:

"I am happy to report that the troops repulsed all the Japanese attacks of July 26, 27 and 28, with enormouse losses.

"The garrison's enthusiasm was extraordinary.

"The fleet assisted in the defense by hombarding the Japanese fisnk

"Our iosses during the three days were ahout 1,500 men, and 40 officers killed or wonnded.

"According to statements of Chinese and prisoners, the Japanese lost as many as 10,000.

"Their losses were so great that the enemy has not had time to remove the desd and wounded."

A telegram from Chefoo, dated Aug. 7, says that according to Chinese information a fierce hattle was fought on the lond side of Port Arthur Aug. 5. The Jnpanese sre reported to have heen repuised with great loss, the killed alone being estimated at 10,000, while the Russians lost about 1,000.

The telegram says that General Stoessel was personally in command and that the conduct of the Russisn troops was splendid.

EVACUATE HAICHENG

RUSSIANS RETIRE FROM POSITION ON ADVANCE OF VICTORIOUS JAPANESE.

St. Petershurg, Aug. 3.—In a dispatch to the emperor, dated Aug. 2, General Kuropatkin says:

"Our troops have retired from Haicheng along the road toward Anshanshao. The movement was accomplished in perfect order and the encmy did not disturb us.

"The terrible heat hss caused many sunstrokes and measures have heen taken to diminish the equipment the troops have hitherto been obliged to carry hy transporting it in supply carts.

"There is no serious news from the eastern front."

ADVANCE ON MUKDEN

JAPS BEGIN A MOVEMENT THAT WILL BRING ON GREATEST BATTLE OF THE WAR.

Lisoyang, Aug. 8.—The Japanese are advancing on Mukden and it is prohsble that a simultaneous attack will be made on Mukden and Liaoyang, in which case a decisive battle is assured.

It is reported that the Jnpanese are advancing on the west and exciting rumors are current.

Though apparently heaten at every poiut and though the Japsnese have advanced well on the Russian flank, the Russisns in council of war have determined to defend all their positions as beretofore.

RUSSIAN LOSS HEAVY

Toklo, Aug. 3.—The Japanese defeated the Russiana at Tomucheng (Dimouchang) and drove them toward Haicheng in a sharp fight which began last Saturday and ended on Sunday. The Russians left 1,500 dead on the field and lost six guns.

General Kuroki has telegraphed that in the two days' fighting at Yangtsuling and Yushulintzu his losses were 6 officers killed, 16 officers wounded and 950 men killed and wounded.

BURIED THE RUSSIAN DEAD.

Japs Found Over Five Hundred on the Fields of Battle.

Tokio, Aug 8.—General Kuroki reports that he buried the bodies of 512 Russians on the battiefields of Yushulikzu aud Yangtsuing. In these actions he reports the capture of 268 Russians, eight of whom were officers. One hundred and fifteeo of the prisoners were wounded.

JAPS CAPTURE TABLE HILL.

Make a Successful Assault by Land and Sea.

Tokio, Aug. 9.—There was an assault on Port Arthur by land and sea Monday morning, resulting in the success of Japanese arms. The Japanese captured a range of plateaus northwest of the fortress, the higheat point of which is known as Tahle hill.

EIGHT WADE OUT TO DEATH.

Party of Bathers at Alton, Ill., Perish Hand-in-Hand.

Alton, Ill., Aug. 6.—While hathing in the Mississippi river Michael Riley, his daughter and six of the latter's little girl friends were drowned. One child who was in the party was rescued.

Riley lived near the river in the southern part of the city and was accustomed to hathe on the heach in front of his home after his return from work. His little daughter hsgged to go with him and Riley took her and seven of her little girl friends to the heach with him.

When they entered the water Riley hade the children join hands and they all waded into the river and walked along a sandhar which stretches out into the stream at that point.

They had gone some distance from shore when suddenly the whole party disappeared heneath the water, having in the darkness stepped from the sandhar into the deep channel.

The children struggled and screamed, fighting desperately to reach the sandhar, where the water was only a foot or so in depth. Riley, who is said to have heen a good swimmer, is thought to have heen made helpless hy the girls clinging to him and hampering his efforts to save them.

The only one in the party to regain the sandhar was Mary Timiny, eight years old.

SCARE FOR THE PORTE

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS ORDER THE EUROPEAN SQUADRON TO TURKISH WATERS.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The European squadron has heen ordered to Turkish waters.

The orders were cabled to Rear Admiral Jewell, commander of the squadron, at Nice. His ships are the Olympia, Baltimore and Cleveland. The destination of the fleet is Smyrna. This place was selected hecause it afforded direct cable communication with Washington and is only ahout 300 miles distant from Constantinople. The trip probably will he made in three dsys and when he arrives thers Admiral Jewell will put himself in communication with Minister Leishmsn and also report to Washington.

This action of the officials wss taken as a means of securing recognition of American rights and settlement of American claims which have been under discussion for some time and which the sultan has time and again promised to remedy.

PROMISE FINANCIAL SUPPORT.

Chicago Labor Unions Endorse Packinghouse Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—The strike of the hutcher workmen in the packinghouses hss been endorsed hy the labor unions of the city and the moral and financial support of their 300,000 memhers is pledged to the strikers.

Each memher of the central body will be assessed a small sum and several thousand dollars will he turned over to the striking union every week to help support the strikers and their families during the struggle.

All the packing plants began operations here Monday with slightly increased forces of workmen, nearly 200 additional employes having heen secured over Sunday. Nearly all the new men who left the yards Saturday night to spend Sunday at their homes returned to work Monday. Among those who reported for duty Monday were a considerable numher of the strikers, who, according to the packers, had become tired of heing idle, and applied for their old places.

The livestock receipts, consisting of 19,000 cattle, 25,000 hogs and 20,000 sheep, were nearly all bought up hy the packers Monday. This fact the packers claim is positive evidence that they now have the situation well in hand and are in such a position that it is a matter of little concern to them how long the strikers hold out.

WANT DEVILS LAKE LAND.

Over Two Thousand Persons Register on the First Day.

Devils Lake, N. D., Aug. 9.—Eleven hundred and eighty persons registered is the result of the first day's applications filed with the registration officers for a piece of Devils Lake Indian reservation land. This numher, while not so large as expected, is about two-thirds as many as registered at Yankton on the first day, and it is expected that a larger number will he here today.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 9.—One thousand and ninety-five persons registered here for land on the Devils Lake Indian reservation Monday.

FORTY THOUSAND AFFECTED.

Building Trades Lockout In Force in New York City.

New York, Aug. 6.—The hullding trades lockout declared Friday is in effect. When all the orders have heen carried out it is estimated that nearly 40,000 union men will have heen forced out of employment.

The Felt and Waterproofing Workers' union has been added to the long list of unions affected by the lockout. The Association of Journeymen Stonecuttera of New Yurk and vicinity have special grievance with the lockout orders, as they emphatically state they lived up to all agreements with the Building Trades Employers' association.

ONE HUNDRED PERISH

CLOUDBURST CAUSES TERRIBLE DISASTER ON THE DENVER AND RIO GRANDE.

HIGH WATER WEAKENS BRIDGE AND IT GIVES WAY UNDER WEIGHT OF TRAIN.

ENGINE AND THREE COACHES PRECIPITATED INTO THE RAGING TORRENT.

Puehlo, Colo., Aug. 8.—Train No. 11, the Missouri Pacific flyer, crashed through a hridge over Dry creek, near Eden, on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. It is estimated that of the 125 passengers on hoard the ill fated train more than 100 lost their lives either under the waters of the raging torrent or heneath the wreckage. Many of the hodies were carried down Fountain creek hy the wall of water, which had force enough to carry several coaches nearly four miles away from the point where they went through the hridge. A cloudhurst had filled the creek and water was flowing over the trestle when the train started across. The hridge went down under the weight of the train and the haggage car, smoker and chair car were precipitated into the torrent. The engine got almost across, hut fell hack into the water.

The hody of Engineer Hinman was found 200 feet down the river. The express car was found four miles away with the safe open and its contents gone. The chair car wos nearby, half filled with sand, in which were buried the bodies of many passengers. The smoker was washed still further down stream and was not located until several hours after the accident.

So far seventy bodies have heen recovered from the scene of the disaster and thousands of persons are patrolling the hanks of the Fountain river in search of the victims.

Coaches Filled With Bodies.

When Division Superintendent Bowren reached the scene of the wreck the missing cars had not heen located and the passengers and train honds who accompanied him organized searching parties to follow the course of the river. The three cars were found close to the shore in Fountain creek, of which Dry creek is a tributary, and which in turn flows into the Arkansas river.

Most of the dead were in the cars huried under the dehris. The bodies of three young women were washed up on the hank of the river three-quarters of a mile helow the scene of ~~the wreck. J. M. Killen, a Pueblo~~ hardware merchant, was swept down stream, but crawled out from the wreckage a mile below the scene of the accident. He was so badly injured and so exhausted from his struggle in the water that he was unable to talk.

The disaster was the worst that has ever occurred on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. Dry creek, where the accident happened, is one of the most dangerous points on the road. It is close to the foothills, which, by reason of repeated cloudbursts and washouts, have been slowly closing in, the bed of the creek continually becoming deeper until it has reached a depth of ahout twenty-five feet.

Trains Numbers 3 and 15, preceding No. 11, passed over the hridge and reached Pueblo safely. The rains had been severe, hut officials did not apprehend any danger at Dry creek, as a recent inspection showed that the hridge was in first class condition.

No Intimation of Danger.

Just prior to the time of the accident there were reports that a heavy rainfall was in progress in the vicinity of Eden, but there was no intimation of a cloudhurst. So far as the officials of the road can determine the engineer evidently did not see the trouble until it was too late to stop the train, which was going at a high rate of speed.

Whether the engine and the torrent of water from the cloudburst struck the hridge simultaneously or the torrent had already undermined the structure is not known, but the reports at the Denver office say that the air was turned ou and that this saved the diner and sleepers from being precipitated into the creek.

When the baggage car, smoker and chair car left the tracks and plunged into the stream they were swept down hy the current and the trucks torn off. This lightened them and the volume of water can he understood when it was reported by Superintendent Bowren that they were carried four miles before they ran ashore. The three cars were found near each other.

The ill fated train is the fastest sent out of Denver hy the Denver and Rio Grande and usually carried a heavy passenger list. It makes the run to Colorado Springs in two hours and five minutes and one hour and ten minutes is the schedule time from Colorado Springs to Puehlo and the heavy train was whirling along through the storm to make this fast time when it dropped into the stream.

The length of the bridge, with approaches, is ninety-six feet. Fifteen hundred feet of track was washed out at the scene of the disaster.

GOES THROUGH OPEN BRIDGE.

Train Runs Into a River and Three Men Are Drowned.

St. Louis, Aug. 9.—A fast freight on the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis road went through an open bridge at Spottsville, Ky., last night and three memhers of the train crew were drowned. The hridge is swung on a pivot in the center and had heen turned previously to the arrival of the train to admit the passage of a steamer.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

TO THE PEOPLE OF RED LAKE COUNTY—I am a candidate for nomination to the office of County Superintendent of Schools of Red Lake county, and respectfully ask the support of the Republicans of Red Lake county at the coming primaries.
J. B. O'BRIEN.

SHERIFF.

TO THE VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY: I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Red Lake county, subject to the decision of the voters at the Republican Primaries.
ERNEST BUSE.

Minnesota is for Roosevelt, and Red Lake county, which rolled up a Bryan majority four years ago, will fall in line and do her part to make the G. O. P. majority the largest in the state's history.

The McIntosh Tribune is again under the guidance of H. P. King, and shows decidedly marked improvement over what it has been of late. The Tribune now shows up with the best of the country exchanges.

Every issue of Sid Bagley's Thief River Press gets better than the previous one, and it is gratifying to know that he is succeeding. The people of Thief River Falls should be proud of the Press and its enterprising editor.

The office surely isn't seeking the man over in Norman county, as last week's Ada Index carried twenty-three political announcements appointed as follows: Seven candidates for Register of Deeds; two for County Auditor: two for County Treasurer; three for County Attorney; four for Representative; one for Judge of Probate; one for Superintendent of Schools; one for Sheriff and two for Commissioner.

Thief River Press: It is rumored that Henry McAnulty, a teacher of the southern end of the county, is to make an effort to land the republican nomination for Superintendent of Schools. If such proves to be the case, there will be four candidates for the republican voters to choose between on September 20th. So far no democrat or populist has had the timority to announce himself for the place.

In his latest effusion Mr. Dooley discusses the vice-presidency and incidentally compares the two leading nominees for that office. Among other things he says: "Mr. Davis is eighty-wan years old and has forty millyon dollars or is forty millyon years old an' has eighty-wan dollars. I'm not sure which, but anyhow th' figures passes belief. He (Fairbanks) is not quite th' statesman that Hinnery (Davis) is. He misses it be about thirty-nine millyons."

If the Democrats want a candidate for county commissioner from this district it is their privilege to name one, but it looks to a man up a tree that the chairman of the Democratic county central committee was out of his territory in attempting to dictate to the Republicans as to who they will select. W. C. L. Demann is satisfactory to the Republicans, and the Democrats have no reason to kick against him or anything he has ever done.

...FOR SHERIFF...

ERNEST BUSE.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the announcement of Ernest Buse, of this city, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination of Sheriff at the coming primaries. Mr. Buse is not a stranger to the majority of the people of Red Lake county, having been one of the first settlers in this section of the state, and always having been closely identified with the advancement of the Valley, and the announcement that he will make the race on the Republican ticket this fall will be read with pleasure by a host of friends.

Mr. Buse has been a resident of Minnesota for over 50 years, and at the time of the great civil war shouldered his musket and went to the front to do battle for his country. In this capacity in both the civil war and the Indian uprising that came toward its end Mr. Buse served until the close, and received an honorable discharge from the government. Returning to his home state he engaged in business, and since that time has been a constant worker for the advancement of Minnesota, and the Northwest. In the memorable county division fights Mr. Buse took an active part, and was one of the men who helped bear the brunt of the battles that finally culminated in a victory, and made it possible for the people of Red Lake county to enjoy the measure of prosperity they are today doing.

Mr. Buse's Republicanism has always been unfaltering, and at the time when the G. O. P. was in the hopeless minority in this county, he was always at work in the interests of the party he affiliated with, and it is safe to say that he will be given the endorsement of the party at large at the primaries next month.

Mr. Buse is active and fearless and if elected to the office he aspires to the people would never have reason to regret the trust reposed in him.

Thief River Press: J. K. Wood, who for eight years has been county surveyor of Marshall county, has announced that he will stand for the republican nomination for the same office in Red Lake county this fall. Mr. Wood bought a quarter on the reservation at the late land sale and is now a resident of this county and as such is entitled to hold office in Red Lake county, and since the retirement of W. C. Smiley has good chances to land the nomination and be elected on November 8th.

Wm. C. L. Demann, the present county commissioner from this district, filed his intention of again becoming a candidate, while in the city yesterday. Mr. Demann has represented this district for the past several years, and his work in the interests of his constituents shows up well. He has practically the united support of the Republicans in Red Lake Falls, and will receive a flattering vote at their hands. His friendship toward Red Lake Falls and her people has never been reasonably questioned, and they will show their appreciation by supporting him.

SIMONS' ENDORSEMENTS.

Representative Simons is receiving endorsements from all over the district in his candidacy for re-election this fall, and it is the unanimous opinion that he can secure better service for his constituency than an entirely new man could. In his labors in the house at the last session, Mr. Simons commanded the attention and respect of the entire body whenever he was before them, and his past experience will prove beneficial to his home district when he takes up his work at the next session of the Minnesota legislature. The following are some complimentary notices from neighboring papers:

Bemidji Sentinel: So far as we have made inquiry the services of Mr. L. C. Simons as representative from this district have been of a nature that at least entitle him to the ordinary endorsement of a return to the house and no one seems to consider that this should be withheld. Mr. Simons is in sympathy with this end of the district in the matter of drainage and having had a little legislative experience is in a much better position to secure attention than would an entirely new man. We do not know of any interest paramount to drainage—not even taxation.

Thief River Press: In an article of two weeks ago, The Press stated that the representative elect from this district to the state legislature should be deeply interested and closely in touch with drainage questions. We are since in receipt of a letter from Representative L. C. Simons in which he states that he will and has done all in his power to promote better drainage in the Valley. Last session at his own solicitation he was placed upon the drainage committee and in company with the other members labored for an appropriation of $100,000. But as the money was all to be spent in Northern Minnesota the proposed appropriation was met with strong opposition and was ultimately cut down to $50,000, which sum is being expended but does not go far. Mr. Simons pledges himself if nominated and elcted to again do his utmost for the district in matters pretaining to drainage as well as all other questions that may come up of material benefit to this section of the State.

It is announced that Harry E. Ives, the rotund editor of the St. Hilaire Spectator, is slated for an appointment under the Dunn administration next winter. Just what he will get is not given out, but his friends confidently expect to see him land in a good berth. Harry is just the right build to occupy a nice easy chair in the state capitol and if Mr. Dunn is looking for men who will fill the offices in just the proper manner he certainly has made a wise selection in singling out friend Ives.

The first gun of the Democratic gubernatorial campaign has been fired, a number of leading state Democrats having met in St. Paul and picked John A. Johnson, of St. Peter, as their standard bearer. The meeting was held in the office of C. D. and T. D. O'Brien, in the Globe building in that city. According to those present the meeting was simply for conference purposes, but it is a fact that it finally closed with a Democratic gubernatorial nominee. The merits of other well known Democrats spoken for the office were discussed, but it was the general opinion that Mr. Johnson would make the best race. John Lind was spoken for a place on the supreme bench, but he was absent when this subject came up, so it is not known how he takes to the proposition. W. S. Hammond, of St. James, was suggested for lieutenant governor, Frank Zimms, of St. Cloud, for state treasurer, and S. M. Owen and Capt. Albert Steinhauser of New Ulm, for railroad commissioner. It was agreed that it would not be proper to nominate a full supreme court ticket. The name of John Lind it was thought would be sufficient.

THOUSANDS OF FAIR WOMEN HERALD PRAISES FOR PE-RU-NA.

[Catarrhal Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration Makes Invalids of More Women Than all Other Diseases Combined.]

Miss Anna Prescott
Mrs. Leone Dolehan.
Miss Louise Matt.

Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. I took Peruna for five weeks, and am glad to say that I am completely restored to health."—Anna Prescott.

Mrs. Leone Dolehan, in a letter from the Commercial Hotel, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"For two months my physician experimented with me trying to cure a hard cold which settled in my stomach, causing inflammation and catarrh. I have now been well for six months, and I give all the credit to Peruna." — Mrs. Leone Dolehan.

Peruna will be found to effect an immediate and lasting cure in all cases of systemic catarrh. It acts quickly and beneficially on the diseased mucous membranes, and with healthy mucous membranes the catarrh can no longer exist.

Miss Louise Matt, 1259 Van Buren St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"Peruna is a most wonderful medicine for catarrhal and stomach troubles.

"I suffered so long with indigestion and dyspepsia, and tried many things to cure me, without relief. I finally bought a bottle of Peruna and in just six weeks I was entirely rid of my stomach trouble."—Louise Matt.

A Letter From Mrs. Senater Warren.

The following letter is from the wife of late Governor and now U. S. Senator, F. E. Warren of Wyoming:

"I am constantly troubled with colds, cough, etc., but thanks to your good medicine, Peruna, I always find a prompt cure."—Mrs. F. E. Warren.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

All the south end candidates are at Thief River Falls today shaking hands with the attendants at the fair, and making good fellows out of themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. N. Bourdon returned last Saturday from their four weeks' sojourn at St. Louis, where they took in the big Exposition and visited friends. They report an enjoyable trip.

Mrs. Carl Kretzschmar came down from Thief River Falls Saturday and spent Sunday at the W. A. Schreiter home. Mrs. Schreiter returned to Thief River with her Monday and has spent the week taking in the fair in progress there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laplante are the proud parents of a bright new baby girl which came to their home last Thursday afternoon. The little lady is strong and well, and gives promise of living long as a pride and comfort to her parents. Congratulations are forthcoming.

Thief River Press: W. J. McGinty will have another hearing on August 9th before Judge Bishop and must answer to the charge of assault on Louis Seill under the state law. This is a continuation of the trouble of a week ago when McGinty knocked Seill down in front of Ryson & Newberry's livery barn.

Fosston Thirteen Towns: Harry Healy came over from Red Lake Falls on Tuesday evening to play ball with the Fosston team against the Bemidji team Wednesday. Mr. Healy is a good ball player, and also a very accomplished musician, and proved quite a welcome addition to our social set for the short time that he was here.

The many friends of Judge Ives in this city will regret to learn that he is quite seriously ill at his home at Cass Lake. Harry Ives, of the St. Hilaire Spectator, was telegraphed for Monday evening and he has not yet returned from the lake and it is surmised by his many friends in the city that Mr. Ives, his father, is quite ill. The telegram received by Harry gave no details of the judge's illness but his many friends here will hope that it is not of a serious nature.

Crookston Journal: Marcus Johnson the veteran miller, passed through the city last evening upon his way to St. Paul from Red Lake Falls where he had been on business and attending to matters in connection with the management of the large flour mills at that place in which he is interested. Mr. Johnson enjoyed a drive through the surrounding country last evening with Local Manager Gus Sandberg of the Crookston mill and crop conditions were found to be very satisfactory. In the Red Lake Falls district but very little rust has been encountered and the outlook for a heavy yield is good Messrs. W. A. McIntyre, J. B. Armstrong, Miss Lydia Fletcher and Mrs. Perl W. Mabey drove to Crookston last Friday.

Mrs. Donaldson, of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, is a guest of Mesdames Lewis and Converse and Miss Lillian Buse, this week.

Mrs. S. L. Lewis and Miss Lillian Buse went up to Thief River Falls yesterday to take in the county fair for a couple of days.

Miss Iza Tibbetts arrived home Saturday morning from her visit with relatives in Iowa, and with her father at Flandreau, South Dakota.

Rev. H. W. Knox returned Saturday morning from Walnut, Illinois, where he had accompanied the family and attended the funeral of the late Henry Gonigam.

Mayor T. J. Thorkelson, St. Hilaire's handsome and popular druggist, was a business caller here last Friday. The Gazette was favored with a pleasant call.

M. E. Todd came in off the road last Friday and left the same afternoon for his home at Wylie. Mr. Todd is now engaged in selling New York Life insurance and reports favorable progress.

Mr. and Mrs C. Dupont were in from Terrebonne last Friday on business matters, and to bid goodbye to their daughter, who left that day for her home at St. Paul, after a pleasant visit in Terrebonne.

Mrs. J. J. Doe and son, Orson, went to Thief River Falls Tuesday to spend a couple of days at the county fair, and to look over things politically. Mrs. Doe is making an active canvass for the superintendency, and will spend considerable time in other parts of the county.

Crookston Times: Prof. Wilson left this morning for Red Lake Falls and will drive from there to Emardville, where he will inspect a creamery which is doing a fine business, and from there he will go to Terrebonne where he will inspect a cheese factory. Prof. Wilson is one of the busiest men in the northern part of the state this year.

Joseph Lachance returned from Badger the first of the week, at which place he has been employed the last seven weeks erecting Mitchel Quesnell's new frame house. The house is 14 x 24 with an L 16 x 18, 14 foot posts, and finished in an excellent manner all through. Mr. Quesnelle expects to move into the new home shortly and when settled will have one of the finest farm homes in the Red River Valley.

Wm. Robinson, Scotland's new merchant, came in town Monday and took the train for St. Paul, where he will spend ten days packing his household goods for shipment here. Mrs. Robinson will not come to this county this fall, but will spend the winter in California, where she hopes to restore her health. Mr. Robinson informed The Gazette that he had already opened up his store at Scotland, and that business promises to be first-class at that flourishing new town.

Crookston Journal: Banker J. K. Hannay, the prosperous St. Hilaire financier, tarried in the city yesterday morning with friends and acquaintances while en route home from a trip to Fergus Falls which was made necessary by pressing business matters. While at Fergus Mr. Hannay enjoyed a pleasant trip through the state hospital for the insane and reports that institution as one of the best equipped and most conveniently arranged of any in the country. Mr. Hannay went through all of the wards and will long remember the pitiful sights which he saw in many of the departments.

Chef. Swanson, chief cook of the Clearwater Logging company, has been spending the past week here, and Monday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Belair, entertained the band and about fifty citizens at a "bean hole" supper. The spread set before the guests was an elaborate one, the steaming plates of palatable "bean hole" beans being among the best of the good things. After the eatables were disposed of the guests indulged in some happy speeches, Dr. Watson being toastmaster, and an hour was spent in a pleasant manner. Mr. Swanson, Mrs. Belair and others who had helped make the supper so grand a success were tendered the thanks of those present and the crowd broke up feeling that they had been well entertained.

Deputy Sheriff Jarman was here again yesterday.

Mrs. Theo. LaBissoniere and daughter, Erin, went down to Crookston last Saturday and spent Sunday with Mrs. LaBissoniere's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. Georgiana Marchand left last Saturday for the Twin cities, where she is attending the national convention of the Women's Catholic Order of Forresters this week.

Prof. James A. Wilson, formerly superintendent of the Thief River city schools, but at present connected with the state dairy and food commission, was a business caller here Tuesday.

Henry Kaufer returned Friday from a several days' visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Murphy, at Thief River Falls. Mrs. Kaufer remained over and is enjoying the county fair this week.

The Gazette is printed a day early this week in order that the force may be able to take in the excursion to the county fair at Thief River Falls, so if there isn't the amount of news you expected the cause can be easily assigned.

Miss Mayme Erickson will leave the latter part of the month for New Prague, this state, where she will teach a grade in the public schools of that city during the coming term. Miss Erickson will be greatly missed from the young people's social circles here but they will all wish her success in her work.

The Northern Minnesota Milling company has had the Healy mill undergoing extensive repairs during the past ten days getting in shape to handle their share of the big new crop that promises to be marketed in Red Lake Falls this fall. Considerable new machinery has been installed and other improvements made.

G. Gus Greene, the happy Oliver typewriter salesman, was a visitor here Tuesday. Mr. Green is one of the most successful traveling salesmen in the business, and the people of Red Lake Falls learn valuable points about the Oliver every time he visits here. He has placed several of his machines in this city and expects to sell some more before fall.

Gov. Van Sant has fixed Tuesday, August 30 the date of the execution of Wm. Chounard, who was tried and sentenced at the last term of court of Cass county. Chounard murdered his wife at Cass Lake early this spring. An application to have the sentence commuted to life imprisonment was denied at a recent meeting of the state board of pardons. The execution will be held at the county jail at Walker.

Crookston Journal: H. D. Pettibone, manager of the St. Hilaire Lumber mill, owned by the Crookston Lumber company, passed through the city yesterday morning en route home from St. Paul where he has spent several days upon business connected with the management of the company's affairs. He says the St. Hilaire mill will be run continuously until freeze-up and that the sawing is progressing at a record breaking rate. St. Hilaire, as a result of the opening of the mill, has put on quite lively airs, and prosperity is greatly in evidence.

Mrs. Beaulieu arrived from Grand Forks last Friday for a visit with her father, Moses Allard, and family, and numerous friends here.

Miss Nellie Curran returned to her Thief River Falls home last Saturday, after having spent five weeks attending the summer school and visiting friends here.

John Grady expects to leave within a few days for points in Iowa and South Dakota where he has business interests that will require his attention a few weeks.

Master Herbert Findeisen will entertain a party of friends at his home Friday, and the event is looked forward to with pleasing anticipations by the young folks.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church were entertained at an afternoon tea at the farm home of A. Allison yesterday. A good sized crowd went out from town.

W. T. Spillane went to Grand Forks Monday to register for a chance on the Fort Totten reservation lands. It is expected that a large number from here will go over before the time is up for registration.

Crookston Journal: Mr. and Mrs. John E. Argue, of Red Lake Falls, who were recently married and have spent five weeks upon their honeymoon, passed through the city Friday morning on their way home. While in the city they were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robertson and enjoyed an early breakfast at the Robertson home.

The first story of the new building for the Bank of Red Lake Falls is practically completed and the public can begin to see what the structure will look like. Built of pressed brick with several beautiful windows and a handsome corner entrance, the new bank building promises to be one of the prettiest business buildings in the city, and the owners will have elegant quarters when they get located there.

Crookston Journal: County Auditor Hoffard yesterday received a "summons," but whether or not the affair was a legal document is not known. Mr. Hoffard was very reticent in regard to the matter and his friends are wondering whether it was a dainty blue tinted delicately-scented summons, or the stern white long envelope kind, which usually precedes a legal action. The summons of whichever kind, however, calls for Mr. Hoffard's presence at Red Lake Falls some time during the week.

Joe Smith, the popular insurance rustler and Crookston Democrat, was a business caller between trains here Monday. Mr. Smith leaves next week for Washington, where he will join his family, who preceeded him several weeks ago, and make his future home. Mr. Smith was one of the pioneers of the Red River Valley, and has always been a mover in its development, and his departure from the scenes of his many years' labors will be sincerely regretted by a legion of warm friends, who will always be pleased to hear of his success.

Mrs. E. M. Kezer and Mrs. Boyd, and children, Susie and Albert, leave Friday for Yellow Grass, Assinboine, Canada, where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Kezer is farming there, and his letters speak in glowing terms of that country as a place to build a home.

Joseph DuChamp received his appointment as deputy game warden at Thief River Falls and has entered upon the discharge of his duty. Mr. DuChamp says that he will certainly enforce the law and that no more chickens will be shot in that vicinity until the first of September. There are many birds this year and the sport will no doubt be good when the season opens.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Argue returned home last Friday morning from their five weeks wedding trip, and have been receiving the congratulations of their friends this week. While away they spent some time at the head of the lakes, visited in Chicago and other points thereabouts, and completed their trip by spending the last week or two with the Doctor's parents at Hamilton, North Dakota. They will go to housekeeping next week in the Klepper cottage on the North Side.

Crookston Journal: Devotees of tennis hold forth at the park quite frequently of late and the sport is increasing in popularity at a rapid rate. The greater number of the players are from the ranks of the business and professional men of the city and the exercise is found very beneficial. A meet will be held at Red Lake Falls in the near future which will very likely be attended by several Crookston players. Maurice Malone, Dr. Boles and L. D. Foskett are the champion players of the Crookston Club so far this season.

CHOICE MISCELLANY

From Belle to Pauper.

Eorly risers possing by the Rue de la Chloe in La Villette, thot home of misery, often met n bent, shriveled, white hoired old woman corrying a basket on her back and in her hand a stick with an iron point to it.

With the stick she searched the rubbish heaps deposited by householders for the scavengers to carry away. She prodded and scrutinized her way along the silent streets, turning over an old shoe here, a bit of rag there or cigar stump or rusty nail and tossing her treasure into her basket. The sad faced old woman took notice of no one.

But the people of the quarter and of localities more fashionable knew that "the mother of the chiffoniers," otherwise ragpickers, had seen better days.

Mme. Andre had once a "de" to her name. Her visiting cards had once borne her family crest. She had figured at the court of Napoleon III. and the Empress Eugenie and there waltzed with the best of them. In her garret in the Rue de la Chine Mme. Andre hoarded the wreck of her fortune, about £500. It was hidden in her mattress.

Returning home the other day from her customary rounds, Mme. Andre found the mattress torn open and her money gone. A few hours later her next door neighbors found her hanging by a cord dead.—Paris Correspondence.

The court holds that, in such a serious charge as was presented, the evidence should be conclusive to establish a conviction and thinks that the evidence in this case was not conclusive. Justice Douglas, dissenting, thinks that the evidence clearly proves the defendants guilty of fraud and that they should be suspended.

Your Heart.

When Your Heart Fails to Pump Your Blood, Trouble Results.

Have you heart trouble?

You have, if you find it hard to breathe after walking up stairs, exercising, etc. If you have pain in your left side, in chest, back or shoulder. If you suffer from cold extremities, pale face, blue lips, dry cough, swollen ankles.

If you have fainting spells, breast pang, palpitation, redness of the face, discomfort in sleeping on one side.

The only scientific treatment for this whole train of troubles is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the prescription of a famous specialist, whose great success in treating obstinate nervous heart disease has made his name pre-eminent in the medical and scientific world.

The medicine will cure you. We know it. We want you to prove it. If first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will give you back your money.

"I have for several years suffered at times with heart trouble. I got so bad I could not sleep half the night, and had to sit up on the side of the bed lots of times to get breath. Three of my brothers have died of heart trouble, and I thought I was going the same way, but about two and a half years ago I got a pamphlet about Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and thought I would try a few bottles. After using them I recovered, and have had better health since then than before for several years. I can heartily recommend them for heart trouble."—REV. LIVER TROUBLES

"I find Thedford's Black-Draught a good medicine for liver disease. It cured my son after he had spent $100 with doctors. It is all the medicine I take."—MRS. CAROLINE MARTIN, Parkersburg, W. Va.

If your liver does not act regularly go to your druggist and secure a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine frees the constipated bowels, stirs up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.

Thedford's Black-Draught will cleanse the bowels of impurities and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys result in Bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A 25-cent package of Thedford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.

"I used Thedford's Black-Draught for liver and kidney complaints and found nothing to excel it."—WILLIAM COFFMAN, Marblehead, Ill.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. GARNES

A crowd of friends visited at Andrew Ellingson's place last Sunday.

Edward Tranby and son are putting up hay at Ed. Jacobson's place.

The little daughter of Brede Thorsson is reported as improving in health.

Peter Tranby was out from Red Lake Falls and spent Sunday with his best girl.

Brede Bredeson, who was putting up hay at Andrew Ellingson's drove to Erskine last week.

Mrs. Anton Ellingson returned to her home at Erskine this week, after a pleasant visit with relatives here.

Christina Valtandahl has returned home from Grand Forks, where she has been employed the last 15 months.

Miss Alice Tranby returned to her home south of Erskine the first of the week, after a pleasant visit with relatives here.

Ed. Jacobson has over forty loads of hay already stacked and is still working at it. Mr. Jacobson is one of our most thrifty farmers.

The weather is very nice these days, and the farmers are improving it by putting up large crops of hay. There will be no hay wasted in this section this season.

Mrs. G. R. Jennings, Boston—"Our babies (twins) were sickly. Had several doctors, but no results. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea made them strong and robust." 35 cents. Tea or tablet form. W. A. Schreiter.

James Torgerson was out this way last week looking for a dairy farm, but he could not get one at the price he wanted to pay. Since the advent of the railroad in these parts land has advanced materially, and but few quarters are for sale now less than $35 or $40 per acre.

Escaped an Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Haggins of Melbourne, Fla., writes, "My doctor told me I had Consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and I owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by W. A. Schreiter, Druggist. Price 50c & $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Taken with Cramps.

Wm. Cirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines. Elkeder, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright, of New London, New York. Japanese Dwarf Trees.

There have been a good many rumors and theories as to how the Japanese dwarf trees are prepared in the first instance, but this is a secret which the Japanese keep carefully to themselves, and even then it is only known among a limited number of families, who hand it down from generation to generation. One account states that a little soil is placed in half an orange from which the inside has been removed. In this soil is placed the seed which it is desired to grow. As the roots burst through the skin of the orange they are cut off with a sharp knife. The process is repeated until the roots evince no further desire to penetrate. The outside of the orange is then varnished with a secret varnish and the young tree planted in an ornamental pot.

Some of the Strongest Fliers.

Of birds now in existence probably the one with the greatest expanse of wing in proportion to the body and with the greatest power of flight is the frigate or man-of-war bird. This bird apparently flies more by skill than by strength, for it has no great carrying powers. The wandering albatross, the largest of all sea birds, is also one of our strongest fliers. One bird was known to fly at least 3,150 miles in twelve days. This bird was caught, tagged, released and caught again.—St. Nicholas.

MAKE THE SOO TROUBLE.

Great Northern Said To Be Interfering With Work on New Road.

From present indications the Soo will have a most strenuous time of it before the rails are laid through Erskine and to a point north of where the Soo crosses the Great Northern tracks north of Thief River Falls. At least three determined fights will be made to cause that road all manner of trouble and it may take vexatious legal proceedings and months of delay before all the obstacles are overcome.

The first trouble that will be encountered of a serious nature is at Erskine, where during the past week a big force of Great Northern men have lowered the Great Northern sidetrack along the main line at that point three feet below the grade of the main line track. This it is understood, will force the Soo to change its survey materially so as to go around the Grert Northern sidetrack. It is learned on good authority that the Soo under the changed conditions cannot cross where the survey is made unless it is done by tunnelling and running their tracks under those of the Great Northern, or by elevating them by tressel work above those of the Great Northern, neither of which would be at all practicable. This will cause a determined fight and without doubt legal proceedings will have to be instituted before the crossing can be affected, and if the other plan is adopted of changing the survey to go around the G. N. sidetrack, serious obstacles will be encountered as well.

Within the past week there has also been a crew of N. P. surveyors at work several miles north of Erskine, and where their survey crosses that of the Soo a big sign has been erected labelled "Northern Pacific railway crossing," and it is understood that the N. P. is to lay ties and rails at that place at once, forcing the Soo to put in interlocking rails at that point, which is both expensive and slow work.

Some time ago, when the Great Northern started construction work on the extension north of Thief River Falls, the first thing done was to haul ties and rails by wagon and construct a piece of road where the G. N. survey crossed the Soo survey which will also force the Soo to put in the crossing there when that point is reached. In addition to this after the rails were laid to that point a long sidetrack was built which is being filled with empties as fast as possible, and the Soo will have to put up another fight to force the Great Northern to move the cars out of the way.

It is thought by some that the purpose of the Great Northern is to so delay work on the Soo as to make it imossible to get trains running before winter sets in, thus preventing the Soo from getting any portion of the big traffic that is expected this fall. It is evident from the general trend of affairs that the fight against the Soo line is so be a determined one, and the developments in the case will be watched with intense interest by both railroad men and the general public.

It is predicted that there will be clashes between the employees of the two roads before the end, that may be of a serious nature.

The contractors who are engaged in building the Glenwood extension for the Soo are now making a remarkable race which promises to equal anything in the history of rapid railroad construction unless the obstruction tactics of the Great Northern prove successful. With a line of 268 miles in length to build and the work undertaken a year ago, and now about 100 miles have been completed, leaving over half of the job to be finished before Oct. 1, when the contract requires that the new road shall be ready for traffic.

The stretch already finished, from Glenwood to Detroit, is through the lake region of the state and many difficulties were encountered by the builders in the way of lakes to be spanned and swamps to be filled. The most difficult part of the work is now done, however, and the remaining stretch of the new line lies in a prairie country where grading and laying of steel is all that is necessary, with the exception of the construction of culverts and a few bridges.

Steel has been laid at a rate of two miles per day, but the work will be done faster from now on in order to get 169 miles of track laid in fifty-four days. The grading crew is far in advance of the track-laying crew and most of the bridges needed in the remaining stretch of track have already been constructed.

OBITUARY.

(Contributed to The Gazette.)

Henry Gonigam was born at Pike Pond, New York, August 54, 1857, and departed this life August 1, 1904.

When about two years of age he moved with his parents to Princeton, Bureau Co., Illinois, where he was educated in the public schools of that place. When 19 years of age the family moved to a farm at Red Oak Grove where the mother and youngest brother still reside.

He was married on December 14, 1880, to Carrie Meihsner. To this union four children were born, Oliver, Elmeda, Grace and Gladys, all of whom are living except Oliver, who preceeded his father to the better land on March 30, 1903.

The family moved to Walnut, Illinois, in November 1887, where Mr. Gonigam was engaged in the livery and farm implement business, and later was owner of the electric light plant. On July 17, 1902, he, with his son, moved to Red Lake Falls, Minn., where he has since been engaged in the real estate business. On March 14 the family followed him here, where they have since made their home.

On July 17, 1904 he met with an accident which resulted in the fracture of the bones of his right limb. From this he was recovering nicely, and on Sunday July, 31, was especially bright and cheerful, planning with his family of the good times they would have together when he was fully recovered. On Monday, August 1, about 11 a. m. he was taken with heart failure and the end came in a few minutes. Suddenly and without warning the Death angel visited a happy home taking the one most loved, leaving it sad, and a vacancy that never can be filled. He leaves to mourn his untimely departure, a wife, three daughters, a mother, two brothers, L. E., of Walnut, J. P., of Ottawa, one sister, Mrs. Carrie Nauman, of Red Lake Falls, and a host of other relatives and friends. At the time of his death he was a member of the M. E. church at Walnut and it had always been a pleasure to him to work in his church. He was a true Christian, a kind and loving husband and father. His greatest aim in life was to educate his children and make his family happy.

The remains were taken to his old home and interment made in the Walnut cemetery. The funeral services were held at the M. E. church at Walnut, Wednesday afternoon, August 3. They were conducted by Rev. Potter, of Albany, and Rev. Knox, of Red Lake Falls, assisted by Rev. Burgi, of Red Oak and Rev. Overholtzer, of Baptist church of Walnut. The choir, of which he was a member for ten years, beautifully rendered "Lead Kindly Light," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Some Sweet Day" the latter being often spoken of by him during his last illness. All the business houses were closed during the services in tribute to his memory.

Little needs to be said of his life as all who knew him know better than words can express what a good man he was.

Those present at the funeral from out of Walnut, besides the family, were: Mrs. C. Nauman, Red Lake Falls, Dr. and Mrs. Green, Dixon, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. J. Albrecht, Ohio, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson, Ohio, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hoffstadt, Princeton, Ill., J. P. Gonigam and daughter, Morna, Ottawa, Ill.

THE BIG STATE FAIR.

Opens on August 29 and Closes September 3.—A Week's Fun.

The dates of the Minnesota State Fair of this year will be August 29–September 3. This means, of course, that the fair will open on the last Monday in August and close on the first Saturday in September, giving a full week in which visitors may examine the exhibits and enjoy the amusements at the great show. And the Minnesota State Fair has indeed become a "great show." From a comparatively insignificant place among the state fairs of the country, it has grown to be more than twice as large as any other, and is acknowledged freely to be the leader in this sort of thing, as well as being one of the most effective forces in the development and progress of Minnesota and the Northwest.

One of the great attractions at this year's fair will be the national live stock exhibition, in which, as for several years past, the members of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association and the American Hereford Breeders' Association will take a prominent part. Special premiums are offered by these great associations as well as by the American Aberdeen Angus Association, which with the offerings of the Minnesota State Agricultural Society, make a total of about $10,000 to be distributed to exhibitors in these three classes alone.

This seems like a large amount, but the Minnesota State Fair deals in large figures. Its total offerings of premiums and purses this year reach the sum of $50,000. It is enabled to pay these great premiums through the enormous popularity which brought last year to the fair nearly 250,000 people.

Another big attraction this year will be the new Manufactures building now being completed at a cost of $30,000. Some smaller buildings have been erected during the summer, and practically every structure on the fair grounds has been overhauled, repainted and freshly roofed.

The popular evening entertainments will be continued and one of Pain's great pyrotechnical productions will be the center-piece. In the afternoons there will be racing for purses ranging from $1,000 to $5,000, and a great number of special attractions will be provided.

One of the best things announced by the management is the construction of street railway terminals at the grounds, which assures visitors pleasing transport over the electric lines to the city. Half fare rates have been made on all railroads beginning with Saturday, August 27, and as numerous crowds are sure to attend, visitors will do well to arrange to be at the fair in the early part of the week. The management guarantees that exhibits will be in complete order by 9 o'clock Monday morning. The president of the fair this year is C. N. Cosgrove of Le Sueur, while E. W. Randall continues as secretary.

The fair will be held on the Minnesota State Fair grounds, midway between Minneapolis and St. Paul.

CONTEST BOND ISSUE

Geravis Township Being Sued For Interest on N. P. Railroad Bonds.—Don't Want to Pay Principal.

A special term of the District Court was held at the court house here yesterday with Judge Wm. Watts on the bench to try the suit of Anna C. Smith and Asa Paine, holders of the bonds issued by the township of Geravis to aid in constructing the N.P. railroad, against the town of Gervais.

The suit is to recover the interest on the said bonds for the years 1900 to 1904, inclusive, which has been held up by an injunction restraining the County Auditor from paying said interest, instituted by former County Attorney Van R. Brown to test the validity of the bonds.

At the time of the construction of the N. P. railroad through here bonds were voted to pay the bonus, which were sold by the N. P. to the parties now suing for the recovery of the interest. Interest was paid regularly from 1886 to 1900, when proceedings were brought restraining the county auditor from paying the same.

The town of Gervais is now contesting the payments of the interest and principal on the grounds that the issue of $1500 bonds by that town was in excess of the amount provided for by the statute and on the further ground the proposition submitting the bond question to a vote was illegal and that in reality no election was held, although the bonds state that there was.

County Attorney Grady is counsel for the town of Gervais and Attorneys McIntyre, of this city, and Benjamin W. Smith, of Minneapolis for the holders of the bonds.

After hearing the evidence the judge took the case under advisement, and will render his decision at a later date.

WOODMEN WILL PICNIC.

Plan to Spend Next Wednesday Afternoon On the Island.

Red Lake Falls lodge No. 3436, Modern Woodmen of America, will hold a picnic on the Clearwater island, at the foot of Main street, next Wednesday afternoon, to which all Woodmen, Royal Neighbors and their families are invited, and requested to bring full lunch baskets.

The afternoon will be spent in social conversation and merry-making and at supper time the lunch baskets will come into play nicely.

After supper those that care to will be escorted to the hall where a dance will be given.

The Woodmen earnestly urge that every Woodman in the section turn out and help make the day one of pleasure.

WIN FIRST PRIZES.

Chicken Display of Nanman Bros. Receives Awards.

The display of fancy chickens from the Glen Oak farm, just west of Red Lake Falls, owned by A. H. and A. E. Nauman, was awarded all the first prizes and sweep-stakes offered at the county fair at Thief River Falls last week.

The Nauman boys sent up a trio of Barred Plymouth Rocks, a trio of White Plymouth Rocks and a trio of Rose Comb Leghorns and received first prize on every entry, which speaks well for their ability as chicken fanciers, as the exhibits were quite numerous.

The Naumans have made chicken raising a feature at their pretty farm west of the city and the fact that they have proven that their chickens are the best in the county is gratifying news to their friends,

THIS MANY HAVE FILED

So Far Only Nine Candidates Have Expressed a Willingness to "Save Their Country."

A week from next Wednesday, August 31, is the last day in which to file your intention of becoming a candidate at the primary election to be held September 20, and from present indications the last week will see a rush of "prospectives" that will enrich the state treasury considerably.

So far only nine candidates have filed notice of intention with Auditor Ford, as follows:

Chas. Ecklund, of Bray, for Register of Deeds.

W. W. Prichard, of Thief River Falls, for commissioner, 4th distrist.

John B. O'Brien, St. Hilaire, superintendent of schools.

Mrs. J. J. Doe, Red Lake Falls, superintendent of schools.

Thos. Germo, Red Lake Falls, county attorney.

Ernest Buse, Red Lake Falls, sheriff.

Wm. C. L. Demanu, Lake Pleasant, commissioner 2nd district.

Daniel Shaw, Thief River Falls, commissioner 4th district.

Ovide Moreau, Terrebonne, treasurer.

There are a bunch of other avowed candidates who have not yet put up the necessary X to get on the ballot, but who will be there before the last day for filing. So far the Populists have not made known what they will do, so that from present indications the Republicans and Democrats will be the only parties on the ticket, with a possibility of a number of independents.

"On with the dance, let joy be unconfined," etc.

A GOOD COUNTY FAIR.

Thief River Falls Entertains Big Crowd and Pleases Everybody.

The third annual fair of the Red Lake County Agricultural association, held at Thief River Falls last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, attractdd a large number of people from different parts of the county, and the entertainment put up by the association and the people of the upper Falls pleased everyone that was present.

Thursday was the banner day—and about 5000 visitors were present. Red Lake Falls and St. Hilaire sent a special train of 12 coaches filled to the brim, besides several crowds by team. The attractions at the fair claimed the attention of the visitors throughout the whole afternoon, and everything on the program was pronounced first-class. The horse races, foot races, trick bicycle performer, tight-rope artist and other amusement features kept the crowd entertained, while between times the many exhibits of Red Lake county's agricultural and domestic possibilities occupied the attention of the multitude.

United States Senator Moses E. Clapp and Representative Luman C. Simons spoke to the people, while the various and numerous county "candidates" did the glad-hand act with clock-work precision.

Red Lake Falls' uniformed 28-piece band furnished music all day, and gave an hour's concert in the evening, and their efforts met with an enthusiastic reception.

The fair was a winner financially, and as an entertainment affair, and to the efforts of Messrs. C. C. Jackson, Dan Shaw, K. J. Weeks and W. C. Smiley can be attributed the successful termination of everything attempted.

Red Lake Falls will always turn out en masse to Thief River's fairs, if they will promise to continue them as good as the one of 1904.

Terrebonne Bridge Finished.

Messrs. Kankel & Zieglar, the enterprising Terrebonne millers, send word to The Gazette today that the Clearwater bridge at that place is again in use, the repairs having been completed, and that the dam is fixed and the mill ready to do a rushing fall business. The public is invited to again use the bridge for travel. The people of Terrebonne and surrounding country have reason to thank Messrs. Kankel & Zieglar for the enterprise they have exhibited in this matter, as out of their own pockets has come a greater share of the expense in making the much-needed repairs on the bridge.

Threshers Will Organize.

A meeting of the threshermen of Red Lake county was held at the city hall last week, at which time it was decided to issue a call for a meeting to perfect a county organization, and August 22 at 1 p. m. was selected as the date for the meeting. Officers will be elected at this time and plans discussed looking to the advancement of the interests of the threshermen of this section of the Valley. A good attendance at the meeting on the 22d is looked for.

Let's Mind the Law.

Now boys, remember that there is a general understanding among us all that there is to be no illegal chicken shooting this season, says the Stephen Leader. So please do not stow your dog and gun away under the buggy seat and hie yourself out into the country just to get one little mess of early birds. Of course we all know they are very toothsome at this season of the year, but let's just see if the shooting won't be twice as good when the season opens if the birds have not been shot at and the covies intact. Nothing is so conductive to "damns" and even stronger cuss words, than to start out on the first morning of the season and find all the covies broken and the birds wilder than they should be in October. The shooting promises to be better this year than it has been for many seasons, so let us then conduct ourselves with true sportsmanlike acts that we may be able to reap the benefit when the glorious first day of September rolls around.

KILLED BIG BULL MOOSE

Gentilly Residents Pay Heavily for Indulging in Luxuries Out of Season—Killed Big Moose.

Crookston Times: Late yesterday afternoon Tennis Fortier was arrested by Game Warden T. H. Elliot for killing a moose. He was brought to the city about 6 o'clock last evening and at once entered a plea of guilty before judge Judge McLean and was fined $50 and costs which is the minimum penalty that can be imposed.

The manner in which Fortier was detected was rather out of the ordinary. It seems that two hunters started the moose out of the woods not far from Thief River Falls. They chased it for some time, and Game Warden Elliot got on to the fact that they were hunting a moose. He at once started in pursuit of them. Later the hunters got wind of the fact that Elliot was after them and they took to the tall timber, abandoning the chase. Elliot, however, continued after the moose to see what might befall it.

He kept the trail till he arrived in the vicinity of the farm of Remi Fortier, near Gentilly, father of Tennis Fortier, and there he lost it. He heard a rumor that a moose had been shot near there, and soon got the story straight and Fortier's arrest followed.

Young Fortier and two hired men, it seems, sighted the moose last Thursday afternoon, and gave chase at once, Fortier killing the animal with a rifle. They dressed it, and brought the hide to the tannery in this city, where it was located by Elliot yesterday and was indisputible evidence against the slayer.

The animal was a very fine specimen, and was killed before the young men in pursuit thought anything about the game laws. The sight of moose is so rare in that section that chase was given and the animal killed and no attempt made to conceal the facts in the case. Tennis Fortier is a son of the chairman of the board of county commissioners of Polk county.

FIND MISS DAHL'S BODY.

Homesteader Near Quiring Makes Grewsome Discovery.

The badly decomposed body of a woman, supposed to be that of Aagot Dahl, was found yesterday by a homesteader named Thomas Doohen, one mile east of the old Dahl homestead near Quiring and about one-half mile east of the claim she had filed upon. Doohen was making hay in a meadow near one of the Crandall camps and in raking about a brush pile discovered a human foot protruding from under it. Investigation disclosed the body of a young woman and the man hurried to his home where he informed his wife of the grewsome find. Doohen immediately started for Blackduck where he arrived at about four o'clock and the authorities were at once notified. The coroner, sheriff and county attorney left last evening for the scene and will view the remains in the expectation of identifying them conclusively.

There is little doubt from the description given by Doohen that it is that of the unfortunate girl who has been missing since last April and who, it is believed, was the victim of a brutal murder unparalled in the history of Northern Minnesota.

According to Doohen, the body had evidently been under the pile for some time as the grass was grown up about it and the boughs weather beaten by exposure. The disposition of the remains will rest with the officials who will notify relatives at Crookston if they prove to be those of Miss Dahl.

The hearing of the two men Colwell and Fournier, will be held today and probably extended awaiting developments from the recent discovery, The evidence against them is thus far of a circumstantial nature, based upon remarks said to have been made by Colwell in particular relative to being able to locate the body of the elder Dahl when the reward had reached one thousand dollars. The day following the notice that it had aeached that amount, he located the body as reported in previous dispatches.

Game Laws in Brief.

As the hunting season approaches, this brief summary of the game regulations of Minnesota will be convenient for reference and to freshen up the sportsman's memory:

Turtle dove, snipe, prairie chicken or pinnated grouse, white-breasted or sharp tailed grouse—Sept. 1st to Nov. 1.

Woodcock, upland plover—Sept. 1 to Nov. 1.

Quail, patridge, ruffled grouse, Mongolian, English or Chinese pheasant and common pheasant—Oct. 15 to Dec. 15.

Wild duck of any variety, or any variety of wild goose, brant, or any variety of aquatic fowl whatever—Sept. 1 to Dec. 1.

Unlawful to sell or offer for sale, also to have more than 100 ducks in possession at any one time, or more than 50 other game birds.

Number of game birds that may be killed limited to twenty-five per day.

Game birds, when legally killed, may be had in possession five days after close of open season.

Non-residents must secure license for small game and fish—cost $10.

Elk protected at all times.

Deer, male moose and caribou—Nov. 10 to Nov. 30.

No person allowed to kill more than three deer, one moose and one caribou during any open season.

Hunting deer, moose or caribou with dogs or light forbidden.

Shipment of carcasses or any part thereof out of state absolutely prohibited, except under licence.

Sale of deer, moose and caribou prohibited at all times.

Big game hunters must hold license. Fee for residents of Minnesota, $1; for non-residents $25. Licenses issued by county auditors to residents; by game and fish commission to non-residents.

Moose, deer or caribou, when lawfully killed, may be had in possession five days after close of open season.

Residents are allowed to ship three deer, one moose, one caribou, twenty-five birds and fifty pounds of fish during the season.

Non residents allowed to ship two deer, other game the same as resident sportsmen.

No shooting allowed in any state park or within half a mile outside its boundaries.

No license is required for small game shooting.

BETTER CAR SERVICE.

New Terminals at State Fair Grounds Will Add to Public Comfort.

One of the most important improvements at the Minnesota State Fair grounds this year is the new street railroad terminal station, which will make it possible for visitors to travel to and from the fair—from Minneapolis and St. Paul—with perfect comfort. A system of loops and storage tracks has been constructed at enormous expense. Operation of this system will be such that passengers will alight almost in the center of the fair grounds and within 200 yards of the grand stand. When leaving the fair grounds there will be found electric cars always standing ready, and at the close of the afternoon and evening performances there will be about 150 cars waiting on the storage tracks and with gates open so that they may be boarded at once.

This great supply of cars on the storage tracks will remove the possibility of discomfort when leaving the grounds.

The state fair will be held this year from August 29 to Sept. 3rd. Half-fare rates on all railroads.

A Great Sporting News Journal.

The illustrated special sporting section of the Sunday Chicago Record-Herald thoroghly deserves the attention of everyone interested in sporting news. It is always beautifully illustrated and embraces four full pages, covering with the thoroughness that satisfies to the utmost the whole realm of sports. Baseball news racing news, bowling news, cycling news, puglistic news, golf news, yachting news—all the sporting news is given with the greatest degree of fullness and interest. The sporting page of the daily issues is also exceptionally popular—a self-evident fact to those who have noted the general vogue of The Chicago Record-Herald among sporting men.

NEW YORK LIFE LEEDS.

Insurance Commissioner's Report Shows High Place of Company.

The superintendent of the insurance department reports that he has had a force of twenty-five examiners engaged for seven months in an examination of the affairs of the New York Life Insurance company, John A. McCall, president. The company has no investments in stocks of any kind. Its investments, $352,000,000, are confined to state government, municipal, railroad, and other bonds, and bonds and mortgages on improved real estate. The company's annual statement is verified as correct in every particular. The New York Life from the last annual reports of the superintendent has the largest number of policy holders, 812,711; the largest amount of new business, $326,000,000; the most insurance in force in force. $1,745,000.000, and the largest premium income, $73.600,000, and total income, $88,270,00, of any regular life insurance company reporting to the state insurance departments. It has been announced that the New York Life has received its concession to transact business everywhere in the German empire. The New York Life is the only one of the great American lifd companies now authorized to do business in Germany.

Will Plow With Wind.

Thief River News: H. S. Lanuing, an Iowa farmer, who bought a farm a few miles from Wylie two years ago, has completed the model of a monster windmill which he will erect in the center of his farm, and by which he expects to secure power from the elements to do the greater portion of his farm work. His idea is to fasten his plows to long cables connected with a long shaft that is geared to the windmill. He believes his plan will be successful, and will have the mill completed in time to experiment with it this fall hin doing is plowing. When in Iowa he was in the wind mill business, and built several after a model of his own that proved very satisfactory.

His neighbors cannot figure out how he can distribute his power where he wants to use it without machinery, the expense and enormousness of which would make it impracticable, but the inventor insists that he will be able to demonstrate that his idea is practicable, and that the expense connected with the scheme will not be prohibitive.

Dairy Notes.

(From the Ada Index.)

A bunch of nice, thrifty calves is tha prettiest sight on the farm.

As a general proposition it is poor economy to buy a second-hand churn. The first wear is the sweetest and best.

The men who succeed in dairying are those who keep abreast of the times; who familiarize themselves with all the facts that science and experience bring to light.

Several of our enterprising creameries are recognizing the difference between superior and inferior grades and are paying a higher price for milk and cream of better quality.

The home creamery pays, as a general rule, within two cents of New York prices, and anyone can see that at least this margin is necessary to pay the operating expenses of the creamery.

Dairying and stock-raising is what makes high priced land pay, and yet some of those who till the $30 and $40 land in our county assert that they cannot afford to keep cows, patronize a creamery and raise stock.

Every farmer should have a good tester and a pair of accurate scales, and no matter where he sells his milk or cream they should be used and careful account kept. In this way you can usually find out how some of the centralizing plants can afford to pay as high prices as they do.

Have the windows and doors of the creamery equipped with screens, and also have shades at the windows which may be lowered to completely darken the churn room. Then, during the hours of daylight, when the work is finished, darken the room by drawing the shades, allowing only a small ray of light to penetrate at one window. Here placa some sticky fly paper or poison, and the creamery may be easily kept free of tha pests. The most effectual way of keeping flies out of the cream and butter is to keep them out of the factory altogether.

The dairymen of Freeborn Co., Minn., met in special session recently to consider the advisability establishing a central churning plant at Alberta Lea. It was said at a previous meeting that outside parties were thinking of putting up such a plant there, and that if one was to be established it had bettor be done by the dairymen themselves, and operated on the co-operative plan. It developed that the dairymen were opposed to the establishment of such a plant and that it would receive no encouragement from them.

Quite a number of the dairymen have been using the hand separator for several years and were greatly pleased with the plan of seperating milk at home and taking the cream only to the creamery and wanted it to prosper, but that hand separator had come to stay and as time passed more would be used, and that it was to the interest of the co-operative system not to bar out separator cream.

It was conceded that just as good butter could be made from hand separator cream, if properly cared for, and delivered as often as the whole milk would be. After a full discussions of the matter a motion was carried without opposition declaring it the sense of the meeting that hand separator cream should be raceived by the creameries on the same basis that whole milk is. It is quite likely thet other county associations will take action in this matter, and that in time the most of them, if not all, will decida to receive hand separator cream under such regulations and restrictions that tha quality of the butter will not ha lowarad.—Farm, Stock, Home.

CRUISER RURIK SUNK

RUSSIAN VLADIVOSTOK SQUADRON DEFEATED BY A JAPANESE FLEET.

TWO OTHER WARSHIPS DAMAGED AND PUT TO FLIGHT AFTER HARD BATTLE.

PORT ARTHUR FLEET SCATTERED AS RESULT OF ATTEMPT TO GET AWAY.

Tokio, Aug. 15.—Vice Admiral Kamimura encountered the Russinn Vladivostok squadron at dawn Sunday north of Tsu Islands in the atrait of Korea and attacked the enemy at once. Tha battla laated for five hours and resulted in a complete victory for the Japanese. Tha Russlan cruiser Rurik was sunk and the cruisers Rossia and Gromoboi fled to the northward after having sustained serious damage. Vice Admiral Kamimura cables the navy department that the injuries inflicted upon his vessels were slight.

The fate of the crew of the Rurik is not known. It is presumed that many of them were killed or drowned. The strength of the fleet under Vice Admiral Kamimura is not known, but it is presumed that he had the Adsuma, Idsumo, Iwato, Takashiho and other light cruisers.

IS WIDELY SCATTERED

ATTEMPT OF THE PORT ARTHUR FLEET TO REACH VLADIVOSTOK PROVES FUTILE.

London, Aug. 12.—Dispatches from various points indicate that the attempt of the Russian Port Arthur aquadron to reach Vladivostok failed and that the vessels have become widely scattered. One torpedo boat destroyer put into Chefoo, where she was boarded and captured by the Japanese. The battleship Czarevitch, the cruiser Novik and a torpedo boat have arrived at Tsingchou, at the entrance or Kiaochau bay, the German concession on the southern shore of the Shantung peninsula. According to another dispatch the cruiser Askold is also at Tsingchou, but advices to the German foreign office do not include her. Another Russian cruiser and a torpedo boat destroyer are reported as near Shanghai and four battleships are off the Saddle islands, about seventy miles southeast of that port. Chefoo reports that one Russian torpedo boat was captured off the Chinese coast and Tokio hears that a number of vessels of the squadron have returned to Port Arthur.

The German foreign office has given instructions that the uninjured Russian war vessels at Tsingchou must leave port within twenty-four hours.

The Japanese system of communication has heretofore been so perfect that there can be little doubt that the government is thoroughly informed of the position of the various vessels of the escaped fleet and will be able to either drive them into neutral ports or attack them with overwhelming force.

SHELL HITS WITHOFT

COMMANDER OF RUSSIAN PORT ARTHUR FLEET KILLED IN RECENT ENGAGEMENT.

St. Patersburg, Aug. 13.—Rear Admiral Withoft, who was in command of the Russian naval forces at Port Arthur, was killed during the engagement on Wednesday.

The emperor has received a telegram from Tsingchou, signed by Captain Matousevitch, the rear admiral's chief of staff, reporting that Withoft met his death aboard the flagship Czarevitch. Both his legs were blown off.

London, Aug. 13.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a news agency says the machinery of the Russian battleship Czarevitch was so knocked about during the fight that most of it is worthless. She lost 210 officers and men killed and 60 wounded. Rear Admiral Withoft was on the bridge of the Czarevitch when a shell exploded there, blowing him to pieces.

REPORTED BY TOGO

SAYS FIVE RUSSIAN BATTLESHIPS WERE HEAVILY DAMAGED IN SEA FIGHT.

Tokio, Aug. 13.—Admiral Togo reports that five Russian battleships appear to have been heavily damaged in the engagement of Aug. 10. The Pobieda lost two masts and one of her heavy guns was disabled. The flagship Retvizan, which was hit several times at a distance of 3,500 yards, seems to have sustained the greatest injury. The damage inflicted on the Russian cruisers was comparatively slight. The Bayan has not appeared since the engagement. The damage sustained by the Japanese vessels has been temporarily repaired.

REPULSED AT ALL POINTS.

Japanese Made General Attack on Port Arthur Aug 10.

St. Petersburg, Aug. [illegible] peror has received [illegible] patch from Vice[illegible] Aug. 13:

"According [illegible] thur Aug. [illegible] attacked Taku and [illegible] in enormous force [illegible] of Aug. 9 and occu[illegible]teen hours fighting on [illegible] Aug. 10. During a heavy [illegible] Japanese attacked [illegible] but were repulsed at [illegible]. They also attacked simultaneously our whole front from Wolf hills to Laku mountain, but everywhere were driven back. The fortress has been bombarded from the east side for four days."

The receipt of the official dispatch announcing the repulse of an attack on Port Arthur revived the hopes that the fortress may prove impregnable. General Stoessel's dispatch also dispelled the ugly rumors current in the city that the stronghold had fallen.

ATTACKING FORTRESS

JAPS STORM AND CAPT[illegible] POSTS OF PORT ART[illegible] BAYONET CHA[illegible]

Chefoo, Aug. 16.—The Japanese [illegible] attack on Port Arthur has been [illegible] forward for several days. The heights of Taku, from which [illegible] temporary retirement had been made, were stormed and taken with the bayonet. These hills command the eastern bastions. Shuhku mountain and Yeauchang have also been captured, and the western side range of hills overlooking the west port is in the hands of the Japanese artillery.

Terrific pounding has gone on for a week. Assaults in force have yet to come. Japanese reinforcements arrive constantly. Each unit hands its guns to the artillery command on Wolf hill, where hundreds of guns are massed. From that direction will come the main assault through the river valleys.

IN BATTLE OF AUG. 10

JAPS REPORT THE SINKING OF A PROTECTED CRUISER OF THE PALLADA CLASS.

Tokio, Aug. 16.—Admiral Togo reports that a vessel of the type of the protected cruiser Pallada was torpedoed and sunk in the engagement of Aug. 10.

Chefoo, Aug. 16.—An unconfirmed report which has reached here from Tsingtau says the Russian cruiser Novik, which put into Tsingtau after the battle of Aug. 10 off Port Arthur and which coaled there and put to sea within her twenty-four hours' limit, has been sunk forty miles from Tsingtau.

HEIR TO THE THRONE

SON FINALLY IS BORN TO THE RULER OF THE VAST RUSSIAN EMPIRE.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 13.—A son and heir to the Russian throne has been born. The empress and the child are doing well.

The people throughout Russia have been praying for an heir to the throne and the famous Greek priest, Father John of Cronstadt, has recently been visiting the Alexandra villa at intervals to join in the prayers for an heir to the throne of Russia.

The emperor and empress of Russia (formerly Princess Alexis of Hesse) who were married Nov. 14, 1894, had previous to the birth of the child just born four daughters, Olga, born Nov 3, 1895; Tatiana, born May 29, 1897; Marie, born June 14, 1899, and Anastasia, born June 5, 1901.

The child will be named Alexis.

BRYAN LOSES IN SUIT.

Is Not Entitled to $50,000 of the Bennett Estate.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13.—A decision adverse to William J. Bryan in his contest over the will of the late P. S. Bennett of New York and this city was handed down by the supreme court of errors after an all day session.

The decision virtually denies that Mr. Bryan is entitled to the $50,000 mentioned in the sealed letter written by Mr. Bennett and addressed to his widow, to be read by her after his death. By this letter the widow was asked to give $50,000 to Mr. Bryan and his family.

The decision sustains the opinion given by the superior court in the case last spring and also the decision of the probate court, before which the matter was first brought up.

WARSHIP FOR HAYTI.

American Minister Reports Disturbances at Two Points.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The navy department has directed Admiral Sigsbee, commanding the Caribbean squadron, to send a warship to Gonaives and Jeremie, Hayti, Minister Powell having reported disturbances at those points. The Denver, now at Porto Rico, has been ordered on the mission.

Had Plenty of Counterfeits.

Boston, Aug. 13.—Ten thousand two hundred dollars in counterfeit $2 bills were found Friday by secret service agents in the house of Dr. Frank G. Sanft, a prominent Roxbury physician, after Sanft had been arrested on a charge of having passed a bogus bill.

AFTER A LONG DELAY

[illegible] LAST YIELDS AND AC[illegible] [illegible]MANDS OF THE [illegible]ATES.

[illegible] Affecting American [illegible] in That Country Ef[illegible] Minister Leishman—United States Squadron Sent to Turkish Waters to Aid in Forcing a Settlement Ordered to Depart.

Constantinople, Aug. 15.—After prolonged four parleys and considerable haggling on the part of the Turks, a [illegible] solution of the American school question has been arrived at, [illegible] the most im[illegible] demands, [illegible] to Ameri[illegible] treatment as [illegible] under the [illegible] atters af[illegible] in Turkey, [illegible] has also [illegible] er Leishman [illegible] Rear Admiral [illegible] of the United [illegible] to Smyrna, in[illegible] salute the batteries [illegible] depart.

The sitting of the council of ministers at which the settlement was agreed upon was a long one and it was not until near its close that an agreement was reached. Tha delay in the settlement is believed to have been caused by the intervention of the palace functionaries, whose policy, in order to retain the sultan's favor, consists of combatting the rights and privileges of foreign subjects.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The department of state says that for many years the treatment of educational establishments in the Ottoman empire founded and conducted by American citizens has been very unsatisfactory. While similar schools under the direction of other foreigners have been recognized as existing and have been accorded the regular license or imperial firman upon application therefor, applications on behalf of the schools under American control have passed unnoticed. Temporary permits obtained from the local authorities have been hedged in with restrictions and have not infrequently been ignored by the Turkish government. Difficulties and obstructions have constantly been put in the way of the American teachers, in marked contrast to the favors shown the schools of other nationalities and in contravention of the rights of American citizens in Turkey to the most favored treatment accorded to the citizens or subjects of other states.

Turkey having at last granted all the requests of the United States government, the American fleet will leave Smyrna. Minister Leishman was ordered to leave Turkey unless the sultan's reply were favorable.

MAY END THE TROUBLE.

Mayor Harrison Will Attempt to Settle Packers' Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Mayor Harrison will attempt to settle the stockyards strike today. He will meet the representatives of the strikers and hear their side of the controversy. Later in the day he will have a meeting with representatives of the packers and listen to their statement and he will then undertake the task of reconciling the differences.

A large committee of the retail dealers called upon him Monday and asked him to use his good offices in ending the strike. The mayor said that he would gladly do all that lay in his power to put an end to the trouble, and a meeting between him and the labor leaders was at once arranged for today.

The mayor then set about arranging a meeting with the packers and they promptly sent him word that they would meet him, but they were unable to agree upon an hour for the conference for the reason that the mayor could not tell how long his session would continue with the labor leaders. He will meet the packers, however, soon after the meeting with the men is over.

CRUISER RURIK SUNK

RUSSIAN VLADIVOSTOK SQUADRON DEFEATED BY A JAPANESE FLEET.

TWO OTHER WARSHIPS DAMAGED AND PUT TO FLIGHT AFTER HARD BATTLE.

PORT ARTHUR FLEET SCATTERED AS RESULT OF ATTEMPT TO GET AWAY.

Tokio, Aug. 15.—Vice Admiral Kamimura encountered the Russian Vladivostok squadron at dawn Sunday north of Tsu islands in the strait of Korea and attacked the enemy at once. The battle lasted for five hours and resulted in a complete victory for the Japanese. The Russian cruiser Rurik was sunk and the cruisers Rossia and Gromoboi fled to the northward after having sustained serious damage. Vice Admiral Kamimura cables the navy department that the injuries inflicted upon his vessels were slight.

The fate of the crew of the Rurik is not known. It is presumed that many of them were killed or drowned. The strength of the fleet under Vice Admiral Kamimura is not known, but it is presumed that he had the Adsuma, Idsumo, Iwato, Takasbibo and other light cruisers.

IS WIDELY SCATTERED

ATTEMPT OF THE PORT ARTHUR FLEET TO REACH VLADIVOSTOK PROVES FUTILE.

London, Aug. 12.—Dispatches from various points indicate that the attempt of the Russian Port Arthur squadron to reach Vladivostok failed and that the vessels have become widely scattered. One torpedo boat destroyer put into Chefoo, where she was boarded and captured by the Japanese. The battleship Czarevitch, the cruiser Novik and a torpedo boat have arrived at Tsingchou, at the entrance of Kiaochau bay, the German concession on the southern shore of the Shantung peninsula. According to another dispatch the cruiser Askold is also at Tsingchou, but advices to the German foreign office do not include her. Another Russian cruiser and a torpedo boat destroyer are reported as near Shanghai and four battleships are off the Saddle islands, about seventy miles southeast of that port. Chefoo reports that one Russian torpedo boat was captured off the Chinese coast and Tokio hears that a number of vessels of the squadron have returned to Port Arthur.

The German foreign office has given instructions that the uninjured Russian war vessels at Tsingchou must leave port within twenty-four hours.

The Japanese system of communication has heretofore been so perfect that there can be little doubt that the government is thoroughly informed of the position of the various vessels of the escaped fleet and will be able to either drive them into neutral ports or attack them with overwhelming force.

SHELL HITS WITHOFT

COMMANDER OF RUSSIAN PORT ARTHUR FLEET KILLED IN RECENT ENGAGEMENT.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 13.—Rear Admiral Withoft, who was in command of the Russian naval forces at Port Arthur, was killed during the engagement on Wednesday.

The emperor has received a telegram from Tsingchou, signed by Captain Matousevitch, the rear admiral's chief of staff, reporting that Witboft met his death aboard the flagship Czarevitch. Both his legs were blown off.

London, Aug. 13.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a news agency says the machinery of the Russian battleship Czarevitch was so knocked about during the fight that most of it is worthless. She lost 210 officers and men killed and 60 wounded. Rear Admiral Withoft was on the bridge of the Czarevitch when a shell exploded there, blowing him to pieces.

REPORTED BY TOGO

SAYS FIVE RUSSIAN BATTLESHIPS WERE HEAVILY DAMAGED IN SEA FIGHT.

Tokio, Aug. 13.—Admiral Togo reports that five Russian battleships appear to have been heavily damaged in the engagement of Aug. 10. The Pobieda lost two masts and one of her heavy guns was disabled. The flagship Retvizan, which was hit several times at a distance of 3,500 yards, seems to have sustained the greatest injury. The damage inflicted on the Russian cruisers was comparatively slight. The Bayan has not appeared since the engagement. The damage sustained by the Japanese vessels has been temporarily repaired.

REPULSED AT ALL POINTS.

Japanese Made General Attack on Port Arthur Aug 10.

St. Petersburg, Aug. [illegible].—The emperor has received the following dispatch from Viceroy Alexieff, dated Aug. 13:

"According to a report from Port Arthur Aug. 10, the Japanese attacked Taku and Siaoliou mountains in enormous force during the night of Aug. 9 and occupied them after fifteen hours' fighting on the night of Aug. 10. During a heavy rain storm the Japanese attacked our east front, but were repulsed at all points. They also attacked simultaneously our whole front from Wolf hills to Taku mountain, but everywhere were driven back. The fortress has been bombarded from the east side for four days."

The receipt of the official dispatch announcing the repulse of an attack on Port Arthur revived the hopes that the fortress may prove impregnable. General Stoessel's dispatch also dispelled the ugly rumors current in the city that the stronghold had fallen.

ATTACKING FORTRESS

JAPS STORM AND CAPTURE OUTPOSTS OF PORT ARTHUR BY BAYONET CHARGE.

Chefoo, Aug. 16.—The Japanese land attack on Port Arthur has been going forward for several days. The heights of Taku, from which temporary retirement had been made, were stormed and taken with the bayonet. These hills command the eastern bastions. Shahku mountain and Yeauchang have also been captured, and the western side range of hills overlooking the west port is in the hands of the Japanese artillery.

Terrific pounding has gone on for a week. Assaults in force have yet to come. Japanese reinforcements arrive constantly. Each unit hands its guns to the artillery command on Wolf hill, where hundreds of guns are massed. From that direction will come the main assault through the river valleys.

IN BATTLE OF AUG. 10

JAPS REPORT THE SINKING OF A PROTECTED CRUISER OF THE PALLADA CLASS.

Tokio, Aug. 16.—Admiral Togo reports that a vessel of the type of the protected cruiser Pallada was torpedoed and sunk in the engagement of Aug. 10.

Chefoo, Aug. 16.—An unconfirmed report which has reached here from Tsingtau says the Russian cruiser Novik, which put into Tsingtau after the battle of Aug. 10 off Port Arthur and which coaled there and put to sea within her twenty-four hours' limit, has been sunk forty miles from Tsingtau.

HEIR TO THE THRONE

SON FINALLY IS BORN TO THE RULER OF THE VAST RUSSIAN EMPIRE.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 13.—A son and heir to the Russian throne has been born. The empress and the child are doing well.

The people throughout Russia have been praying for an heir to the throne and the famous Greek priest, Father John of Cronstadt, has recently been visiting the Alexandra villa at intervals to join in the prayers for an heir to the throne of Russia.

The emperor and empress of Russia (formerly Princess Alexis of Hesse) who were married Nov. 14, 1894, had previous to the birth of the child just born four daughters, Olga, born Nov 3, 1895; Tatiana, born May 29, 1897; Marie, born June 14, 1899, and Anastasia, born June 5, 1901.

The child will be named Alexis.

BRYAN LOSES IN SUIT.

Is Not Entitled to $50,000 of the Bennett Estate.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13.—A decision adverse to William J. Bryan in his contest over the will of the late P. S. Bennett of New York and this city was handed down by the supreme court of errors after an all day session.

The decision virtually denies that Mr. Bryan is entitled to the $50,000 mentioned in the sealed letter written by Mr. Bennett and addressed to his widow, to be read by her after his death. By this letter the widow was asked to give $50,000 to Mr. Bryan and his family.

The decision sustains the opinion given by the superior court in the case last spring and also the decision of the probate court, before which the matter was first brought up.

WARSHIP FOR HAYTI.

American Minister Reports Disturbances at Two Points.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The navy department has directed Admiral Sigsbee, commanding the Caribbean squadron, to send a warship to Gonaives and Jeremie, Hayti, Minister Powell having reported disturbances at those points. The Denver, now at Porto Rico, has been ordered on the mission.

Had Plenty of Counterfeit.

Boston, Aug. 13.—Ten thousand two hundred dollars in counterfeit $2 bills were found Friday by secret service agents in the house of Dr. Frank G. Sanft, a prominent Roxbury physician, after Sanft had been arrested on a charge of having passed a bogus bill.

AFTER A LONG DELAY

TURKEY AT LAST YIELDS AND ACCEDES TO DEMANDS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Settlement of Matters Affecting American Interests in That Country Effected by Minister Leishman—United States Squadron Sent to Turkish Waters to Aid in Forcing a Settlement Ordered to Depart.

Constantinople, Aug. 15.—After prolonged pour parlers and considerable haggling on the part of the Turks, a satisfactory solution of the American school question has been arrived at. This matter, which is the most important of the American demands, was settled by extending to American schools the same treatment as that accorded to schools under the protection of other powers.

A settlement of other matters affecting American interests in Turkey, of secondary importance, has also been effected and Minister Leishman has telegraphed to Rear Admiral Jewell, in command of the United States squadron sent to Smyrna, instructing him to salute the batteries on land and depart.

The sitting of the council of ministers at which the settlement was agreed upon was a long one and it was not until near its close that an agreement was reached. The delay in the settlement is believed to have been caused by the intervention of the palace functionaries, whose policy, in order to retain the sultan's favor, consists of combatting the rights and privileges of foreign subjects.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The department of state says that for many years the treatment of educational establishments in the Ottoman empire founded and conducted by American citizens has been very unsatisfactory. While similar schools under the direction of other foreigners have been recognized as existing and have been accorded the regular license or imperial firman upon application therefor, applications on behalf of the schools under American control have passed unnoticed. Temporary permits obtained from the local authorities have been hedged in with restrictions and have not infrequently been ignored by the Turkish government. Difficulties and obstructions have constantly been put in the way of the American teachers, in marked contrast to the favors shown the schools of other nationalities and in contravention of the rights of American citizens in Turkey to the most favored treatment accorded to the citizens or subjects of other states.

Turkey having at last granted all the requests of the United States government, the American fleet will leave Smyrna. Minister Leishman was ordered to leave Turkey unless the sultan's reply were favorable.

MAY END THE TROUBLE.

Mayor Harrison Will Attempt to Settle Packers' Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Mayor Harrison will attempt to settle the stockyards strike today. He will meet the representatives of the strikers and hear their side of the controversy. Later in the day he will have a meeting with representatives of the packers and listen to their statement and he will then undertake the task of reconciling the differences.

A large committee of the retail dealers called upon him Monday and asked him to use his good offices in ending the strike. The mayor said that he would gladly do all that lay in his power to put an end to the trouble and a meeting between him and the labor leaders was at once arranged for today.

The mayor then set about arranging a meeting with the packers and they promptly sent him word that they would meet him, but they were unable to agree upon an hour for the conference for the reason that the mayor could not tell how long his session would continue with the labor leaders. He will meet the packers, however, soon after the meeting with the men is over.

TREASURER.

To the voters of Red Lake County. I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Red Lake county subject to the decision of the voters at the Republican primaries.
Ovide Moreau.

A prominent college president says: "If a boy puts the same amount of time and study into the training for agriculture that he would put into training for law or medicine he will in the great majority of cases make more money, enjoy greater freedom, better health and develop stronger character."

The Roseau Region is starting on the thirteenth year of its existence. The Region is so much better than the bigger share of the up-woods newspapers that one can hardly believe it is published at a little inland town and the "boys" in Northern Minnesota will trust that Editor Medicraft may continue to reap the rewards that his efforts merit.

Superintendent E. E. McIntire of this city feels very much encouraged over the prospects of his candidacy for state superintendent of public instruction, says the Crookston Times. Since his announcement that he would make the race for the appointment, letters have been showered upon him from all corners of the state, assuring him of hearty support. The prospects at the present time are much better than could be expected. It is likely that some of the other candidates will withdraw from the field and throw their candidacy to the Crookston man. It is not yet time to enter into the details of the fight, but suffice to say that a stiff fight is being made and unless all indications are at variance with custom, he is long in the lead for the office.

A word to the voters. At the general election in November you will have a chance to take a whack at those awful corporations that we hear so much about says the Battle Lake Review. The proposition that you will have a chance to vote on is to increase the gross earnings tax of corporations from three to four per cent. The same proposition was up for your consideration in 1902, but too many of you forget it and it failed to carry. The proposition comes in the shape of a constitutional amendment. Bob Dunn was one of the very first to agitate the matter and with Mr. Dunn as governor the law would be enforced but the people must first adopt it by a vote. It will be a cold day before you get equal taxation unless you show sufficient interest to vote on a proposition of this kind.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

THOMAS GERMO, Republican candidate for County Attorney, who made the race two years ago and was defeated by the narrow margin of five votes. Mr. Germo is daily receiving offers of support from throughout the county, and his prospects for a flattering endorsement could not be brighter. He is an energetic young lawyer, and one to whom the county could safely trust her affairs.

GIVING UP THE WEST.

The decision of the Democratic national committee not to establish secondary headquarters in the West confirms the early impression that they expect no electoral votes from this part of the country. There will be a sort of advisory committee, with nominal headquarters at Denver or Salt Lake, to keep track of the so-called debatable states in the Rocky mountain region; but we cannot suppose that the Cleveland gold-standard Democracy expects to carry any states in this extreme "enemy's country." They may look to pick up a single vote here and there, by trickery or purchase, as they have done now and then in the Pacific coast states ever since the time of Cleveland.

But how on earth do the Democrats expect to elect Parker without any Western votes? If we give him everything his most extravagant statisticians claim in the East and South, including Connecticut, Rhode Island, Delaware and West Virginia, he is still eight votes short of election. Surely he cannot expect to pick up as many as this in job lots west of the Missouri river. Mr. Bryan is still the Democratic idol of that part of the country. We suspect it was Bryan's unchangeable determination to make campaign speeches in Illinois that led the Parker men to give up that state. We shall be astonished if the Parker advisory committee do not have trouble with Mr. Bryan in the old silver mine states.

We have seen no Democratic estimates that left Illinois out of account. Some even find it necessary to count in Indiana or Wisconsin. To abandon all these is not only to give up the election, but to draw the sectional line between the two wings of the Democratic party in such a way as to make future harmony impossible. The only rational conclusion from this decision of the committee is that the conservatives have no hope of electing Parker and are planning only to keep control of the organization of a minority party.

DUNN ON TAX QUESTION.

Robert C. Dunn will make another fight for the four per cent gross earnings tax. He announced his intention before the republican state central committee the other day, of making his advocacy of adoption of the constitutional amendment providing for such a tax, the chief topic of all of his speeches during the present state campaign, says the Duluth News-Tribune.

The platform written by a declared "anti-merger" man, and adopted by the convention that nominated Mr. Dunn with out a "gross earnings" plank, and its author admitted when questioned by the former state auditor regarding the omission, that the matter simply had been overlooked. Mr. Dunn's declaration, therefore, has the effect of putting a new plank into the republican state platform.

Robert C. Dunn is no demagogue. He does not indulge in the sort of trust discussion that is described by John Lind as "all wind." He has always held that corporations should pay their fair share of the taxes, just as individuals should be taxed in just proportions, according to their holdings. His "policy" has always been to urge absolute tax equality. He has merely insisted upon the state receiving its just dues from them, as it should from every individual citizen within its borders.

Mr. Dunn, while state auditor, advocated the four per cent gross earnings tax in season and out of season. He was at the head and front of the influence that was successful, in 1901, in getting the legislature to submit it to a vote of the people in form of a constitutional amendment. This was done in 1902, and the amendment failed of adoption, not because of opposition, but because there wasn't in its favor the requisite number of votes. In 1903, the legislature was unanimous in its decision to re-submit the amendment.

Mr. Dunn has declared his purpose of presenting its merits to the people of Minnesota as the special feature of every speech he will make this campaign. The voters, at the coming general election, therefore, will find themselves made more familiar with the tax proposition that has for many sessions, been the most generally discussed measure before the legislature.

In taking this step, Mr. Dunn, is only following consistently in the path long ago marked out by himself, and is acting in accordance, as he firmly believes, with the wishes of the people of Minnesota, even though those wishes were inadvertently over lookedin the framing of the republican state platform, by a declared "anti-merger" man.

A Little Politics....

Sam Luxemburger, a prominent Lake Pleasant Democrat, announces that he will make the race for County Commissioner from this commissioner district. Mr. Luxemburger is a good fellow, and will no doubt receive the nomination at the hands of the Democrats.

Anthony Lafreniere, from his viewpoint in the Itasca county wilds, sizes up a Red Lake county political situation as follows:

"It is always a surprise when a Doe springs up before you unexpectedly and the same sensation must have come over the male candidates for county superintendent of schools in Red Lake county when Mrs. J. J. Doe, of Red Lake Falls, filed her intention of being a candidate for the republican nomination for that office. Sex, sympathy racket, widow, woman's winsomeness, pleasantness, all in her favor—oh, boys get out of the race."

Thomas Germo, Republican candidate for the nomination of County Attorney, has begun his canvass of the county, and the prospects for his election seem to be brigbter every day. Mr. Germo made a magnificent run two years ago, and by one of the queer crooks of politics was defeated by the narrow margin of five votes. Mr. Germo is a young lawyer of exceptional ability, and his success here has been earned by hard and concientious work, and he today enjoys a large and rapidly growing clientage. He is a good Republican and always lends strength to the ticket. Mr. Germo will make an active hustle for the nomination and election, and his friends feel that if chosen by the people they will never have reason to regret their choice.

As seen by his announcement elsewhere Ovide Moreau, a prominent resident of Terrebonne township, is a candidate for the Republican nomination as treasurer of Red Lake county, and that he will be nominated by the party there can be no doubt. Mr. Moreau is just the type of man to make an excellent race for the treasurership. A good business man of long-years experience, a first-rate mixer and a man who could fill the office in a highly creditable manner, be can go before the voters and ask their endorsement on his merits. Mr. Moreau will make an active canvass of the county, and his friends are predicting a clean victory. He is a good man to support, and the Republicans of the county will rally round his standard with more than ordinary satisfaction.

The St. Hilaire Spectator pays Ernest Buse, of this city, the following compliment in regard to his candidacy for sheriff:

"In this issue of the Spectator appears the announcement of Ernest Buse as a candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket. Mr. Buse is a pioneer resident of Minnesota, having been in the state for fifty years, and lived in what is now Red Lake county for twenty-six years. When this county was set off from Polk, Mr. Buse took an active part and was instrumental in getting the county organized. He is a civil war veteran, was in the Sioux uprisings and wherever tried has always been found to have staying qualities. Mr. Buse has ever been a staunch Republican, has done mucb for the welfare of tbe party, is of a free and genial disposition and one whose acquaintance once made is never forgotten. His large circle of friends and old acquaintances are enthusiastic in his campaign and feel confident that his candidacy will add strength to the Republican ticket."

"PE-RU-NA SAVED MY LIFE,"
Writes Mrs. W. McRoberts.

Mrs. L. M. Griffith, Arco, Idaho, writes: "I am thirty years old and never had any children; but since beginning your medicine I gave birth to a 10-pound baby girl. I am stronger than I have been since I was quite young. God bless you and your medicine forever."
MRS. L. M. GRIFFITH.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

"I Do All My Housework and Take Care of My Baby and I Feel So Good."

A YOUNG MOTHER'S LETTER.

Mrs. W. McRoberts, writes to Dr. Hartman from Delano, Miss., the following:

Delano, Miss.
Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio:

Dear Sir:—"I feel perfectly well of catarrh. I did as you directed me to and took Peruna and Manalin. The third of March I gave birth to a ten pound baby girl and we are both well and happy. I am very thankful to you and Peruna saved my life. I recommend it to everyone and can't praise it enough.

"I send you my own and my baby's picture. She is so sweet and good,—she is a Peruna baby. I have such good health now. I do all my housework and take care of my baby and feel so good.

"There are three or four of my neighbors using Peruna now since it did me so much good. They were just run down, and they think it is fine, it is so good to give strength."—Mrs. W. McRoberts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dupont came in from Terrebonne Monday and took the train here for the Twin cities; where George will spend a week attending to business matters while his wife visits. Mr. Dupont will return home at the end of that time but Mrs. Dupont goes to Waverly, Minn., for a longer visit with relatives before returning home.

Editor Harry E. Ives, for his last week's Spectator, wrote: "Yesterday, a swarm of bees lit upon a limb of the tree in front of Mrs. Smith Smitherson and presented a very interesting appearance." But Art Ittner, who was in a hurry to attend a ballgame, set it up: "Yesterday a swarm of bees lit upon a limb of Mrs. Smith Smitherson, which presented a very interesting appearance." The next day something madder than a swarm of bees lit upon Harry. It was Mrs. Smitherson.

Among the many institutions conducted by the state which are in every way meritorious and of lasting benefit to those who take advantage of them is the State School at Faribault for deaf and dumb children. The school is conducted by the state and is absolutely free to all children whose parents or guardians are citizens of the state. The object of the school is to provide those who are so unfortunate as to be either deaf or dumb with an education, so that they may become self-supporting. If there are any unfortunate children in this vicinity who desire to enter the school they may do so simply by notifying the superintendent, James N. Tate, at Faribault, who will gladly make the necessary arrangements for them.

Adelard Lemieux expects to leave the first of the week for St. Paul, where he will again take teratment for defective hearing. "Doc" has had considerable trouble with his ears of late, and his friends hope that he will find a permanent cure this time.

Omer Hall, the popular operator at the Great Northern depot, expects to leave next Monday for Brownsville, Nebraska, where he will visit his parents several weeks. This will be Mr. Hall's first visit home in several years, and he is looking forward to the trip with great pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Green left Wednesday for Forest River, North Dakota, having packed up their household goods and shipped them there. Mr. Green had spent several days here on business while his wife packed up the goods, and they now intend to remain at that place during the fall.

Mrs. E. M. Kezer and daughter, and Mrs. Boyd and children, Susie and Albert, left on Monday afternoon's passenger for Yellow Grass, Assiniboine, Canada, where they will join Mr. Kezer and make their future homes. Their friends here will wish them success in their work in the Canadian wilderness.

Paul I. D. Ostby, a prominent Emardville farmer, was a caller here yesterday and today. Mr. Ostby says that crops out his way are not as good as hoped for, but that the yield will be fair. The new railroad out his way will make things boom, and Mr. Ostby looks for prosperity to continue during the next year, in the advent of Roosevelt's election.

Representative L. C. Simons left Tuesday on a trip over east, and will spend a couple or three days in Beltrami county, looking after his political fences. Mr. Simons' Clearwater county opponent doesn't seem to be making much of a race, and it is the opinion of the Judge's friends that he will have an easy victory both at the primaries and the general election.

A Red River Valley Poultry association was organized at Crookston last week and a charter membership of 20 was secured as a starter. Conductor A. G. Lockman was elected president, and the association has members in every town in the neighborhood The Nauman brothers of this city joined, and look for much good to result from the formation of the association Annual meetings will be held at Crookston and everything looking to the advancement of the poultry industry attended to.

Deputy Public Examiner C. E. Johnson, of St. Paul, was a caller here Monday in his official capacity, and looked over affairs at the banks and court house. Mr. Johnson, in conversation with a Gazette reporter, stated that there are no counties in the state whose affairs are kept in better shape than Red Lake's, and very few that are as good. He stated that everything showed where an economical and judicious administration of the county's affairs was being given by its present officers, and spoke in glowing terms of them all. Mr. Johnson paid Auditor Ford exceptionally high compliments, which bears out the long-since found impression that no more worthy or competent official exists than Red Lake county's popular auditor.

P. K. Olson was in from Scotland and spent Sunday and Monday.

If you are thinking of going to College you should write to J. C. Sathre, of Crookston. It will pay you.

Mrs. Dr. I. Lemieux will leave the first of next week for the Twin cities, where she will spend some time selecting her fall stock of millinery. From there she will go to Fon du Lac and other points in Wisconsin, to visit some little time with relatives. She will be gone in the neighborhood of a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higinbotham arrived here from Forest City, Iowa. Monday and have spent the week at the home of their son, Vic, in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Higinbotham have visited here before, and have numerous friends who were pleased to greet them again.

Peter Fauts, living one mile south of Wylie, had a very narrow escape from a serious injury last Thursday afternoon. He was driving home on a load of hay, when in some manner the load tipped over, and in falling the tines of a pitchfork were forced through Mr. Fauts' leg near the thigh, just missing the bone. His sons helped him get the fork out, and came to town for Doctor Wilkinson, who dressed the injured member, and at present writing he is doing nicely. It was a close call, however.

The local lodge of Modern Brotherhood of America will meet in regular session the last Tuesday of this month. This will be an important meeting for that order inasmuch as at that time two delegates will be elected from here to attend the district convention at Moorhead, September 15. While no one has yet been selected it is likely that Sam Allard will be chosen to lead the delegation, as he has been instrumental in securing for the lodge the excellent growth recently made. At Moorhead two delegates will be elected from this district to attend the state convention in October, and Mr. Allard is also being mentioned as one of them. He is a fearless worker and an active member and the district would be assured of able representation should they choose him to represent them, which they will likely do.

The Great Northern is making a special rate of one fare for the round trip to Devils Lake for registration at the Fort Totten reservation drawing. Date of sale, Aug. 18 and 19. Good to return Aug. 23.

Ernest Buse, Fred Richard, Dan Johnson and Charley Brady went out to Dorothy Sunday and played ball with a couple of nines from Louisville township. Richards and Buse played with Dorothy, while Johnson and Brady took side with the Connerty nine of the same town. The Dorothy team won and the contest is said to have been exciting.

Tony Sebusser came down from Thief River Falls Monday and has visited with his mother this week. He has resigned his situation as foreman of the Press office and expects to start a newspaper in one of the new towns north of that place as soon as he can get things in shape. Tony is one of Red Lake Falls' best young men and will have the good wishes of a whole lot of friends for a successful business career.

Crookston Journal: Red Lake County Surveyor W. C. Smiley, who spent last evening in the city with friends and will leave this morning for Stephen where he has business matters of importance to attend to, stated last evening that the alleged possible railroad fight at Erskine was purely and solely a myth. Mr. Smiley is in a position to know matters of import to both the Soo and Great Northern and has as yet not heard the least rumor in regard to the trouble. On the other hand he has been informed by the chief engineers of both roads that the work would go on without interruption and that all of the details of the crossing had been amicably adjusted.

Mas. John E. King and children returned last Saturday from their extended visit in Indiana.

St. Mary's society will meet with Mrs. Frank A. Grady on Thursday, August 25. Everybody is invined.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Nauman arrived here last Thrusday morning, after their honeymoon trip to the World's Fair, and have set up housekeeping in the Sivigny residence on Third street. Mrs. Nauman has been introduced to her husband's countless friends during the week, and is royally welcomed to the social circles here.

Mrs. H. Gonigam and children, accompanied by J. P. Gonigam and Mrs. Gonigam, mother and brother of the late H. Gonigam, arrived yesterday from their sad mission to Illinois. Mrs. Gonigam and children will remain in Red Lake Falls until spring, at least, and J. P will settle up his brother's affairs before returning. The elderly Mrs. Gonigem expects to spend some time here.

Thief River Press: After a trial in Judge Bishop's court before a jury of twelve good men and true, J. W. McGinty, arrested under the state law for assault and battery on the person of Louis Seiff, was acquitted. The case occupied the attention of the court from 2 o'clock until 9 o'clock Tuesday, the case being prosecuted for the state by County Attorney Grady and for the defense by H. W. Lee. While there was no doubt as to McGinty commiting the assault, it was agreed generally that the fine of $17 inflicted by the Judge at the time of his arrest under the city ordinance was sufficient.

GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT.

Annual Reunion of Veterans in Session at Boston.

Boston, Aug. 16.—A reunion of Grand Army veterans, an exchange of happy recollections and a fraternal mingling of Confederates and Unionists Monday marked the opening in this city of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. At noon a parade of the Union ex-prisoners of war, bluejackets from the United States warships and others, marked the opening of the G. A. R. convention, together with its numerous subsidiary organizations, including the Woman's Relief corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R., and the Sons and Daughters of Veterans.

At night in historic Faneuil hall, a score of former Confederate officers gathered around the banquet board as the guests of Edward W. Kinsley post of Boston, as did also Lafayette post of New York, and here were enunciated the declarations that the North and South are strongly and inseparably welded, with the past strife forgotten.

In the striking pageant of the day marched survivors of three wars, the Mexican war, the Civil war, represented by the Union ex-prisoners, and the Spanish war as commemorated by the League of Spanish War Veterans. The parade, composed of about 6,000 men, was reviewed by Mayor Collins at City hall, and Governor Bates, Senator Lodge and John D. Long at the state house.

ENDS BY KILLING HIMSELF.

Montana Desperado Makes Desperate Attempt to Break Jail.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 12.—Isaac Gravelle, on trial for robbing a powder-house near Helena last September of giant powder, which was used in wrecking Northern Pacific trains, escaped from the Lewis and Clark county jail during the afternoon, probably fatally wounding Tony Korizek, a deputy sheriff.

Pursued by the deputy and John Raab, a butcher, who was armed, Gravelle took refuge in an alley beside the residence of Governor Joseph K. Toole, where a pistol duel took place. After an exchange of shots Gravelle ran into the basement of the governor's house, where he shot and killed himself. He had been wounded by bullets from the guns of his pursuers.

Gravelle was convicted five months ago of sending threatening letters to officials of the Northern Pacific, of whom he demanded $50,000. It was proved that he had dynamited Northern Pacific trains and property in an effort to blackmail the company. He was captured after a long campaign that cost the Northern Pacific $50,000. He was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

PARKER'S ACCEPTANCE.

Candidate of Democratic Party Formally Notified.

Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Judge Alton B. Parker Wednesday received formal notification of his nomination for the presidency of the United States as the candidate of the Democratic party and in accepting gave public expression for the first time of his views on the issues of the campaign.

The notification was brought to him by Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, as chairman of a committee representing every state and territory in the Union. Mr. Clark in a brief speech informed the candidate of his nomination and presented to him a formal communication signed by the committee.

In his speech of acceptance Judge Parker gave his views on the principal issues of the day. He declared in favor of tariff reduction; enforcement of the laws against monopolies; self government for the Philippines; opposition to militarism and imperialism, and announced his intention not to accept a renomination if successful in the present contest.

NEWS IN MINNESOTA

EVENTS OF THE WEEK THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

Joseph Haley, a veteran architect of Minneapolis, is dead.

The total assessed valuation of Minneapolis is $135,000,000.

James Mack was run down by a Northern Pacific train at Minneapolis and suffered the loss of both legs.

John Knight, seventeen years of age, was drowned in Cedar lake at Minneapolis while swimming with some companions.

J. [illegible] of Minneapolis was elected president of the Interstate Sheriffs' association at their annual convention at St. Louis.

John Arneson, five years old, was run over by a Great Northern switch engine at Carman and was instantly killed. His body was cut in two.

George Kimmel, seven years old, was ground to death under a freight train at the Toronto street crossing of the Milwaukee road at St. Paul.

Pending a more certain outlook as to the flour demand and the price of cash wheat all but five of the Minneapolis flour mills have shut down indefinitely.

John Pleva, aged fifteen, died at the Minneapolis city hospital last week, the victim of a revolver bullet in his head, accidentally fired by Glynn Phillips, twelve years old.

P. A. Ewart, assistant attorney general, has made a ruling in reply to the secretary of state that tha Socialist or "Public Ownership" party will have to get its nominees on the ticket by petition.

A fire which gutted the Printers' Exchange in Minneapolis Friday night caused a total loss of $80,000 and serious injury to six firemen, among whom was Assistant Chief Kehoe. One of the firemen will probably die.

The Bank of Hazel Run, Yellow Medicine county, was robbed of $3,000, the contents of a "burglar proof" safe, at midnight Thursday. The robbers used dynamite and wrecked the bank building. They made their escape.

The Great Western Cycle company's store, 612 First avenue southeast, Minneapolis, was entered by burglars Thursday evening for the twentieth time in three years. A number of revolvers and much fishing tackle were stolen.

The barn of G. Gesche, in the township of Cordova, near Waterville, was struck by lightning and burned with all its contents, including four head of horses. Mr. Gesche was seriously injured in trying to save one of the horses.

James Taylor, sixty-six years old, was struck by a Milwaukee train at the junction of Nineteenth avenue south and Twenty-fifth street, Minneapolis, sustaining injuries from which he died at the city hospital a short time later.

At the last meeting of tha board of the soldiers' home the matter of excluding veterans from the home who were receiving a pension of $12 or more a month was discussed and the members favored the plan in order to cut down expenses.

James Konkle, a resident of Minnesota in the territorial days, was found dead in a chair at his home in St. Paul. Death is thought to have been caused by heart failure, induced by a chill, which seized the octogenarian after he had taken an ice cold drink.

William Gruble and Albert [illegible] were working on the steeple of St. Paul's Catholic church at Sauk Center, 120 feet from the ground, when the scaffold suddenly gave away. By the merest chance they caught on the staging eight feet below and thus saved themselves.

A single check for $137,000 which passed through the Minneapolis clearinghouse Saturday marked the final transaction in the greatest and most successful speculative campaign in the history of the Northwest, a campaign in which three Minneapolis men took out of the wheat market profits of not less than $1,000,000.

William Norton, son of Conrad Norton of Arlington, committed suicide by hanging in his father's barn. He was twenty-two and left home about a year ago, enlisting in the army. Since then the parents had no knowledge of his whereabouts until his mother discovered his body hanging in the barn. It is believed he was insane.

Miss Nannie Johnson of South St. Paul met with a very peculiar accident, the result of which, it is feared, will be the total loss of the sight of one of her eyes. As Miss Johuson was walking along a St. Paul street a man passing in a buggy threw away a cigar stub, the lighted end of which struck Miss Johnson in the eye and some of the sparks and ashes penetrated beyond the eyelids.

The state board of equalization, which will convene at the capitol Sept. 5, will have to add approximately $8,000,000 to the personal property assessment to bring it up to the same figure as fixed by the board last year, if the counties yet to report show the same percentage of falling off in valuation as the thirty-two counties that have already sent their abstracts to the state auditor.

Believing that there is very little demand for farmhands in Minnesota and the Northwest Labor Commissioner John O'Donnell has abandoned the plan proposed some time ago of establishing a free employment bureau in the Twin Cities. Mr. O'Donnell has received information from a large number of bankers and business men throughout the state that there is not the customary dearth of farmhands this year.

In response to a bid which will amount to $573,049.40 the state board of investment has determined to sell to Blodgett, Merritt & Co. of Boston $564,000 of Alabama state bonds, maturing in 1906, and in the aggregate drawing interest at slightly less than 5 per cent. The bonds are held by the permanent school fund, one of the fixed trust funds of the state, and the sale is made for the purpose of investing the proceeds, with other moneys of the permanent school fund, in Minnesota state capitol certificates of in[illegible]

The state capitol certificates will run twenty-five years and will bear interest at 3½ per cent.

Office of County Auditor.
Red Lake County, Minnesota.

To Louisville Trust Co

You are hereby notified that on the 8th day of May, A. D. 1901, in proceedings to enforce the payment of delinquent taxes pursuant to that certain real estate judgment, which was entered in the district court in and for the county of Red Lake in the 14th Judicial District in the state of Minnesota, on the 21st day of March, A. D. 1901, the above described pieces or parcels of land situated in Red Lake county, state of Minnesota, were bid into the state to satisfy the amount for which they were adjudged liable in said judgment, interest and costs for the above named sum, that the above described real estate is not and now is the Absolute Property of the state;

That on the above stated date the above described real estate was sold by the county auditor of Red Lake county, as directed by the state auditor, in accordance with section 101 of Chapter II of General Statutes of 1878, and the several acts amendatory thereto, for the sum above stated; that the amount required to redeem said pieces or parcels of land from such sale at the date hereof, (exclusive of the costs to accrue on this notice) is the amount above stated, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from said above date, until such redemption is made, and that the time for redemption of said pieces or parcels of land from such sale will expire sixty days after the service of this notice, and proof thereof has been filed in the office of the county auditor of this county.

Witness my hand and official seal this 13th day of August, A. D. 1904.

JAMES E. FORD,
County Auditor, Red Lake County, Minnesota.

MRS. CECELIA STOWE,
Orator, Entre Nous Club.

176 Warren Avenue,
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22, 1902.

For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disheartened as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a disconsolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

Cecelia Stowe

Mrs. Stowe's letter shows every woman how a home is saddened by female weakness and how completely Wine of Cardui cures that sickness and brings health and happiness again. Do not go on suffering. Go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui.

Cecil Davis of Cadillac, Mich., has succeeded in ending her life after twenty-five attempts.

The [illegible] of papermakers in the Fox River valley of Wisconsin has been broken, the old men returning to work under the terms of the mill owners.

Miss Clara Bourland, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Hon. W. E. Bourland of Dixon, Ky., has been killed by lightning while talking over a telephone during a heavy thunder storm.

Four men were severely scalded, one fatally, by the blowing up of a crown sheet in a locomotive hauling an extra freight train on the Great Northern road, three miles west of Wellington, Wash.

GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT.

Annual Reunion of Veterans in Session at Boston.

Boston, Aug. 16.—A reunion of Grand Army veterans, an exchange of happy recollections and a fraternal mingling of Confederates and Unionists Monday marked the opening in this city of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. At noon a parade of the Union ex-prisoners of war, bluejackets from the United States warships and others, marked the opening of the G. A. R. convention, together with its numerous subsidiary organizations, including the Woman's Relief corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R., and the Sons and Daughters of Veterans.

At night in historic Faneuil hall, a score of former Confederate officers gathered around the banquet board as the guests of Edward W. Kinsley post of Boston, as did also Lafayette post of New York, and here were enunciated the declarations that the North and South are strongly and inseparably welded, with the past strife forgotten.

In the striking pageant of the day marched survivors of three wars, the Mexican war, the Civil war, represented by the Union ex-prisoners, and the Spanish war as commemorated by the League of Spanish War Veterans. The parade, composed of about 6,000 men, was reviewed by Mayor Collins at City hall, and Governor Bates, Senator Lodge and John D. Long at the state house.

ENDS BY KILLING HIMSELF.

Montana Desperado Makes Desperate Attempt to Break Jail.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 12.—Isaac Gravelle, on trial for robbing a powder-house near Helena last September of giant powder, which was used in wrecking Northern Pacific trains, escaped from the Lewis and Clark county jail during the afternoon, probably fatally wounding Tony Korizek, a deputy sheriff.

Pursued by the deputy and John Raab, a butcher, who was armed, Gravelle took refuge in an alley beside the residence of Governor Joseph K. Toole, where a pistol duel took place. After an exchange of shots Gravelle ran into the basement of the governor's house, where he shot and killed himself. He had been wounded by bullets from the guns of his pursuers.

Gravelle was convicted five months ago of sending threatening letters to officials of the Norther Pacific, of whom he demanded $50,000. It was proved that he had dynamited Northern Pacific trains and property in an effort to blackmail the company. He was captured after a long campaign that cost the Northern Pacific $50,000. He was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

PARKER'S ACCEPTANCE.

Candidate of Democratic Party Formally Notified.

Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Judge Alton B. Parker Wednesday received formal notification of his nomination for the presidency of the United States as the candidate of the Democratic party and in accepting gave public expression for the first time of his views on the issues of the campaign.

The notification was brought to him by Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, as chairman of a committee representing every state and territory in the Union. Mr. Clark in a brief speech informed the candidate of his nomination and presented to him a formal communication signed by the committee.

In his speech of acceptance Judge Parker gave his views on the principal issues of the day. He declared in favor of tariff reduction; enforcement of the laws against monopolies; self-government for the Philippines; opposition to militarism and imperialism, and announced his intention not to accept a renomination if successful in the present contest.

Policemen Badly Battered.

New York, Aug. 15.—Captain Lantry and four patrolmen engaged in the beef strike work were badly battered before they succeeded in subduing and placing under arrest a man who had made a fierce attack on several non-union men employed by the Schwarzchild & Sulzberger company.

NEWS IN MINNESOTA

EVENTS OF THE WEEK THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

Joseph Haley, a veteran architect of Minneapolis, is dead.

The total assessed valuation of Minneapolis is $135,000,000.

James Macki was run down by a Northern Pacific train at Minneapolis and suffered the loss of both legs.

John Knight, seventeen years of age, was drowned in Cedar lake at Minneapolis while swimming with some companions.

J. W. Dreger of Minneapolis was elected president of the Interstate Sheriffs' association at their annual convention at St. Louis.

John Arneson, five years old, was run over by a Great Northern switch engine at Carman and was instantly killed. His body was cut in two.

George Kimmel, seven years old, was ground to death under a freight train at the Toronto street crossing of the Milwaukee road at St. Paul.

Pending a more certain outlook as to the flour demand and the price of cash wheat all but five of the Minneapolis flour mills have shut down indefinitely.

John Pieva, aged fifteen, died at the Minneapolis city hospital last week, the victim of a revolver bullet in his head, accidentally fired by Glynn Philipps, twelve years old.

P. A. Ewart, assistant attorney general, has made a ruling in reply to the secretary of state that the Socialist or "Public Ownership" party will have to get its nominees on the ticket by petition.

A fire which gutted the Printers' Exchange in Minneapolis Friday night caused a total loss of $80,000 and serious injury to six firemen, among whom was Assistant Chief Kehoe. One of the firemen will probably die.

The Bank of Hazel Run, Yellow Medicine county, was robbed of $3,000, the contents of a "burglar proof" safe, at midnight Thursday. The robbers used dynamite and wrecked the bank building. They made their escape.

The Great Western Cycle company's store, 612 First avenue southeast, Minneapolis, was entered by burglars Thursday evening for the twentieth time in three years. A number of revolvers and much fishing tackle were stolen.

The barn of G. Gesche, in the township of Cordova, near Waterville, was struck by lightning and burned with all its contents, including four head of horses. Mr. Gesche was seriously injured in trying to save one of the horses.

James Taylor, sixty-six years old, was struck by a Milwaukee train at the junction of Nineteenth avenue south and Twenty-fifth street, Minneapolis, sustaining injuries from which he died at the city hospital a short time later.

At the last meeting of the board of the soldiers' home the matter of excluding veterans from the home who were receiving a pension of $12 or more a month was discussed and the members favored the plan in order to cut down expenses.

James Konkle, a resident of Minnesota in the territorial days, was found dead in a chair at his home in St. Paul. Death is thought to have been caused by heart failure, induced by a chill, which seized the octogenarian after he had taken an ice cold drink.

William Gruble and Albert Helm were working on the steeple of St. Paul's Catholic church at Sauk Centre, 120 feet from the ground, when the scaffold suddenly gave away. By the merest chance they caught on the staging eight feet below and thus saved themselves.

A single check for $137,000 which passed through the Minneapolis clearinghouse Saturday marked the final transaction in the greatest and most successful speculative campaign in the history of the Northwest, a campaign in which three Minneapolis men took out of the wheat market profits of not less than $1,000,000.

William Norton, son of Conrad Norton of Arlington, committed suicide by hanging in his father's barn. He was twenty-two and left home about a year ago, enlisting in the army. Since then the parents had no knowledge of his whereabouts until his mother discovered his body hanging in the barn. It is believed he was insane.

Miss Nannie Johnson of South St. Paul met with a very peculiar accident, the result of which, it is feared, will be the total loss of the sight of one of her eyes. As Miss Johnson was walking along a St. Paul street a man passing in a buggy threw away a cigar stub, the lighted end of which struck Miss Johnson in the eye and some of the sparks and ashes penetrated beyond the eyelids.

The state board of equalization, which will convene at the capitol Sept. 6, will have to add approximately $8,000,000 to the personal property assessment to bring it up to the same figure as fixed by the board last year, if the counties yet to report show the same percentage of falling off in valuation as the thirty-two counties that have already sent their abstracts to the state auditor.

Believing that there is very little demand for farmhands in Minnesota and the Northwest Labor Commissioner John O'Donnell has abandoned the plan proposed some time ago of establishing a free employment bureau in the Twin Cities. Mr. O'Donnell has received information from a large number of bankers and business men throughout the state that there is not the customary dearth of farmhands this year.

In response to a bid which will amount to $573,049.40 the state board of investment has determined to sell to Blodgett, Merritt & Co. of Boston $564,000 of Alabama state bonds, maturing in 1906, and in the aggregate drawing interest at slightly less than 5 per cent. The bonds are held by the permanent school fund, one of the fixed trust funds of the state, and the sale is made for the purpose of investing the proceeds, with other moneys of the permanent school fund, in Minnesota state capitol certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $500,000. The state capitol certificates will run twenty-five years and will bear interest at 3½ per cent.

To Louisville Trust Co

Office of County Auditor,
Red Lake County, Minnesota.

You are hereby notified that on the 8th day of May, A. D. 1901, in proceedings to enforce the payment of delinquent taxes pursuant to that certain real estate judgment, which was entered in the district court in and for the county of Red Lake in the 14th Judicial District in the state of Minnesota, on the 21st day of March, A. D. 1901, the above described pieces or parcels of land situated in Red Lake county, state of Minnesota, were bid into the state to satisfy the amount for which they were adjudged liable in said judgment, interest and costs, for the above named sum; that the above described real estate has become and now is the Absolute Property of the state.

That on the above stated date the above described real estate was sold by the county auditor of Red Lake county, as directed by the state auditor, in accordance with section 101 of Chapter 11 of General Statutes of 1878, and the several acts amendatory thereto, for the sum above stated; that the amount required to redeem said pieces or parcels of land from such sale at the date hereof (exclusive of the costs to accrue on this notice) is the amount above stated, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from said above date, until such redemption is made, and that the time for redemption of said pieces or parcels of land from such sale will expire sixty days after the service of this notice, and proof thereof has been filed in the office of the county auditor of this county.

Witness my hand and official seal this 13th day of August, A. D. 1904.

JAMES E. FORD,
County Auditor, Red Lake county, Minnesota.

MRS. CECELIA STOWE,
Orator, Entre Nous Club.

176 Warren Avenue,
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22, 1902.

For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disheartened as well as I, for a house with a sick woman is a disconsolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another woman.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Cronse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks pretty highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines. [illegible], Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials Address: F. J. NEW SHORT STORIES

When Mr. Bissell "Talked."

The late Wilson S. Bissell was a close friend of President Cleveland, and when he was a member of the cabinet the president talked very frankly with him and often at him when he was really criticising some other member of the cabinet. Among other things which the president did not like were cabinet interviews, and one day he expressed his mind freely upon the subject, saying that the constant interviews with cabinet officers in the public press on all sorts of trivial subjects were undignified. The day this lecture took place a newspaper man had interviewed Bissell about affairs in the postoffice department and had prepared a very good story, using quotation marks freely. There was not much in the interview, no subject of importance, and it appeared in different papers under headlines such as "Interview With the P. M. G.," "Discussed by Bissell," "Mr. Bissell Talks," etc.

The next day a dozen messengers informed the interviewer that the postmaster general wanted to see him. When he entered the office he found that official in a state of frenzy. His large face was red with excitement and passion.

"What do you mean," he shouted, "by interviewing me? What did you put me in quotation marks for? Don't you know that cabinet officers must not be quoted?" And much more to the same effect.

When the newspaper man got a chance he asked if there had been a misquotation and received a negative reply. "Why, I was fixing up a little story for your benefit," the journalist said. "I thought you would want people to know that you were a member of the cabinet and attending to business. Now, really, general, you ought to feel flattered."

"Oh, I know there's no harm in it, and you meant well, but I must not be quoted or interviewed. Cabinet officers must not talk. And look at the headlines," he continued, flourishing a paper. "'Mr. Bissell Talks,' blankety blank it!"

The newspaper man could stand it no longer and laughed outright, and finally the good natured Bissell joined him, although he was still far from pleased. The interview and the headlines, coming on the heels of the Cleveland lecture about cabinet officers talking too much, had greatly disturbed him. He was apparently the first man to violate the new instructions.

He Took It Quietly.

John Morley in his life of Gladstone tells how the latter received his first invitation from Queen Victoria to form a ministry. It was in 1868. He writes: "On the afternoon of Dec. 1 he received at Hawarden the communication from Windsor. 'I was standing by him,' says Mr. Evelyn Ashley, 'holding his coat on my arm while he in his shirt sleeves was wielding an ax to cut down a tree. Up came a telegraph messenger. He took the telegram, opened it and read it, then handed it to me, speaking only two words, "Very significant," and at once resumed his work. The message merely stated that General Grey would arrive that evening from Windsor. This of course implied that a mandate was coming from the queen charging Mr. Gladstone with the formation of his first government. After a few minutes the blows ceased, and Mr. Gladstone, resting on the handle of his ax, looked up and, with deep earnestness in his voice and with great intensity in his face, exclaimed, "My mission is to pacify Ireland." He then resumed his task and never said another word till the tree was down.'"

"MY MISSION IS TO PACIFY IRELAND."

Ready For the Test.

A teacher in one of the schools near Philadelphia had one day been so disturbed by the buzzing of lips and shuffling of feet of the children that she was on the verge of distraction. Finally she said: "Children, I cannot stand so much noise. Please be quiet, for a little while at least. Let me see if you can't be so still that you could hear a pin drop."

Instantly every child became as still as a mouse. Then a little boy in a back seat piped out with marked impatience:

"Well, let her drop!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Germo drove to Scotland Tuesday.

The band will give an open air concert on Main street Friday evening.

Don't forget the open-air band concert on Main street Friday evening.

Deputy Sheriff George Jarman was here from Thief River Falls yesterday.

E. C. Endow, chief lineman for the N. P. railroad, was here from Crookston yesterday.

Miss Albina Lemieux expects to leave Monday for an extended visit with friends at Argyle.

Merchant W. H. Robinson, of Scotland, returned Monday from his trip to the cities and proceeded to his home town by team.

Attorney W. P. Murphy, of Crookston, was here yesterday as court reporter, to take Charlie Lohn's place at the special term of court.

The Democratic primaries to elect delegates to the county convention at St. Hilaire Monday will be held in the various precincts Saturday evening.

The program arranged for Friday evening's band concert contains many favorites with the music-loving public, and a good crowd should turn out.

A class-pin bearing the monogram "M. N. S." was lost on Main street last Saturday night. A suitable reward will be paid for its return to this office.

County Auditor Hoffard, of Polk county, was over from Crookston yesterday and attended the special term of court as a witness in the suit against the town of Gervais.

L. E. Metzgar went out on the Duluth line last week in the interests of the Red Lake Falls Milling company, and has talked "Mascot" to the dealers over east since that time.

The Misses Lulu Fletcher and Etta Gareeau, two of Red Lake Falls' brightest young ladies, will enter the Moorhead Normal school at the commencement of the fall term.

Hugo Zalser will leave for the cities next week, where he will remain until the opening of the "U", when he will take up his second year's work at that institution of learning.

Miss Tessie McCaffery returned yesterday from St Hilaire, where she underwent an operation for appendicites the first of last week. She recovered nicely, and will soon be entirely well.

The Y. P. S. C. E. gave a supper at the Presbyterian church parlors last evening, and a large number of people turned out to partake of their hospitality. The menu was an elaborate one, and the young ladies netted approximately $55 as a result of their efforts.

Auditor Ford received notice from the Secretary of State this week that a general election would be held November 8. This will be good news to the public, as they hadn't yet discovered that such an event was to come off. Candidates can now file and not be afraid of losing their $10.

Dr. N. M. Watson drove to Crookston yesterday afternoon and caught a train there for Grand Forks, where he spent last evening visiting with an old-time college chum who was passing through there. The two had not met in several years and it is safe to presume that the pleasure at this meeting was mutual.

Ernest Buse expects to go to Minneapolis early in September to enter one of the leading business colleges and take a course in stenography and book-keeping. Ernest is built of the material that makes good men, and his friends look for him to make a great success in his work.

Master Herbert Findelsen entertained a party of about forty of his boy and girl friends on the lawn at the residence of Thomas Germo last Friday afternoon. The guests were treated in an entertaining manner during the afternoon, and elegant refreshments were served them before their departure.

They say that a certain Red Lake Falls man went home the other morning along about 2 o'clock. In his arms he carried two boxes of red raspberries and his shoes. He crept softly to his room, and carefully depositing the raspberries under the bed, tiptoed out to the kitchen where he guardedly chucked the shoes in the ice-box. Then he went to bed.

Thief River Review: The broad expansive smile on Mayor Hauson's face is not caused from the fact that the fine flour mill he is one of the owners of will soon be finished, nor from the fact that he will soon lay down the arduous duties of county commissioner, to which office he could easily have been re elected had he only said the word, but is caused by the arrival of a daughter at his home, which put in an appearance last Thursday, and which with the mother is doing well.

Crookston Times: Emil Hennings arrived in the city this morning from Minneapolis and left for his home at Red Lake Falls where he will spend a two months vacation. He has a lucrative situation in one of the large jewelery stores of Minneapolis, and likes his work. However, he says it is a boon to get back into the Red River Valley even for a short vacation. He managed to get off this year at a time when chicken shooting can be enjoyed.

When young men or women contemplate a business education they should consider well the school and select one which has the best facilities and epuippments. The Metropolitan Commercial College, of Minneapolis, has unexcelled advantages to offer. prospective students This college is one of the best governed, soundest morally and strongest financially. All graduates are placed in good positions. Write them for catalog.

We are getting full effect of adverse crop reports this week. The price is soaring. Farmers are helping all they can by over-estimating the damage and under-estimating the percentage of uninjured grain. Farmers have no grain to sell just now. About the time they have the price will be lower, because the adverse reports will be found to be too adverse. At least, such is the course of the market three out of every four years, says Wheelock's Fergus Falls weekly.

Fosston Thirteen Towns: A vacant dwelling near Mentor was burned last Monday night and it is believed that the fire was set for the purpose of drawing the people away from the village by intended burglars, but their plans were suspected and special guards remained on duty in the village throughout the remainder of the night. Daring robberies have been of frequent occurrence this season throughout the Northwest, and a desperate gang of thieves is still running at large.

Erskine Echo: The Soo trains are now within seven miles of town and by Wednesday, if nothing delays them the trains will be running into this village. The grade from this point to north of Thief River Falls is almost all finished, and the work or laying the steel is being pushed to the fullest capacity. The report that started at Crookston to the affect that the G. N. was going to block the Soo at the crossing at this point is absolutely false, as all matters pertaining to the crossing was settled by both companies some time ago.

Crookston Journal: S. M. Sivertson. of the Crookston and Red Lake Falls Milling Companies, who has spent the major portion of his time during the past two weeks in the fields and upon overland trips team, while in the city last evening stated that the crop situation throughout the valley was a great deal better than he imagined. From actual observation of the fields Mr. Sivertson has come to the conclusion that the harvest this fall will be a good one and that the people who are at the present time bemoaning short crops will find their hard luck crop stories greatly exaggerated.

Thief River Press: A big work that has been in progress for the past two months was completed last week. The labor in question was the building by W. A. Schreiter of two big new flumes to replace the old ones in use by the O. K. Mill, the new mill necessitating the improvement. Jos. Rose, of Red Lake Falls has been in charge of the work, having under him a large force of men. The job is estimated must have cost in the neighborhood of $3,000, but the improvements are now permanent and will need no repairs for many years. The east wing of the dam will probably also be rebuilt this summer.

At Thief River Falls last Thursday evening, Charles Brady, of this city, and Paranteau, the professional foot racer of that town, run 100 yards for a purse of $25 and the championship of the Valley. The race was run in 10 seconds flat, and although Brady got a poor start he lead the lanky Thief Riverite three feet at the finish. Charley is probably the fastest man in the northwest at the present time, and a few months under a good trainer would put him in shape to go after and get the world's record for 100 yards. Paranteau acknowledged that Brady was his superior, and when the fact that Paranteau has been a professional runner several years is known, his admission speaks well for the Red Lake Falls boy.

SOO AT ERSKINE.

Construction Train Reaches That Point Yesterday.

The construction train of the new Soo line from Detroit to Emerson reached Erskine yesterday, and the town turned out en masse to welcome the advent of the new railroad.

The work is progressing at a rapid rate, and the line will go across Red Lake county in a short time now.

The report that the Great Northern was to put stumbling blocks in the Soo's way in this part of the country was entirely a myth, and was undoubtedly started by some over-zealous reporter.

The advent of the Soo means a new era of prosperity for Eastern Red Lake county, and there is happiness there as a result.

THE MURDER MYSTEY.

Inquest Held But No Developements Resulted.

Thief River Review: The inquest over the remains of Hilding Olson will be held by Coroner Grundy today. County Attorney Grady has been in the city the past few days getting evidence but it is not thought that evidence enough has been discovered to lay the crime on any certain person at this time.

Swan Olson, of Atkinson, Minn., and C. B. Olson, of Superior, Wis., father and brother of Hilding Olson, arrived in this city on Saturday's train. Both of these gentlemen, when seen by a Review man, showed the strain of worry over the mysterious death of son and brother.

To us they stated that Hilding Olson was 22 years old, was born in Sweden, coming to this country about three years ago. Besides his mother and father he had five brothers, two in Grafton, N. D., two in Aitkinson, Minn., and one in Superior, Wis. He left his home in Aitkinson about May 5th, in good spirits, with the intention of earning some money, and there was positively no reason for him to take his own life. Before leaving Aitkinson they had talked with Hiram Barker, who was here with Olson prior to his death. Barker said he was ready to come back any time, and said that he had left here Wednesday, June 29, and that Hiding Olson was at the train to see him off, and he had asked Hiding to return home with him and that Hiding said that he would stay until fall and earn some money. This, if true, knocks out all existing clews as Hiding is not known to have been seen by others later than Sunday the 26th. The brother C. B. Olson, of Superior, received a telegram and a copy of the Review almost at the same time and from the account in the paper was certain that it was his brother. He says that Hiding had two gold watches and another grip which has not as yet been located. That he had a watch upon his person at the time he was killed and of which he was robbed, is no longer doubted.

Early Morning Fire.

The Gazette went to press Wednesday evening last week, and the only important news event of the week was necessarily left out. Early Thursday morning, the barn of E. Lefaivre was discovered to be on fire, and before the fire department could succeed in holding the flames the barn of Frank Noel, adjoining it, was destroyed. A high wind was blowing at the time, and for a while it looked as though there might be serious results. The losses were partly covered by insurance.

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN

A Week From Monday Terminates the Summer Vacation and School Work Commences.

A week from Monday, September 5, the old familiar school bell will again assemble the scholars of Red Lake Falls together to take up the work of the new school year with added vim, after their pleasant summer's vacation.

Prof. Chamberlain is already at work formulating plans for the year's work, and it is expected that the organization will be completed on the opening day and everything started out smoothly.

The teachers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

Superintendent—E. W. Chamberlain.

Principal—Frances M. Tobin.

The Grade teachers—Pauline A. Neiland, Hennrietta Hennemuth, Leland Healy, Bertha Norby, Grace Iddings, Rose Frankovitz, Ellen Brody, Daisy Veitz, Josie Doe, Eliza M. Trudo and Alice Conghlin.

Prof. Chamberlain urges all the scholars that possibly can to be on hand the opening morning, which will greatly facilitate the work of organization.

Red Lake Falls has excellent schools, and the people look to see them make a good record during the coming year.

Death of Garnes Woman.

LAND DRAWING ON.

Fort Totten Reservation Land Being Given Away.

The drawing of the Fort Totten reservation lands, near Devils Lake, N. D., was commenced at Grand Forks yesterday, and will continue until all the names are drawn. Number one went to a Forest River, N. D., man, and the only one in this neighborhood to draw a valuable claim was Captain Keiler, of Crookston.

About fifty Red Lake Falls people were registered for the drawing, but Peter Benoit, of this city, was the only one to be drawn in the first 600. His number is 406, and it isn't likely that his claim will be worth much.

TEARING UP TRACKS.

Soo Employes Take Up Great Northern Spur Track.

Crookston Journal: According to advices received from Thief River Falls last evening Soo line civil engineers spent all of Monday night in that place laying out the roadbed for the new road and making arrangements for the tearing up of the Great Northern mill spur side track in order to convenience the graders and track layers. The Soo comes into Thief River on a considerably elevated grade and crosses the mill spur of the Great Northern near the city limits. One hundred feet of the G. N. tracks will have to be taken up while the work of grading and laying the Soo steel is in progress.

As yet no objections have been raised by the Great Northern but the night work done by the civil engineers of the Soo road has led to the belief that trouble is feared. The Soo track laying machine and crews are twenty miles south of Thief River and pushing the steel bands forward at a very rapid rate. The work has progressed very favorably and Thief River residents hope soon to hear the welcome sound of the Soo line locomotive whistles within the city limits.

LAND SALE IN OCTOBER

Crookston Making Arrangements To Entertain Big Crowds When Indian Lands are Sold.

The adjourned sale of Red Lake Indian lands to be held in Crookston on October 3.

At that time all of the lands in the Red Lake reservation that were not sold at the Thief River Falls sale will be sold at auction in that city. There will be some 1,000 tracts of land offered of 160 acres each, or 162,406 acres of some of the best grass and agricultural lands in the state. The revised lists of the lands will be published by the United States about Sept. 1.

The lands left are among the best on the reservation. North of the High landing, as it is known, are some of the richest lands in the entire tract. They are low, but with proper drainage their productiveness will be as great as any of the Red River Valley lands. The tract between the Red River and Clearwater rivers is very desirable both because of its rich productiveness of grass and agricultural possibilities.

Commissioner W. A. Richards, of the general United States land office, who is in North Dakota at the present time attending the Fort Totten lottery of lands, will be there and conduct the sale. The sale will continue many days and will bring crowds of people to the city.

When it is considered that twice as much land, and quite as desirable, will be offered there in October as is included in the entire Fort Totton tract, it would seem that Crookstonites should be bestirring themselves to advertise the matter. If the railroads could be induced to advertise the land sale there and offer rates as they have the other recent land openings in the Dakotas, an immense crowd could be obtained.

FIRST WHEAT MARKETED.

Grades No. 2. and Is of Good Color. Yield is Very Fair.

The first wheat to be marketed here this season was brought to town Saturday by George Herr, living south of town. and sold to the Northern Minnesota Milling company. The wheat graded No. 2 and was of a good color and well filled, which indicates that the wheat that has escaped the rust will be of a fair crop. The price this year promises to make up for what the yield fails to account for, as one day this week $1.10 a bushel was paid for wheat on the local market. Both mills are getting ready to take care of their share of the crop, and it is expected that within the next two weeks considerable new grain will be marketed.

Suspects are Released.

The two fellows who have been held at the county jail here since the Wylie bank robbery, while attempts were made to prove that they were the guilty parties, were released from custody last Friday and allowed to go their way. By every hook and crook imaginable Messrs. Linnihan and Grady attempted to secure evidence with which to prove their guilt, but either the fellows were entirely innocent or too smooth to be caught, as all efforts to get them cornered or to get them to tell different stories failed entirely.

DEMOCRATS CONVENE

St. Hilaire Convention Fairly Well Attended and Harmonious Meeting Results.—Delegates Elected.

The first boom of the Democratic batteries for the campaign of 1904 was heard at St. Hilaire Monday when a gathering of the faithful again assembled to resolve that the county was still on its way to the damnation bow-wows under Republican rule. The delegates from Thief River Falls, St. Hilaire and Red Lake Falls, with a few scattering country delegates comprised the convention, and besides the welcoming of a few Populists to the ranks of the Democrats nothing much but the routine work was done.

The convention was called to order at one o'clock by Chairman King (who didn't admonish his hearers to support the Republican candidate for governor, however). On motion Dr. George Tupper, of Thief River Falls, was made temporary chairman and K. M. Hanson, of the same place, temporary secretary.

The following committees were then appointed:

On credentials—James E. Ford, E. M. Hoff, C. C. Jackson.

On permanent organization—N. W. Tarrant, F. J. Cernosek and Daniel Linnihan.

On resolutions—John E. King, John Morgan and W. A. Arthur.

The committee on permanent organization reported in favor of Dr. Tupper as permanent chairman and Fred Borchers, of Red Lake Falls, as permanent secretary, which resolution was unanimously adopted.

The following resolutions were submitted and adopted by a unanimous vote:

"The Democrats of Red Lake county in convention assembled heartily endorse the platform of the Democratic party as adopted by the national convention at St. Louis, and pledge our hearty support to the nominees, Alton B. Parker of New York and Henry G. Davis of West Virginia.

"As Democrats we believe in equal rights and privileges to every citizen under the flag of the Republic. We believe in the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson, who in his immortal Declaration of Indenendence said that all men were "entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness: that no men or set of men were entitled to favors or concessions save those guaranteed to the lowliest citizen." We are opposed to "carrying a big stick:" we are opposed to the coercion of South American republics; we believe that the constitution should follow the flag, and that no man is good enough to rule another man against his will.

"We insist that the United States should tear down the tariff barriers between this country and Canada, and that all tarriffs should be levied for purposes of revenue only.

"The Democrats of Red Lake county pledge their hearty support to the nominees of the state convention, and to all who labor under the Democratic banner in national, state or county affairs. We heartily endorse the work performed by the Democratic county officers of Red Lake county, and offer our hearty support to their re election."

The following delegates were chosen to represent the county at St. Paul next Tuesday:

Dr. George Tupper, of Thief River, chairman; John Morgan, G. G. Williams, Andy Erickson and K. M. Hansen of Thief River; Anton Anderson of St. Hilaire; John E. King, James E. Ford, Frank Jeffers, S. A. Swanson and J. T. Knight of Red Lake Falls.

On motion the county central committee was elected as follows: Dr. George Tupper, Thief River, chairman; Fred Borchers, Red Lake Falls, secretary; James Sutor first distrist; Matt Skala, second district; E. M. Hoff, third district; Andy Erickson fourth district: fifth district, Louis Parenteau.

Joen Morgan of Thief River was recommended as a member of the state central committe from Red Lake county.

The candidacy of K. M. Hansen as a candidate for the legislature from the 61st legislative district, comprising Red Lake, Beltrami and Clearwater counties, was endorsed.

A Few More Have Filed.

Since last Thursday morning several other candidates have filed their intention of seeking public honors, and it is likely that before this time next week a good big bunch of remaining "prospectives" will have shied their castor into the political ring. Those who have filed since last week, are:

N. W. Tarrant, Red Lake Falls, Judge of Probate.

K. J. Weeks, Thief River Falls, Register of Deeds.

Earnest L. Quist, Thief River Falls, Superintendent of Schools.

Sam Luxemberger, Lake Pleasant, commissioner, 2nd district.

Dan Linnihan, Red Lake Falls, Sheriff.

James E. Ford, Red Lake Falls, Auditor.

CAUGHT BY SICKLE BAR.

John Beandwin, a Farmer near Wylie, Badly Hurt.

John Beaudwin, a well-known farmer living six miles from Wylie, was the victim of a serious accident Saturday which caused the loss of one of his legs.

He was in the field cutting grain and just before the accident was in front of the seat fixing something that had gone wrong about the reel when the horses became startled at something and started suddenly. Mr. Beandwin fell in front of the machine and despite his efforts to get out of the way he was struck by the sickle with the horses on the run, and one leg horribly mangled.

Both bones were broken between the knee and ankle and the calf of the leg was torn to shreds. He was within calling distance of the hired man, who assisted him to the house and physicians were at once wired for and the leg was amputated close to the knee.

The attending physicians stated that evening that Mr. Beandwin stood the shock well and would, without doubt, recover. He is one of the well known farmers residing six miles from Wylie and has many friends in that vicinity who regret the accident.

JOHNSON WILL ACCEPT.

Democratic Editor Will Be Named for Governor.

The Mankato Review, democratic yesterday made the following announcement:

"Ex-Senator John A. Johnson has decided to accept the Democratic nomination for governor if the same is tendered to him by the convention which meets in Minneapolis Aug. 30. Mr. Johnson reached this decision this morning, but not, however, without making a careful survey of the situation and consultation with his friends.

"Since his name has been used in connection with the candidacy for governor Mr. Johnson has received encouragement from all sections of the state and from both Democrats and Republicans, a great many coming from prominent men of the latter party.

"There can be no doubt but that Mr. Johnson will receive the unanimous nomination at the state convention, and the chances of his election are certainly very bright, entering the campaign, as he does, with the united support of his own party and a large faction of the Republican party. A stronger or better nomination could not be made by the party."

MANY POACHERS.

Farmers Complain That Chicken Hunters are Numerous.

A well known farmer from near Dugdale stated to a friend in Crookston that last Sunday he saw during the day at least a score of hunters between Crookston and Dugdale. He was not near enough to some of them to see if they were hunting, but he did see others shoot and saw birds fall. Not being a hunter himself and taking little interest in the sport he did not know that the season was not yet open and supposed on account of the number he saw out with dogs and guns that Sunday must have been the first day on which chickens could be legally killed.

Several of the sportsmen there took the matter up at once and two special deputy wardens were sent in that direction at once and will patrol the country till the season opens. The report has caused great indignation.

Liked The Turn-out.

Thief River Press: The amicable spirit existing between the cities of Red Lake Falls and Thief River is growing rather than receding. The people of the Lower Falls again did themselves proud by turning out by the hundreds to the county fair. They appreciate that the fair is a good thing for Thief River, but this does not deter them from coming up here to help make the fair a big success, and in fact were it not for the attendance from the southern end of the county, it would be difficult to carry the exhibition through to a successful termination each year. Not only Red Lake Falls, but St. Hilaire, Wylie and in fact the whole county of Red Lake and all of Eastern Marshall county gave the exhibition good support not only in attendance but in exhibits as well, and this friendly spirit Thief River people appreciate and will strive to reciprocate when ever occasion permits.

WILL MEET SOON.

State Board of Equalization to Take Up Its Labors.

Preparations are being made by State Auditor Iverson for the annual meeting of the state board of equalization, which will be convened at the state auditor's office Tuesday, Sept. 6. Nine new members of the board will be named by Gov. Van Sant, and it is expected that the appointments will be announced by the governor next week.

There are eighteen members of the board of equalization, and under the law the terms of just half of them expire each two years.

This year the terms of members from odd numbered judicial districts expire and the retiring members are: F. J. Johnson, Cannon Falls, First district; J. G. Lawrence, Wabasha, Third district; G. S. Brainerd, Blooming Prairie, Fifth; C. M. Sprague, Sauk Center, Seventh; Thomas Hodgson, Nicollet, Ninth; J. E. Cooley, Duluth, Eleventh; C. E. Dinehart, Fulda, Thirteenth; F. M. Shook, Aitkin, Fifteenth; A. H. Strang, Jackson, Seventeenth.

It is generally understood that since the retiring members are all original appointees of Gov. Van Sant the major number of them will be reappointed.

This year the state board will be called upon to equalize the assessment of both real and personal property, under the law the realty being equalized on even number of years in addition to the equalization of personal property assessments made each year.

The board will be in session the better part of a month, but it will be favored by an unusually good assessment according to Auditor Iverson. That official says:

"I know from the abstracts of the county assessments already filed in my office and from conversations with county auditors who have called during the past few days, since the equalization has been made by the county boards, that there has been a very general desire on the part of the assessors to list all the property and to put the assessment on a fair basis of values.

"There has been a general raise all over the state in values, and this will be of material assistance to the state board in arriving at an easy equalization of the total assessment of the state."

FLOTO SHOWS COMING.

Will Exhibit at Red Lake Falls September 5.

The Gazette is authorized to announce the coming of the Great Floto Shows known from coast to coast as the Circus Beautiful. This wonderful tented aggregation will exhibit in Red Lake Falls and exceptionally low rates will be made on all railroads. The Floto Shows are bigger and better than ever this year and it is expected that thousands of residents of this community will attend. The Circus Beautiful has many attractive features. In fact, too many to individually enumerate here. The crowning attraction is Alexius the Dare Devil Dane who daily flirts with death by looping the loop on an ordinary wagon wheel. Many men have looped the loop in the old way, but none have attempted to duplicate the act of Alexius.

Other features include the St. Leon Family of Acrobats, imported direct from France by the Floto Shows. La Belle Leona, the only woman bareback rider in the world who turns a somersault while dashing at full speed around the ring; John Carroll's thrilling 72-horse act; Herr Litzen's funny Dutch Elephants; Mlle. Arline, the Girl in Red. Professor D G. Markle's wonderful dog, pony and monkey circus; the Ben Hur herd of spotted Arabian Stallions, known in Arabia as the steeds of Black Eagle Feather, in remarkable exhibitions of equine intelligence—a real horse ballet: the Priskorn Brothers in an extraordinary bicycle act; the famous Sugimot's Troupe of Japanese; the Ellett Troupe of Gymnasts in the Aerial feats, and Mlle. Valleecita, the fearless Jungle Queen, who performs a half dozen lions, tigers and leopards. Then there will be funny Clowns galore, twenty or more.

The monster free street parade, a mile of opulent ornamental splendor, is given at 10 a. m. daily, and is followed by two performances, at 2 p. m, and at 8 p. m.

FARM PRODUCTS.

Great Agricultural and Horticultural Display at Fair.

Since the opening of the new Agricultural Hall at the Minnesota State Fair grounds, a few years ago, the agricultural department has made rapid growth and now bids fair to crowd out the horticultural division within a short time. At this year's fair the agricultural display, proper, will be better than ever. Special pains has been taken to adjust the premium offers so as to make a more satisfactory division of the prizes for county exhibits and also to encourage farmers to make individual exhibits. N. S. Gordon of Crookston is superintendent of the agricultural division, and A. W. Latham of Minneapolis is in charge of the horticultural department, which is housed in Agricultural Hall. The State Fair will open this year on August 29th, continuing until September 3rd. Half-fare rates are made on all railroads.

The State Won't Pay.

State Auditor Iverson has held up bills for the compensation of owners of horses killed for glanders, and cows condemned for tuberculosis. Until he is satisfied as to his authority he will pay no more bills of this kind. Mr. Iverson had a conference with Judge Fish of the statute revision commission. He is of the belief that the Krostue bill providing compensation in such cases, which was passed at the session of 1903, was repealed by the bill creating the state live stock sanitary board, which passed later in the session. This point was raised when the latter bill was up for passage, but its friends contended that its repealing clause would not touch the Krostue bill. The revision committee is convinced that it does, and will therefore leave it out of the revised statutes. The act creating the live stock sanitary board provides for the condemnation of animals having contagious diseases, but does not provide for compensation to the owner unless a post mortem shows that the animal was not diseased.

Dairy Notes.

(From the Ada Index.)

A good dairy cow deserves a good feed.

Milk must be clean in order to produce butter of a good flavor.

Operate the hand separator at an average rate and separate milk before it becomes cool.

A cow should never be chased by a dog if you expect to get the best results from her.

Regular hours for feeding and milking go a long way toward making a dairy successful.

A thorough coating of white-wash should prove of advantage in the milk cellar or butter house.

You ought to know every cow that is profitable and every cow that is not. Prepare to feed the unprofitable ones.

Use less coloring in butter, and when cows have been on grass for some time leave out artificial coloring entirely.

If a cow is fed liberally and fattens instead of increasing in milk she is getting too much to eat or should be sold to the butcher.

In all your plans for an increase of your herd, remember that good stock is just as easy to raise as scrubs, and they look better and sell better.

Look out for the souring of the cream during these warm days. It will only take a few minutes more of your care and it will be worth your time and trouble.

Frost does not hurt fodder corn if it is cut inside of two or three days thereafter and shocked, but if you let it go any longer it will sour and will not be fit for feed.

Corn silage is very palatable, All kinds of stock eat it greedily and prefer it to almost anything else. They eat it all up and do not leave even the thick butts of the stalks.

Don't think if your fodder corn is small that it is not any good, for what there is, is a lot of good feeding and some of the very best—for there is a great deal of sugar and starch in it.

You should milk the cow about the same time every morning and evening and you will get more milk, as irregular milking will spoil any cow. The milking should also be done as quickly as possible.

If you put your cows in the barn while milking it will save you a number of steps a good many times, for you don't have to chase them around the yard a half a dozen times before you are through milking.

Cleanliness is the first secret in the dairy business, and the next is to see that it is carried out. If you can clean your separators immediately after using, the easier it will be to keep them clean and the sweeter your milk will be.

The buttermaker should always keep his belts loose and in good order, so that they wont break when the machinery is running and everything should be kept up, and then the patrons do not have to wait for the buttermaker, and can get right back home and wont loose any time and will feel better.

Some people think that the test can not vary from two to five points. It is very plain if you are skimming milk that is about 80 temperature and then turn in a pail of milk that is about 65 it will change the division in your machine, and the milk is sure to go out in the cream, and that is what will make a big difference in the tests. Your buttermaker is not altogether to blame. It is caused mostly at your home in the way that you run your separator and the shape of milk before skimming.

Taken with Cramps.

Wm. Cirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form or Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines. Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Wanted.

A good salesman wanted to take the agency for a very fine line of family remedies. Splendid inducements; respectable business. Write Hanson & Emerson, Sauk Centre Minn,, for further information.

Better than Gold.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials Address: F. J. Just a Moment, Please!

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship.

And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success. The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,500. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woolens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices. You can do that by calling on

SWEPT BY A TORNADO

ELEVEN PERSONS KILLED AND A HUNDRED INJURED IN ST. PAUL AND VICINITY.

PROPERTY DAMAGE IN STRICKEN DISTRICT IS ESTIMATED AT FULLY TWO MILLIONS.

ADDITIONAL CASUALTIES OCCUR IN VARIOUS OTHER PARTS OF THE NORTHWEST.

St. Paul, Aug. 22.—Eleven dead, 104 injured and a property loss of over $2,000,000 is a verified record of the damage inflicted by the cyclone which passed over St. Paul and vicinity Saturday night, leaving in its path a scene of desolation and a calamity stricken people.

In this city 3 persons are dead and 43 injured; in Minneapolis 1 man is dead and 14 persons injured; in Waconia 4 are dead and 20 injured, and in St. Louis Park 3 are dead and 25 injured. The list of victims is as follows:

St. Paul—George Keaton, aged seventeen; Lourien S. Johanson, aged twenty-two; Viola Robertson, aged twelve.

Minneapolis—Alfred W. Hilgedick, operator at Minneapolis Junction, struck by lightning.

Waconia—August Moy, forty years old; Mrs. August Moy, thirty-eight years old; Baby Moy, one year old; Robert Lohman, thirty-nine years old.

St. Louis Park—Albert Ohde, saloonkeeper; John Hedger, six years old; Anna Hodge.

The damage to property is estimated at over $2,000,000, divided as follows: St. Paul, $1,000,000; Minneapolis, $300,000; St. Louis Park, $75,000; Waconia, $75,000; Stillwater, $100,000; outside districts, $500,000.

High Bridge Partially Destroyed.

The greatest single property loss at St. Paul was the destruction of two spans of the high bridge, a burden which will fall upon the city at large. The other damage is distributed among thousands of residences and hundreds of business houses.

The storm confined its area mainly to the localities where fatalities are reported, although Stillwater reports a loss of $100,000. In both St. Paul and Minneapolis the business districts suffered severely, several wholesale houses being unroofed and hundreds of plate glass windows being blown in, causing immense damage to stocks. In the residence district of St. Paul, principally in Lower Town and Arlington Hills, many houses are complete wrecks and others are seriously damaged.

In Minneapolis, considering the intensity of the storm, the residence districts of the city escaped with comparatively slight damage. Although a few structures were unroofed and the contents of the buildings drenched with water as a rule the people of these districts suffered no great loss.

At Waconia, of the 100 houses, residences and stores, seventy are more or less demolished and in the country for a strip one-half mile in width extending four miles along the Minneapolis and St. Louis tracks east and west there is scarcely a building standing.

At St. Louis Park nearly all of the large manufacturing establishments were more or less wrecked and houses were razed to the ground. The heaviest loser is T. B. Walker, the Minneapolis capitalist, who owns most of the twenty houses which were overturned and some of the manufacturing buildings.

SEVERAL PEOPLE KILLED.

Tornado Does Immense Damage Near Brownton, Minn.

Brownton, Minn., Aug. 23.—At 7 o'clock Saturday night the people about four miles north of here experienced one of the most severe storms of wind, hail and rain that ever visited this part of the country. Grain stacking was just finished and now there is not a stack to be seen The grain is scattered for miles across the fields and piled against fences, which are also badly demolished. Houses, barns and outbuildings are completely demolished, several people were killed and many injured, and dead horses, cattle and hogs mark the path of the storm.

HITS SOUTH DAKOTA TOWNS.

Two Persons Killed and More Than a Score Injured.

Watertown, S. D., Aug. 23.—A hurricane of severe character swept over a region in the northeast part of the state Sunday night.

The dead are —— Erickson of Willow Lake, and Mrs. H. Schilling of Bryant.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Smith of Willow Lake were fatally injured; Mrs. Bellger, Mrs. Milestone seriously injured, and twenty-five unknown persons of Willow Lake, were injured, but not seriously.

Mrs. Schilling's son and daughter of Bryant, fatally hurt.

FOUR DEAD AT GLENCOE, MINN.

Tornado Did Great Damage to Grain and Property.

Glencoe, Minn., Aug. 23.—A tornado struck the township of Rich Valley and Bergen Saturday night about 8 o'clock, killing four people, Mary O'Donnell, aged thirteen, daughter of Patrick O'Donnell; the seven-year-old daughter of Anthony O'Donnell, Frederick Gross and his mother.

Wisconsin Woman Killed.

Rice Lake, Wis., Aug. 23.—The report comes from Dallas, a place of about 1,000 inhabitants, twenty-four miles southwest of this city, that the place was visited by a cyclone Saturday night and a woman killed and three houses destroyed.

CLOUDBURST IN ARIZONA.

Heavy Rain Results in the Loss of a Number of Lives.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 20.—Seven lives at least were lost in the flood that swept through the town of Globa, Ariz., and surrounding country. The known dead are: M. N. Mitchell, Mrs. M. N. Mitchell, O. D. Wilson, Charles Sims, John Epeley, Mrs. Hurd and Miss Moody.

According to the report of the courier who brought news of the disaster to Bowie others were drowned besides those mentioned in the foregoing list, but their names are not yet known. The Gila Valley, Globe and Northern railroad tracks were washed out for a distance of three-quarters of a mile. Telegraphic communication with Globe is interrupted and it has been impossible to learn full details of the disaster.

Globe is located in a broad valley that slopes down to Pinal creek, which crosses the main street of the town. The flood was caused by a cloudburst at Pima, above Globe on Pinal creek.

BLACKMAR IS CHOSEN

MASSACHUSETTS MAN ELECTED HEAD OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

Boston, Aug. 19.—General Wilmon W. Blackmar of this city was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic by acclamation at the closing session of the national encampment Thursday, and Denver was selected as the place for the encampment of 1905.

The other national officers elected were: Senior vice commander-in-chief, John R. King, Washington, D. C.; junior, George W. Patten, Chattanooga, Tenn.; surgeon general, Dr. Warren R. King, Indianapolis; chaplain-in-chief, Rev. J. H. Bradford, Washington, D. C.

Later General Blackmar made the following appointments: Adjutant general, John E. Gilman, Massachusetts; quartermaster general, Charles Burrows, New Jersey; assistant quartermaster general and custodian of the records, J. Henry Holcomb, Pensylvania; assistant adjutant general, E. B. Stillings, Massachusetts.

GENERAL W. W. BLACKMAR.

The G. A. R. convention was adjourned sine die shortly after 3 p. m. The principal business was the passage of the resolutions declaring that any modification of the voting franchise should be along lines of "intelligence and fitness, and not along lines of race and color," disapproving of the admission of Sons of Veterans to secret G. A. R. meetings, and the laying on the table of a resolution regarding the proposed fraternal convention of the survivors of the Union and Confederate armies.

TORNADO AT NORTH ST. LOUIS.

Two Persons Killed and Much Property Destroyed.

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—A tornado swept over the residence portion of North St. Louis, doing damage estimated at $100,000 and causing a loss of two lives and injuries to 150 persons.

Sweeping across the river to Venice, Ill., the storm killed a woman, injured many others and destroyed more property.

The sky had been clear, although the atmosphere was murky and hot, when the funnel shaped clouds appeared almost without warning. The storm lasted only a few minutes and was followed later by rain, which added to the extent of the damage.

Venice, Granite City, Madison and Brooklyn, Ill., and North and East St. Louis bore the brunt of the storm.

FOUR PEOPLE ARE KILLED.

Trolley Cars and Train in Collision at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Four people were killed, another fatally hurt, and twenty-three severely injured in a collision late Wednesday afternoon between an express train on the Chicago Great Western railroad and a train of three trolley cars bound for the Hawthorne race track.

The dead are: Mrs. Frances Rautman, William Irving, Mrs. Jeremiah Shuckrow, and an unidentified woman about thirty years of age.

Michael Ryan, motorman of the trolley car, was fatally injured.

GERMANS DEFEAT HEREROS.

Natives Suffer Heavy Losses in Long Struggle.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—Four columns of German troops attacked the Hereros near Hamakari, German Southwest Africa, on the night of Aug. 11, the fighting continuing all day Aug. 12. The natives were defeated with heavy losses.

Five German officers, including Count von Arenim, and forty-five men were killed. Six officers, among them Baron von Watter, and fifty-two men were wounded. Two are missing. Thousands of cattle were captured.

CRUISER NOVIK SUNK

JAPANESE WARSHIPS DESTROY RUSSIAN VESSEL AFTER A FIERCE FIGHT.

BATTLE OCCURS NEAR SAKHALIN ISLANDS, IN VICINITY OF VLADIVOSTOK.

JAPS COMPEL PORT ARTHUR DEFENDERS TO QUIT PIGEON BAY POSITION.

Tokio, Aug. 22.—After a severe engagement with the protected cruisers Chitose and Tsushima, the greyhounds of the Japanese navy, the fleet Russian cruiser Novik has been vanquished. The fight occurred Sunday. After it the Novik, in a sinking condition, was run ashore in Korsakovsk harbor, Sakhalin islands.

The details of the fight are not known here, but it is evident that the Chitose and Tsushima caught up with the Novik Saturday and that a running fight ensued. The contest was resumed and terminated early Sunday morning. Captain Takahashi, who is in command of the Chitose, reported the engagement in a brief telegram which reached the navy department here Sunday morning. He said he first attacked the Russian cruiser Saturday afternoon and that on Sunday morning he inflicted heavy damage upon her. The Novik nearly sank but was beached at Korsakovsk.

Temporary repairs, however, rendered the Russian cruiser seaworthy and she continued to fight, until she was beached in a sinking condition.

The Tsushima was hit on the starboard bunker, but the damage has already been repaired. There was no other damage nor was there a single casualty on either of the Japanese vessels.

DRIVE OUT RUSSIANS

JAPS COMPEL PORT ARTHUR DEFENDERS TO ABANDON POSITION AT PIGEON BAY.

Chefoo, Aug. 22.—The Japanese have swept the Russians from Pigeon bay and captured the northernmost fort of the western line of inner defenses at Port Arthur. The Russian artillery prevents the Japanese from occupying the fort on Pigeon bay.

Information from Port Arthur up to Aug. 18, shows that the besiegers have been reinforced by thirty regiments from General Oku's army.

Heavy firing was heard by the steamer Slysball on Aug. 20.

A general assault is expected to be made upon the fortress Sunday and Monday.

The first detailed news of the general assault on Port Arthur indicates that a tremendous conflict is raging and that victory is hanging in the balance.

Chinese who left Port Arthur Sunday and arrived here Monday state that the Japanese, by making desperate charges which were reinforced by an artillery fire from Shushiyen and Louisia bay, swept from the north into Pigeon bay territory and drove the Russians back from the main forts. The ground being comparatively flat in this vicinity, the Japanese were unable to hold it in the face of the Russian artillery fire, and they retired north an eighth of a mile beyond the zone of the fire.

The Chinese declared that the Japanese captured one important fort located on the Itz Shan hills, midway between the western coast and the railway on a line drawn approximately from a point midway between Pigeon and Louisa bays.

The fighting resulting in the capture of this fort was very severe.

REPORT OF ALEXIEFF

DESCRIBES THE DISASTROUS NAVAL BATTLE WITH KAMIMURA'S FLEET.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.—The emperor has received the following dispatch from Viceroy Alexieff:

"At dawn on Aug. 14, the cruisers Rossia, Gromobol and Rurik reached a point opposite Fusan, Korea. Soon afterwards a Japanese squadron was observed taking a parallel course. This squadron consisted of four ships of the armored cruiser Iwate type.

"The Russian ships tried to take a course for the open sea, but the Japanese overtook and attacked them at 5 o'clock a. m., having been reinforced by a cruiser of the Tokiwa type.

"The Rurik signalled that her rudder would not work and the enemy then concentrated its fire on the Rurik.

"The other Russian ships tried to attract the enemy's fire in order to save the Rurik. The Rossia had three funnels damaged. The Rurik lagged behind.

"The Japanese were now reinforced by two second class cruisers and the main force of the enemy kept up a deadly fire upon the Rossia and the Gromoboi, which retired at 10 o'clock a. m.

"The Rossia had eleven breaches in her side and the Gromoboi one.

"On the Rossia the captain was killed and seven officers were wounded.

"On the Gromoboi four officers were killed and seven wounded.

"The two cruisers had 135 men killed and 307 wounded."

F. Y. FITZPATRICK, M. C.

Hon. F. Y. Fitzpatrick, Congressman from Kentucky, writes from the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"At the solicitation of a friend I used your Peruna and can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with catarah or who needs a good tonic."—F. Y. Fitzpatrick.

Peruna is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by heresay and thousands know it by experience.

What can be cured in the beginning in a week or two by using Peruna, if allowed to become chronic, may require months of faithful treatment. You had better take Peruna now for by and by you may be obliged to take it for some time in order to get well. Now the warm, dry weather will assist in your cure. You are not liable to catch fresh cold and delay your cure.

Hundreds of men of dignity and prominence from all over the United States endorse Peruna.

No other remedy receives such convincing testimonials. Send for free book of testimonials.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The New York Sun, one of the most powerful of Democratic organs, has declared for Roosevelt in preference to Parker. It says, editorially: "We shall advocate the election of Roosevelt and Fairbanks and advise the defeat of Parker and Davis. We have more faith in the distinct promises of the Chicago platform than we have in the miserable hellbroth of dishwater concoted at St. Louis by a party afraid to renounce its criminal follies."

From reports of county auditors to the state auditor there is a falling off in personal property returns from thirty-two counties of over $2,000,000 as compared with last year's personal property valuation, says the Princeton Union. At this rate the State of Minnesota is undergoing a wonderful shrinkage in assets. The cow and calf, melodian sewing and knitting machines, old family clocks, grandpa's hat, etc., have no doubt contributed their just share of taxes. The goods and merchandise and invisible assets are not running neck and neck with the few items of personal property which the poor man and the man of moderate means possess.

"Hoke" Smith, editor of the Worthington Herald, in Nobles county, is a candidate for county treasurer and his announcement, published in the various county papers there, is certainly a novel one, and is attracting favorable comment. Mr. Smith has been one of wheel-horses of that section of the state for a great many years, and the people could recognize merit, by electing him to the office he asks for in his unique announcement. The announcement in question reads as follows: "After waiting for several long years for an insistent public to voice a demand that I accept some public office and not hearing any unusual clamor in that direction, I have concluded that my fellow citizens are too timid to approach me on the subject, and I have therefore decided not to wait any longer but to begin the noble and unselfish work at once of saving my country. Consequently I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Treasurer of Nobles County, and would respectfully urge the Republican voters to endorse the same at the primaries on Sept. 20th, 1904."

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

OVIDE MOREAU, Republican candidate for County Treasurer, was born in Canada in 1850, and came to Red Lake Falls in 1878. In 1879 he went to work in the general store of F. E. Hunt, in this city, and for six years was occupied in that capacity, leaving there to go into business for himself, which he conducted at Mentor until 1903, when he sold out and moved back here, purchasing a business later at Terrebonne, in this county, which he now conducts. Mr. Moreau has always been successful in his business undertakings, and while but a clerk he enjoyed the confidence of the people of this part of the county to a large extent.

Mr. Moreau is a good scholar and a first-class book-keeper, and seeks the office of county treasurer on his merits. He is thoroughly conversant with the needs of the office, and assures the people that if elected to serve them, he would do so in a prompt and efficient manner. He has been a Republican all his life, and has always been a worker for the success of the party, and feels that the Republicans of the county can vote for him with confidence, knowing that they are supporting a worthy partisian and a good citizen.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

The American people will be told two stories by the papers and orators of the two great parties, says Alvah Eastman's St. Cloud Journal-Press.

One will be the record of great achievements.

The other will be a wail of fault-finding.

One will be a song of prosperity.

The other will be the howl of calamity.

One will be a triumph for honest money.

The other will be an attempt at financial debauchery.

One will be straightforward consistency.

The other will be the history of willo'thewisp chasing.

One will be employment for American labor.

The other will be free trade and free soup.

One will be of strong, steady striving.

The other of helpless, hampering holdbacks.

One will be about the uplifting power of the flag.

The other of its tyranny and imperialism.

One will plead for the men and women who toil.

The other that the trusts must not be molested.

One will point with pride to its history of half a century.

The other will view its past with shame and its future with alarm.

One will be the Republican story of accomplishments and hope for the future.

The other will be the story of Democratic demoralization and the nightmare of despair.

Take your choice.

A class-pin bearing the monogram "M. N. S." was lost on Main street last Saturday night. A suitable reward will be paid for its return to this office.

A Little Politics....

Thief River Press: It appears that the Press unintentionally brought about considerable hard feeling by stating some time ago that Frank Jeffers was out after the scalp of Register of Deeds Gibeau aad would encompass his defeat at any cost. This statement was not authorized by either Mr. Jeffers or Mr. Gibeau, but reached us as a rumor which we published for what it was worth.

Friend Ives got a bit mixed last week, when he stated in his Spectator that August 20 was the last day candidates could file for office. The law says that twenty days before the primaries is the last day in which candidates may file intention of going on the ticket, which makes the date August 31. Harry is no doubt getting anxious to know just how things are to stand, and probably thought he might be able to hurry 'em up a little if he told them they must register by the 20th of the present month if they wanted to get into the game.

Representative L. C. Simons will be given a flattering endorsement as member of the legislature from the 61st legislative district at the coming primaries, and will be elected by an increased majority this fall. Mr. Simons made a good record in the legislature last winter and can do more for his constituents at the coming session of the lawmakers than a new man could. Mr. Simons is a strong supporter of United States Senator Clapp, who is so dear to the people of this section of the state, and his stand on the drainage question is also in keeping with what the people of this district favor. In both Clearwater and Beltrami counties he will poll a large vote, and his re-election is not seriously doubted in any quarter.

Beltrami County News: Hon. L. C. Simons, of Red Lake Falls, who represented this district in the legislature at the last session, was a visitor in the city between trains Wednesday. Mr. Simons is a candidate for re-election and will solist the support of the voters on his record made at the last assembly. He will enter actively into the campaign next week, and will make a thorough canvass of the district, comprising Beltrami, Clearwater and Red Lake counties. Mr. Simons' position on questions of particular interest to the people of northwestern Minnesota is pretty generally known, and it will be evinced in matters of drainage, railroad development, taxation, etc., that he will seek the support of the taxpayers and voters this fall.

The Roseau Region, whose poitical prognostications are always topnotchers, has the following items in its last week's political department, and both will be heartily seconded all over the district.

Halvor Steenerson will have "a snap" this fall. Even those republicans who do not like him are unwilling to oppose him, but two years from now, it is said, he will have to fight to retain his seat. By that time, the Region believes the present congressman will have made such a record that the district will want to keep him in Washington continuously.

Judges Watts and Grindeland are making no campaign. They are without opposition among the Republicans for the nomination and even if they had, they both believe that the position of district judge should be kept out of politics and that the voter should be free to choose the man best qualified for the honorable office. In this they are right. The judiciary should leave politics alone. To do otherwise lowers the dignity of the bench in our opinion.

That the spirit of independence in local and county affairs is dominant in the average country newspaper of today, is evidenced by the following tribute to Judge N. W. Tarrant in last week's Thief River Falls Press. The Press is a Republican paper, but does not hesitate to laud his Honor in a forcible manner as the following will indicate. The Press should be commended for its stand, and the people will gladly welcome the time when the party lash fails to whip everyone into line in minor affairs. Here is what the Press says:

In order to be frank and above board with our readers we are going to state right here and now that we are going to support our old friend Nick Tarrant, Democrat though he is, for re-election as Judge of Probate. Nick has made as good an official as the county ever had, he has been honest, capable and obliging, and what more can any one ask for. Furthermore, he is a Thief River man so local pride may influence us to some extent, but as we started out by saying we would be honest will stand by that part of our text and say that the Judge has always toted fair with us and therefore it is no more than fair that we should stand by him, which we will do through thick and thin.

Don't forget the sociable on the lawn at W. P. O'Brien's next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lennon left Tuesday evening for Bemidji, where they will spend the fall, Mr. Lennon having employment near there.

Miss Mayme Erickson will leave Saturday for the Twin cities, where she will spend a week before taking up her school duties at New Prague.

Miss Daisy Veitz, accompanied by her mother, arrived here yesterday and the two will at once set up housekeeping in the Benoit house on Champagne avenue.

Ovide Moreau went up the line Monday in the interests of his candidacy for County Treasurer, and spent a couple of days looking over the field. He reports prospects bright for Republican success this fall.

Representative L. C. Simons contemplates a trip over east with his family in the near future, where they will enjoy an outing among the Beltrami pines while Mr. Simons does some canvassing in the interests of his candidacy.

Fred Borchers returned last Friday morning from his three months' visit with his parents in Germany, looking and feeling like a prince of the realm. Fred visited a great many of the important German cities, as well as those in the Eastern part of the U. S., and feels that his trip did him a world of good. His many friends here were glad to welcome him home again safe and sound.

A. F. Langdon, of London, England, was a caller here yesterday, the guest of C. F. Johnson. Mr. Langdon is one of the largest flour importers in Europe and each year takes a trip over the United States to look up new business and see his regular millers, and this year he has visited all over the east and south. His business had never called him further west than Minneapolis, but being anxious to handle the famous Red River Valley product, and having been recommended to Mr. Johnson, he came this far out of his road to see him, and made arrangements to handle the Northern Minnesota Milling company's product. Mr. Langdon is a pleasing gentleman to meet and his brief visit here was greatly enjoyed by Mr. Johnson and the business people.

Wm. Higinbotham and wife left on Monday evening's train for their home at Forest City, Iowa, after having spent a week with their son, V. M. Higinbotham and family.

A gold flag pin, bearing the word "Cornell" was lost on Main street, presumably near Reichert's drug store, last Friday evening. Finder will confer a favor by leaving same at this office.

L. E. Metzgar came in off the road Monday, after having spent a couple of weeks over east in the interests of the Red Lake Falls Milling company. Mr. Metzgar reports a good business, but said he was glad to get home again.

Adelard Lemieux left last Saturday for St. Paul, where he will remain for several weeks and take treatment for defective hearing, which it is hoped will result in entirely curing him of the annoying malady which has troubled him so long.

Berthon & Armstrong show you several good reasons why you should trade with them, in their ad in today's paper. They also tell you to watch out for their big fall announcement next week, which will mean much to the people of Red Lake county.

The court house was practically deserted several hours Monday. Auditor Ford, Judge Tarrant, Register Gibeau and Treasurer Tandberg were at St. Hilaire attending the Democratic pow-wow so that Clerk Perrault, Deputies Converse and Lizotte and Janitor Gjerberg held the fort all to themselves.

Helmuth Zaiser left last Saturday for the Twin cities, where he will visit his sister and take in the sights a week or so, after which he will proceed to Chicago, to make the fall purchases for Messrs. Garceau & Zaiser. He may also conclude to visit the World's Fair at St. Louis before returning, and it's safe to presume that he will have an enjoyable time.

Louis Seiff has been in from Scotland this week attending to some business matters. He tells The Gazette that his large livery barn at that place was finished yesterday and that he will be doing business there in good shape the last of the week. The barn is 32 x 60 feet, and is well built in every way. Mr. Seiff looks for a good business at Red Lake county's bustling new town.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Theilen, of Minneapolis, during the tornado and cyclone in St. Paul and Minneapolis Saturday evening, came very near being buried in the wreckage of the Donaldson glass block. Mr. and Mrs. Theilen had just left the large establishment after doing a considerable amount of shopping and had boarded a car when the storm broke with all its fury. Every pane of glass in the block was demolished and street car service along the streets of the entire city came to a standstill. Mrs. Theilen is a sister of Mrs. Theo. LaBissoniere of this city.

William Ittner left on Monday afternoon's Great Northern for Minneapolis, where he will spend the winter attending the University of Minnesota. Yesterday he joined the football squad of that institution and proceeded to Waconia, where he will spend the time until the "U" opens getting in shape to help defend the maroon and gold in her hard football schedule this fall. Will will try and earn a place on the regular eleven, which if he succeeds will be an accomplishment seldom achieved by a "freshman." He is made of the required stuff for football material, however, and the fellow that succeeds in beating him for a place will have to be something entirely out of the ordinary. Red Lake Falls, to a person, unites in wishing this popular young man unbounded success in all his work at Minnesota's grandest institution of learning.

J. P. Gonigam left Saturday for a trip to his home at Walnut, Illinois, where he has spent the week on business. He will return here again next week, however, to finish straightening up the affairs of the late H. Gonigam.

J. L. Stewart and wife left last Friday for New Rome, Wisconsin, where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have been residents of Red Lake Falls for a number of years, and their departure is regretted by a large number of friends.

The High School foot ball team is practicing diligently, and are preparing to play some fast games with teams in the neighboring towns this fall. The team is composed largely of players who have had a year's experience, at least, and will undoubtedly acquit itself creditably.

The band gave an open-air concert on Main street last Friday evening, and although the weather was not the best a fair-sized crowd turned out to hear the concert, nevertheless. Red Lake Falls has the best amateur band in the state, and these concerts are better than the people in most towns in Minnesota have the privilege of enjoying.

An old-time corn roast will be given at the home of A. Allison, west of town, tomorrow evening. About forty people from town will go out in hay racks, and all are expected to provide themselves with blankets and be prepared to enjoy the evening in regular "Indian" fashion. The affair is looked forward to with pleasure by those who are to attend.

The local lodge of Modern Woodmen enjoyed a picnic on the Clearwater island yesterday. A large number of Woodmen and their families assembled there and spent the afternoon in a very pleasant manner, partaking of an excellent lunch at supper time. The band was entertained by the Woodmen during the early supper hour, and furnished music to help liven things up. A jolly dance at the hall followed the picnic, and everybody concerned had a good time.

Announcement is made this week of the approaching marriage of W. A. McIntyre and Miss Lydia Fletcher, two of Red Lake Falls popular young people, which will occur at the Presbyterian church here on Wednesday, September 7. The parties to this all-important event are among the most highly esteemed and brilliant young people of the Valley, and have countless friends throughot this section who will be pleased to learn of their approaching union. The bride-to-be has been raised in Red Lake Falls and has always conducted herself in a manner that has swelled the hearts of her townspeople with pride and gratification. After completing her education at the State Normal she took up school work as her chosen profession, and her success has been so great that she is today considered among the foremost educators of the state, and during the past two summers has had charge of the model school work in the sessions of the Polk and Red Lake county summer schools, her efforts giving excellent satisfaction in each instance and resulting in great good to the attendants of the school. Mr. McIntyre is an attorney of already-proven ability and his rise to a prominent place in the foremost ranks of his profession is the sanguine expectation of his friends. Red Lake Falls people will shower the happy couple with sincere advance congratulations and will trust that their married life may be filled with naught but success and happiness.

H. C. Clement, the Terrebonne cheese maker, was a caller here Tuesday. Mr. Clement made a shipment of cheese for exhibition at the Minnesota State Fair at Hamline next week, and it is likely that he will carry off some of the prizes.

Miss Ella Krueger returned Tuesday from her six weeks' visit with the Hayton family at Bemidji. Miss Mildred Hayton accompanied her home and will make home with Grandpa and Grandma Krueger while she attends school this winter.

Mrs. H. J. Bischoff was at St. Hilaire over Sunday where she had a slight operation performed by Dr. Pleth. A broken pin had worked itself into her hand and the operation was to secure the piece, which was giving her considerable trouble.

W. H. Gibson, representing the Waterous Engine Works company, of St. Paul, was a caller here Monday and sold the council 500 feet of new hose. The old hose is rapidly playing out and as the guarantee has expired the council will have to replace it as fast as able. The 500 feet, just ordered will help materially.

Word from Frank E. Hunt to his family here states that he expected to arrive at Providence, Rhode Island, this week, where he will spend some little time visiting. Mr. Hunt has numerous relatives in that part of the country and the remaining part of his visit will be spent among them. He reports himself as thoroughly enjoying himself, and says that his trip is doing him much good.

Joseph Paradis received a letter this week from his brother, P. G. Paradis, who is now located on his farm at North Yakima, Washington, in which he reports that he likes the country first-rate, and is glad that he made the change. He asks Joe to have The Gazette sent to him there, as that is all that is needed to complete his happiness. His many friends here will be glad to learn that he is succeeding.

Crookston Times: Dr. L. L. Mayland, of Bagley, who came in last evening on his way to Red Lake Falls where he will look over matters political during the next day or two, stated last evening that the story printed in the St. Paul News to the effect that he was opposed to Senator Moses E. Clapp and would not favor his re-election was all a fake. Not a word of the story is true, according to Mr. Mayland, and Senator Clapp never had a more staunch supporter than the doctor. Dr. Mayland is a candidate for representative from his district and is opposed to L. C. Simons of Red Lake Falls.

Mrs. Georgiana Marchand returned yesterday from the Twin cities, where she had attended the meeting of the Womens' Catholic Order of Foresters of the Northwest. The meeting was one of the most memorable in the history of the order, and developed into a contest seldom seen in meetings of this kind. The two propositions that were up to be settled at this time occasioned the "scrap" and several days were required to come to a vote. The first was to change the plan of assessment from the present to the graded plan, and the other was to hold triennial instead of biennial meetings. Both were bitterly opposed, with the result that those in favor of the old plan in both cases won out, and neither proposed change was adopted. The Red Lake Falls lodge had previously voted against the adoption of the graded plan.

Blame

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.
Of course that's easy.

But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you

We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitchings, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

You are the doctor.

"My son Bert, when in his 17th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy, so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. After several physicians had failed to relieve him, we gave Dr. Miles' Nervine a trial. Ten months' treatment with Nervine and Liver Pills restored our boy to perfect health."—MR. JOHN S. WILSON, Deputy Co. Clerk, Dallas Co., Mo.

HEALTH

"I don't think we could keep house without Thedford's Black-Draught. We have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves stomach pains, frees the constipated bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakened kidneys is necessary in the home where Thedford's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor. Thedford's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colds, chills and fever, bad blood, headaches, diarrhœa, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because the stomach, bowels liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.

No Doctor

Escaped an Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Huggins of Melbourne, Fla., writes, "My doctor told me I had Consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and I owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by W. A. Dchreiter, Druggist. Price 50c & $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Sick Headache.

"For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick headache of a very severe character, She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work, About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright, of New London, New York. For sale by Schraiter's Drug Stora.

Are You Interested In the South?

DO YOU CARE TO KNOW OF THE MARVELOUS DEVELOPMENT NOW GOING ON IN

The Great Central South?

OF INNUMERABLE OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG MEN OR OLD ONES—TO GROW RICH?

Do you want to know about rich farming lands, fertile, well located on a Trunk Line Railroad, which will produce two, three or four chops from the same field each year? Land now to be had at from $3.00 to $5.00 an acre which will be worth from $30.00 to $150.00 within 10 years? About stock raising where the extreme of winter feeding is but six short weeks? Of places where truck growing and fruit raising yield enormous returns each year? Of a land where you can live out of doors every day in the year? Of opportunities for establishing profitable manufacturing industries; of rich mineral locations, and splendid business openings?

If you want to know the details of any or all of these write me. I will gladly advise you fully and truthfully.

Bangs & Co. have a new ad in this issue, calling your attention to a special clearance sale. Read the ad.

The Royal Neighbors will hold their regular meeting at their hall Friday evening. A good attendance is requested.

Mrs. Lewis Adams came over from Crookston today and will spend several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Zaiser.

Frank Austin, wife and child, arrived from Fergus Falls Monday and have spent the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Austin.

Mrs. Theo. LaBissoniere will entertain a party of friends at dinner this evening, in honor of her mother, Mrs. P. H. Martin, who is visiting here.

Mrs. J. J. Doe and son Orson visited Wylie and St. Hilaire last week in the interests of Mrs. Doe's candidacy for county superintendent of schools.

Mrs P. H. Martin came over from Crookston the first of the week and has been a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Theo LaBissoniere, during the week.

S. A. Swanson wishes to announce to the patrons of the firm of Swanson-Olson, that all bills are payable to him, and that he will settle all outstanding accounts.

E. L. Quist was here from Thief River Falls last Friday looking over the field. Mr. Quist is the north End candidate for Superintendent of Schools, and says that he is receiving encouraging reports every day.

The firemen of St. Hilaire will give a dance in the Imperial hall of that city Saturday evening of this week. The local orchestra will furnish the music and it is expected that several others will go up to enjoy the evening.

Willow City, (N. D.) Eagle: Miss Emma Pepin, of the Eagle force, went to Rugby Saturday to meet Miss Clara Cyr, of Red Lake Falls, Minn., who will visit with the family here for some time.

St. Hilaire Spectator: Miss Catherine Pirath, of Red Lake Falls, a graduate of the Moorhead Normal has accepted the position as teacher of the second and third grades in the St. Hilaire schools. The corps of teachers is now complete.

Blackduck Times: Mrs. J. A. Bray and children who have been visiting in Red Lake Falls and Crookston arrived home Wednesday evening. They were accompanied by Mrs. Alfred Brosseau and two children and Mrs. J. B. Morin, of Crookston.

K. J. Weeks was down from Thief River Falls last Thursday and spent a few hours in the interests of his candidacy for Register of Deeds. Mr. Weeks reports that things look bright for him, and that he thinks the nomination will come his way.

E. B. Lanager, of Scotland, was a caller here the first of the week. Mr. Lanager will put in a stock of hardware at the new town out east, and is now getting his building under way. He is a progressive fellow, and will undoubtedly do well at the new town.

A neighboring editor, regarded as a wise man, prints this: "Now is the time of the year when the boys and girls sit on the front porch and look scornfully at the stars. "What are you thinking about?" and he says: "Same thing you are." "Don't you try it." she says, "or I'll slap your face."

Dr. V. Pleth, of St. Hilaire, assisted by Drs. Wilkinson and Lemieux, of this city, performed an operation on the person of Mrs. Louis Seiff Wednesday of last week, for female trouble of long years' standing. The operation was entirely successful, and the patient is in a fair way to a rapid and complete recovery.

Tip Taylor arrived here from St. Paul last Friday, and will remain here to enjoy a several weeks' hunt. He brought along several hunting dogs belonging to city parties, and is training them during the few days left till the opening of the season. Tip's many friends were glad to greet him again and to learn of his success.

Thief River Press: A. E. Schusser, foreman for more than a year in The Press office, left on Monday for Kelliher, Beltrami county, where he has taken charge of the Journal. Tony has developed into a first-class newspaper man and we wish him the best of good luck in his new venture, as do all of his friends about town.

A meeting of the Bemidji lodge of Odd Fellows was held the other night and at the meeting it was promised by Grand Master Winn Powess and Grand Secretary A. L. Bolton that the next state convention of the order will be held in Bemidji. It will take place as soon as the lodge rooms are put in shape for the reception of the delegates.

The 8th annual outing of the N. W. E. A. will be held from Sept. 6th to 20th inclusive, and the newspaper people will assemble at the Windsor hotel, St. Paul, and go from there to Pine City. They will visit Lake Pokegama, Cross Lake, Taylor's Falls and view the beauties of the St. Croix. The frolic closes with a return to St. Paul and a delightful program at Wildwood. The party is limited to 100 and only editors and their families are to attend

W. S. Day, of Warren, was a business caller here Monday. Mr. Day is the traveling auditor of the Bovey-Shute Lumber company, of Minneapolis, and was here attending to business matters for his company. The Bovey-Shute people are preparing to put in a line of yards on the new Soo line out east and will start the yard at Scotland just as soon as they can get the sheds up and material there. They will also put in a yard at Brooks, and at several of the other new towns south on the Soo.

Dr. L. L. Mayland, of Bagley, who is a candidate before the people of Red Lake, Beltrami and Clearwater counties for the Republican nomination to the state legislature, in opposition to L. C. Simons of this city, was a caller here Monday in the interests of his candidacy. Mr. Mayland is a pleasant fellow, but the people here have it figured out that he is wasting his time canvassing in this section of the district, as Judge Simons so pleased his constituents in his service last winter that he will be given practically a unanimous vote here. The doctor went from here to Thief River Falls.

An exchange throws the following good advice to farmers: Name your farm Give the selection more thought even than you give to the naming of a child. As a matter of pure sentiment a farm name is worthy of adoption. As a matter of convenience now that the rural mail delivery is widely extended, and especially in communities where dwell a number of families of the same name, it is highly desirable. Where you select the name for your place, advertise it. Acquaint the community of its adoption through your local paper. Letter the name of your farm and your own name on the mail box, so that the passer-by may acquaint himself with your name and the identity of the farm.

The primary election law has been changed this year in that town clerks who live beyond 15 miles of the county seat are not required to appear in person for their books, blanks and election supplies. The county auditor is authorized by the change to express or send by mail all supplies needed by the clerks who live more than fifteen miles from the city and judges of election who also are beyond the fifteen mile limit, may send the returns in a similar manner. The change will save a considerable sum of money to the county in the way of mileage, as clerks and judges have heretofore drawn ten cents per mile for their journey to the city for supplies and with returns.

Mrs. J. B. Armstrong and children returned home today from their all-summer's visit at different state points.

Crookston Press: The will of the late Father Grandchamp has been opened and offered for probate and and the total valuation of the property left by Father Grandchamp amounted to some $5,000 and includes his residence on Ash street and considerable other property as well as considerable money and personal property in the form of securities. A life insurance policy for $2,000 is also an asset of the estate. In the will the generosity, character and lofty ideals of Father Grandchamp is revealed. A large share of the property is left to St. Vincent's hospital as a token of appreciation for the kind services rendered him during his last days upon earth. Father McGorlick, of Duluth, is also left a considerable amount and a father and brother in Canada are not forgotten in the document. Attorney Miller, of this city, is attending to the legalities connected with the settlement of the estate.

MIXED THEIR CLAIMS.

Prominent Gully Farmers File on Wrong Homesteads.

Crookston Journal: Two prominent Gully farmers and homesteaders have lived upon their homesteads near Gully, Polk county, during the past three years, have been the best of neighbors and friends, and have added improvements of an extensive nature to their properties without in the least suspecting that they were settled upon the wrong parcel of land and that the filing which each had made covered the land occupied by the other.

Olaus O. Noreson and Peter Fladeland, of Gully, are farmers interested and the story became public property Monday when both gentlemen visited Crookston and the local land office for the purpose of having their mutual mistake and property muddle adjusted. In 1900 both gentlemen visited the Gully country and each picked out a claim. Filing papers were made out in accordance, supposedly, with the selection made and later on when both homesteaders returned to reside upon their claims they proceeded to improve and beautify the property selected. Four years were spent by both parties upon their homesteads and some $4,000 was spent in improving both places and building barns, house and sheds. Early in the spring however, Mr. Noreson made the discovery that he was located upon the land filed upon by Mr. Fladeland and vice versa and that all of the improvements which he had made would legally belong to his neighbor. The position was a most peculiar one, as the improvements were not evenly divided, and both gentlemen had their mind set upon the property they had improved. Legal talent in this city was consulted and the matter of adjusting the difference fell to Attorney Nat Campbell, who immediately took the matter up with the Washington authorities, the result being a notice that the descriptions of each homestead had been altered in the homestead papers so as to conform to the original intentions of the settlers.

THE LAST DRIVING.

Big Log Drive Being Hurried to Its Destination.

Crookston Journal: The big drive of the Grand Forks Lumber company which arrived in the city last week from the head of the river and the Big Lake country, was yesterday afternoon started down stream for Grand Forks with a crew of river rats and men busy with "can't hooks and pike poles." Paddy Sullivan, the genial river boss for the Grand Forks Lumber company, superintended the operations incident to starting and leaping the dam with the heavy wannagan, and will be a member of the driving party through to the Forks. He will very likely encounter considerable low water below and wants to be on hand personally to direct the work of the crew.

Chief Cook Swanson, the oldest river cook in the northwestern portion of the state and known to every river man in the country almost, has charge of the bean pot upon the trip down stream and needless to say the men will be well fed. Nothing is lacking as far as good cooking is concerned when Swanson has charge of the cook shanty whether it be in the woods or upon the river.

But one of the two wannagans used upon the trip down from the upper country will be used in the trip to the Forks as not nearly as many men are carried from this point farther down. The remaining wannagan will be left up river above this city until next spring when it will be again taken up river and used by the men who bring down the 1905 drive.

OIL ON RESERVATION

Crookston Journal String Fiend Thinks That Surprises Are In Store For Valley People.

Crookston Journal: There is a probability that the reservation Indian land sale which is to be held in this city in October will prove an exciting event at least if the results of a prospecting trip which is being made now by a party of four oil experts is productive of the kind of results which the members expect.

The party passed through the city yesterday morning equipped with all of the necessary pharaphanalia for a several weeks tour of the lands to be sold and were very reticent in regard to their purpose in going into the north country. A representative of the Journal, however, who sat at the same table for breakfast in Crookston yesterday morning gleaned the fact that the four gentlemen are experienced oil men from the east and that they came up here in June to look over the Red Lake lands with the idea of locating upon homesteads. In their travels over the tract to be opened they encountered unmistakable signs of oil, but the country at that time being flooded with water, prospecting of a substantial character was impossible. They returned to the east without purchasing any land, but determined to return later equipped for a thorough investigation of the apparent oil fields. Hence their appearance in the city yesterday morning.

It has been hinted for some time that oil exists in the Red River country, but until now no practical tests have been made and the results will be watched with interest by people throughout the northwest. Should oil be found in quantities, it is more than likely that the prospectors will be unable to keep the general public from becoming aware of the fact, although they may be able to reveal the exact location of the fields, but the chances are that should oil be found a wild skirmish will be on to purchase the lands offered at the Crookston sale, which is in October and at which 1,034 homesteads will be doled out.

GOVERNOR SETS LABOR DAY.

Proclamation Issued Declaring Sept. 5th a Holiday.

The following Labor Day proclamation was issued Saturday by Governor Van Sant:

"Pursuant to authority conferred by statute, I do hereby proclaim as Labor Day, Monday Sept. 5, 1904, and urgently request the observance of this important holiday, established as it is in just recognition of all who toil. The great problems involving the respective rights of labor and capital call for the wisest and most patriotic consideration. The occasion affords an opportunity not only for healthful recreation, but for discussion and wise counsel, with a view to adjusting fairly and equitably the difference of these two great forces so mutually dependent upon each other. Employers and employees can and should occupy the day in a manner conductive to mutual good. I heartily recommend that all establishments of industry and places of business within the state be closed, and that in every way possible employer cooperate with employes in becoming recognition of the day."

Dairy Notes.

(From the Ada Index.)

Don't expect a cow to make something of nothing.

A farmer can get to good breeding and keep it up.

A quick tempered man should never milk a nervous cow.

Heifer calves from good milch cows should never be disposed of.

Now is the time when the creamery is bothered with the weed flavor.

Cream of two skimmings mixed will not yield butter as well as one.

Do not let your cattle go a whole year without carding or brushing them.

The longer a calf remains with a cow the more difficult it is to separate them.

For a clogged teat few things are better than bathing the teat and udder in water as warm as can be used.

Farmers who keep dairy cows should not depend on pasture alone for a supply of summer food for their cattle.

Now is the time to secure your feed for the cow for the long winter and don't forget the silo, it will make you money.

Keep the milk can where the pure air can circulate freely about it and leave the lid ajar when the milk is cooling.

Put out the robbers and sell them off and keep the good cows for there is more profit in ten good cows than twenty poor ones.

Norman county has 13 creameries now and there is room for at least a dozen more and they are bound to come sooner or later.

The only proper time to skim the milk in of the form just as quick as possible after milking and cool the cream off as soon as possible after skimming.

It will soon be that the dairy business will take the lead in Norman county and the wheat will be a side issue for the cream does not rust but the wheat does.

It pays to study your cows and find out if they pay you. If they don't, sell off the poor ones and buy good ones and don't look at a couple of dollars extra for they are worth the difference.

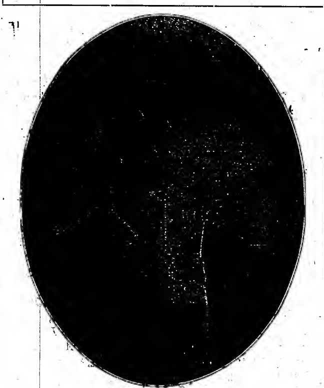
The worst thing you can do is to hold your milk over till morning and just skim once a day. You are the looser for there is no separetor that will skim at a low temperature and do justice.

Why have we so many farmers that dont seem to care to help to hold their own creameries but ship their cream to some big control plant and help build them up where it never will benefit you anyhow?

When a cow leaves grain or hay in her manger, showing she was fed too much or is out of condition, do not leave it there to wait until she does eat it. Food left in the manger and breathed upon by the cow soon becomes repulsive and it will take her longer to get back an appetite than if you cleaned out the manger, leaving it bare until another feeding time. Then if she acts greedy give her a taste and more if she needs it.

A good dairy cow is spare in flesh, rather bony frame, good hips, ribs wide apart, so that two fingers may easily put between them, thighs out out, good barrel and good udder. Her feed goes to milk, and she is a very persistent milker, not wanting to go dry at all. She gives 20 to 23 pounds daily of rich milk and keeps right at it if you only give her half a chance. She weighs not over 700 pounds and gives her weight at least nine times every year.

OUR ABLE CONGRESSMAN



HON. HALVOR STEENERSON

Congressman from the Ninth Congressional district, and candidate for re-election. Mr. Steenerson's excellent representation of the new Ninth has been a source of gratification to his many friends throughout this part of the district and the fact that he has no opposition in his own or any other party speaks well for his standing. Mr. Steenerson, although a new member of the lower house of lawmakers at Washington, secured appointments on several of the important committees, and his career during the session elicted favorable comment from these who recognize the qualities necessary to make a statesman. Mr. Steenerson is a great deal more popular today than he was two years ago, and it is the free prediction of the posted men of the Valley that he will make such an enviable record during his next term in office that he will continue to serve the Ninth district for a great many years to come.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflamation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Populists of Red Lake County Cannot Get on the Ticket Exept by Petition. —Attorney General Rules.

There has been a question raised here dnring the past two week as to whether or not the Populists were entitled to a place on the ballot for the coming primary eleotion, and good natured arguments have resulted. County Attorney Grady held that the Pops were entitled to go on as People's party candidates while Auditor Ford figured that nnder the present law they could not, with the result that the question was submitted to the attorney general and the following answer was received:

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
St. Paul, Angust 26, 1904.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to your letter of Angnst 24th will say that the Peoples party failed to poll ten per cent of the total vote cast at the lest preceding election for its leading candidate, who in this case was their candidate for governor, for which reason they have lost their stending as a political party under the primary law, and the only way in which the Peoples perty of your county can have a primary ticket is by petitioning the county auditor for the right to have such a primary election ticket, and such petition shall contain the names of at least ten per cent of the qualified electors of the county.

Having complied with the law in this respect they can file under the designation of Peoples perty in the same manner as candidates of other political parties. This is the only manner in which they can get upon the primary ballot. Of course they have the right to get upon the general election ballot by petition.

Yours very truly,
P. A. EWERT,
Assistant Attorney General.

This leaves but two tickets in the field this fall, aud the voter will have the chance of calling himself a Democrat or a Republican. There were several candidates who desired to file ou the People's party ticket in this county, but the ruliug from the Attoruey General's office does away with this intention. Some of them have filed as Republicans aud others as Democrats, and both parties gain some good material as a result.

OUT TO THE SLAUGHTER.

Red Lake Falls Hunters Pursuing the Festive Prairie Hen.

Today is the first day of the opeu season for prairie chickens, dncks and geese and every available rig and gun in town is in use, while the nimrods pursue the chickens through the field and meadow.

The crop of chickens is said to be a large one this year, and retnrning parties tonight are expected to bring home large numbers of the palatable birds, so that a number of Red Lake Falls families will undoubtedly partake of their first meal of prairie chickeu tomorrow.

The many meadows and spots of unbroken prairie in this section of the state make it a veritable paradise for the hunter, and every year sees a large uumber of people from all over the state come here to enjoy the excellent sport afforded after the season opens.

This year there has not been nearly so much pre-season hunting done in this part of the county, at least, and it is expected that the birds will not be uearly so wild as usnal on the first of the hunting season, which will bring joy to those who are out early. The excellent hunting afforded here is but another of the many attractive features of the Valley, and the people on the ground certainly show that they appreciate it.

HARVEST IS OVER.

Most of the Grain in Red Lake County is Ready for the Thresher.

"Making hay while the sun shines" has been the motto of Red Lake and other Red River Valley farmers during the past week or more of favorable weather and as a result countless numbers of grain fields are now safely out of the way in shocks and stacks and the crop is nearer to being garnered at this time than it has been for some years past. Sunday was an ideal one for harvesting and the reapers were busy throughont the greater portion of the valley. The average farmer who had ripened grain in the field waiting to be cnt and susceptible to damage by delay, disregarded the Sabbath, no matter what his creed, and worked his men horses and himself from sunrise to sun down in the waving grain fields.

Stacking is on quite generally throughont the country and it is qnite evident that the threshing this fall will be largely of the stack variety. Farmers have been caught up so many times with heavy rains and their crop in shocks in the field that they are paying more attention to the stacking feature and only those who have prospects of immediate threshing and want to sell their grain direct from their fields will allow the sheaves to stand unprotected from the weather in the fields.

Threshing has been done already upou a small scale northwest of the city, but the melodions toot of the threshers whistle has not as yet become general nor will it for a week or more. Outfits for threshing are being repaired and fitted up iu this city iu large uumbers for the beginuing of work upon the last stage of the fall harvest before the sale to the elevators aud mills. Threshing rates will remain at about the same rate as they were last and it is thought by old time farmers that the number of machines in the valley will be ample to get the grain out of the way on time aud before bad fall weather.

Death of Mrs. Kamm.

Mrs. Peter Kamm, wife of a prominent farmer at Badger, died Monday evening after a brief illness. Deceased gave birth to a child a couple of weeks ago and her death was the result of complications arising therefrom. Deceased leaves besides a husband, a family of five small children, the youngest but a two weeks old babe, to brave life's battles without the kind ministrations of the wife and mother. Mrs. Kamm was 40 years old and came here with her hnsband a year and a half ago, aud moved onto the Beausoliel place, which Mr. Kamm purchased. She had always been well and strong and her death at this time is indeed sad. The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church here yesterday morning, and a large nnmber of the neighbors followed the remains to their last resting place. The infant babe is being cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Quesuell, and the neighbors at Badger have shown Mr. Kamm a great deal of kindness in his hour of bereavement. The family will have the sympathy of the community.

OUT OF THE RACE.

County Treasurer Tandberg Withdraws from Political Arena.

Considerable of a surprise was sprung on the people here Monday when County Treasurer O. T. Tandberg annonnced that he would not enter the race for county office this fall, but would retire at the end of his present term. A lucrative position has been offered Mr. Tandberg elsewhere and he feels that he can retire and accept it with good grace, and as the position carries with it a salary equal to or better than that paid the treasurer, Mr. Tandberg does not feel that he will lose anything by the change.

Mr. Tandberg has been County Treasurer of Red Lake county for the past six years, and has given entire satisfaction in the office, being re-elected each time by an increased majority. He has been a candidate on the People's party ticket during his tenure in office and the fact that that party ie to have no tioket in the field this fall probably had as much to do with his decision to retire as anything. At the county convention of the Democrats at St. Hilaire last week, Mr. Tandberg was asked to go on the Democratic ticket this fall, bnt positively declined, and as he is not a Republican and does not care to run as an independent, he felt that the easiest way out of it was to retire altogether.

Mr. Tandberg has been a faithful servaut of the people since assuming the treasnrership, and has been counted as one of the hardest men to beat in this section. He is a first-class citizen and he aud his estimable family will be missed from Red Lake Falls.

Karl M. Hausen, of Thief River Falls, filed as a candidate for County Treasurer on the Democratic ticket, and the fight will be between him and Ovide Moreau, the candidate of the Republicans.

WELL WORTH SEEING.

Magnificent Menagerie With the Great Floto Shows.

One of the pleasantest and most profitable hours that can he spent anywhere may be found in the enormous menagarie department of these vast shows. There is not a great deal of opportunity offered elsewhere for a practical study of animal life. The relations of the wild animals of the world to mankind are hut little understood. The marvels of creation are nowhere greater than in the strange and diversified forms of animate existence, as exemplified in wild and untamable heasts. Scarcely any idea of the great cardinal principle of progress in animal life evolution may he had without a knowledge of wild animals. The wise men of the world know this fact, and in order to make such knowledge available, as well as to entertain and amuse, have established in the larger cities of the world zoological gardens. But they are enormously expensive institutions and only the wealthiest communities can afford them.

It is because these great shows make one of the meny features of their exhibitions a menagerie that is complete in every particular that they are of incalculable practical henefit to any and every community they visit. Years of study of zoology in books is not so effective as an hour spent in this menagerie. And when during this hour one may he amused hy the antics of the monkeys, marvel at the strange creatures of odd shapes and savage disposition, and at the same time he entertained hy the music of a magnificent military hand, an hour of diversion and study is supplied that can be had nowhere else.

It is for this reason that the doors of the shows are opened an hour hefore the heginning of the arenic performance. It is reaily a duty to get to the shows early enough to allow the children ample time to see all the animals, and an hour is none too long for a hesty inspection of them all.

Shows will exhibit in Red Lake Falls on Monday, September 5.

BACKACHE AND DIZZINESS.

Most of the Ailments Peculiar to the Female Sex are Due to Catarrh of Pelvic Organs.

MRS. M. BRICKNER.

99 Eleventh Street,
Milwaukee, Wis.

"A short time ago I found my condition very serious, I had headaches, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

FEMALE TROUBLE NOT RECOGNIZED AS CATARRH.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

If you have catarrh write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

REGISTER OF DEEDS.

TO THE VOTERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY: I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of Register of Deeds for Red Lake county, and earnestly solicit your support and votes at the primary election to be held on September 20, 1904. If nominated and re-elected I shall, as in the past, use my best endeavors to promote the improvement of the records, and retain the confidence of the patrons of this most important office.
SAMUEL GIBEAU.

Report is that H. T. McAnulty, a prominent young man of this end of the county, will go on the ballot by petition as an independent candidate for superintendent of schools. Mr. McAnulty has maoy friends througbout this part of the county, and will undoubtedly make a strong run.

WM. C. L. DEMANN,

Commissioner from the Second district is a candidate for re-election in the coming campaign, and will have no opposition in his own party for the nomination. Mr. Demann is chairman of the present Board of County Commissioners and during the time he has held the office has given excellent service to his constitnency. He has attended to the duties of his office in a manner that has resulted in great good to the district he has represented, and the fact that the people here are practically unanimous in supporting him shows that they appreciate his efforts to serve them. Mr. Demann owns one of the finest farms in Lake Pleasant township, and by good management has earned a fair competency since coming to this county. He is a careful worker, but when he is convinced that his stand is right has the courage to stay by whatever proposition he may favor. He is a good friend to Red Lake Falls, and has looked carefully after her interests as well as those of his home township. The people of this district know "Billy" Demann sc well that they will all be glad to give him the endorsement he deserves, and all the Gazette can say in commendation of his career only voices the sentiment of the public at large.

Mrs. J. J. Doe is making an active canvass of the county and is meeting with encouragement in her candidacy for the superintendency. She is a competent lady and if nominated and elected the people will never have cause to regret their choice.

Hon. Albert Berg, of Warroad, has withdrawn from the race for Representative from that district, and the field is left to the other candidates. Mr. Berg has been a conspicuous figure in the politics of Minnesota for several years and his retirement will he receivsd with surprise throughout the state.

Ovide Moreau reports that he is meeting with great success in his canvass for the treasurership nomination, and thinks he stands an excellent show of being chosen to handle the county's cash for the next two years. Mr. Moreau is an experienced business man, and if elected in November will make a competent officer.

A Red Lake Falls man was honored by the Democrat state convention at Minneapolis Tuesday, when Editor King, of this city, was placed in nomination for Secretary of State. Mr. King has been an ardent supporter of everything Democratic since coming to this state, and the placing of his name on the ticket is recognizing faithful service rendered. The Gazette takes pleasure in joining with the people of Red Lake Falls in extending congratulations to Brother King.

Paul I. D. Osthy, of Emardville township, filed for the nomination as auditor on the Republican ticket yesterday, and says he will go after the office with both feet. The Republicans and Democrats had concluded there wasn't anyone who would question Auditor Ford's title to the office for the next two years, and he would have a clear field to himself. Mr. Ford is exceedingly popular and the man that beats him can go after and get anything he wants in a political way after that.

Minnesota will have a country editor for governor after January first, regardless of which party wins at the polls, Bob Dunn, the Republican nominee, has conducted the Princeton Union for a great many years, while John A. Johnson, named for governor by the Democrats at Minneapolis Tuesday, is editor and proprietor of the St. Peter Herald. Both are jolly good fellows and it ts too bad that Minnesota doesn't need two governors, but as long as they don't friend Johnson will hove to wait a while.

The register of deeds scrap gets more interesting every day, and even the most reliable political prognosticators are not predicting what the result will be. The three north end candidates are making a strong run for the Republican nomination, while Samuel Gibeau has announced himself as a Republican and will try conclusions with the other three at the primaries. Frank Jeffers is assured of the Democratic nomination, and whoever wins the Republican plum will have an adversary worthy of the name. The office carries with it a nice fat salary, and there are are a lot more of us who would like to get into the game if we had the required price.

The Crookston Times has always been an ardent advocate of the present primary election law, but like a great many other leading papers and people throughout Minnesota, it has experienced a change of heart and it is now in favor of either modifying or repealing the law. For a thing that will mix things up in the biggest mess, and destroy all semblance of harmony or organization, the present primary law is a howling success, but it looks to us that for other purposes it fails to fill its intended niche. Here is what the Times says in its editorial: "The Times has been an enthusiastic advocate of the present primauy law. It is not so closely wedded to it as it was once. The test of time has somewhat shaken our faith in its effectivness. Its tendency seems to be to weaken party fealty and destroy party responsibility. You cannot have government without organization; it takes no cognizance of locality or of conditions. It recognizes only the ambitions of the individual, but forgets the welfare of the people. We commence to think it should be modified or repealed."

Blackduck Times: Several months ago J. A. Bray sent a group photograph of his seven children—a prettier lot which one seldom finds—to President Roosevelt who by the by has six youngsters himself. The act was acknowledged by the President through his secretsry by a prettily worded note. Last week Mr. Bray was happily surprised to receive by express a 12x16 photograph of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their six children. The prize needless to say is highly valued by Mr. and Mrs. Bray.

When the public schools of the state open in September the eyes of the Minnesota pupils will be examined regularly by the teachers under the supervision of the state board of health and the state department of public instruction. Plans for this examination, which were decided upon by the state board of health some time ago, have been perfected by the board and will be put in operation as soon as the schools open. If the teacher finds that the vision of the pupil is defective, the teacher will notify the parents with the recommendation that an oculist be visited. Whether or not the recommendation of the teachers is obligatory, will depend on the action of the local board of health.

Chas. Latta, the genial city editor of the St. Hilaire Spectator, has resigned his position upon that paper and will shortly start a printery of his own at Scotland, Julius Pleth's new town on the Soo line. Charles has lots of good, sound, valuable newspaper experience, a host of friends and ample financial backing and his venture will doubtless be a success. The name of the new publication has not yet been announced.

"Study the child and discover where his greatest interest lies," says Mrs. Theodore W. Birney, Honorary President of the National Congress of Mothers, discussing "The Choice of Occupation," in the September Delineator. Mrs. Birney very warmly advocates a kind of natural selection which is indicated in the trend of the child's play. It is suggested, and with reason, that a child's toys and favorite pursuits are a sure index to his vocation. The plan is founded on child-study, and, as the author says, "If parents gave to the careful study of their children one-half the earnest thought that they bestow on matters of comparatively minor importance, we should see far fewer 'round pegs in square holes,' and vice versa."

H. A. Langlois, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. August Kreuger, here for the past six weeks, left Tuesday afternoon for his home at Chicago, where he will spend a week or so and then go to California on a business and pleasure trip. Mrs. Kreuger accompanied him as far as Crookston on his journey.

Merchant J. F. Matthews was in from Dorothy Monday and told The Gazette the particulars of the exciting ball game between the Dorothy and Wylie teams at the latter place last Sunday. Dornthy won the contest by a score of 17 to 16, and the game was close and exciting, and proved interesting to those who witnessed it. Mr, Matthews umpired and gave good satisfaction.

Deputy Sheriff George Jarman came down from Thief River Falls Sunday and accompanied by Sheriff Linnihan drove to Dudgale, where they took the train for Walker to witness the hanging of Chounard, the Cass Lake wife murderer, who paid the penalty for his crime at 1:07 Tuesday morning. Sheriff Hardy, of Cass county, issued invitations to all the sheirffs in the northern part of the state to attend, and in the invitation included a commission as deputy sheriff of Cass county, as the law says that no one is to witness a hanging in this state except the sheriff, his deputies, necessary physicians and clergymen, so in order to assure those who went there to see the hanging against being disapointed, Sheriff Hardy deputized all those invited. Quite a number of sheriffs and deputies from northern counties were there.

A. Dainard, an old-time resident of St. Hilaire, died at his home there Monday as a result of an operation for appendicitis. The old gentleman was stricken the latter part of last week with a serious attack of that disease, and Friday Drs. Holte, of Crookston, and Cummings, of St. Hilaire, operated upon him, but he failed to rally sufficiently from the shock and passed away Monday. Mr. Dainard was one of the old-timers in this section, having been a prominent figure in Valley politics before Red Lake county was set off from Polk, and having been at one time a candidate for sheriff of Polk county. Mr. Dainard has many old friends in this section who regret to hear of his demise.

REFUSED BY PACKERS

STRIKING STOCK YARDS BUTCHERS ASK FOR CONFERENCE WITH EMPLOYERS.

LATTER REFUSE REQUEST, DECLARING NO GOOD COULD POSSIBLY RESULT.

PACKERS DECLARE THAT UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER IS THEIR ONLY TERMS.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Application was made to the packers by the stock yards strikers during the day for a conference, the purpose being to bring about peace in the industrial conflict waging at Packing Town. The conference was refused by the packers.

The application came in the form of a communication from the allied trades council and was signed by President Matthew Carr of the allied trades. The request was sent immediately after the close of a joint meeting of the national executive board of the Butcher Workmen's union and the allied trades conference board, and was addressed to J. Ogden Armour and his associates.

Mr. Armour, upon receipt of the communication, at once called the heads of the other big packing plants into session. When the meeting of the packers ended a communication was addressed to President Donnelly and his associates declining the conference the strikers had asked for. The reason given was that no good could come from such a conference.

"There is nothing left for the men but unconditional surrender," said a packer. "The leaders should not hesitate in calling the strike off so that the men, who are anxious, could find work. Many of them will be rehired in Packing Town, but there are thousands who must look elsewhere for employment and they should be released so they can begin their hunt for work outside the stock yards. It does not make any difference what peace proposal the strikers have to submit—we shall not deal with the unions. The only terms of surrender we shall consider will be the return of the men as individuals."

CHOUNARD EXECUTED.

Wife Murderer Pays the Penalty at Walker, Minn.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 30.—William Chounard, who murdered his wife at Cass Lake, Minn., in a fit of jealous rage, paid the penalty for his crime at Walker, Minn., at 1:07 Tuesday morning.

The prisoner was escorted to the scaffold by a priest and two deputy sheriffs and when asked whether he wished to say anything replied, "No, nothing." The priest then offered up the Lord's prayer, which Chounard repeated. While the black cap was being adjusted the condemned aided the deputies in every way he could, and his nerve never faltered.

The trap was sprung at 1:07 a. m. and at 1:14 a. m. he was pronounced dead. At 1:28 his body was cut down and conveyed to the undertakers, from which place the funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon.

FOUR PICKNICKERS KILLED.

Tornado Causes Havoc in Chautauqua County, N. Y.

Buffalo, Aug. 26.—A special to the News from Dunkirk, N. Y., describes the tornado which swept across Chautauque county as have been terrifying in the extreme and most destructive in its result. The worst havoc was wrought in the town of Stockton, where about 5,000 persons had assembled at the annual town picnic in Parkhurst's grove. It was here that four persons lost their lives and a number of others were injured. Orrin Dalrymple, aged sixty years, of Cassadaga; Mrs. Orrin Dalrymple, Ina Scott, fifteen years, of Shumoa, and Austin Pierce, aged nineteen, of Glasgow, were killed.

DEPORTED MEN RETURN.

Intend to Remain in Cripple Creek Despite Mob.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Aug. 27.—Eugene Engley, former attorney general of Colorado, one of the men deported last Saturday by a mob, returned to this city during the day. He had walked over the hills from Cameron carrying a gun and said he would protect himself to the best of his ability. He has not been molested. Frank J. Hangs, attorney for the Western Federation of Miners, who also was run out of the camp a week ago, has announced his intention of coming back. Sheriff Edward Bell says that he will endeavor to prevent any more deportations.

RETIRE TO LIAOYANG

RUSSIAN OUTER DEFENSES COMPELLED TO WITHDRAW BEFORE JAP ADVANCE.

LATTER ATTACK WITH FANATICAL BRAVERY AT THE POINT OF THE BAYONET.

RUSSIANS SUSTAIN THREE THOUSAND CASUALTIES IN VICINITY OF ANPING.

Liaoyang, Aug. 29.—The Japanese artillery resumed the battle at 6 a. m., the point of pressure again being the Russian south front.

At 8 a. m. the Japanese infantry advanced to attack, the regiments deployed in open order.

The Russian army has effected its retirement with transport and artillery on Liaoyang and is in position awaiting the advancing Japanese. The passage of the latter had been rapid and determined, sparing of no sacrifice. In the attack on the Siaolindzy position one Japanese battalion lost all its officers.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—General Kuropatkin has been drawing in all his forces from his eastern and southern fronts toward Liaoyang. Anping, Tsegow, Liendiansian and Anshanshan, constituting the main positions of the outer defense line of Liaoyang, have been abandoned. The heaviest fighting occurred on the extreme left, where the Japanese advanced to the assault again and again with bayonets. The positions at Tsegow and Anping were held by the Tenth European corps. The attacks were delivered with fanatical bravery. The Russians lost a large proportion of officers, ten guns and from 1,500 to 2,000 men, but the Russians had been generally successful in beating off the assaults all along the long line and the Russians declare that the order to retire came as a surprise just when they were expecting orders for a general advance.

IVANOFF IS DEFEATED

RUSSIAN FORCE PURSUED TEN MILES BY GENERAL KUROKI'S SOLDIERS.

Tokio, Aug. 30.—All the Japanese forces moving on General Kuropatkin's fast narrowing position in and about Liaoyang Monday renewed the attack on the Russian southern and eastern fronts, driving the enemy from two to ten miles nearer the city and inflicting severe losses. General Kuroki's central column, in one engagement alone, a running fight from Anping over ten miles to a plain just east of the city, captured six guns and demoralized the Third, Tenth and Seventeenth corps under General Ivanoff, who is in command of Kuropatkin's forces east of the main position.

Tokio, Aug. 30.—The Russians are concentrating at Liaoyang, either with the intention of giving a general battle or retiring. They were beaten at Lungtushen and retreated from Anshanshan and Anping. Anshenshan was the strongest defense Lieoyang possessed, and its loss renders defense almost impossible. It is believed here that General Kuropatkin cannot now avoid a fight and a crushing defeat.

BIG LOSS AT ANPING

RUSSIAN CASUALTIES ON AUG. 25 AND 26 THREE THOUSAND KILLED OR WOUNDED.

Harbin, Manchuria, Aug. 29.—The Russian losses in the fighting of Aug. 25 and 26, east and south of Liaoyang, were 3,000 killed or wounded. The great majority of the casualties were sustained at Anping. The withdrawal of the Russians from their front at Anshanshan and from their eastern position was made simultaneously for strategic reasons.

In the fighting of Aug. 26 the One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Saraisk regiment, with a battery, executed a particularly successful flanking movement on the Japanese extreme right. The Russians, unperceived, got in the rear of the Japanese, whole columns of whom were mowed down before they were able to extricate themselves.

GENERAL ROUTKOVSKY KILLED.

Russian Officer Loses His Life in Engagement.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—An official dispatch from Liaoyang to the general staff, reporting the continued Japanese advance on Sunday, confirms the report that General Rontkovsky was killed during the rearguard engagements and adds that Colonel von Raaben was also killed.

The total of the Russian losses on Sunday is not known, but 400 wounded have passed through the first aid stations. The losses of the Japanese were considerable.

COMMUNICATIONS INTACT.

Telegraph Line Working Direct to Liaoyang.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—The department of telegraphs informs the Associated Press that the lines are working direct to Liaoyang, thus refuting definitely the report that General Kuroki had cut the railroad.

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.

Of course that's easy.

But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you.

We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitchings, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

You are the doctor.

"My son Bert, when in his 17th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. 222 South Peoria St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louie and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

LUMAN C. SIMONS, Representative from the 61st Legislative district, comprising Red Lake, Beltrami and Clearwater counties, is a candidate for re-election, and will undoubtedly get a flattering endorsement both at the coming primaries and at the general election. Although a new man in the House last year Mr. Simons made a good record, and his representation of his district was such that it caused favorable comment all over the state. He was placed on several of the important committees, among them being the committee on drainage appropriation, and he took an active part in securing the appropriation to aid in this all-important work to the northern part of the state. Mr. Simons will return to the legislature next spring with the advantage of being acquainted with a majority of the members, and his friends are predicting a successful career for him at the next winter session.

Sentiment of the Press:

Bemidji Sentinel: We are informed that Wiley Tindolph has decided not to enter the lists as a candidate for representative in this district—and Mr. Tindolph is a wise man. Mr. Simons' record is good and there is scarcely any reason why there should be a fight made on giving him an endorsement.

Bemidji Sentinel: Senator Swedback takes great pleasure in telling his friends of the splendid character of his fellow member in the legislative body, in the lower house, the Hon. L. C. Simons, and of the hard work he undertook and carried through in the interest of the state and of his constituency. Senator Swedback thinks very highly of Mr. Simons as a legislator and a man.

Tenstrike Tribune: Hon C. L. Simons, of Red Lake Falls, who represented this, the 61st district, in the legislature at the last session, visited Beltrami county last week. Mr. Simons is a candidate for re-election on the republican ticket, and will solicit the support of voters on his record made at the last assembly. Mr. Simons has unquestionably made a good representative and while in the house he was never idle. He always voted right, and always for the best interest of the people he represented. At different times creditable comments were made on Mr. Simons' actions in the daily city papers, and he was looked upon as a very intelligent and competent legislator. The 61st district comprises Beltrami, Red Lake and Clearwater counties and Mr. Simons will at once commence a thorough canvass of the district.

Blackduck American: Representative L. C. Simons, of Red Lake Falls, has served one term in the lower house of the legislature and he did it so well that the people throughout the district generally are anxious for a chance to vote for him again. So far he is the only candidate in the field and in view of his splendid record in the last legislature it would not be surprising to see him unanimously re-elected.

Thief River Falls Review: Luman C. Simons, of Red Lake Falls, is a candidate for renomination for a member of the House of Representatives on the Republican ticket. Besides Mr. Simons there is one other, Dr. L. L. Mayland, of Bagley, who desires the nomination. Mr. Simons is well known to the majority of the residents of this district and needs no introduction but for the benefit of the late comers we will say that he has been a resident of Minnesota since 1866, having, in his early days, graduated from Steven's seminary at Glencoe and later from the law department of the State University. He was for five years deputy collector of internal revenue in this district and filled the office to the satisfaction of all. He was engaged in the milling business at Red Lake Falls for a number of years and was the first Judge of Probate of Red Lake county, having been appointed by Governor Clough.

If nominated and elected, it is his intention this year to devote his strongest effort to work up a sentiment in favor of drainage on a large scale. It is apparent to all that no greater need exists in northern Minnesota than that of drainage and Mr. Simons will endeavor to pass some measure looking to the appropriation of a large sum of money to be expended for this purpose. It has been demonstrated that for every dollar spent for drainage, manifold has been the return to the treasury through the increased value in the state lands and for that reason a bill of this nature should meet with success.

The members of the Minnesota statute revision commission are rushing work on the new code so that it will be ready for the next legislature. The document will be a complete revision of all state statutes and will be presented to the legislature in the form of a bill. If the bill is passed the laws of the state will be embraced in a single code instead of in thousands of conflicting, interlapping and incomplete statutes.

A strange freak of lightning is reported in the town of Carlisle, Otter Tail county. The home of Alexander Balhridge was struck and the bolt came down the chimney. It followed a wire from the stovepipe to the wall and, glancing, struck Mrs. Balhridge, burning the hair from her haid, melting the hairpins and, passing down her side, melted her corset steels and burned one shoe from her foot. She was in a dazed condition for a long time, but seems to be slightly improved.

Rev. Father Roy and Antoine Bachand, of Lambert, were business callers here Monday.

Norman Schreiter left yesterday for Minneapolis where he will spend the winter attending the "U".

Otto Streinert went to Minneapolis Monday and has spent the week taking in the sights at the big fair.

Miss Ellen Brady went to St. Hilaire Monday and has been the guest of Mr and Mrs J. B. O'Brien this week.

School supplies of all kinds—tablets, pens, inks, pencils and everything else you need at Schreiter's Drug Store.

Ernest Buse spent a couple of days up the line last week in the interests of his candidacy for the nomination of sheriff.

Miss Tessie McCaffrey left last evening for Mankato where she will enter the state Normal school for the fall and winter term.

Ole Gjelberg leaves Saturday of this week for Minneapolis, and will remain there this winter and attend the University of Minnesota.

Dr. I. Lemieux returned yesterday from his visit at St. Paul. Mrs. Lemieux will visit several other points in the state before returning.

George Dupont, the popular Terrebonne merchant, returned last Friday from his business visit of ten days at the Twin Cities and other state points.

Charles Gustafson, a prominent Rockbury farmer, was a caller here last Friday. Mr. Gustafson says that the harvest is completed in his town and that the yield will be better than was expected.

Fred Taylor came up from St. Paul Saturday morning and will spend the next couple of weeks here hunting chickens. Mr. Taylor reports the family as well pleased with St. Paul as a place of residence.

Ole Mikkelson has had his residence in the southeast part of town improved by the addition of a new coat of paint the past week. The work was done by Nick Helm, and is a very creditable piece of work.

The brick work on the new bank building of the Bank of Red Lake Falls is done, and the interior is being finished rapidly. The new building is a beauty, and the bank people will have a fine home when they get settled there.

Messrs. Joe McCaffrey and James D. Taylor will leave the first of next week for Warroad, where they will go into the real estate and law business. Both are excellent young men and will undoubtedly make a success of their venture.

The two story brick block of Rivard & Wold, at Cass Lake, was destroyed by an explosion of an acetylene gas plant one day this week which totally demolished the structure and came nearly killing several people. Red Lake Falls is lucky in having a first-class electric light plant, and her people don't have to depend on any dangerous gas tanks for light.

At the home of the bride in Garnes township last Saturday occurred the marriage of Andrew C. Ellingson, of Emardville, and Miss Signa Sigurdson of Garnes, the Rev. O. Kolstoe officiating. The groom is one of the extremely popular young farmers of Emardville, and has the confidence and esteem of his neighbors to a large degree. The bride is the daughter of one of the oldest residents of Garnes, and has hosts of friends throughout that section. The happy couple will at once go to housekeeping on the groom's farm in Emardville, and will have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and successful married life.

The New School Year.

To the Patrons and Friends of Our Schools:

Summer vacation has drawn to its close. A new school year lies before us. All future is a question, and the future of our schools is a question. What shall the outcome be? That depends; Providence permitting, ability faithfully and earnestly answering to duties call assures success. With the opening of a new school year comes new duties for some and the resuming of old duties for others. Your Superintendent has his duties, your teachers have their duties, the members of our school board have their duties, patrons and friends have their duties and the pupils have their duties. To secure the best results in our schools we must all of us do our duty at all times. That the people of Red Lake Falls have done their duty in the past is evidenced by the fine showing our schools have already made. But there are greater victories to achieve, and if we succeed we most be even more zealous in the performance of our duties.

Revolutions are generally disastrous, growth is healthful and beneficial. So far as conditions will warrant we shall make no change in the system already established. So far as we see the need we shall make such changes as growth requires. In this and in the prosecution of all our work we bespeak the hearty co operation of all who are in any way interested in the welfare of our schools. In a community of interests the interest of the individual must yield at times to the larger interest of the community. This is often true in school work. The Board of Education and the Superintendent look at the work as a whole, while the parent, teacher and pupil look at it from the standpoint of the individual. Viewing the same thing from these two standpoints we often arrive at mistaken conclusions. These are easily righted when we come to view them from the same point. Therefore we solicit conference and co-operation that we may work in harmony.

That we may begin our work with the least possible friction and waste of time, it is thought best to have all the pupils report at the school house on Monday morning at 9 o'clock for enrollment. All will please report at the building and room where they attended at the close of the last school year. Transfers and promotions will be made from there. We will then enroll the pupils, give out lessons and books and dismiss 'till Tuesday. Those who have never been enrolled and are in doubt as to where they should go may report at the Lafayette school.

If you want to start right and to the best advantage you will be on hand early Monday morning. We will not keep you long, but will dismiss you in time for the parade.

E. W. Chamberlain,
Superintendent.

THE BIG STORE

THEO. LABIRSONIERE, Prop.

SAMUEL GIBEAU,

Our Present Efficient Register of Deeds.

At the primaries on September 20, 1904, the Republican voters of Red Lake county, will be required to make a choice and nominate one of four candidates for the very important office of Register of Deeds. Those seeking preferment at their hands are Helmer E. Albue, of Numedal, K. J. Weeks, of Thief River Falls, Charles Ecklund, of Bray, and Samuel Gibeau, of Lambert, the present incumbent. The necessity of a wise choice in an office of such far reaching possibilities is felt by all un-prejudiced voters.

In making his choice, each one should reason that he is asking the voters of Red Lake county, to endorse at the polls on November 8th next, a man whom, in his estimation, he considers the best fitted and trustworthy, to give in his keeping the records of title of his own landed interests and that of his fellow voters and citizens.

Samuel Gibeau, the present incumbent of the office and candidate for re-election, has proven himself to be a trustworthy, competent and obliging official; always at his post of duty, conversant with the law governing the duties of his office, and especially careful in allowing no defectively drawn instrument to go on record, thereby caring for the titles of the homes of the people and saving possible expensive litigation. His knowledge of the laws of conveyance and his reliability and experience as an abstracter has enabled him to place this important office on a high plane of excellence. His proven ability, his faithful, hard-working disposition, his obliging and courteous service as an official are all qualities which stand unquestioned. The many who have been doing business in his office are all hearty in their praise of his efficient service and stand ready to acknowledge and endorse his administration of the office.

Knowing these facts, and having in mind the past improvement of the records at his hands, and their future betterment by reason of his experience, each Republican voter should make it his imperative duty to go without fail to the primaries on September 20, 1904, and cast his vote for Samuel Gibeau for Register of Deeds; resting assured that if nominated, his past record and service is your best guarantee of a wise choice.

EXPERT TESTIMONY:

As the election day draws nearer the various candidates and politicians are getting busy and earnest in their efforts to land an office for themselves or their friends, and each one putting forth arguments in favor of their candidate. This is as it should be and tends to give the voter a better knowledge as to the competency of the candidate who wants his vote. This is particularly true as to the county offices. The candidates and their friends are now busy enlightening the voters and will keep it up until the election is over.

The most important of the county offices is that of register of deeds Any one who can think for himself, real estate dealer, banker or owner of any real estate in the county, knows the great importance of having the records of deeds, mortages or any other documents touching the title of any tract of real estate, kept in absolute correct and thorough manner, whether it applies to the banker or dealer with his thousands invested, or to the owner of a $25 lot, this is especially true and each one should use his vote and influence to the end that a register of deeds be elected who will not only do this work in the proper manner but one who knows when a document offered for record is in proper shape to be recorded and thus avoid the many inconveniences which so often arise through incompetent officers placing on record documents, which being improper, cloud the title to the property and prevent in many instances the giving of a clear abstract of title.

Samuel Gibeau has proven himself to be in every way competent and reliable in performing the duties of the office and is as accomodating as his position, as a public servant, will allow. Because he has held the office for a long time is the best reason why he should be re-elected, as his experience qualifies him to give the best service—and the public knows that is the kind he gives. The public servant and the private employe are not so far removed and where is the business man who will discharge an employee who is thoroughly competent and employ a new man who knows little or nothing of the work to be done? None would do so except he were forced to reduce the wages paid to a point where a competent man would no longer do the work. This is something that cannot be done with the register of deeds for a new man, however incompetent, will have to be paid according to the rates fixed by the statute, the same as Mr Gibeau is at present.

In the election of a register of deeds, politics cuts no figure with me and although I am a good Republican, I would just as soon vote for a man from the ranks of any other party if he were competent, and I will say that I consider Mr. Gibeau one of the most competent registers of deeds I have ever transacted business with in this or any other state. I have not paid much attention to who the other candidates are, but so far as I know I prefer to support Mr. Gibeau for re-election and would ask and regard it as a personal favor for every man to get out and work and vote for him.

In writing this article I have no intention of offending any candidate or insinuating against his competency to fill the office. I am not a candidate for any office in Red Lake county, nor do I intend to be, and for that reason I come out as plainly as I do. I know the importance of the office and I know that the man who does his duty best is the cheapest. I know that all I have said about Mr. Gibeau is the truth and for these reasons I support him for re-election as register of deeds.

Julius Pleth.

The Daisy Sewing circle entertained last Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. Ed. L. Healy, in honor of Mrs. Emard and also in commemoration of the first anniversary of their society. They have been patiently instructed and assisted by Mrs. Emard at her home one afternoon each week during the past year. The porch was inclosed with curtains and beautifully decorated on the inside with evergreens, while the outside bore the name of the society in large silver letters, and the word "welcome" above the door greeted each member. Tables were set on the porch and they were artistically decorated with daisies; each member found her place by means of a card bearing her name and attached to a bunch of daisies lying beside her plate. Two members escorted Mrs. Emard to the post of honor at the head of the table where she found instead of the bunch of daisies a note of kindest thanks and appreciation for her efforts in their behalf, and also a box containing a lovely silver handled, gold tined, cold meat fork, engraved with her initial and "Daisy Circle." After partaking of dainty refreshments they wended their way homeward, each and all having spent a most enjoyable evening.

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship.

And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,500. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woolens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices. You can do that by calling on

Marcus Johnson Talks About Election Outlook

Crookston Times: Marcus Johnson, a member of the state central committee of the republican party, arrived in the city this morning enroute to Red Lake Falls. He is not only interested in the Crookston Milling company but in the Red Lake Falls Milling company and extensive milling and elevator interests over the state, and is familair with conditions, especially in the western part of the state. When questioned by a Times man this morning, Mr. Johnson said: "Bob Dunn will have a walk away this fall and the democrats secretly concede it. I know of offers to bet that Bob Dunn would have a majority of 25,000 which went begging among the most enthusiastic of the delegates to the democratic convention. I believe that that figure is entirely too small. He will carry the state by 50,000 or more."

Mr. Johnson is very confident that the doubtful counties of the western part of the state will go for Dunn. There seems to be but one feeling and that is that Dunn is the man.

"It is only a few years ago that republicans had hard work to secure 100 votes in Red Lake county," said Mr. Johnson, "but I am satisfied that we shall have a large majority in November. The republicans of the county are unanimous in their support of the ticket, and there is no reason why they should not win.

"The outlook is very promising in Kandiyohi county, my home county, which was carried for John Lind four years ago. I think it is safe to predict that the Republicans will carry the county by 1,000 majority. Mr. Dunn was the choice of the Republicans for governor, and now that the convention is over they are disposed to work enthusiastically for the nominee.

"I spent considerable time last week in the Red River Valley and so far as I could learn the Republican outlook is excellent. I have no doubt that Mr. Dunn will carry that section of the state by an overwhelming majority."

INDIANS WANT MONEY.

Delegation Interviews Congressman Steenerson At Crookston.

Crookston Times: Yesterday Mr. Jean Bolaris Dis-jarlain arrived in the city. The gentleman hails from the Red Lake Indian reservation, and is the forerunner and interpreter of a committee which will call on the big congressman from the Ninth district in a few days. The Indians wrote Mr. Steenerson at Benna Vista that they were coming.

They have grievance which Mr. Steenerson cannot alter for them, nor will he seek to do so. They come to complain that they have received no money from the sale of the Red Lake lands. Under the Steenerson act not to exceed $300,000 of the proceeds of the sale were to be distributed to the Indians within 90 days. The Indians contend that the sale is over, and that they should receive thier money.

The department has ruled that money cannot be distributed until after the continued sale at Crookston. Mr. Steenerson thinks that the department is right, the sale has not yet been completed, and the general land office is under no necessity of distributing the money until ninety days after the close of the Crookston sale, which will be about Nov. 1. The Indians will receive their money sometime between that date and Feb. 1st. Mr. Steenerson will not take the matter up with the department.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately followed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electic Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nervine and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralagia and expels Malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by W. A. Schreiter, druggist.

FILINGS ARE LEGAL.

Judge Watts Says That August 31 Was O. K.

Crookston Times: Judge Watts today in chambers rendered an important decision. The inquiry has gone forth over the entire state as to whether or not the candidates for positions on the primary ballot who registered on Aug. 31 came within the pall of the general law as well as the primary law. In a decision this morning he ruled that the candidates who filed on the 31st were entitled to have their names on the ballots. He will refuse to grant any and all applications for orders for injunctions restraining the several county auditors of his district from placing such names on the primary ballots.

The case in question came from Norman county. A. Mattson, who is a candidate for county attorney, asked for an order for the county auditor of Norman county, E. J. Herringer, to show cause why the name of N. T. Moen should appear on the official ballot. Mr. Moen filed on the 31st day of August, and according to the theories advanced by many lawyers, he was not filing 20 days before the primaries as the law requires.

The primary law requires that all candidates must file 20 days before the election. The first day of the twenty must not be counted, says the law. The general law of the state says that in counting legal spaces of time, the last day must not be counted. This would bar the first and last days, one of which must be included, if the 31st instead of the 30th is the last day. Judge Watts holds that but one law applies, that of the primary election law.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allys the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflamation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Dairy Notes.

(From the Ada Index.)

The average dairy cow is at her best between the ages of seven and ten years.

After twelve years of age, dairy cows should be kept dry and fattened for beef.

Butter is often injured by being overworked. It acquires a greasy appearance.

Now is the time your fodder corn will come into play as the pastures are getting short.

When buying a cow be sure she is gentle and be sure and treat her the same after you get her.

As calves do not begin to ruminate until they are nine days old, they should not be allowed to chew straw and the like until they reach that age.

Dairymen usually find that the milk yield increases up to about seven years of age, after which it remains nearly constant until about the twelfth year when it begins to decrease more rapidly.

Cows cannot be expected to milk well on a small quantity of food. A cow should receive eight pounds of meal to every thirty pounds of milk produced in order that she may produce milk economically.

To prevent a cow sucking herself put a surcingle around her and a leather halter upon her head. Then attach a stick to the ring in the halter and let the other end pass between the fore legs and attach to the surcingle.

Many weary years we bent only on raising wheat and we thought it mighty lucky if they got enough to eat, for the hail makes the trouble and the worry gives them harm and the only thing it brought them was a mortgage on the farm.

The churn should be well aired and dried before the cover is replaced. Before you put the next batch of cream into the churn have your smeller in good order and test the odor of the churn, and if it is not sweet and pleasant do not put a drop of cream in until it does smell right.

There are very few things around the farm that should come before a clean milk can. If the can is allowed to stand with sour milk or when it becomes so infected that the usual washing has but little effect owing to the thin film of casein that forms on the tin and affords a constant daily supply of bacteria.

The churn can be held accountable for bad flavor in more then little creamery and dairy butter. It is not an easy matter to keep the churn sweet and clean, as some farmer's wife who does so knows, especially if she uses the old paddle or newfangled contraptions with unwashable wheels and fixings on the inside.

Every creamery in the country ought to prepare to run all winter for that is the time when it pays for the price of butter is always high and a good cow will more than double pay for her feed and you can take better care of your colves and in the spring they are ready to go out in the pasture with the rest o the stock.

WAGE EARNERS AT THE FAIR

Prominent Men Planning to Help Workers See the Great Exposition.

Wage earners of America are to see the World's Fair by tens of thousands under the auspices of the National Civic Federation. A new bureau of the Federation has just been established at St. Louis upon the World's Fair grounds. Back of the movement are Grover Cleveland, David R. Francis Andrew Carnegie, Cornelius N. Bliss and others. Plans are making to have a vast number of the wage earners of the United States see the World's Fair, the most glorious spectacle of the age and the most influential factor in the education of the American citizen.

The bureau is in charge of Miss Gertrude Beeks, secretary of the Federation's welfare department, of which Mr. H. H. Vreeland, head of the street railway system of New York city, is chairman. The bureau headquarters is in the east end of the Palace of Transportation, on the ground floor. The Exposition management is in hearty accord with this movement on the part of the Federation to induce the large manufacturers and other employers of labor to provide ways and means for the wage earners of America to visit the Exposition. President Francis is displaying personal interest in the undertaking by affording the Federation every facility for the consummation of its efforts, and in this connection he has directed Theodore Hardee, assistant to the secretary, to co-operate with Miss Beeks and Ralph M. Easley, chairman of the Federation's executive council, in every possible way.

The Exposition management has also equipped this bureau with clerical assistance and a full supply of World's Fair literature. The bureau will be used as headquarters for all wage earners coming to the Exposition under its auspices. The aim of the Federation is to make it feasible for the largest possible proportion of wage earners to visit St. Louis and see the World's Fair. It will see that they are met at the depot by responsible persons and conducted to suitable lodgings, where they will be treated fairly.

There will also be furnished, free of charge, appropriate itineraries indicating the points of interest to be seen within a limit of one week, which is about the average time each party will spend here. It will also indicate the objects of special interest to various craftsmen in their particular lines, so that they may devote as much time as possible to the objects of peculiar interest to them. These and many other efforts will be made to help all wage earners to enjoy the benefits of this great Exposition comfortably and at an expense within their means.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN ON THE WORLD'S FAIR

What Distinguished Statesmen and Others Say of the Educational and Inspiring Exposition at St. Louis.

The public utterances of distinguished men who have visited the world's fair have but one note, and that of emphatic praise. Here are some of their comments:

Hon. John Hay, secretary of state: "I have never seen nor heard of anything so fine."

Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury: "Any father of a bright boy can afford to send him to the Fair simply to study any one of at least a thousand exhibits."

Hon. Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio: "A visit of ten days by a man of ordinary aptness and appreciative capacity to the Fair is almost equal to a postgraduate course in a university."

Hon. Benjamin B. Odell, governor of New York: "St. Louis has been badly misrepresented by accounts which say that her weather is unbearable. The Fair is wonderful."

Hon. George C. Pardee, governor of California: "The governor of the Golden State, who has spent all his life within her borders, finds that he knew only a little about his state until he came to the Fair and saw all her varied products assembled together."

Hon. Albert B. Cummins, governor of Iowa: "The Louisiana Purchase Exposition is on the grandest scale of any exposition the world has ever seen."

Hon. Richard Yates, governor of Illinois: "The more I see of the Exposition the more I enjoy it."

Hon. Fennimore Chatterton, governor of Wyoming: "I wish the Fair the greatest success. It certainly deserves it."

Hon. Franklin Murphy, governor of New Jersey: "It is well worth coming from New Jersey to see even a small part of this Fair."

Hon. A. B. White, governor of West Virginia: "I cannot speak too strongly of the greatness of this Fair."

Hon. William J. Bryan: "The Exposition is an unparalleled wonder."

Hon. John Sharp Williams, member of congress from Mississippi: "The most wonderful thing of its kind."

Hon. Hoke Smith of Georgia, formerly secretary of interior under President Cleveland: "I am highly pleased with the Exposition and believe it to be one of the triumphs of modern civilization."

Hon. Perry Belmont of New York: "In magnitude and beauty the Fair is wonderful. It is worth coming a long distance to see."

RACING FOR MUKDEN

RUSSIAN AND JAPANESE ARMIES MOVING RAPIDLY TOWARD NORTHERN MANCHURIA.

KUROPATKIN'S REAR GUARD DEFEATED AND HIS MAIN ARMY MAY BE SURROUNDED.

STRONG JAP FORCE ENDEAVORING TO CUT OFF RUSSIAN LINE OF RETREAT.

The forces of Kuropatkin and Oyama are racing for Mukden. This much stands out in the news of Monday, and is indicated in a report forwarded by Kuropatkin, who says that his retreat is being conducted in perfect order, though the Japanese on Sunday repeatedly attacked his rear and continued the attack until Monday. The result of the race is in doubt.

The united Russian forces are now north of Yentai, a station on the railway about ten miles northeast of Liaoyang. They are pushing on to Mukden, to which the bulk of the Japanese forces is marching direct, after having swarmed across the Taitse river. A strong Japanese flanking column is about thirty miles northeast of Liaoyang and is trying to get between the Russian forces and Mukden.

With this race in progress there comes a brief dispatch from Mukden saying that preparations for the evacuation of that place are proceeding. This report, if well founded, would mean the abandonment of the whole of Southern Manchuria and the winding up of the present campaign.

It is reported in St. Petersburg at a late hour Monday night that Kuropatkin's rear guard had been almost annihilated and that the main Russian army was in danger of being surrounded.

One report from Sinmintin to London says Kuropatkin's retreat has been cut off. At any rate the plight of his army is deplorable, for indications are that the Russian reinforcements at Mukden are mythical, or that place would not prepare for evacuation, and the fresh Russian troops might turn the tide of battle in Kuropatkin's favor.

The evacuation of Mukden will probably mean that if Kuropatkin reaches that place in safety, his weary troops can halt for but a brief space before continuing the long, weary march to Harbin.

Advices from Port Arthur by way of Chefoo bring the fighting there up to Sept. 2, and say the Japanese losses were very heavy.

BATTLE OF LIAOYANG

RESUME OF THE LONGEST AND HARDEST FIGHT OF THE PRESENT WAR.

Following is a brief resume of the battle of Liaoyang:

Aug. 27.—Japanese armies under Generals Kuroki, Oku and Nodzu make combined attack on the Russian position in front of Liaoyang. Oku's forces held back by Buriet Cossacks.

Aug. 28.—Japanese drive Kuropatkin from Anshenshan and he falls back on outer lines of defenses of Liaoyang. Japanese destroy part of railroad leading to Mukden. Heavy artillery and infantry battle. Czar's forces cross Taitse river to meet Kuroki's troops.

Aug. 29.—Kuropatkin avoids decisive battle at Liaoyang. Trenches and forts of city still held by Russians.

Aug. 30.—Russians repel attack. Four hundred thousand troops engaged in desperate hand-to-hand fight in front of city. When darkness falls battle is a draw.

Aug. 31.—Ten thousand of mikado's troops slain in battle. Greatest fight of campaign lasts all day and Japanese are repulsed time and again, only to return to the field. General Samsonoff captures forty-six Japanese guns and cuts off two battalions of the enemy.

Sept. 1.—Kuropatkin, forced from Liaoyang, sends strong force to the outlying defenses of city, practically evacuating it. Japanese press enemy toward Tatzho. Decisive conflict of campaign opens.

Sept. 2.—Battle continues with unabated vigor, Kuroki advancing steadily southward. Kuropatkin prepared for tremendous struggle. Liaoyang reported in flames.

Sept. 3.—Kuropatkin retreats after evacuating Liaoyang, which the Japanese occupy. Stakelberg's force of 25,000 men cut off.

Sept. 4.—Stakelberg escapes and joins Kuropatkin, who reaches Tiehling, eighteen miles south of Mukden. Fate of Russian army hinges upon success of Kuroki's turning movement.

JAPS ENTER LIAOYANG

FIELD MARSHAL OYAMA'S ARMIES OCCUPY THE FORMER RUSSIAN STRONGHOLD.

Tokio, Sept. 5.—Field Marshal Oyama, telegraphing at 9 o'clock Sunday morning says:

"After the fighting of last night and this morning Liaoyang fell into our hands. Our casualties are believed to be very heavy. No report has been received concerning conditions on the right bank of the Taitse river."

WILL REMAIN IN CHINA.

Crews of Russian Vessels Dismantled at Shanghai.

Shanghai, Sept. 5.—The crews of the Russian cruiser Askold and the torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi, which took refuge here after the naval battle off Port Arthur Aug. 10 and which subsequently were dismantled, will remain in China until the close of the war. They will be divided and sent to Tientsin, Chefoo, Hankow, Shanghai and Foochow, the treaty ports where there are Russian consulates.

It has now been learned that the Askold had an unusual large supply of ammunition on board when she came into this port. This amounted to 108 rounds for each of her large guns and a plentiful supply for her small guns.

JAP FORCES LOST HEAVILY.

Heaps of Bodies Removed After Fighting at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Sept. 6.—Advices from Port Arthur say that following the terrific bombardment of the fortress for the five days ending Sept. 4, heaps of Japanese bodies were removed by the Chinese under orders given by the Port Arthur authorities.

LOSSES AT LIAOYANG

GENERAL KUROPATKIN GIVES HIS CASUALTIES AS SIXTEEN THOUSAND.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 6.—A dispatch received from General Kuropatkin, forwarded Sunday evening, indicates that Kuropatkin's army and General Kuroki's army are racing for Mukden and that the result is in doubt. General Kuropatkin says that the retreat is being conducted in perfect order.

The Japanese repeatedly attacked the Russians on Saturday but were repeatedly repulsed.

The Russian losses during the fighting at Liaoyang are estimated at 16,000. There is no doubt here that a number of guns, especially heavy artillery, have been abandoned.

It is officially stated that the united Russian forces are now north of Yentai, except a detachment left at that place to cover the retreat.

The Japanese swarmed across the Taitse river near its junction with the Pensi.

NAME STATE TICKET

MINNESOTA DEMOCRATS HOLD THEIR CONVENTION AT MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis, Aug. 31.—The Democrats of Minnesota met in state convention here Tuesday and after two harmonious sessions nominated the following state ticket:

Governor, John A. Johnson, St. Peter; lieutenant governor, F. G. Winston, Minneapolis; secretary of state, F. E. King, Red Lake Falls; attorney general, Thomas J. McDermott, St. Paul; state treasurer, Byron J. Mosier, Stillwater; railroad and warehouse commissioners, H. E. Hoard, Montevideo; W. F. Kelso, Hallock; judges supreme court (term beginning Jan. 1, 1906), John A. Lovely, Albert Lea; Calvin L. Brown, Morris; Charles E. Otis, St. Paul; (term beginning Jan. 1, 1905), John Lind, Minneapolis.

W. H. Harries of Caledonia was both temporary and permanent chairman; H. T. Falmie of Spring Valley was secretary and George P. Jones of Rock county was reading clerk.

The platform pledges allegiance to the candidates and platform of the Democratic national convention; demands tariff revision and favors reciprocity with Canada; favors increased powers for the interstate commerce commission; opposes trusts; favors reasonable railroad rates; opposes railway merger; demands readjustment of discriminating railway rates; opposes contributions by public service corporations to political campaign funds; favors increase of the gross earnings tax; favors election of United States senators by direct vote; believes in right of labor to organize; judiciary should be removed from politics; favors legislation to improve roads.

TO END MEAT STRIKE

PACKERS AND THEIR EMPLOYES MAY SOON ARRIVE AT AN UNDERSTANDING.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The indications now are that the stockyards strike, begun two months ago, will be called off within twenty-four hours. Through the medium of a middleman, negotiations were begun Monday in an effort to secure an understanding with the packers on which the striking unions can rely as a basis for abandoning the strike late on Tuesday. It was admitted last night by Secretary Tracey of the Allied Trades Council of the unions on strike that a message opening up such negotiations had been delivered Monday to representatives of the packing firms by W. E. Skinner, general agent of the Union Stock Yards and Transit company, acting as a middleman.

According to the present plans an answer is to be submitted Tuesday by the packers in time for it to be reported at a special meeting of the Allied Trades Council. Special meetings for all the local unions involved in the strike have been called for Tuesday. If the packers give encouraging assurances to the strikers, messengers will be sent at once to the gatherings of the local bodies. The unions, it is said, will then vote on discontinuing the strike, and their referendum vote will be reported at once to the meeting of the Allied Trades Council.

FOURTEEN DIE IN FIRE

NEARLY A SCORE OF OTHERS SUSTAIN INJURIES IN A BLAZE AT NEW YORK CITY.

CATASTROPHE OCCURS IN A TENEMENT HOUSE OCCUPIED BY A DOZEN FAMILIES.

EXITS ARE BLOCKED BY FLAMES AND INMATES SEEK TO ESCAPE BY JUMPING.

New York, Sept. 5.—Fourteen persons were killed and nearly a score were injured in a fire in a five-story tenement in Attorney street. The dead include four women, one man and nine children, ranging in age from three months to twelve years.

Many of the injured were taken to hospitals and it is thought that several of these will die. Among the injured were five firemen who were on a fourth floor balcony when it fell with them.

The small number of men among the killed and injured was due to the fact that most of the men who lived in the building follow the Attorney street custom in hot weather and slept on the roof, while but few of the women and children were there. Those on the roof were unable to escape by descending through the burning building, but they made their way to safety over neighboring roofs. Meanwhile the members of their families who had remained in their rooms found escape cut off and panic reigned throughout the structure.

The fire started about 3 o'clock in the morning and there was considerable delay in sending in an alarm, although the district is one of the most thickly populated in the crowded East Side of New York. When the firemen reached the scene some of the tenants were jumping from the windows and from the ends of fire escapes that reached only to the second floor; others were crouching in the smoke in the small rooms and narrow halls. The work of the firemen was greatly hindered, but over twenty persons were rescued by them from the fourth and fifth floors. Many persons received injuries by jumping to the sidewalk and to the stone paved court from the ends of the cut off fire escapes.

SIX BURNED TO DEATH.

Oil Explosion Results in Serious Disaster at Yellow Creek, O.

Yellow Creek, O., Sept. 3.—Six persons were burned to death and four terribly injured by a fire and oil explosion here early in the day. The dead are Mrs. Henry Fling and two children and three unknown men.

CAR STRUCK BY TRAIN

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED AND TWENTY-FIVE INJURED IN ST. LOUIS DISASTER.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—Seven persons were killed and twenty-five injured, several fatally, in the wrecking of a suburban street car by a Wabash passenger train at the Sarah street crossing.

The train, eastbound, which is said to have been running at a speed of thirty miles an hour, struck the car, which was running north, squarely in the center. The occupants of the car had no chance to escape.

The dead and injured were carried into the Empire brewery, which adjoins the scene of the wreck. Five ambulances were summoned and the injured were taken to hospitals, while the dead bodies were conveyed to the morgue.

FIVE PERSONS ARE KILLED.

Imperial Limited on the Canadian Pacific Wrecked.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 3.—Five people were killed on the Canadian Pacific westbound imperial limited at Sintaluta. Three bodies have been identified. They are those of Mrs. Dossett, en route to Edmonton; Mrs. Warren of Sand Point and Agnes M. Shirley of Ottawa. The injured are Mrs. J. Brett and Miss Golden, who were on their way to Manila; Miss Murray, on the way to Shanghai; Ira Ross, bound to Victoria, and the porter, L. P. Hart. The switch was left open by a train crew which had just left the town and the transcontinental express dashed in upon a freight train.

NINE PERSONS KILLED.

Collision of Passenger Trains on the Grand Trunk.

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Nine persons were killed and twenty-three others injured in a head on collision on the Grand Trunk railroad near Rougemont, Que., Wednesday. The trains involved were a special excursion from Montreal bound for Sherbrooke and a passenger train running between Island Pond, Vt., and Montreal. The collision, it is said, was due to neglect of orders on the part of the train crew of the excursion train, which left Rougemont without awaiting the arrival of the passenger train.

SIX PEOPLE PERISH.

Fire Destroys a Home and Cremates the Inmates.

St. Johns, N. B., Sept. 5.—Edward Clarke, aged sixty-two, his wife, their daughter and the three children of Alfred J. Watt were burned to death near Fredericton in a fire which destroyed the Watt home.

CLERK BOARD OF HEALTH

Of Jacksonville, Fla., Endorses Pe-ru-na.

C. D. TAYLOR.

C. D. Taylor, Clerk of the City Board of Health of Jacksonville, Fla., has occupied that position for the last ten years. In a recent letter to the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., he expresses his approval of their famous catarrh remedy Peruna in the following words:

"The health of the poor of a large city is always a question of vital interest not only to the city officials but to every citizen. It has been a source of much satisfaction to me to find that so large a number of working people in moderate circumstances have accepted Peruna as their family medicine. It has cured a large number of cases especially of catarrh of the head, lungs and stomach and building up the general health it cannot fail but prove a help and blessing to any community where it is generally adopted and used. I have found it an honest reliable remedy and am pleased to endorse it."—C. D. Taylor, Clerk, Board of Health.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

The Populists have a full ticket in the field in Marshall county, having gone on the ballot by petition after the auditor refused to allow them to file any other way.

Minnesota's delegation in congres is not likely to be change this year, except in the fifth district, where John Lind refuses to run for re-election, says the Warren Register. His successor will doubtless be a Republican. In the first, third, fourth, seventh, eighth and ninth districts the sitting members will be unopposed at the primaries and the opposition to them at the general election will not be serious. H. J. Miller is fighting McCleary in the second and Foster is out for Buckman's scalp in the sixth, but neither is at all likely to be successful. Both districts, however, are certain to go Republican in November. Minnesota will be represented by Republicans only in the next Congress.

R. C. Dunn opened the state campaign at Duluth last week by making a vigorous address in that city during which he declared for the continuance of the Board of Control; the gross earning bill raising the tax on railroad from 3 to 4 per cent, the extension of the primary election system so as to include state officers, better treatment for the old soldiers and a lot of other equally good things, says the Roseau Region. You can depend on the governor doing just what he says he will. There is nothing deceitful in his make-up. Fearless and honest, he will stand for what the great mass of the people of Minnesota need, and corporations will receive no favors at his hands. They must be made to obey the law, and R. C. Dunn has said he would fearlessly enforce the law.

Candidates for the four places on the supreme bench will be placed on the foot of the ballot this year as usual. The nominees will go on the ticket in the following order: Governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general, railroad and warehouse commissioners and justices of the supreme court. The general election law does not provide any order for the ballot, and custom governs. The primary election law puts district judgeship candidates at the head of the ballot, and two years ago the county auditor of Ramsey county carried it out to the general election. There were no supreme court judges elected two years ago. Secretary Hanson and his assistant, J. J. Lommen, do not see any reason for changing the established order at the general election.

The Bemidji Pioneer is another of the influential state papers to discover that the present primary election law is not what it is represented to be, and in an editorial comment says: "There is one feature of the primary law which is making itself apparent during the present campaign which does not recommend the law to thinking people. It is very evident that the operation of the law tends to the disruption of parties. It is true that the American people are burdened with too much politics, but in a free country like ours political salvation lies in political parties only. The truth is that the primary law is only an experiment as yet and we have not experimented with it long enough to know what its virtues or its faults are. By the time the present campaign is ended and the legislature meets next winter we shall know a good deal more about what we want to do with it, but the fact that the law tends to the breaking up of party lines cannot be denied and is a matter serious enough to command our earnest consideration."

The campaign of the state of Minnesota this year will be a unique one, in that one of the parties, the Democratic, goes before the people with no platform, or more properly a platform that presents no issue that should induce a Republican to desert his party because of it, says the Crookston Times. It will be simply a question of personality, so far as candidates are concerned. A dissection of the Democratic platform reveals the fact that it demands that the railroad commission shall enforce the law; demands that the anti-merger law shall be something more than a dead letter; denounces campaign contributions by corporations; advocates the adoption of the 4 per cent gross earnings amendment; and favors the election of United States senators by the people. All this is excellent, because it is exactly what the Republican party stand for, to a demonstration. There is not a proposition that intimates a change in the state policy of the Republican party. The Democratic platform therefore is the personality of the candidates nominated by the party. The ticket nominated is composed of good, clean men, but they are in no respect the superiors of the Republican nominees, and therefore there is no reason whatever that they should receive a Republican vote.

Representative Simons, of Red Lake Falls, spent several days here last week calling on friends and also at Buena Vista, where he visited with the old settlers and attended the first agricultural fair ever held in the county. Mr. Simons is deeply interested in the great problem of drainage in this state and hopes at the coming session to have a large appropriation for ditching in Beltrami county, says the Bemidji Sentinel. He has taken the trouble to investigate the subject and feels sure that while the project of draining this country is a large one that it can be succesfully accomplished. He was surprised at the wonderful growth of valuable timber other than pine in this section, with the accomplishments of the settlers who have built roads and made paths through the timber and who are making homes there for themselves and their children. He predicts rapid development and when he goes back to the legislative halls this winter can carry with him a more thorough knowledge of the needs of his constituency. Mr. Simons will spend several days in Beltrami county before the primaries and hopes to meet a large number of the citizens of the county in order to get in closer touch with them and their desires.

Can't Do Both.

A person can not vote at the primaries and after the primaries sign a petition for an independent candidate to be voted on at the next election. Chapter 90 of the General Laws of Minnesota of 1903 reads as follows: "No person shall join, by certificate signed by electors, in nominating more than one nominee for the same office unless more than one person is to be elected thereto, in which event he may sign as many certificates as there are officers to be elected. And no person who has voted at any primary election shall be eligible to sign any nominating certificate of any candidate for nomination for the same election for which said primary election was held."

A Little Politics....

Ovide Moreau is doing effective work these days in his canvass for the treasurership, and as the Republican candidate for this office, he will make an aggressive fight for the election. Mr. Moreau is just the type of business man that the people want as a successor to Treasurer Tandberg, and he will undoubtedly get a large vote.

Thomas Germo isn't worrying about the outcome at the primaries, and as the Republican candidate for County Attorney will make a good race. Mr. Germo has the advantage of being acquainted with the people of the county this year, and his campaign will be easier as a result. Tom is a good fellow, and if chosen by the people will make a competent official.

Ernest Buse is putting in his time these days interviewing the voters of the county, and reports that prospects are bright for Republican success this fall. Mr. Buse is a good campaigner and has a great many friends throughout the county who are assisting him in his candidacy for the office of sheriff. He is an old resident and a hard worker for his home town and county, and when the votes are counted it will be found that he has a great many friends and supporters.

From Thomas Germo's home paper, the Mapleton Enterprise, comes the following tribute:

Thos. Germo, formerly of Medo, this county, is after the Republican nomination for county attorney of Red Lake county and will undoubtedly secure it. Mr. Germo was the nominee of the party two years ago and came within five votes of being elected. Mr. Germo is a number one man and if his friends in Blue Earth county could vote there would be no doubt of the result.

Samuel Gibeau is making an active canvass for the Republican nomination for Register of Deeds, and it is quite probable that the Republicans will choose him as their candidate. Mr. Gibeau is making his campaign on his record while in office, and as this is known to be first-class, the people will probably not hesitate to vote for him. The other Republican candidates are also working hard to capture the nomination, and the fight at the primaries promises to be decidedly interesting.

Friend Tarrant has decidedly easy sailing this year, according to the Thief River News, and the Judge's many friends here will hope that the prediction of the News in regard to Judge holding office will come true. The News says:

The fact that N. W. Tarrant will have no opposition for Judge of probate is regretted by many, not that they do not want to see Nick win out, but that they enjoy seeing him conduct a campaign, and he knows how to do it, too. No man in the county has a larger personal following and it begins to look as if he would hold the office of judge of probate until Gabriel blows his horn.

The opinion seems to be that Auditor James E. Ford will have one of the largest majorities ever given a candidate in the county, after the votes are counted this fall. Jim has conducted the affairs at the auditor's office with more than ordinary ability, and during his regime in office has looked carefully after the interests of the people. He knows the wants of the public, and is prepared to serve them whenever called upon, and besides he is thoroughly posted on the law pertaining to his work, and when he hands in an opinion it is usually sustained. Red Lake county is fortunate in having an auditor of Mr. Ford's ability, and they promise to show good sense by keeping him there a good long while yet.

Messrs. Reichert and Wilkinson are expecting Messrs. Will Smith and Will Sandtrock, of St. Paul, to arrive here Saturday for a couple of days' hunt. Both gentlemen have visited Red Lake county every fall for the past several years and have a number of friends here.

Zatique Bray was in from Brooks on business last Saturday. Mr. Bray is all ready to open up his saloon there, and expects to have his opening the last of this week. He has put in a complete outfit, and will have a strictly up-to-date place. Zatique is a good business man, and the people of Brooks are gaining a good citizen.

Dr. N. J. Pinault came up from Minneapolis Wednesday and spent the day looking after business interests and visiting friends. The Doctor has considerable money invested here, and always is pleased to see Red Lake Falls making advancement. He was a guest of L. P. Berthon while in the city.

Dr. V Pieth was down from St. Hilaire Tuesday, looking after some professional matters. The Doctor expects to leave for Crookston about October 1st. to locate, and expects to make that city his headquarters and practice extensively throughout the valley. He has had great success here, and will undoubtedly build up a large practice.

Will Ittner, Red Lake Falls' favorite athelete, is "making good" in his work with the football squad at the University of Minnesota, and his friends are confidently expecting to see him make the team. Sunday's sporting section of the Minneapolis Tribune contained the following praise of this excellent young man: "Several new men have appeared who will try for the guard positions and some of them are bound to be in the race. William Ittner is big and has had experience, and above all, has the necessary determination. He was valedictorian of his class at Red Lake Falls last year, and when one of these big, industrious, conscientious fellows gets after a thing in football he is usually attended with success. Ittner is young yet and is still growing, and before he has left the university he will undoubtedly have made a name for himself. He is a good track man, too, and in high school participated in the weight and hammer events. Ittner has been tried at different places in the line, and from the start has studied football as he would anything else. He was one of the first to learn the signals and has come up to the scratch whenever called upon by Dobie in the preliminary work."

Messrs. Berthon & Armstrong did a nice business with the circus people with the Floto shows here Monday. The performers and band men were waiting until they got to the cities to buy their fall and winter suits and overcoats, but when they looked over the immense new stock at the Surprise store and discovered the excellent values they could get, they decided that they could do better here than in the cities, and made their purchases accordingly. The goods and the ads of this popular establishment are the talk of the community, and the people know where to go for their furnishings.

Helmuth Zaiser returned Tuesday morning from his absence of a couple of weeks, and is prepared to go after business with renewed vigor as a result of his outing. Helmuth visited his sister in St. Paul several days, and from there went to Chicago to make the fall and winter purchases for the Busy Store. While in Chicago he could not resist the temptingly low railroad rates to St. Louis, and abandoning business for a few days went to that city and viewed the sights at the great World's Fair. His trip was a highly enjoyable one, and Helmuth certainly realized it.

Representative L. C. Simons went over to Beltrami county Monday, and spent several days there in the interests of his candidacy for re-election. Mr. Simons has many friends over there, and will get a big vote at the primaries.

John Grady returned Saturday from his trip to South Dakota points, where he spent a month looking after business interests. He visited Elkton, Soo Falls, Mitchell and other points, and found things in good shape thereabouts.

Daniel Shaw, the popular manager of the Northern Real Estate and Mortgage company, at Thief River Falls, was a business caller here Tuesday. Dan will soon make regular visits to the county seat to take his place with the county commissioners, and his friends here are anxiously awaiting the time when they can claim him as a resident part of the time, at least. Mr. Shaw has been a hard worker for Thief River Falls and the whole north country, and was a Republican when it meant defeat to go into a campaign, and the Republicans of the north end can recognize long and faithful service by selecting him as their commissioner for the next four years. Mr. Shaw is a shrewd business man, and will make an able successor to Commissioner Hanson.

Misses, $1.00 to $1.40 In better goods we have the celebrated "Little Giants" and "Budds".—Theo. LaBissoniere.

James D. Taylor and Joseph McCaffery leave this afternoon for Warroad, where they expect to engage in business. The Gazette regrets exceedingly that these estimable young men cannot remain residents of Red Lake Falls, but with a host of friends will be pleased to learn of their success in the Northern Minnesota wilderness.

Red Lake Falls hunting parties, who spent the first few days of the season searching for the festive prairie hen, were fairly well rewarded and several big bunches were brought home. One party, composed of Messrs. S. A. Swanson, Wm. Kreuger and Charles Gerlach, of this city, and Mike Johnson, of St. Hilaire, brought in 89 chickens and 1 duck as a result of a day-and-a-half hunt. Another party, composed of Messrs. F. A. Grady, A. P. Toupin, Dan Latendresse and James Blake, hunted three-and-a-half days and brought back 115 chickens. Fred. John and Tip Taylor also secured a good haul, getting a little better than 200 birds in a six-day hunt. Other parties had good luck, also, and prairie chicken has been a common item on the bill of fare here this week. The chickens are not as plentiful, however, as was generally supposed, and the fellow who gets the law's limit in a day's hunt is indeed fortunate.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bourdon drove out to Scotland and other eastern county points yesterday.

The Gazette is in receipt of a letter from Will Eckstein, of Wylie, saying that we were in error in regard to the Louisville-Wylie ball game score last week. He says that the score was all right—17 to 16—but that Wylie had the 17 in place of Louisville. The Gazette is pleased to make the correction and trusts that it may report the next game between these popular teams more correctly.

The congregation of St. Joseph's church are busy these days, arranging for the harvest fair and festival which will be held at the church October 23, 24 and 25. While the plans are not formulated completely, nevertheless the church people are planning on giving one of the best fairs ever held in this section of the state. St. Joseph's fairs have always attracted large crowds and been very successful and the people are looking forward to this one with pleasure.

St Joseph's parochial school started on its year's work Monday of this week, and the prospects for a successful season could not be brighter. Father Fayolle informs The Gazette that the enrollment this year was larger by five pupils on the first day than the first day of last year, which would indicate that before the term is near over the enrollment will greatly exceed that of last year. St, Joseph's school made a good reputation for itself and its instructors by the work done last year, and the prospects for still greater success is gratifying to those in charge.

The Big Store is opening up, every day, the latest novelties of the season in the way of Dress Goods, Fleeced Goods, etc. In spite of the fact that cotton and woolen goods are high, they are showing remarkable values, owing to fortunate purchases. They show a big line of all wool tricot goods, 30 inches wide, all colors, for 25c yd; just the thing for childrens' dresses, waists, etc; Snowflake flannels, beautiful, 38c; Virginia fleeces, 11c, etc. They have the very latest in black woolen goods, suitings, etc.; economical buyers will do well to visit this institution when they seem to save you something on mostly anything you buy.

The official publication of the primary election ballot for Red Lake county is made in today's Gazette, the legal paper of the county. The ballots for use at the primaries on September 20 will be printed from these forms during the next week and apportioned by Auditor Ford. The law requires that the auditor provide 100 ballots of each party for every 75 votes cast or fraction thereof. Fifteen thousand ballots will be required to furnish Red Lake county, and these will be distributed by the auditor during the next ten days. The job is a large one, but Red Lake Falls is fortunate in having offices that are equipped with the necessary material and workmen to turn it out in quick time and in a creditable manner. There are no other offices in the county that could do the work as well or as quickly, and the purchasing committee used excellent judgment in not letting a smaller country office have the work.

Women who want something new in style and material, and also get a perfect fit, should look over the "Banner" shirt waists at Garceau & Zaiser's. They have them in silk, wool and flanneletts from 50c up to $6.00.

Miss Josephine Kaus left Friday afternoon for Hallock, where she will spend the next nine months teaching in the public schools of that city. Miss Kaus is one of Red Lake Falls' most highly accomplished daughters, and will have the well wishes of a host of friends here for a successful career in her school labors.

We have just opened up our fall and winter line of Boys and Childrens Suits. We assure the public that such styles and values have never been shown before to the public, either by us or anybody else. Suits from $1.50 to $7.00 for the little gents; $4.00 to $18.00 for Young Men. At least do us and yourself the justice to see our line before you buy.—Theo. LaBissoniere.

The Soo line completed their track laying into Scotland last Thursday, and the steel gang is now several miles north of that town. The advent of the road will give the new town out east a decided spurt forward, and it is said that a whole lot of building is being done there and things hurried into shape for business. Scotland will be a good one, and has some enterprising hustlers behind it.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Georgia Dunbar

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CALUMET
Baking Powder

Leaves the smallest and most healthful residue in the food. Food prepared with Calumet Baking Powder is pure and healthful, and is free from Rochelle salts, alum, lime and ammonia.

Trust Baking Powders sell for 45 or 50 cents per pound and may be identified by this exorbitant price. They are a menace to public health, as food prepared from them contains large quantities of Rochelle salts, a dangerous cathartic drug.

The Gazette is authorized to announce that Frank A. Grady, County Attorney of Red Lake county, will be an independent candidate for re-election. Mr. Grady asks a re-election at the hands of the voters on his record while serving them in the capacity of County Attorney. He has been fearless in the performance of his duties and assures the people that if re-elected he will attend to the county's affairs in the same manner as he has done in the past.

The Local News.

George L. Austin, of the local creamery, had an exhibit at the state fair last week which shared in the prize distribution. His exhibit was a tub of butter that tested 92½. The prize distribution was made to all that tested better than 92, so that Mr. Austin will come in for a share of the prize money. George is a good butter maker and the people here will be pleased to learn of his successful exhibit at the fair.

The Floto shows, "circus beautiful" gave two exhibitions here Monday of this week, and while the crowds were not large everyone was greatly pleased with the show. The entire outfit is new and clean, being free from grafters of any kind, while the ring performances were all first-class and of a high order. The Floto people promised to visit Red Lake Falls again next year, and if they do they should be given a royal welcome.

Crookston Journal: According to Father Thelion, of Gentilly, who spent yesterday in the city adjusting business matters and visiting business acquaintances, the Gentilly cheese factory was never doing more satisfactory business, or being supplied by so many thrifty farmers as at present. The plant is worked full capacity continually and already during the summer season some 580 boxes have been in cold storage. The cheese will be sold in car load lots and at the present time sales are a trifle dull. Nine cents per pound is at present the prevailing wholesale price and the entire output will be closed out very likely in car load lots before snow flies. Gentilly farmers prosper by the establishment and the product has acquired by its excellence a national reputation throughout the width and breadth of the land.

MANY FAIL TO PASS.

Teachers' Examination Returns Show Startling Results.

Fifty-two per cent of the 6,487 applicants who took the summer teachers' examination in Minnesota failed to pass the required marking and have been denied the teachers' certificates.

This seemingly great percentage of failures is the same as that which resulted in last year's examination. The number of applicants, however, this year was nearly 1,000 greater than last year, so that the number of failures is correspondingly larger.

Of the 6,487 who took the examination for teachers' certificates 3,149 were successful, while 3,338 could not qualify. Last year the number of applicants was 5,523, the number of failures 2,829 and the number of successful applicants 2,694.

The officials of the department of public instruction do not regard the great percentage of failures as indicating a lack of training in the schools. Assistant State Superintendent Schulz said:

"The examinations are open to any one 17 years of age or over. As a result, hundreds of scholars who have not yet finished school take the examination without any idea of teaching if they obtain a certificate. The majority of the failures will be found to be among such applicants who have not prepared thoroughly for the examination and who do not have the incentive to work which the prospective teacher has."

The figures show that the department this year issued 422 complete first grade certificates good for two years, 1,355 complete second grade certificates good for two years, 204 conditional firsts, 648 conditional seconds and 520 limited seconds. Each of the three last classes being good for one year.

In the subject of arithmetic the examinations showed a lamentable lack of knowledge. Of those who took this subject 2,389 or 45 per cent failed to pass. In the high school studies the standings were very high, showing that those who had high school training were well able to qualify in the examination.

SOO GETS THE MEN.

Great Northern Said To Be Up Against It.

Crookston Journal: Contractor Mel Barnard of this city, who arrived home yesterday morning accompanied by his wife and children from Minneapolis, where they have been the guests of friends during the fair week, returned later in the morning upon the Thief River train to his camps north of that place. Mr. Barnard says that during the past few months the Soo contractors have had a considerable amount of amusement over the discomfiture of the Great Northern. The cause of the hilarity was the fact that the Great Northern had been shipping from one to five car loads of men a week to Thief River Falls for railroad work. On the arrival of the men at that place about half of them would start to work for the Soo and the balance would start to work for the Great Northern or for farmers. It seems that the Soo contractors could not secure transportation for men from Duluth or Twin cities therefore they sent "spotters" out to talk to the men that the Great Northern shipped into the county and got a share of them. The result has been very satisfactory for the Soo men but has caused all matter of trouble to the Great Northern.

Soo Line Trains Soon to be Running Through New Territory.

The Soo line will be ready for its invasion of Northern Pacific-Great Northern territory between St. Paul and Winnipeg, on Nov. 1. On that date it is now expected that the first through train will be sent over the new construction through Northwestern Minnesota, on which contracting firms have been busy for the past year.

The new line runs north from Glenwood, on the present main line west, through the White Earth reservation to the international line, penetrating north of the White Earth country, the western section of the famous Red River valley country, into which the Soo plans ultimately to extend several short branches. The new construction between Glenwood and Otter Tail is already in operation. Grading crews are finishing their work on the remaining sections of the new line and are being closely followed by the track laying and balasting crews. Hundreds of men are at work, and the steel is going forward rapidly.

Connections will be made at the Canadian line with the Canadian Pacific, with which the Soo line is closely affiliated, completing the through route into Winnipeg. The Soo-Pacific route into Winnipeg will be shorter than either of the existing routes, and the new construction has been carried on with a view to heavy traffic and fast trains.

Reports are current that, on Nov. 1, the Soo will establish a complete through freight and passenger service providing faster passenger time than has ever before been made between the Canadian city and St. Paul, and entering at once on an active campaign for the traffic the Hill lines are now handling.

The advent of the Soo will bring about important changes in the railway situation in the Red river country and in the northwestern corner of the state, where for several years there has been no competition whatever. The added factor will also change competitive conditions in through business and will be an important advantage to Winnipeg. The Soo will control the situation, and with the aid of the Canadian Pacific, stands a fair chance of obtaining the greater share of through traffic.

An active campaign is to be made for the grain haul out of the Red river country.

SAMUEL GIBEAU.

Editor Bede, of the Warren Sheaf, tells in his last week's issue about a cross country trip to Thief River Falls, and his remarks following will be appreciated by those of the public who have "tumbled." After telling of a tiresome trip through mud and swamps, he says: "We had some difficulty in finding the way because no one seemed to have heard of Thief River Falls. Everyone could tell us just the way to Warren, but no other place seemed to be on the map. Just as we got in the shadow of the city someone said they thought that it was off yonder. (This may be exaggerated just a little.) But we finally did reach the Falls—a nice, quiet, peaceful little burg—in fact, quite a settlement—on the banks of the Red Lake river. We enjoyed the hospitality and census figures of several of the prominent citizens, and before we were ready to leave we were ready to believe the population to be somewhat ahead of New York."

EARLY AUTUMN WEDDING.

William A. McIntyre and Lydia E. Fletcher Plight Their Troth.

At two o'clock Wedneday afternoon the First Presbyterian church was the scene of a pretty early autumn wedding, when the vows were spoken which united for life, Lydia Eudora Fletcher and William Adelbert McIntyre. The impressive marriage service was read by the Reverend Herbert W. Knox, in the presence of about one hundred invited guests.

The church was prettily decorated for the occasion, autumn leaves, golden rod, with palms and ferns, being used. Just before the bridal party entered the church, "Meditation" was beautifully rendered by Leland Healy, who presided at the vocalion. At the entrance of the bridal party, Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" was played. "Meditation" at the speaking of the vows and the Mendelsshon's wedding march as a recessional. Abner Fletcher and Ralph E. Wyer acted as ushers. The groom was attended by Sam E. Hunt, as best man, and Dr. Freeman F. Fletcher. Miss Lulu Fletcher, sister of the bride, the maid of honor, was gowned in pale blue silk mull and carried red roses. Miss Grace Iddings was brides maid, and wore a gown of pink silk mull and carried pink roses. The bride was given away by her father. She was attired in a white Persian lawn, lace trimmed. Her flowers were a shower boquet of bride's roses.

Immediatly after the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at which, besides the bridal party and family, about twenty friends of the bride and groom were present. The tables were very handsomely decorated. The bride was the receipant of numerous beautiful gifts.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fletcher and has grown to womanhood in our city. She is one of Red Lake Falls' most highly esteemed and brilliant young ladies and has a legion of warm friends. In 1901 she graduated from the Winona State Normal and for the past several years has been a successful teacher, and has been considered one of the foremost educators of the state.

The groom is a graduate of the State University and is a prominent young attorney of our city. He has been very successful in his profession and has built up a lucrative practice. Both bride and groom are exceptionally bright young people and have been popular in the social life of the city. Their numerous friends in this city and throughout the Valley will wish them all happiness and success in their married life.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre left on the Northern Pacific, amid showers of rice, for the twin cities and other Southern Minnesota points on a short wedding journey. They will be absent about two weeks, and upon their return will at once go to housekeeping in the Benoit cottage, on south Main street, where they will be at home to their many friends after October fifteenth.

The bride's going away gown was of blue voile, with hat to match.

The Gazette tenders congratulations to the happy couple.

Just a Moment, Please!

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship.

And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,500. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woolens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices. You can do that by calling on

PRIMARY ELECTION TUESDAY OF NEXT WEEK

Red Lake County Voters Must Choose Men For Their Tickets.—Candidates Not Numerous and But Few Contests Will Occur.—Important that the Vote Be Heavy.

Tuesday of next week will occur the second trial of the primary election law, created by the legislature in 1901, and upon the result throughout the state on that day will largely depend the future of the law. Up to the present time, although given but one trial, the law has not been as successful as it was anticipated it would, but should the results next Tuesday be such that they showed that the people took kindly to the law, there is no doubt as to its continuance, with modifications to suit different cases. If the people want the privilege of naming their officers, and do not care to go back to the old bossism convention system it is their duty to turn out Tuesday and emphatically emphasize their position, while on the other hand a small vote in the county districts will tend to show that the people do not care for the present system more than the old way, and in all probability the law will be repealed.

In Red Lake county there are only two local contests, besides the contest for representative, and all are on the Republican ticket.

On that day the voters must choose a man to represent the 61st district at St. Paul next winter, and there being two candidates to choose from—L. C. Simons, of this city, and Dr. L. L. Mayland, of Bagley,—the voter should make up his mind in advance as to which he wants.

In all fairness to Dr. Mayland and his supporters, The Gazette believes it the duty of the people of this district to choose; Mr. Simons, the present representative, to again represent them, and has several good reasons for so doing. Mr. Simons has served one term in the lower house, and his record there was such that his friends were proud of him, and his advantage of having had experience will greatly benefit his constituency at the next session of the legislature. He stands for everything the people of the district want—drainage, good roads, improvements of rural schools, and is a firm supporter of Senator Moses E. Clapp. Dr. Mayland offers nothing different than this, and as long as the policy of the two would be identical, why change?

For County Auditor, Paul I. D. Ostby is the Republican candidate, with no opposition, while James E. Ford will be the nominee of the Democrats.

Ovide Moreau has a clear field for the nomination of Treasurer, and Karl M. Hansen will be the choice of the Democrats.

For Judge of Probate the Republicans have Nels K. Anderson to vote for, while N. W. Tarrant will be nominated by the Democrats.

For Register of Deeds there is a warm contest on between the Republican candidates. Charles Ecklund, of Bray, is one of the North End aspirants and is known to the voters. He made the run for the nomination two years ago, and although defeated at the primaries he made a creditable showing. He is an old resident of the county and would make a competent officer if chosen.

K. J. Weeks, of Thief River Falls, is another North Ender who wants to be the Republican candidate and has a large following of warm supporters. He has been very successful in his work at Thief River and if nominated and elected could be counted on to attend to his official duties in a creditable manner.

Samuel Gibeau, of this city, the present Register of Deeds, is the third candidate for the Republican nomination, and although a new man in the ranks is making a hard race, and can be counted in the running 'till the finish. Mr. Gibeau is making his canvass on his record while in office, which gives him an excellent platform to work on, and the voters have the advantage of knowing that the office will be well taken care of if he is the choice.

Thomas Germo is the only candidate for County Attorney that will be voted for at the primaries, the Democrats not having an aspirant for that office. Tom's friends are predicting that the result in November will be along the same lines, and that the people as a whole will select him to handle the legal affairs for the next two years. Tom is a bright lawyer, a hard worker in the Republican ranks and a man who can be depended on to do his duty. The Republicans should make his vote next Tuesday an indicator of his majority in November.

For Sheriff Ernest Buse will be the Republican candidate and Daniel Liunihan will represent the Democrats. Both are well known and the result in November will be decidedly in doubt.

For Superintendent of Schools the Republicans must choose between one of three candidates, while the Democrats have no one to vote for.

Earnest L. Quist, Thief River's candidate, is a bright young man, and if the people see that the nomination goes his way he can ask the support at the polls knowing that he is competent to give an efficient administration.

John B. O'Brien, for years superintendent of the St. Hilaire schools, is another candidate and as much can be said of him as any of the others. His experience in school work has been far-reaching and his friends know that as Superintendent of Schools he would make a fine official.

Mrs. J. J. Doe, of this city, is also a candidate and her canvass of the county has beeen very fruitful. She is an educator of ability and has a large acquaintance, and can be looked upon as an important factor in the race for the nomination. Should she be successful she can be depended upon to give a good administration of the official duties.

For Coroner, Joseph Belair will be the only candidate at the primaries, and as Joe has held the office before the people know that he will make a good official.

J. K. Wood, of the North End, will be the Republican candidate for Surveyor and has no opposition from the other side.

In the Fourth district the Republicans will choose between W. W. Prichard and Daniel Shaw as to which shall represent them at the county board meetings the coming two years. The Gazette bears Mr. Prichard no ill will, but honestly believes that Mr. Shaw should be the choice of the Republicans on Tuesday. Dan is an older resident, has certainly done more work for the party and the people of his district, and is easily as competent as Mr. Prichard. Whenever given a public trust he has looked carefully after the people's interests, and on the Board of Commissioners could be depended on to serve the people well.

In this commissioner district W. C. L. Demann, of Lake Pleasant, will be nominated by the Republicans, while Sam Luxenburg, of the same town, will be chosen by the Democrats. Mr. Demann has served the people of the district so well that there is no question but what he will again be chosen to the office, which will assure his constituency a careful and honest administration of their affairs.

The time is here to choose your candidates, people of Red Lake county, and the larger the turn-out the better send off will your party get. Both tickets contain many good men, and The Gazette isn't afraid but what Red Lake county will be competently looked after for two years more at least.

A Me[illegible] to Red Lake Co.

Are We To Be Without Representation in the Next Legislature.

Red Lake county people, irrespective of party considerations, are interested in having a representative in the state legislature, as matters relative to drainage, good roads, etc., vitally affecting our county, will be brought before the next session, and it behooves us "to have a friend at court." There is no Democrat candidate for the legislature, and if Hon. L. C. Simons should be defeated in the Republican primaries next Tuesday Red Lake county would not be represented in either house.

The Bemidji Pioneer, the only newspaper of consequence in the district supporting L. L. Mayland, Mr. Simons' opponent in the primaries, makes a plea of sectionalism, urging the voters of Clearwater and Beltrami counties to defeat Mr. Simons because of the fact that he is a Red Lake county man. This is a matter of importance to the people of Red Lake county. The senator from this district lives at Bemidji, and now the Pioneer would have the representative also from the eastern end of the district.

We do not doubt that a majority of the Republican voters of Beltrami and Clearwater counties have the good taste and good judgment to vote for Mr. Simons, but whether or not they do so it is incumbent upon the Red Lake county Republicans to prove their loyalty to their home candidate. Mr. Simons, we believe, is broad and liberal enough in his views to represent the district without discrimination to any section, and is a safer and a better man for Red Lake county than one who is avowedly the representative of only a portion of the district.

This is a vital matter to the taxpayers of Red Lake county. There are important interests at stake. The Republican voters should not forget their duty next Tuesday.

The Bemidji Pioneer is ardently in favor of repealing the primary election law, and the inference is that Dr. L. L. Mayland, the Pioneer's candidate for legislative honors stands on the same platform. The country district will hardly favor a candidate for that office who would take away this substantial safeguard against the evils of the old convention system.

Who Can Sign.

The question has been raised here the past week as to the rights of the voter in regard to the petition of an independent candidate, and in order to satisfy itself The Gazette submitted the proposition to the Attorney General, who rules that a person who signs a petition of an independent is not barred from voting at the primaries, and also that members of a party may sign the petition of an independent candidate for any office that such party had no candidate for at the primaries. Any one who voted at the primaries, however, cannot sign an independent candidate's petition for any office which their party had a candidate for at the primaries.

A COMMUNICATION.

MR. EDITOR: Under the caption, "A Republican Voter Writes," an article in last week's issue of the Review and other papers of Thief River Falls, signed "A Republican Voter" inspired against myself no doubt, in the interest of the candidacy of K. J. Weeks for Register of Deeds, as no mention is made of either Mr. Alhue or Mr. Ecklund, who are also candidates for the nomination to the same office. This "Republican Voter" is very prejudiced, and seeks to prejudice others by his peculiar reasoning.

The first objection he has to my candidacy is that I have had the office for six years: that the office averages $4,000 a year, and that I "should give the other boys a show at the pie counter." If every voter, Mr. Editor, should reason along these lines, how long will the high standing of your county offices be upheld? It's a conceded fact that experience in all lines of business, be it a county office or any other, benefits that business in direct proportion to the experience given it: other things being equal. It follows, therefore, that as nothing but praise is brought out against my management of the office, by the writer of that article, his objection to my length of tenure in office falls of itself.

The fees and emoluments that I have received in the office seem also to be a thorn in the side of our excellent writer, and in connection with this, I will explain facts which do not seem to have impressed themselves on his mind. The office of Register of Deeds in this couty is a fee office, that is, everything is paid for at rates fixed by statute, and this constitutes the only pay received by the Register of Deeds for his services, and out of this he must pay all his office help and sundry stationery and blanks, so that when business in real estate is at a low ebb as at present, the receipts of the office are corresponding low, and I will say that at no time of the county's history has the office averaged $4,000 a year nor anywhere near that figure, as evidenced by the sworn yearly reports on file in the Auditor's office, or by examination of the fee book in the Register of Deeds' office. Another factor in the fee system of the office is that of compiling abstracts, which is not compulsory on the part of the public to send to that office, so that if the Register of Deeds is not a competent and reliable abstracter, the fees from this source will dwindle down very materially.

Now, Mr. Editor, we have reached the core of the anguish caused by my candidacy to the writer of that article who hides under the signature of "Republican Voter"—his objection to my filing as a Republican candidate. In this connection I will state that for the benefit of himself and others who may not be familiar with the circumstances, that for some time prior to August 31 last. our County Attorney had ruled that his interpretation of the Primary law was to the effect that Populists could file as candidates for the party nomination at the primaries. Having this foundation myself and others went to St. Hilaire the day of the Democratic convention, not for the purpose of affiliating with that party, as insinuated, but to effect an agreement so as to put a People's Party ticket in the field (by the way, "Republican Voter" is wrong in stating that any one was endorsed for Register of Deeds by the Democratic convention, as no one was endorsed for that office) but some of the Democrats did not take kindly to this and bluntly told one of our party that he must join the Democratic party or stand the consequences to himself as a candidate. I was not approached by them nor did I go in their convention. During the last week in August I made a demand on the County Auditor to file on the People's Party ticket, stating the position of the County Attorney on the subject. This forced the Auditor to get the Attorney General's opinion, who ruled that the People's Party had no legal standing, and that in order to go through the primaries, it was necessary to file for nomination of one of the other two parties. Under the circumstances, I filed for the Republican nomination for Register of Deeds.

In coming out as a candidate, I did so solely at the urgent solicitation of a number of the heaviest patrons of the office. I have worked hard to make the office what it is, and to deserve the confidence of its patrons, with what success I am willing to let the voters decide. In discharge of my duties I have never let politics descriminate; and I ask the voters to support me on those grounds only. If through political bias or through diatribes of my opponents or their friends, I am defeated for the nomination, I shall nevertheless support the Republican nominee for Register of Deeds and will expect that, if I am nominated they will, in all fairness, render me the same courtesy, and support me at the polls in November next.

Very truly,

SAMUEL GIBEAU.

ERNEST L. QUIST, Thief River Falls' candidate for the Republican nomination for Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Quist has had several years of practical experience in school work, and is a bright and capable young man. He is a graduate of Gustavus Adolphus College, one of the best schools in the state, and if chosen to fill the office to which he aspires, would do so with credit to himself and the people at large. He solicits your support next Tuesday.

Dairy Notes.

(From the Ada Index.)

The value of a good cow is often never realized until she is sold.

The milk of a small, young cow is said to be richer than that of a large old one.

The cow first lives out of the rations, and makes milk out of the unexpended balance.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that a large cow necessarily make the most butter. It is a great error.

Irregularity in milking often causes considable suffering of cows that give large messes. Some have been injured in this way.

A great many milk cans on the market are like many people; they look good on first acquaintance, but after a little use begin to show rust spots.

Provide plenty of rough and concentrated feed in the fall to last for the whole season. Also provide good comfortable, warm, well ventilated stables.

Keep none but the dairy cow for dairy purposes. The cow that will make but 150 pounds of butter yearly with good care and feed, is not profitable to keep on the dairy farm.

Some of the strong advocates of the co-operative creamery system are patrons who have tried shipping their product to the centralizing plants. Their opinion should carry great weight.

When the cows are far advanced in lactation and nearing the end of their milk period, there is sometimes trouble in getting cream from the milk. Add a little warm water to the milk before straining.

Prospects are good for a high price for butter this winter, and every farmer that wants to make money should milk all the cows he can. If you havn't enough cows get some more, as they are worth having.

Look out for frost now as we are liable to get it most any night, and if you have not already got your corn fodder out, it would be better to cut it a little green than to wait until Jack Frost nips it, for after a frost it sours very soon and is of no use for feed.

A cow should have good care then fall if you intend to milk her through the winter, for if she starts in the winter in good order you will more than get the difference back of what care you give her this fall for she will produce more milk and a better quality.

Cows, like sunlight, especially in winter. Be sure, therefore, to provide plenty of windows; even if the first cost does exceed the wall space they occupy it is money well spent. Plenty of light promotes cleanliness by bringing all dirt into prominent sight. Darkness and dirt are congenial partners.

Nearly every farmer prides himself on the fact that he is a practical, not a scientific farmer. It's all right to be practical, but dont confuse being practical with being careless uniformed or prejudiced against learning. If a scientific farmer can make a cow produce $60 a year and the "practical" farmer only succeeds in making her produce $20, who is really the most practical?

VERY FEW FILINGS.

Eighty-two Out of 250 Take Reservation Claims.

Eighty-two ont of 250 persons entitled to file on Fort Totten reservation lands have taken advantage of the opportunity at Devils Lake since the filings began last Tuesday.

On Tuesday 26 ont of tbe first 50 filed. On Wednesday 21 out of the second 50 filed. On Thursday 13 ont of the third 50 filed; on Friday 15 ont of the fourth 50 filed, aud yesterday seven ont of the fiftb 50 made filing. The extra clerks from Washington, who have been at Devils Lake since tbe registration began will return to the land office at that city and take care of the reservation filings from now ou.

It is the intention to call the first one thousand names, and at the end of that no filings will be accepted for a period of 60 days when any one wbo cares to may make filings on the reservation.

The number of filings is a distinct disappointed, as it was figured that practically every claim ou the reservation would be taken up. Some of those who drew cbances within the first six hundred did not have the money to make tbe first payment, but the majority of them investigated conditions on the reservation, and found practically all of the good land has been taken by the Indians.

Provokingly Fnnny.

Have you ever had a long, weary Sunday before you—apparently a never-ending day when nothing imaginable would provoke one of those full, hearty, whole-souled laughs from which is derived the old, favorite adage, "Laugh and grow fat"? If sucb a day comes to you again and you want a merry laugh for the pleasure it gives, turn to the Comic Colored Supplement of The Chicago Record-Herald's Sunday edition. It is certainly an exterminator of the "blues." Filled completely with fresh, breezy jokes and irresistibly comic illustrations in colors, sparkling with wit and humor of an entertaining as well as instructive nature, it is a paper to amuse all who see it. Four pages in colors and four pages in black-and-white, this—the best colored supplement issued by any metropolitan newspaper—makes of that newspaper a combination of a modern Sunday newspaper and a humorous weekly periodical in colors.

The mechanical work involved in the making of this colored supplement is a marvel of skill. The harmonious arrangements and perfect blending of the many colors used in its make-up portray artistie taste of the highest order.

For Superintendent of Schools
MRS. J. J. DOE
OF RED LAKE FALLS.

Among the candidates to be voted for at the primaries next Tuesday, is an old resident of Red Lake Falls and the southern end of the connty: and one wbo has always enjoyed the highest respect and confidence of the people since coming here. That person is Mrs. J. J. Doe, at present a teacher in the pnblic schools here, and ber friends are predicting that she will fill the office of Superintendent of Schools so well that the people will assemble and rejoice that they chose her.

Mrs. Doe has been a resident of Red Lake Falls for the past eleven years, and since her residence here has almost continuously held a place on the teaching staff of the city schools, and the fact of her re-election year after year speaks well for her ability as an educator. After the death of her husband, who was killed in a railroad accident some twelve years ago, Mrs. Doe took np special work at the University of Minnesota before again entering school work, although prior to that she had been looked upon as one of the foremost educators of Sontbern Minnesota. She has devoted twenty-one years to active school work, and wherever she has been employed she has always given excellent satisfaction.

Minnesota has many lady superintendents in her various counties, and it has been fonnd that they give as good if not better satisfaction in the office than the members of the sterner sex. Where a lady is as competent and well qualified to fill an office, the argument that sbe should not be elected merely because she is a woman is one tbat is positively groundless.

Mrs. Doe is making an active canvass, and aspires to the office on her merits alone. If chosen by the people to make the run on the Republican ticket she will add strength to the party, and when she wins at the polls will give Red Lake county a careful and successful administration of tbe office of County Superintendent.

She respectfully asks tbat her friends go to the polls next Tuesday and cast a vote for her.

SHOUD HOLD WHEAT.

Circulars to Farmers Being Sent On In tbe Valley.

The American Society of Equity headquarters, Indianapolis, Ind., addresses the following appeal to farmers in the Red River valley. This is a society that urged farmers to hold their last year for one dollar. It bas issued its 1904 bulletin and bas set the price of the crop of wheat at $1.20. The appeal follows:

Farmers: A great obligation rests witb you. We will make it plain and urge you to discbarge it to your own interest and those of your brother farmers.

The 1904 crop of winter wheat was very short. Estimated by this society at 365,000,000 bushels, but discounted 60,000,000 on account of damage by rust, rains and other causes, makes it 310,000,000 bushels on a flour making basis. This is about 100,000,000 busbels short of the crops grown for several years, while consumption is increasing rapidly and the country is scraped clean of wheat and flour. Late developments confirm our estimate and everybody has settled down to the conviction that unless the spring wheat crop is abnormally large extremely bigb prices must prevail.

All eyes are turned to your states. Tbe conditions there are variable and no correct estimate can or will be made of tbe crop for some time yet.

Millers, elevator interests, railroads and half the speculators want the impression to prevail that little damage has resulted because of the lateness of the crop and rust. In the last issue of tbe Northwestern Miller, four pages were devoted to minimizing tbe crop damages and to showing that tbe balance of the area will yield so abundantly as to make an average crop. This is only natural, because they want millers to get hold of the farmers' wheat at as low a price as possible. If any great loss has accured tbey want to keep knowledge of it from the farmers until they have parted with tbeir crops.

The same was true in tbe winter wheat sections, the bulk of the wheat was sold before farmers knew how sbort the crop was and how mucb it was damaged. Buyers flooded the regions where the wheat was good and sucked tbe country dry in a very short time. Is this not so? The farmers now realize that they missed their opportunity, but it is too late to repair their loss.

It is not too late for the spring wheat growers so get an equitable price for tbeir crops. All eyes are turned in your direction. Tbis societies' bulletin dated July 25th recommended a price of $1.20 per bushel for tbe 1904 crop and gave reasons to prove the equity of this price. At that time it estimated the spring wheat crop at a full average. Tberefore if you raise a full crop it is wortb $1.20 on basis of Chicago market. If your crop is seriously shortened and damaged it will bring more. We don't need to go into the damage of your crop to sustain our position. The shortage of the winter wbeat crop abundantly justifies the price.

For Register of Deeds....

Frank Jeffers, Democratic candidate for the office of Register of Deeds, needs no introduction to Red Lake county voters. He is already well known as an able, enerjetic, efficient public officer, and an "all-round good fellow."

Possessed of a liberal education, he taught school several years and so won the respect and confidence of the people that upon the organization of the county, he was chosen to superintend its schools, a post in which he served so well, that his re-elections since were practically unanimous. The present excellent condition of the county schools, and the high standing attained by them, a fact attested by their teachers, show that Mr. Jeffers has ever served the public faithfully and well.

An excellent penman, well versed in all the requirements of the office, and trained by several years of public service, he will be a first-class Register of Deeds, and you will make no mistake in giving him your vote.

When our people were engaged with old Polk county in a fight for the life of Red Lake, Jeffers put his shoulder to the wheel, and fought in the front ranks, and the fact that there is a Red Lake county today, and an office to hold, is due as much to his efforts as to those of any other man in the county. Whenever a proposition of any kind has come before tbe people, Jeffers has always been "rigbt," and never besitated to say and do wbat be thought was right. A good friend,—a good officer—and a good fellow—he deserves your vote and support on every count.

SAMUEL GIBEAU.

Vote at the primaries next Tuesday.

The fate of the primary law is in your hands, voter. What are you going to do about it?

A. D. Stephens, the Crookston banker, has been made a member of the executive committee of the Minnesota state central committee. The honor is well bestowed as Mr. Stephens is one of the most active and influential Republicans in Minnesota, and will help increase the majority for Roosevelt and Dunn in this neck-'o-the-woods.

The Democratic state committee expected nothing from the national Democratic committee, and is not disappointed. Chairman Day has received word from the Parker headquarters, saying that the committee will have no funds to spare this year in Minnesota. The money will all be expendud in states where there is a reasonable hope of geting some electoral votes.

The Bemidji Pioneer is authority for the statement that the Thief River Falls Review is supporting Dr. Mayland for representative. This is good news to Judge Simons' friends, and there no longer remains the least question as to the size of the Judge's majority. Mayland will get McDonald's vote—if the judges decide he is old enough to be responsible for his actions.

The Morton Enterprise thus announces the orthodoxy of the Democratic ticket: "The Democrats have nominated their ticket and John A. Johnson, who made name and fame as editor of the St. Peter Herald, heads it. F. G. Winston, of Minneapolis, is second. Mr. Winston is a Virginian, entering the rebel army at an early age and coming out with a commission. His democracy is unquestioned."

Thief River News: With the filing of Paul I. D. Ostby for auditor and Nels K. Anderson for judge of probate, the Republican ticket in this county is complete. It is said that Chairman Watson, of the Republican county committee, is desirous of making a record and is going to make an effort to elect none but Republicans to office in this county this fall. While the county is strongly Republican, the voters have always exercised a great deal of independence, and the opposition has some decidedly popular men as candidates.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS:

Wylie, Minn., Sept, 14, 1904

DEAR SIR: I take this means to introduce myself to the voters of the county, as I have not time and money to spend for canvassing the county and advertising in all the county papers.

I suppose the other candidates have told you how good they are, and that they are the only men fit tor the office, I will tell you a few things I do not do. I do not say that I am the strongest and most popular, and the only man that should receive any support at the primaries.

I do not tell you I will do this and that, and every other thing—that is only wind, as is the man who tells it.

I do not go to my opponents and tell them that they are very unpopular and will not receive any support at the primaries, and that they ought to withdraw in my favor, neither have I bribed or tried to bribe my opponents to withdraw in my favor, for I think every person has equal rights, for if the man with the most money was always nominated there would be no need for the primary election.

I am not a newcomer here either, trying to reap the harvest of the pioneer's work. I came here in the spring of 1882, and have helped, to the best of my ability, to build up the county. I have paid hundreds of dollars of taxes to the county. Can you find the name of the other north end candidate on the tax-list? I can't. I have not flopped over from one party to the other the very last minute for the sake of being elected to office.

You will hear lots of talk about competency. I would ask if there ever was a man born with six solid years of experience in office or business? What would a man be called who had six solid years of experience and who did not know his work and duties by heart? I leave it to you to decide.

As you likely know I was a candidate for that same office at the last primary election, and received good support considering the canvass I made and was only defeated by a narrow margin, and by a better man than any of the present candidates, namely, Thomas Crompe.

I havn't the money with which to hire others to write letters for me and for that reason am writing for myself, and I promise if nominated and elected I will endeavor to fill the office to the entire satisfaction of everybody concerned, and will always be at your service whether you are a banker or a farmer.

Respectfully,
CHARLES ECKLUND.
Republican Candidate for Register of Deeds.

The Ada Index is another of the prominent state papers to discover faults in the present primary election law, and says in an editorial: "The main trouble with the present primary election law, and especially so in a county like Norman where there is but one ticket in the field and a nomination is conceded an election, is that it does not bring out a full party vote. If we have fair weather September 20th there is bound to be a small vote cast and but minor fractions of the members of the party will decide the contest. Farmers in this part of the state cannot leave work that is already from two to four weeks behind time to go a distance of from four to five miles to cost their votes. The date of the election is wrong and every member of the legislature should see that the date is changed and the law otherwise amended. The present law does not accomplish what was intended by its framers and we believe sentiment for a change in many respects is grining ground every day."

The (top) heavy-weight who does the stunts on Banker Prichard's Thief River Falls Review accuses The Gazette of insincerity because it praised County Commissioner Hanson, and implies that we have in the past said uncomplimentary things about His Honor, Mr. Hanson has always been a good friend of "Sam Haislet", Mr. Review, and in no instance have we ever said one word that would tend to make anyone think different. In regard the support of Collins, the pin-headed ass who attempts to make the people believe he is running a newspaper knows that there was never a word said in The Gazette in favor of Mr. Collins for governor, and is acknowledging that he is a liar when he said there was. On the other hand, we didn't do like the Review man—wait and see who won out in the county convention and then come forward puffed up like a blow-snake and shout "I did it." Up to the time of the county convention in June no one knew that the editor (?) of the Review was a Republican, even, and his criticism of a man like Dan Shaw, who was a Republican long before this young fellow had learned to creep, is one of the reasons why the people of the Fourth district should support Dan.

The Prichard, McDonald et al. gang are using every underhanded power known to get control of Thief River Falls' offices, and the Republicans, who were Republicans long before the aforesaid gang came there, should see to it that their political aspirations are promptly hit on the head with a stuffed club.

School Notes.

The total enrollment at the close of the first week of school was 382 pupils—173 boys and 209 girls.

A large number of pupils occupied seats so high that they could not touch the floor with their feet. This has been remedied by changing some seats and putting plank under them.

Miss Norby's room was so crowded that it was found necessary to exchange with Miss Nieland.

So large was the enrollment on the North Side that it was found necessary to bring some of the pupils over on the south side. In doing this convenience was considered. The following were transferred: Fifth grade—Hazel Bourdon, Julia Rasmusson, Florence Olson and Clarance Olson. Fourth grade—George Zeb, Ralph Bourdon, John Hennemuth and Emil Gerlash. Third grade—Charles Boughton, Francis Febro, Alice Rasmusson, Adolph Olson and Wilfred Gurin.

The pupils of the fourth and fifth grades have decided to keep the banner in the Lafayette building another month.

The Junior class has elected the following officers: President, Walter Johnson; Secretary, Ella Kreuger; Joseph Tonpin, Treasurer. The freshmen are busy with their organization.

The pupils of the eighth grade will organize a literary society. The programs will be arranged by the pupils with very little assistance from the teacher. They expect to give their first program a week from Friday.

ERSKINE GETS SCORCHED.

Fire Fiend Gets In Its Work at Polk County Town.

Erskine, the prosperous little town on the Duluth line, twenty miles southeast of this city, Sunday morning sustained one of the severest fires in the history of northern Minnesota and as a result eight of the most prominent business places in the village were consumed by flames without the salvage of an atom of the stocks contained in the buildings. The fire started in the upper story of Hyem and Nelson's saloon, and is supposed to have originated from the pipe of a hobo. The loft of the saloon building was filled with straw and according to reports hoboes were allowed to sleep there. At 3:30 a. m. the fire was discovered and at that time had gained great headway. The village was aroused and willing hands lent all of the energy of their owners to the battle with the fire fiend.

Erskine is not provided with water mains, however, and the hand pump which was on hand for service clogged with gravel when connected with the lake nearby. As a result water was not available with which to fight the flames for some time and meantime the flames gained headway rapidly in the face of the heavy wind blowing.

An endeavor was made to save the stocks or goods in the doomed buildings, but the flames made such rapid progress that not much salvage was obtained. At 6 o'clock in the morning, after having burned for two hours and a half and consuming during that time eight of the frame buildings in the heart of the business district on Main street, the fire met the fire wall of the Erskine bank building and was checked.

The loss is said to have been in the neighborhood of $50,000, which will be partly recovered by insurance.

Paul I. D. Osthy went up to Thief River Falls last Saturday and remained until yesterday, looking after his candidacy for County Auditor.

Sheriff Dan Linnihan went up to Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire Monday to summon the jurors for the October term of court, and also to look a little after political matters.

Omer Hall, the popular Great Northern operator, expects to be relieved from duty this week, after a long wait and will proceed Monday to Nebraska, to visit a month with his parents.

Funny and enjoyable as "The Telephone Girl" was during past seasons, it is alleged far more funny this season. Messrs. Morton and Kerker have virtually made a new play of it, Metropolitan Opera House tonight.

The high school foot ball team is in active training, and puts in considerable hard practice every day, under the tutelage of Coach Wyer. Correspondence is being held with the neighboring schools, and it is expected that a game will be arranged for the near future. The boys are working hard, and expect to make a creditable showing in their contest for gridiron honors.

Sam Allard and Joseph Belair left yesterday for Moorhead, where they go to represent Red Lake Falls at the session of the district convention of the Modern Brotherhood of America, which convenes there this week. The gentlemen will make a fight to get the next district convention here, but if they cannot get that they will go after a delegationship to the supreme convention at Minneapolis. Both are hustlers, and the lodge hera will have good representation.

Julius Pleth, the Scotland townsite agent and boomer, was a business caller here yesterday. Mr. Pleth will soon open his bank at Red Lake county's new town, and looks for a good business.

The merry musical jingle "The Telephone Girl" teeming with feminine beauty and all the elements which go to enthrall the public is now in its seventh consecutive year of it's glorious success and will be seen here at the Metropolitan tonight.

S. M. Sivertson came in off the road Tuesday, and left again the same afternoon for Middle River Marshall county, on a business sojourn. The large fall business in sight makes lots of work for the mill people here, getting everything in shape to take care of their share of the trade.

Merchant George Dupont drove in from Terrebonne Tuesday to meet Mrs. Dupont and children, who returned that day from their visit with Mrs. Dupont's parents at Waverly, this state. George reports that threshing is fairly under way in his section of the county, and that the yield will be better than was anticipated.

Carl Korstad resigned his position at the Big Store the latter part of last week and left for Thief River Falls, where he had secured a situation in the leading general store. Carl is a fine young man, and during his residence here made many friends who regretted his departure very much.

There's a time in each year that we always do fear, the good old harvest time; when the wheat is all ripe and it rains every night, in the good old harvest time. When one rain is over then you are in clover, and hope it won't rain for a while; but the first thing you know the ground is all dough, in the good old harvest time.

J. M. Bray placed his new bar fixtures in place Monday, and while all the "fixins" are not yet in order, his sample room presents a handsome appearance as a result of the improvement. The new fixtures ara the latest made, the back-bar being modeled after the beautiful and costly ones in the larger cities. The improvements are fine, and Mose has received many congratulations on his enterprise.

P. N. Bourdon and R. H. Bourdon and son, Charles, left Sunday night for Thiaf River Falls, and from there proceeded to a point twelve miles north of that city, where they will at once commence work for the Soo line in their survey from that point west. Where the Soo line will go, or what will be the result of the survey has not been given out, but it is thought that the Soo is to build a line west from Grafton to connect with its line at a point north of Thief River Falls.

That smart comedy "The Telephone Girl" will be the attraction at the Metropolitan on Thursday evening, Sept. 15. This, the seventh season of the favorite work of Hugh Morton and Gustave Kerker finds it more popular than ever as the generous patronage in other cities attests. The production this season is new in every detail. There are new faces in the cast, new girls in the chorus, new costumes on the girls, and new comedy situations. Ralph Riggs will be seen as the irresistably funny Hans Nix.

Merchant Robinson was in from Scotland Monday after a load of goods for his store, and found time to call and order some stationery of The Gazette. Mr. Robinson reports that things look good for the new town, and that a year hence they will have electric lights, water works and all the modern conveniences. Since the railroad reached there activity has been more pronounced, and many new business enterprises are being launched forth for their share of the trade. A new bank, newspaper, lumber yard and several other institutions will be in operation shortly, and all combined make the success of the new town an assured fact.

Miss Etta Garceau returned Tueshay from Moorhead, where she went to attend the State Normal school. Miss Etta concluded, after a few days absence, that there was no place like Red Lake Falls and decided that she would be better satisfied here than if she owned Chicago. Her many friends were pleased to see her return.

Hon. Marcus Johnson came up from St. Paul Tuesday to spend a few days looking after business hereaway. With the rush of fall work coming on, and the added duties of attending to politics as a member of the state central committee, Mr. Johnson finds himself constantly on the go. He reports that things commercially and politically look bright throughout the state and that the great victory conceded to Roosevelt and Dunn will assure the people of a continuance of the good times they have always enjoyed under Republican administrations.

Of all the musical comedies that have been touring tha country during the last decade there has probably not been another that has been greeted as warmly everywhere as has "The Telephone Girl", which comes to the Metropolitan on Thursday evening, September 15. Its comedians are always good, its girls pretty and its music is of that light airy tilting order that fascinates and charms. The book and scora are by Hugh Morton and Gustave Kerker who are responsible for more light musical successes than any other two men who have collaborated in this country.

James D. Taylor and Joseph McCaffrey left Monday for Warroad, where they will at once engage in the real estate and law business. James will attend to the legal end of the business and the fact of his being a graduate of Minnesota's grand old "U" assures his clients of good service, while Joe will endeavor to impress the wayward explorer with the merits of that graat country resting serenely under the shadow of the North Pole. Both of these young men are exceptionally well fitted to do battle with life's problems, and their friends look to see them achieve success in their home at the jumping off place of creation.

One little skunk not as large as a rabbit can stink up a thousand sheep and then trot off with its tail over its back says an exchange. One long-tongued lying gossiper can stir up a whole town and besmirch the fairest character in it and trot off unharmed. Of the two I would rather be the skunk, for the gossiper is sure to go to hell and all the skunk has to do is to die.

The band gave an open-air concert on Main street last Friday evening, which was listened to by an appreciative audience. The season is at hand when the open-air concerts will have to give way to the more comfortable opera house, and the band will at once begin practice for the first of the indoor series. Prof. Gnstad is drilling considerable new material at present, and it is expected that the coming season will eclipse tha highly successful one of last year.

Those business men who do not believe it profitable to advertise during "the dull summer months" should note the catalogues arriving from the mall order houses at this time. Those firms know that the merchants in small towns quit advertising at this time of the year, and so they flood the country with their ads, and gain a big victory, their competitors are 'waiting for business to pick up." When business is light is just the time it needs stimulating.

Fertile Journal: When you hear the remark: "Business is quiet," just remind tha person making it that the farmer, who is the mainstay of business in a community like ours is busy fourteen hours a day at the present in his fields; when he does come to town it is only to get necessaries that he must have, and he loses no time in hurrying back to his work. What business is not done now will be done later in the season. Viewing things as they are, and always have been at this season of the year, it is not surprising that things are quiet.

St. Hilaire Spectator: Dr. V. Pleth has decided to locate at Crookston permanently and expects to move his offices there about Oct. 1st. At request of his patients and friends he will visit St. Hilaire about once a month. It will be remembered that he has had a great many successful operations this summer, a large number of which were performed at the residence of Dr. Blomburg, whose home was turned into a veritable hospital.

Thief River News: The ordinance giving the Great Northern railroad the use of certain streets in order that its depot may be removed down town, was unanimously passed at a meeting of the city council held Thursday evening. Work on the new depot location will be commenced at once and it is quite probable that the present depot will be removed down town for the present and used during the coming winter and a new depot built next spring. The Great Northern does not believe that it will be able to build a new depot this fall.

State of Minnesota, } ss District Court
County of Red Lake. }
O. W. Brink, Plaintiff
vs.
Anton Anderson, defendent.

Notice is Hereby Given, That by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and now in my hands, issued out of the District Court, Fourteenth Judicial District, State of Minnesota, in and for the county of Red Lake upon a judgment rendered in said court in favor of O. W. Brink and against Anton Anderson I have levied upon the following described real property of said defendant, to wit:

Lot numbered five (5) in section numbered six (6) and lot numbered one (1) in section numbered seven (7), all in Township numbered one hundred fifty two north of range numbered forty-two, west of the 5th principal meridian in the State of Minnesota.

And that I shall, on Saturday the 10th day of September A. D. 1904, at the hour of ten o'clock a. m. of said day, at the front door of the court house, in Red Lake Falls in said county and state, proceed to sell all the right, title and interest of the above named Anton Anderson in and to the above described property, to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to one hundred six dollars and no cents, together with all accruing costs of sale, and interest on the same from the 12th day of October A. D. 1903 at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash.

EIGHT PEOPLE KILLED.

Fifty Others Injured in Wreck on Wabash Road.

Moberly, Mo., Sept. 7.—The southbound Wabash passenger train which left Des Moines for St. Louis at 6:40 a. m. was wrecked Tuesday near Pendleton, Mo., killing eight passengers and injuring more than fifty others.

The train, which was composed of an engine, baggage and smoking cars, day coach, diner and Pullman sleeper, was well filled, it being estimated by Wabash officials that there were about 500 persons on board. The train was running at its scheduled speed when the accident occurred.

The day coach left the track and breaking loose from the baggage and smoking cars, plunged down an embankment, dragging the diner with it. The Pullman did not leave the track.

The heavy dining car crashed on top of the coach, and the majority of those killed and injured were passengers in the latter. There was no one in the dining car, it is stated, except the employes, who escaped with injuries.

TWO DOLLAR WHEAT.

Bulls on the Chicago Board of Trade Predict That Price.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—"Wheat at $2 a bushel before next May" was roared by the bulls during the day on the board of trade. At the opening of the market there was an excited demand for wheat, with few traders venturing to sell. The price for May delivery was from $1.11½ to $1.12 and for delivery for the present month from $1.07⅝ to $1.08. Those who wished to buy shouted bids of 2 cents a bushel above the prices prevailing at the close of the market the previous day and the quantity that any one would sell even at such a tempting advance was extremely limited.

The agricultural bureau at Washington, through information furnished by its army of crop reporters scattered throughout every wheat growing county in the country, issued a report that, according to the bulls, confirmed the worst fears regarding the lamentable loss to the spring wheat crop by the black rust.

WOULD HAVE IT CHANGED.

German Protestant Papers Object to Name of Future Queen.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—The Protestant provincial newspapers suggest to the government that the betrothed wife of Crown Prince Frederick William, the Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenberg-Schwerin, ought not to be called Cecilia after her marriage. They regard this as an objectionable name for a Prussian queen and a German empress because associated with a Catholic saint and many church societies are named after her. The papers point out that such association would injure the Protestant religion in Germany, as the uninformed might think their future empress was a Catholic. They suggest a number of other names, Augusta, for instance.

VERMONT RETURNS COMPLETE.

Slight Increase Over Republican Plurality Four Years Ago.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 9.—The unofficial tabulation of the returns for governor in Tuesday's state election has been completed with the receipt of the vote from the remote towns of Sherburne and Somerset, and the grand total places the plurality for Charles Bell, Rep., at 31,555.

The total vote for the two leading candidates was: Bell, Rep., 48,077; Porter, Dem., 15,521. The Republican plurality four years ago was 31,312.

WILL PROLONG CAMPAIGN.

Hereros Escape From German Troops Encircling Them.

Berlin, Sept. 13.—Advices received here from German Southwest Africa show that the main body of the Hereros, several thousand strong, have broken through the ring of German troops disposed for the purpose of encircling them and have escaped towards the southeast with the loss of fifty men killed. This is interpreted to mean an indefinite prolongation of the campaign.

Rand alleged that he cared for 300,000 acres of Hastings and Dakota railroad lands placed in trust with Sage. The suit was for compensation for this service.

Frank J. Cishovsky met death in an extraordinary manner in the Diamond saw mill at Minneapolis. He was at work near one of the saws when a sliver from a board was caught by the saw and hurled with the velocity of a cannon shot at Cishovsky's head. It penetrated his left eye, going several inches into the skull, causing injuries which resulted in death an hour later.

George Miller, John Boutell and a young man named Kelley, all of Minneapolis, were injured badly in an automobile accident in that city. Boutell says he and Kelley and Miller accepted the invitation of two unknown young men to ride in a large automobile. The machine went around Kenwood parkway at the rate of forty miles an hour and at Twenty-first street they collided with the Peavey fountain, smashing the machine to bits and throwing out the occupants. Miller had his scalp torn off and his back injured. He is probably fatally hurt. Boutell had his left leg broken and Kelley had three ribs and a collar bone fractured. Both are seriously injured.

Nerve Fag.

If You Waste Your Nerve Energy, After Awhile You Will Suffer For It.

You can waste nerve force by excess, over-work, worry, anxiety, etc.

You can weaken yourself by not eating proper food or securing sufficient rest to renew the nerve energy you use up.

The proper treatment, in addition to good, phosphatic food, such as whole meal bread, prepared cereals, etc., is Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.

This is as truly a brain and nerve food as any food you could eat, and besides, furnishes strength and tone of its own, which goes to the weakened nerve system, and sets it to rights.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a refreshing, revitalizing tonic food-medicine for the brain and nerves. It reconstructs worn-out nerve tissue, and fills your languid brain with new life and vigor.

Dr. Miles' Nervine has made so many marvelous cures, of people so sick the doctors thought they were incurable, that it is today the standard medicine in many thousands of American homes.

The first bottle is guaranteed to help you, or druggist returns your money.

"The extreme heat, close confinement and intense mental strain incident to the banking business, has caused me to suffer with nervousness and insomnia. It gives me pleasure to say that I have used Dr. Miles' Nervine with very satisfactory results in the treatment of these affections. I am now on my fifth bottle, and eat and sleep well, in fact have almost forgotten that I possess nerves."—R. L. DALBY, Asst. Cashier, State Bank, Texarcana, Ark.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

A REPUBLICAN VOTER WRITES.

Thief River Falls,
Sept. 7, 1904

"One good turn deserves another" is possibly a wise political maxim. But, just the same, I do not believe that it should be made the excuse for office-holders hanging on to the good things in county politics for a life time.

The present incumbent of the office of Register of Deeds in this county has been a good officer. Nobody will attempt to deny that. That is what he is paid for. And the office pays better than any other in the county.

He has been a good officer, as I said, and he has also been well paid. He is now comparatively a rich man. The office averages about four thousand a year. Six years of it means twenty-four thousand dollars. Don't you think it is nearly time to step down and out and to give the other boys a show at the pie counter?

There are plenty of others in the county who have the brains, the experience in land titles, the education and the ability to fill the office just as well as the present incumbrant. Such a one is Knute J. Weeks, who has a lifelong history of Republican affiliations and now seeks the nomination of that party for Register of Deeds. Mr. Weeks is a man of broad education, a man of integrity as evinced by the respect and esteem of his fellow citizens, of undoubted ability, for which witness his invaluable services as president of the most successful County Fair association in the valley, and in addition his large experience in matters pertaining to land titles and abstracts. An ideal man for the position. Clearly Mr. Giheau has no advantage personally over Mr. Weeks as a candidate. And when it comes to matters political the advantage lies all in Mr. Weeks' favor. The present officer has served three terms as a Populist. That party having died a natural death he followed the Democratic convention to St. Hilaire. Just why he did this can best be imagined but at all events that convention endorsed another man for Register of Deeds, and then—and only then—Mr. Gibeau filed as a Republican candidate for office. That may be all right, but there are a lot of the boys who believe that it is pretty nervy for so newly baked a Republican to expect the party to nominate him for the best office in the county. It looks a little like the tight rope performer who balances a little on one side and a little on the other but whose whole attention is bent on keeping on top of the rope, whatever happens. Now tight rope walking is an interesting and amusing spectacle, but I have noticed that after a time it is usual to get off the rope and give the other performer a chance. And I think it is about Sam's turn to get off the rope.

Now, Mr. Giheau is a good fellow and a good officer and he wants the job. K. J. Weeks is also a good fellow and will make a good officer and he wants the job. Mr. Gibeau has held it six years and is well fixed financially. I think it is his move; what do you think?

REPUBLICAN VOTER.

Saw Wood.

Did you ever happen to ride on a train through the country when a farm dog would run out and run along after the cars barking to the fullest capacity of his lungs. The dog attracts a little attention from the passengers at first, but the train soon pulls away from him; he and his wail is soon lost in the distance. The train hasn't been injured a particle, but the dog is tired and out of wind. Well, said the writer that dog is just like a lot of people in this world. They lose no opportunity to bark at the trains of successful business men. The dog imagines that the train is running away because it does not fight back, but the train is always back the next day and it will continue to come around long after the dog is out of wind and has gone to the happy hunting grounds. So when you are in the field don't bid for business with a bark at your competitor. In this present rush of business affairs, people have no time to pay any attention to a barker. Attend strictly to your own affairs and saw wood after awhile you will get big enough so you won't have to bark.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE DEMOCRACY.

The Minnesota Democracy, battling in this rock-ribbed Republican state, comes in for a share of public sympathy, but not much respect. It does not really stand for anything. It has no standard by which to determine party allegiance. A wild radical is a Democrat because the Republican party is too conservative and a timid conservative is a Democrat because it is too fast. These extremes, with all the shades between, have no principle in common except opposition to Republicanism, says the Duluth News-Tribune.

The warring elements going to make up the Democratic party prove that our American political evolution, is as yet, in an early stage. In all the countries of Europe men standing for what the rival groups of Democrats stand for here have separate organizations and names. As a matter of fact, there is much diversity under the Republican banner, but no such differences as the Democrats enjoy. Let the word enjoy stand.

It is perfectly clear then that, as a governing party, advancing principles, the Democrats, as now constituted, can never succeed. Either the radicles or conservatives must get out of the Democracy. For some ten years back, the radical Democrats controlled that party and by reason of their unpopularity, the Republican party was firmly entrenched in power. Now the conservatives are in the saddle, the radicals will vote for Roosevelt and the Republican party will get a sure lease on power for ten years more.

The Democratic leaders in Minnesota are rather smooth people. They have no great hope, but by pursuing a smooth conciliarity policy, they have, they think, a chance. Excepting their opponents, they won't fight anyone, much less Roosevelt. For instance, if Mr. Johnson of St. Peter made an attack on Roosevelt, he would feel that it might cost him some votes he might otherwise get, so he will be silent on national politics. He will not go after the railroads because he is a friend and admirer of certain railroad presidents and they, no doubt, are aiding his campaign. He will simply purr and purr, and be a "Good Lord, Good Devil" fellow with all men and all interests.

That is why the Democracy never never does anything. It has no principles. It only wants a job. Anyone who thinks this harsh should ask Mr. Johnson a few questions like the following.

If you are chosen governor, will you urge any changes in the Minnesota public schools?

Will you interfere with the present wheat inspection?

Will you try to change the present treatment of old soldiers?

Will you seek to abolish the state fair?

Will you oppose state drainage laws?

In answer to these and many other questions, Mr. Johnson will say that he will urge no change, that the present system is admirable. Surely so, and, therefore, why should the electors of a Republican state vote for a Democrat who approves past Republican administrations and proposes no improvements?

It is quite different with Dunn. He, of course, stands on the historical record of Republicanism in the great commonwealth, but, at the same time urges improvement. He would lower freight rates, drain wet lands and abolish the free pass system on railroads. He does not approve Democracy and is not afraid of his own voice. He speaks right out and carries conviction.

He begs to know why a rich man should travel free, while the poor man pays? Are not the burdens of the poor sufficiently great now, he asks? It is satisfying to know that R. C. Dunn, a man of action and of earnest convictions, is to succeed the present executive at St. Paul.

Rev. Father Fayolle and L. P. Berthon drove to Dugdale Sunday afternoon and took the train for Crookston, from where they proceeded to Minneapolis to spend this week with friends.

Thomas Gilfoy, of Gentilly, and old time acquaintance of The Gazette scribe, was a caller here last Saturday on his way home from a visit at Thief River Falls.

Samuel Giheau has been out over the county the past few days in the interests of his candidacy for the Registership, and reports that things look exceedingly bright.

Dr L. L. Mayland, of Bagley, was a caller here a few hours last Saturday, in the interests of his candidacy for the legislature. The Doctor has made a thorough canvass of the district he wants to represent, and states that he has found things satisfactory.

Several of the candidates for county office drove out to Louisville to attend church Sunday, and improve the opportunity of meeting the voters. The church at Louisville is taken care of by Rev. Father Theillon, of Gentilly, who fills the pulpit there once a month.

Messrs. Berthon and Armstrong have a new ad in today's paper, in which they elucidate at length upon the merits of their line of goods for men and boys. Their fall showing of merchandise has attracted favorable attention throughout this section, and their announcements are always read with interest.

The J. B. Cigar company have their force working night and day at present in order to keep even with the rush of work that has been secured during the past two weeks. The popular brands of cigars put out by this company are becoming more in demand every day, and it keeps the working force on the constant move to supply the wants of the public.

The family of Richard Adler left on Monday evening's train for East Newmarket, Maryland, where Mr. Adler has been for some time and where the family will make their future home. They will occupy a large fruit farm recently purchased by Mr. Adler. Red Lake Falls people will trust that they may be successful in their far-off eastern home.

Phil. A. Kaufer, formerly publisher of The Gazette, arrived from Tacoma, Washington, Saturday evening and has spent the week here on business. Phil looks well and reports himself as pleased with his eastern home. He says that all the former Red Lake Falls people in that section of the globe are prosperous and contented. Phil's many friends were pleased to greet him again.

The Presbyterian church people are at present engaged in raising $1500 to pay off the remaining indebtedness on their church, and to make other improvements. The citizens have responded liberally to the appeal for aid, and it is thought that they will have no trouble in raising the required amount.

Garceau & Zaiser's Busy Store has a large-sized advertisement in today's Gazette, enumerating a long list of attractive fall and winter goods at bargain prices. The Busy Store anticipated the wants of the people this fall by adding an unusually fine stock of seasonable goods, and Gazette readers will do well to watch these columns for timely announcements.

There is a law upon the statute books making it the duty of owners of steam threshers, while passing along public highways with their outfit, to stop when approaching a team and send a man ahead to assist in taking care of the horses until the vehicle is past. Those in the threshing business should remember the law, carry out its requirements and save broken bones and other damages.

Joseph Pigeon, Poplar River's "grand old man," was a caller here last Saturday and attended the Republican gathering at the city hall. Mr. Pigeou is one of the most enthusiastic Republicans in the valley this fall and predicted that Roosevelt and Dunn would get everything in sight. He also reported that crops out his way were better than had been represented, and that everybody was correspondingly happy.

Mrs, August Claass, wife of an old-time resident of Red Lake Falls, died at her home in this city Tuesday, after an illness covering several years. She leaves, besides the husband, one son, Otto, and two daughters, Mrs. George Brown and Miss Anna Claass. The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church yesterday, Rev. H. W. Knox conducting the services. The family has the sympathy of the community.

At St. Mary's church Monday morning, occured the marriage of John Deutschman and Miss Martha Adler, two well known young people of this city, the Rev. Father Ansgar conducting the pleasing ceremony. The young couple left on the afternoon train for the Twin Cities, where they will spend the week on a honeymoon trip. On their return they will go to housekeeping on the North Side. The contracting parties are both popular residents of Red Lake Falls and have a large number of friends who will join with The Gazette in extending congratularions.

Thief River Press: Daniel Shaw, local right-of-way agent for the Soo yesterday morning secured ground from C. J. Knox for the building of a "Y" track in what is known as Smiley add. to Fairfield just north of the city. It is learned that this means the removal of Soo con-truction headquarters from Detroit to this city before the end of next week. The ultimate use of this track is not definitely known and Chief Engineer Green, who has been in the city for several days, when questioned by a Press representative displayed the utmost reticence on that point. It is however, generally understood that Thief River Falls is to become a division point on the Soo line which will run for Portal N. D. to Duluth and paralleling the G. N.'s Minnesota line.

Crookston Journal: L. C. Simons the Red Lake Falls business man and candidate for representative from his district, who came in Sunday morning to greet friends and acquaintances in the city says political affairs throughout his district are in a very satisfactory condition from his view point and considerably in favor of his candidacy. "Every candidate for nomination," said Mr. Simons, "is of course imbued with a rosy view of his standing among the voters. I am no exception to the rule, but from what I have seen throughout the district I believe my chances for the nomination are very good. My opponent, Dr. Mayland, is meking an energetic campaign, and I realize that he has a considerable amount of support. Despite that, however, I expect to come out all right and be returned."

Finrow is Nasby.

Congressman Steenerson has recommended that H. H. Finrow, of Scotland, the new town on the Soo, be appointed postmaster at the new office about to be established, and Mr. Finrow's official appointment will doubtless reach the city within the next week or ten days. Scotland is bound to become one of the most prosperous places on the new railway and already a large amount of building and business activity is manifested. The townsite is managed by Julius Pleth, formerly of St. Hilaire, and one of the most successful land men in the upper country. Mr. Finrow is receiving the congratulations of his friends.

Thankful Women Who Have Been Cured by Dr. Hartman's Free Treatment.

Miss Ruth Emerson, 72 Sycamore St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered for two years with irregular and painful menstruation, and Peruna cured me within six weeks. I cannot tell you how grateful I feel. Any agency which brings health and strength to the afflicted is always a welcome friend, and to-day the market is so filled with useless and injurious medicines that it is a pleasure to know of so reliable a remedy as you place before the public."

Miss Ruth Emerson.

MRS. J. E. FINN, 82 East High St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen: "A few years ago I had to give up social life entirely, as my health was completely broken down. The doctor advised a complete change and rest for a year. As this was out of the question for a time, I began to look around for other means of restoring my health.

"I had often heard of Peruna as an excellent tonic, so I bought a bottle to see what it would do for me, and it certainly took hold of my system and rejuvenated me, and in less than two months I was in perfect health, and now when I feel worn out or tired a dose or two of Peruna is all that I need."---Mrs. J. E. Finn.

Pelvic catarrh is a phrase coined by Dr. Hartman, covering all that large class of diseases that used to be known as female weaknees. The lower portion of the abdomen is called by anatomists the pelvis. The organs contained in this portion of the body are known as the pelvic organs. There are several of them, very delicate and very subject to catarrh. Few women escape entirely catarrh of these organs. While each case presents some minor difference as to detail, they are all in reality alike. Peruna does not relieve these cases by temporarily mitigating some symptom, but by a removal of the cause. Many a woman can testify that local treatment does not permanently cure. A large multitude of women are constantly going from doctor to doctor to receive local treatment, with little or no result.

In Peruna these women find a prompt and permanent cure.

Imitations of Pe-ru-na.

Peruna has come to be recognized as the greatest remedy for catarrh in the world. At first competitors tried to deny this and insisted that their remedies were just as good. This was found to be impossible, however, and now imitations are springing up everywhere.

To successfully palm off an imitation of Peruna even for a short time is sure to be a money-making scheme, but no one who has ever taken Peruna can be fooled on these imitations. No conscientious druggist would sell one of them. Every purchaser should look carefully at each package of Peruna he buys, to be sure that he is getting only genuine Peruna.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlein's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflamation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Tremendous Slide Repulicanward!

Primaries Disclose the Fact that Democrats are Scarcer than "Hen's Teeth."

The Fact Of There Being No Contests For Democratic Places The Cause Of The Scant Vote. --- Bunch of Pretty Contests Among Republicans, However, Cause People to Vote "Early and Often.---Simons, Weeks, Doe and Shaw are Victorious.

Primary election day has come and gone in Red Lake county and there is elation galore in the Republican camp.

Red Lake county climbed eagerly onto the toboggan and a great hig slide toward the Republican goal resulted from the efforts of the voters.

The day was an ideal one, but the bright warm snn undoubtedly made the vote lighter than it would have heen had Jupiter Pluvius turned loose the flood-gates and dampened the ardor of the populace—but not of the politicans. The vote in the cities was exceptionally large, and one or two of the country districts showed that the people liked the primary law, but in the majority of outlying precints, where the different candidates had reason to hope for a heavy vote, hardly enough people turned out to remind the judges that an election was in progress.

The Republican vote shows up about equal to that of two years ago, but the Democrats evidently were afraid of getting converted to Rooseveltism if they got out, and it has been hard to fiud enough Democratic votes to count. There are undoubtedly some names on the Republican poll lists now, however, that won't exactly helong that way on general election day.

Several pretty Republican contests were on the boards and the returns indicate that the fights pnt up by the candidates all counted. Representative Simons wins over his opponent, Mayland, and while the result showed the fight closer than Simons' friends anticipated, nevertheless he retains his seat in the lower house by a nice margin. (The detailed vote on Representative, as far as learned, will be found elsewhere.)

The most interestiug local contest was for the Register of Deeds uomination and the returns indicate that the present incumbrent, Samuel Gibeau, who was a candidate is defeated by Mr. Weeks, but is only 13 votes behind, with the town of Wyaudotte to hear from Mr. Ecklnnd's showing was uot as good as was expected, his total vote being 163, as against 260 two years ago. Mr. Gibeau did uot run as well in Red Lake Falls as the people expected he would, only carrying the town by 4 votes. In the outlying districts in this end and at both Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire he got more votes than he counted on. He carried St. Hilaire over Ecklnnd by 3 and over Weeks by 13. In Thief River Falls, Weeks' home, he got 53 votes being a number more than he ever hoped for. Mr. Weeks is a good Repuhlican and will make a strong fight in November.

The next important contest was the superintendency, hut Mrs. J. J. Doe, of this city, so easily outran her opponents that neither had a ghost of a show for their "white alley." Out of the grand total of 473 votes in this city Mrs. Doe only lost 41, while she carried one ward and came near carrying another in Thief River Falls, Quist's home, and didn't get entirely shut out at St. Hilaire. The country precints in this end of the county did nobly by her and their vote materially increased her lead.

For county commissioner in the Fourth district, Daniel Shaw, the people's candidate, won over Banker Prichard by nearly two to one. This fight was probably the hardest one in the county and although the candidates didn't have much groud to cover they made things hum some. Dan is just the type of man that will give the people of Thief River Falls and the North end

Unofficial Abstract of Votes Polled at the Primaries.

The following table contains the unofficial returns of Tuesday's primaries from all the towns but Wyandotte. The total vote is 1211, as against 1092 two years ago. The Republican vote is considerable heavier, but the Democrats did not poll as many. The table will be corrected according to the official count and reprinted next week.

DEMS. NAME TICKET

No Contest at Tuesday's Primaries for Places on Democratic Ballot.—Good Set of Men Named.

The primary election held Tuesday did not prove very exciting for the Democrats of Red Lake county, inasmuch as there were no contests for places on the ticket and everyone who filed for the Democratic nomination was chosen. The following are the names of those who will go on the ballot to be voted in November:

Auditor—James E. Ford, Red Lake Falls.
Treasurer—Karl M. Hanson, Thief River Falls.
Register of Deeds—Frank Jeffers Red Lake Falls.
Sheriff—Daniel Linnihan, Red Lake Falls.
Judge of Probate—N. W. Tarrant Thief River Falls.
County Commissioner, 2d District—Sam Luxnmberg, Lake Pleasant.

The Democrats have no candidate for County Attorney or Superintendent of Schools and can take their choice of voting for the Republican nominees or the "independents" for these offices.

The Democratic candidates named are all well known to the voters and are competent fellows.

TO THE SUPREME COURT.

Roseau County Seat Discussion To Be Settled.

Attorneys W. E. Rowe and A. A. Miller, of Crookston, representing the village of Roseau on appeal in the county seat removal case, have completed their brief and argument to be submitted at the October term of the supreme court. The contentions of error are eighteen in number and claim to be illegal petitions 4, 5, 19, 27, 32 and 33. This contention, if upheld, would leave only 740 valid signatures to the petitions for the removal of the county seat to Badger, which is less than the required 60 per cent of the total vote cast at the next preceeding election. Errors are also alleged in the publication in only one paper, the Herald-Rustler, of the notice of intention to commence circulation of the petition. Appellants maintain that the publication should have occured in all the legal newspapers of the county. The notice is also claimed to have been insufficient in that it specified a petition, whereas thirtythree distinct petitions were actually circulated.

Nellie Fuller, Denver—"My face was full of pimples and black-heads. Hollisters' Rocky Mountain Tea has driven them away. People hardly knew me. I'm looking fine." 35cents. Tea or tablet,s W. A. Schreiter.

MUST CHANGE NAME.

Postoffice Department Objects to "Scotland" Minnesota.

The authorities at Washington have entered an objection to the name of Red Lake county's new town out east and have refused to establish a postoffice called "Scotland," which necessitates a change in the name of that new burg. On looking up the matter the department found that there was a Scotland in Mississippi and the similarity of "Miss." and "Minn." in the average address would prove very confusing to the mail clerks and to postoffice authorities, so that in order to avoid this it was decided to recommend that the town change its name.

As to what it will be called has not yet been decided upon and some have suggested that "Plummer" would be appropriate. To The Gazette it looks as though the people out there should call the new town "Pleth," after its enterprising town lot agent. The name would be an uncommon one for a town and yet very pretty and would be a deserving compliment to their hustling banker. There is one thing sure that if the town of "Pleth" had the hustling qualities of its namesake it would achieve greater success than it could ever hope to acquire under the cognomen of "Scotland."

Judgement Entered In Rocksbury Case.

Crookston Journal: The entering of judgment by Clerk of Court Lanctot yesterday in the case of Chas. Corbet vs. the town of Rocksbury brought up the details of the suit which was instituted against that town by Chas. Corbet to recover $600 claimed to be due from the purchase of township bonds. The bonds were sold by the defendant town in 1883 and a portion only of the face value was received in cash, the remainder being in the form of an Era roadgrader. This fact was made an important item in the defense as well as the fact that the township had exceeded the ten per cent limit of bonded indebtedness when the bonds were sold. The plaintiff secured at the final disposition of the case, a judgment for $245 which was duly entered up by Clerk of Court Lanctot yesterday. Martin O'Brien of this city, represented the defense in the case and A. A. Miller appeared for the plaintiff.

STATIONS ON THE SOO.

Many Towns Being Built Along The New Railroad Route.

Thief River Press: With the completion of the Winnipeg line of the Soo many new townsites are being located and some good towns are sure to spring up. Going south from Thief River the first station will be Hazel about five miles out, then comes Scotland, a water and coal station, which is destined to be quite a town. This is the townsite that Julius Pleth is exploiting, where there are already a number of business houses and which place will very shortly have a newspaper. It is situated about sixteen miles from the Falls and it is surrounded by fine farming country. Then there comes Brooks, Cisco, Erskine, Winger, Sutton and Mahnomen, the later point it is currently reported will become the division headquarters, it being situated about midway between Glenwood and Emerson, the northern terminus of the Soo and the point where it connects with the Canadian Pacific. Mahnomen is 127 and one half miles from Glenwood and 137 miles from Emerson. Then comes Graydon, Angora, Baxter, Westville and Detroit.

Going north there is Auita first. Then there is New Foldeu. This is the town that D. B. Bakke has charge of, and where he, with other capitalists will establish a bank. Then Wister, Clayton, Bronson, Lancaster, Orleans and St. Vincent. The Soo goes through a splendid country and is bound to be heard of. In many of them stores are built and elevators are in course of construction, and it has been intimated that the Soo people are in touch with several eastern factories that desire locations in the northwest and they will be prevailed upon to locate in some of these new towns.

JAPS MOVE SLOWLY

ADVANCE CAUTIOUSLY UPON POSITIONS HELD BY THE RUSSIANS AT MUKDEN.

BELIEVED LATTER WILL MAKE NO RESISTANCE, BUT FALL BACK ON TIE PASS.

RUSSIANS REPULSED WITH BIG LOSSES IN RECENT SORTIE AT PORT ARTHUR.

Except for important reconnaissances by Generals Rennenkampff and Samsonoff, there seems to have been little interruption of the quiet that ensued after the hard fighting around Liaoyang more than a fortnight ago.

Indicative of the mortality among the officers at the front, it is reported that about one-seventh of the officers of the guards stationed at the capital are to be drafted to the front for service.

The Japanese are advancing slowly upon the positions held by the Russians in a line extending about twenty-seven miles.

There have been no developments at Port Arthur beyond a reported futile sortie by the garrison against a height which recently fell into the hands of the Japanese. The Russians were repulsed with heavy losses in this sortie.

The Russian war office does not expect a general engagement to occur at Mukden, claiming that the Russians will offer battle at Tie pass, north of the city.

It is rumored that General Mistchenko of the Cossacks has been killed.

WILL AT ONCE DISARM

CAPTAIN OF RUSSIAN TRANSPORT AGREES TO CONDITIONS LAID DOWN BY OFFICIALS.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Announcement that Captain Berlinsky, commanding the Russian transport Lena at San Francisco, acquiesced in all the details of the process of disarmament prescribed by this government and would proceed to take advantage of the permission reached the navy department over night in a telegram from Rear Admiral Goodrich, commander-in-chief of the Pacific station.

Captain Pillsbury, acting chief of the bureau of navigation, has transmitted copies of the instructions sent Rear Admiral Goodrich to the secretaries of the departments of the treasury and of commerce and labor.

JAPS ADVANCE SLOWLY.

Long Line Moving Forward Upon Russians at Mukden.

Berlin, Sept. 20.—Colonel Gaedke, the correspondent of the Tageblatt in the far East, telegraphs from Mukden under date of Sept. 19, as follows:

"The Japanese are advancing slowly with a broad front, the left resting on the Liao river and the right on the mountain, probably the Fushan coal mines, twenty-seven miles eastward. The Russian troops have recovered their spirits.

"Chinese officials are suspected of secretly aiding the Japanese."

Mukden, Sept. 20.—All is quiet here, but fighting is anticipated in the neighborhood of Sinmintin, thirty-five miles west of Mukden.

JAPS TAKE ANOTHER FORT.

Capture an Important Position East of Golden Hill at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Sept. 17.—The Japanese troops between Sept. 8 and 10 captured a fort situated on a high hill two miles east of Golden hill by assault. The fighting was not severe. The Japanese were able to remain in the fort because the quality of the powder used at Golden hill was so poor that many shells fell short and others failed to explode. The foregoing information was received from an intelligent Chinese who left Port Arthur on Sept. 12.

SECOND MANCHURIAN ARMY.

Said Lieutenant General Linevitch Will Command New Force.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 20.—Acting upon the advice of his military advisers Emperor Nicholas has decided to form a second Manchurian army. It will be formed of the corps which are being sent to the Far East and Lieutenant General Linevitch probably will be given the command of the second army. General Kuropatkin will become chief of both armies, but probably without the title of commander-in-chief.

RUSSIAN SORTIE REPULSED.

Port Arthur Defenders Lose Heavily in Attack on Japs.

London, Sept. 20.—A dispatch from Tokio to a news agency says:

"A strong Russian force made a sortie from Port Arthur on the afternoon of Sept. 18 and attacked the Itczshan fort, which was recently captured by the Japanese. The fighting lasted some hours and the Russians eventually were repulsed with heavy loss."

WHILE RUNNING BLOCKADE.

British Sailing Vessel Strikes Mine Off Port Arthur.

Nagasaki, Sept. 16.—A British sailing vessel, supposed to be the Lucia, struck a mine recently off Port Arthur. One person of those on board of her was rescued.

It is considered probable that the vessel was running the blockade.

REVERSAL OF OPINION.

Russia Accepts British and American Views on Contraband.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 17.—Russia has given her answer to the American and British notes on the subject of contraband of war. Her answer was communicated to Ambassador Hardinga during the afternoon verbally by Foreign Minister Lamsdorff and bears out the predictions on the subject of the Associated Press. The ambassador was informed in effect that according to the decision of the commission which has investigated the subject the government has agreed to view as of a conditionally contraband character foodstuffs and fuel and that supplementary instructions had been issued to the Russian naval commanders and prize courts calling their attention to the misinterpretation which had been placed upon the prize regulations. These instructions, Sir Charles Hardinge was informed, make a clear distinction of articles enumerated in article 6 in the Russian prize regulations which are susceptible to dual use, like fuel and foodstuffs, the assumption being that if they are addressed to private persons or firms in an enemy's port they are not intended for warlike uses, but their innocent character may be subject to suspicion if the ship's papers and the circumstances are irregular. In effect the new instructions will place the burden of proof that the foodstuffs, etc., are designed for belligerent purposes upon the captor.

COLLAPSE OF BRIDGE

TWO PERSONS KILLED AND MORE THAN THIRTY INJURED AT STILLWATER, MINN.

Stillwater, Minn., Sept. 16.—Two persons were killed and over thirty injured, several perhaps fatally, by the collapse of a span of the bridge over the St. Croix river while the structure was on fire. Most of the forty persons that were on the span when it fell were precipitated into the waters below and few of them escaped some injury by contact with the broken timbers of the structure. The dead are Adolph Roo, aged twenty-two, and George McGrath, aged sixteen. Both were killed by falling timbers.

The fire was discovered by the watchman of the pontoon bridge, who immediately called the fire department. The hose team and hose cart, followed by spectators, went out on the span adjacent to the burning part of the bridge, when suddenly the span fell, precipitating all into the water.

One of the fire department horses was drowned and the fire wagon wrecked.

HIGGINS IS SELECTED.

Named for Governor by New York Republicans.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 16.—The Republican state convention adjourned at 2:30 p. m. Thursday after nominating unanimously the ticket for state offices forecasted Wednesday night, as follows:

For governor, Frank W. Higgins of Cattaraugus; lieutenant governor, M. Linn Bruce of New York; secretary of state, John F. O'Brien of Clinton; attorney general, Julius M. Mayer of New York; comptroller, Otto Kelsey of Livingston; state treasurer, John G. Wallennair, of Erie; state engineer and surveyor, Henry A. Van Alstyne of Columbia; chief judge of the court of appeals, Edgar M. Cullen, Dem., of Kings; associate judge court of appeals, William E. Werner, Rep., of Monroe.

The unanimous nomination of Lieutenant Governor Frank W. Higgins for the governorship was made possible by the withdrawal of Former Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff.

MAINE RETURNS COMPLETE.

Republican Plurality Slightly Over Twenty-seven Thousand.

Portland, Me., Sept. 15.—A Republican plurality of 27,130 is shown by complete returns from the state election of Monday, the official tabulation of which from the 522 cities, towns and plantations was completed Wednesday. The total vote for governor, as tabulated, was, Cobb, Rep., 78,460; Davis, Dem., 51,330.

While these figures show a Republican gain of 4,990 votes over 1900, they also indicate a Democratic gain of 11,244, or a net Democratic gain of 6,254.

Congressional returns, though still not complete, indicate a gain for both parties practically the same as that in the vote for governor. All four Republican congressmen are returned by pluralities ranging from 5,000 to 7,000.

The legislature, which is to elect the United States senator, is safely Republican.

PEABODY RENOMINATED.

Colorado Republicans Endorse Acts of His Administration.

Denver, Sept. 15.—The Republican state convention nominated the following ticket:

Governor, James H. Peabody; lieutenant governor, Jesse F. McDonald; treasurer, J. A. Holmberg; secretary of state, James Cowie; auditor, A. E. Bent; attorney general, N. C. Miller; superintendent of public instruction, Katherine L. Craig; congressman at large, Franklin E. Brooks.

The platform endorses the administration of Governor Peabody in connection with the miners' strike in the Cripple Creek district.

Charges Sustained Against Consul General McWade at Canton, China.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Robert M. McWade, United States consul general at Canton, China, has been removed from office by President Roosevelt. Charges made recently were investigated by Assistant Secretary Pierce, who went to the Orient to make an investigation of several of the United States consulates in China and Japan. Secretary Pierce, in his report to the president, strongly sustains the charges made against Consul General McWade. The order for McWade's dismissal went forward during the afternoon.

STORM SWEEPS COAST

WIND AND RAIN OF UNPRECEDENTED VIOLENCE ALONG THE ATLANTIC.

NUMBER OF VESSELS KNOWN TO HAVE BEEN WRECKED AND CREWS PERISH.

New York, Sept. 15.—A storm of wind and rain of almost unprecedented violence raged over New York and vicinity during the night, causing damage to property both on sea and shore. Ample warning of the coming storm had been given by the weather bureau and few coastwise craft ventured to sea, but it is thought that some small vessels which were working along the coast may have been caught by the storm. Two fishing schooners are ashore at Coney Island point and many small craft are lying on the beach and all along the shore.

In this city and in the suburbs hundreds of windows were broken by the wind and the torrents of rain filled cellars and turned streets into rivers. Elevated trains stopped and traffic of all kinds was paralyzed.

Much damage was done in Brooklyn. In some sections scores of houses were flooded, several blocks of sewer caved in and many trees were uprooted. Miles of telephone wires were blown down in the suburbs and many of the trolley lines were put out of commission.

EIGHT MEN DROWNED.

Tugboat Lost in the Delaware River Near Wilmington.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 15.—A tugboat supposed to be the Israel W. Durham of Philadelphia is sunk in the Delaware river off the mouth of the Christiania creek. A barge supposed to have been in tow of the tug is ashore on the New Jersey side of the river off Carneys point. The tug lies in twenty-one feet of water with the smokestack showing. Five of the tug's crew of six, including the captain, were drowned, together with three men employed by the American Dredging company who were on the Israel Durham. A man named Jackson, one of the crew, and John Williams, an employe of the American Dredging company, were saved.

FISHING BOATS MISSING.

Eleven Men Believed to Have Perished Off Charleston, S. C.

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 15.—Reports from the surrounding country show that while the storm of Tuesday night was severe and in some sections wrought considerable damage to rice crops it was not of a serious character and there was no loss of life except from the fishing fleet off Charleston. No trace has been found of the fishing boats reported missing off this port and it seems certain that eleven men in them were lost.

Unprecedented Rainfall.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—During a rain and wind storm which began in this vicinity shortly after 5 in the evening and ceased at 4 o'clock in the morning the rainfall was 5.4 inches, the heaviest ever registered at the local weather bureau. Streets in all sections of the city were flooded and the cellars of business houses and dwellings inundated.

Crew of Twenty-one Saved.

Truro, Mass., Sept. 15.—The fishing steamer Joseph Church of Greenport, L. I., struck on Peaked Hill bar during the day and was smashed to pieces. Captain Martin Leeman and his crew of twenty-one men were saved. The wreckage of the steamer is strewn along the shore for miles.

PRINCE BISMARCK DEAD.

Eldest Son of Iron Chancellor Passes Away.

Friedrichsruhe, Sept. 19.—Prince Herbert Bismarck died Sunday morning at 10:15 o'clock. The end was painless.

Prince Bismarck was born in 1849, was the eldest son of the late Prince Otto Bismarck, the great chancellor. His brother William died in 1901. He had only one sister, who is the wife of Count von Rentzau. Prince Herbert leaves five children, two girls and three boys.

Since he ceased to be foreign minister on the retirement of his father, in 1890, Prince Herbert Bismarck had taken part in public affairs only as a member of the reichstag. His attitude had been that of a man not appreciated by his sovereign and who was waiting in the background for an opportunity to resume his career.

SEVEN THOUSAND IDLE.

Immense Pullman Shops Closed for Indefinite Period.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—The immense Pullman car works at Pullman are shut down and practically every one of the company's 7,000 employes is idle. The workmen were told to take their tools with them when they left the works and from this they infer that a considerable period of idleness confronts them.

FARMER'S HOME DESTROYED.

Five Children Are Dead and Parents Fatally Injured.

Columbia, Ky., Sept. 15.—Five children were burned to death and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Sapp, fatally injured at Rolly, Adair county, Ky. All were sleeping when their house was in flames. As the parents are not able to talk no cause of the fire can be learned. Sapp was a well-to-do farmer.

Triple Tragedy Due to Jealousy.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 16.—At Hoquiam, Wash., James Mills shot and killed the woman with whom he lived and then fatally wounded Ola Sand, a logger, and ended by shooting and killing himself. Jealousy is supposed to have led to the shooting.

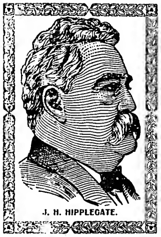
Superintendent Public Works
Of Lexington, Ky., Says:
"Pe-ru-na Is an Excellent Medicine."



J. H. HIPPLEGATE.

J. H. Hipplegate, Supt. of Public Works, 61 West 6th St., Lexington, Ky., writes:

"I find that Peruna is an excellent medicine especially for catarrhal affections and all diseases leading to consumption, bronchial troubles or stomach troubles. It also acts as a preventative and keeps the system in a healthy condition so that it easily throws off disease. It is an excellent tonic and a great appetizer and as a large number of those who have been using it speak very highly of its curative powers, I am satisfied that my opinion of it is correct, and that it is deserving of high praise."—J. H. Hipplegate.

Peruna is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by hearsay and thousands know it by experience.

Catarrh in its various forms is rapidly becoming a national curse. An undoubted remedy has been discovered by Dr. Hartman. This remedy has been thoroughly tested during the past forty years. Peruna cures catarrh in all phases and stages. There is no remedy that can be substituted.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

When is a Democrat not a Democrat? On primary election day in Red Lake county, apparently.

There are probably several half tones of candidates in Red Lake county that can be bought very cheap today.

If Tuesday's result is a fair criterian, Roosevelt and Dunn will have a majority of an even thousand in Red Lake county November 8. 'Tis well.

The second ward of Red Lake Falls had seven Democratic votes Tuesday and this large number is accounted for from the fact that force of habit alone caused them to say "Democrat" before they could think of the name of the party whose ticket they wanted to vote.

Red Lake county Democrats are deserving of congratulatious, anyway. There was no more opportune time than the present to get onto the band wagon and they can feel happy that they will be able to help Minnesota give the great Roosevelt more than the 100,000 majority wanted later in the fall.

And the people of the fourth commissioner district rose up and quietly dropped on the political favorites of Mr. Prichard's Review, at Thief River Falls. It doesn't look as though the candidates for county office would curry the support of that organ for the rest of the campaign unless some of them realize that they cannot win anyway and desire to get snowed under as far as possible.

Calumet Baking Powder

Perfect in quality.
Moderate in price.

Charley Mitchell, postmaster of Alexandria, and who until recently has been the superintendent of the Minnesota department of exhibits at the St. Louis fair, has tendered his resignation to the commission. In his place the commission has appointed Mr. Stevens of Duluth, Mr. Mitchell is to have charge of the press bureau of the Dunn campaign, which place he is fully qualified to fill. It is a foregone conclusion that he is slated for the place as private secretary for Dunn.

The men or women who envy those who happen to be able to dress well and enjoy the pleasures of life a little more than those who are compelled to work continually will be miserable all their days, for, no matter how high they may get, they will find others still higher, says an exchange. The envious person is never satisfied and never can be. Take the successful men of the city and you will find the majority of them began just where you did. Then why are you not in equally good circumstances? If you ran a race with a man and lost it, you would hardly blame your failure on the race course. You started even and ran together, and you lost because you couldn't run as fast as he or lacked the power of endurance. So your failure in the race of life is not due to track, but to your lack of of ability as a runner.

REPUBLICAN INTENTIONS.

"We intend," says President Roosevelt, "in the future to carry on the government in the same way that we have carried it on in the past."

The President does not hesitate to put the case as strongly as possible nor to stand squarely on the record as it has been made. His critics may pick all the flaws they can find but he will not apologize for his party, make false explanations nor evade a single issue of the hour. He does not have to do so says the Grand Forks Courier.

But to carry on the government as it has been conducted in the past is to go steadily forward in the work of building up the Nation in every just and noble way. In the words of the letter, "we do not stand-still. We press steadily forward toward the goal of moral and material well-being for our own people, of just and fearless dealings toward all peoples in the interest not merely of this country but of mankind."

There is no dogma of stand pat in that doctrine. It voices the aspirations of the American people to hear their part nobly in the advancement of civilization. It represents their determination to be recognized as an epoch-making Nation, to remain on the may and to be respected everywhere on the footstool.

GOVERNOR DUNN'S ANSWER.

R. C. Dunn has given his answer to the attack made upon his official record as state auditor by Public Examiner S. T. Johnson. It is exhaustive, conclusive and convincing refutation of every accusation or insinuation in Johnson's report, says the Duluth News Tribune.

On the question of mining leases Mr. Dunn proves absolutely that he was guided by the letter and spirit of the law, and that the state was the gainer by his course., No employe of his office took out any of these leases, nor was it ever charged that they did so during his incumbency. But as Mr. Dunn says, they could have done so if they wished, as the law excludes no one, and one person's money is as good as another's. The statute specifies how the leases shall be made. Its mandatory provisions were complied with, which leaves no room for argument.

JOHN E. KING,

Red Lake Falls' Candidate for Secretary of State.

Supplementing Mr. Dunn's statement State Auditor Iverson takes up in detail the various claims made by Public Examiner Johnson, and officially declares them to be false.

During the past eight years the Republicans of Minnesota have pointed to the efficiency and probity of Dunn as state auditor. It has been a campaign cry. The report of Public Examiner Johnson, in the light of Dunn's answer and Iverson's officially branding the charges as untrue, strengthens Dunn more than ever with the people. It is evident Johnson is vastly lacking in understanding of the duties of his office, is utterly ignorant of the law and is a very poor bookkeeper.

That is about the most charitable way one can account for his misstatements and blundering.

NO CHANCE TO LOSE.

A republican who holds one of the highest offices within the gift of the people of Minnesota analyzed the political situation in Minnesota as follows: It is absolutely ridiculous for any Republican in Minnesota to raise a question as to the outcome of the state and national campaign in Minnesota. You might as well ask, will the sun rise. There are some things that are fixed and predetermined, and one of them is that Robert C. Dunn of Princeton and president Roosevelt will carry this state. To question whether a Republican ticket will be elected in a state which is bound to give president Roosevelt a majority of 75,000 to 100,000 is absurd. One must remember that in the last few months there has been a steady and constant acquisition to the republican party. The fact that John Lind carried the state by 20,000 majority in 1898 and Governor Van Sant was elected in 1900, a presidential year, by only 2,300 does not indicate that the democratic party has a ghost of a show to carry state this fall. In the first place the republican party was on its uppers in 1898 and 1900. It was just getting out of a wave of populistic sentiment. That wave has passed and the great majority of the populists have come back to the republican fold. In addition to this the population of Minnesota has increased steadily owing to the settlement of the northern counties and a large majority of the newcomers are staunch republicans.

An illustration of how the republican party has grown in strength is shown by the fact that while in 1900 a presidential year, Governor Van Sant was elected by only 2,300 votes and two later his majority was 60,000; the state auditor won by nearly 80,000 and the attorney general polled an even larger vote. This shows that while the close vote on the governorship in 1900 was undoubtedly due to the personal strength of John Lind the overwhelming republican majority two years later was caused by the normal and actual acquisition on the party. This acquisition is still going on and it is no exaggeration to predict that Roosevelt will carry the state by 100,000 majority. It is only in the last few years that Minnesota has become known as an overwhelmingly Republican state. The large majorities which the ticket secured two years ago and which will be rolled up this year were not known in previous years. The Democrats argue that many of the gold Democrats who voted for president McKinley in 1900 will vote for Judge Parker this year, but they should remember that many of the people who were gold Democrats four years ago are not Democrats now; they are republicans. What Parker will gain from the gold Democrats he will lose from the Populists who are going to vote for president Roosevelt and Dunn.

A Great Northern railway official was a caller here yesterday settling up with C. N. Bourdon for the damage done by the slide hack of Mr. Bourdon's barn. The settlement was only made today, and The Gazette goes to press too early to get the particulars.

Thief River News: W. C. Smiley left Monday for St. Paul where he has accepted a position as draugthsman with the Great Northern railroad. Mr. Smiley is an able workman and will be sure to fill his position to the satisfaction of the railroad company. Thief River Falls loses an ardent friend in his departure and we regret to see him leave the city.

Thief River News: George C. Conn general freight agent of the Soo line, was in the city the first of the week distributing Soo time tables. It shows Thief River Falls to be 316 miles from St. Paul or 20 miles nearer than over the Great Northern. The distance to St. Paul from here over that road being 336 miles. Scotland on the Soo and Crookston on the Great Northern are both the same distance from St. Paul, each being 300 miles.

Crookston Journal: Alex Thompson entertained a number of friends very pleasantly at the Grill restaurant Friday evening with a bachelor supper which proved very enjoyable. The good things served were too numerous to mention, but the guests ate and drank to their heart's content meanwhile toasting John E. King, the Democratic candidate for secretary of state, in whose honor the affair was given. Mr. King responded happily to several of the toasts and sayings Democratic were the order of the evening.

Mrs. H. J. Kaufer went to Thief River Falls Monday evening and spent the night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Murphy. Grandma Kaufer had been worried over the illness of her grandson, young Wm. Murphy, and went up that day to satisfy herself that he had recovered.

The Red Lake Falls orchestra went to Thief River Falls last Friday evening and played for the grand opening of the Golden Rule Department Store, which was held there that evening. Following the concert came a dance, and the orchestra covered itself with glory in both events. Red Lake Falls has an excellent band and orchestra and they make many friends wherever they go.

L. E. Jnnes, of the firm of Ellsworth & Jones, the Iowa Falls' capatilists, was a caller here Monday looking after some business matters and was a guest of J. A. Duffy, who has loaned a great deal of money for the firm. Mr. Jones has extensive interests in the Red River Valley, and makes occasional visits to see how things are prospering. He was pleased at the outlook here this fall.

Crookston Journal: Ed. Townsend of Minneapolis, a former resident of Red Lake Falls and well known in the Valley, passed through the city yesterday morning enroute to Fosston, where he has several large farms belonging to John R. Rowe to look after during the threshing time. Mr. Townsend has done well since leaving the Valley and is enjoying prosperity of an unstinted order.

Arthur Laniel, the popular Brooks postmaster, was a participant in an exciting runaway last Saturday morning, but escaped unhurt. In some manner his team became unmanagable and got away from him, and before they were stopped they succeeded in breaking up the rig in terrible shape and otherwise demolishing things. Outside of the damage to the rig and harness no one was harmed.

Crookston Journal: Professor Thorson, who has charge of the Crookston high school football squad, says the boys are working hard and that although the team will be a light one a very good game of ball should be put up. From fifteen to twenty of the high school boys assemble nightly for practice work and are rapidly acquiring skill and a rapidity of movement which will make their "round the end plays" count. The average weight per man will be in the neighborhood of 140 and the boys will when finally prepared for their first game doubtless be well prepared for a tough skirmish. Red Lake Falls wants to play shortly but it is understood that several other teams have first choice of games and that Red Lake Falls will come down later in the season. Arnold Hamel will be the champion heavyweight of the team, weighing as he does 210 stripped.

Mrs. James Mead has spent the past week with her parents at Euclid.

You can see a very fine line of Base Burners, $30 to $55 at F. E. Hunt's.

Representative L. C. Simons was a visitor at Thief River Falls last Friday.

Will Sandtrock, of St. Paul, arrived here Friday and visited over Sunday with his old-time school-mate, A. L. Reichert.

Miss Lizzie Matthies will leave next week for Fergus Falls near which place she will teach school during the fall and winter.

Frank Persons has moved his family into the Morin cottage in the southwest part of the city, which was recently vacated by Rev. H. W. Knox.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deutschman returned from their honeymoon trip to the cities last Saturday morning, and have gone to housekeeping on the North Side.

Mrs. Con. Short and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walker drove in from Equality last Friday to meet Mr. Short who returned from the far-off Klondyke country Saturday.

Donant Lambert, the hotel keeper at Brooks, had the misfortune to break his right leg just above the ankle last Friday evening. Dr. Nersal, of McIntosh, was called and reduced the fracture and the patient is reported as doing nicely.

Sam Allard and Joseph Belair returned Saturday from Moorhead where they had spent several days attending the district session of the Modern Brotherhood of America Mr. Allard was elected as a district delegate to the supreme lodge, which convenes at Minneapolis later in the year, and he will go down to represent this section of the state. The gentlemen report an enjoyable trip.

County Aaditor James E. Ford received word yesterday that he had been appointed vice-president for Red Lake county, of the Minnesota Immigration Society. This is the society which was organized at St. Paul earlier in the year and its object is to promote a greater immigration to the great "North Star" state Each county has a vice-president who will be expected to furnish any information asked in regard to his locality and assist the organization in exploiting the merits of Minnesota abroad in the land. The Red Lake county vice-presidency is in competent hands, and the association showed excellent judgment in choosing Auditor Ford.

Miss Orilla Hennemuth was in from Louisville over Sunday.

County Commissioner W. C. L. Demann was a caller here on business Tuesday.

Miss Almeda Gonigam commenced a term of school in the Rose district in Gervais township this week.

Mrs. Charles J. Chapman arrived from Duluth Monday and is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. John Sutter.

Mrs. J. J. Doe and son, Orson, spent Sunday at points on the line north, in the interests of Mrs. Doe's candidacy for the superintendency.

Mrs. Peter Gonigam, who has spent the past week with the families of Conrad Nauman and the late H. Gonigam, left Monday evening for her home at Walnut, Illinois.

A nice way for the various candidates for county office to solicit the support of the voters is to run their announcements in The Gazette. These announcements will be published at a nominal cost, and the candidates can be assured of the people seeing that they are running for office. Send in your announcements, gentlemen.

The various voting precints of the city were presided over Tuesday by the following officials: 1st ward—Jos Tschirhart, Nick Majeres and Adam Schmitz, judges; Emil Schlesinger and Frank Klos, clerks. 2nd ward—Chas. E. Buughton, Eus. Normandeau and John C. Matthews, judges; Joseph Normandeau and Adam Zeh, clerks. 3rd ward—Frank Brouillette, A. L. Reichert and Ed. Bray, judges. A. G. Bjorneby and S. L. Lewis, clerks.

"Con." Short, the Equality "Klondyker," returned last Saturday, after having spent the past seven months attending to his business interests in far off Alaska. Mr. Short was one of the lucky ones to visit that country during the "strike" of several years back, and acquired property interests that demand a great deal of his personal attention. The mines are revenue producers however and Mr. Short has felt that it paid to put in his summers there overseeing them. At present, however, he is figuring on disposing of his interests and settling down to enjoy the competency he has secured by the hardships endured.

Miss Etta Zaiser was a St. Hilaire visitor over Tuesday night.

W. A. Schreiter was an over-night visitor at Thief River Falls last Friday.

Sheriff Dan Linnihan and family were guests of friends in Black River township last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. LaBiance came over from Gully Sunday and have been spending the week with Mrs. LaBiance's mother, Mrs. Normandin.

Chas. N. Bourdon returned yesterday from the Red Lake country, where he had spent a couple of days in the interests of the candidacy of Representative Simons.

Frank E. Hunt has a change of ad in today's Gazette, calling your attention to a topic that is bound to soon become an all-absorbing thought with you—stoves. Read the ad and profit thereby.

Editor Syd. W. Bagley, the popular Thief River Falls newspaper writer, was here yesterday copying election returns. Syd. reports that the excellent run made by Dan Shaw in the Fourth district Tuesday has occasioned a great deal of rejoicing thereabouts and the people feel that the voters did their duty to the Queen's taste at the primaries.

ACCEPTS IMPORTANT PLACE.

Gorman Will Assist in Management of Democratic Campaign.

New York, Sept. 17.—Several important questions were settled by the visit of Judge Alton B. Parker to New York and his conference with Democratic leaders. It was determined that Senator Gorman should have an active place in the campaign, but that Chairman Taggart was not to be superseded. Differences in Greater New York so far as they relate to national and state issues were settled. The selection of a temporary chairman of the Democratic state convention was made and his name will be officially announced Saturday. The governorship and other state offices were discussed, but it was stated that nothing definite as to the selection of candidates will be done until the next meeting, in Saratoga next week. Another thing left undecided was whether the judge would make a series of speeches during the campaign. Another meeting similar to those just held will probably be held next week before Judge Parker's letter of acceptance is published.

GETS HEAVY DAMAGES.

Woman Awarded $20,000 in Suit Against Duluth Millionaire.

Duluth, Sept. 20.—Miss Sarah E. Ham of Dubuque, Ia., was Monday awarded a verdict of $20,000 in her suit for breach of promise against George A. Potter, a wealthy lumberman of Duluth and Eau Claire. The case has been on trial in the district court for the past week and has proved to be one of the most sensational in the history of the local tribunal. Miss Ham alleged that thirty years ago Potter enticed her to a restaurant, where she was drugged and ruined, that a courtship extending over all these years has existed and that he promised on numerous occasions to make her his wife, but finally refused to enter into any such contract. The breach of promise suit was the result.

TOOLE IS RENOMINATED.

Democrats of Montana Name Their State Ticket.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 16.—The Democratic state convention adjourned at 1 a. m. after nominating a complete ticket as follows:

Congressman, A. C. Gormley; governor, J. K. Toole; chief justice, D. E. Smith; lieutenant governor, Edwin Norris; clerk of the supreme court, Finley McRae; secretary of state, Miles Romney; auditor, Phil C. Goodwin; treasurer, David G. Browne; attorney general, Charles H. Hall; superintendent of public instruction, J. M. Kay; presidential electors, Pat Carney, Paul A. Fusz and Edward Cardwell.

EIGHT THOUSAND STILL OUT.

Twice That Number Secure Their Old Places in Stock Yards.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Almost 500 former strikers were hired during the day to take their old places at the Union stock yards and an exodus of nonunion men begun. All told about 17,000 of the strikers are at work, 8,000 still awaiting employment. About the same number of strike breakers are still retained by the packers, 3,500 being housed and fed inside the yards.

TIBET IS TREATY BOUND.

Agreement With England Grants Important Concessions.

London, Sept. 17.—The Tibet treaty between Tibet and Great Britain contains ten articles, the most important of which bind the Tibetans to establish three marts for mutual trading between British and Tibetan merchants, to allow traffic along existing routes and to pay indemnity of $2,500,000 in yearly installments.

Prison Buildings Destroyed.

Laporte, Ind., Sept. 17.—Fire during the day destroyed five five-story buildings inside the state prison walls at Michigan City, causing a loss of over $100,000. The fire started in a dry kiln chair factory, according to a statement by the authorities, although rumors are in circulation that the convicts fired the buildings.

NEWS IN MINNESOTA

EVENTS OF THE WEEK THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

The twenty-seventh meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers was held at Duluth last week.

The state board of health is investigating numerous typhoid fever outbreaks in the smaller cities of the state.

S. V. Harris, for fifteen years head clerk at the Ryan hotel, St. Paul, is dead after a brief illness, aged sixty years.

Three brothers were injured, one of them, Charles McArdle, seriously, at St. Paul Friday by a street car striking the wagon in which they were riding.

Henry H. Biddell of Minneapolis, fireman on the Minneapolis and St. Louis road, fell from his engine in the Minnesota transfer yards and was crushed beneath the wheels of a freight train.

The establishment of a six-foot channel in the Mississippi river from St. Paul to St. Louis will probably be one of the provisions of the rivers and harbors bill presented at the next session of congress.

One man will lose a leg and Professor James an eye as the result of an explosion of an eight-pound powder tube in the bicycle factory of Nelson Bros. at Aitkin. The building was completely wrecked.

Final figures for the state fair receipts for 1904 show a decrease of $15,000 as compared with 1903 receipts. The receipts were $190,561, exclusive of railroad ticket sales, which will amount to over $10,000.

While shooting at a target with a rifle Ward Cosgrove, the seventeen-year-old son of President C. N. Cosgrove of the State Agricultural society, was accidentally shot in the back by a companion. His condition is critical.

The Minneapolis police have arrested Ray Sellers, a well known local gambler, whom they accused of holding up and robbing the Ashmore gambling rooms and shooting and seriously wounding Patrolman James Nolan when the latter appeared on the scene.

There has been another advance in the price of clam shells at Winona and they now bring $15 a ton as against $12 a short time ago. The reason for this is that the supply is diminishing owing to the beds being so thoroughly worked further down the river.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians of Minnesota, in session at Stillwater, elected the following officers: J. J. Regan, St. Paul, president; Patrick Kinney, Mankato, vice president; Thomas Conley, Minneapolis, secretary, John Flood, Duluth, treasurer; Rev. Michael O'Brien, Graceville, chaplain.

From the reports which have been filed with the state railway and warehouse commission both the Minneapolis and St. Louis and the Iowa Central roads have a decrease in business for the past year, the former showing a deficit of $103,291 and the Central $88,219.

Dr. S. H. Ward, secretary of the state sanitary board, has returned to St. Paul from a trip to Blue Earth county from which rumors had been sent out that mange was prevalent among some herds of cattle. Dr. Ward reports that it was only a scare, as the disease is nothing more than ringworm.

Archbishop Ireland held a conference Thursday evening with a group of prominent Catholics of Minneapolis, selecting the members of an executive committee which will begin work of gathering funds and starting construction on the pro-cathedral, which is to cost $350,000 and will undoubtedly be one of the Mill City's handsomest places of worship.

The factory of the St. Paul Sash, Door and Lumber company was destroyed by fire which originated in a mysterious manner in the basement. The loss caused by the blaze is estimated at $123,000, only $5,000 of which is covered by insurance. Although several workmen were in danger of cremation at one time all of them managed to escape without serious injury.

Threatening the lives of scores of persons a huge gray timber wolf was killed in the Minneapolis Union depot yards by William Hines, with coupling pins for weapons. The animal followed a passenger train into the shed, but was not noticed until it was scurrying among the women and children. Hines chased the wolf and finally struck it on the head with a coupling pin and killed it.

There have been new developments in the case of the Dahls, father and daughter, who were murdered last spring at Quiring, Beltrami county, but the authorities will not divulge the nature of the new evidence they have secured. From a man who is prominently interested in the case it is learned, however, that suspicion is directed against several Indians who were working on a log drive at the mouth of the Cormant river at the time of the murder.

Bridget Shenahan, a young Irish girl who came all the way from the Emerald Isle to contest the will of her uncle, the late Father Shanahan of Caledonia, has been given a favorable decision in the Ramsey county district court. By the terms of Father Shanahan's will the estate was to be turned over to Bishop Cotter to be used in educating young men for the priesthood. The niece from Ireland entered a protest and the case has twice been before the supreme court. The final decision was that the trust founded by Father Shanahan was void under the statutes. About $100,000 is involved.

Judge Harrison of the Hennepin county district court has handed down a decision denying the motion made by County Attorney Boardman for the dismissal of the ten cases pending against former Mayor Ames. The decision is written in a decidedly direct style and in reciting the history of the case says that, while the decision by which Dr. Ames was once convicted was reversed by the supreme court on a technicality, the reversal "in no manner affected the guilt or innocence of the defendant and there was no determination or intimation by the supreme court that the evidence was insufficient to justify a verdict of guilty." His trial was set for Oct. 10.

SALE IN OCTOBER.

Land Office Receives Final Instructions about Indian Lands.

Crookston Times; Today the United States land office received the final instructions and schedule for the postponed Red Lake land sale, which will be continued here on Monday, at nine o'clock, Oct. 3. The sale will begin two weeks from today and continue indefinitely.

The only change made in the rules which governed the Thief River sale is that no certain tract will be offered on any special day. The sale will be continuous until all the lands are sold or there are no bidders. It is probable that commissioner Richards will be here but he will name someone else to do the auction work.

There are left about 163,000 acres, or more than 1,000 homesteads of 160 acres each. The land is good and a large crowd is expected. Each buyer is entitled to 160 acres and the fact that has already had a homestead does not bar him from buying. One fifth is paid down and the remainder in four equal installments. The rules governing the sale are as follows:

By virtue of the authority conferred by the said act of congress, it is hereby ordered and directed that the land above described be offered at public auction at not less than $4 per acre to the highest qualified bidder under the said act, upon the terms mentioned therein, at a public place in the city of Crookston, in the state of Minnesota, beginning at 9 a. m. on Monday the 3d day of October, 1904. The sale will be conducted by an officer, to be hereafter appointed by me, subject to the following rules:

1. The sale will begin at 9 o'clock a. m., and continue on that and succeeding days, not Sundays, until each tract shown on a printed schedule approved by me has been sold, or offered for sale, as herein provided.

2. The lands to be sold will be arranged on said schedule in tracts approximately 160 acres each, in the order in which they are to be offered for sale.

3. The register and receiver of the land district in which said lands are situated will be in attendance at such sale from day to day, and all homestead entries made under such sale will be made before such officers, as herein indicated.

4. When a tract is sold the successful bidder must immediately present himself before the register and receiver and file his application for a homestead entry with proof of his qualifications as a homesteader by the usual homestead and other affidavits, except the nonsaline affidavit, which will not be required until final proof, except that he will not be required to allege that he has not exhausted his right by a homestead entry made or perfected before the date of said act of February 20, 1904, or to describe such entry, or if made after said act or before the date of the act of April 28, 1904 (Public—No. 208), if he shall show himself entitled to make another homestead thereunder. He will also then pay to the said receiver the first payment required by said act of February 20, 1904, for said land, to-wit: One-fifth of the purchase price and also, in addition thereto, the usual fees and commissions required by lay to be paid on such entries where the price of the land is $1.25 per acre.

5. If any purchaser shall fail to present himself before said officers or to show himself qualified to make homestead entry for such land or to pay the first payment of one-fifth of the amount of his bid or the fees and commissions due on his entry, as provided and required in said act and in rule five above, within twenty-four hours from the time when his bid was accepted, he will not thereafter be recognized as a bidder at such sale, and the tract or tracts so bid in and not entered by such purchaser will at once be re-offered for sale, subject to the same requirements, conditions and qualifications of purchase as before.

6. If the register and receiver shall decide adversely as to the qualifications of any successful bidder and reject his application, such decision shall be final, and no right of appeal will lie therefrom. Any rule of practice or other regulation of the department conflicting with this rule is hereby suspended so far as it may affect the applications under this sale during the continuance of this public sale.

7. The officer conducting such sale or the commissioner of the general land office is given full authority at any time before or during the progress of such sale to postpone or discontinue the same if he shall have reason to believe that any combination, collusion, conspiracy or agreement exists or is being formed among or on behalf of bidders or prospective bidders at such sale.

8. The commissioner of the general land office may make any rule or regulation, not inconsistant with these rules or regulations, in order to effectuate the same.

9. Power is reserved to enlarge, change, modify or annul these rules or any of them at any time before or during the sale, if public interest shall seem to demand such enlargement, change, modification or annulment.

W. A. RICHARDS,
Commissioner General Land Office.

WAS IT INDIANS?

Sensational Story Pertaining to Dahl Murder Mystery.

A theory which may have an important bearing upon the famous Dahl murder case near Bemidji has been recently developed and those who have been connected with the case give the story credence and think that it may lead to finding the real perpetrators of the crime, and that Fournier will be dismissed.

The facts, according to the story given out by them, are to the effect that no white man committed the crime of murdering N. O. Dahl and daughter, Aagot, but that the deed was perpetrated by Indians. This, perhaps, is a very sensational and improbable theory to those who have not followed the developments in the case closely, but the story is supported by a statement recently made by an Indian to the effect that he heard his fellow braves discussing the killing of the pair before the deed was committed and that he would give the whole story.

The Indians say that during the winter a number of his brothers were employed at the mouth of the Cormant river cutting cordwood, among them being some of the very worst of the tribe, and that he heard them arranging the details. According to his story they had heard that Mr. Dahl had a large sum of money hid in his cabin, and the plan was to kill the old man and his daughter and make away with the booty.

Immediately after the killing, it is claimed, the Indians who had been employed in the cordwood business left the vicinity of Quiring and went to Thief River Falls, where a part of the money was spent, and where they remained two days before going to the reservation.

It is said that the Indians who it is claimed had a hand in the murder are the same that made way with George Wetsel, the game warden who was killed in 1898, and that they are a regularly organized band who have spent the best part of their lifetime in committing robberies and other crimes.

The new theory, if proven true, will put a very different light upon the mystery and providing the Indian makes good his word will exonerate Fournier from ever having a hand or knowing anything about the crime. However, it is claimed by the authorities that they have secured enough evidence against Fournier to hold him for trial at the coming term of court.

POOR CATTLE MARKETS.

Farmers Find No Demand for Beef. Prices Very Low.

Crookston Journal: "It is a most peculiar fact in evidence in the Red River valley and particularly about this city," said a well known agriculturalist yesterday, "that no matter what the retail price of beef and other meat may be the farmer bringing his cattle, hogs and sheep into the city is offered only the most mediocre of prices. The country this fall is flooded with cattle of all kinds and the high price of meat in evidence in this city is the result simple of the action of the butchers in not offering living prices for stock. Farmers who once bring in a load of meat to this city or drive several head of stock in, as a rule never return. They become disgusted with the treatment accorded them and the advantages taken and Crookston loses. Upon the myriad farms of the valley in the vicinity of Crookston at the present time are hundreds of well fatted cattle which the farmers will have to winter because of their lack of a market, for, while the city butchers are bad enough, the Chicago cattle buyer or broker who ships to the packing houses is even worse. He offers little or nothing for the stock and obtains a great amount even at his low figures, but the greater portion of the farmers are against throwing their stock away and are holding their cattle for better prices, to the consequent loss of their hay stacks and grain bins.

Sour Stomach.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thorouly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Red Lake Land Sale.

Preparations are being made at the general land office for the completion of the sale of land in the eleven townships of the Red Lake Indian reservation.

The sale, which was inaugurated at Thief River Falls in the latter part of June, when these lands were offered at auction, was not completed, and there are still remaining to be sold 1,020 tracts of 160 acres each, or more than 160,000 acres.

This second sale will take place at Crookston, and will begin on Oct. 3, and continue until every quarter section has been offered. The sale is a continuation of the first auction and the same rules will prevail. Nothing less than $4 per acre will be considered, one-fifth to be paid down and the balance in four annual installments. The original area of the eleven towns offered for sale is 256,000 acres, so that more than half of it remains unsold.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflamation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

The Great Central South?

OF INNUMERABLE OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG MEN OR OLD ONES—TO GROW RICH?

Do you want to know about rich farming lands, fertile, well located on a Trunk Line Railroad, which will produce two, three or four crops from the same field each year? Land now to be had at from $3.00 to $5.00 an acre which will be worth from $30.00 to $150.00 within 10 years? About stock raising where the extreme of winter feeding is but six short weeks? Of places where truck growing and fruit raising yield enormous returns each year? Of a land where you can live out of doors every day in the year? Of opportunities for establishing profitable manufacturing industries; of rich mineral locations, and splendid business openings?

If you want to know the details of any or all of these write me. I will gladly advise ou fully and truthfully.

Read their ad before you decide what you want.

Ed. Moran, of this city, and Adolph Lemieux, of Louisville, went to St. Paul last Saturday with three cars of cattle for market. They returned Tuesday, and are at present engaged in buying stock throughout this neighborhood. The stock market has not been very good of late, but these gentlemen expect to work up a business that will be a winner, when the market gets back to its normal state.

St. Hilaire Spectator: The rain storm of Thursday night and Friday, combined with the rust, is only an easy reminder to the farmers of Red Lake county that the raising of wheat is not a very profitable business. The sooner the farmers of this community get out of wheat raising and go into the dairy business, exclusively, the better it will be for themselves and the advancement of the country. The rain came in due time to help the pastures, insuring a bountiful supply of grass until it freezes up. In a country where native and tame grasses make the progress they do here, coupled with the seasons so admirably adapted to their growth and where stock thrives almost beyond belief, why stick so to the raising of wheat? Better adapt yourselves to what nature furnishes the country and raise stock.

Thief River Falls Press: Judge J M. Bishop recently got a hunting dog from Attorney Wilhelm Michelet, the animal having been shipped up from Detroit last Monday, and thereby hangs a tale. The Judge kept the dog at home until Wednesday forenoon when a man came along and coaxed him to the depot where he was thrown into the way car and taken down the line to St. Hilaire. Here the conductor left him in the depot while he made the run to Red Lake Falls and back. Upon his return Mr. Railroad Man found himself confronted by an angry man in the person of the owner and an officer of the law, none other than the village constable of St Hilaire, and after explaining that he only took the dog because it was forced upon him just as he was leaving Thief River, he gladly took a "mooch." The Judge has back his dog and says he will be reimbursed for his time and expense or there is liable to be a vacancy in railroad circles on the Thief River branch.

Joseph Normandin Married.

At the Terrebonne church last Sunday, Joseph Normandin, of this city, and Miss Alma Clement, one of Terrebonne's popular young ladies, were united in marriage, the Rev. They will make their home in this city.

Canvassing Board At Work.

The canvassing board to determine the official result of the vote at Tuesday's election met at the auditor's office this morning and entered upon their labors. According to the law, the auditor, chairman of the county board, two justices of the peace and the clerk of the District Court, compose the board, but as both Auditor Ford and Chairman Demann were candidates at the primary they were disqualified from taking seats on the board, and Judge Watts appointed Frank Cernousek, of Thief River Falls, and K. O. Gigstad, of St. Hilaire, in their places. Justices A. P. Tonpin and S. L. Lewis, of this city, and Clerk Perrault composed the balance of the board. The work will take a couple of days to complete.

Tremendous Slide Republicanward !!

good representation on the county board and they certainly showed excellent judgment in electing him. He was a Republican long before some of his hardest "knockers" were born and has done more for Red Lake county than the fellows who opposed him the hardest can ever hope to do. The Gazette doffs its new hat to Commissioner Shaw, and congratulates the Fourth district on its selection.

The balance of the Republican ticket, as printed on the ballot, was chosen, there being no opposition at the primaries. Ovide Moreau will be the candidate for Treasurer, Thomas Germo for County Attorney, Paul I. D. Ostby for Auditor, Ernest Buse for Sheriff, Nels K. Anderson for Judge of Probate, Joseph Belair for Coroner, J. K. Wood for Surveyor and Wm, C. L. Demann for Commissioner of the Second district. They are all active campaigners and can be depended on to make a hard campaign.

The Republicans of Red Lake county have reason to feel proud of the result of Tuesday's primaries, as the showing made portrays the handwriting on the wall that indicates where she will be found later in the game. Republicanism carried by standard bearers of the Roosevelt, Fairbanks and Dunn type cannot help but make friends and converts, and the triumphant march to victory next November will be the cause for the rejoicing of the multitude.

The Grand Old Party—the party that does things for the American people—is stronger today than ever, and The Gazette feels proud that Red Lake county will cast her vote to continue the prosperity; the Americanism and the patriotism that have been the fundamental principles of the party of the people since the time of the immortal Lincoln.

Who says we shouldn't be happy?

Returns On Representative

The latest returns on the Representative vote indicate that L. C. Simons, of this city, leads Dr. Mayland by nearly 400.

Simons carries Red Lake county by 268, Beltrami by about 200 and loses Clearwater by about 40, 30 of which come from Mayland's majority in his home town of Bagley.

Simons made a nice run in all three of the counties in the district, and has reason to feel proud of the support accorded him.

THE RESULT IN POLK.

Several Surprises Resulted From Primary Election.

The result of the primaries in Polk county was a decided surprise to the people there, the following being the winners:

Representatives—Krostue and Bennett.

Auditor—Hoffard.

Treasurer—Vannett.

Sheriff—Gonyea.

Register of Deeds—J. H. Stair.

Judge of Probate—Thoreson—no opposition.

County Attorney—J. H. Maybury.

Surveyor—Ralph.

Superintendent—Casey.

The vote in Polk county was large.

Gentilly Lady Dies.

Mrs. Stanlises Fortier, wife of a well-known young Gentilly farmer, died at her home in that town last Saturday evening, after a lingering illness with tuberculoses. Deceased was a sister of A. St. Marie, of this city, and a sister-in-law of Joseph Fortier. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a wife and mother. The funeral was held from the Gentilly church Tuesday morning, Rev. Father Theillon conducting the ceremony, and a large number of friends turned out to pay their last respects to a neighbor and friend. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

CONGRESSMEN NAMED

Minnesota Will Be Represented in Congress By Nine Republicans.—No Contest in the Ninth.

Tuesday's primaries resulted in several close fights in the different congressional districts, but the latest returns show that all of the present Republican congressmen were re-nominated, while Your Uncle Loren Fletcher is due to break into congress again from the Fifth district. McCleary won over Miller in the Second, Buckman over Foster in the Sixth and Fletcher over his several opponents in the Fifth.

The following are the nominees of the two parties in the different districts:

REPUBLICAN.

First—James A. Tawney, Winona.

Second—Jas. T. McCleary, Mankato.

Third—Charles R. Davis, St. Peter.

Fourth—Frederick C. Stevens, St. Paul.

Just a Moment, Please!

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship.

And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,500. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woolens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices You can do that by calling on

Vol. 21. RED LAKE FALLS, MINNESOTA, SEPTEMBER 29, 1904 No. 2

JEFF'S ANNUAL REPORT

Interesting Table of Figures Tnrned In to the State Superintendent by Superintendent Frank Jeffers.

The annual statement of the condition, standing, etc., of the school districts of Red Lake county was finished by Superintendent Frank Jeffers last week and forwarded to the state superintendent. While the table, to a novice, is but a conglomeration of figures, nevertheless many interesting facts are contained therein, and in every instauce they show improvement over former years.

The following is a brief resume of the report, showing the people a few of the many things they do not know about our schools:

Red Lake county has at present 4,028 school children, aside from those attending the parochial schools. Of this number, 3338 attended forty days and drew apportionment. Between the ages of 8 and 16, 1973 children complied with the state law by attending 60 days. In the independent districts there are four meu employed as teachers, at an average salary of $81.50 per month, and 27 female teachers at an average of $50 per month. In the rural districts there are 20 male teachers at an average salary of $42.90 per month, and 61 female teachers at an average of $35.65. Among these numbers there are 33 high school graduates and 17 Normal graduates. Twenty of these teachers have taught three years contiuuously in one district and 26 have taught two years.

The valne of the school houses iu the county is put at $95,000; apparatus $6,000; seats $9.000. Two new rural school houses have been built during the last year.

Red Lake county has in the last year received the sum of $13,291.11 from the state apportionment, $33,370.11 from the special tax and $15,635.38 from the oue mill tax. The sum of $3,558 state aid has been asked for and received.

The teachers of Red Lake county have received $37,302.00 in salaries dnring the last year, which is a large sum for the nnmber of districts contained in the conty.

The average rate of taxation has averaged 11 mills.

At present there is $14,477.61 in the school fnnd, and $6,765.00 in the hands of the rural school district treasnrers.

The report is an extensive one, but the foregoing will give the reader a fair idea as to what is contained therein.

Mr. Jeffers has compiled several of these during this term as superiutendent of schools, and took great care to see that his last one made a hetter showing by far than auy of the foregoing ones. Comparison with the reports issued in the past makes an interesting study, and shows the rapid advancement the schools have made in the past few years.

FOOT BALL SATURDAY.

Red Lake Falls and Ada Will Do Battle For Honors.

On the local gridiron next Saturday will occur the first game of foot ball of the present season, and indications are that the game will be well worth witnessing.

On that day the high school teams of Ada and Red Lake Falls will clash for honors, and the game will he called at one o'clock p. m., in order that the Ada boys can get out on the afternoon train.

The admission price will he 25 cents, and as it takes quite a large sum of money to meet the expenses of the visitors it is to he hoped that the citizens will respond liberally when the tickets are pnt on sale.

Everyone turn ont and take in the game.

A Competent Auditor..........

AUDITOR JAMES E. FORD

In the memorahle campaign of 1902, the gentleman whose picture appears ahove was chosen hy the people of Red Lake county to handle the affairs of the Auditor's office for two years, and that the confidence of the people was not in the least misplaced is today the unanimous opinion of the voters. Withont a single exception, there is not today a connty in Minnesota whose Auditor is more conversant with the laws of his office, a better record-keeper or a more conscientions and courteous official than is the present auditor of Red Lake couuty, and the fact that he is asking a re-election is news that every voter should be pleased to hear. In his every official action, Mr. Ford has always heen right, and ~~his efforts in behalf of~~ the tax-payers have resulted in placing Red Lake connty on a solid basis, where she can hold her place in the front ranks of the counties of the state. Regardless of politics, the voters have reason to remember James E. Ford on election day, and make his majority an evidence of their appreciation of his excellent service.

G. N. WILL BUILD SOUTH

Great Northern Railroad Making Arrangements to Get Ont of Red Lake Falls on the Sonth.

The long-talked-of south extension of the Great Northeru railway from Red Lake Falls is at last to be realized, and the preliminary work looking to that end has already heen done.

Several weeks ago a party of surveyors, presumahly Great Northern men, came here and spent a couple of days surveying from the depot to a point about a half mile south, but at that time it was stated that they were merely working to evolve a plan whereby the yearly "slide" of the hill hack of Main street could he stopped and therehy do away with several damage suits against the company which were ready to be started.

While this work was undoubtedly oue reason for the visit of the surveyors, another matter of more import was attended to while they were here and a line was staked ont for the hnilding of the new road south from Red Lake Falls. During the past ten days an agent of the company has been purchasing right-of-way for the new line, and those closest to the throne state that active operations will he commenced at once on the extension.

As to whether the Great Northern intends merely to bnild a spur to the N. P. tracks and use that line from there to Tilden going into Crookston on the Dulnth G. N. line or whether they will huild a track of their own to Dngdale straight sonth, and take the Dnlnth line there, is of conrse a matter of conjecture as yet, bnt the idea prevails that they will build a spur to the N. P. There is no question bnt what the Great Northern and Northern Pacific have a "community of interests" in this territory and by building a spur from one to the other they conld accomplish the plan long since conceived of giving this city and the towns above direct service.

With the building of the new extension north from Thief River Falls, the company has seen that some way must be devised to give this line better service, and in order to do this some plan was necessary to do away with the T line. The spur to the N. P. or the extension of the line south from here would give them the desired improvement and the people of this line would get hetter train service without additional equipment being put on hy the company. Under the new regime the trains will run from Crookston to Dugdale or Tilden and from there transfer onto this line and run north throngh this city, St. Hilaire and Thief River and on north to the end of the new extension, then back over the same route in the afternoon. This wonld give all the towns interested hetter mail and passenger service, while not materially increasing the expense to the company.

It is expected that the work will start at once, and with a few weeks favorable weather will he completed in time to put the new schedule in force this fall.

An ontlet south will help Red Lake Falls wonderfnlly in the matter of trade, and the people are happy that the Great Northern ia finally to get into action.

MILL STARTS UP.

Northern Minnesota Milling Company Begins Fall Grind.

The big mill of the Northern Minnesota Milling company was started on the fall rnn, Tnesday, after nndergoing extensive repairs, and will be on the constant go from now on to fill the big demand for Red River Valley flonr.

The mill has heen thoroughly overhauled and new and modern machinery installed, and can now be classed as among the most modern in this section of the state.

The company has arranged for the wheat snpply of several neighhoring elevators, and the prospects for a successful fall's rnn are bright.

DAIRY NOTES.

(From the Ada Index.)

This has been a poor season for the ice man, but a good one for the buttermaker.

Creameries are in many respects simillar to houses and barns; some are very handy, easy to work in, and some require two men to perform what one could accomplish were arrangements on a different order.

As wheat grading is very low it will pay to get into the dairy business and hold up your grade of cream for there will be more money in it and always a little coming to keep up the small bills and when they are paid you wont have any big ones.

If you run a hand separator and you—as it sometimes happens—for one reason or other do not get your milk skimmed in the night, but leave it till morning, be sure to warm it up before running it through your machine as you otherwise very soon will pay the price of the seperator once more in lost butterfat.

It is not the proper idea to try to hold your cream to long before delivering at the creamery for it will get old and lose the flavor, and it cannot be retained again and that is what hurts the grade of your butter and cuts the price down so it pays to try and deliver it as often as you possibly can for your own benefit.

Buttermakers, now is the time to try and convince your patrons that rape is a bad thing for their dairy stock to pasture upon. The chances are that you cannot teach them to feed it intelligently, and if they do not feed the stuff properly, it is a curse to a creamery during the fall months. The proportion to which the practise of feeding rape has grown is alarming to those creameries where good butter is the rule and not the exception.

The argument has been frequently offered that milk, while cooling will not assimilate odors from the surrounding atmosphere. Were this true warm milk could safely be left in the cow stable while cooling, but will not bear out this theory. 'Tis true that while milk is cooling it is throwing off heat and animal odors, but is equally persistant in absorbing flavors from the stable atmosphere. Get the milk out of the barn as soon quickly as possible. Clean utensils, careful milking and quick cooling should be the maxim of every dairyman who has any pride in producing milk fit for the stomach of man.

In locating a dairy barn, care should be taken to have a gentle slope from the barn in at least one direction, affording good natural drainage for both barn and yard. If the barn is already built and poorly located, remedy the evil. In most cases it would take but a small amount of labor and plow and scraper, when the ground is in suitable condition to handle, to give the surface of the yard a slope from the barn sufficient to carry off the surface water. Even if dirt has to be hauled in from outside the yard to accomplish this it will not be expensive. The drainage alone under a yard is not sufficient, as the tramping of the cattle soon puddles the surface, reventing the water from passing down to the tile.

NEWS IN MINNESOTA

EVENTS OF THE WEEK THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

Charles P. Brown, aged seventy-one, a well known St. Paul lawyer, is dead.

Twenty-five cattle were killed in a Great Northern wreck near Anoka.

Mrs. J. D. Stanton, aged seventy-six years, a pioneer resident of Blue Earth, is dead.

The state W. C. T. U. met at Rochester last week. About 150 delegates were in attendance.

David P. Jones has been nominated for mayor by Minneapolis Republicans. James C. Haynes is the Democratic nominee.

The large barn on the farm of Nickerson Bros. near Elk River was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The loss will be more than $10,000.

Attorney General Donahower has decided that presidential electors must pay the regular state filing fee of $50 into the hands of the secretary of state.

Gilbert S. Gilbertson, formerly cashier for Booth & Co. at Minneapolis, pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzling $12,000 and was remanded for sentence.

Former Governor David M. Clough of Minnesota has been declared bankrupt at Everett, Wash. Oct. 4 has been fixed as the date for a meeting of his creditors.

Giles Peake, a merchant of Eagle Bend, was found dead in the basement of his store, having apparently committed suicide by drowning himself in a tub of water.

Thomas F. Hurley, cashier and a heavy shareholder in the Security bank of Minneapolis, is dead after an illness of several months. He was widely known throughout the Northwest.

The main building of the state university, Minneapolis, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday morning. The building was the oldest of the present group. The loss is estimated at $125,000.

Judge Lovely, Republican, has accepted the nomination for the state supreme bench tendered him by the Democratic party. His reasons for so doing are extensively set forth in his letter of acceptance.

Benjamin Nodell, a student at the state school of agriculture, was killed in a runaway on his father's farm at Richfield. When the accident occurred Nodell was engaged in hauling wood for an engine used in threshing.

A number of representative Populists assembled at Minneapolis Friday night. Victor E. Lawson of Willmar presided. It was decided not to nominate a state ticket, but eleven candidates for Populist electors were named.

Robbers entered the postoffice building at De Graff by breaking open the front door. The safe, containing all the money and the greater part of the stamps, was left untouched, but everything that was left outside was stolen, including a large supply of postal cards.

Returns received from nearly all of the legislative districts in Minnesota show that former members were successful in most of the districts where there were contests and it is probable that the next legislature will be made up largely of men who were in the last house.

Joseph Smith, sheriff of Le Sueur county, has been convicted of assault with intent to commit a statutory offense. The jury in the case, which grew out of an attack upon the wife of a friend by the official during the absence of the husband, was out fifteen hours.

Seventy-five million feet of state timber will be offered for sale Oct. 20 by State Auditor Iverson, the state timber board having completed all arrangements for the auction sale. All of the tracts which are to be offered for sale on this occasion are in Cook, St. Louis, Aitkin and other counties adjoining on the north.

The office of judge of probate is the most important in the county, as almost all of the real estate passes through the probate court, and unless the judge understands the probate law and possesses a level head when it comes to business methods, the title to property is sure to become defective, and in a few years the heirs and legattes of real property will be burdened with needless litigation. The voters should see that a competent man is put in the office. N. W. Tarrant's record as judge of the municiple court at Thief River and as judge of probate, in both of which offices the books and records are open to the inspection of the public, is a guarantee that he will continue to discharge the duties of the judge of probate in an intelligent and business-like manner. In the future, as in the past, Judge Tarrant promises to devote his whole time and attention to the faithful performance of the duties of the office.

Cast On a Desert Island

Pupils of Sixth and Seventh Grades of the City Schools Describe The Sensations Incident to Their Experiences.

(Note—The following stories were written by the pupils of the public schools whose names follow them, in response to a query by Prof. Chamberlain as to "What Would I Do the First Two Weeks, if Cast on an Uninhabited Island, about the Middle of October?" Esch month the pupils of several grades will be expected to write stories along some line suggested by the Professor, and the best of these will be published in the local papers — Ed.)

If you were cast alone upon an uninhabited Island in the middle of October, what would you do the first two weeks. One day as I was on a ship a great storm arose the wind was fierce. In a few miles was an island we steard for shore. When we got about one mile from shore the ship struck a stone. The boat tolk water and was half full. All the people were killed and some fell in the ocean and I never seen them again. I was left all a lome. I put a piece of timber in and got a paddle and went for shore it was a good thing that the wind was blewing me to shore. After heard work I got there safe I sat on shore and looked around me it was nothing but wood. The wind begain to lower and I made up my mine to swim to the ship. I made me a belt of bark and weeds and so it would keep me from sinking. When I got on the ship by which I had a heard time I set at work.

I made a raft. With ropes and pulleys I put my raft in the water. I found a carpenter's tool chest. There were all the tools that a man wanted I cut a hole through the ship that I might load up my raft. I put the chest on it four barrels of powder and two barrels of shot and one barrel of caps and five guns. I tolk five blankets and one pillow one sack of flour one sack of salt and three packages of baking powder three kettles one plate and one knife and fork. I thought I had a load I got on my raft and paddle for shore. When I got on shore it was to late to make another load so I unloaded my load and build a fire plase and put a kettle on it. I had forgot water I could not use the sea water, I saw something floting in the water about ten feet from shore. I jumped in after it to my suprise it was a keg of fresh water, I put sone in my kettle. I put a chicken or a patrage that I had shot. When this was cooked I ate it and set to work I tolk the ax and choped trees to build a house I set to work I made quite a bit of it. Then I tolk my gun and powder shots and caps and was going to look over my island I seen all kinds of game such as rabits patragies squirrels and many big anmals I shot three patragies and tolk then to my stoping plase, I tolk my blankets and went to bed, At my side I had to guns. My fire was still burning. I could not sleep much I was afraid. I got up at four o'clock in the morning I made ready for and other trip I got there all right I loaded my raft with ropes matchs and many other things I got on shore safe I made my meals It tolk me three day to make my house I covered it with dirt so it would be warm. I layed on a little bunk that I made. I sleep well after the first to nights. I would shoot game for meat I got patatoes in the ship I called the ship my store and when I ran out of food powder shot caps guns or most anthing I went to the store. I cought a rabit and two squrrels which I taned these were my freinds. The island was two miles long and one mile wide I got used of the wild life soon.

SIDNEY BELAIR.

When I was at the age of sixteen I wanted to go to sea. nothing could stop me: One day I heard that a ship was to start out for South America in a few days. I thought to my self I will go and see if I cannot get a job on board a ship. The captain said that I could probably get a job if I only would be around there awhile before the ship was to sail. The day before it was to sail I went to the captain to see if any of the men he was to have could not go, when I asked him he said, "You can come aloug only on one condition, if you promise to do as I say". I promised that if I did not do as he said he would not have to take me but that I would pay my fare both ways. He let me go along. Then I went home to prepare for the journey. The next day at 10 o'clock I was aboard and ready because the ship was to start out at 10.25 P. M. When we were out at sea about five days the sea began to get rongh. When we got as far down as about the 25th parallel, the wind was very high. One night as we came near an island we got stuck in the sand and the front part of the ship struck against a rock and was crushed alittle but the water began to fill up in the ship so fast that we could not keep it out at last a large wave, which came from shore which was about a mile or more away, that pushed us out in the sea again the ship was pushed by the wind about a quarter of a mile out before we got control of it. The ship began to sink and all the sailors and people began to crowd on the deck; a few of the beams were left on the top. The people began to pile on the beams and rafters till they began to sink all the beams and rafters sank exept one which nobody got on because it was to far away. I swam over to the beam and got on it, the beam was fastined to a rope tied in the ship. I kept on the top of the beam all the time until morning came then I saw some land about a mile and a quarter away.

I began to swim for shore I got almost to shore when a wind came and took me back. I was almost exhausted when I reached the shore when I had been there about a week I found that it was only a small island. I began to think of how I could get my food when I looked a round I saw a few goats upon a high hill I looked out to see if I could see the ship any place, when I had looked a while I saw the ship because the water was lowered. I swam out to the ship to see if I could not find a tool chest. I found a tool chest a couple of guns, and a little powder in a horn that was not wet I opened the chest and found a hatchet and an ax in the chest. I began at once to make me a raft to haul some goods on, I made a good sized raft so that I was sure not to have to go more than ten times to haul my little household goods. When I had built a house I went out to hunt the first time I got an old goat with a kid. I did not notice the kid but went right on home soon I saw the kid following close behind. I kept the kid and trained it so that it was like s pet one day I caught four goats I kept them for my cows; in a week I had cought a young parrot and canary. I lived mostly on Cocaunuts, goats milk and goat-meat.

ALFRED FLOAN.

Forest and Prairie Fire Warning.

OFFICE OF STATE FOREST COMMISSIONER.

ST. PAUL, MINN., APRIL 9, 1904.

Chapter 196 of the General Laws of the State of Minnesota for 1895 (Act of April 18th) constitutes Supervisors of towns, Mayors of cities and Presidents of Village councils Fire Wardens, and it is made their duty to take precautions to prevent forest and prairie fires, and, if they occur, to go and extinguish or control them; and in emergencies to call upon any able-bodied male person, over eighteen years of age, to assist. Fire Wardens must promptly report such fires to the Chief Fire Warden. The Forest Commissioner is required to provide and sign an abstract (as herewith) of the penalties under said law, and it is made the duty of the County Commissioners of each county to cause said abstract to be published in at least three issues of the official paper in their respective counties each year, between the 15th of April and 1st of November, and they are bereby instructed to publish this notice entire. Under said law

The following are liable to a penality not exceeding $500 or imprisonment in the state prison not over ten years, or both:

Any person who maliciously sets or causes to be set on fire any woods, prairie or other combustible material whereby the property of another is destroyed aud life is sacrificed.

The following are liable to a penalty not exceeding $100 or imprisonment not exceeding three months:

Any person refusing, without cause, to assist fire wardens in extinguishing forest or prairie fires.

Any fire warden who neglects to perform his duties.

Any person who wilfully, negligently or carelessly sets on fire, or causes to be set on fire, any woods, prairies or other combustible material, thereby causing injury to another.

Any person who shall kindle a fire, on or dangerously near to forest or prairie land and leave it unquenched, or who shall be a party thereto.

Any person who shall use other than incombustible fire wads for firearms or carry a naked torch, firebrand or other exposed light in or dangerously near to forest land.

Any person who shall wilfully or heedlessly deface, destroy or remove this or any other warning placard posted under the requirements of the above mentioned Act.

Any railroad company neglecting to provide efficient spark arresters on its engines; or to keep its right of way to the width of 100 feet cleared of combustible material; or which shall fail to comply with other provisions of Section 12 of the above mentioned Act.

The following are liable to a penalty of not less than $5 nor more than $50:

Any railroad employe who violates the provisions of Section 12 of the above mentioned Act.

Any owner of threshing or other portable steam engine who neglects to have efficient spark arresters, or who shall deposit live coals or hot ashes without extenguishing the same.

S. G. IVERSON (State Auditor),
Forest Commissioner.

Wheaty Flavor

You should eat bread raised with Yeast Foam. It has a wheaty flavor and delicious aroma all its own, and retains sweetness, freshness and moisture longer than bread made with any other yeast. Yeast Foam partially predigests the bread and preserves in it all the nutritive qualities of the wheat.

YEAST FOAM
TRADE PURITY AND EXCELLENCE MARK

is made of pure vegetable ingredients. With proper care it never loses its life and strength. It's always fresh and ready for use. Bread made with it is never acid, sour or heavy; it's always good as long as it lasts.

The secret is in the yeast.

One of the surprises which the official count in Norman county brought to light was the nomination of Nels T. Moen for county attorney on the republican ticket. Mr. Moen ran for congress two years ago on the populist ticket and has been one of the prominent populists for years in the valley.

Joseph Belair, the Republican candidate for coroner, will have no opposition at the general election but if he did have he would nevertheless win by a big majority. Joe has held the office before and filled it to the entire satisfaction of the people, and they will accord him a handsome vote November 8.

An Englishman, who has been looking into the subject, says getting up early is wrong. It sours the disposition, interferes with the health and makes criminals. A large majority of the inmates of penal institutions, he declares, are men who were forced to get up early. This gentleman should come over here and lecture. He would be popular.

Prichard's Review asks why the Gazette didn't put in a bid for the ballot printing if it had the office to do the work. There are several things that the young fellow who turns the somersaults in the Review shop will find out, provided he lives in Red Lake county long enough, perhaps. The fact that The Gazette printed about 7500 of the 15,000 primary ballots used and did all the composition is obvious, but it is one of the things the young McDonald is bound to learn more about, provided the fool killer delays his work long enough.

Wm. C. I. Demann, the present efficient county commissioner from the Second commissioner district, will be re-elected this fall by a nice majority. Mr. Demann has performed his duties on the board of commissioners in a manner that has been highly satisfactory and in questions where the welfare of the county has been in prominence he has always been on the side of the people. The Republicans of Red Lake Falls are behind him strong and his vote will be such that there can be no question as to his popularity.

The presidental campaign refuses to warm up. Judge Parker has made a determined effort to start the Democratic machinery, but the wheels refuse to revolve and heroic measures will have to be resorted to if anything is done, even in New York, says the Warren Register. The Republicans are making rather a listless sort of campaign just now, but are getting into shape to make things hum the moment the Democrats quit quarrelling among themselves and agree upon the course their campaign is to take. The Republicans have plenty of ammunition on hand, but there is no use in their firing much of it off until their opponents do something to reveal the point in the Republican bulwarks that they mean to attack.

Ernest Buse, the Republican candidate for sheriff, is another of the "old guard" that is asking that the people remember him at the polls next November and in his canvass is making friends for himself and the party. Mr. Buse is one of the men who pioneered in Red Lake county and he has always been found working for the interests of her people. It can be truthfully said that no man has more persistently stood for the principle of "go ahead" in his own county and he has spent many dollars of his own money advertising our advantages to the world. Mr. Buse is an active and fearless citizen and one whom the people could trust the office to with confidence. Republicans will make no mistake in voting for Ernest Buse.

According to the Thief River Falls Review, the Republicans of Red Lake county are holding "secret" meetings. To the central committee this privilege is of course accorded, but The Gazette doesn't believe that the accidently-made secretary of the Republican organization in Red Lake county has yet got things so mixed up that he can make the people believe that the Republicans of Red Lake county are to be likened unto a pack of Russian Nihilists. The Republicans have no reason to be ashamed of the fact that they are going after victory with both feet this fall and shouldn't be afraid to let the enemy know it, but unless they can do something to suppress the breaks of the fellow who imagines he fills the secretary's chair their cause is hopeless in the extreme. One fool can tear down all the defense several generals can build up and this is what the great McDonald is evidently aiming at.

County politics show signs of warming up a little during the next few weeks and while the present campaign will not be as exciting as the memorable one of 1902, nevertheless there will be something doing all along the line. There are so many good men and officers to be voted for that the people will find it hard to choose between them, but in times past the voters of Red Lake county have used excellent judgment in choosing their officers and it is safe to presume that they will do so again this year. There are many things to consider in casting your ballot for officers to attend to the public's business, and from an unbiased standpoint the question of FITNESS is certainly the first to be considered. If the voters were hiring men to work for them individually it is a surety that they would first look for competency, and this principle should be carried out in the matter of selecting the officers to attend to the county's business for the ensuing two years, and the Gazette believes it will be.

The Thief River Falls Review of last week takes The Gazette to task because we made the statement that the board used excellent judgement in not letting Prichard's blacksmith shop get a chance to spoil some printing for the county, and indulges in a lot of talk that would cause an Indian cigar sign to laugh. This self-appointed guardian of Red Lake county is surely up against it. With a head swelled to the point of bursting and scattering its nothingness over the surroundings, the young fellow who draws $1200 a year support from a Thief River banker and money-loaner, came to Red Lake county with the idea that he was going to educate all the people—dubbed by him "fools"—who had gone on here year after year improving and advertising the county and minding their own business, and on every occasion the dear fellow has butted in he has been humped so hard that you could hear the earth rattle. He worries because the Gazette scribe is a boy but doesn't stop to think that had this been a crime his youthful neck would have long since succomed to the over-anxious killer of fools mortal. His contortions are amusing, but the poor fellows who are forced to put up to keep him out of the poor house are indeed unfortunate.

When it is necessary to be, Thief River Falls has taken pleesure in telling of her friendliness for Red Lake Falls and her people and when the wires needed a little extra pulling to secure the reservation sale, etc., she has never hesitated to laud this city for the neighborly spirit shown. When, however, she has a chance to reciprocate without in any way injuring herself, she is not there with the goods, and all the good resolutions as to how she loves Red Lake Falls are soon forgotten. Red Lake Falls had a candidate for Representative at Tuesday's election, who, while in the house last winter, went out of his way to do a good turn for the upriver town, and when they went to the polls primary election day they proceeded to try and beat him out of a re-nomination. From the fact that Representative Simons was a Red Lake county man, whose entire interests are in Red Lake county, should have been the cause of him receiving a flattering endorsement from every precint in his home territory, but because he happened to live at Red Lake Falls he was given the turn-down by the voters of Thief River and beaten in that city by a man who had absolutely nothing in common with the people of this end of the district. The fact of Thief River's un-neighborly action didn't defeat Mr. Simons, but had every other outside precinct worked along the same lines he would have lost his own county. Thief River can offer no excuse for this action, but that they allowed it to occur is lamentable.

Red Lake county Republicans can go to the polls in November and cast their ballot for one man on the ticket, at least, who has by long and earnest service earned the title to recognition at the hands of the Republicans of the county and who, if elected will fill the office in a manner that will be entirely satisfactory to the people as a whole. That man is Ovide Moreau, Republican candidate for County Treasurer, and a man whose Republicanism has been as unfaltering as the Rock of Gibraltar. During the time when Red Lake county was the hot hed of Populism, and when to be a Republican was to acknowledge himself in the hopeless and helpless minority, Ovide Moreau was one of the "fighting few" and in each succeeding campaign put in his time and money in an attempt to get the people to "see the light" and while always the loser, his work, along with the few others of the faithful, slowly but surely showed its results, and today when Red Lake county stands ready to go on record for Roosevelt and Republicanism, Mr. Moreau is asking that the voters recognize his service to the party by electing him to the office to which he aspires. A shrewd and conscientious business man; a man who can competently care for the needs of the people, Mr. Moreau is just the fellow for the place and it should be a matter of pride for every Republican within the confines of the county to go to the polls on November 8th and help make his majority a fitting tribute to the labors he has performed. Vote for Ovide Moreau and by so doing honor one who deserves to be honored.

Crookston Times: Senator A. D. Stephens returned Friday morning from a trip to the Twin Cities, where he transacted business. While there he consulted with the Great Northern authorities relative to the location of the station at the new town of Greenbush. This will be the northern terminal of the Great Northern extension from Thief River Falls for the present. The townsite is owned by the Northern Townsite company and promises to be one of the best towns on the line, or in northern Minnesota. Senator Stephens made the best possible selection for the station and the town has a splendid location. The new city will be platted at once and preparations made for the erection of the town. The Great Northern trains will be running to that point this fall and it is expected the town will boom as it is one of the best localities in northern Minnesuta

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Adam Zeh and Gertrude Zeh, his wife, Mortgagors, to G. Vandertuuk, Mortgagee, bearing date the first day of July, 1902, and with power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Red Lake and State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of July 1902, at 3:30 o'clock p. m., in Book 19 of Mortgages, on page 488, and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof.

And whereas, said Mortgage contains a clause providing that if any installment of the debt secured thereby is not paid when due, that the whole sum secured thereby shall become due and payable at once; and whereas, by reason of said clause there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice the sum of $61.14; and whereas, said Mortgage contains a clause providing that if the party of the first part shall fail to make payment of interest due upon a certain prior Mortgage upon the land described in said Mortgage, that then the party of the second part may pay such interest and have a lien therefor upon said premises under this Mortgage; and whereas, pursuant to said clause, and the party of the first part having made default in the payment thereof, party of the second part has paid such interest, amounting, with interest, to the sum of $136.17, making the total amount due under the terms of the said Mortgage $197.31.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

The east half of the southwest quarter and the north half of the southeast quarter of section thirty in township one hundred fifty-one of range forty-two, in Red Lake county and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Red Lake county at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Red Lake Falls in said county and State, on the Fourth day of November, 1904, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt amounting to $197.31, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five dollars Attorney's fees, as provided in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated at Red Lake Falls, Minn., September 22nd, 1904.

SIXTY-TWO ARE DEAD

TERRIBLE DISASTER OCCURS ON SOUTHERN RAILROAD NEAR NEWMARKET, TENN.

In Addition to the Killed One Hundred and Twenty-five Persons Are Injured, Several of Whom Will Die—Disobedience of Orders the Alleged Cause of the Collision and the Resulting Heavy Loss of Life.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 26.—The death list as a result of the fearful wreck on the Southern railroad near Newmarket Saturday has now grown to sixty-two, and it will probably exceed seventy before long, as many of the injured are in a serious condition and more deaths will occur at the hospital. Sunday there were six deaths at that institution.

A force of 150 men toiled all day long Sunday at the scene of the wreck. Before 2 o'clock Sunday morning the track was cleared to through trains, but it required many hours to clear the debris. Engineers Parrott and Kinne were found beneath their engines, but their bodies were not badly crushed. Small fragments of bodies were found in many instances Sunday, but it is thought that they belong to bodies already found and brought to this city.

The cause of the loss of life in the heavy eastbound train was explained Sunday. It seems that the second coach ploughed its way into a bank in such a manner that the other cars were jammed into it and, pushed on by the weight of heavy Pullmans, were crushed like eggshells.

Physicians at the hospital state that of the long list of injured which they have in their care, it is probable that not more than four will die.

About 125 persons were injured.

The two passenger trains collided eighteen miles east of Knoxville.

According to the best information the wreck was due to a failure of the crew of the westbound train to carry out its orders to meet the eastbound passenger at Hodge's station. Instead of making the siding at Hodge's, it proceeded toward Knoxville, with the result that a collision occurred.

Engineer May Have Been Dead.

The possibility exists that the engineer of the westbound train may have been asleep or dead. But nothing is known save that the orders were not obeyed.

Both trains were running on time and at thirty miles an hour. The locomotives were demolished and the major portions of both trains were wrecked with the exception of the Pullman cars, none of which left the track.

The wrecked coaches were filled with dead and injured and the rescue work was accomplished with great difficulty. A special relief train left Knoxville as soon as possible. The removal of the wreckage and the wounded and dead commenced as soon as the train reached the scene.

Some of the bodies may not be recovered and many remain unidentified.

All of the killed live in the South and most of the injured are residents of Tennessee. Of the persons injured only a few suffered serious wounds. Most of the wounded sustained cuts, bruises and shocks that ought not to result seriously.

The westbound passenger from Bristol was a light local, while the eastbound train carried Pullmans, two day coaches and a mail and baggage car. The greatest loss of life occurred in the eastbound train. In the westbound only the engine crew were killed.

BOTH ESCAPE INJURY.

Archbishop of Canterbury and J. P. Morgan in Wreck.

East Brookfield, Mass., Sept. 24.—A special train conveying the archbishop of Canterbury from Bar Harbor, Me., to Washington was wrecked on the Boston and Albany division of the New York Central railroad near the station here. The archbishop was not injured, although considerably shaken up. J. P. Morgan of New York, who was also on the train accompanying the archbishop, was shaken up but not hurt.

Several of the train hands were slightly injured.

The special collided with a locomotive on the main line.

LADY CURZON IMPROVING.

Less Oxygen Administered and Patient Takes Nourishment Better.

Walmer Castle, Kent, Sept. 27.—The oxygen treatment of Lady Curzon is being continued, but the oxygen is administered in less quantity and the patient is taking nourishment better.

Lord Curzon for the first time in a week, ventured out for a walk on the sea front Monday.

Arrangements have been made to keep Mrs. Leiter, who is a passenger on the steamer Vaderland, informed by wireless telegraph of the condition of her daughter.

SENATOR HOAR IS DYING.

Slowly Succumbing to Effects of His Long Illness.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 26.—The family of Senator George F. Hoar, who has been dangerously ill for several weeks, Sunday night issued a bulletin showing that the senator is gradually succumbing to the effects of his long illness. Only the immediate members of the senator's family are admitted to the sick chamber, and he spends most of his time asleep.

Rear Admiral Gilmore Dead.

New York, Sept. 26.—Rear Admiral Fernando P. Gilmore died here Sunday of Bright's disease, which he contracted during active campaigning in the Philippines and because of which he was retired from active duty two years ago. He was born Aug. 15, 1848. He commanded the monitor Monadnock in the war with Spain.

FAMOUS INDIAN WARRIOR.

Chief Joseph of the Nez Perces Dies Suddenly.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 23.—Chief Joseph of the Nez Perces, greatest of Indian warriors and statesmen, died suddenly of heart disease at his tepee on Nespelima agency, west of here. He had been in ill health for some months since his trip to Washington.

The death of Chief Joseph closed the career of one of the greatest fighters in the early days of Indian campaigning in Montana. Chief Joseph sprang to prominence as a result of a raid made by the Nez Perces under him in 1877 when, with about 300 of his followers, Chief Joseph, making desperate efforts to resist the encroachments of the whites upon his lands in Willowa valley, Ida., went upon the warpath, massacreing the settlers in Willowa valley. Chief Joseph's last battle was in the Bear Paw mountains, where he was trapped by General Nelson A. Miles. It was this battle that brought General Miles prominently before the public.

NINE PERSONS KILLED

ELECTRIC CAR STRIKES FIFTY-POUND BOX OF DYNAMITE AT MELROSE, MASS.

Melrose, Mass., Sept. 22.—An outward bound Boston electric car containing thirty-two persons was blown to pieces in Melrose Wednesday night by striking a box containing fifty pounds of dynamite that had fallen off an express wagon.

Nine persons were killed and nineteen others on the car were taken to the hospitals suffering from severe injuries. A score of persons in the immediate vicinity of the explosion were hurt by flying glass and splinters.

All but ten feet of the rear portion of the car was blown into small pieces, while windows within a radius of a quarter of a mile were shattered. The ground was strewn with legs, arms and other portions of the bodies of those who had been killed.

The car contained mostly men on their way home. Within a few minutes a great crowd had collected and the injured were cared for until the physicians reached the scene.

The police arrested Roy Fenton, driver of an express wagon, who was carrying two fifty-pound boxes of dynamite on his wagon and did not know until he reached the express office that one of the boxes had dropped off. He hurried back to pick it up, but the electric car reached the box first.

The explosion was heard for several miles.

Directly opposite the scene was the Masonic building, every window of which was shattered. Through one of the windows a human foot was blown. A score of persons within 100 yards of the car were knocked down.

NINE CHILDREN DEAD

PRECIPITATED INTO VAULT BY JOISTS UNDER FLOORING GIVING WAY.

Cincinnati, Sept. 23.—During the morning recess of the public school at Pleasant Ridge, about twenty miles north of this city, nine children lost their lives. When school recessed there was a playful rush into the outhouse, which gave way, precipitating about twenty children into the vault.

All of the victims were girls, the oldest being twelve years. The vault contained over four feet of water. The nine who were thus killed served to fill up the vault so that the other twelve were not drowned. Of the twelve who were rescued, covered with the filth of the vault, it is reported that half of them will die on account of the internal poisoning. In addition to their internal sufferings several of those rescued are reported to have suffered external injuries in broken limbs.

It is stated that the joists under the flooring gave way and precipitated all who were in the outhouse at the time. The whole population soon surrounded the school grounds and people were flocking into town from the surrounding country. The excitement was intensified by complaints of parents against school officers, who said that the building and grounds were inspected before the opening of school two weeks ago.

POSSE IN PURSUIT.

Ten Desperate Prisoners Break Jail at Billings, Mont.

Billings, Mont., Sept. 24.—Ten prisoners, among them some of the most desperate criminals ever confined in the Yellowstone county prison, made their escape from jail here during the night and are still at large. The jail breakers worked with great skill and quietness and the escape probably would not have been discovered until morning had not the escaping men secured guns and held up J. W. Caughan, a business man who was returning home. A posse is in pursuit.

NINE THOUSAND RETURN.

Harvester Works Employes Go Back to Labor as Individuals.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Nine thousand men returned to work without union regulations of any sort Monday when the three Chicago branches of the International Harvester works and the Pullman company reopened their shops after a shut down of two weeks. The men not only returnd to their former places as individuals, but they also agreed to reductions ranging from 10 to 20 per cent.

Columbian Senate Unfriendly.

Bogota, Sept. 27.—President Reyes is meeting with much opposition in the Colombian senate to the resumption of amicable relations with the United States.

ADVANCE ON MUKDEN

FIVE GREAT JAPANESE ARMIES MARCHING AGAINST MANCHURIAN CAPITAL.

Attack on Russian Position Promises to Be More Vigorous Than the Onslaughts of the Japs in Any Previous Stage of the Campaign—Oyama's Forces Constantly Reinforced by the Arrival of Fresh Troops From Japan.

Mukden, Sept. 27.—The developments of the past twenty-four hours give more concern to army officers here than anything else that has happened since the battle of Liaoyang, for it is apparent that the strength of the Japanese advance was vastly underestimated a few days ago, when Kuropatkin was less familiar with the enemy's position than he is now. Sharp skirmishes at more than a dozen points east of the peninsular railway and east as well as southeast of this city and several severe outpost fights west of the railway show that five great armies are massing against the Russian position, and that the attack on Mukden will be far more vigorous than the most furious onslaughts of the Japs in any other stage of the upper Manchurian campaign.

FRESH TROOPS ARRIVING.

Reason for Long Delay in the Japanese Advance on Mukden.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 27.—The cause of the extreme deliberation in the Japanese advance on Mukden is explained by a dispatch received from General Kuropatkin, which indicates that Field Marshal Oyama has not yet concentrated his forces. Fresh troops are constantly arriving at Bentsiaputze, while others which recently reached Liaoyang are marching up the Taitse river to Sianchan. These reinforcements presumably come from Japan. As soon as the fourth Japanese army at Sianchan is sufficiently strong, it is now evident, the Japanese intend to resort to their favorite flanking tactics, move a formidable array against Kuropatkin's left and compel the evacuation of Sintsintin. They are evidently reconnoitering the ground over which the Sianchan army will march up and cross the river. Meanwhile General Kuroki is trying to seize and cross the Hun river far east of Mukden. Thence he will move down the river and co-operate with the fourth army from Sianchan, while Generals Oku and Nodzu engage Kuropatkin's attention south of Mukden. The attacks on Da pass and Sanluugku Sept. 20 were the first symptoms of this vast flanking movement.

JAPS CONTROL WATER SUPPLY.

Capture Several Important Positions at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Sept. 26.—As a result of the battle before Port Arthur which began on Sept. 19 the Japanese succeeded in capturing several important positions and the Russian tenure of the big forts guarding the north and east and northeast sides of the town is seriously threatened.

Possibly the most important capture during the three days' fighting was that of Fort Kuropatkin, which, while of minor value with regard to preventing the entrance into the town of the Japanese, had been constructed for the purpose of protecting the source of the garrison's water supply. The control of this water supply is now in the hands of the Japanese.

WITH EXTREME SLOWNESS.

Japanese Armies Continue Their Advance Northward.

Mukden, Sept. 24.—The Japanese continue their advance northward with extreme slowness. General Kuroki's headquarters is close to Pensihu, about forty-five miles east of Liaoyang.

A Turkestan regiment is reported to have killed eight Japanese cavalrymen in the brush near Yental.

Junks are coming up the Liao river regularly with supplies for the Japanese.

The return of Lieutenant General Rennenkampff to the command of the cavalry division has been signalized by renewed activity on the part of the Russians.

SHIPS TO MAKE A DASH.

Russian Vessels at Port Arthur Will Try to Reach Europe.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 27.—The naval organ Kotlin publishes an article predicting that Rear Admiral Viron will attempt to break out of Port Arthur with his ships and return to Europe. The paper admits that the task of escaping from Admiral Togo appears to be hopeless, if one takes for comparison Admiral Cevera's attempt to get away from Santiago, but adds that Viron's men, unlike the Spaniards, have had plenty war experience.

Coal for the Baltic Fleet.

Berlin, Sept. 24.—A special dispatch from Dortmund says that heavy consignments of coal are being shipped to the mouth of the Ems, where a large number of steamers have been chartered to act as colliers for the Russian Baltic fleet. The three German steamers which are at Emden are laden with English coal intended for the Russians.

Thousands Sick and Wounded.

Tsingtau, Sept. 24.—Advices received here say that there are 15,000 sick and wounded at Port Arthur.

BOLD THIEF GETS $4,400.

Daylight Robbery Committed in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Compelling two clerks to go into a room at the point of a revolver to be made prisoners a masked man took a suit case containing $4,400 and records and papers belonging to the Central Grain and Stock Exchange and then made his escape.

Suffering

Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than soothe it—are wrong.

Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better, because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves.

A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.

This will soothe your quivering nerves.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain by restoring the natural secretions, in which they differ from opium and similar narcotic drugs, which relieve pain by checking the action of the glands.

They are sure and harmless, and are the latest medical treatment for the cure of Headache, Neuralgia, Backache, Rheumatism, Dizziness, Toothache, Stomachache, Menstrual (Monthly) Pains. Also nerve irritations like Sea-Sickness, Car-Sickness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, etc.

Pleasant to take, quick in results.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick, nervous headache, and have received the best results. I heartily recommend their curative properties, for they are successful."—REV. RAY A. WATROS, D. D., Iowa City, Ia.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

Messrs. Midas Clement and Regis Gagnon, and wives, were guests of Mr and Mrs. Dolphis Champeau Sunday.

A crowd of merry-makers spent Sunday evening at the home of M. Quesnell's and all enjoyed themselves gaily.

McLeah Callier, of Gentilly, accompanied by his cousin, Miss Cerisa Trudeau, spent Sunday visiting friends here.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately followed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electic Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nervine and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralagia and expels Malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by W. A. Schreiter, druggist.

The publishers of the beautiful song, "I Wait Alone for You", by the late W. Wesley Wells, have sent us a copy of his last song, "My Mercedes" which has just been published and which he composed a few weeks before his death. It is symply beautiful, easy to play, melodious, and a perfect adaptation of exquisite words to a beautiful melody. The publishers, J. W. Jenkins' Sons Music Co., of Kansas City, Mo., are making a special price of 25 cents per copy.

It Saved His Leg.

P. A. Danforth of LaGrange, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For Ulcers, Wounds and Piles it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25cts. Sold by W. A. Schreiter druggist.

Wanted.

A good salesman wanted to take the agency for a very fine line of family remedies. Splendid inducements; respectable business. Write Hanson & Emerson, Sauk Centre Minn., for further information.

Working Overtime.

Eight hour laws are ignored by those tireless, little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always at work, night and day, curing Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, Sick Headache and all Stomach, Liver and Bowel troubles. Easy, pleasant, safe, sure. Only 25c at W. A. Schreiter's drug store.

BRAY

Everything is quiet after primary election.

C. P. Swanson and John Gunderson made a trip to St. Hilaire Friday.

C. C. Carlson, of Thief River Falls, a former Brayite, made a call at Bray Saturday.

Elmer Olson and John O. Swanson visited among friends at Numedal Sunday.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo. Ohio.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Society's New Game.

"Trail" has taken society by storm. It is something new, something different.

"Trail as the name implies, is founded on a popular hunting sport, is played with fifty three fine cards in four colors, representing a fox to be chased and caught, and four packs of hounds of thirteen each,

"Trail" has a constantly recurring interest for players as they perfect their playing from evening to evening, in marked contrast to certain recent boisterous games that bore the players at the end of an hour.

With the one pack six other splendid, new copyright games can be played. Two Educational games, and two games of Fun, making it suitable for all members of a family.

"Trail" can be had of dealers or sent post-paid, 75c, gilt edge, plain 50c. Rules for the seven games free,

Sour Stomach.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoruuly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

AL-KI Dandruff Cure does the work 50c. Druggists.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allys the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflamation sets in, which insures a quick recovery. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

The World's Fair Is Now At Its Best.

The dreaded warm season in St. Louis, covering July and August, is a thing of the past and the beautiful Fall months of September, October and November, offering the finest climatic conditions, should be taken advantage of by everyone to see the greatest World's Fair ever held or likely to be held for many years to come.

Every day the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway—"Burlington Route"—runs sleeping cars and chair cars straight through over its own tracks from St. Paul and Minneapolis to St. Louis, offering the best possible service to the greatest show on earth.

For three hundred and fifty miles the "Burlington Route" follows the east bank of the Mississippi river, and a departure from the Twin Cities on our fast morning Express gives the visitor one of the most scenic rides to be had in America, especially so during the early fall months.

The rates are now away down. The normal temperature in St. Louis for the entire month of September last year was sixty-six degrees above zero. The accommodations are just what you are looking for. With all these incentives, now is the proper time to make your World's Fair trip.

Write me for full descriptive folders, telling all about railroad tickets, baggage arrangements, sleeping car berths, how to reach the Exposition grounds and what to do when you get there; how to see the Fair to the best advantage; how to get a boarding place, maps of the Fair, the city and "Burlington Route". Free for the asking; a postal card will do.

Tragedy Averted.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved" writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio, "Pheunomia had played sad havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound and well." Everybody ought to know, it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and all lung diseases. Guarranteed by W. A Schreiter. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Frank Jeffers went up to Thief River Falls Tuesday afternoon to spend a couple of days in the interests of his candidacy for Register of Deeds.

Miss More house, of Grand Forks has been a guest of Mrs. E. F. Marshall this week. Miss Morehouse has a number of friends and acquaintances here.

The Junior Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will serve a ten cent tea at the church parlors tomorrow (Friday afternoon). Everyone is cordially invited.

Robert Ford, of Marshall, this state who owns a quarter section of lund northeast of town, has been a visitor here a few days this week looking after his business affairs.

P. B. Gaass went to St. Paul Monday evening to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias, which convened there the first of the week, as a representative from the Red Lake Falls lodge.

Ed. Hinckley, a prospsrous Lyon county resident, has been looking after his real estate interests. Mr. Hinckley owns a farm 5 miles southwest of Red Lake Falls which he purchased of the Healy Land agency several months ago.

A. R. Chase, of Marshall, is here this week looking over the country with the Ed. L. Healy Land company. Mr. Chase was here about a month ago, and it is likely that he will invest in some Red Lake county realty before returning home.

Joseph Salley has his coal sheds built and filled with the treasured "black diamonds," and says that he is ready to sell and deliver you any amount you want now. Joe has done a big coal business the last two seasons and looks for a rush this fall.

C. F. Case, of Marshall, this state, has been a visitor here several days this week. Mr. Case owns a half section south of Ives station and some timber land out east, all of which he purchased from Ed. L. Healy and is here looking after his business interests.

A. O. Davison is expected home from North Dakota this week, to spend several days with his family. Mr. Davison has recently suffered another attack of appendicitis, and is contemplating an operation in the near future to rid himself of this troublesome malady.

The weather the first couple of days of the week resembled mid-summer, and as a result threshing operations in this section are fairly well advanced. The fall season is the prettiest of the year and if good weather prevails during the next month Red Lake county farmers will have reason to be happy.

Mrs. S. L. Lewis entertained a party of young people at her home Monday evening, in honor of her cousin, Miss Hamel, who has been a guest here for the past two weeks. A large number of the young people were in attendance, and a delightful time resulted. Cards furnished the amusement and elegant refreshments were served the guests.

All federal officials have received notice that they are to take no part, actively at least in politics. Partisian activity is strictly prohibited. The circular was issued by Gen. John C. Black, president of the United States Civil service commission. Men who are drawing their monthly stipend from Unc e Sam must keep out of politics in theory at least.

Dr. George Tupper, of Thief River Falls, chairman of the local Democratic central committee, was a caller here last Saturday confering with the faithful. Both parties in Red Lake county used excellent judgement in the selection of their chairmen this year, as too handsomer, abler or more dignified looking fellows than Chairman Watson and Tupper cannot be found in any county in the state.

Foot ball practice has been fast and furious with the high school team this week in preparation for Saturday's game with Ada. Coach Wyer has been instructing the boys in some new formations and they are expecting to make a credible showing when they tackle their first opponents of the year. Ada is also said to have a good team and a first-rate game can be looked forward to.

The Gazette job department is on the steady jump these days turning out all kinds and descriptions of work for Red Lake county people. The Gazette's job department is strictly "up to date" and the latest in fancy stock and type creations are always to be found here. Let us show you how pretty a piece of work we can do for you when you want that next job turned out.

Mentor Herald: Henry McAnulty, one of Red Lake county's energetic school teachers, was a visitor in the city last Thursday and informed his many friends here that he was securing signers to a petition to become an independent candidate for the office of superintendent of schools of that county at the fall election. Mr. McAnulty has many warm friends who predict for him a sure election.

Miss Grace Newberry came down from Thief River Falls Tuesday, and is spending a day or two here canvassing votes in her candidacy for a Minneapolis Tribune prize. Miss Newberry is one of the leaders in the Tribune's contest, and stands an excellent chance of winning a trip to the World's Fair and a handsome automobile. She has made an active hustle throughtout the valley, and has retained her place at the head of the list only by the hardest kind of work. She is a guest at the home of Sam Allard while here.

S. M. Sivertson and Sam Allard drove over to Crookston last Thursday where Mr. Siverton attended to business matters while Mr. Allard attended to the wants of a "sick" dynamo in the elevator of the mill company there. The dynamo had been giving the electricians of Crookston all kinds of trouble, but friend Allard soon discovered the difficulty and straightened it out so that the machine went on its way rejoicing. When they beat Sam at fixing things mechanical or electrical they have to get up early in the morning.

Two young women were talking together at the postoffice in St. Hilaire the other day. "How many children have you?" asked one. "Twenty-two," was the reply. "How many have you?" "Thirty-one" she replied. This attracted the attention of a motherly appearing woman, who stood near them. "Did I understand you to say that one of you had twenty-two children and you thirty-one?" she said. "Why you don't look to be more than 25 years old apiece." "We're school teachers," they both replied in one voice.

The local lodge of Modern Brotherhood of America held a meeting at the Woodman hall Tuesday evening, and a delightful social affair resulted. Director J. H. Miller, of the head camp, was present and made an interesting talk, while delegates Sam Allard and Joseph Belair reported to the lodge the doings of the district convention at Moorhead. After the lodge work was disposed of the members were entertained with several selections in elocutionary work by Miss Grace Newberry, of Thief River Falls, and several other features. The evening was pleasantly spent, and greatly enjoyed by those present.

The Big Store has a large space in today's Gazette, and talks entertainingly of the many new and attractive lines that have been received for the fall and winter trade, and the people of Red Lake county can feel satisfied that their every want has never been so carefully looked after completely as at the Big Store this season. This popular store has engaged a large sized chunk of Gazette advertising space for the rest of the year, and the readers can expect to be put wise to the many desirable bargains to be offered there this fall. Read the ad and investigate the attractions set forth.

Messrs. Ed. Versluys and family, and A. Heide and family, from Lyon county, arrived here Monday with several cars of stock and machinery and will become tillers of Red Lake county soil. Mr. Versluys purchased the old Hatten farm in Terrebonne, through the Ed. L. Healy agency, and Mr. Heide has rented a farm a few miles from it, and the two will engage in active farming on their places. Mr. Heide will probably buy a place next year. Red Lake county gains two successful farmers by the advent of Messrs. Versluys and Heide, and The Gazette, on behalf of the people, extends them a cordial welcome.

Through one of those unaccountable errors, the vote accorded Joseph Belair, for coroner, at the primary election was omitted from the abstract published last week. Mr. Belair's vote was copied on a sheet separate from the rest of the officers and in some way this was overlooked when the table was set up and his name did not have any figures following it. While Mr. Belair had no opposistion, nevertheless he received a flattering vote, and the omission of his vote from the table was entirely unintentional. The official figures on the vote for every officer may be found in today's Gazette.

Sam Allard will attend the meeting of the Supreme Lodge of Mordern Brotherhood of America, which convenes at Minneapolis the 12th, 13th and 14th of October, as one of the two representatives from this district, and is looking forward to a good time. The supreme lodge meeting will have representatives from twenty-one different states, and those who are planning on attending anticipate a successful gathering. This district is entitled to but two delegates, and the fact that Mr. Allard was chosen as one of the two is an indication that he has been an effective M. B. A worker, and the local lodge has reason to feel proud of the honor bestowed upon them.

Mrs. Georgiana Marchand entertained a party of lady friends at a "flower" tea Tuesday afternoon, and one of the enjoyable times of the season resulted. A "flower answer" contest was inagurated for the amusement of the guests, and Mrs. Theo. LaBissoniere proved to be the most skillful at solving the intricate problems presented and was awarded the prize. The repast was very elaborate and ample justice was accorded it by those present. The party proved to be one of the most enjoyable of the year, and the hostess was the recipient of much praise for the delightful manner in which she planned and executed the afternoon's entertainment.

The display windows of the Surprise store have attracted a great deal of favorable comment during the past week, on account of the highly artistic manner in which they have been decorated. Messrs. Berthon & Armstrong have had them both painted and decorated with beautiful molding, arranged in diamond and square panel effects, and in each has been placed a pretty "B & A" monogram The work was done by Artist Nick Heim, being planned by L. P Berthon and when decorated with the beautiful lines of goods handled by this popular firm, the windowa present an appearance seldom equalled outside of the stores of the larger cities.

Nearly three weeks have now elapsed since the opening of the schools and the several departments have now got settled in to good working form. The attendance in some of the departments is not as yet up to expectations, but it is hoped this objection will soon be overcome. A number of boys of school age are kept from school either through their own desire or by their parents who wish them to work. This should not be. Every boy or girl should avail himself or herself of the opportunity to obtain an education. The Red Lake Falls schools are among the very best in the state and free text books are furnished to the pupils, so there is no valid reason for any to remain away.

There is seldom a week passes when citizens who are engaged in business are not called upon to contribute something for charity's sake, remarks an exchange. It is always the business man who is called upon to shoulder the varied and gratituitous givings Some people seem to think that they who are in business can pick up dollars anywhere and ought to contribute liberally and willingly every time they are asked, As a rule dollars are no more plentiful with business people than with any other. Just remember they have troubles of their own. Beg your money for a while of the land owners and retired men who have plenty of money drawing interest. The business people would appreciate the change.

Crookston Journal: The final drive of the season north bound down the Red Lake river with Grand Forks as its destination, has been put into the the slip at the mills of the Grand Forks Lumber Company at that point and the season of activity upon the river is over for this year. Chef Swanson, who during the summer has come down the river from the Clearwater country upon three different drives and has cooked for nearly a thousand men at various times on the trips down the river, reached the city yesterday home going to Red Lake Falls from thd Forks and reports the progress of the drive from this city down stream as very satisfactory and the journey a short one when the condition and low stage of the water is considered. Swanson is one of the best river cooks in the country and is never out of a job. He is already making arrangements to go into the woods for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Con Kehoe returned yesterday from their month's absence at Flushing, Long Island, N. Y., where they visited the scenes of their younger days and enjoyed themselves looking over the principal interest points of the great East. It was their first visit back East for several years, and while they enjoyed the refreshing of the old home scenes and found many new and modern improvements to interest them, yet they both returned home convinced that there is no place like the West—especially Minnesota. While east Mrs. Kehoe's mother's estate was settled up and her share of the property amounted to $8,000, and she is receiving congratulations on her good fortune. Mr. and Mrs. Kehoe intend to remain in Red Lake Falls, as Con says that with all the advantages to be found in the East he can still have a better time in Red Lake Falls. Mr. Kehoe talks entertainingly of his trip, and his friends have had the pleasure of listening to a good description of that part of the country.

Dave, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paradis, had an experience last Friday evening that he probably won't want to repeat very soon and while the results were not serious, nevertheless he had a close call. He was driving his cow home and had tied the rope around his body and in a playful mood had got the cow to run in order that he might see how fast he could sprint, when a handy dog put in an appearance and made a dash at the cow. The increased momentum upset young Dave, with the result that the animal went galloping around several blocks dragging the unfortunate boy at the end of the rope. When finally stopped young Paradis was unconcious and had become nearly squeezed to death by the taut rope. Dr. Lemieux was called and on examination found that no bones were broken, and after remaining in bed a day or two Dave was out again as good as ever, although his face and body were badly scratched. He certainly had a close call and it seems miraculous that his life was not pounded out of his body by the terrible dragging he got.

A PASTOR'S WIFE CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY, recent Superintendent of the W. C. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peruna:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peruna. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.

"I would not be without Peruna for ten times its cost."--Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty.

What used to be called female diseases by the medical profession is now called pelvic catarrh. It has been found by experience that catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases of female diseases.

Dr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians to make this discovery. For forty years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and long ago he reached the conclusion that a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of these organs would not be subject to female disease. He therefore began using Peruna for these cases and found it so admirably adapted to their permanent cure that Peruna has now become the most famous remedy for female diseases ever known. Everywhere the women are using it and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

Mrs. Esther M. Milner, DeGraff, Ohio, writes:

"I was a terrible sufferer from female weakness and had the headache continuously. I was not able to do my housework for myself and husband. I wrote you and described my condition as near as possible. You recommended Peruna. I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."—Mrs. Esther M. Milner.

Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa., writes:

"I take pleasure in commending your Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrh remedy."— T. M. Mahon.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

ADA GETS A DRUBBING

Red Lake Falls High School Foot Ball Team Wins the First Game. —Some Fast Playing.

The first foot ball game of the season was played on the home grounds last Saturday between the Red Lake Falls and Ada high school elevens and the contest proved to be one of the most spirited and exciting games ever played here although the Red Lake Falls boys easily outclassed their heavier opponents and won without a great deal of effort.

Ada kicked off in the first half and after the Red Lake Falls man was down the plays were fast and furious, Red Lake Falls retaining possession of the ball and walking straight down the field with end runs and mass plays for a touchdown. Marshall kicked goal making the score at the end of the first three minutes of play 6 to 0 in favor of the home boys. After the next kick-off Red Lake Falls soon obtained the ball on downs and in a rush of fast end runs again got up to Ada's goal line, when Fullback Marshall went across for the second touchdown and Zaiser kicked the goal, making the score 12 to 0.

After a few changes back and forth following the next kick-off Harry Garceau was given the ball and by following the prettiest piece of interference ever put up by a high school eleven made a 40-yard run for a touchdown. From the fact that the ball was let out of the possession of the Red Lake Falls players back of the line, and could not be taken out, no goal was attempted, the score being 17 to 0 in Red Lake Falls' favor. Shortly after the next kick-off time was called in the first half.

The second half was devoid of sensational plays and on account of the train leaving so early was cut short a few moments. Neither side scored in this half, although Red Lake Falls would have done so had not a costly fumble lost her the ball. Ada was held for downs several times and could not make gains anywhere in the line or around the end and never was the goal line of the Red Lake Falls team in danger. The game was a clean one and the crowd was enthusiastic over the result.

The Red Lake Falls eleven will put up a good article of foot ball this fall and should be able to make a creditable showing against any high school team in the Valley. While light and composed of inexperienced men the team is made of the right sort of stuff and what it lacks in weight it more than makes up in speed. The playing of every one on the team was so good that individual mention would be an injustice to the others. The Red Lake Falls line-up was as follows: Zaiser, center; Toupin, left guard; Columbus, left tackle; Johnson, left end; Brunelle, right guard; Buse, right tackle; Garceau right end; Blake, left half back; Connerty, right half back; Marshshall, full back; Healy, quarter.

The line-up will be the same in the game with Warren Saturday and everyone should turn out and witness the contest, thereby encouraging the boys in their efforts to provide amusement for the public.

Postoffice Will Be Discontinued.

Postmaster O. T. Romsos, of Wylie, informs the Gazette that the postoffice in township of Bray, this county, will be discontinued on the 15th inst. by an order of the department, and that all the patrons of that office are requested to make arrangements for their mail accordingly. The rural delivery route recently established north from Wylie passes through the territory served by the Bray office, and by putting up mail boxes and notifying Postmaster Romsos at Wylie, the people of Bray can be served by the rural route. The daily delivery of mail is proving satisfactory to the people along the route, and it is likely that more routes will be asked for.

WILL BUILD A SPUR

Great Northern Has Purchased Right-of-Way to Connect With the Northern Pacific Line to Tilden.

As announced last week, the Great Northern will build their line so as to get out of Red Lake Falls on the south and as all the material is on the ground and the contract let to Guthrie & Co., it is expected that active operations will be commenced this week.

The line will be built to connect with the Northern Pacific and from the depot will be laid out through the cut and swing around the eastern part of "Little Canada" thence running in a southwesterly direction across the farms of J. A. Duffy and Fred Behn and connecting with the N. P. on the Heyl place, a mile south of the N. P. depot. It is stated that a large trestle will be built in the cut back of Main street to make the track safe from the "slide."

Several cars of "dump carts" and ties are already here and the large steam shovel will be brought back to do the cut work. It is thought that the work will require about six weeks to complete and in railroad circles it is stated that the trains will be running on the new schedule before the freeze-up.

Just what the Great Northern expects to do with the branch from Crookston to St. Hilaire is not yet known, but it is thought that this line will eventually be torn up.

The connecting of the G. N. and N. P. will mean considerable to Red Lake Falls and will practically give us main line service, especially when the Great Northern gets through to the Canadian border.

TERREBONNE CHURCH FAIR.

Good Time Planned for the 16th and 17th Inst.

The fair and bazar of the Terrebonne Catholic church will be held at that place on Sunday and Monday, October 16 and 17, and the Rev. Father Tapin informs The Gazette that plans for one of the most successful fairs in the history of the church are well toward completion. Many articles will be offered for sale, raffled and given away by contest, which will furnish amusement for the people, and dinner and supper will be served both days. A cordial invitation is extended to the people of Red Lake county, by the Terrebonne congregation, and the attendance promises to be large.

Chairman Watson, of the Central Committee, Announces Several Speakers for Next Week.

Chairman Watson, of the Republican county central committee, is arranging for speakers with the state central committee this week, and indications are that several able spell-binders will expound Republicanism from Red Lake county platforms during the present month.

So far he has arranged for three speakers, and these will be used at several different points. Thursday evening next Col. J. Ham Davidson, of Illinois, and Hon. A. D. Smith, of Minneapolis, will speak at Thief River Falls, Friday evening they will be at St. Hilaire, and Saturday evening at Red Lake Falls. The meeting in Red Lake Falls will also be addressed by Dr. Goillardet, of Chicago, a fluent French speaker. Mr. Goillardet will also speak at Lambert Sunday, the 16th, at noon, and at Terrebonne the same evening. He is said to be one of the finest talkers that has ever been heard in Minnesota, and the French speaking people should make it a point to attend one of these meetings and hear him. Chairman Watson says that a special invitation is extended to the Republican candidates to attend all of these meetings.

Senator Clapp and Congressman Steenerson have both been promised for Red Lake county later in the season, which will give us plenty of "talkfest" artists.

Every Republican speaker in the state of any great prominence has been called to the front to work for the party elsewhere, it being a foregone conclusion that Minnesota would be there "with the goods" to the tune of 100,000 majority for Roosevelt, and county campaign managers are finding it decidedly hard to secure good talkers. The situation may clear somewhat, however, so that some of the old stand bys can be liberated, and it is safe to predict that if there are any of the "big guns" of the party to be had, Chairman Watson will land them.

Bank Buys Bonds.

At the meeting of the county commissioners here last Friday, $6,000 ditch bonds were disposed of, the First State Bank of this city, being the successful bidders. Their bid was to take the bond issue at 5½ per cent., ten year bonds, and they paid a premium of $105 for the bonds. This bid amounted to something like $300 lower than any of the others, and the First State Bank is to be congratulated on its enterprise.

Obeyed Instructions.

Courtney is having his annual experience with freshmen candidates for the crews. When he gives an order to a new man the new man usually obeys literally, such is the respect with which the coach is treated. This came near ruining a shell. Courtney had sent out an eight with a freshman coxswain, and, being obliged to look after another crew for a few minutes, he said to "cocks:"

"Try not to steer in a circle for a change. See that red spot down on the bank there? Well, steer straight for that." With which he turned to his other charges.

A howl from some of the oarsmen turned him around in time to see "cocks" trying to tunnel into the inlet bank with the prow of his shell.

"I thought I told you to steer straight for that red spot," remarked Courtney sarcastically when he came up in the launch.

"I—I did," gasped the cockswain. Courtney looked at the boat and then looked at the red spot. Just then the spot tossed up its horns and moved to better grazing ground. It was a red cow, and the freshman had been zealously swerving his boat around as the cow had moved up and down the pasture.—Philadelphia Ledger.

CAUSES SOME WORRY

RUSSIANS UNABLE TO LOCATE JAPANESE FORCE UNDER GENERAL KUROKI.

Believed to Have Evaded Kuropatkin's Scouts and Slipped Around the Russian Left—Japanese Occupy Da Pass, the Enemy Retiring From the Position After Slight Resistance. Severe Fighting at Port Arthur.

Mukden, Oct. 4.—Rumors that General Kuroki has evaded General Rennenkampff and slipped around the Russian left alarm army officers here and tend to disconcert General Kuropatkin's pivotal move to swing his left north and his right south. General Rennenkampff, at the head of his own Cossacks and another strong detachment, has been responsible for Kuroki's whereabouts for several days, but in forty-eight hours has not been able to trace the Japanese right.

When Rennenkampff left Penslhu after his famous raid Marshal Oyama's three armies on the right, under General Kuroki, were forcing on Bentsianputze from Sienchan and two other points. Scouting parties from the Cossack general's column in the past two days reported the Japanese were not in any of the three positions occupied by the enemy recently and that the brigades stationed in and about Bentsianputze were those of Kuroki's rear instead of his vanguard. Those reports led to the belief that Kuroki has crossed the Hun at least forty miles east of Mukden and is inclining toward the Peninsular railway from northeast of this place.

JAPS TAKE DA PASS

CAPTURE STRATEGIC POSITION FORTY-FIVE MILES SOUTHEAST OF MUKDEN.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—News has been received here from Mukden to the effect that the Japanese have at last begun the offensive. They have captured Da pass and are pressing on General Kuropatkin's left flank. The war office is unable to confirm this officially because Kuropatkin's dispatches are following the emperor, but the Associated Press is informed by the general staff that all indications point to the news being correct. It is believed the Russians abandoned Da pass without serious resistance. Several other passes of the Da range, eastward of Bentsiaputze (twenty-five miles southeast of Mukden), are also in the hands of the Japanese.

Kuropatkin is evidently drawing in his forces to the less mountainous country northwestward, where he may decide to give battle. In the meanwhile sharp fighting is regarded as imminent southeast of Mukden, whence the Japanese are expected to deliver their main attack, the flank movement from the west being of secondary importance.

JAPS ADVANCE RAPIDLY.

Compel General Samsonoff's Force to Fall Back.

Mukden, Oct. 3.—Couriers from General Samsonoff's field headquarters bring information of a sudden retreat on the part of General Samsonoff in the face of a rapid forward movement on the part of General Oku's entire army and the abrupt resumption of the offensive by Field Marshal Oyama's left, made Sunday morning.

Instead of advancing with their customary caution the Japanese rushed in with an abandon born of recklessness or extreme confidence. General Oku attacked General Samsonoff's cavalry with his infantry and dragoons and in less than twenty minutes the entire Russian front was raked by a heavy cross fire. Several Cossack horse batteries were dismantled before they could be swung into action.

EMERGENCY ORDINANCE.

Japan Extends Service of Second Reservists to Ten Years.

Tokio, Sept. 29.—The emergency ordinance amending the army conscription law was gazetted during the day. It extends the service of the second reservists from five to ten years and abolishes the distinction between the first and second reserve conscripts. Reservists will be retired at the age of thirty-seven.

A contemplated increase in the army involves a new scheme of divisional organization, the plan of which has not yet been disclosed.

At the foreign office it was stated that the new conscription regulations will augment the available Japanese fighting force by about 200,000.

SEVERE FIGHTING OCCURS.

Russians Try to Recapture Forts From the Japs.

Chefoo, Oct. 3.—Severe fighting, the Russians being the aggressors, occurred Sept. 28 and 29 on the west shore of Liaoti promontory near Pigeon bay, according to a report brought by Chinese who left Port Arthur Sept. 30. The Russians already apparently are attempting to capture the heavy guns which the Japanese have mounted in that vicinity. The Russians were in considerable force and they made several sorties, dragging field artillery with them. They were unsuccessful, however.

RUSSIAN STEAMER SUNK.

Destroyed While Trying to Clear Port Arthur Harbor.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—The navy department reports the destruction of another Russian steamer used in clearing mines at the entrance of Port Arthur harbor. The steamer struck a mine Sept. 20 and sank.

PAYNE SLOWLY DYING.

Postmaster General Not Expected to Survive Present Illness.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Postmaster General Payne is now weaker than at any previous stage of his illness, save during the worst of his sinking spells, and his death, it is said, may occur at any minute. The most powerful stimulants, in greater doses than ever, are being administered to him at frequent intervals and it is due to them alone, it is stated, if he survive the night. Without them, it is said, he could not live more than a few hours. His pulse at times Monday was hardly perceptible. There was a severe sinking spell at noon and another shortly after 4 in the afternoon that lasted half an hour. During the succeeding hours the sick man gained a little rest, though he could not sleep long at a time. At 9:30 p. m. Dr. Magruder issued a bulletin saying that Mr. Payne continued to respond well to the remedies administered and there was a slight improvement.

Shortly after midnight the family of Mr. Payne was summoned to his bedside, as the end seemed imminent, but the patient rallied and the stimulents administered earlier in the night took effect and warded off the inevitable for a time.

SENATOR HOAR DEAD

MASSACHUSETTS STATESMAN EXPIRES PEACEFULLY AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 30.—George Frisbie Hoar, senior United States senator from Massachusetts, died at his home at 1:35 o'clock Friday morning. Death followed a period of unconsciousness that had continued since early Tuesday and came so peacefully that only the attending physicians were aware of the exact moment of dissolution.

Senator Hoar had been in ill health since last winter, and even when attending the sessions of the senate he was obliged to exercise extreme care lest his exertions should overcome him. At that time he was troubled with lumbago, and the death of his wife in Washington proved such a blow that he never recovered entirely from its effects.

Previous to Aug. 17, reports of his illness were treated lightly by his family and his immediate friends, but on that day he had a sinking turn caused by the weak action of the heart. On Sept. 25 it was announced that he was failing rapidly and he lapsed at times into unconsciousness. From that time until his death he was unable to take nourishment, but his constitution enabled him to resist death for such a length of time that even his physician was surprised.

Senator Hoar was seventy-eight years of age and had been a member of the upper house of congress since 1877.

ACTION IN GURNEY CASE.

Judgment Vacated and Fines Imposed Remitted.

Boston, Sept. 30.—After allowing time for the communications in the Phelps-Gurney case to reach Washington Governor Bates has made public various letters bearing on the subject. The governor informed the state department that the judgment against Third Secretary Gurney of the British embassy has been vacated and the fines imposed remitted. He says that Judge Phelps had expressed regret to the secretary by letter, a copy of which he forwards, together with a statement by Judge Phelps. Governor Bates suggests that the attention of the British ambassador be called to the breach of the laws of Massachusetts under the belief that the ambassador will take such action as the case may demand.

LAST OF THE OLD SCHOOL.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt Dies in England.

London, Oct. 3.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt, "the finest political gladiator of his age," died very suddenly during the day at Naneham Park, near Oxford, the country seat which he recently inherited from his nephew. Only his wife, a daughter of the late John Lothrop Motley, the historian and former American minister to Great Britain, was with him. When Sir William retired the previous night he seemed fairly well, though he had been suffering from a slight chill. In the morning when he was called he replied cheerily: "In a short time." Later a servant entered the room and found Sir William lying dead on his bed.

THE CREW PERISHED.

Norwegian Bark Sunk Off the Coast of Norway.

Fredrickstad, Norway, Oct. 3.—The Norwegian bark Sir John Lawrence, from London, struck on sunken rocks outside this harbor and has broken up. The crew were drowned.

The Sir John Lawrence carried a crew of fourteen men. Apprehensions are felt that further disasters may be reported as a result of the gale which swept over these waters on Saturday evening.

TWO EMPLOYES KILLED.

Explosion Occurs in Powder Mill at Peckville, Pa.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 3.—The corning mill of the Dupont Powder company near Peckville blew up and instantly killed Richard Halsey and Walter Allworth, two employes. Other buildings nearby were set on fire and the flames are still burning fiercely. There is danger that the fire will be communicated to the magazine, where a large quantity of powder is stored.

HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS.

Russian Village of Glousk Wiped Out by Fire.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 4.—The village of Glousk, in Southern Russia, has been wiped out by fire. Five hundred families are without shelter or food and an appeal has been made to St. Petersburg for immediate help.

DEATH LIST IS LARGE

TWELVE PERSONS LOSE THEIR LIVES IN A FLOOD AT WATROUS, NEW MEXICO.

Half a Dozen Bridges Are Washed Out and Damage to Property Is Immense—Flood in the Las Animas River Causes a Loss of One Million Dollars at Trinidad, Colo., and the Immediate Vicinity.

Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 3.—Half of Watrous has been destroyed by a flood and at least twelve persons were drowned. Among these were the children of J. E. Stevens, F. X. Villeriat, his wife, two sisters and several children and O. F. Porter. J. E. Stevens and his wife escaped. They are in a critical condition. Many persons were rescued from trees and house tops. The greatest damage was around the junction of Mora and Capello creeks. A rock crusher, an iron bridge and much track at Watrous were washed away.

The Gallinas river formed a new channel at Las Vegas. In the Gallinas canyon, the dam of Acqua Pura creek broke, sending down a flood. Half a dozen bridges were destroyed and the Montezuma bath houses were partly carried away. For two blocks on Bridge street every business house was flooded. The big Ilfeld brick store was ruined and the big bridge undermined. Gallinas park is under water and the trolley line cannot be repaired for two weeks. One hundred thousand dollars will not cover the loss to the town, and the railroad loss is equally great.

HEAVY FLOOD DAMAGE.

Property Loss at Trinidad, Colo., Aggregates $1,000,000.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 1.—Although reports continue to be circulated that several families have been missing since the flood swept through the city no bodies have been recovered and the police officials announce that they have no reason to believe there was any loss of life.

The property loss will approximate nearly $1,000,000. The damage to the Colorado and Wyoming railroad is fully $75,000, in addition to the weakening of the $50,000 bridge at Sopris, which may fall. One thousand feet of Santa Fe track is in the river at Jansen and the bridge at Starkville is gone. The Colorado and Southern roadbed in Riley canon is wrecked, twenty-four bridges and 10,000 ties having been washed away.

SEVEN UNDER INDICTMENT.

Buffalo Aldermen and Ex-Aldermen Charged With Grafting.

Buffalo, Sept. 29.—As the result of District Attorney Coatsworth's investigation of charges of alleged "grafting" on the part of city officials three present aldermen and four former aldermen have been indicted. All the indicted men were arraigned in court and pleaded not guilty. Bail was fixed at $1,500 each and was furnished by all.

The indictments resulted from an investigation instituted several weeks ago by a committee of the board of councilmen into allegations of bribery in connection with the building of certain sewers.

FOUR MEN ARE KILLED.

Two Others May Die From Injuries Received in a Mine.

Cartersville, Ga., Oct. 4.—By the falling of earth and ore estimated at 6,000 tons weight, the lives of four men were snuffed out here Monday. Two other are seriously injured and are expected to die.

The dead are R. P. Morgan, president and manager of the Morgan Mining company, Cartersville; Jack Harris, Jr., white; Robert Boynton, negro, and an unknown negro.

The cause of the disaster is what is known by miners as a "slick head." A heavy strata of oil lay above a mass of clay and the latter gave way.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Two Men Killed and Seven Others Badly Injured.

Counterville, Ill., Oct. 4.—Two men were killed and seven seriously injured as the result of a boiler explosion in the Schubert sawmill, three miles east of town, Monday. The dead are Ames Schubart and Walter Schumacher.

The boiler exploded just before the men got through work, the force of the explosion wrecking the mill building. One of the proprietors, who was sitting in the office, was instantly killed.

FREIGHTS IN COLLISION.

Four Trainmen Killed and Another Fatally Hurt.

Eastwood, Ont., Sept. 29.—An eastbound freight train on the Grand Trunk railway crashed into another freight train near here during the day. A number of cars were demolished and Engineers Kirkland and Heron, Conductor Falls and Brakeman Benedict were killed and Fireman Cameron was so badly scalded that his life is despaired of.

An open switch is said to have been the cause of the accident.

FIVE PERSONS KILLED.

Insane Man Shoots Right and Left at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 3.—Four men and a negro woman have been killed at O'Brien's landing by Charles Geltrell of Memphis, who, it is said, was mad from fever. He rushed from bed into the street in his night robe, shooting right and left. He later escaped into the woods.

Four Miners Drowned.

Monongahela, Pa., Oct. 3.—While crossing the Monongahela river in a skiff four miners were run down by the steamer Bertha and drowned.

Good Bread

How good good bread tastes—so good one could almost make a meal of it. You know the flavor—the wheaty flavor, sweet as a nut. Do you know the secret? It's in the yeast. Good yeast—good bread. Poor yeast—poor bread—and indigestion.

The home-made bread of the American housewife leads the world. The secret of it is found in

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE VOTERS.

I am a candidate for the office of Judge of Probate on the Republican ticket, and respectfully solicit the support of the people of Red Lake county at the general election on Nov. 8, 1904. If elected I assure the public that I will carefully attend the duties of the office, and conduct it to the best of my ability.

NELS K. ANDERSON,
Sanders, Minn.

"He is just the ideal man for governor," says Senator Nelson, in speaking of the Republican candidate, Robert C. Dunn. The full text of Senator Nelson's speech and the speeches of several other Republicans will be found in the supplement in today's Gazette.

J. K. Wood, the candidate of the Republicans for Surveyor, is said to be a competent fellow and will make a good successor to the popular "Bill" Smiley, who has left the county. Mr. Wood held the office of surveyor of Marshall county for several years, and always gave excellent satisfaction.

The official count of the ballots at St. Hilaire disclosed the fact that Representative Simons carried that village by one vote instead of losing it by one. Mr. Simons' candidacy was used in St. Hilaire's factional fight, which made the result as close as it was, but the vote shows that the old-timers have got the other fellows on the run.

Paul I. D. Ostby, of Emardville, Republican candidate for auditor, is a popular young fellow in his home town, and is expected to make a credible showing at the polls in November. He came here from Freeborn county several years ago and since that time has farmed successfully in Emardville township. His Republicanism is unquestioned and he is laboring for the success of the ticket.

The people of Red Lake county have every reason in the world to vote for Bob Dunn for governor this fall, and that they will do so is a foregone conclusion. In his conduct as State Auditor, Bob Dunn made many friends and admirers by this friendliness to the farmer and laborer, and now that they have a chance to vote for him for the highest office in the state, they should take more than ordinary pride in seeing that their friends cast their ballots for Honest Bob Dunn.

The Thief River Review repudiates Daniel Shaw, the Republican nominee, and will lend its influence (?) to the independent candidate for commissioner of the Fourth district. For a fellow who posed before a gathering of Republicans as the only simon-pure Republican in the bunch, and who occupies the position (by a mistake) of secretary of the county committee, McDonald is surely making a sorry spectacle of himself. But "'tis an ill wind that blows no good," and friend Shaw is deserving of congratulations.

Senator George F. Hoar, of Massachusetts, died at his home at Worcester last Friday after a lingering illness. Few men in the United States have been before the public as long as Senator Hoar and his career has been brilliant and of great benefit to his home state. Always a staunch Republican, he has held positions of trust and honor in the upper house of the National congress, and in attending to them he has ever done what he thought was best for the good of his country. In the passing of Senator Hoar, the nation looses an able statesman. May his soul rest in peace.

K. J. Weeks, the Republican candidate for Register of Deeds, is after the votes these days and from the gait he is going at present his friends expect to see him land in court house with a nice majority. Mr. Weeks is a clean-cut, hard-working gentleman and would make a careful and capable officer. He is being loyally supported in his home town and his vote in the country districts will be large. In all his business dealings at Thief River Falls Mr. Weeks has been found straightforward and energetic and from the fact that he has held important positions of trust adds to his popularity at home. He will add strength to the ticket and if chosen by the people will not be found wanting.

For County Attorney of Red Lake county, Thomas Germo, who made so close a race two years ago, is the Republican nominee and is making a fast and furious campaign. Tom has so many good qaulities, and is such an exemplary young man, that there can be no question as to his deserving the united support of his party and if elected will give excellent satisfaction as prosecuting attorney. Mr. Germo enjoys a large legal practice and is a hard worker and careful adviser. His Republicanism is of the kind that makes friends for the party and in several campaigns he has taken the stump and labored for the interests of the ticket. He is well and favorably known in every precinct in the county and there is no question but what his vote will be heavy on November 8.

Mrs. J. J. Doe is one of the Republican nominees who will be given a flattering endorsement at the polls in November and will make a record as superintendent of schools that the people will have reason to be pleased at. Mrs. Doe's life work has been given over to that line and she is in every way qualified to look carefully and efficiently after the duties of the office. In the recent primaries she demonstrated her ability as a campaigner and it is safe to presume that her showing will be something extraordinary after the votes are counted in the fall. Mrs. Doe is a competent lady and the Gazette believes she will attend to the wants of the Red Lake county schools for several years to come.

The Thief River News states yesterday that from the fact that Marcus Johnson is on the state central committee Red Lake county Republicans will be furnished with a large campaign fund from the state committee. This is a rank injustice to the officers of the local committee, and Eastman should have investigated the matter before making such a statement. The Gazette knows positively that up to date not one cent of money has been sent to Red Lake county for campaign expenses, and while there may later be a small amount, the money that comes here this year will not be sufficient to make any one envious. The local candidates have all contributed to a fund which will be used to bear the expenses of the campaign, but Eastman made a poor guess when he stated that the state committee would furnish any great amount.

STAND BY THE HOME MAN.

For the first time in its history Red Lake county has been accorded a place on the state ticket of one of the great parties, and while there is no doubt that Minnesota will go overwhelmingly Republican at the coming election, it is but fit and proper that the voters of the county should show their appreciation and good will towards one of its citizens by casting their votes for John E. King, Democratic candidate for secretary of state. If, as seems extremely improbable, he should be elected, the victory would be of greater material benefit to Red Lake county than any mere partisan advantage could give. In the matter of state drainage and the varied interests in which northern Minnesota and particularly Red Lake county is interested there would be "a friend at court" who could be of unusual assistance.

The office of secretary of state is purely clerical. The occupant is in no position to inaugerate party policies or to perform any act that would jeopardise or embarrass the dominant party. Purely as a matter of local pride the people of Red Lake county ought to stand by their home man and give him practically the unanimous vote of his home county. It will reflect credit upon the county, and honor a deserving citizen.

The Gazette fails to see where the Thief River Falls News can lay claim to being a Republican paper, as in its every issue it is attempting to injure the chances of the Republican candidate for Governor. With all respect for the pre-convention preference of Mr. Eastman, we would like to ask him how long he thinks party organization or success would be a possibility if every one pursued the same methods as he is at present pursuing? Individuals are entitled to the preference of candidates up to the time a convention assembled chooses the man the party wants, but unless they can abide by the decision of the majority they should quit claiming to belong to the party, and come out openly for the opposition. Had Judge Collins been the Republican nominee in June, Mr. Eastman would have been one of the first to cry against the very methods he is pursuing, and The Gazette candidly believes he is making a serious mistake in his present actions.

Nels K. Anderson, of Sanders township, Republican candidate for Judge of Probate, is making his canvass on his merits and from now until election will put in his time interviewing the voters. Mr. Anderson is an old-timer in Red Lake country, having lived in Sanders township for the past 23 years. He has held many positions of trust at the hands of his neighbors and has always filled them in a manner creditable to himself and the people of his home town. He has been town clerk since the organization of the town, with the exception of two years when he was president of the board, is now president of the Bray Mutual Fire Insurance company, which has been found such a friend to Red Lake county farmers, is a director of the St. Hilaire creamery and one of the trustees of the Scandinavian Lutheran church at Thief River Falls. Mr. Anderson has always been a staunch Republican and his labors in the interests of the party have been productive of much good.

Volume 1, Number 1 of the Plummer Pioneer is at hand and marks the epoch of the advertising to the world a new bidder for the favors of the investor and seeker after homes—Red Lake county's new Soo town of Plummer. The Pioneer is edited and published by Chas. T. Latta, formerly city editor of the St. Hilaire spectator, and if Charley intends to keep up the pace he sets at the jump-off the rest of us will have to do some hustling to keep from being outclassed by Red Lake county's latest addition to the newspaper field. The paper is a six-column folio, two pages of which Charley prints at home, and the abundance of good reading matter and neat ads testify that the Plummer people are offering him every encouragement. Here's our best wishes, Charley, and may you guide the destines of the Pioneer so successfully that you will some day be a model of the rotund and symmetrical figure of your former "boss," of Spectator fame.

SALE IS SUCCESSFUL.

Reservation Lands Being Disposed of at Crookston.

Crookston Journal: Yesterday's session of the land sale which the government is holding at the city hall for the purpose of disposing of all of the remaining lands on the reservation tract opened according to the provisions of the Steenerson bill was very nearly as successful as the opening day and the entire number of pieces of land disposed of totaled thirty-six, but two less than that of the first day of the sale. The total amount received yesterday was considerably below that of the first day, being only $5,000, whereas upon the first day of the sale over $6,000 was taken in. The manner in which the crowds are bidding upon the land is very saisfactory to the officials and they expect a continuance of the good records for several days yet as a large number of prospective homesteaders who have selected lands which have not yet been called off are in the city waiting the time when their oppertunity shall arrive for bidding. Colonel O'Brien, who is a pioneer of the west, having been a resident of Wyoming and Colorado since '66, is making many friends in the city and his interesting fund of pioneer stories and frontier days when he commanded a regiment of United States soldiers detailed to fight the Indians, have amused and thrilled large numbers of Crookstonites on various occasions since his arrival here.

IN THE PEOPLES' INTEREST.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson Busy at Washington.

An early week dispatch from Washington to the Pioneer Press says: "Congressman Steenerson is putting in active work around the departments on matters of interest to his constituents. He today had a pleasant chat with President Roosevelt in regard to the political situation and assured the president that Minnesota would be in the republican column. The president smiled and remarked that he felt confident of it.

Mr. Steenerson spent some time at the general land office, trying to secure a decision regarding the allotment of the missing sections 16 and 36 of the ceded Chippewa lands withheld from the state, notwithstanding the claim of Minnesota to these sections as school lands. Part of these lands have been opened, but owing to the controversy over the question as to what are agricultural and what are pine lands, due to the change in the system, by the Morris act, a large part of about 75,000 acres has been withheld from entry.

"Mr. Steenerson expects a decision on this question in a day or two.

"The representative also talked with the commissioner of Indian affairs regarding allotments to the Mississippi and Otter Tail bands of Chippewas. The arrangements for the allotments of the Mississippi bands were held up on account of claims of the Otter Tails for similar rights.

"Mr. Steenerson is also interested in a number of postal matters in his district, due to the development of towns along the new Soo road in Norman county. A new postoffice is wanted at Manomin, and a controversy has arisen regarding the changing of the name of the postoffice at Plummer to Scotland. The department declines to make the change on account of a similar name in Mississippi.

"Mr. Steenerson will take up the matter with the Soo road and will endeavor to reach an agreement regarding the name to be selected."

Democratic Speechmaking.

The local Democratic committee give out that at least three prominent state Democrats will visit Red Lake county this fall to attempt to get the people to vote their ticket. They are the Hon. John A. Johnson, candidate for Governor, who will likely speak at St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls; Congressman John Lind, who will speak here and at one other point, and Dan W. Lawler, who has finally crawled back onto the Democratic band-wagon and who will tell (without question) the people of Thief River Falls how it seems to be a "man without a party." Red Lake county will be one of the fighting grounds of the Democrats on state issues this fall—but their efforts will be in vain.

Partridges are said to be more numerous in this section this year than for a number of years past and the hunters are waiting anxiously for the 15th of the month. Last Sunday morning two fine specimens were found on the walk in front of the brick block, they having been killed by flying against the wires or the buildings during the night. Nearly every morning for the past week a dead partridge has been found on Main street which shows that they are very numerous and are undoubtedly attracted by the lights in their night flight. Fried partraidge makes a morsel to tempt the palate and the fellows who usually hunt them in the fall are already toying with the rifle triggers to get into practice.

Extra shipments of Ladies' Cloaks are received at Garceau & Zaiser's. Ask to see their leader at $5.00 which is well worth $9.50.

The "Imperial" petticoat has won a good reputation for its fit, hang and wearing quality; also for that new adjustadle belt. An immense variety for $4,00 down to 95c.

T. G. Brunelle this week finished a handsome set of heavy harness for Leon Laurent that for beauty and substantiability is hard to equal. The harness is silver-mounted throughout and is certainly a great piece of work.

Berthon & Armstrong have an interesting overcoat talk in their advertising space this week, and the reader who anticipates the purchase of one of these necessary comforts will do well to heed the advice given them by Jim and Paul.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church on "The Soul's Experience of God." Rev. Conrad Nauman, of Spokane, Washington, has been invited to preach in the evening. A choir of young people will sing in the evening. Solo by Miss Iza Tibbetts in the evening.

Flushing, L. I., Journal: Cornelius Kehoe, formerly of Flushing, but now of Red Lake Falls is spending several days in town. Mr. Kehoe was a well known ball player while he lived in Flushing and played on the "Monkey Hill" team. When seen this Tuesday by a Journal reporter, he said: "It is twenty-three years since I left Flushing and during that time it has changed wonderfully. When I was here Bridge street was the most beautiful part of Flushing, but now it is in my opinion far from that. When I left Flushing it was almost a wilder ness. Back of Main street depot there was a large nursery which ran back to where Franklin Place now is." Mr. Kehoe expects to stay in town until Saturday.

Life Scholarship at the Crookston College for $50.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Germo were visitors at Terrebonne last Sunday afternoon.

The Crookston College secures good positions for all its graduates. Send for catalog.

Garceau and Zaiser are offering this week an excellent quality of velveteen, 23 in. wide, for 42c.

Warren and Red Lake Falls will meet in a gridiron contest here Saturday. Better plan to attend.

Mrs. R. H. Duntley was down from St. Hilaire Tuesday, visiting with friends and attending to business matters.

The Banner waist has won its fame for good fit and nobby up-to-date styles. Garceau & Zaiser have them in all styles from $7.00 down to 50c.

FOR SALE—The northwest quarter of section 28-151-44. Price $26 per acre, For particulars address H. S. Williams, 922 N 26 street, Omaha, Nebraska. tf

Henry Enderle, a prominent young St. Hilairite, was here last Saturday to attend the Ada-Red Lake Falls foot ball game. Mr. Enderle will soon go to Plummer to take charge of Julius Pleth's new bank, as cashier.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will hold a business meeting at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 12 at 3 o'clock. Important business will come before this meeting and all members are requested to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lynch were in from Equality township last Friday and Saturday, doing some shopping and attending to other business matters. Mr. Lynch enjoyed the distinction of being the only Democrat that voted in Equality township at the recent primaries, and he said that he felt lonesome, but wouldn't vote the other way on that account.

L. Philion and daughter, Olive, arrived here Tuesday from Chicago, and the balance of the family will arrive in a few days when they will again take up their residence in Red Lake Falls. This family left here last spring with the intention of making their future home in Chicago, but they found that there was no place that equalled Minnesota or Red Lake Falls as a place of abode, and decided to return here again. Miss Olive has resumed her place as bookkeeper at LaBissoniere's. Red Lake Falls people will be pleased to welcome them back here again.

FARMERS ATTENTION!

NOTICE.

To W. E. Brown:

You are Hereby Notified that a default has occurred in that certain contract made and entered into on the 11th day of October, 1900, between Arthur D. Warner and Earle F. Andrus and W. G. Purdy, Trustee for The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company, for the sale to said Warner and Andrus by said W. G. Purdy, Trustee, of the following described property, to-wit: The Southeast quarter of Southeast quarter (SE¼ of SE¼) of Section Nineteen (19) in Township One-hundred and fifty (150) North, of Range Forty-three (43), West of the Fifth Principal Meridan, which said contract was on February 10th, 1903, assigned to you by said Warner and Andrus and their wives.

Such default consists in your failure to pay as the same became due under the terms of said contract, that certain installment or amount of money, to-wit: Twenty-five and 50/100 Dollars ($25.50) principal due from and payable by you on the 1st day of November, 1903, with interest as provided in the above mentioned contract; and the further failure to pay at the office of the Treasurer of Red Lake county the taxes on the above described land for the year 1903.

You are further notified that Robert Mather and George H. Crosby have succeeded R. R. Cable and W. G. Purdy as Trustees for The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company, and that notices of these changes in Trusteeship are recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Red Lake county.

You are further notified that the said contract will be cancelled and terminated, and that said cancellation and termination will take effect on the 18th day of November 1904.

Dated at St. Paul this 13th day of September, 1904.

ROBERT MATHER AND GEORGE H. CROSBY, Trustees for The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Ry. Co., owners.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Adam Zeh and Gertrude Zeh, his wife, Mortgagors, to G. Vandertuuk, Mortgagee, bearing date the first day of July, 1902, and with power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Red Lake and state of Minnesota, on the 11th day of July 1902, at 3:30 o'clock p. m., in Book 19 of Mortgages on page 88, and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof.

And whereas, said Mortgage contains a clause providing that if any installment of the debt secured thereby is not paid when due, that the whole sum secured thereby shall become due and payable at once: and whereas, by reason of said clause there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice the sum of $61.14; and whereas, said Mortgage contains a clause providing that if the party of the first part shall fail to make payment of interest due upon a certain prior Mortgage upon the land described in said Mortgage, that then the party of the second part may pay such interest and have a lien therefor upon said premises under this Mortgage; and whereas, pursuant to said clause, and the party of the first part having made default in the payment thereof, party of the second part has paid such interest, amounting, with interest, to the sum of $136.17, making the total amount due under the terms of the said Mortgage $197.31.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

The east half of the southwest quarter and the north half of the southeast quarter of section thirty in township one hundred fifty-one of range forty-two, in Red Lake county and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances: which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Red Lake county at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Red Lake Falls in said county and State, on the Fourth day of November, 1904, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt amounting to $197.31, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five dollars Attorney's fees, as provided in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law: subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated at Red Lake Falls, Minn., September 22nd, 1904.

G. VANDERTUUK,
Mortgagee.

TELLS STORY OF GRAFT.

Member of St. Louis Boodle Combine Confesses.

St. Louis, Oct. 4.—In a written confession Charles F. Kelly, speaker of the house of delegates during a period in the life of the boodle combine, relates his story of that combine. He declares that a certain prominent local politician, promised himself and others implicated that the new circuit attorney would be "all right" and promised if they would remain firm he would secure for them either continuances until the new circuit attorney took office or pardons afterward.

He says the politician said the new circuit attorney, for which office nominations are to be made by the Democrats shortly, would be "his man."

Kelly declares he refused this offer and that he makes this confession to satisfy the pangs of an accusing conscience, to obey the requests of his wife and to do what he can to make atonement to the public and prevent other young men from following the path which, he declares, has led him to ruin.

In the course of his confession Kelly details the story of the city lighting deal and of a boodle fund of $47,500, divided between the nineteen members of the combine at Julius Lehmann's birthday party.

He asserts the person above referred to gave him the boodle fund and that he took it to Lehmann's house and that he there divided it.

Kelly said the grafting was systematic and had been carried on for twenty-five years. He said the grafters had threatened Circuit Attorney Folk with assassination unless he desisted from his efforts to convict them, but without avail.

WISCONSIN COURT ADJOURNS.

Will Not Act Upon La Follette Case Before Oct. 18.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 1.—The supreme court adjourned until Oct. 18 without taking action on the La Follette case.

The failure of the supreme court to take action in the case renders it imperative that a decision be handed down either on Oct. 18, the date to which the adjournment was taken, or the day following.

Under the statutes of Wisconsin the secretary of state is bound to certify to the various county clerks the names of the nominees in not more than twenty days and not less than fourteen days prior to the election, which this year comes on Nov. 8. There is no restraining order in effect at the present time against the secretary of state and unless the court should decide the case by Oct. 18 Secretary of State Houser will be free to certify to the county clerks the names of the La Follette candidates, of which he himself is one.

UPRISING IN MOROCCO.

Governor of Arzilla and Many Townspeople Killed.

Tangier, Morocco, Sept. 30.—The governor of Arzilla, who was the father-in-law of the former war minister, El Menehhi, has been murdered at Arzilla by people of the surrounding tribes. The murder was committed out of revenge for the action of the governor in imprisoning members of the tribes. The murderers released the prisoners at Arzilla and killed many of the townspeople.

Great alarm prevails at Arzilla and the authorities there have appealed to Mohammed El Torres, the representative at Tangier of the sultan, to send them assistance.

NEWS IN MINNESOTA

EVENTS OF THE WEEK THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

Rev. Charles Holmes, for thirteen years rector of the Ascension Episcopal church, St. Paul, is dead.

The home of Charles S. Pillsbury at Minneapolis was robbed of $1,000 in jewelry while the family was at dinner.

Fire at Long Prairie Friday destroyed the postoffice and all the mail, as well as other property, valued in all at $15,000.

Charles Torin, aged twenty-seven years, a laborer on the new Masonic building at Duluth, fell from the roof and was killed.

Three million bushels of wheat will pass through Duluth from the state of Washington and go down the lakes on boats before the close of navigation.

Charles S. Bartram of St. Paul was elected grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Minnesota at the annual convention at Minneapolis.

J. Coyle, an aged traveling man from Buffalo, N. Y., was found dead in his room at a hotel in Eveleth. He had a large sum of money in his possession.

Peter Wildt, formerly assistant secretary of state of Minnesota, is dead at Copenhagen. He was a native of Denmark and resided thirty years in America.

Martin Christianson, employed on the steamer Irene as fireman, was drowned at Aitkin while trying to climb from the lower to the upper deck of the boat.

Charles A. Morey of Winona, president of the state normal board and one of the original members of the board of control, died suddenly of apoplexy last week.

One of the largest lumber sales of the season has been made by the Virginia Lumber company of Duluth of 10,000,000 feet of Norway pine to be shipped to Chicago.

Halver J. Daley, register of deeds of Lac qui Parle county, is dead of appendicitis. He was forty-four years old and had been nominated for a second term as register.

A rear end collision of two Great Northern stock trains in the yards at Osakis resulted in the serious injury of the fireman of stock extra No. 523 and the killing of thirty cattle.

John J. Lawler, father of Rev. Father Lawler, pastor of the cathedral in St. Paul, died suddenly at Rochester of heart failure. He was a pioneer of Olmsted county, having resided there since 1854.

The Minneapolis water board has recommended to the city council that the question of spending $1,000,000 for the installation of a sand filtration plant be submitted to the voters at the coming general election.

The farmers of Lac qui Parle county have organized a telephone company under the name of the Farmers' Mutual Telephone company. They have made arrangements for connections with the Madison exchange.

A trio of Japanese civil engineers are visiting the Mesaba range towns and are making a thorough inspection of the mines with a view to adopting in their own country anything that may appeal to them as superior to their methods.

Daring sneak thieves, working while the family was at supper, raided the upper floors of the residence of E. N. Saunders, president of the Northwestern Fuel company, and made their escape with jewels and silver plate said to be worth more than $5,000.

During a rain storm lightning struck a barn on the E. H. Ostrander farm two miles south of Alden. One child immediately was killed, two others seriously burned and the hired man was scorched in the face. They had gone into the barn for shelter from the rain.

Edward D. McDonald of Proctor, who is in charge of the entire pumping equipment of the Mesaba road, met with a terrible death at Iron Junction. He was inspecting a pump when he was caught by the flywheel, whirled around several times and dashed to the floor. He died in a few hours.

An autopsy performed upon the body of Mrs. Jennie Holt of Minneapolis, wife of Stephen Holt, who died a few days ago, revealed the fact that the woman's death was due to starvation. This is thought to have been caused by an acute case of melancholia. She was unable to force herself to eat.

M. Silver, living at 571 Sixth avenue north, reported to the Minneapolis police that somebody had stolen his lawn. Being pressed for a more intelligent explanation it turned out that Silver's yard, which had been newly sodded, had the green covering removed in the dead hour of the night.

The state entomologist has discovered in a shipment of Carolina poplars from New York state the beetle known as the alder and willow green, introduced from England some years ago. He says every means should be taken by nurserymen and others interested to stamp out this before it gains a foothold.

B. Brandt of Rochester has sold all his household goods, stock and farm machinery at public auction, having been notified that he is heir to a large estate in Norway. An uncle has just died, leaving him a farm and tourist hotel near the mountains which separate Norway and Sweden. The farm has been in the Brandt family for 400 years.

While lifting a big bunch of bananas from the sidewalk in front of a commission house to his wagon Frank Freeman, a Minneapolis groceryman, was bitten by a huge tarantula. The tarantula was concealed in the bunch of fruit and Freeman soon became unconscious from the bite. Assistance was hastily summoned and, the poison being drawn out, restoratives were administered. The patient is as well as ever now.

Judge Page Morris of Duluth, of the United States circuit court, has been served with mandamus proceedings by which he is cited to appear in St. Paul on Oct. 8 and show cause why he refuses to bring to trial the case of the Barber Asphalt company of West Virginia against the city of Duluth. The serving of a mandamus on a judge of the United States court is an extremely rare proceeding and in this case the additional point of jurisdiction has been raised.

Druggists Who Sell Dr. Miles' Nervine Agree, If It Fails, To Refund Cost.

Of course we reimburse the druggist. You know him, and trust him.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is medicine for your nerves.

It cures diseases of the internal organs, by giving tone to the nerves which make these organs work.

It is a novel theory—not of anatomy, but of treatment; first discovered by Dr. Miles, and since made use of by many wide-awake physicians, who appreciate its value in treating the sick.

If you are sick, we offer you a way to be made well—Dr. Miles' Nervine.

This medicine is a scientific cure for nerve disorders, such as Neuralgia, Headache, Loss of Memory, Sleeplessness, Spasms, Backache, St. Vitus' Dance, Epilepsy or Fits, Nervous Prostration, etc.

By toning up the nerves, Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine will also cure those diseases of the internal organs due to a disordered nervous system.

Some of these are: Indigestion, Bilious Headache, Kidney Trouble, Chronic Constipation, Dropsy, Catarrh, Rheumatism, etc.

"My brother had nervous prostration, and was not expected to live. I prevailed upon him to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and now he has fully recovered. You remember I wrote you how it saved my life a few years ago, when I had nervous trouble. I preach its merits to everyone."—REV. M. D. MYERS, Correctionville, Iowa.

The Secret of Success.

Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Isn't that a fine showing of success? Don't it prove that August Flower has had unfailing success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the two greatest enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the best evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders?—that it has proved itself the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a matchless record of over thirty-five years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints—a success that is becoming wider in its scope every day, at home and abroad, as the fame of August Flower spreads. Better than Pills.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by Schreiter's Drug Store.

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of la grippe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give an old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy. But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it. It is invaluable in a household of children. Trial size bottle 25c; regular size 75c. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians gave me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents guaranteed, at W. A. Schreiter's drug store.

The World's Fair Is Now At Its Best.

The dreaded warm season in St. Louis, covering July and August, is a thing of the past and the beautiful Fall months of September, October and November, offering the finest climatic conditions, should be taken advantage of by everyone to see the greatest World's Fair ever held or likely to be held for many years to come.

Every day the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway—"Burlington Route"—runs sleeping cars and chair cars straight through over its own tracks from St. Paul and Minneapolis to St. Louis, offering the best possible service to the greatest show on earth.

For three hundred and fifty miles the "Burlington Route" follows the east bank of the Mississippi river, and a departure from the Twin Cities on our fast morning Express gives the visitor one of the most scenic rides to be had in America, especially so during the early fall months.

The rates are now away down. The normal temperature in St. Louis for the entire month of September last year was sixty-six degrees above zero. The accommodations are just what you are looking for. With all these incentives, now is the proper time to make your World's Fair trip.

Write me for full descriptive folders, telling all about railroad tickets, baggage arrangements, sleeping car berths, how to reach the Exposition grounds and what to do when you get there; how to see the Fair to the best advantage; how to get a boarding place, maps of the Fair, the city and "Burlington Route". Free for the asking; a postal card will do.

Address, F. H. Rugg,
Northwestern Passenger Agent,
"Burlington Route". St. Paul, Minn.

NUT VALUES.

Chestnuts are starchy and take the place of potatoes.

Brazil or cream nuts are very rich in fat and should be blended with pecans, English walnuts or hazelnuts.

Black and white walnuts as well as hickory nuts contain nitrogen and oil, but no starch. Blend with rice or potatoes.

Cocoanuts contain very little nitrogen, but are rich in oil. The fiber is difficult of digestion. The cream and milk are excellent for salads and sauces.

Peanuts are very rich in nitrogen and contain considerable starch and oil. When boiled and mashed they are much better than when roasted and ground.

Almonds are really digesters or appetizers. They are too expensive to be used alone in large quantities. Four or five thoroughly masticated at the end of a meal will frequently aid in the digestion of other foods.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Man and the Match.

"Show me two men with unlighted cigarettes, and if I watched them for a minute I can tell you correctly whether the one who has the match is from Philadelphia, Boston or New York."

The speaker was a person of some observation, and his friend naturally asked:

"How can you tell?"

"In this way," said the observant man. "If the man is a Philadelphian he will strike the match, hold it for his friend to get a light, then take a light himself and throw the match away. If he is a Bostonian he will light his own cigarette first, then hold the match for his friend and after that throw it away. If he is a New Yorker, however, he will strike the match, light his own cigarette and throw the match away."—Philadelphia Press.

Spencer and Music.

Mr. Herbert Spencer cultivated what he called the "receptive sense" in respect to music and was wont to speak with more than a little bitterness of the general desire to be a performer. One performer who had been chosen to play Beethoven for him was thunderstruck on arrival at Mr. Spencer's residence at being asked to render an extract from one of Sullivan's operas. Light music had a charm for the philosopher which light literature never had.

Your feet sometimes get an aching sensation across the ball of the foot, usually that is from constantly wearing the same shoe. The leather contracts and causes a burning sensation. The Atlantic toe and style of W. L. Douglas shoe is best intended for that purpose, being a popular toe on a foot-form last. For sale at Garceau & Zinser's.

Bemidji Sentinel: Wm. Lennon, of Kelliher, is probably one of the best fixed newspaper man in the north. He has money in the bank and this week added to his balance by the sale of eleven forties of fine pine timber. Mr Lennon is one of the heavy holders of pine in this county and the sale of an occasional forty will be a material help to the Journal at Kelliher unless that property is doing better than some of its neighbors—who have no pine to sell.

Crookston Journal: A party consisting of Miss S. Robert, Miss A. Dubuque, A Marrotte, J. B. Morin and C. Bray drove up to Red Lake Falls last Sunday morning and spent the day there as the guest of Mrs. Mose Bray. They returned that evening and reported a very pleasant day. There was a slight rain last night but not enough fell to make the roads very muddy. Mrs. M. Bray entertains frequently and the affairs are always of the most pleasant nature.

Crookston Journal: Miss Rose Harren, of Red Lake Falls, spent yesterday in the city with friends and acquaintances and attending to a bit of shopping. Miss Harren is the Journal's correspondent at Red Lake Falls and the Red Lake Falls people who are subscribers of the Journal, as well as the Journal management, are very well pleased with her work. Miss Harren is one of the most popular young ladies at the Falls and her writing is of a very clever character.

Thief River Press: The county fair society has received the state aid given to associations meeting the requirements of the state board. The sum received, $274, is the same amount as was granted them last year, and helps materially to put the society on a paying basis. It was expected all along that the old barn at the fair grounds would be sold this summer, and in fact a deal was made, but fell through, and as soon as this is done the fair will be several hundred dollars on the right side of the ledger.

Hon. Marcus Johnson was up from St. Paul this week and spent several days looking after his business interests hereaway. Mr. Johnson reports that things are looking exceptionally bright at this time for Republican success this fall, and estimates that Bob Dunn will have 50,000 votes to spare when the returns are all in. Mr. Johnson is one of the members of the state central committee and his work in this section will result in great benefit to Roosevelt and Dunn—the Republican party's two great standard hearers.

W. H. Blunt, manager of the Thief River Falls creamery, was a caller here Monday on business and found time to call on The Gazette for a few moments. Mr. Blunt is one of the most successful creamery managers in Minnesota and his work at Thief River Falls has been such that few creameries in the state are in a more flourishing condition than the Thief River plant. Mr. Blunt is looking for an increased business for his plant now that the Great Northern and Soo lines have gone north of Thief River.

The first indoor band concert of the winter season will be given the latter part of the present month, the date to be announced later. It will be the aim of the band management to make the coming season's entertainments even more enjoyable and varied than those of the successful last year's season, and hopes to merit the patronage and encouragement of the people of Red Lake Falls. The band is in better shape to enter upon the work with greater vim and ability, and Prof. Onstad has many novel features in view for the coming concerts.

Thief River Press: The old established firm of Hanson & Barzen has been incorporated under the name of the Hanson & Barzen milling company, with a capital of $30,000. The business of the firm became so extensive and has grown so fast that this step became necessary in order to properly care for the varied interests. The incorporators of the new company are Matt. Barzen, Louis Hanson, W. B. Fuller, Geo. McConnell, D. N. and C. J. Winton. The officers are: Matt. Barzon, president; D. N. Winton, vice-president; W. B. Fuller, secretary and Louis Hanson, treasurer.

Crookston Times: Two thousand ties have been shipped from the yards in this city to Red Lake Falls where they will be used, it is presumed, to build a connecting spur between the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific. The work of loading the cars was considerable and a large crew of men had the task in hand. It required six cars for the shipment. The road known as the St. Hilaire line is unfit for heavy traffic and it is likely that the Great Northern cars will be run over the N. P. Tilden line. Road Master Nelson estimates that 2,000 ties will build 4,000 feet of road.

Thief River Press: Ole Tweet went to Red Lake Falls last week to look up the mode of procedure for establishing a Judical ditch in Red Lake county. The proposed ditch will start on the range line between the towns of North and Norden in the center of section 12 on the line between Red Lake and Marshall counties and will run west ward 4½ miles to what is known as the State Swamp, then south for 4½ miles into the town of Sanders emptying into the swamp where the Black River has its source, 9 miles in all. This ditch if constructed will drain nearly the whole of Norden and that it will be a great benefit goes without saying.

James W. Trumboll, of West Superior, is spending the week here in the interest of the Modern Samaritan lodge, and will make an effort to organize a council of that order here. Mr. Trumboll recently organized lodges at Grand Forks and Crookston and succeeded in working up a large number of members. The councils in both cities are strong and made up of the very best people and Mr. Trumboll hopes to work up interest enough here to make the Red Lake Falls council on a par with the others in this neighborhood He is a bright young fellow and will undoubtedly succeed in his mission here.

The Gazette stated last week that the partridge season opened October 1st, but in so doing it did not intend to aid the game warden in his pursuit of the pre-season hunter. Since the Gazette was a nimrod in all that the name implies there have been radical changes in the game laws and in stating that it was lawful to shoot the festive partridge after October 1 we supposed that we were right. The law, however says that the open season does not commence until the 15th of the month, so if anyone took our advice last Sunday and killed a mess of these birds the only way they can square themselves is to call in the game warden and "fess up."

The Home Bakery has an advertisement in today's paper calling the readers' attention to the fact that their place is now open for business and soliciting the trade of the people of Red Lake Falls. They are located in the Bourdon building at the corner of Main and Third streets and are prepared to fill all orders for cakes; pies, buns, breads, etc. They will carry a complete stock of all bakery goods, baked in their own ovens, and respectfully ask that the people give them a trial order. Red Lake Falls has room for a good bakery and the people here should encourage the new institution by a liberal patronage.

As the leaves are falling and the hunting season approaches, hornets' nests become the target of occasional thoughtless hunters, says the Field and Stream. There is much more to be said against this useless practice than that it is a waste of ammunition. Hornets, or "white-faced wasps," have no evil traits or obnoxious features. It is true that they will sometimes sting, but this is only when they are attacked in their own homes, or think their young are in danger. The great value of these insects is that they live entirely upon insects, mostly flies, and in fact, when they are near dwellings their food is generally the common house fly. They are nature's greatest factors in reducing this serious pest. It is well known that flies carry disease germs such as those of typhoid fever, and it can thus be seen that hornets have a decided sanitary effect as a result of their desirable insectivorous habits.

Plummer Pioneer: Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Swanson, of Red Lake Falls, dined here on Tuesday and Wednesday while on their way to and from Equality township where Mr. Swanson had some business matters to attend to......Hon. L. C. Simons and C. N. Bourdon were out from Red Lake Falls on Tuesday to look the town over. They were surprised at its development and being interested in the bank here were naturally well pleased .....Wm. Robinson returned on Saturday from St. Paul where he spent several days visiting friends and looking after the shipment of a big lot of general merchandise for his general store here. He is now making arrangements for the building of a new dwelling house and expects his family to arrive within a few days......Attorney Thos. Germo, Republican candidate for the office of county attorney, was out from Red Lake Falls on Wednesday fixing up his political fences. Mr. Germo was a candidate for the same office two years ago and came within five votes of being elected. This year he has good reason to feel confident of success......County Commissioners Demann, Sutor and Johnson spent Saturday night here and left next morning on a tour of inspection of the various county ditches throughout the country south and east. They were much surprised at the great progress which this town has made in the two months of its existance and expressed the conviction that it has a good future before it.

SEVERAL MURDER TRIALS.

Beltrami County Has Big Bunch of Criminals.

There are sixteen prisoners in the county jail at Bemidji, four of them accused of murder, to be tried at the term of Court which convened there Tuesday.

The murder of N. O. Dahl and his daughter, Aagot, attracted widespread attention. The authorities assert that they have sufficient evidence to hold Paul Fourner to the grand jury. They also claim to have discovered damaging evidence against him recently, but refuse to divulge its nature. James Wesley, better known as "Shorty," also wanted in connection with the Dahl murder, has completely disappeared, the last heard of him being in the Rainy river county. Early in April F. J. Artz killed John Weilander at Battle River in a quarrel over a homestead, Artz pleads self-defense. B. O. Roen will be tried for the murder of Ole Bakken near Solway, June 27. Roen while intoxicated, shot Bakken when the two men were returning from Solway.

At Turtle River early in June, Frank Wagner and Frank Brady engaged in a fight, in which Brady was stabbed several times. He has now fully recovered, but Wagner is held on the charge of attempted murder.

Apportionment Received.

Auditor Ford has received notice that October school apportionment has been forwarded, and the Treasurer will distribute it to the several school district treasurers at once. The amount received is $7,343.60—$2.20 for each of the 3338 pupils.

WARREN HERE SATURDAY.

High School Foot Ball Team To Play Second Game.

The foot ball team of the Warren high school will be here Saturday to try conclusions with the home boys, and it is presumed that a fast and exciting contest will result.

Warren is said to have a first-class team again this year, and as our boys are putting in their time this week perfecting their plays, it can be easily seen that a game worth witnessing will result.

Foot ball as a game is gaining friends and admirers every day, and it easily stands as the best of the outdoor sports. It makes the players active, strong and promotes good health in all the term implies, besides affording the finest kind of exciting amusement.

The people should turn out en masse Saturday to see Red Lake Falls try and add additional honors to those already gained.

Plummer's New Bank.

Plummer Pioneer: The First State Bank of Plummer will be open for business on Monday next, the 3rd inst. It has for its officers: L. C. Simons, president; C. N. Bourdon, vice-president and Henry G. Enderle, cashier. Its capital stock is $10,000, fully paid. A general banking business will be transacted in all the lines usually found in a first-class bank. It will receive deposits subject to check, pay interest on time deposits, loan money, issue drafts on foreign countries, sell steamship tickets, etc. In connection with the bank Julius Pleth will have his real estate and insurance office, where he will look after the sale of town lots and transact a general real estate business as well as writing fire and tornado insurance, with hail insurance in season. The same building contains the office of the Pioneer, making, as it were, a combination of business institutions which will be sure to attend to the best interests of Plummer and its people at home or abroad.

Republican Headquarters

The Republicans of Red Lake county have secured headquarters in the building formerly occupied by the J. B. Cigar company, and Chairman Watson informs The Gazette that they will be open to the public tomorrow. All the business of the Red Lake county campaign will be transacted from there, and it will also be used for meetings of the central committee. Candidates are invited to make the headquarters their base of operations when in the city. Chairman Watson does not intend to overlook anything that will tend to the betterment of the party, and the opening of headquarters will bring the work down to where it can be more carefully looked after.

Study Club To Be Organized.

All who are interested in the organization of an evening club for serious study are invited to meet at the K. of P. hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock. This club is to be composed of both men and women. Two lines of study have been proposed. First, the "Bay View" reading course which this year takes up the history and institutions of Russia and Japan. And secondly, the reading of selected plays of Shakespeare, and the general study of his writings, combined with a discussion of vital present-day questions, some book reviews, and an occasional debate. Other plans are sought for from those interested.

Several of the leading business and professional men and their wives have signified their intention of joining. No special invitations will be sent out. The organization will be completed, and the course of study and the time and place of meeting will be settled at this first meeting. All are invited.

THE OFFICIAL FIGURES.

Vote on Representatives in Three Counties Gives Simons Nice Lead.

The following figures are the official returns of the three counties—Red Lake, Clearwater and Beltrami—on the vote cast for Representative, and the totals show that Simons leads his opponent, Mayland, by 209 votes in the entire district:

RED LAKE.

Mayland	377
Simons' majority	258
BELTRAMI.
Simons	855
Mayland	811
Simons' majority	44
CLEARWATER.
Mayland	410
Simons	317
Mayland's majority	93

Total vote—Simons 1807; Mayland 1598. Simons' total majority, 209.

French Speaker for Red Lake County.

The Hon. V. Savory, of Illinois, is billed to spend several days in Red Lake county this month in the interests of the Republican party. Mr. Savory will speak in French at both Lambert and Terrebonne and and will probably be here for several days which he will put in at different county points. He is a very fluent talker, and is well known to a number of the people here, it so may be expected that he will do a great deal of good for the cause on the occasion of his visit.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME
Are Never Without Peruna in the House for Catarrhal Diseases.

PE-RU-NA
MR. AND MRS. WATSON. CLOVIS, CAL.
MR. and MRS. SCHWANDT Sanborn. Minn.

W. D. WATSON, Clovis, Fresno County, Cal., writes:

"God bless you for what you have done for me. The rheumatism has all disappeared, and to-day all exclaim, 'How well you look!' I tell them yes, and I owe it all to Dr. Hartman for his good advice to me. To-day finds me as free from pain as I ever was. The rainy season has set in here, but the change hasn't affected me as it used to. I am very thankful that I have found out that you can and will help the suffering ones that will follow your advice. Several have asked me what cured me, and I tell them. They get the medicine then. We keep Peruna in the house. My daughter has two sons, and they keep well and go to school, and they take the medicine every day.

"My wife was troubled with a pain in her side for years. Now she is taking your medicine and is real smart. I will do all I can for you and for those who need your advice."

Mr. Jno. O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272, writes:

"Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more. Catarrh cannot exist where Peruna is taken according to directions. Peruna completely cured my wife and I of catarrhal troubles of twenty-five years standing. In my rounds as a traveling man I am a walking advertisement of Peruna."

Mrs. Alla Schwandt, Sanborn, Minn., writes:

"I have been troubled with rheumatism and catarrh for twenty-five years. Could not sleep day or night. After having used Peruna I can sleep and nothing bothers me now. If I ever am affected with any kind of sickness Peruna will be the medicine I shall use. My son was cured of catarrh of the larynx by Peruna."—Mrs. Alla Schwandt.

Why Old People are Especially Liable to Systemic Catarrh.

When old age comes on, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

This explains why Peruna has become so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safeguard. Peruna is the only remedy yet devised that meets these cases exactly.

Such cases cannot be treated locally; nothing but an effective systemic remedy could cure them. This is exactly what Peruna is.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

TEAR UP THE TRACKS

Crookston Times Thinks That St. Hilaire Spur Will Be Abandoned Later On.

Crookston Times: Since it has been decided by the Great Northern, though not yet officially announced, to run passenger trains from Crookston to Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls and on to the end of the extension north of the latter place via Tilden and over the Northern Pacific track to Red Lake Falls, there has been some speculation as to what disposition would be made of the present line from Shirley to St. Hilaire, over which the trains have been run for the past 22 years.

In this connection a letter has been received by one of the prominent business men of Crookston from a Red Lake Falls professional man intimates that there is a plan on foot to take up the track from Shirley to St. Hilaire. On this stretch of track there are but two stopping places, one at Ridge, and the other at Wylie. Ridge is located at the crossing of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, and from remarks that have been drawn that if the track was taken up as suggested, Wylie would be moved from its present site to Ridge, a distance of less than 5 miles.

While there might be some objection from the people of Wylie, it is not thought that there would be any serious objection from the farmers in the country that would be effected as it would be but 8 miles between the Northern Pacific and Great Northern tracks, so that none of them would be over four miles from a railroad.

If the track should be torn up, the result would be a boom for Ridge. While there would be a better location for a townsite farther east where the N. P. crosses the Black river, the fact that this would bring the town closer to Red Lake Falls would be a big handicap to overcome in its future development.

Railroad men who are in a position to know are of the opinion that the present St. Hilaire branch could not be maintained to handle the freight traffic only, as the amount of freight would not justify the cost of maintenance.

An official announcement of the plans of the Great Northern in this connection will be awaited by considerable interest, especially by the people of Ridge and Wylie who will be affected more than any one else.

OPEN TO SETTLEMENT.

Red Lake Reservation Lands Will Be Filed Upon.

While in Washington recently Congressman Steenerson saw Commissioner Richards, of the general land office, and asked that certain tracts of land in the Red Lake and other reservations in Minnesota heretofore reserved from settlement be thrown open to settlement. The commissioner directed the preparation of lists of such lands, aggregating about 6,000 acres, and they will be opened in accordance with the terms of the Nelson act. They will be advertised for thirty days, at the end of which time settlers will be permitted to make entry. They will be required to comply with the general homestead law as to residence and cultivation and will have to pay $1.25 an acre for their holdings at the end of the residence period.

A Cordial Invitation is Extended to Every Man and Women In the County to Come Out and Hear the Speeches.

Speaking Commences at 8 p. m.

FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS

Knute J. Weeks, candidate for Register of Deeds, is a man well qualified for that office. Mr. Weeks has been engaged several years in the real estate business and has a large experience in matters pertaining to land titles and abstracts, which makes him an ideal man for the position. He has a life-long history as a Republican and has always been connected with public enterprises and business, and has filled city, township, school and society offices with honor; at present he is a member of the City Council, being alderman-at-large in the city of Thief River Falls. He is also president of the Red Lake County Fair association having been re-elected last year. Through his services we have had two of the best and most successful county fairs, in the Red River Valley. Mr, Weeks is a man of broad education and will make an obliging and competent official, and your vote for him on November 8, is a vote for the right man.

NOT ALL SOLD.

Crookston Reservation Sale Didn't Plan Out Well.

Crookston Journal: After disposing of 127 tracts aggregating 2,388 acres, the land sale which has been in progress at the city hall during the past week and which has attracted considerable numbers of settlers and homesteaders to the city, closed yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Auctioneer O'Brien offered for sale to the highest bidder the last of the 1,000 tracts which have been put up during the progress of the sale. The sale has not attained the scope which was expected and enthusiasm has been rather lukewarm. Land officials in the city, however, were not surprised at the light sales as they anticipated even a smaller attendance. The average price at which the land was knocked down was $4.44 per acre and the entire amount of money received was $18,111, but one-fifth of the amount realized from the sale of land at Thief River Falls.

An Unfaithful Wife.

Plummer Pioneer: Nils Ericksou, who was here building the lumber sheds for the Bovey-Shute Lumber Co., last week landed in a mess of family troubles when he returned home to Erskine. It seems that his young wife was not faithful to her marriage vows and during her husbands absence became too familiar with other men. On Mr. Erickson's return home her infidelity was discovered and several arrests followed promptly, the number of them increasing as the woman became frightened and gave information. Several of the parties are prominent citizens of Erskine and some have been bound over to the Polk county grand jury and will have to face the music at the December term of court.

Would Consolidate Creameries.

Plummer Pioneer: W. W. Prichard, the Thief River Falls banker, was a business visitor here on Wednesday. Mr. Prichard has a pet scheme of consolidating the creameries of Red Lake county into one plant which would be located at Thief River Falls. He puts up a fair line of argument which at the first glance would make the project seem reasonable to the farmers having cream for sale. The concentration of capital or industry is the one thing that the American people are fighting hardest against, and with good reason. To the individual who paid any attention to public affairs this alone should be a sufficient reason for declining to join with Mr. Prichard in his effort to pull down the local creameries and build up one large plant.

Election Contest Case Submitted.

The famous Richardson-Kratka mayorality contest case which stirred the upper portion of the state last spring shortly after election and was decided by the district court in favor of Ira B. Richardson and against Frank Kratka, the apparently successful candidate at the polls, is again before public gaze and the supreme court in session now at St. Paul will be called upon to deliver the final decision in the matter. Ira B. Richardson after winning out by a majority of four votes, discovered that he could not hold the position of mayor and retain his position as postmaster. The latter post is of considerable worth at Thief River Falls and he immediately resigned the mayorality in order to assume his duties. L. Hanson was then appointed in his place to act as mayor, by the council and since that time has filled the position in a creditable manner. Mr. Kratka, the defeated candidate, who apparently won out at the polls, but was defeated in the recount and litigation, appealed the case to the supreme court and the final decision of that tribunal is expected at the present session. Should the case be placed upon the calender this fall and a decision rendered in favor of Kratka he will still have a few months of office life to enjoy, but if the case is carried on to the spring term the regular term for which the mayor is elected will have expired and Mr. Kratka will profit nothing by the litigation.

WARREN IS WORSTED

Red Lake Falls' Fast Little Bunch of High School Foot Ball Players Win Their Second Game.

The high school foot hall team of our neighboring city of Warren drove over here last Friday evening, and Saturday afternoon met the local school team on the gridiron, and while the score was too one-sided to portray interest, nevertheless its size does not mean that the contest was uninteresting, or that the Warren team were not worthy opponents.

In the past several years the Warren school has had some very fast foot-hall elevens, aud from the fact that they were larger than our hoys, it was figured that if victory was ours it would he dearly earned. When the teame lined up for play, however, and the crowd watched the first few clashes it could be easily seen that Warren was outclassed and that they would he unable to score on our hoys unless some ragged playing resulted.

The Gazette will not attempt to give a detailed account of the game any more than to say that the playing of both teams was very pretty aud many spectacular plays that thrilled the sporting blood of the spectators were made. All of the Red Lake Falls boys played excellent football, showing excellent knowledge of the game consideriug the time they have played. Their iuterference was very good, but was broken up more than in the Ada game and on one or two occasions the home boys showed a disinclanation to follow the ball. Marshall as full back is easily the star of the locol team and there are few if any schools in the state that have a man behind the line that can equal him. When called upon to carry the ball, Marshall always made gains and on the defense blocked the mass plays against the line in a manner that brought him words of praise. His companious in the back field, Healy as quarter and Blake and Connerty as halves, were close seconds to him and played brilliant football at all stages of the game. As quarterback Healy run the team with great speed and his excellent judgment in forming his plays undoubtedly had much to do with the large score.

The line meu all played consistent football and were a "stone wall" on nearly all occasions, while the ends atteuded to their part of the work in a manner that bodied ill to the player that tried to get around them.

The Warren boys showed lack of training and had only practiced a few times so that their experience was a good lesson to them and they will make a good showing before the season is over. They are a fine lot of boys, and played a gentlemaly game, and though defeated overwhelmingly took it good-naturedly and promised to try and make it more interesting next time. If all school teams were composed of gentlemeu of the same stamp as the Warren boys, school atheletics would soon attain a prominent place among the high schools in this section.

The following is a brief summary:

Score—Warren 0; Red Lake Falls 51.

Touchdowns—Eor Red Lake Falls, Marshall, 3; Buse, 2; Connerty, 2; Garcean, 1; Johnson, 1.

Goals—For Red Lake Falls, Zaiser, 6.

Time of Game—First half, 20 minutes; second half, 15 minutes.

Officials—Referee, W. A. McIntyre; Umpire, B. Wentzel; Timekeeper, Sam E. Hunt.

The line up was as follows:

Red Lake Falls		Warren
Johnson	l e	Moulton
Columbus	l t	Magladry
Toupin	l g	Staska
Zaiser	c	Rodquist
Brunelle	r g	Bren
Buse	r t	Grindeland
Garcean	r e	MacDonald
Healy	q b	Young
Blake	l h b	Gratzek
Connerty	r h b	Sather
Marshall	f b	Bratrud

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

FINE HOME BURNS.

Residence of P. N. Bourdon Destroyed By Fire.

At about half past one yesterday afternoon, fire was discovered in the residence of P. N. Bourdon in the extreme northwest part of the city, and an alarm was at once turned in.

Owing to the long distance from the fire hall, and from the fact that no water was available, the engine was not taken out, hut the hook and ladder hrigade turned out and helped save the contents of the doomed structure.

The origin of the fire is not exactly known, hut it is supposed to have originated from a defective chimney. Miss Helen Bourdon was alone in the house at the time, and gave the alarm as soon as she discovered the fire, hut before help could arrive the building was doomed. The high wind fanned the flames in a manner that would have made it difficult to save the structure even had it heen within reach of the engine.

The house was a large one, and was well built, being practically new, and the loss will he quite heavy on Mr. Bourdou. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bourdon are away from home, Mr. Bourdon heing employed north of Thief River Falls, while Mrs. Bourdon is visitiug her daughter at Fertile.

The loss will probably foot up nearly $2500, and The Gazette understands that the building and contents were insured for $1400.

The family will have the sympathy of the people in their misfortune.

.. A Vote Getter ..

Frank Jeffers, the Democratic candidate for Register of Deeds, has a distinct advantage over all the other caudidates for county office this fall, and one which is bound to count for him. He is considered the handsomest man in the county, and his campaign is beiug conducted on three planks—his beauty, his fitness for office and his service to the county in times past. Jeffers is a first-class fellow, aud his friends know that he will make a good offficer if elected. Where's Bill? Vote for Jeffers!

CAN BUY THE LAND

Unsold Red Lake Reservation Now Subject to Entry Under Homestead Laws, according to Latest Ruling.

Crookston Journal: The following telegram was received by Sylveeter Peterson, register of the land office, yesterday and by it anthority to open for homestead entry eome 140,000 acres of the Red Lake reservation land remaining from the recent sale is given:

Register ol Land Office, Crookston, Minn:

"Your action in closing the sale of the Red Lake lands on Oct. 8th is approved. Under the act of Feb. 20, 1904, the unsold lands are subject to the homestead settlement and entry under the homestead laws as modified thereby at $4.00 per acre nuder the same terms and conditions as the lands sold.

W. A. RICHARDS,
Approved, E. A. Hitchcock.

After the close of the sale on Oct. 8th there were several applications for homestead entry hut a telegram wrs received hy Mr. Peterson ordering a discontinuance of the law as effecting these lands. Monday and Tuesday there were several applicants but acting under instructions from the government, Mr. Peterson declined these applications. Last eveuing, however, the telegram received made by its tenor homestead eutry possible and the closing out of the remaining parcel of lands will undoubtedly be accomplished within a short time. Under the law the lands may be entered accordiug to the homestead act, upon the payment of $4.00 per acre, one-fifth of the amount down and the balance in five years.

The parties who have already applied for lands upon the reservation and were refused entry will have to reapply for the tracts selected and business at the office on this business during the next few days will doubtless be quite brisk.

CLOSE THEIR OFFICE.

Edwards, Wood & Co. Discontinue Busiaess at This Point.

The local office of the Edwards, Wood & Co. commission firm closed its doors here yesterday, and Manager Hatten tells The Gazette that they will not open up an office again at this point. Lack of business is given as the reason for this decision. The Edwards, Wood people are among the most reliable and influential commission firms of the Northwest, and during the time they have had an office here have given satisfaction in the manner of courteous treatment to the trade. The volume of business in the smaller points, however, does not warrant the continuation of the offices that are not revenue producers, and it is the intention of the company to cut out all such branches.

Mr. Hatten will likely continue the hay commission business, which he built up before going to work for the Edwards, Wood people.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE VOTERS.

I am a candidate for the office of Judge of Probate on the Republican ticket, and respectfully solicit the support of the people of Red Lake county at the general election on Nov. 8, 1904. If elected I assure the public that I will carefully attend the duties of the office, and conduct it to the best of my ability.

NELS K. ANDERSON,
Sanders, Minn.

Hon. Halvor Steenerson has been invited to go to Ohio and make a few speeches there for the republican party, says the Plummer Pioneer. Which goes to show that his ability is making itself felt in the east as well as in his home state. Truly the ninth district has good reason to feel proud of its congressman.

The Estherville Democrat says a merchant in a neighboring town states that his advertising last year cost him 54 cents for every $100 worth of goods sold. He uses a half page for his business announcement each week and says that as long as people read newspapers he will advertise. There's a man possessed of a good head. Just as soon as merchants begin to look upon advertising as a branch of the business which requires as much care as any part of it, then will advertising pay. Honesty, force, originality and pereistency in advertising makes it a paying investment.

At this season of the year, when the candidates pictures are the principal make up of the country exchanges, The Gazette desires to state that anything political that appears outside of the editorial columns of the paper cannot necessarily be construed as being the opinion or policy of the Gazette. As a newspaper the Gazette is open to legitimate advertising but does not care to go on record as standing by all that appears in the political advertisements. We are not ashamed of our policy nor afraid to take any stand we may believe right, but outside of the editorial columns it does not follow that our opinions are expressed in the articles appearing wiih the pictures.

for Old Coughs

One Ayer's Pill at bedtime insures a natural action next morning.

The Thief River Falls Press, from its point of vantage, sizes up the political game thus far as follows: "After a lull of a week or ten days immediately succeeding the primaries, the political game is now running overtime and the candidates are again working under a full head of steam. K. J. Weeks and Frank Jeffers are campaigning night and day, Grady and Germo are having a repetition of their famous contest of two years ago. "Jim" Ford is taking a few swipes at Paul I. D. Ostby just by way of keeping his hand in the game, while our old college chum, Nick Tarrant, already has the strangle hold on our friend from Numedal, Nels K. Anderson. It may not be amiss to say right here that John L. Finke is setting a hot pace for the treasurer aspirants, and if there is anything in a name John L. ought to land some sledge hammer blows that would put somebody down and out for keeps."

Is Roosevelt strenuous? Yes. A man who was a member of the assembly of the state of New York; who was twice re-elected; who was easily one of the leaders on the floor and in the councils of his party in that practical and hardworking body; who was the candidate for speaker and a strong minority in that assembly; who was a delegate to the state and national conventions; who is the author of standaed historical works, and a candidate for mayor of the greatest city in the new world, all before the age of thirty; who was governor of the Empire state at forty, vice-president at forty-three and president of the United States at forty-four, is strenuous, but that is by no means all. A man who can in twenty years make such an impression on his fellow citizens is a man of parts. There is no record like it in this country of young men says the Fertile Journal.

Bro. King is elated because the Gazette says that Red Lake county has in the past chosen competent fellows for county officers and remarks that "they were all Democrats, too." The Gazette does not profess to be so narrow that it would fail to recognize merit in a man just because he happened to be a Democrat and hardly believes that Mr. King would consider it sensible or fair if it did. It does, however, honestly and candidly believe that there are just as good men in the county, and ones who are capable of filling the offices just as creditably, who are Republicans and where it is convinced that the men of its own party possess these qualifications it will be found supporting them without question, a right that is accorded to Bro. King and every other individual. There are two Democrats holding office in Red Lake county today, out of eight elected, the others being chosen as Populists, so the Gazette fails to see where they are "all Democrats." We all know that few counties have a more competent set of men in office, or ones who look more carefully after the interests of the people, but it is natural to presume that were they Republicans they would do the same.

HONOR A LOYAL CITIZEN.

Minnesota today has a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket who has earned and deserves the united support of the Republican party throughout the state and that there is such a man to vote for should be a pleasing anticipation to the voters.

That man is Honest Bob Dunn, of Princeton, the Republican candidate for governor, who has by long and faithful service to the party earned a reward that the voters have in their power to grant him.

Bob Dunn is a plain, every-day citizen and in his career has proven that he was always the friend of the common people. During his services as State Auditor he in many instances went out of his way to aid and accommodate a deserving citizen and the farmer and laborer was recognized and listened to by him with as much consideration and attention as was the millionaire. He did more good for Minnesota while Auditor than was ever done before or since and made a record that he has every reason in the world to be proud of. At the sessions of the state board of equalization while he was Auditor, the corporations were made to contribute their share of the taxes to the public treasury, and it is a known fact that every corporate interest in Minnesota opposed him at the time he made his last run for Auditor and was elected.

The talk of the opposition today that Mr. Dunn is the candidate of the railroads and opposed to Governor Van Sant's stand on the merger cannot be taken seriously by any thinking man. Bob Dunn has pledged himself as a man and a law-loving citizen to strictly enforce the laws of Minnesota if elected in November—and every one who knows him and has watched his record knows that he makes no idle boasts. Mr. Dunn will enforce the laws and if necessary will be found as strongly opposed to the railroad mergers or other schemes of the corporations to evade the laws of the state as was Governor Van Sant three years back.

The people owe Robert C. Dunn the honor he asks and should be glad to give him this acknowledgement and it is the moral duty of every Republican in Red Lake county and the entire state to do all in their power to bring such a result about.

A UNION STATION.

Great Northern and Northern Pacific Will Use One Depot.

The Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads will build a union depot at this city, and officials of both roads are in the city looking up a site and getting data. It is not announced where the station will be erected, but it is likely that it will be somewhere in the south part of town.

The combining of the two roads at one station will be a great convenience to the travelling public, and will materially increase the business of each.

It is not known whether work will be commenced on the station this fall, or whether the roads will wait until spring to start the building.

Attorney A. R. Holston, one of the best-known lawyers in the valley, has left Crookston and will locate on the coast. The move was necessitated on account of Mrs. Holston's health. Mr. Holston had many friends in Red Lake Falls who will wish him success in his new field.

Dr. N. M. Watson drove down to Crookston Monday morning to take in the Republican rally there that evening. Robert C. Dunn, Minnesota's next governor, spoke at that place Monday night and made a great many converts to Republicanism by his straightforward talk to the voters, The doctor reports that a tremendous crowd attended the meering and that Honest Bob was cheered to the echo. Several others from here intended to drive down that afternoon to attend the speech but the rain prevented their going.

The new map issued by the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission is out. It is larger than the 1903 map and contains more information for the use of shippers and railroads than ever. A list of stations with map reference is printed on the back and separate maps of the vicinity of the twin cities, Duluth and the Mesaba range, with both electric and steam roads, are given. The population of each station in units of 1,000 is given in black figures, decimals showing population under 1,000. Distance between stations is shown in light faced figures. Congressional districts are also defined

A change in the running time of trains on the Soo line went into effect Monday. The north bound trains are now made up at Glenwood regardless of trains on the main line. The south bound trains are made up at Thief River Falls. On Monday the rails on this line were laid to Bronson, thirty-six miles south of Emerson, where the line connects with the Canadian Northern. The line will, without doubt, be completed so as to give through connection with Winnipeg this month. As soon as this is done and the track can be put in good condition through service will be put on over this line between Minneapolis and St. Raul and Winnepeg and it is understood exceptionally fast time will be made.

It takes money to buy wood and coal, and the Gazette doesn't believe that those owing will let us freeze to death this year.

Parents will take notice of the following extract from the school laws: "Every parent or guardian who has control of any child between the ages of eight and fourteen years shall send such child to a public school in each year during the entire time the school is in session. It shall be the duty of the president of the school board of any district to inquire into all cases of neglect of duty prescribed in this article and he shall henceforth proceed to secure the prosecution of any offence occuring in this article.

The editor of a country newspaper is often his own reportial staff as well and some of his experiences when out after news would make interesting reading. The editor of a flourishing journal in a California town recently called at the "home of the bride's parents" the day after the wedding. He was desirous of telling his readers all about the event and wished to give the young couple a good send-off as well. The bride's mother met him. "Good morning Mrs. Jones," said the editor. "I've called to get some of the details of the wedding." "Goodness," replied Mrs. Jones in dismay, "they're all gone. You ought to have come last night. They ate every scrap."

The proposed constitutional amendments to be voted for at the general election in November, are published in full in today's paper and are worthy of a careful perusal by every voter of the county. Matters of great public import are often neglected because the voter fails to investigate them fully and as an amendment to the constitution requires a two thirds majority of the votes cast in order to carry it can be seen that a person who fails to vote on the proposition at all is voting against it. The Gazette is the only paper in the county to publish the complete text of the amendment which illustrates that in order to get all the news you must get the Gazette. Read the article carefully and tell your neighbor to come in and subscribe in order that he may get a chance to read it too.

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF REDEMPTION.

Office of County Auditor,
County of Red Lake,
State of Minnesota.

To Peter A. Couture.

You are hereby notified that the following described piece or parcel of land, situated in the County of Red Lake, State of Minnesota, and known and described as follows, to-wit: Lot number twenty (20) in Block Eleven (11) of Champagne & Dow's Addition to Red Lake Falls, is now assessed in your name; that on the ninth day of May, A. D. 1900, at a sale of land pursuant to the real estate tax judgment duly given and made in and by the District Court in and for said County of Red Lake, on the twenty-first day of March, A. D. 1900, in proceedings to enforce the payment of taxes delinquent upon real estate for the year A. D. 1898, for said County of Red Lake, the above described piece or parcel of land was duly offered for sale, and no one bidding upon said offer for an amount equal to that for which said piece or parcel was subject to be sold, to wit, the sum of Four Dollars, the same was duly bid in for the State of Minnesota for said sum; that thereafter, and on the thirteenth day of May, A. D. 1901, the said piece or parcel of land being still unredeemed from said sale, the same and all the rights of said State therein under said sale was duly assigned and conveyed by the County Auditor of said County of Red Lake for the sum of Four Dollars and Forty-eight Cents duly paid in to the County Treasurer of said County, said sum being the amount for which the same was bid in to the State as aforesaid, with interest according to law, and all taxes which became delinquent subsequent to said sale, with interest, penalties and costs according to law; that the certificates of conveyance for said piece or parcel of land executed and delivered by said County Auditor upon said assignment of the rights of said State acquired under said sale has been presented to me at my office by the holder thereof for the purpose of having notice of expiration of redemption from said sale given and served; that the amount required to redeem said piece or parcel of land from said sale at the date of this notice, exclusive of the costs to accrue upon this notice, is the sum of Thirty Dollars and Sixty-eight cents (said sum being the amount paid by said holder of said certificate upon said assignment from said State and interest thereon according to law, delinquent taxes accruing subsequent to said sale paid by him, with interest, penalties and costs according to law, and all unpaid delinquent taxes, with interest, penalties and costs accruing subsequent to said sale); and that the time for redemption of said piece or parcel of land from said sale will expire sixty (60) days after the service of this notice and proof of said service has been filed in my office.

Witness my hand and seal of office this eighth day of October, A. D. 1904.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Adam Zeh and Gertrude Zeh, his wife, Mortgagors, to G. Vandertuuk, Mortgagee, bearing date the first day of July, 1902, and with power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Red Lake and State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of July 1902, at 3:30 o'clock p. m., in Book 10 of Mortgages, on page 488, and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof.

And whereas, said Mortgage contains a clause providing that if any installment of the debt secured thereby is not paid when due, that the whole sum secured thereby shall become due and payable at once: and whereas, by reason of said clause there is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice the sum of $61.14; and whereas, said Mortgage contains a clause providing that if the party of the first part shall fail to make payment of interest due upon a certain prior Mortgage upon the land described in said Mortgage, that then the party of the second part may pay such interest and have a lien therefor upon said premises under this Mortgage; and whereas, pursuant to said clause, and the party of the first part having made default in the payment thereof, party of the second part has paid such interest, amounting, with interest, to the sum of $136.17, making the total amount due under the terms of the said Mortgage $197.81.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

The east half of the southwest quarter and the north half of the southeast quarter of section thirty in township one hundred fifty-one of range forty-two, in Red Lake county and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Red Lake county at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Red Lake Falls in said county and State, on the Fourth day of November, 1904, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt amounting to $197.31, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five dollars Attorney's fees, as provided in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated at Red Lake Falls, Minn., September 22nd, 1904.

PROPOSED Amendments TO THE Constitution OF MINNESOTA.

Hon. Peter E. Hanson, Secretary of State—Sir: Pursuant to Chapter 157 of the General Laws of 1887 I herewith file in your office synopses of Amendments to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, as proposed by the General Laws of the State of Minnesota enacted at the General Session of the Legislature in 1903, and an act involving the taxation of railroad property, being Chapter 253, General Laws 1903, to be submitted to the voters of the state for adoption or rejection at the next general election.

Yours respectfully,
W. J. DONAHOWER,
Attorney General.

Synopses of Amendments to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota Proposed by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota at the General Session in 1903, as Well as a Synopsis of Chapter 253 of the General Laws of 1903 Proposing an Increase of Gross Earnings Tax Upon Railroad Property:

I.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 32 (a) of Article 4 of the Constitution, the Legislature, by an act approved April 18th, 1903, known as Chapter 253 of the General Laws of 1903, present to the electors of the state for rejection or approval the following, to wit:

Section 1. Every railroad company owning or operating any line of railway situated within, or partly within, this state, shall during the year 1905, and annually thereafter pay into the treasury of this state in lieu of all taxes and assessments upon all property within this state, owned or operated for railway purposes by such company, including equipment, appurtenances, appendages and franchises thereof, a sum of money equal to four (4) per cent of the gross earnings derived from the operation of such line of railway within this state; and the annual payment of such sum shall be in full and in lieu of all other taxes and assessments upon the property and franchises so taxed. The lands acquired by public grant shall be and remain exempt from taxation until sold or contracted to be sold, or conveyed, as provided in the respective acts whereby such grants were made or recognized.

Sec. 2. The term "the gross earnings derived from the operation of such line of railway within this state," as used in section 1 of this act, is hereby declared and shall be construed to mean, all earnings on business beginning and ending within this state, and a proportion, based upon the proportion of the mileage within the state to the entire mileage over which such business is done, of earnings on all interstate business passing through, into or out of the state.

Sec. 3. All acts and parts of acts not inconsistent herewith regulating the payment, collection, time of payment, enforcement or reports involving the amount of taxes upon the gross earnings of railroad companies within this state, or providing penalties for the non-payment of such taxes, are hereby made applicable to this act so far as may be; and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. Upon failure to pay the amount of such taxes legally due upon the date heretofore provided by law for the payment thereof, in addition to existing remedies, collection may be enforced in a civil action brought in the name of the State of Minnesota in the district court of any county.

Sec. 5. Before any railroad company shall be heard to contest or continue to contest the validity of this act or any part thereof, such railroad company shall as a condition precedent thereto, pay into the treasury of the State of Minnesota, the amount of taxes due or payable from such railroad company under the existing tax laws of this state applicable to such company.

Sec. 6. This act shall be submitted to the people of this state for their approval or rejection at the next general election for the year 1904. . . . . (The omitted provisions refer to the method of printing the ballot and submitting this act for ratification.)

This act provides for an increase in the amount of taxes collected by the state upon the property of the railroads situated within the state from three per cent of the gross earnings derived from the operation of railways within the state to a sum equal to four per cent of the gross earnings derived from the operation of such lines of railway within the state. The annual payment of such sum shall be in full and in lieu of all other taxes and assessments upon the property so taxed. The lands acquired by public grant shall be and remain as heretofore exempt from taxation until sold or contracted to be sold or conveyed, as provided in said acts where such grants were recognized.

Provision is made in this act whereby the disputed and unpaid taxes on the gross earnings of any railway company within the state may be collected by a civil action brought in the name of the State of Minnesota in any county thereof. The right to maintain such civil action is in addition to existing remedies for the collection of the per centum tax upon the gross earnings of railroads within the state. The existing remedy which the State of Minnesota may use in enforcing the payment by any railroad company within the state of any disputed and unpaid taxes upon its gross earnings, is by destraint of its movable property by the State Treasurer, and sale of sufficient thereof to satisfy the state's claim. This new method of enforcing the collection of such taxes, proposed by this amendment, will, if adopted, enable the state to secure a speedy and direct judicial determination of the liability of any such railway company for disputed and unpaid items of gross earnings taxes.

Under the terms of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota this act of the legislature must be submitted to the legal voters of the state, and will become operative if adopted by a majority of the electors voting at the next general election.

II.

By an act of the legislature of the State of Minnesota, approved March 3rd, 1903, known as Chapter 25 of the General Laws of Minnesota of 1903, the same being House File No. 4, it is proposed to amend Section 6 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota.

The existing provision of the Constitution, which is now sought to be amended, reads as follows:

"Sec. 6. The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the purchase of bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state, but no such investment shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the issue of which the same is part would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed seven per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable real property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds; nor shall such loans or indebtedness be made at a lower rate of interest than three per cent per annum, nor for a shorter period than five (5) years, nor for a longer period than twenty (20) years; and no change of the town, school district, village, city or county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of issuing the bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds."

It is proposed by said Chapter 25 of the General Laws of 1903 to amend said Section 6 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota so as to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. The permanent school and university fund of this state may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of this state, but no such investment shall be made until approved by the board of commissioners designated by law to regulate the investment of the permanent school fund and the permanent university fund of this state; nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed fifteen (15) per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable real property of the county, school district, city, town or village issuing such bonds; nor shall such loans or indebtedness be made at a lower rate of interest than three per cent per annum, nor for a shorter period than five (5) years, nor for a longer period than twenty (20) years, and no change of the town, school district, city, village or of county lines shall relieve the real property in such town, school district, county, village or city in this state at the time of the issuing of such bonds from any liability for taxation to pay such bonds."

The existing constitution provides that the permanent school and university fund of the State of Minnesota may be invested in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village, when the entire issue of which the proposed forms a part will not make the indebtedness of such county, school district, city, town or village exceed seven per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable real property in such county, school district, city, town or village. The effect of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to authorize the investment of the permanent school and university funds of the state in the bonds of any county, school district, city, town or village of the State of Minnesota when the entire issue, of which the proposed loan is a part, will not make the indebtedness of any such county, school district, city, town or village exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed valuation.

III.

By an act of the legislature of the State of Minnesota, approved April 18, 1903, known as chapter 269 of the General Laws of 1903, the same being Senate File 173, it is proposed to amend section 7 of article 1 of the constitution of the State of Minnesota.

The section as now existing reads as follows:

Sec. 7. "No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense unless on the presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases of impeachment, or in cases cognizable by justices of the peace, or arising in the army or navy, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger; and no person for the same offense shall be put twice in jeopardy of punishment, nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law. All persons shall before conviction be bailable by sufficient sureties except for capital offenses, when the proof is evident or the presumption great; and the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless, when in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require."

It is proposed, by said act, to amend said Section 7 so as to read as follows:

Sec. 7. "No person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense without due process of law, and no person for the same offense shall be put twice in jeopardy of punishment, nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. All persons shall before conviction be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great; and the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless when in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require."

The effect of this amendment, if adopted, will be to give the legislature the power to determine the manner and form of charging persons with the commission of criminal acts. As the constitution now reads, the procedure by which a person is held to answer for a criminal offense is by presentment or indictment of a grand jury or by criminal warrant issued by a justice of the peace. In place of such presentment or indictment of a grand jury, or a warrant issued by a justice of the peace, it is proposed to substitute any procedure which the legislature may deem due process of law. In other words, the legislature will have the power to provide a criminal procedure in conformity with the rights guaranteed by the fundamental law, by which a person shall be held to account for a criminal offense. Such procedure must conform with the requirements of what is due process of law under the Constitution of the United States and the State of Minnesota. The proposed amendment may be made the basis for an act of the legislature authorizing the arrest and prosecution of persons on an information issued by a county attorney charging the commission of a criminal act. The existing Constitution establishes specifically the manner and form of holding a person to answer for a criminal offense. If the proposed constitutional amendment is adopted the legislature may then, within proper constitutional limits, adopt a new method of procedure.

W. J. DONAHOWER,
Attorney General.

PHILIPPINES AT WORLD'S FAIR

Complete Exhibition of Island People and Industries Covers Forty-seven Acres and Is Independent of Larger Show.

Not even in the heart of Manila city could there be found forty-seven acres of Philippine territory as interesting as that amount of space covered by the islands' display at the World's Fair. Here is an exposition within an exposition, a little wheel that revolves independently of the larger one encompassing it.

Scores of buildings are filled with exhibits, native life is depicted by as many different villages as there are tribes on the islands, military drills are given by Philippine troops, and concerts are rendered by native bands. For its amusement features the Philippine exposition has the humorous Igorrote, who dines on dog meat, and visitors are entertained by Visayan actors and actresses. Nothing is lacking to make the show complete.

SOUTH ENTRANCE PALACE OF LIBERAL ARTS, WORLD'S FAIR.

The Administration building is a replica of the government offices in Manila, while the Art and Education building reproduces in miniature the cathedral within the walled city, even the mellowed tints of age being faithfully rendered. A section of the ancient but still serviceable town wall has been reconstructed to serve the double purpose of a gateway to the show and a museum of arms and war relics. The other main edifices are types of Filipino homes, being built of undressed timber, bamboo and rattan, with thatched roofs and broad verandas.

Then there are the tribal villages nestling under the trees, some of the houses perched high up among the boughs, others on piles above the waters of the Arrowhead lake, all of them actual dwellings fashioned of native materials by native workmanship and illustrating the manners, customs and pursuits of their occupants. Here are women weaving a coarse cloth on a rude hand loom, others making baskets, others tending irrigated fields of rice. One group of men are in village council, trying an offender according to their tribal laws; others are slowly moving in a circular dance to the thump of tomtoms and the clang of brass gongs; others, again, are smelting iron by the aid of a primitive but most ingenious bellows, the constituent parts of which are a bamboo tube and an air-tight mop of feathers working therein like the piston of a syringe. And these are but a few of an almost endless variety of life pictures.

The ethnological problem is a somewhat complicated one; but, although there are no fewer than sixteen races represented among the village dwellers, the scouts and the constabulary, each race speaking its own dialect and following its own customs, all may be roughly classified into four groups—the true aboriginals or non-Malays, the pagan Malays, the Christian Malays and the Mohammedan Malays.

The first are the dwarf Negritos, with dark skins and woolly heads, wearers of scanty raiment, proficient in the use of the bow and poisoned arrow, a race of nomads and forest dwellers, pagans pure and simple. They live in their own stockaded village.

Next to them are the Igorrotes, whose origin is traced back to the first wave of Malay invasion. Here, again, we have scanty clothing, amounting almost to nudity, but copper colored skins, long wavy tresses, pleasant featured faces and fine physiques, even though the stature be small. Among these pagan Malays are the head hunters and the dog eaters. They are savages, yet have their code of laws and a knowledge of several primitive industries.

The Christian Malays, produced by the second wave of invasion, are represented by the Visayans, a tall and handsome race, dressing well, living in pretty homes, skilled in weaving, dyeing, basket making, hat making, wood carving and other handicrafts, musicians of no mean merit, the one group of natives who came early and thoroughly under the influence of the early Spanish settlers.

Very different are the Moros, who swept into the islands from the Malay peninsula last of all, bringing with them their Mohammedan religion, also a knowledge of gunpowder acquired with the Koran from the Arabs—fanatics like their teachers, pirates, bloodthirsty, treacherous and vindictive

My Breath.

Shortness of Breath Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physicians say, heart disease can be cured.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases.

Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves.

"I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly smother. A friend advised using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good results. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now entirely well. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past."—F. P. DRAKE, Middletown, O.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

PLUMMER

(From the Pioneer.)

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Harren, of Red Lake Falls, visited here on Sunday. They like the town quite well and predict that its future will be decidedly good.

Wm. Schwalen, who has been working on the building crew here left on Wednesday for his home in Red Lake Falls where he has secured a position in the flour mill for the coming winter.

Owing to their inability to secure the big safe in time, the First State Bank did not open for business last Monday as announced. It is expected any day now and immediately upon its arrival the bank will commence business.

Brown & Buskirk have secured the contract and commenced work on H. H. Finrow's new store building. The building will be two stories and commodious enough to accomodate his general merchandise business and the postoffice easily.

Wm. Rose, who lives a few miles south of here, caught a full-grown timber wolf in a trap on Thursday. He shot one a few weeks ago. Both the animals are said to have been very large and it is somewhat unusual to succeed in killing or capturing them at this time of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pleth and Mrs. T. J. Torkelson were out from St. Hilaire on Wednesday and inspected the numerous improvements of the town. Mr. and Mrs. Pleth are making preparations to move out here and expect to be permanently located in our midst within a few weeks.

Wm. Robinson went to Thief River Falls on Tuesday night and was accompanied by Mrs. Robinson and son, Harold, on his return Wednesday morning. Mrs. Robinson has decided to remoid permanently and the family is house over their general store until their new dwelling house can be built.

Sheriff Linnihan was a visitor in this vicinity on Thursday while serving subpoenas on jurors for the coming term of district court which convenes on the 24th inst, at Red Lake Falls. Mr. Linnihan is a candidate for re-election and is looking after his political fences while attending to his official business.

The Secret of Success.

Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Isn't that a fine showing of success? Don't it prove that August Flower has had unfailing success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the two greatest enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the best evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders?—that it has proved itself the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a matchless record of over thirty-five years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints—a success that is becoming wider in its scope every day, at home and abroad, as the fame of August Flower spreads. FRANK A. GRADY

County Attorney.

Mr. Grady is a candidate for re-election this fall and stands on the record he has made while in office. He has attended to the wants of the people in a careful and honest manner and his official acts have been tempered with honesty and fairness. Mr. Grady is a lawyer of well-known ability and his work on cases for the county has been highly successful. He promises that if chosen to succeed himself he will continue to serve the people in future as he has in the past, to the best of his ability. A pretty tribute to Mr. Grady comes from the Thief River Falls News, a paper that has never supported him, and is as follows: "F. A. Grady has announced that he will be an independent candidate for county attorney at the coming election this fall. While the News in the past has never supported Mr. Grady we recognize the fact that he has made an honest, able and efficient officer. His advice to the county commissioners has always been sound, and as prosecuting attorney he has won the admiration of all law abiding citizens."

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of la grippe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give an old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Buschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy, But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it It is invaluable in a household of children. Trial size bottle 25c; regular size 75c. Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Olivar of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day, Three physicians gave me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents guaranteed, at W. A. Schreiter's drug store.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

Better than Pills.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by Schreiter's Drug Store.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by Schreiter's Drug Store.

A Thoughtful Man.

An impromptu dance was given at the Metropolitan last Saturday evening to entertain the members of the Warren foot ball team, who spent the night in the city. Quite a crowd of young people were present and the affair was an enjoyable one.

Chas. T. Latta, the enterprising pencil pusher of the Plummer Pioneer was a caller here Monday attending to business matters. Charley says that things are booming out his way and looks to see Plummer the metropolis of the county within a few years.

Peter K. Olson, one of the pioneer business men of Plummer, was a caller here Tuesday: looking after business affairs. Pete reports that business is good with him and says that he is glad he moved to Red Lake county's hustling new town.

It is announced that Bangs & Co. will close their store at this point and move to some new town in North Dakota. Since coming here Bangs & Co. have always done a good business and their manager, Mr. Rodgers, has made a great many friends by his excellent business methods and the people generally will regret to hear that he and his estimable family are to leave Red Lake Falls.

Joseph Pouliiot and his mother, Mrs. N. Pouliiot, leave this evening for an extended visit to the coast and expect to spend the next six months visiting relatives and friends in that part of the world. They will first go to Olympia, Washington, where a daughter of Mrs. Pouliiot's resides, and after spending some time there they will visit at other points in that section. The Gazette trusts that they may have a pleasant visit.

St. Peter's church at Gentilly will give a grand harvest festival and dinner on Sunday, October 23, and Rev. Father Theilion writes The Gazette that a cordial invitation is extended to the people of Red Lake Falls to come out and have a good time with the congregation of St. Peter's. The afternoon will be given over to visiting, and in the evening a musical and literary program will be given and beautiful stereoptican views shown.

S. Bottineau, of Superior, Wisconsin, is a guest of his sister, Mrs. Grey, and other Red Lake Falls friends this week, having arrived Monday. He came over to get his little daughter who has been visiting with the Gray s for several months. This is Mr. Bottineau's first visit to Red Lake Falls in nine years and he was greatly surprised and pleased at the progress that has been made. He has a great many old friends who were pleased to meet him again.

Edward J. Bernache and bride, of Olympia, Washington, arrived here last Friday and remained the guests at the homes of Mrs. N. Pouliot. A. P. Toupin and other relatives until Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Bernache is a former Red Lake Falls girl, her maiden name being Mary May Gervais the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Gervais who formerly resided here. She was married to Mr. Bernache in Tacoma on October 2, and the couple stopped off here on their honeymoon trip. They left Sunday afternoon for Duluth, and from there will journey to the World's Fair, New Orleans, San Fransisco and other western points before returning to their home at Olympia. While here the couple were the recipient of many congratulations and good wishes by the former friends of the family. Mrs. Bernache reports that her parents are well and prosperous, Mr. Gervais being the owner of a transfer line at Olympia, and having several of the finest teams on the coast, which is pleasing news to their old neighbors and friends,

CHURCH FAIR NEXT WEEK.

St. Joaeph's Festival and Bazaar Will be Grand Affair.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 23, 24 and 25 will occur the church fair and bazaar of St. Joseph's church and indications are that one of the pleasantest times in the history of the church will result. Dinner and supper will be served on all these days and numerous contests, raffles and sales will be on the program. The people in charge of the arrangements are hard at work and will have an excellent program of fun prepared for those dates. A special invitation is extended to all the people in this neighborhood to attend.

For the Terrebonne Fair.

Mrs. Louis St. Yves the president of the bazar of Terrebonne, choose the three best dressmakers of Red Lake Falls, which are Mrs. I. Lemieux, Mrs. Jos. Normandin and Miss Rosana LaBissoniere, to prepure a fine toilet for the doll for the bazar at the fair next Sunday and Monday. Thanks be to those kind ladies, the doll presents a beautiful appearance. We invite all our friends of Red Lake Falls to come and enjoy themselves at the great feast which will be held the 16th and 17th of this month.

A Communication.

Editor of The Gazette:—One of the most important offices to be filled at the coming election, is that of county attorney. Very few people realize how important it is to them and the county that this office should be filled by the very best lawyer who can be persuaded to accept it, regardless of politics.

The thousands of dollars worth of bills against the county, the issues of drainage bonds, the great financial interests of the tax-paying public, the conduct of criminal trials, all are scanned by him, or in his hands, and a slight mistake may cost the people a great deal of money.

When a private person has a little fifty dollar lawsuit, he does not go to this lawyer because he is a Democrat, or that one because he is a Republican, or to an inexperienced man, but he goes at once to the best lawyer he can get for the money, one who has served him well before, whom he knows to be good because he has tried him.

The voter who is about to select a lawyer to look after the hundred times greater interests of the county, should do the same.

Get the best there is.

The present county attorney, Mr. Frank A. Grady, has served the people faithfully and well. In ability he ranks with the best attorneys in Red Lake county. We know what he can do because he has done it.

In all the varied county business which has come before him, he has been highly successful, and has undoubtedly saved all of us tax-payers money. His recent success in the Supreme Court in the case for the collection of taxes from P. and J. Meehan, which he fought out and won, alone and unaided, against Davis, Kellogg and Severance, the very best attorneys in Minnesota, goes to show what he can and will do.

During the next two years a great amount of important business will be brought before the Board of County Commissioners; tangled legal knots which will require the clear head of an able adviser. With the coming of new railroads and more population, will come an increase of crime.

We need a man at the helm who can cope successfully with what ever arises, whom we know and have tried.

When a lawyer has done your private work well you don't discharge him to give another man a chance; you hire him again, because you know you can depend on him. There may be many other lawyers as good as Grady, but we know he is alright. Let's not discharge him.

A VOTER AND TAX-PAYER.

TO TALK REPUBLICAISM

Several Able Orators Will Appear At Metropolitan Saturday Evening of This Week.—Good Crowd Desired.

The Republican rally at the Metropolitan Saturday evening gives promise of being a fitting "opening gun" of the campaign in Red Lake county, and the people are earnestly requested to come out and hear the speeches.

Col. J. Ham Davidson, of Illinois, will be the principal talker of the evening, and while a stranger to these parts it can be positively stated that he is one of the finest talkers ever appearing before an audience. Mr. Davidson is kept constantly on the go, and in "off-years" finds employment on the lecture platform. He is a forcible and eloquent speaker and everyone should make it a point to hear him.

A. D. Smith, of Minneapolis, will also be one of the speakers of the evening, and will probably throw considerable light on state issues. He is a well-known orator and will be worth listening to.

Dr. Goillardet, of Chicago, a fluent French talker, will also be here, and the three will certainly entertain the crowds in a pleasing manner.

The speech-making will begin promptly at eight o'clock, and everyone is cordially invited to come out early and hear what is offered. All of the talkers are able men, and you can rest assured that you will not be wasting your time if you turn out.

G. N. AT WORK.

Big Steam Shovel Digging Its Way Southward From the Depot.

The big steam shovel of Guthrie & Co., the contractors who will build the line from the Great Northern to the Northern Pacific tracks in this city, was brought here last week, and put to work Monday. It is at present clearing the way for the temporary tracks, and when this is done will commence the work of digging the big cut in the south part of the city. The "dinky" engines and dump carts are ready to get into commission as soon as the shovel commences its labors on the cut, and it is expected that the work will be on in earnest in the next few days. The Guthrie people have boarding headquarters in the Kaufer building opposite The Gazette office, and are at present caring for about 30 men. More will be hired, however, when the shovel gets the preliminary work finished.

The chief of the engineering corps stationed here, and officed in the Duffy building on Main steeet, told The Gazette the first of the week that the work of building the extension would require several months, and that the trains would not be running out of here south much before the spring break-up. According to his statements there are about 75,000 square yards of dirt to be moved in the cut, and as the big shovel will handle 1000 yards a day, it will take it a couple of months at least to get its part of the work done, when the surfacing and other necessary work can be done.

The working of the big shovel is an attractive sight. and an interested crowd of spectators is always on hand to watch its progress.

PRESIDENT COMMERCIAL CLUB,

OF LOUISIANA, SAYS:

"THERE IS NO FINER MEDICINE THAN PE-RU-NA."

W. W. WASHBURN
PRESIDENT LOUISIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Suffered With Kidney and Liver Trouble for Twelve Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Him—Feels Better Than for Twenty Years.

Hon. William Watson Washburn, President of the Louisiana Commercial Club, and a very well known man of New Orleans, La., writes from 637 Canal street:

"I am satisfied that there is not a finer medicine placed before the public to-day than Peruna. I have been troubled for nearly twelve years with kidney and liver trouble, and at times I have been a pretty sick man, unable to attend to my duties. I had about made up my mind that no medicine could help me, when one of your booklets was brought to my office which I read in a leisure hour. I then decided to give Peruna a trial and found that I had at last secured the right medicine for me. For two months I used it faithfully and then felt so well I was like a young man once more. This was over a year ago and I have not had any trouble since. Although I am in the seventies I feel better and more active than I did thirty years ago."—W. W. Washburn.

Most derangements of the kidneys are due to catarrh of the kidneys. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. This explains why it is that Peruna cures a great number of kidney diseases in which the usual remedies fail.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Do You Know the Game....

The good clothes game is a very easy one to learn, and every man can excel in it. Queer game; everybody who plays it right can win! If you'll drop into our store we'll tell you all about it; put you next, as it were; get you on the inside----of a Hart, Schaffner & Marx garment---that's all there is to it.... Some dealers' clothes are not but a skimpy apology of what they ought to be. They call their clothes suits, overcoats, etc. We call ours CREATIONS: maybe you don't know the difference, but-----SHE will!

BIG REPUBLICAN RALLY

A. D. Smith, of Minneapolis, and J. Ham Davidson, of Illinois, Do Good For the Republican Cause.

The Republican rally at the Metropolitan opera house last Saturday evening, proved to be a fitting opening gun of the campaign; and a large crowd of people from the city and country turned out to hear the speakers. The band was out to help liven things up, and altogether the affair was a grand success.

Dr. N. M. Watson opened the meeting, and in a convincing talk told why the Republican ticket should receive the support of the voters. He devoted a few moments to the county candidates, after which he introduced Dr. Pelltier, who spoke for a half hour in French, and made a convincing argument for Bob Dunn and the Republican ticket.

Hon. A. D. Smith followed and his speech was devoted to state issues, and was one of the best ever listened to in Red Lake Falls. He handled his subject in such a manner that everyone in the audience was with him from the start to the finish, and he left no stone unturned that would show that Honest Bob Dunn stood for all that was in keeping with honesty, integrity and good government. He started with Mr. Dunn's record while he was in the lower house of the Minnesota legislature, and showed that in his every act Mr. Dunn has stood for what was to the best interests of the common people of Minnesota. Mr. Smith took up the attacks that have been made upon Mr. Dunn by Public Examiner Johnson, and showed plainly where they were made with malicious intent and merely for the purpose of spite-work. Mr. Smith paid Mr. Dunn high compliments, and demonstrated to his hearers wherein he would make a governor to the people, of the people and for the people.

Col. J. Ham Davidson, of Illinois, followed Mr. Smith, and his talk was devoted to the national ticket, and it is safe to predict that Red Lake Falls people never heard a more able or flowery address. He admitted that it was a hard proposition to talk national issues this year—that the country was so strongly in favor of Roosevelt and the American principles he stands for that there was absolutely nothing to talk about. He took facts and figures to prove what everybody has long since known, that the Republican party has always been the party of the American farmer and laboring-man, and his arguments were well received by the audience. Mr. Davidson has long-since gained a reputation as a brilliant orator, and the impression he left here was that he is ably sustaining that reputation.

The meeting was a success from every standpoint. Republicanism is on its forward march to victory, and but a few short weeks remain until the American people will again decide in a forcible and plain manner that they desire a continuance of the prosperity, the progressiveness and the Americanism that have characterized the principles of Republicanism since its inception. Minnesota is in line, and will send up a shout to the time of 100,000 majority to prove it.

With Roosevelt and Dunn as the standard bearers, who isn't glad he's a Republican?

Nystrom for Red Lake County.

P. N. Nystrom, one of the brilliant orators of the state, has been secured for Red Lake county three days of next week and will speak at the following places: Wylie, Thursday evening, the 27th; Bray, Friday evening, the 28th; and Tweet, Saturday evening, the 29th. Mr. Nystrom is a fluent Swedish scholar and the people of these three towns should make it a point to get out and hear him. Remember the date and turn out and hear the issues of the day expounded in a lucid manner.

BRIDGE BEING BUILT

Long Expected Steel Bridge Over Red Lake River Is This Week Being Installed.—Fine When Completed.

The material for the handsome steel bridge over the Red Lake river just north of town, which was contracted for by the commissioners several months ago, arrived last week, and the work of tearing down the old bridge to start the new one was commenced Monday. It is expected that about three weeks will be required to build the new structure, after which time the people can rest assured that they have something that will last for all time to come.

The bridge is to be 200 hundred feet with a graded approach on each side, and will be of the latest model of steel bridges. The material is exceptionally heavy and is also very neat, so that the bridge when finished will present a handsome appearance. The Illinois Bridge company have the contract for building the new bridge, and a crew of a dozen men are now engaged in the work.

In order that the people living north of town may have a chance to get across the river, a temporary bridge has been constructed across the mill dam at the North Side mill, and a man stationed there to assist teams in crossing safely. This will be used until the new bridge is finished, and will prove a convenience to the trade north of the river.

FAIR A SUCCESS.

St. Anthony's Church at Terrebonne Nets a Neat Sum.

The annual fair and bazaar of St. Anthony's church at Terrebonne last Sunday and Monday proved to be very successful, both from a financial and social standpoint. An unusually large crowd was in attendance and all had a good time. Several interesting contests were enthusiastically supported by those present. Miss Laura Cadieux was the successful one in the doll contests and won that handsome prize; Mrs. V. St. Marie secured the most votes and won the gold watch and Mrs. M. Champagne was the successful contestant in the bedroom suite contest. The meals served both days were excellent and were thoroughly enjoyed by the people. The Gazette has inside information to the effect that the genial chairman of the Republican county committee so thoroughly enjoyed the supper that it was impossible to get him away from the table, and that the only way he could square himself was by paying for six meals, although this of course cannot be vouched for.

The church people netted $910.00 as a result of their efforts and Father Tapin and the members of the congregation are deserving of great praise for the manner in which they conducted the affair. The Gazette is requested to thank the people of Terrebonne, Red Lake Falls and the surrounding country and also the county candidates for the liberal manner in which they contributed to the success of the fair.

County Candidates Speechmaking.

Meetings are being held at several places in the country this week and the local candidates for office are making speeches from school house rostrums. Tonight they are at Equality, Friday evening at Garnes and Saturday evening at Wyandotte. The people of these towns should turn out and hear the talks, as the county ticket boast several good spell-binders.

Better than Pills.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by Schreiter's Drug Store.

RALLIES NEXT WEEK

Republicans Have Several Good Speakers on the String.—Some Big Meetings Looked For.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week there will be big Republican gatherings in Red Lake county and the people will be given an opportunity of hearing some of the best talkers of the year.

On Wednesday evening, the 27th, Prof. T. J. Caton, known as one of the finest orators in the west, will speak at St. Hilaire, Thursday evening, the 28th, he will address the voters at Thief River Falls, and Friday evening he will come here. Prof. Caton is considered as one of the ablest talkers that is today appearing before the public and during the past few weeks has been campaigning with Robert C. Dunn. He is a well-versed political scholar and can be depended on to give the voters a treat that cannot help but please them.

Prof. Caton will be assisted at this city by the Hon. M. Savory, who will speak in French, and the announcement that Mr. Savory is coming will be heralded with delight by the people in this vicinity. He has been here before and his words were always listened to with marked attention by the people.

The county candidates will be at all these meetings and the people are advised to advertise them among their neighbors and make it a point to get out.

Remember the dates and plan to attend.

SAVORY WILL SPEAK.

Louisville, Terrebonne and Lambert to be Visited by Him.

The Hon. M. Savory, who is so well known in Red Lake county, has been engaged for three evenings of next week and will address the voters in this end of the county in the French language. Friday evening of next week he will speak at the Caton rally in this city, Saturday night at the town hall in Louisville and Sunday at both Lambert and Terrebonne. He is so well known that all the Gazette can say will not make any difference as everyone in driving distance will attend his meetings.

LIND HERE TUESDAY.

Former Governor To Address People On Democratic Issues.

Former Governor John Lind, of Minneapolis, will address the voters from a Democratic standpoint at the Metropolitan opera house next Tuesday evening, October 25. Mr. Lind is well known to the people of this part of the state, and has on several former occasions visited Red Lake Falls. He will be given a large audience here.

A Competent Lady.

Mrs. J. J. Doe, the Republican nominee for the office of Superintendent of Schools of Red Lake county, has devoted her life to school work, and has been very successful in all positions she has filled. Her country school experience was acquired in Waseca, LeSueur and Polk counties, in this state, and Cass and Trail counties in North Dakota, in every place she taught she was considered one of the best teachers and most successful organizers that ever entered the work. For nine years past she has taught a grade in the public schools of Red Lake Falls city, and the fact that she has been re-elected each year has attested as to her ability. Mrs. Doe holds a first grade certificate, and is in every way qualified to fill the office to which she aspires in a creditable manner, and when elected promises to conduct the office to the best of her ability. Republicans should remember Mrs. J. J. Doe on election day, and vote to elect her County Superintendent of Scools.

The Local News.

John E. King was at Crookston last Friday night.

John Keifenheim has closed the town herd for the season. He has had a good business. this summer and has given excellent satisfaction.

A home talent "Musicale" was given at the Presbyterian church last evening, which was well attended, and the public was given a treat to pay them for their attendance.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson will speak at Thief River Falls on the evening of November 7, and arrangements are being made to make the affair the occasion for an elegant time.

Drayman Ed. Bray has been busy this week hauling pianos back and forth. With his device for this work, however, he made an easy job out of what has always been considered a tough one.

Mrs. W. P. O'Brien is the proud possessor of a beautiful new piano, which arrived the first of this week and has been installed in her home. The piano is of standard manufacture and is an excellent instrument.

The Merchants State Bank has installed a series of safety deposit boxes, and are offering them to the public at $1 per annum. The boxes are of the latest type and are roomy and convenient. The public is invited to call and inspect them.

Hon. Solomon G. Comstock, ex-congressman from the seventh district, will probably be secured for a speech in Red Lake county sometime during the latter part of the month. Mr. Comstock is a brilliant orator and will be greeted with a large audience on the occasion of his visit here.

P. N. Bourdon and family have rented the Lemieux cottage on Washington avenue and have moved into it for the winter. Mr. Bourdon has not decided whether he will rebuild or not but it is likely that in the spring he will decide to remain here and will erect another residence on the site of the one recently destroyed.

Raney Bray, the eldest son of J. M. Bray, is selling chances on an oil painting of his own handiwork, which will be raffled off at St. Joseph's fair next week. Master Raney has been doing some excellent work with the oils during the past season, and has produced several pictures that would be a credit to a much older and more experienced person.

Peter Kaum, living at Badger, will hold a public auction sale on Wednesday, November 2, at which time he will dispose of his stock and machinery and other articles. Mr. Kaum has rented his farm for next year and after the sale expects to go back to his old home in Illinois. He is a good resident and the people of the county will regret that the fates decreed that he cannot remain with us.

Ed. Bray, Wm. Lachapelle and William Belair were out at Wylie last week and installed a handsome new safe in the Bank of Wylie for Messrs. Bourdon and Simons. The safe is the finest that has ever been brought to Northern Minnesota and will insure the people of Wylie absolute protection against burglarly or fire. It was very heavy but with Mr. Bray's patent moving device was easily handled.

Joseph Morinville had the misfortune last Thursday to suffer a heavy financial loss, when the main shaft of his threshing engine broke while the machine was running, and before the engine could be stopped completely smashed up the attachments, entailing a loss in the neighborhood of $500. The engine was an old one, of the Ames manufacture, and it is likely that Joseph will purchase a new engine sooner than attempt to fix the old one up. The loss was a severe one, and the public is sorry to here of Joe's misfortune.

OPPOSES DRAINAGE.

Candidate Johnson Not In Favor Of What People Want.

George A. Ralph, of Crookston, engineer of the state drainage commission, when approached relative to the position taken by John A. Johnson, democratic candidate for governor, on state drainage made a vigorous statement. Mr. Johnson in the state senate has several times voted against the drainage measures and during his present tour of southern Minnesota he declares against the policy of state drainage on the grounds that nobody but the railroads are benefited thereby.

In discussing Mr. Johnson's position Mr. Ralph said, "This is one of the most ridiculous propositions that I have ever heard of. It is simply a scheme to catch votes in southern Minnesota where there are practically no swamp lands and where the subject of drainage is not very well understood. The democratic candidate's declaration that state drainage benefits no one but the railroads is absolutely false and everybody in northern Minnesota knows it. In the first place the railroads of Minnesota have practically no swamp lands at all and in the second place state drainage ditches are dug through state swamp lands only and if a few acres of railway lands should be benefitted what difference does it make when the value of the state lands or the settler's lands are doubled, trebled and quadrupled?

"If the Democratic candidate for governor can have his way and if his policy of enmity to state drainage prevails the development of northern Minnesota will be set back for years

"The state has spent about $100,000 for state drainage and has increased the value of state swamp lands thereby about half a million, besides benefitting thousands of acres owned by the people of the state thus enormously quickening the development of the great northern half of the state. It strikes me that state drainage is a pretty profitable business investment for the enormously beneficial to its people.

"Mr. Johnson's opposition to so important a state policy can hardly commend him to any voter in the state as a safe candidate for governor."

Makes A Clean Sweep.

Thara's nothing like doing a thing thoroughly. Ot all the Salvas you evar heard o', Bucklsu's Arnica Salva is the best. It aweeps away and curaa Burns, Sores, Bruisas, Cuts, Boils, Ulcars, Skin Eruptions and Piles. It'a only 25c, and guaranteed to giva satisfaction by W. A. Schreiter Druggist.

H. T. McAnulty was born in Morristown, Minn., September 6, 1871, the year made memorable by the great Chicago fire. In 1881 he came with his parents to what was then Polk county. During the summer of 1883 he attended the district school which was, in absence of a school house, held in a "claim shanty." Benches were furnished for seats and long days were put in at good practical work. A school house was erected the same year and a term of four months of school was held each summer. Mr. McAnulty managed to attend a part of each term, until the autumn of 189 when he moved with his parents to Maple Bay and attended school in Woodside, going a distance of four miles morning and evening. In the spring of 1891 he received a certificate to teach in Polk county. During the next winter he attended the Crookston city school. taught school in Terrebonne the next summer and again attended the Crookston schools during the next winter. Taught the following summer in Terrebonne and the next winter went to the Valpariso Normal school, where he finished his course and became thoroughly fitted for his work as a teacher. He has always desired country school work and has never been an applicant for any other position. For twelve years he has been a teacher in the schools of Red Lake county, besides having gone back to teach the first school which he attended in Polk county and his work has been such as to command the respect and confidence as well as admiration of not only patrons but scholars as well. He is now a candidate for County Superintendent of Schools of Red Lake county, a position he is well and competently fitted to fill and he asks the voters of this county their support for the same. He is well acquainted with school laws and school mangement and if elected will give his entire time to his work, and from the hearty endorsement given by the trustees from every district in which he has taught, the residents of this county are assured the services of a man well fitted and having a deep interest in the school work of the state.

A TOWN OF POSSIBILITIES.

An Enthusiast Writes of New Soo Town of Hazel.

The following self-explanatory letter was received by the Gazette this week, which shows that Red Lake county is composed of men of the right spirit and who will work to make her future an assured success. Mr. Eastman, the writer, is an old-timer here and that he has taken up the work of booming the new Soo town is a cause for congratulation to that place. Here is the letter:

ST. HILAIRE, MINN.,
Oct. 16th, 1904.

Editor Gazette.

Dear Sir: What is the matter with the new townsite, Hazel, between Plummer and Thief River Falls?

One of the finest located towns in the Northwest with a chance, being near to Saint Hilaire, that Minneapolis and St. Paul have today.

There is no doubt that in less than two years the street cars will run from Hazel to St. Hilaire.

This is not the "hustling land man;" but is the land man that can hustle and will push the good work. And I'm the old reliable land man that has witnessed the hitch many new Townsites and they, like Hazel, make the winning horse.

The old reliable land man,
G. W. EASTMAN.

TRAGEDY NEAR MENTOR.

Unknown Man Shot By a Compaion and Found Dead.

An unknown man, apparently a woodsman, was shot and instantly killed with a shot gun a mile east of Mentor on the railroad track late Tuesday and indications point to an unknown companion of the dead man, also a woodsman, as the murderer. The remains were found by a crew of section men coming home for supper and the village marshall was immediately summoned to the scene. The unknown man's body was mangled by the shot in a horrible manner and from indications the shot was delivered from a distance of several paces. Mentor people remember seeing the men walk through the village a short time before the body was discovered and that one of the men carried a shot gun. Who they were or where their home, however, no one has been able to ascertain. No writing of any kind which would throw light upon the case was dis- in the murdered man's pockets and it is surmised that the murderer took pains to rid the corpse of any damaging evidence. In the excitement attending the discovery of the body the Mentor authorities failed to make any search for the man supposed to have done the shooting and even failed to wire ahead to have him apprehended. Thus far not a sign of him has been found and it is thought that he boarded a passing freight for the east. Coroner Chesterman was notified that evening and will go out to take charge of the corpse this morning.

THE MAN FOR SHERIFF

Ernest Buse, the Republican candidate for Sheriff, is a man whose life has been devoted to work in Minnesota and there are few if any men who have labored longer or more conscientiously for the success of the state. He was raised on a farm in Goodhue county, this state, and when old enough commenced work to help adve tise the virtues and possibilies of what was then practically an unknown western wilderness. In 1862 he enlisted in Uncle Sam's army to fight Sioux Indians, whose uprisings at that time were bringing dire disaster on the homesteaders, and after serving for some time in that capacity he entered the Union army and went south to do battle for his country and the flag and served until the close of the war, receiving an honorable discharge in the fall of 1865. He returned to Minnesota and came to the western central part of the state as a pioneer settler, being the first white man to locate at where now stands the pretty city of Fergus Falls. After being in business there for several years Mr. Buse moved to Red Lake county and was one of the first seven settlers to locate here. He built the first house in the present city of Red Lake Falls and from the day he arrived he set about exploiting various institutions that would tend to bring our county to the notice of the world and his efforts had as much to do with the rapid settlement of the country as any other element. His active Republicanism has been one of his many virtues and he has labored long and faithfully for the party. His first ballot was cast for Abraham Lincoln in 1860 and since that time he has espoused the cause of and helped elect all the great Republican statesmen who succeeded the martyred Lincoln. In his work in his county, Mr. Buse has undergone many hardships and has spent a great deal of his time and many dollars of his money for the "good of the cause." He s today the nominee of the party of his choice for the office of Sheriff of Red Lake county and his friends know that he is thoroughly conversant with the needs of the office and would make a careful and capable encumbent. He promises that if elected he will administer the duties in a fair and impartial manner, seeing to it that nothing is left undone that will be to the interest of the people. Vote for Ernest Buse and honor a deserving citizen.

A Few Politics.

Thomas Germo, the Republican candidate for County Attorney, will receive excellent support at the polls. He is well and favorably known throughout the entire county, and singing his praises is merely telling what we all know to be a fact. Vote for Thomas Germo for County Attorney, and you will elect a competent man.

John L. Finke, the independent candidate for Treasurer, was a caller here last week. Just where Mr. Finke expects to get his support is not quite plain. Where Ovide Moreau, the Republican candidate is known he will get all the votes of the Democrats and Republicans, and in the other parts of the county Mr. Moreau can certainly expect to run up to his ticket. If you want to be able to say next year that you helped elect Red Lake county's treasurer, the only way you can do so is to vote on November 8 for Ovide Moreau.

There is every reason in the world why the people of Red Lake Falls and the second commissioner district should support Wm. C. L. Demann for Commissioner from this district, and not one reason why they should not. During Mr Demann's term in office he has carefully looked after his duties as a commissioner, and at the last January meeting was chosen chairman, and office that he has filled very creditably. There are many questions that may arise of interest to this district, and The Gazette knows that Mr. Demann is the best fitted to cope with them of the candidates. He has proven his ability, and has the support of practically the entire district. Vote for Wm. C. L. Demann for county commissioner.

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of la grippe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give an old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy, But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it It is invaluable in a household of children. Trial size bottle 25c; regular size 75c.
